GSC Plans Summer Science Workshop

Summer workshops for elementary teachers in Science, General Curriculum, and a new program in Early Elementary Education are scheduled for Georgia Southern College June 11 through July 19, according to Dean Paul F. Carroll.

The workshop in science will meet Monday - Friday from 7:45 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Credit of ten quarters hours may be applied toward the undergraduate degree in elementary education only, subject to approval by the student's major professor.

Study and activities of this workshop will be directed toward increasing the student's knowledge of science and his ability to teach science. Special emphasis is given to developing and teaching science courses included in the "Science Guide for Georgia Schools - Grades K-12."

Open To Teachers

The general curriculum workshop for elementary teachers is open to teachers with two or more years of teaching experience. This course study may be used to reinstate or to professionalize teaching certificates. It may substitute for supervised teaching.

Students must meet with this course on a minimum daily schedule of six hours, exclusive of the lunch period. There will be a charge of $5.00 per student for art materials and supplies. The six-weeks workshop offered in early elementary education is designed for in-service teachers who are interested in professional study of the curricula of nursery school, kindergarten and primary grades.

Credit Is Earned

The college credit earned in this course (ten hours) may be used as a part of a planned undergraduate program in elementary education leading to a professional T-4 certificate in Elementary Education with an endorsement in Early Elementary Education.

Jaycees Praise Dorm Students

Summer Placement Directory Available

The new enlarged 1962 annual Summer Placement Directory, the largest and most comprehensive listing of actual summer jobs, projects, fellowships, and apprenticeships, is now available. This is the same Directory used each year by over 1500 college placement offices and copies can be examined at most University Placement or Deans' offices, college and public libraries, and school superintendents' offices.

This unique Directory completely revised and brought up to date each year, is particularly prepared for college students, teachers, professors, and librarians. Jobs for which high school seniors may also apply are clearly indicated.

Some of the over 15,000 unusual summer earning opportunities listed throughout the United States and many foreign countries include leading bicycle trips, grant-in-aid to study numismatics, working on farms in Switzerland, theatrical apprenticeships on a show boat on the Ohio River, conducting tours to Europe, camp counselling aboard a ship in the Bahama Islands, trainees for the Coast and Geodetic Survey, museum exhibit demonstrating, archeological work in the Missouri River Basin, leading canoe trips through northern Quebec, construction work in Belgium, wrangling in Colorado, and lecturing on a sight-seeing boat.

This year's Directory offers many special student training programs or openings of a permanent nature in hundreds of firms such as Eli-Lilly Co., Ingersoll-Rand, Travelers Insurance Co., Aerojet-General Corp.

Singer Sewing Machine Co., DeVoe and Reynolds Co., etc.

Study projects, camp positions, jobs and apprenticeships with summer play houses and music theatres, and work in inns, resorts, restaurants, hotels, motels; lodges, and dude ranches are some of the other varied offers made to students and educators. Many branches of the U. S. Government in Washington and throughout the country have also requested their openings to be included.

All openings have been submitted directly to the Institute and include job descriptions, dates of employment, necessary qualifications, number of openings, salaries, and the names and addresses of the employers. Helpful information is given on how to apply for positions and each Directory contains a sample resume to assist applicants.

The Summer Placement Directory can be obtained for $3.00 directly from The Advancement and Placement Institute, 169 N. 9th St., Brooklyn 11, N. Y., or at book stores everywhere.

Sinfonia Selects Frosh Wilkes As Frat. Sweetheart

Claire Wilkes, Macon, was chosen "Sweetheart of Phi Mu Alpha" for 1962 at the fraternity's regular meeting Monday, according to Sammy Prince, president.

Miss Wilkes, a freshman elementary education major, will also represent the music fraternity in the "Miss GSC Beauty Revue" Friday night, January 26. She will be escorted by one of the fraternity brothers.

The purpose of this visit is to meet with students who are interested in applying for a Pickett-Hatcher Loan. Applications for loans must be submitted to the office of the fund at least two months prior to the beginning of the quarter for which the loan is to be used.

These loans will not be granted for more than one year at a time. Application for an amount to cover as much as four quarters or for a school year is possible.

