Alpha Phi Omega Takes First Place In Display

Five Georgia Southern coeds and three campus organizations found themselves draped with honors over the Homecoming weekend.

Miss Marylyn Hickox was chosen "Miss GSC of 1962," Friday night at the Georgia Southern College Art Club's 16th annual Beauty Revue.

Miss Hickox, a native of Brunswick, was sponsored by the sophomore class and escorted by Clark Fain. She is majoring in English.

Court Named

The four runners-up were Martha Jane Barton, Savannah; first runner-up is a junior and is majoring in elementary education. Beth Mock, Savannah, second runner-up is a senior and majoring in elementary education. Angela Whittington, Savannah, third runner-up, is a junior and majoring in English. Diane Breland, Brunswick, fourth runner-up is a freshman and majoring in elementary education.

"Treasures of Beauty" was the chosen theme for the revue.

which is always an elaborate beginning for the annual homecoming festivities.

The Alpha Phi Omega revue program was presented in four acts under the direction of Miss Mary Alice Chaney, president of the art club, and Miss Reba Barnes. Jack Broucek, associate professor of music provided the background music.

APO Display Wins

At the entrance to Sweetheart Circle, Alpha Phi Omega's first place display, a giant paper mache eagle welcomed visitors to the campus. The theme of their display "Today's Ideas Insure Tomorrow's Progress."

Musical Groups To Tour In Feb.

The Georgia Southern College band and jazz ensemble have scheduled their winter quarter tour for February 6 and 7 in the cities of Milledgeville, Washington, and Thomson, according to Mr. Fred Grumley, director.

The program for this tour will be Coat of Arms, Kenny; Caucasian Sketches (In the Village, In the Mosque, and Procession of the Sardar), Ippolitov-Ivanov; French Horn Concerto No. 3, 3d Movement, Mozart; Pictures at an Exhibition (Hut of the Baba-Yaba and The Great Gate of Kiev), Moussorgsky; Beguine For Band, Osse; Der Pauker in Aengsten, Schreiner; and Symphony No. 1 in G Minor (Finale) Kalinnikov.

The last portion of the concert program will feature the "Symphonic Jazz Ensemble" playing selections from their recent recording "Sounds from Southern," and other numbers. was proclaimed in a banner hanging over the ten foot statue's head.

The Home Economics Club, second place winner gave a little boost to the Eagles "Sew 'Em Up Eagles" display. An eagle flying aloft threads a needle from a giant spool.

The Baptist Student Union reverted to caveman tactics with their third place display. The elements of faith, love, friendship, and hope were professed on signs hanging from the top of the moss covered cave. The theme of their contest entry was "All That Glitters Is Not Gold."

Sweetheart Ball

Date Is Feb. 24

The Annual Sweetheart Ball, sponsored by the sophomore class, will be held on Saturday, February 24, according to Joe Patti, president of the class. The site of the dance has not yet been announced.

Committee chairmen are: decorations, Joy Hillard, Glennville, and food, Jo Carol Gettys, Statesboro. Social chairman for the class is Jim Brock, Statesboro. Plans are to sponsor an outside band. No indefinite arrangements have as yet been made.

Sav'h Coed Will Attend ACE Meet

Miss Martha Jane Barton of Savannah, newly elected president of the Georgia Southern Branch of the Association for Childhood Education, International has been selected as its delegate to the National Study Conference to be held in Indianapolis, Indiana the week of April 22-27.

Miss Barton will be the tenth student selected for such an honor.

This is the major project of the Branch each year having in recent years sent two delegates to the conferences in Kansas City, Missouri; Cleveland, Ohio; and Omaha, Nebraska and one each to St. Louis, Missouri, Atlantic City, New Jersey and Washington, D. C.

ALPHA PHI OMEGA's "Fighting Eagle" won first place in the display contest last Saturday morning. This was one of eight displays entered in the contest, which was judged by three alumni of the college and "Miss GSC" and her court.

PLACING AS SECOND runner-up winner in the display contest was the Home Economics Club's "Sew 'Em Up Eagles." The entire display was decorated in white and the lettering and Eagle flying aloft were royal blue.

BAPTIST STUDENT UNION received third place position in the display contest for their presentation "All That Glitters Is Not Gold." The members of this organization produced a moss cave right in the center of the Georgia Southern campus.

'Male Animal' Opens In McCroan Thursday; Will Run Two Nights

By TOM WILKERSON
Staff Reporter

"The Male Animal," the Masquers' winter quarter production will be presented in McCroan Auditorium Thursday and Friday nights, February 8 and 9.

The presentation will begin at 8:15. Tickets will be sold at $1 for adults and 50c for students.

"The Male Animal" is a three act comedy by James Thurber and Elliott Nugent. The general plot of the story runs as follows: Tommy Turner has been quietly settled in a nice comfortable teaching job at Mid-Western University.

Trustees - Fascists?

