Masquers Present 'Twelfth Night'

The GSC Masquers will present their first production of the year, Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night," on November 21 and 22 at 8:15 p.m. in McCroan Auditorium.

The "Twelfth Night" is one of Shakespeare's great musical comedies. Many critics consider this play the best of his comedies. It is light and flippant and yet without preaching, as many old plays do. It offers a lesson to those who are willing to see it. The lesson has to do with what kinds of love are acceptable to society.

The whole play is concerned with love. Countess Olivia, played by Samille Jones, Washington, hides from love and so the playwright plays a trick on her. The Duke Orsino, played by Jim Fields, Claxton, is in love with the idea of being in love, so the playwright plays a trick on him. Malvolio, Olivia's steward, played by Jimmy Ray Johnson, Stillmore, is guilty of self love and since self love is entirely unacceptable in the social scheme of things, Viola, played by Dreene Sealy from Griffin, sees herself clearly and understands her nearly hopeless situation.

Mr. Overstreet, professor of speech and director of the play, says "We may consider ourselves lucky indeed that the language in which Shakespeare wrote was our native tongue. We sense in the translation of the Greeks and in Chekov, for instance, that something is missing even though we may not have read the original. If Shakespeare had written in Greek, his plays would neither contribute to our national heritage nor enrich our language. So we can be thankful for Shakespeare."

The costume design was by Miss Esther Kling, associate professor of speech. Costumes were by: Chairman Nonie Ringwald, Savannah; Faye Tiner, Blakely; Dreene Sealy, Griffin; Jane Dotson, Statesboro.

The cast consists of Donald Barger, Sallis; Curtis Anderson, Fitzgerald; Bill Kautz, Jacksonville, Florida; Jack Smoot, Ft. Stewart; Stacy Wells, Hinesville; Claude Astin, Palmetto; Ronald Nesbitt, Atlanta; Frank Chew, Bartow; Jane Dotson, Statesboro; Doy Beck, Guyton. The chairman of the publicity committee is Jim Fields, Claxton and his committee is: Stacy Wells, Hinesville; Henri Etta Walea.

Jim Fields is chairman of the set and props committee and his committee is: Claude Astin, Palmetto; Frank Chew, Bartow; Walter Strickland, Savannah.

Lighting is by Claude Astin, Palmetto. House Manager is Ralph Bowden, Jesup. Make-up is by Henri Etta Walea, Ty Ty.

News Briefs

The Appleby Scholarship for Physical Handicapped gave GSC $2,500 for our handicapped students. It is given to students already on the state rehabilitation program, according to need.

Dean Carolyn Gettys is representing GSC at College Day programs in Atlanta. Dean Tyson will visit northwest Georgia schools next week.

Dr. George Rogers will serve as sponsor of the freshman class; Dr. Tully Pennington will serve as sponsor of the sophomore class; and Dr. David Ward as sponsor of the junior class. Dr. Jack N. Averitt succeeds Dr. Fielding Russell, who has done an outstanding job over the past decade as senior class sponsor.

Changes in the movie schedule have been announced by the social committee of the student council. "Green Mansions," scheduled for November 25, has been cancelled. "The Three Faces of Eve" will be shown on February 17, and on May 26, "Les Girls" will be replaced by "Seven Brides for Seven Brothers."

The National Poetry Association has announced that "Winged One" by Roni Thomson and "Treasures" by Joan Lockett, both students at GSC, have been accepted for publication by the Annual Anthology of College Poetry.

Dr. Zach Henderson and Dr. William L. Hitchcock have advanced to the finals of the faculty handicap golf tournament. Dr. Hitchcock advanced by defeating Mr. Fred Wallace, and Dr. Henderson by defeating Dr. Donald F. Hackett.

Dr. Fielding Russell, Dr. Lawrence Huff, Miss Jane Barrow, and Mr. Roy Powell of the Languages division attended the South Atlantic Modern Languages Association meeting recently in Charleston. Dr. Russell read a paper by Aaron Hill: "The Insolvent: An Adaption of an Adaptation."

The Veterans Club is sponsoring a Turkey Shoot on Saturday, November 19, from 2 to 5 p.m. at Parker's Stockyard. The cost will be $1.00 a shot, and shotguns will be furnished. Anybody can come—everyone is welcome.