Students performing undergraduate work are given preference to those in graduate work. Based upon the academic record of a student, he may re-apply for a loan at the end of one year.

Loans will bear interest at two per cent per annum during the time a student remains in college. At the time he leaves college for a period in excess of four months, the loans will begin bearing interest at four per cent per annum. Interest fees will be paid the first days of March and September.

Four months after a student leaves college, the payments on the principal amount of the loan will start. Payments of not less than ten per cent of his income, or not less than one-twelfth of ten per cent of the total amount borrowed will be made in equal monthly installments.

MISS CLAIRE WILKES
Frat Sweetheart

The Zeta Omicron chapter of Phi Mu Alpha selects a chapter Sweetheart once a year. Last year's Sweetheart was Trina Davis of Albany.

As the Sweetheart, Miss Wilkes will represent Phi Mu Alpha at various social functions and campus activities in which the fraternity takes part.

Clean Up Or Close Up

We want an answer. How can the students who use the Williams Center recreation room sit amidst the filth which litters the floor? More important than that—what can they be thinking about when making the mess?

All kinds of meetings and conferences sponsored by outside organizations are held on this campus during the year. Almost daily we have visitors to the campus who are either here for these meetings or who were just passing by and decided to stop. We only hope that the hosts to these conclaves lead them on a path which definitely avoids going through the recreation room.

are told as to how the mess is made are really unbelievable. It

Is A Change Desirable?

Supposedly important elections are held each year to select officers of each class. In theory, this is fine. The actual conditions prove the situation false.

At the meetings held to nominate the candidates, it never fails that there is not even a true representation of the total number of students in the class present.

However, in some way, usually very fine persons run in the election and the people who do vote have a hard choice to make.

During the year the classes take on certain responsibilities of sponsoring an activity such as a dance on campus. Everyone is in favor of that, but when the president calls for volunteers to work, there are too few.

So the class officers plus a few members of a class of 250 or more persons find themselves shouldered with every important and minor detail required to put on the event.

When officers call meetings they are faced with very small seems that when the tables get three-fourths covered with cups and ashes and there's hardly enough room for the cards, someone just transfers the trash from the table to the floor with just a swipe of the arm.

We've already suggested that the recreation room could be cleaned more than once a day every day. This however, should not be necessary. We suggest now that the recreation room be closed to students. Students are supposed to use the facilities, not abuse them. If the trash continues to pile up, the only thing to do is to close the room.

This step should be taken unless the students begin to act as they would in their own homes and as they are expected to act—NOT AS ANIMALS—but as human beings.

attendances. For example, the sophomore class tried for two weeks to get enough members present to nominate a new officer of that class. The first time about 25 showed up. Hoping for more people, the meeting was delayed a week so more publicity could be arranged. Low attendance was caused by lack of publicity, the officers felt. One week later — 26 persons present!

Maybe our students just don't care to be associated with their fellow class members! Maybe they just don't care.

Each of you as a student and as a class member has an opinion about this situation. We feel that the lack of support proves our suggestion that the class officer positions should be made strictly honorary.

If this is done, no class will accept the sponsorship of a campus event. One exception to this rule would exist—certain traditional responsibilities belong to the officers of the senior class. These would still be in their hands.

Story Of A Road

In Cherokee times it was called a buffalo trail. Then it became a path. In the recent past it was called a clay road. Now it is commonly referred to as "it."

"It" lies behind the health cottage. On rainy days "it" expands itself and gurgles onto the health cottage lawn.

Last quarter, reports came in that "it" was going to have a sorely needed face-lifting. Tractors and steam rollers came barreling in and students were heartened at the idea of a paved road behind the student center.

"It" was graded, smoothed, watered and rolled, watered and rolled, watered and rolled, and, oh yes, tarred. Students went home for the holidays with the happy feeling that "it" would be open for traffic on their return.

At approximately 5 p.m. one day earlier this quarter, a shiny white Thunderbird was seen buzzing around the Sweetheart Circle toward the student center. No one knows what happened to the vehicle after it disappeared behind Deal Hall. One girl in the dormitory said she heard the whine of the approaching auto suddenly stop, this was followed by a strange gurgling sound. She made it to the window just in time to see a large bubble on "its" surface burst.