But this is the weekend of the Michigan game and Joe Ferguson, who was the greatest football hero Mid-Western ever had, comes to town and sees Ellen, to whom he was once unofficially engaged. In addition to this slight upset in Tommy's life, he is brought into an academic controversy when Michael Barnes, a young college intellectual writes an editorial for the literary magazine. In this editorial, he calls the board of trustees "fascists!"

Tommy who wants to read a letter to his composition class written by Vanzetti, is becoming the butt of the trustees who are shouting "Red!" Ellen tries to dissuade Tommy from reading the letter. Coupled with Joe's presence, this forces Tommy to ask her to go with him and leave him to his books and principles.

Actors Fight

Eventually, Tommy challenges Joe to fisticuffs, after fortifying himself with the proper courage. On top of this, he refuses to deny that he will read the Vanzetti letter and vows he will stand for freedom of ideas and the right to teach young people to think.

Ellen finally sees that he is a pretty good example of the male animal, and stands with him.

Cast Listed

The production will be highlighted with the guest appearance of Dr. Fielding Russell playing the part of Dr. Damon. Other members of the cast include: Frank Chew, Bartow, as Tommy Turner; Angela Whittington, Savannah, as Ellen Turner; and Ronald Lasky, Savannah, as Ed Keller.

ALSO: Ethel Kelly, Savannah, as Myrtle Keller; Archie McAfee, Dublin, as Joe Ferguson; Ethelynn McMillan, Milan, as Patricia Stanley; Tom WilkerSON, Augusta, as Mike Barnes; and JoJo Deal, Savannah, as Wally Myers.

ALSO: Pauline Hagler, Bacon-ton, as Cleota, Marcia McClurd, Brunswick, as Blanche Damon; Bill Gruber, Savannah, as the newspaper reporter, and Milton Haney, Pine Bluff, as Nutsy Miller.

Lunde To Enter Fla. Sailing Regatta Soon

Peter Lunde, a 1960 Olympic gold-medal winner and a Georgia Southern College exchange student from Oslo, Norway, studying under a Rotary scholarship, will enter the 1962 International Sailing Regatta, Flying Dutchman World Championship, in St. Petersburg, Florida. The meet will run from March 2 through the 10th.

Lunde, who holds an Olympic gold medal and the Canadian Sailing Championship, was chosen to represent Norway in this 25-nation championship race.

While at Georgia Southern, Lunde has taken interest in many of the clubs on campus, i. e., French, German and Business clubs. He has had many opportunities to speak to Georgia civic clubs and high schools. He has lectured to various sailing clubs, presenting demonstrations and showing slides of his many sailing experiences.

Meets Competitors

In discussing his travels through representing Norway in sailing contests, Peder says, "the experience of meeting competitors from other countries is very interesting."

With no previous experience, Lunde has become a member of the Georgia Southern Gymnastics Team. According to Pat Yeager, coach, "If I could have Lunde for another year, he would place first in the National AAU long horse vaulting position. He has the natural gift of strength accompanied by determination and discipline, which every gymnast must have," says Yeager. Lunde took first place in the long horse vaulting when he represented Georgia Southern in the National AAU Championship Invitational Met in Florida.

When the Eagles met the University of Georgia, Lunde took first place in the long horse vaulting and tied for first place honors in free calisthenics. "He is also a great tumbler," says Yeager, "he has placed second in this feat in most of the meets of the Eagles."

Likes GSC

Of Georgia Southern College, Lunde says, "I like it very much!" He finds the American and Norwegian customs very similar. But the climate and Georgia landscape are completely new to him. One thing Lunde likes is "being able to speak to various clubs and high schools; this has been a very interesting avocation for me," says Lunde.

So with his travels and holding a gymnastics position, and his academic responsibilities, Lunde lives quite a busy life.

Philharmonic To Give Quarterly Concert Feb. 20

The Philharmonic Choir will present its quarterly concert on February 20 in McCroan Auditorium according to Robert Gerken, choir director.

The concert will feature the debut of the newly organized Girl's Chorus under the direction of Archie McAfee. The program will consist of sacred, secular, and popular music.

The sacred numbers are: "We Adore Thee", Palestrina; "O Sing Unto the Lord," Hassler; "Jesus Priceless Treasure and 'Jesus Joy of Man's Desiring," Bach; "Holy Art Thou," Handel; "He Watching Over Israel," Mendelssohn; "How Lovely is Thy Dwelling Place," Brahms; "Bless the Lord," Ippolitov-Ivanoff.

ALSO: "Prayer from Hansel and Gretel," Humperdinck; "With a Voice of Singing," Martin Shaw; "The Heavens Are Telling," Haydn, (soprano, tenor, and bass trio by Mary Wood, Macon Harry Reece Waycross, and McAfee, Dublin,) and "Sanctus," Gounod (solo by Jayne Bragan, Brooklet).

