GSC Greek Council To Divide; IFC, NPC Will be Initiated

By LINDA LANE
Staff Writer

The Greek Council which was formed last spring, with the objective of establishing national sororities and fraternities, has plans for dividing into the National Panhellenic (NPC) and Interfraternity Conferences (IFC).

A Committee has been set up to write a constitution for establishment of an IFC according to regulated guidelines of the National Conference.

The NPC may not be set up until the second national sorority is established; until this is done, an inter-sorority council will be working towards affiliation with national sororities.

The Greek Council began their action summer quarter when it contacted the NPC and IFC, who sent bulletins to national members announcing the beginning of social fraternities on the GSC campus.

Fraternities are allowed to deal directly with those who show an interest in establishing a chapter, but the sororities deal through an area adviser who serves as a liaison person between the National Panhellenic Conference and the College Panhellenic.

The Greek Council will operate until the IFC and NPC are firmly established. They have set up suggested guidelines which will go into effect winter quarter.

Present Enrollment Surpasses 4,300

Enrollment as of September 23 has reached a total of 4,368, according to Lloyd Joyner, registrar.

In the freshman class there are 622 men and 866 women; in the sophomore class, 414 men and 485 women; in the junior class, 491 men and 452 women; and in the senior class, 427 men and 370 women.

There are also 198 graduate students and 43 others, bringing the total figure up to 4,368. Joyner emphasized, however, that students may still be enrolled until Wednesday, September 27, and that these figures are not representative of the final total.

"This fact," said Joyner, "is very probably caused by the present draft system."

There was speculation last year that since the University of Georgia had limited its enrollment to 16,000, other colleges in the state would notice a drastic increase in enrollment. However the University did not uphold this policy.

According to Joyner, there are only about 50 students at the college who would have come to the university had they not announced the enrollment limitations.

Flu Shots

Flu shots are now being given in the health cottage, Monday - Thursday from 9:00-5:00. Shots are without cost to the faculty and student body. They will be given until October 27.

Pound Reveals Average Figures

Approximately 2150 persons are eating in the college cafeteria out of an enrollment of 4300, according to C. R. Pound, director of the Williams Center.

"We are continuing to serve from 1,000 to 1,200 students per hour. One person is served every 3.6 seconds. We will adjust our schedule as is necessary to the students needs, but at this time, there is no indication that such a change is needed," said Pound.

"I feel sure that we will be in the new student center and cafeteria by winter quarter," said Pound. "This will greatly reduce the long waiting and crowded conditions in the cafeteria."

The "place in line" number system is again being used this quarter. This system makes it impossible for someone to join the line at any place but the end and allows the line to move faster.

Book Deposit Adds To Library Service

An additional service has been added to the Rosenwald Library in the form of an Auto-Page Book Deposit, according to Hassie McElveen, librarian. Students may return books to the library when it is closed by placing them in this locked book deposit. The books will then be removed by library personnel and checked in in the usual manner.

There are two stipulations for use of the deposit. Students may not place books in the deposit while the library is open and overdue books are not to be placed in the book deposit but must be returned to the receiving desk.

The Auto-Page Book Deposit has been placed at the library for the convenience of students wishing to return books while the library is closed.

An Auto-Page Book Deposit has been placed at the front of the Rosenwald Library for students' use in returning books.

New Buildings Reflect Growth

By MURPHY SCONYERS
Staff Writer

The Foy Fine Arts Building, a beautiful addition to the campus, will bring together two facets of the fine arts—art and music. The building contains facilities including an art gallery, a recital hall, practice rooms, class rooms, library facilities, a band room, studios for painting and sculpture, offices for professors, faculty and student lounges, and laboratories for print-making and ceramics.

Since the fine arts building had a formal dedication last year, an inaugural program will be held this year to open the building to the public. This program will be Saturday, November 4, which will be by invitation only and Sunday, November 5, which will be open to the public.

The building, itself, is completed, but there are still many small jobs to be done. The biggest job will be the moving of all the new equipment into the building. This will take from one to two years to complete.

The new dining hall will be welcomed by everyone and will help ease the pressure on the overcrowded Williams' Center. The building contains a dining hall, book store and a post office. The post office will be a delivery post office only.

The dining hall will be open as soon as the kitchen equipment is installed. Following this, the electrical wiring and plumbing must be installed and checked. Hopefully, the opening date will be the beginning of winter quarter. The dining hall could open earlier if the installation of equipment, plumbing, and wiring goes well and works properly.

The new temporary classroom building has no name as yet. There are no immediate plans for the dedication until after Christmas. The building has six classrooms and office space for 25 faculty members.

Science Institute Brings Educators

Twenty-three coastal empire teachers and school administrators have begun a nine month course of study at the college in the field of physical and earth sciences. The institutes director is Dr. H. S. Hanson, assistant professor of geology.

The institute is a continuation of an in-service program being offered on a three-year plan. Finances for the year long program are being subsidized by the National Science Foundation in the amount of $8,000.

The participants receive per diem for travel and books. Most of the students teach in the respective fields on the high school level.

Hanson will be assisted throughout the year by four other members of his Division.

Students Teach Tufts Freshmen

MEDFORD, MASS. (IP) — Freshmen at Tufts University will have a choice this year between seminar courses taught by the students and seminar courses taught by faculty members.

The students maintain that freshmen learn more when the class leader is "asking with them not telling to them." The faculty stresses the hope "that the opportunity for social contact in an intellectual context between faculty member and freshmen will give freshmen an insight into the lively practice of intellectual endeavor and discovery."