Perhaps GSC is fortunate enough to be the site of a new experimental paving project. We must admit "it" is like no other paved road we've seen before.

Perhaps "it" is actually the equipment for a new P.E. course. Do they sell slush skis at the bookstore?

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"ACTUALLY HE'S DONE PRETTY WELL — HADN'T SMOKE FOR A WEEK."

When the guns of educational criticism are loaded, they are often pointed at many small denominational colleges operating in the South.

They point to small institutions, poorly financed, understaffed, and sometimes unaccredited which offer marginal education to numerous young people.

The most recent mention of these schools was made by the Commission on Goals for Higher Education in the South when it asked all higher education to practice self-restraint in a regional drive for excellence. The Commission report said, "Religious denominations should concentrate their resources on a few strong institutions, making them colleges of quality, rather than spreading funds over a great number of weaker institutions."

Percentage Is High

Some basis for this suggestion is found in a recent study of Southern colleges enrolling less than 2,000 students. These schools were separated into four groups according to the salaries paid to faculty and the proportion of Ph.D.'s on the staff. Among the schools paying the lowest salaries and having the fewest Ph.D.'s 71 per cent were church-related colleges. The schools paying next lowest salaries and having the next fewest Ph.D.'s included 66 per cent church-related colleges and among those paying top salaries and having a large number of Ph.D. faculty members, 47 per cent were church-related.

The highest ranking school on the list was a church-related university which has long been respected as an outstanding institution. And on everybody's list of outstanding institutions in the South, large and small, will be found many affiliated with denominations strongly interested in higher education. Some of these are nationally renowned universities with strong graduate and professional schools. Others are small liberal arts colleges of deserving reputation.

But as the quantity of church-related education increases, the denominations themselves are becoming concerned about maintaining quality in their institutions.

More Must Be Done

One official of denominational education said in a recent speech, "... today our institutions are still inadequately supported if they are to hold a respectable place in the educational world. No one of us wants to see our schools have to apologize for poor facilities. Unless we do more to keep on our toes educationally, we will have to stand in second place to the publicly supported schools..."

Another leader in church-related education said: "We believe that the faculty of a denominational college should be proficient in their fields. We do not think that the church should sponsor any kind of educational institution that is not intellectually first-rate. We do not think there should be an 'either-or' in intellectual qualifications and their Christian

Communism And YOU

Prepared by the United States Air Force Chaplain Board at the Air University, Maxwell Air Force Base, Alabama. All articles have been read and approved by Chaplain, Major General, Terrence P. Finnegan, Chief of Chaplains, USAF.

There was a time, not too many years ago, when American cartoonists were portraying the Communists of Russia as shaggy-bearded, bomb-throwing thugs grouped under the title "Bolsheviks." Not many people in the United States took them seriously. They were viewed as a minor revolutionary group in a country far removed from American shores. They would soon disappear and all would be well again in "Holy Russia."

It is true that they were a minority as late as 1917, but the Communist plan for capturing Russia first, and afterwards all nations of the earth in turn, was in motion. Led by a man named Lenin, the Reds took over Russia in the famous "October Revolution" of 1917. By 1922, "The Union of Soviet Socialist Republics" (U.S.S.R.) consisting of Russia, Siberia, the Ukraine, the Georgians and the Azerbaijanians was formed. Murder, violence and starvation were the weapons that brought these people into the Communist orbit.

more and more nations — some small, some very large — swallowed up or enticed into the "union." Red China, with its teeming millions, added greatly to Communist power.

At present, Communism dominates more than 800,000,000 people on more than one-third of the land surface of the earth. Tomorrow? There is but one answer in the Red plan book — tomorrow the world!

America and the "free" nations of the earth stand in the way of their complete world conquest. For forty years America has been attacked with all the weapons of propaganda, espionage, sabotage and infiltration. We have not been deceived; we have not fallen.

"We will bury you!" cries Khrushchev, the leader of all Communists. "We do not bury easily," we shout back. But well we realize that the freeing of 800,000,000 people will take time, intelligent planning, work — and prayer.