Popular Songs Included The secular portion of the program will include: "Carousell," "Greensleeves," "Sing Me A Song," "Dixie," "My Way's Cloudy," "Charlottown," "Black Is the Color of My True Love's Hair," "Ifca's Castle."

The Girl's Chorus, under the direction of McAfee, will sing "We Kiss In A Shadow," "Mother Machree," "I've Got You Under My Skin," "He's Gone Away," and "Just For Today."

Choir To Tour

Tentative plans have been made for the Philharmonic Choir to make a tour of southern Georgia. According to present plans, the choir will be on tour on February 19, and be back on February 20 to give the concert here on campus.

Roerick Named As Leading Man To Dame Judith

William Roerick, who has been featured with many great actresses of the modern American stage, has been chosen as leading man to Dame Judith Anderson in her current production of "Medea '62." Dame Judith and Roerick will appear at Georgia Southern College, March 7.

Roerick was discovered by the late Alexander Woolcott who saw him in a college production of "Macbeth." After gaining experience in summer stock, he got his first break when cast with Katherine Cornell's production of "Romeo and Juliet."

Ethel Barrymore, Florence Reed, Talullah Bankhead and Gertrude Lawrence are a few of the many stars with whom Roerick has been affiliated on stage.

He made his debut as Broadway playwright and co-author with Thomas Coley of the comedy, "The Happiest Years." Appearing on every major television network, Roerick has also done extensive video writing.

Tickets are still on sale and may be purchased in person or by mail. Address for tickets is Robert Overstreet, Box 2026, Georgia Southern College. Prices are $3.00, $2.50, and $2.00 and checks should be made to Masquers Fine Arts Series.

Ham Radio Club Re-elects Ownbey Pres.; Names V.P.

Vernon Ownby, Alpharetta, and Terry Coleman, Eastman, were elected president and vice president, respectively, of the GSC Ham Radio Club Tuesday night.

The amateur radio station WA4DTF-GSC is now located in room 201½ of the Herty Building. It operates on a 200 watt transmitter. Membership in the Ham Radio Club is restricted to licensed ham operators or those studying for a license. Ownbey stated that the club presently consists of seven members.

LIBRARY ANNOUNCEMENT

Miss Hassie McElveen, director of the Rosenwald Library has announced that Mae L. Merriman of Demco Library Supplies will give a lecture and demonstration on book repair and maintenance Tuesday, February 6th in the Carruth Building from 2 to 4 p.m. Any student interested in attending the demonstration should contact Miss McElveen before February 5th.

Jr. Class Sets Tentative Plans For Annual Ball

Tentative plans have been made by the junior class to organize the Old South Ball, according to Ray Bowden, president.

Bowden said that if present plans go into effect, the Four Lads will furnish the entertainment. They will be backed by The Swinging Nine Minus Three band.

He added that the Old South Ball, GSC's spring quarter formal dance, will be held in the new Statesboro National Guard Armory on May 5.

The Swinging Nine Minus Three will be the first big name band to appear at a ball on the GSC campus. Bowden said tickets will be sold for $5.00 per couple.

Change MAY Come To McCroan

A great number of visitors and celebrities come to this campus. If they arrive in daylight, they see the clean grounds, the beautiful new Mamie Veazey Hall, Herty Building, Williams Center and Carruth Building, notice the newly remodeled offices and then—they enter McCroan Auditorium.

If these visitors arrive at night, they head straight for the auditorium and most probably, see nothing else in the darkness.

In both cases, they do see McCroan Auditorium, which is not the most beautiful nor serviceable facility on Georgia Southern's campus.

Usually the lights are on and a sorry picture faces our guests, students, and faculty members. A dirty, actually ugly, drab curtain covers the stage. The original curtain which was a deep purple, has long since rotted away. So—this dirty gray curtain hangs— forlorn and out of place below the first teaser (a valence), which is purple. The wing curtains are still hanging, but in shreds. When an attempt was made to have these curtains cleaned, the laundry said they'd try, but couldn't guarantee that they'd stay in one piece.

The windows—on the sides of the auditorium are uncovered—bare. This effect leaves the auditorium with a cold, unhappy appearance. Not a place in which the audience can warm up to the performers on stage.

If our guests look closely, they can see the modern painting scheme of the auditorium: green and pink. These two colors just don't match. The green color is fine, but when that ran out, the painters must have finished the job in pink.

These reasons account for our saying that it's not the most beautiful place on campus. Then we come to our second accusation. Unserviceable—but, how can that be? All types of events are held here.

People from all over the state and even the world have had the occasion to either sit in the audience or perform in McCroan. Sure, it serves as far as being a place to hold mass meetings, but what about the facilities the stage offers.

There is practically no special lighting equipment at all. The performers, if they aren't already in costumes, have to use a small area of space backstage with no dressing rooms provided. The mirrors, which are usually clear and well-lighted in other theatres for make-up purposes, are worn and dirty here.