THANKSGIVING HOLIDAYS

Thanksgiving Holidays will begin Wednesday, November 23 at 11 a.m. All residence halls will close at 6 p.m. on that day, and will reopen the following Sunday, November 27, at 1 p.m. The last meal served in the dining hall before the holidays will be the noon meal on Wednesday. The first meal after the holidays will be supper Sunday night. There will be no George-Anne next week, the next issue will be published Friday, December 2.

FHA Meet Hosts 1300 Girls On GSC Campus

Forty-two counties and one hundred three high schools were represented at the annual fall meeting of the district two Future Homemakers of America meeting held at GSC November 12.

Thirteen hundred students registered at the meeting, according to Miss Betty Lane, assistant professor and acting chairman of the division of home economics.

In the morning, open house was held in the Home Economics department of the Herby Building. The general meeting took place in the W. S. Hanner Building following the open house.

The greeting was given by Mr. Jack Nix, state director of vocational education.

Dr. Zach S. Henderson, president of GSC, was among those who gave welcoming speeches.

Suzanne Donnelly, Baldwin County high school, state FHA vice-president called the meeting to order.

Carol Raines, Turner County high school, state president, gave the president's address.

Libby Booker, Jenkins High, Savannah, state secretary, gave a report on the FHA national convention.

Faye Teston, Appling County high school, district secretary, gave a report on the national convention and introduced the speaker, Congressman Prince H. Preton, who spoke on "The American Home—Our American Heritage."

Congressman Preton's speech followed the theme of "Our American Heritage" which was used to show the role of young women in strengthening family life in America today and the effect of family life on American culture.

The meeting was sponsored by the State Department of Education with the Statesboro FHA and the Marvin Pittman FHA serving as co-hosts.

10 Selected As Nominees For Wilson Fellowship

Ten Georgia Southern Seniors have been nominated by faculty members for the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship.

Those nominated are: John Russell Boseman, Patterson; Carolyn Watson Bridges, Statesboro; David W. King, Rebecca; Alton Rayburn Morris, Hazlehurst; Sandra Diane Taylor, Arlington; Jim Usry, Jr., Gibson; Quincy O. Waters, Statesboro; Joe Walters, Statesboro; Stacy Wells, Jr., Hinesville; and James S. Woods, Jesup.

The nominees met with the campus Woodrow Wilson Scholarship committee on November 17, to discuss procedures and other pertinent questions. Dr. John Boole, Dr. Burton J. Bogtsh, Dr. Fielding Russell, Dr. Lawrence Huff, Dr. George Rogers, and Dr. David Ward served on the committee. Dean Paul F. Carroll was committee chairman.

The next step for the nominees is to mail their transcripts, autobiographies, photos and letters of recommendation to Dr. Charles D. Houshelt, chairman of the Region VI Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship, by November 20, 1960. Approximately eighty of the 650 nominees in this region will be awarded fellowships, each of which amounts to fifteen hundred dollars. The purpose of the fellowship is to provide graduate education for students of outstanding promise who desire to be college teachers.

Requirements Told

To be eligible for nomination, one must be an outstanding college senior or graduate who by the fall of 1961 will have completed less than a year's graduate credit. Applicants must be citizens of the United States or Canada. There is no age limit.

Musical Highlights

Musical highlights will include a chorus of native girls and a chorus of navy nurses.

They will sing "Honey Bun," "A Wonderful Guy," and "I'm Gonna Wash That Man Right Outa My Hair."

Dr. Dan Hooley, professor of music, is the director and Mr. Fred Grumley, assistant professor of music, is in charge of the sets.

Miss Dorothy Thomas, assistant professor of music, is the property manager; Beth Rigdon, Douglas, is in charge of costumes. Admission for "South Pacific" will be 75 cents for students and $1 for adults.

THE FRESHMAN CLASS became full-fledged active members of GSC last week with the election of class officers. The new freshmen class officers are, from left to right: Marcus Thompson, Evans, president; Joyce Redding, Griffin, secretary-treasurer; and Warren Dawson, Milledgeville, vice president. The election was held on November 2, and the run-off for secretary-treasurer on November 7. Ninety per cent of the students turned out for voting this year, compared with sixty-seven per cent of last year's class.