SOMETIMES NOT AT ALL

With the Georgia legislature now in session, folks all over the state are throwing in their suggestions as to what should be done. Two of the areas of greatest attention are Georgia's use tax and, of course, the old stand-by, County Unit System.

Editorials in papers throughout the state are advocating repeal of the use tax. This is the Georgia law which imposes a 3 per cent tax on all new production machinery moved into Georgia by industry. As Georgians looking ahead to the future of our great state, this brings up some questions which must be answered.

Where does this tax leave our state in the contest to attract industry? Do we need industry and are we demonstrating that we really want it? Is this tax helping the development of our state or hindering it? Would the elimination of the use tax throw off the budget for the 1962-63 fiscal year?

These are the questions which must be answered, not only by our legislators and government officials, but by the citizens, too.

Then on the County Unit System, the flame really glows. Here again, what is to be done? Should the metropolitan areas be given more representation? In fact, should the counties be consolidated so as to reduce the total number from 159 to somewhere near 100? This suggestion, incidentally, has been made. How will the County Unit System affect the growth and development of the state?

Very few Georgians are walking around with no opinions on these and other matters of vital importance to the affairs of the state. Every man has the right to state his views and when every man in Georgia studies the picture from all sides and then takes his stand, we will have things the way WE want them.

Regardless of whether you stand for the use tax and the unit system or the elimination of either or both of these you can and should be heard.

As for the opinion of the writer of this column, two steps in the right direction would be the elimination of both of these laws.

Last week when the GEORGE-ANNE's inquiring reporter asked two questions concerning the GEORGE-ANNE series on Communism some startling discoveries were made.

The two questions were: (1) Do you believe this series of articles about Communism is necessary or do most of us know enough about it already? (2) What is your reason or reasons? The opinions of 14 students appeared in the column. Of the 14, all agreed that the series was good. What was startling and alarming was the fact that the majority of the students said that we do not know enough about Communism.

This brings on two more questions which must soon be answered. Should we continue to ignore it as we have in the past? Or are we going to wake up and begin teaching the evils of Communism in the schools?

A Square Deal

By BILLY DEAL

In the past this column has been devoted, on occasions, to the problems of college life. We have often discussed the slings and arrows of outrageous fortune, but this week we will take a look at the college student in his leisure hours.

After all, college life is not all bad—it's just the food.

I would like to tell you about an incident that took place on our campus last week. Like most of our students, I was almost overcome with the rigors of constant studying after a couple of days, so I made my way to the basketball game. To give our little story a premature happy ending, the Eagles won that game.

I was sitting there, with popcorn in one hand, Coke in next hand and hot dog in the other, when I saw this couple take their seats. Fortunately, at least for eavesdropping purposes, I could hear the conversation without straining.

"Let's sit here," said the girl, obviously a freshman. "I like to be close to the exits in case of fire." Well, that caught my ear, and I saw the young man, obviously a freshman, momentarily close his eyes—probably wondering what he had gotten into.

Just about then, the Eagles took the floor for warmup drills, and the girl said to her escort, "Why do they all shoot at the same time? And why is each team staying on one end of the court, I thought they were supposed to wrestle together."

The boy explained that they were not playing yet, that they were just getting ready, "And they don't wrestle," he added. "The boys only have to wrestle when they play at places like Tampa and Stetson."

Everything was going okay, and then it was time for the lineups. The lights were doused, and the girl gave a sudden scream. Even in the darkness, I could see the boy blushing.

Then the game started. Immediately, the girl had comments and questions. "Why don't they let those boys sitting on the stools play, too? Did you know the bulb in the top left corner of the clock is not burning? Hey, look! Carol has a new skirt! Who's that boy Janet is with? Charlie? Hey, Charlie, I said who's the boy Janet is with?"

Charlie, trying in vain to watch the game above the constant chatter, finally admitted he didn't know, but promised he would find out. That satisfied her.

The game continued. It was especially exciting where I was sitting. The charming co-ed, all in one half, had spilled Coke on the lady in front of her, had smeared Charlie's white shirt with the mustard drippings of her hot dog, had made a beautiful design out of the program and managed to drop her left shoe into the space under her seat.