If you're wondering if we've covered everything, ask a member of the Masquers and anyone of them could tell you a mile-long list of things needed backstage. There are no partitions for work areas and not enough room to build scenery. They have very few tools with which to work. Their tools right now consist of a couple of hammers, saws, screwdrivers, (man-power driven), and pliers.

In order to make costumes, the Masquers, using their money, bought a new sewing machine. It's only about 20 years old, but new to them. Recently out of Masquers' funds, other equipment was bought. Then, of course, they want lighting equipment for special effects and a light board, etc., etc.

Such a program of remodeling as we're calling for costs a great deal of money. Because the coat will be great, the Board of Regents will have to approve the use of college funds for that project.

The Administrators of our college are not blind to the need of redecorating the auditorium. Plans have been in the making for a long time to do this job. In fact, the designs are already drawn up. This includes: adding dressing rooms, buying new curtains, placing special glass in the windows, redoing the window moldings and other improvements.

The cost of this project will be placed in next year's budget, which a committee starts drawing up today. The new budget will not go into effect until July. Then perhaps, the project can really get underway.

We feel that this editorial explains the situation. We, as students, are interested in our college and want it to appear as fine to campus visitors as we already know it to be.

Dressing Habits Are Noted

The manner in which a school's student body dresses is a good indication of the quality and integrity of the institution itself.

The GEORGE - ANNE would like to commend the students of Georgia Southern in this respect. It has recently been brought to our attention that the general order at the Eagle basketball games seems to be coats and ties for men, and high heels for women.

It was reported that Coach J. B. Scarce and members of the basketball team have noticed this and commented favorably on it. The fact that this one characteristic has been noticed by other people gives weight to the statement that GSC students are giving the school a good name.

Besides giving the school that sought after "collegiate look," being well dressed reflects a student's pride in himself and in his college. An atmosphere of academic maturity is created. This is favorable development in any institution of higher learning.

Not only have we noticed the commendable dressing habits of GSC students at ballgames, but in classes, lectures, and social functions as well.

One need not strip his billfold to dress neatly and appropriately. Let's keep up the good work and continue to show the many visitors to our campus that the taste of the students at GSC is growing with the size and importance of the school.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"I JUST HEARD A HORRIBLE RUMOR - THAT THE TRUSTEES WILL REQUIRE ALL PROFESSORS TO PASS THE ENTRANCE EXAM."

By WINFRED L. GODWIN
Director Southern Regional Education Board

It takes a man a lifetime of experience to build his memory to completion. But today the equivalent of that memory can be embodied on a piece of glass six inches square in one of the nation's giant electronic computers.

Just about 100 years ago, Charles Babbage, a little known mathematical genius teaching at Cambridge began work with what he called an "analytical engine" — a simple machine which he hoped might be able to do some simple calculations like those done by the human brain. Today, a highly developed computing machine in a Southern university is studying human ability and learning processes to see how use of the human brain might be further extended and improved.

An advisory committee of the National Institute of Health has estimated that within 10 years, half of all biological and medical research projects will be using computers or other methods of automatic data processing. In light of present trends, the same committee projected that 75 per cent of all bio-medical research in this country will be using mathematics and data processing techniques to some extent within 5 or 10 years.

More Computers Used
Today there are a large and growing number of computers in Southern universities. They are being used for research in most major fields of academic endeavor. They are being used as instructional tools to train young people in the imaginative, creative use of the mechanical minds available to them.

They are used to perform many administrative chores which were time consuming and wasteful of human energy and effort.

The schools of the region are using computers in many ways as indicated by these examples from a few institutions.

Tech Uses One
At the University of North Carolina and Georgia Tech, giant computer centers are performing research functions in many major fields of study affecting the South's growth and change today.

At the University of Texas, a new Satellite Computer System — which performs calculations in millions of a second — is being used for basic research in the molecular properties of the atom, mechanical language translation, the theory of numbers, biochemical mutants in man and the routing of flood waters through reservoirs, to name only a few fields. The same computers are being used as teaching devices to instruct students in programming and application of the machine themselves.

A Data Processing Center at the Texas A & M College System has been designed as a regional facility to serve colleges, universities, science research organizations and industries of all Southern states. Facilities of the Center are available without charge to Southern colleges and universities for non-sponsored academic research and are available to industry for research on a fee basis.

GOES

SOMETIMES NOT AT ALL

We do not need to give up the ship yet. A news item out of Moscow recently points up this fact. It seems as though concerts and shows by American performers have always grabbed the spotlight in the Russian capital.

John Philip Sousa. When this march was played it brought down the house.

Moscowites demanded an encore. The number was played three times as a result of their enthusiasm. The name of the march was "Stars And Stripes Forever."