GSC Debaters Compete Nov. 9 With Armstrong

The Georgia Southern Debate Team will meet the Debate Team from Armstrong College at GSC, Tuesday, November 9. Plans are now being made for return debates with Armstrong as well as for attending at least one tournament.

Members of the GSC affirmative team are Robbie Powell, sophomore from Statesboro, and Robbie Horel, Junior, from Savannah. The members of the negative team are Robert Schofield, freshman from Rock Hill, S. C., and Bob Cochran, freshman from Metter. Miss Esther Kling, speech teacher is the coach for GSC. This is the first year that GSC has had a debate squad. Armstrong will send a two member affirmative team and a two member negative team. The squad will be accompanied by Mr. Beecher, the Armstrong Debate Team coach.

The proposition being debated upon this year is Resolved: That the United States should adopt a program of compulsory health insurance for all citizens. Each year the question to be discussed is chosen by the Committee on Intercollegiate Discussion and Debate Forensic Societies. Each college that has a debate team sends a question that they would like to debate to this committee. The committee then tallies the questions and selects the most popular one as the debate topic.

Schedule Of S.C. Activities Discussed At Wed. Meeting

The GSC student council agenda for much of the remainder of the fall quarter was discussed at last Wednesday's general meeting.

The social committee, headed by Henri Etta Walea, is working with the maintenance department to improve the lighting conditions at the Saturday and Mat dances. They also are working to set up a schedule of movies for the 1961 summer session.

On December 8 a banquet will be held to install student council officers, house council members, class officers, and to recognize the seniors elected to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. Wayne Bland is chairman of the committee assigned to this task.

Big Weekend

Plans are now being formulated for the weekend of Dec. 2-3 by Sandra Cox and her committee for the lighting of a campus Christmas tree Friday and a parade and pep rally preceding the GSC - Georgia game on Saturday. The Christmas tree will be decorated by the students, and at the lighting Dr. Zach S. Henderson, president of GSC, will be asked to speak. Students will join in singing Christmas Carols. A talent show is also being considered for Friday night.

A parade around Sweetheart Circle is being planned for Dec. 3 followed by a pep rally in the center of the campus. Following the game ACE will sponsor a dance in the Alumni Building.

A formal request is being made to Mr. Pound, director of the Williams Center, concerning the possibility of putting a TV set in the main lobby.

Bulletin Board Planned

Sara Adams, chairman of the bulletin board committee is now being made and will be placed in the Student Center to inform students of coming events, activities, and to announce news of student interest.

Rick Osburn was named chairman of a committee to plan for the erection of a bronze eagle on the campus.

Judy Aldridge and Sara Adams are co-chairman of a committee to check the possibilities of inviting high school seniors to the campus for a "High School Weekend."

Organization Award

A committee to name the outstanding service organization on campus will be named by Milton Callaway, chairman.

A recommendation will be sent through Dr. Ralph K. Tyson, dean of students, to get a new Georgia Flag for the campus.

A new major leading to the A. B. degree in Sociology is being offered to Georgia Southern College students for the first time in the history of the school, according to Dr. Jack N. Averitt, chairman of the social science division at GSC.

The new degree program was officially authorized by the Board of Regents for GSC during the summer.

Dr. Averitt released the following statement concerning the new degree program when it was officially announced: "The number of requests for a major in sociology in the A. B. program has increased considerably during the current academic year. The major in sociology is offered in most liberal arts programs and is a popular program of study in the field of social science."

New Courses

Five new courses are being offered in the new sociology program. They include: Psychology 400 entitled Group Dynamics, Criminology, Population, Juvenile Delinquency and Deviant Behavior, and Culture and Personality.

The freshman and sophomore years of those students desiring to major in sociology are concentrated on a general college program for a liberal arts degree in addition to certain prerequisite background courses.

Specific major field courses include: Social Disorganizations, The Family, Social Origins of World Religions, Labor, Social Psychology, Rural-Urban Sociology, Cultural Anthropology, and the five new course offerings mentioned above.

A total of thirty hours taken from these courses is required for the A. B. degree in Sociology. A sociology major must also select 15 hours of free elective courses.

As part of the new sociology program, a student may minor in any one of 14 fields. Related minors include Economics, History, and Political Science.