By halftime, Charlie was in worse shape than the tired Eagles. He went out for a cigarette and the chance to give his ears a rest. While he was gone, our little co-ed made her way downstairs to get a closer look at Carol's new skirt and find out for herself just who Janet was with.

Satisfied, she was back in her seat with a smile when Charlie staggered back in. The second half went along smoothly, until the end.

When Charlie informed her that the game was going into overtime, she said evenly, "Well, that's just like watching another game. I'm not about to watch two of these silly games in one night." I looked up again, and all I could see was Charlie's feet as little Miss Big Mouth drug him through the door, ignoring his protests.

You can believe this. There was a definite bit of thanksgiving in a certain section of the stands when we saw Charlie's toes disappear around the corner.

Inquiring Reporter

By AGNES FARKAS

During the fall quarter Georgia Southern College initiated a new grading system. With this new system grade points are given for plus grades. It has been reported that changes have also been made for requirements for making the dean's list. Because in the past the editorial policy of the George-Anne has been in favor of a system such as this, the inquiring reporter this week asked the following question: What do you think about the new grading system?

Jimmy Brock, Statesboro — I like it better than the old one because it gives a more accurate representation of the students' work.

Charlton Bennett, Jesup — I think it's wonderful. Before the dean's list goes up to 3.8, the plus system gives you a better chance of making the dean's list.

Sharon Thigpen, Savannah — I think it's good because it will raise the standards, but still it's going to make it harder to get on the dean's list.

John Harris, College Park — I don't like it because it will make it harder to get on the dean's list.

Barbara Fields, Claxton — I like it. I think you ought to get credit for that little extra effort you put out to get a better grade.

Bill Wood, Sycamore — I think it's a good idea. It's time the students get the benefit of pluses.

Bill Bolen, Savannah — I think it's a good idea. It gives a better indication of a student's abilities. But I don't feel that they ought to raise the requirements for the dean's list.

Rozzie Landman, Statesboro — I think it's a great deal better because previously you could have as much as a nine point difference and still get the same amount of quality points for your grade, and now there's slight difference.

Scottie Hart, Americus — I think it's a good thing. Maybe it will give the students more initiative to work harder.

Dickey Lanier, Lyons — I'm all for it. It gives the average student a better chance. Until they change the dean's list to 3.8, it makes it easier to get on the dean's list.

"Poodle" Fountain, Savannah — I think it's pretty good. Before if you had an A or an A plus, it was all the same thing. Now you get more point ratios, and it gives you the incentive to work harder. But it makes it harder to get on the dean's list than it was previously.

Faye Sowell, Statesboro — I like it because it adds more quality points to your grade.

Earl Alexander, Savannah — In a way, it's all right, but it makes it hard to get on the dean's list.

Helen Noweck, Jesup — I think it's a good idea because you get credit for extra excellence in your courses. The pluses help to pull up your lower grades.

Faye Parker, Sylvania — I'm in favor of a stricter dean's list. I believe higher scholastic standards will give the school a better name.

T. J. Lord, Dexter — I think that it will be almost impossible for the students to make the dean's list under the new requirements. Only a select few will be able to make the requirements.

Jimmy Bagwell, Plains — I like it. It seems to me that a minus is not a solid grade. If you have a C, I think you ought to have a solid C, a C or a C plus.

Clark Fain, Donalsonville — I think it's much fairer than the old system because before you could have an 81 and a B or an 89 and still have a B. There's an eight point difference in the grades, yet you received no more for the high B than the low.

Janet Lodesky, Atlanta — I think it's a fairer way of grading because before a person who made a B plus and a B made the same quality points while one was almost an A and the other almost a C.

Carl Jones, Macon — I like the new way better, last year there was no use trying to make a B plus since it didn't count any more than a plain B.

EAGLES COME ALIVE

Wednesday night, GSC defeated a strong Jacksonville University squad in what was probably their best performance of the season, 93-80. At one point in the first half, the Eagles held a 24-point advantage over the Dolphins. Four Eagle starters hit for over 20 points in the game—Bill Pickens led the way with 24; Fran Florian, 23; David Patton, 22; and Harry Werner, 22.