Homecoming at Georgia Southern is over. Everything is finished for another year in most folks' minds, but just a few more things should be mentioned before the records are closed and put away. From the viewpoint of most Georgia Southern supporters, the entire weekend was a success. Alpha Rho Tau started off by doing a fine job with the Beauty Revue. Our congratulations also go to all the girls who competed in the Revue and especially to those who won.

The gymnastics team and the basketball team made fine showings in doing their part to make the weekend a success. Both grabbed victories. Results of these two events can be found on the sports page.

The clubs which erected displays also helped make the weekend a success. Congratulations also to Alpha Phi Omega, the Home Economics Club, and the Baptist Student Union for their prize winning displays.

The only sad note is that only 50 members of the Alumni Association were present for their annual banquet. We feel sure, however, that the Alumni Association will soon begin to prosper and grow again. A host of new ideas and plans are in the making. When they are applied and put into effect the necessary changes will most likely happen naturally.

Last week the GEORGE-ANNE carried a feature article describing the majority of the activities and clubs on this campus. Inadvertently, some were left off of the list. Two have already been called to our attention.

Alpha Gamma Omicron, the honor society for freshmen women was not listed. Alpha Phi Omega, the national service fraternity which has been the outstanding organization on the campus for the past two years was also left out. Others may have also been omitted without the knowledge of the staff, but so many organizations exist here and each year new ones are formed or are discontinued that it becomes almost impossible to keep up with all of them.

One other little item has been called to our attention and should be mentioned before time runs out. It concerns the ball games and use of the student identification cards. Ticket takers claim that the entire procedure would work much better for all concerned if the students had the cards ready to show as they enter the gym.

Students fumbling for cards cause a line to form outside. This line creates real havoc when it rains. All in all it would be beneficial to both students and to those who check the cards if the passes were ready when entering the door.

A Square Deal

By BILLY DEAL

Freshmen are to be pitied. For many this is their first time away from home. But don't misunderstand. I'm sure every freshman here knows how to take care of himself in every conceivable situation.

But there is one area which most new dormitory students find extremely difficult to conquer. That is the weekly "letter to the parents."

Parents being what they are expect a detailed report of every activity from studying to showering. And freshmen being what they are feel inclined to give them this report—or at least a reasonable facsimile. To please the parent, the student usually writes what is expected of him.

Letter Home

Like this . . .
"Dear Mother and Father,
I hope you don't think I forgot to write you last week, but I had seven tests in two days and just didn't have time. Studying, you know, I've been well though."

Some rare disease befell me last week and I spent two days in the health cottage, but the nurse says I will be okay. She gave me a pound of sulphur pills to keep away the evil spirits. I don't think they will have to operate.

And now to answer your questions. Yes, I'm getting enough sleep; NO, I'm not playing poker; Yes, I'm going to all my classes; No, I'm not spending a lot of money; and No, I'm not dating a lot of girls — because since you took my car away no girl will date me. But I'll get by.

Great School!

I hope everybody is okay at home. You said something in your last letter about sending Junior to school here next year. Don't. It's a great school, but Junior is developing into a well built young man, and I don't want to see him starve to death. Oh yes, you asked me about the food, too. I really can't tell you all I'd like to, because they censor our mail, but I'll try to give you some hints.

I never go to breakfast because it ruins my entire day. My roommate's face is bad enough at 7 a.m., but you should see those fried eggs.

No Knives

The other meals aren't so bad. Now and then we have meat that you can actually cut with a knife, but we never have knives so we all carry razor blades in our wallets. It makes a messy wallet, but it works on the meat — sometimes. Sometimes we get stuff you couldn't cut with a power lawn mower. I'm afraid to say anything else. They might catch me. If they do, they make you come to breakfast for three weeks, and I know I couldn't live through that.

Well, I'll see you as soon as they take the bars off the gates. By the way, you asked if I needed anything. I'm okay financially, but if you could send some bread crumbs or orange peelings — just anything to eat—I sure would appreciate it. Be sure to send it in a plain wrapper.

Starvingly yours,
Athletz Foote."

And there you have an authentic "Letter to Momma."

On Other Topics

Now, let's touch a few subjects around campus. The health posters in the lobby of the dining hall sure do look good. They say that milk is necessary for good health. Maybe some day, we'll even have milk for lunch and supper. I can dream, can't I?

And we hear there is a move on campus to start a social fraternity. But traditions and customs seem to be standing in the way.

The administration is always looking for new ways to keep students on campus, so why not try this one? The move is being backed by some of most energetic students on campus, and the leadership positions are well filled.

Maybe a trial run would prove a lot. At the most, what harm could it do?

Inquiring Reporter

By AGNES FARKAS and VIRGINIA BLACKMON

In order to aid students, faculty, and the administration in determining GSC's most urgent needs, the Inquiring Reporter interviewed several students on the following questions: (1) Do you have any suggestions that would make for a better GSC? (2) Explain them. Here are the results:

Bill Morrill, Clearwater, Fla. — Less individualism and more conformity in school activities. Most people don't seem to care about the school, just about themselves.