Minors Offered

It is anticipated that an additional faculty member will be named to work with this new program. Dr. Averitt stated, Dr. Samuel T. Habel, a member of the social science division, and Dr. Zach S. Henderson, president of GSC, currently teach sociology classes during the course of the year.

This is the second degree added to those offered at GSC in the past year. Last spring the college was authorized by the Board of Regents to offer a program in Guidance and Counseling leading to the Master of Education degree and to the professional five-year certificate in counseling.

Starlight Ball Queen To Be Named At Dance Saturday

By JOYCE NELMS

The Starlight Ball, the formal dance of fall quarter, is to be held on Saturday, November 19 at 8 p.m. in the Alumni Gymnasium. Plans are being made by Alpha Rho Tau, dance sponsors, to create a real "Old West" atmosphere to carry out the western theme.

For the first time at GSC, a Miss Starlight Ball will be crowned. She will be voted on by the student body on Friday, November 18 in the Williams Center. Votes will consist of one cent each and are to be placed in boxes under photographs of the contestants. The contestant receiving the most votes will be crowned at the dance on Saturday night.

Contestants Named

Twenty-one clubs on campus are sponsoring candidates for Miss Starlight Ball. The clubs, their contestants, and the escorts of the contestants are: Primitive Baptist Youth Fellowship - Gloria Bland, Statesboro; Newman Club-Marie Eubanks, Clarkston;

Gamma Sigma Upsilon - Jo Dasher, Glennville, escorted by Richard Weeks; Phi Beta Lambda-Dee Dixon, Dublin, escorted by Miller Watkins.

Lewis Hall is sponsoring Rowena Dooley, Leesburg, Florida, escorted by Dan Tors; Alpha Gamma Pi - Jo Carol Gettys, Statesboro, escorted by Lynn McLaughlin; Philharmonic Choir - Margaret Hansard, Unadilla, escorted by Joe David; Deal Hall - Jane Hughes, Homerville, sponsored by Richard McGee; English Club - Samille Jones, Washington, escorted by Jack Smoot.

Other Contestants

The German Club is sponsoring Tessie Jones, Savannah, escorted by David King; Kappa Delta Epsilon - Carol Kinard, Dublin, escorted by Billy Eberhardt; Alpha Phi Omega - Betsy Martin, Richmond Hill, escorted by Bob Wilson; Kappa Phi Kappa - Ethlynn McMillan, Milan, escorted by Bucky Carlton. Sanford Hall is sponsoring Sandra Mobley, Augusta, escorted by Stanley McCallar; Anderson Hall - Joyce Redding, Griffin, escorted by John Beaver; National Education Association - Mary Jean Smith, Newman, escorted by Cecil Morris; Physical Education Majors Club - Genevieve Strickland, Patterson.

Eta Rho Epsilon is sponsoring Judy Trulock, Augusta, escorted by Carlton Walton; Home Economics Club - Gayle VelDink, Gainesville, Florida, escorted by Pat Morris; Association of Childhood Education - Sheila Williams, Milan, escorted by Max Collins; Science Club - Patsy Wright, St. Marys, escorted by Sonny Purvis.

Prices Listed

General admission to the dance is $1.00. Reserved tables for couples are $2.50. Tickets are being sold in the Student Center and the dormitories.

A photographer will make black and white and color photographs at the dance. They may be obtained in billfold size, 5x7 enlargements, and standard 8x10 photographs.

ONE OF THESE GIRLS will be the first "Miss Starlight Ball" ever to be chosen at Georgia Southern College. Which one will it be? No one knows until Saturday night at the annual Starlight Ball, sponsored by Alpha Rho Tau. Sitting left to right are: Rowena Dooley, Gloria Bland, Marie Eubanks, Tessie Jones, Samille Jones, Sandra Mobley, Gayle VelDink, and Margaret Hansard. Standing are: Ethlynn McMillan, Carol Kinard, Judy Trulock, Betsy Martin, Patsy Wright, Jo Dasher, Dee Dixon, Joyce Redding, Genevieve Strickland, Jo Carol Gettys, Mary Jean Smith, Sheila Williams, and Jane Hughes.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:
In view of your misleading editorial of last week, the student council would like to present its side of the story and "set the record straight."