A performance like this against one of the toughest teams on this year's schedule brings to mind the thought that perhaps the Eagles have finally started rolling. With eight home games remaining on the schedule, the Eagles have a fine chance to have a winning season, after suffering through several disastrous road trips during the first part of the season.

The next home game for the Eagles will be Saturday night against the Newberry Indians, who defeated the Eagles earlier in the season. Everyone is urged to come out and cheer the aroused Eagles on.

The Georgia Southern Gymnastics team just keeps winning—and winning. Last weekend, the Eagle gymnasts defeated the University of Georgia, after returning from a trophy-winning Florida journey. This weekend, Coach Pat Yeager's charges will take on the Bulldogs again in another home meet. For sports excitement of a different kind, come out and watch the gymnastics meet.

LITTLE EAGLE LOOKS GOOD

GSC's little man is getting his share of the spotlight this season. While stars like Bill Pickens and Fran Florian have been thrilling Eagle fans with their fine scoring and rebounding, they have been overshadowing the little men on the GSC squad somewhat. However, all season long, guards David Patton and John Burton have been turning in fine defensive and on occasion, offensive performances. Wednesday night against the Jacksonville squad, David Patton turned in an especially fine performance, as he bucketed 22 points, including 18 of 19 free throws, and two field goals, along with a fine job defensively. Patton now has 17 consecutive free throws. Who says the little man is out of basketball?

Baseball Team To Open Early Drills

The 1962 edition of the Georgia Southern Eagle team began practice here Monday as 43 hopefuls turned out to try for a berth on the squad.

The '62 squad will be boosted by the return of six of last year's starting team, but the loss of All-American hurler Tracy Rivers and their leading hitter J. E. Rowe will be hard to make up.

Returning from last year are Bill Griffin, shortstop; Sandy Wells, outfield; Mike Keasler, outfield; Tommy Howland, catcher; Charles Tarpley, first base; and Buzzy McMillan, utility infielder. Returnees to the mound will be Pierce Blanchard, Larry Crouch, Ed "Doc" Brown, and senior firearm Clyde Miller.

After winning nine straight games in his sophomore year, Miller added only two victories last year as he suffered from arm trouble. This string of eleven consecutive wins stands as a record at GSC, and if Miller can return to his old form he should be able to stretch the record.

McMillan should prove to be a decided advantage to the team since he plays aggressive ball from any infield position. Two years ago he did a proficient job at second base; then with the graduation of third baseman Bill Mallard, he shifted to the "hot Conet" last year. His position this year is uncertain but, he should make the line-up.

The Southern cause will no doubt be helped by the addition of new players both freshmen and transfers. One "new player" will be Miller Findly who returns to GSC for his third year as an outfielder. He did not play last year. Perhaps he is best remembered for his potent bat which produced seven homers during his last year as a member of the GSC team.

The Eagle team posted a record of 15 wins and 11 losses.

Eagle Gymnasts Capture Contest

The Georgia Southern Gym team, led by Raymond Majors and D. C. Tunison, defeated David Lipscomb College of Nashville, Tennessee, 62 to 49 in the Eagles first home meet of the season.

GSC won four events and tied one. The Eagles were victorious in the free calisthenics, the side horse vault, the still rings and in tumbling. David Lipscomb took first place in two events, the trampoline and the horizontal bar. The teams tied for first place in the parallel bars.

Eagles Humiliate Dolphins, 93-80 In Thriller Here

By ROBBIE POWELL

Paced by four starters who tossed in over twenty points each, the Eagles swept past the Jacksonville Dolphins Wednesday night by a 93-80.

Leading the point parade for Southern was Bill Pickens who served up 24 points. Fran Florian was next with 23; Harry Werner and David Patton had 22 apiece. Patton had only two field goals as he converted 18 of 19 free throws. Burton rounded out the scoring with one field goal.

Although four Eagles managed to score over 20 points, high point honors for the night went to Roger Strickland, the nation's third leading scorer. He had 30 tallies.

Strickland also led both teams in rebounds as he pulled off 16 rebounds. Pickens led the Eagles in rebounding as he scraped off 10 missed shots. He was closely followed by Werner and Florian who had nine each.