Nancie Neighbors, Swainsboro — I think we ought to have sororities and fraternities. It would make the social life better. The food in the dining hall should be served cafeteria style in order to give more variety.

Bob Hodges, Fitzgerald — I think the dorms should be less crowded. It's almost impossible to live with 3 and 4 people in a room.

Linda Lee Harvey, Statesboro — People should participate more in outside activities such as Saturday night dances and ball games. They should stay on campus instead of going home every weekend.

Donald Toole, Millen — A more adequate library with more books and periodicals. We need more books in the stacks and later editions of the reference books.

Becky Ferguson, Sandersville — They could fix that road in front of the student center so it wouldn't be so muddy when it rains.

Bennett Brantley, Warner Robins — Pre-registration because it would save a lot of time next quarter, and there wouldn't be so much fuss and bother then.

Anna Evans, Bainbridge — I think the roads should be repaired. Riding around the campus it seems like a country road instead of a college.

Fred Cook, Brunswick — I think that our dormitory situation should be improved. Sanford Hall is very inadequate. It's crowded; the rooms are run down; the radiator system is shot. We didn't have any hot water all day today.

Sammie Urso, Brunswick — They need to pave the roads and have more social activities. On weekends there's a movie and a dance, and there's nothing else. There's nothing for Saturday afternoons.

Joan Lockett, Warrenton, — (1) "I think we should have a basketball team for girls. (2) I think it would add to school spirit."

Hilda Blanton, Lakeland, — (1) "I think we should have better planned extra-curricular activities. (2) People are not well-informed."

Ronald Larsen, Fort Valley — (1) "Social life and weekends could be improved. (2) The name "suitcase" college would disappear."

Clark Fain, Donaldson, — (1) "We should enlarge the school, but don't let standards go down in accepting students. (2) More students make for a bigger and better school, if all other standards were still held up."

Sue Brewton, Pembroke, (1) "The campus needs more activities so that people might meet each other. (2) This would bring students closer together."

Harry Beck, Milledgeville, — (1) "All rules should be enforced. (2) This would make the school a better place."

Linda King, Lithonia, — (1) "We need more school spirit. (2) There is not enough support at basketball games."

Douglas Dees, Lyons, — (1) "We need a football team. (2) This would make the alumni and students care more about the school."

PETRELS HERE SATURDAY

Next Saturday night, Georgia Southern will face Oglethorpe University in what is probably the most important game of the season. The Eagles' chance to make the NAIA playoffs this year rest mainly on this game. A win over the Petrels here and a good showing over the rest of the season should insure a berth in the post-season tourney for the Eagles.

RIVALRY COMES ALIVE AGAIN

Over the years, a great rivalry has been developed between GSC and Oglethorpe, two perennial powers in this district. Every year, the two teams are always "up" for the two games in which they will meet, and their gyms are always packed for the occasion. School spirit is always at season's peak at a GSC-Oglethorpe game, and the games are always packed full of excitement. The last two meetings of the teams went into overtime, with the Eagles winning in the extra period here last year, and the Petrels edging the Eagles in double overtime at Atlanta earlier this season.

STUDENT REPRESENTATION IMPORTANT

In any event this Saturday night's game will match two fine teams in the Hanner Gymnasium for what promises to be a very exciting battle. No doubt, the Petrels will be well represented by their student body, as they always are, so it would indeed be a shame if the Eagles were not equally well represented by GSC students.

A POPULAR REFREE?

It is quite unusual for an official to be popular at any sporting event. At most, fans are sometimes indifferent to referees, umpires, and the like, but never favorable. Not so with Lou Bello, who has officiated at the last two home games for the Eagles. Bello's colorful antics on the court as he makes his calls have made him quite popular with GSC fans. Although he will not be able to officiate any more GSC games this season, Bello should be back next season. You can bet the fans will remember him.

Gymnasts Down Citadel; To Face Ga. Tech Sat.

The Georgia Southern Eagles gymnastics team, led by Raymond Majors, added much to the celebration of homecoming with an 87-41 win over a highly-rated Citadel team.

Despite the rainy weather which was to accompany the homecoming activities, the partisan crowd had plenty to cheer about and left the Hanner building with satisfaction as they saw the Eagles romp to victory in a meet that was tared a toss-up prior to Saturday.

Again the Eagles were led by the outstanding performance of Raymond Majors, a sophomore from Claxton. Majors scored 21 points and captured first place in three events — the still rings, tumbling, and the free calisthenics.

The Eagles now own a 4-0 record for the season with previous victories over Florida State and other schools in the Florida AAU Invitational meet, David Lipscomb, and the University of Georgia.

The Eagles will be shooting for their fifth straight victory this weekend when they journey to Atlanta to face the Georgia Tech Yellow Jackets. However, this is to be no easy task as the Jackets also have a strong gymnastics team. They have also posted wins over the University of Georgia and The Citadel.