The student council is not on the defensive. We have spent many hours working in the best interest of the students on this campus. We intend to continue to do so and have no intentions of allowing destructive criticism or negative personalities to undermine our faith in the "best" college campus in the South. We refuse to be intimidated by the Editor of the George-Anne. We hold office by virtue of the democratic vote of the students on this campus and we represent the student body. The Editor of George-Anne holds a "paid" job, whereas, Student council members including its president serve without recompense, other than the satisfaction that comes from serving the student body.

We want to correct some statements made in your editorial of last week:

1. The student council held many meetings this quarter, maybe not on a schedule convenient to a George-Anne reporter, but they were held. Individual council members have been very much involved in planning and carrying out tasks related to their various responsibilities.

2. We are not aware of the "menial and routine tasks" listed in the constitution. The "Facts Book" to which you refer as source material on student council responsibilities is unknown to us. What it contains or what its purpose is, we don't know. We know that if the "Facts Book" has any official connection with our activities someone will inform us. Our responsibilities are spelled-out in the T-Book.

3. Why does the Editor of George-Anne assume to be qualified to evaluate the quantity and quality of student council activities? Why does she choose to employ destructive criticism and set herself up as the "judging authority?"

4. The reckless statement, "Why the council is so lackadaisical this year, we cannot answer," is so obviously prejudiced that we refuse to honor it with a reaction.

5. The duties of the student council are many and varied. Pages 76 through 88 of the T-Book contain rather detailed treatment of student council purpose, organization, and specific responsibilities. We refer this document to those who would seek to enumerate our duty and responsibility.

6. In the spring of 1960, student council cooperated in planning, among many things, freshman week. The president of student council returned to school a week early this fall to contribute to the final planning. He and other council members were very active in the role of coordinators in carrying out these plans.

7. Activities for the 1960-61 school year were planned during the spring and early summer of 1960. The following planned programs were set into motion by student council members:

a. Meetings of presidents of campus organizations were held to clarify responsibility.

b. The fall quarter calendar of events for campus-wide social functions, was published.

c. The Jimmy Dorsey Orchestra concert and Dance, the first of its kind on this campus, was held.

d. Friday night movies, selected by student committees during the spring of 1960, were planned. Students report that the movie selections this year are excellent. This is not a chance event but a product of student council effort and pre-planning.

e. Saturday night dances take careful planning and considerable effort. We are proud of dances and need only more participation and less destructive criticism.

8. Class officers elections constitute effort on the part of student council. Excellent candidates ran and they campaigned actively. Student council members solicited nominations, certified candidates, conducted elections, held run-overs, and certified winners.

9. As a result of no assemblies this year, student council officers will be installed at a banquet this year along with the Freshmen Representatives.

10. The executive committee of student council meets on Tuesday afternoon at 4 p.m. to set the agenda for the total council meeting at 5 p.m. on Wednesday.

12. All members of student council are alert and interested in performing their responsibilities to the best of their ability.

13. Council meetings are open to students and faculty.

14. Students and faculty have been informed of a council meeting time and place.

This reply to your editorial is in all sincerity meant to be constructive. We do not desire to create hostile feelings among persons or groups. However, the George-Anne Editorial of last week was biased and misleading. It is our opinion that the George-Anne could make better use of the editorial page than to attempt to degrade an organization of non-paid, elected workers who are trying so hard to contribute to the best school and campus in the South.

GUY WEATHERLY
President, Student Council

Our Answer

Editorials which appear in the George-Anne do not have intimidating intentions. They instead serve the purpose of being a medium to express the opinions of students at GSC, not of and particular person.

We choose the topics for every editorial printed in the George-Anne on the basis of oral and written expression to us by the student body.

Criticism is valuable when presented in a form which has as its basis sincere desire to change a situation for its betterment. Only if it can be accepted in the light, the editorial has achieved its goal.

A comparison was made in the adjoining letter between the monetary gratuity received by the editor and the nonpaid, student-elected status of the student council members and their president.

The editor of the George-Anne, according to the "T" Book, is selected by a publications committee on the basis of proven ability and experience on the school newspaper. Only in recent years, and because the administration has deemed it worthy, certain key members of the staff receive a salary. Because so much immediate responsibility rests on the shoulders of these key members, a negligent attitude even for one week cannot be tolerated if the paper is to be published on schedule.