The Eagles almost got into trouble as Pickens, who was hampered by an injured back, had two fouls called on him in the early minutes of the game. This was magnified by the fact that Chuck Bonovitch, the

The Georgia Southern sports team will come face to face with the opposition tonight and tomorrow night.

The Georgia Southern College gymnastic team will host the strong University of Georgia Bulldogs Friday, January 19th. Starting time for the meet is 7:30 p.m.

The Eagles of Georgia Southern hope to continue their winning streak after winning the first two outings of this season. In the winners column is the Central Florida AAU Championship and a victory over David Lipscomb College.

The GSC Eagles team will be led by Raymond Majors, Stanley McCallar, Robert Tapley, and Doyle Tunison. The Bulldogs will be led by standout gymnasts like Joe Chalk and Lucky Kyle.

In the last match between the Eagles and the Bulldogs, the Georgia Southern team came out on top in a close contest with a 50-48 point score.

Coach Yeager states that this year's match will probably be as close a battle as was their last meet.

The Georgia Southern Eagles, fresh from their 93-80 victory squads number one reserve was out due to illness.

This victory, coupled with an 86-85 win over Mississippi Southern Saturday night brought the GSC record to six wins and eight losses. The Eagles face the Newberry Indians here this Saturday night as they try to push the winning string to three.

over Jacksonville University last Wednesday in Statesboro, will be waiting for the Newberry College Indians. The game is scheduled for Saturday, January 20 with tipoff at 8:30 p.m.

The Eagles lost to the Indians early in the season at Newberry, S. C. by a 72-70 score. Joel Derketch led the Indians with 31 points in that game.

With four of his starters shooting 22 points or better in the Jacksonville game, Coach J. B. Seacore of the Eagles feels that they will be ready to even the score with Newberry.

Starting for the Eagles will be sharpshooting Fran Florian and a greatly improved Harry Werner in the front court. Captain David Patton and John Burton will be the playmakers from the guard slots. The postman and rebounding leader is Bill Pickens, a 6'9" freshman, who led the team with 24 points against Jacksonville.

David Patton has been burning up the free-throw lane with his sharpshooting. In the last two games Patton sunk 9 for 9 against Mississippi Southern and 18 for 19 against Jacksonville.

Jamie King, a 6'1" guard, has returned to the line-up to give the Eagles greater depth at the guard position.

The Georgia Southern Eagles record now stands at 6-8 having won their last two outings.

The preliminary game will pit Southeast Bulloch High School with Harlem High School from Augusta starting at 7 p.m.

faith — it should be a 'both-and' proposition."

American education began with the churches of this continent. Of the first 118 colleges established here, 104 were church colleges. Today, of a total of some 2,000 institutions of higher learning in the nation, 500 are Protestant institutions, 300 are Roman Catholic, and 5 are Jewish.

Need Exists
There is a definite need in the American system of education for private and church-related colleges. No one will argue that public institutions, struggling mightily to improve their performance, alone can or should educate all our young people.

Our traditional system of checks and balances depends upon the active support of quality private education to act as a balance for tax-supported institutions. But in the long run, only quality, bought with self-restraint and careful planning, will be able to attract the high level of support our private and public colleges will need in the future.

ATHLETE'S OF THE WEEK

This week's Intramural Athlete for the boys went to Paul Ross because of the high number of foul shots made in the free throw contest. "Pablo" is from Ashland, Ky. and attended school there. Paul started to play organized basketball in elementary school and went on through high school and played in previous years on the Georgia Southern team. He is a Junior majoring in Health and Physical Education. Paul feels that the intramural activities are very worth while and enjoyable.

A Ludowici gal got off on a speeding start to capture the championship for the free throws in the girls' division and now she is Intramural Athlete of the Week. Beverly Chapman is a freshman and is this time undecided as to her major.

EXPLANATION — A dunkel is a comparative strength rating based on the season's record to date. It reflects weighted average scoring margin relative to rating of opposition. Example: a 50.0 team has been 10 scoring points stronger, per game, than a 40.0 team against opposition of relatively equal rating. The system has been continuous since its origination in 1929 by Dick Dunkel.

Note: In the game listings below 4.0 has been added to the regular rating of each home team.