The Eagles will return home for another meet with Georgia Tech on February 9. After that, they will head west to meet Louisiana State, U. of Southwest Louisiana, and Texas A & F.

BILL PICKENS jumps into the air for a jump-ball as the other Eagles stand by to catch the tip-off. This action took place in the homecoming tilt against Rollins College which Georgia Southern won 104-63. Other Eagles in the picture are David Patton, (3), Fran Florian (35), Harry Werner, (21), and Jamie King (number not in sight).

Golf Team Is Formed At Georgia Southern; Cook To Coach Squad

A golf team to represent Georgia Southern College has been formed, according to George Cook, member of the Physical Education Department and coach of the newly formed team.

Eight men are on the team. They are as follows: Bobby Jones, John Dekle, Buddy Vann, Lonice Barrett, George Brown, Terry Davenport, Ronnie Patton, and Andrew Pennington. Some or all of these men will represent in various intercollegiate tournaments throughout the year.

Matches have been scheduled with Mercer and the Citadel. Coach Cook said that the schedule should be completed sometime within the next two weeks. Also, the team has already been invited to the University of Miami Inter-Collegiate Tournament to be held April 19, 20, and 21, and there is a possibility that the team will enter the Southern Inter-Collegiate Tournament to be held in Athens May 3, 4, and 5.

Oglethorpe Visits Southern Saturday

The Stormy Petrels from Oglethorpe University will invade the GSC home court Saturday night and give the Eagles a chance to strip them of the title of "Champions of Georgia Basketball" which Coach Pinholster has claimed for his team. The Petrels stopped the Eagles earlier this year in a thrilling double overtime contest in Atlanta.

In the earlier game the Eagles were led by Fran Florian who had 19 points and David Patton who scored 17. Tommy Norwood and Jimmy Roland led Oglethorpe with 20 and 23 respectively. Norwood sparked the Petrels as he collected 19 of his 20 points in the last half. The Georgia Southern Eagles have rightfully been referred to as ill-eagles (sick-birds) due to their trouble keeping a team well enough to play. Not since the contest against Elon, played December 27, have the Eagles entered a game at full strength. In the Elon contest they lost the services of Jamie King. Six games later when King was ready to resume play Chuck Bonovitch, David Patton, and Harry Werner were out for one or more games in quick succession. Werner, who is still showing the effects of the flu, is the only one who has not returned to full strength.

The probable starters for the Eagles will find Florian holding down his forward position, Pickens at center, and Patton and Burton at the guard slots. The other forward position will be manned either by Harry Werner or E. G. Meybohm.

Bobby Sexton, Tommy Norwood, Morris Mitchell, Jimmy Roland, and Joe Whifford will probably be starters for the Oglethorpe visitors.

The co-recreation shuffleboard finals will include Jim Daugherty and Betty Biggers against Peggy Exley and Norman Doff.

The table tennis for the boys and girls must be entered by February 6. To enter see a unit manager or stop by the intramural office. Remember February 6 is the deadline.

Kay Preston, from Statesboro, and Tracy Rivers, from Omega, have been chosen intramural athletes of the week because they are currently leading the scoring parade in intramural basketball.

Kay played basketball for four years at Statesboro High while taking an active part in all other aspects of school life. She was a member of National Honor Society, (3,4), Quill and Scroll, (3,4), Tennis Club, (2,3), and Beta Club, (3,4). She was secretary of the Beta Club her senior year.

Before coming to GSC Tracy went to Brewton-Parker Junior College where he was named to All-American baseball and basketball. He was the first Georgian to make All-American in two sports in the same year.

Tracy led the Eagles in Baseball as they wound up second in the nation in 1960. Tracy was named to the all-tournament team and was invited to play in the All-American game in Calif. He led the Eagle mound staff last year with a 6-3 record and was a stalwart hitter as he clubbed the ball at the .300 pace. After the season was over he signed with the New York Mets and finished the season at Raleigh, N. C. Posting five wins (including a no-hitter), against 2 losses, he was named Rookie of the Year in the Carolina League.

Tracy and his wife the former Trina Davis (also the former Miss Statesboro) are attending Southern this quarter. He will leave to join the Mets for spring training in March.

Mercer, Cumberland, Rollins Fall To GSC

During the past week the Georgia Southern Eagles picked up three wins while dropping a single game to even out their season record at 10 wins and 10 losses. In the win column for GSC are games over Cumberland College, a homecoming victory over Rollins, and a last second win from Mercer. The Eagles lost to Davidson College.

Fran Florian gave the Eagle fans something to really cheer about as he tossed up the winning field goal against the Mercer Bears with only 2 seconds left on the scoreboard clock. The Eagles won by the score 63-61.

With the game tied at 61 all David Patton stole the ball to set up the last second shot by Florian. Florian led the Eagles with 15 markers.