In the adjoining letter the student council answers certain points that appear in last week's editorial. We feel perhaps they misunderstood or misinterpreted the facts presented in the editorial.

1. The George-Anne reporters will cover any student council meeting at any time; convenience is irrelevant. We admitted that finally after seven weeks a standard schedule of meeting times had been announced. We know for a fact that at sometime during those previous weeks, even the student council members themselves were not absolutely sure of meeting times.

2. Earlier this year a fact book entitled, "This Is Georgia Southern College" was compiled by the public relations director here at GSC. The definition which we acquired from the fact book is only a rephrased statement of the purpose of the student council found in the "T" Book, and was actually written for the book by the dean of students.

Some of the tasks listed in the constitution to which we referred are as follows:

A. Arranging clubs to sponsor Saturday night dances, planning mat dances.
B. Holding class officer elections.
C. Sponsoring free movies. Perhaps you would not call these menial, but they are routine.

3. We did not accentuate personalities in the George-Anne editorial.

4. If this statement was obviously prejudiced, why was any remark made concerning it at all?

5. It seems to us that this point does not support the student council position against the editorial in any way.

6. Not only did student council members help in planning Freshmen Week and return to school a week early, but the members of Gamma Sigma Upsilon and Alpha Phi Omega were also active in this endeavor. Kappa Delta Epsilon and Kappa Phi Kappa members were responsible for the Freshmen Orientation Program.

7. Only one meeting of club presidents was called to which very few responded. Shouldn't another meeting have followed this one?

The fall quarter calendar was issued in the middle of the quarter making its usefulness extremely limited.

Besides student council promoting the Dorsey Orchestra performances, the dean of students office and the public relations office were completely absorbed in promoting and publicizing the coming event. Alpha Phi Omega sold over half the tickets for this special first at GSC.

We believe that the points enumerated above concerning the adjoining letter justifies the need for our printing last week's editorial.

It's impossible for us and the GSC students to completely realize what each individual council member is accomplishing. The results of their activities can only be felt when they work together as a unit.

If our editorial last week caused all this sudden student council activity, then it has all been worthwhile. The minute we determine more constructive criticism is justified, we'll write it. The "Letters to the Editor" column is always open for your rebuttal.

Monroe Speaks On WWNS For Education Week

Dr. Shelby Monroe spoke over WWNS on Friday, November 11 as part of American Education Week.

Dr. Monroe pointed out that American students are better educated today than they have been in the past. He cited examples of studies in Lincoln, Nebraska and Dearborn, Michigan to support this.

Dr. Monroe said that if we are behind Russia in the production of missiles it is because the American people have preferred our scientists be put to work on freezers, TV, automobiles and things to make our lives easier. We must not forget that their knowledge could put us ahead in the race for space.

Schools Are Important

Today, good educators recognize the school as one of the social institutions man depends on to meet the needs of individuals and society.

Teachers now recognize that one of their first and most important responsibilities is to determine for which of the many needs of individuals and of society the school can and should provide.

Teachers also recognize now that it is a major responsibility of theirs to determine the experiences or activities which the school can and should afford its pupils so that it can meet these specific, clearly defined needs of individuals and of society.

Examine Information

To intelligently perform these tasks, one must carefully examine the information which specialists in many fields of learning make available. It is also necessary to keep up with new facts.

Teachers now know that the principles of readiness are applicable to all levels of learning and should be applied accordingly. Teachers now try to provide opportunity for each pupil

Is He Ray Or Roy? Cause Of Confusion

By ROLAND PAGE

A double dynamo hit the GSC campus this quarter in the form of identical twins.

The Clark twins, Ray and Roy of Acworth, who transferred to GSC this quarter from Berry College in Rome and Middle Georgia College in Cochran seem to be dominating the current campus chatter.

In a recent interview, Ray, the oldest, (by five minutes), commented on the problems of being a twin. He said that his greatest problem was that of mistaken identity. He described a recent incident in which several of his brother's girlfriends approached him, obviously thinking he was Roy. The explanation that he was Roy's "twin brother" only drew giggles of disbelief.

After what seemed to Ray like hours of convincing and after the presentation of his ID card, the girls finally gave an inking towards belief.

Ray went on to describe the common interests he and Roy share. They include athletics, the unusual hobby of snake hide collecting and the popular sports of hunting and fishing in North Georgia.

He added that one field in which they differ is in his love for poetry writing and his brothers pronounced dislike for it.

Aside from the novelty of their resemblance, they bring with them very respectable athletic records. They were both offered, but turned down, to learn the way best suited for him.

The development of an adequate and a challenging curriculum requires to use of the best information we can get in many areas of man's experience.

THE CLARK TWINS

football scholarships to Tennessee Tech.

Ray, who pitched for Berry's baseball team last year, hopes to play for the Eagle nine this spring.

Ray and Roy were born in Jackson, Miss. on June 23, 1940. They lived for a short time in Lake Charles, La. before settling in Acworth where they have lived for the past 19 years. Ray is presently a third quarter sophomore majoring in business administration. Roy, a junior, is an elementary education major. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Clark.

Their sister, the former Miss Joyce Clark, graduated from GSC in 1958. She is now teaching in Acworth.

I think the reader will agree that Ray and Roy Clark are a pair of twins who certainly deserve recognition for their accomplishments. They were much rather, however, be recognized by their identities by the afore-mentioned girlfriends.

Peggy Parks, Brunswick: "I think we do have school spirit but at times I think it is well hidden."

Judy Trulock, Augusta: "No, we don't have school spirit. I think when basketball season starts school spirit will increase. In order to have school spirit we must work together as a team for the betterment of the school."

Sammie Urso, Brunswick: "I don't believe we have school spirit because for the most part students feel no real sense of pride and loyalty toward GSC."

Drawing Class Displays Exhibit in Student Center

By ANN SELLERS

The eye catching art exhibit in the Student Center show case was done by the Drawing 103 class. The drawings were developed through contour, gesture, light and shadow methods.

The students who did the drawings were Avis Rollins, Augusta; Jo Carol Gettys, Cordele; Stacy Wells, Hinesville; Ron Nesbitt, Atlanta; Becky Boulineau, Wrens; Becky Chandler, Sardis; Libby Estes, Dublin; and La Vinia Bryant, Statesboro.

The models for this two hour drawing class are Micky Peterman, Savannah; Walter Strickland, Savannah; and Anne Blount, Augusta.

It took less than a minute to do the gesture drawings, which are also called wiggly line drawings, or scribble techniques. The pen and ink, pencil, brush, and crayon drawings took from 15 minutes to an hour each.

The students began their art course by drawing human figures. Some authorities say that if one can draw the human form he can draw anything. Later the students will take up landscapes and still life.

The students who make up the Drawing 103 class are interested in art and previous training is not necessary.

The next art exhibit will be charcoal drawings.

GSC Campus Has Facilities For Toddlers

The nursery school on the Georgia Southern campus is designed and constructed to provide modern facilities and equipment for the care of young children, and at the same time to be instructional in the education of teachers at the college.

It is used jointly by the divisions of home economics and education. All home economics majors are required to observe and participate in the care of children in the nursery school for four hours each week. Other education majors may take this course, although it is not required for them. About 15 college students per quarter take this course.

Mrs. Mary Abercrombie, assistant professor of home economics, is in charge of the nursery school. In order to manage such a school as this, a person must have an M.S. in Home Economics.

Guidance, Testing Methods Studied At Conference Here

Forty representatives from ten selected Georgia high schools met at GSC on Monday and Tuesday, November 14 and 15, to study methods of guidance and admission record-keeping in the public high schools. Mr. Rufus Pulliam, Chief Guidance and Testing State Department of Education was in charge of the conference.

Dr. Henderson then welcomed the following representatives: Dr. John E. Dobbin, Dr. Wesley W. Walton, and Dr. Alexander

Versald from the Education Testing Service.

Others Present

Also, present were Mrs. Louise Boswell, consultant; Mr. Edna Tolbert, consultant; Dr. Hugh Moss, consultant. Representatives from the Education Testing Service, Princeton, New Jersey; and the Georgia State Department of Education were present.