In the annual homecoming game the GSC careers rolled to an easy 104-63 win over Rollins College as the entire Eagle squad saw action. Florian led the way for the Eagle scorers as he tossed in 26 points. Bill Pickens was next in line for scoring honors with 24. Chuck Bonovitch had 13 while Terry Grooms collected 11. Every member of the squad scored in this game.

Monday night the Eagle opponents hit a fantastic scoring percentage of 58 in the first half, but slipped to a meager 20 per cent in the second half as the Southern picked up a row.

The Cumberland Indians held a 36-32 lead at the halftime, but it was eight minutes before the Kentucky team could score in the second half. By then the Eagles held a 44-38 lead. The lead was never lost by GSC as they took the game 80-59.

Florian led the scoring parade with 29 points; Pickens was second with 20. E. G. Meybohm had 11, and David Patton

German Week Is Scheduled For February 5-10

The German Club and the German Circle will sponsor German Week February 5-10 here at GSC. The purpose of German Week will be to promote an interest in the German language among the faculty and student body.

The activities planned for that week are as follows: February 5-10 there will be a display in the Williams Center arranged by the German Circle. The German Circle or "Deutscher Verein" is made up of native Germans who now live in Statesboro. There will also be a display in the Library by the German Club.

On February 6 a meeting of the German Club will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the A. V. Room of the Library. Mrs. Ingo Robbins will talk about Heidelberg. There will also be a film about Heidelberg in color. The students and faculty are cordially invited to come to the club meeting.

A dance will be held on February 10 at 8:00 in the Alumni Building. There will also be a floor show.

On February 16 at 7:00 there will be a film "Somewhere in Berlin" in McCroan Auditorium. Mrs. Monika F. Lynch is president of the German Club here on campus.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

Why are students at Georgia Southern College? Are they here to stay or to transfer? Is Georgia Southern a big little school on the verge of competing with larger universities, or is it a little big school with great size, but still holding on to small ideas?

Each year the number of students at Georgia Southern has increased and increased. I wonder if Georgia Southern has stretched enough to meet this ments, develop emotions and take initiative," Dr. Edward Teller of the University of California has said. "If we give the machine a large enough memory and give it enough random trials, it will remember those trials which are successful. Thus it will learn."

It is well for us to remember that in the long run, the effectiveness of our machines will lie in the human values and judgments which feed those machines. These can be developed only through education of the highest excellence.

greater enrollment. Most students would agree with me in saying that the social activities at this college are quite limited. If not, why is this school known as a suitcase college?

During the middle of the fall quarter, an effort was made to bring fraternity life to Georgia Southern College. This effort is still going on. Why can't fraternities be established on our campus? Fraternities, that would make a high grade level necessary for participating in their activities, would help raise the academic attitudes. This necessity to belong would be enough incentive to raise one's grades. Brotherhood among college men and women is highly recognized by larger schools. Mercer and Valdosta State, both smaller colleges than our own, have had fraternities for some time. Is our school reluctant to change its ways? Is there some valid reason why we could not have fraternities and sororities?

I'm sure there is a demand from the majority of students to have these fellowships on our campus. I wonder how many students have stated the name of this school and have heard the following reply: "Where's that?" Personally, I have had this said to me. I believe that if we had fraternities and sororities on campus we could be recognized as a promising school of the State of Georgia. Do you want fraternities and sororities at Georgia Southern?

Signed,
Sam Lewis, Albany, Ga.

The bi-weekly meeting of the Miscellaneous group will be held Monday night at the home of Mrs. Sarah Gougler, according to Roy Powell, faculty advisor.

The meeting which will consist of the reading and discussing of literature and manuscripts, will begin at 8 p.m. Transportation for those interested in attending will be available in front of the Administration Building at 7:45.

singing "Honey Bun" from the musical "South Pacific."

Tootsie, a sophomore elementary major, plans to teach the fourth grade. She loves children and enjoys working with them.

She is a member of the Deal Hall House Council. Tootsie was a cheerleader in high school for two years. She was also a class officer for three years, and during her senior year was secretary of the student council. At that time she won a trip to Corpus Christi, Texas as part of her student council work.

She was vice president of her sorority Pi Alpha Mu Sigma. Also, Tootsie was on the honor roll for her junior and senior years. She is a member of the Brunswick First Presbyterian Church.

Typical Coed

Tootsie is a typical Georgia Southern student when she says the thing she hates most is getting up in the morning.

On being Miss Georgia Southern for 1962 Tootsie has this to say, "I was completely shocked, but thrilled to death. The thing though, that has made me happiest of all is that everyone has been so wonderful to me. They act as if they are really glad I won, and that is the best thing of all."

Won Other Contests

Beauty contests are nothing new to Tootsie. Last year she was in the Miss Statesboro Beauty Contest, and this past summer she was second runner-up in the "Miss Golden Isles" beauty contest. In that contest she won the talent division by