In the work conference, ways in which pertinent material and information on the student can be compiled into permanent records were discussed. Each school will make up records on a selected number of students from the 1955 ninth grade class. The records will be sent to the Princeton Educational Service, where the "501" computer will summarize the records and return them to the schools.

Schools Represented

The high schools selected for the study are: Marvin Pittman, Statesboro, and Southeast Bulloch, all from Bulloch County; Swainsboro; Toccoa; Henry Grady, Atlanta; Thomas County, Thomasville; Marion County, Buena Vista; and Houston County, Warner Robins.

Dr. William L. Hitchcock, director of counselor education at GSC, will serve as liaison officer with the group.

Georgia is one of the first grade states to try this system of record keeping. Other states are looking to see what Georgia will do.

Miss Barrow, Sports Fan, Anxious For Basketball Season To Open

By JIM POLLAK

"The GSC campus has such a friendly atmosphere, you feel right at home, in fact it reminds me of my Alma Mater, and I am extremely happy to be here," is the way Miss Jane Barrow describes her first teaching job.

Miss Barrow's Alma Mater is not too far back in her past, she received her AB degree at North Georgia College in 1959 and her MA at Emory in 1960.

The language division at GSC is where Miss Barrow now spends most of her time. She joined the division in the fall and now teaches French. Often it is possible to catch her "bouncing up" on Spanish in case the time for teaching that course soon comes around.

Studied in Quebec

In the summer of 1958 Miss Barrow spent six weeks attending summer school in Quebec. While in Quebec she found it took about a week to get accustomed to the regular use of French, even though she had a background in the language. The pronunciation is the biggest problem. Miss Barrow said she tries to teach students to read and write and pronounce words so they can be understood, then it is easy to learn the vernacular.

Miss Barrow claims one of the things which bothers her most is the people who claim foreign language is not important and she also becomes aggravated when people are inconsiderate of others.

Instead of "rock-n-roll" Miss Barrow enjoys listening to good "easy going" music. She is a fan of what has become almost a lost art in our day and age—that is, taking a good long walk on nice days. Still in the line of hobbies, Miss Barrow enjoys movies and is a sports fan.

Likes Sports

"I'll be glad when basketball season starts" is the way Miss Barrow described her sports enthusiasm. While at North Georgia College she was a member of the Women's Rifle Team.

The honors which Miss Barrow has received during her school years began while she was attending Russell High School in East Point, Georgia where she was a member of the National Honor Society. In college she was vice-president and president of the women's dorm, vice-president of the Panhellenic Council, member of the BSU council, member of the Nu Gamma Honor Society and was also named to Who's Who.

Special Student Bowling Rates Are Established

The Skate-R-Bowl, located just south of the GSC campus, on U.S. 301, has established special student rates for bowling. The rates, which are in effect Monday through Saturday from 2 to 6 p.m., are 35 cents for one game or three games for $1.00.

Four new alleys are now being added at the Skate-R-Bowl which is open during the remodeling period. When the work is completed, there will be ten completely automatic Brunswick alleys and pinsetters in operation. Work should be completed early in November.

The work now in progress has separated the skating rink from the bowling alleys with a wall and plate glass windows. New restrooms are also being installed.

The alleys are open from 2 to 12 p.m. Monday through Saturday, but from 6 to 12 p.m. regular rates of 50 cents per game are charged. Leagues are also in operation on Monday through Thursday from 7 to 9 p.m. No admission is charged to the bowling alleys.

Early in November the Skate-R-Bowl will open on Sunday, from 2 to 6 p.m.

If any students are interested in forming a league, they can do so by contacting Hugh Darley at the Skate-R-Bowl.

MISS JANE BARROW

According to Miss Barrow, her biggest thrill came when she was elected to Phi Sigma Iota, national romance language honor society.

Similar to Miss Frances Anderson, whom the George-Anne featured last week, Miss Barrow is frequently mistaken as a student.

Inquiring Reporter

By BARBARA VAUGHN

The inquiring reporter believed that some very interesting answers would be received to questions concerning school spirit. The questions asked were: "What is school spirit? What do you think of the school spirit on the GSC campus?"

Richard Carlisle, La Grange: "School spirit is the cooperation of students with each other in sports or other interests around the school."

Henri Etta Walea, Ty Ty: "Real school spirit at GSC has