Tau Kappa Epsilon, international social fraternity, has formed a colony which has been officially chartered and recognized at the college, according to Hal Lankford, colony secretary.

The first slate of officers are: Ira Morris, president; Steve Fortune, vice-president; Hal Lankford, secretary; Terrell Reddick, treasurer; Ronnie Pelk, historian; Bob Gilstrap, chaplain; James Crump, sergeant-at-arms; and Richard Silvey, pledge trainer. The program will consist of a faculty-student forum; the topic will be the responsibility of the professor to the student.

Plans will also be made for a project at the nursing home. The visit is scheduled for Oct. 2 at 3:30 p.m. All interested students are encouraged to attend.

NOT AS BAD AS IT COULD BE

Registration has long been a major headache confronting students at the onset of each quarter. A degree of confusion always exists and disappointment results when one fails to get all the classes he had anticipated.

It is the duty of the faculty and administrators to see that all runs smoothly during this trying time. As was evident at the last registration, great pains were taken to see that possible pitfalls and obstacles of confusion were alleviated from the registration procedures.

All persons concerned with this phase of college enrollment deserve to be congratulated on the excellent way in which registration was conducted. Not only must congratulations be extended but a vote of thanks is also in order for making fall registration 1967 as effortless and uncomplicated as possible.

NOTHING TO DO?

It has been said by some irate students that the main thing wrong with this college is a lack of "good" entertainment. This statement is usually made by ill-informed students who are unaware of the excellent programs provided through the Campus Life Enrichment Series and the free movies.

In recent years past, this college has been the scene of some of the best entertainment available. "Luv," Espinosa, the Zurich Chamber Orchestra and the Folk Ballet were some of the most memorable.

Free movies also provide a source of good entertainment. Winners of Academy Awards and film festival honors have been shown to students of this college.

But the sad part of all this glorious entertainment is that fact that it is viewed by a small minority of students. There is a lack of interest on the part of the students at this college concerning the efforts of the Campus Life Enrichment Series and the free movies. A vast amount of work has gone into the planning and scheduling of these events, many of which are attended by a disappointingly small number of people.

When there is a lack of support for the entertainment brought to the campus, the word undoubtedly gets around. Naturally, it becomes increasingly difficult to obtain entertaining artists when they are aware that their concert will draw small attendance.

The Campus Life Enrichment Series and the free movies need support in order to become an effective tool in providing the college with good entertainment. With the support of all students, these programs will grow increasingly effective; with the support of a few, they will give those irate students just cause for complaint.

FROSH TALENT NIGHT, 1967

Persons who did not attend the Freshman Talent Night, 1967, missed one of the finest displays of enthusiasm seen on campus in a long time. Acts featured in the show varied from vocal and piano solos, ballet and toe dances, pantomimes and folk singing, to skits. Participants varied from groups representing an entire dormitory to one person. Humor and originality sparked the acts by contestants who devised their own skits and songs.

Much credit for jobs well done goes to all those who worked to make the talent show possible and enjoyable. Compliments go to the winners and to all participants.

The freshman of 1967 may not have Rat Day as a means of displaying their spirit, talent, and good sportsmanship, but they possess all of these traits. They proved it by their participation in the Freshman Talent Night.

Rat Day, Activities Should be Revived

By ELAINE THOMAS

Editor

As far as freshmen are concerned, the week of orientation was as packed with activities as could be. But to upperclassmen, these first days of school were sharply lacking in events which have previously highlighted fall quarter.

Thomas

Upperclassmen recall the days when they were afraid to leave their dorms without rat hats. And they recall the one day, Rat Day, when they were subjected to all sorts of tricks and commands dreamed up by devious upperclassmen. For many years, Rat hats have been kept as memoirs of the first few days of college life. Rat Day has been remembered as the day when many new students made friendships which spanned years. Parents have shuddered when reading letters describing the eggs, flour, syrup which were poured onto the heads of Rats. And few wanted to believe that scared freshmen actually had the audacity to chase and catch upperclassmen, making the older ones get as messy and smelly as the Rats.

Rat Day has been a tradition of good sportsmanship and fun. It has been an opportunity to really "let one's hair down" after a rigorous week of orientation.

Many persons are saddened that there have been few Rat Activities this year. Rat Day is a tradition which should not be abandoned; it is a tradition which should be improved and maintained.

Student Congress to Investigate GSC Problems

By LARRY DUNCAN

President, Student Congress

Although students ask many questions about problems on campus, very few are answered. This year Student Congress plans to investigate each subject under question and present the results in the "George-Anne." A few of the topics under discussion this year are as follows:

Campus Security: Last Spring it was decided that all campus policemen were to be sent to a school for special training. The State Patrol was to be asked to make a survey of traffic problems on campus, especially the intersection at Georgia Avenue and Chandler Road. Students pay a $5.00 registration fee and numerous fines during the year. How is this money appropriated?

Cut System: A unified cut system should be completed this quarter. Operation of this system will be studied.

Old Gym: What progress has been made to convert the Alumni Gym into a recreational facility?

Book Board: Student Congress is investigating the possibility of fixing the old bulletin board so students may use it to buy, sell, or trade books in order to cut down expenditures for such items.

Student Center: The Frank I. Williams Center once had pool tables downstairs. Why can't this be continued and what will be in the new Center for recreation?

Housing: A small but important subject to many students is whether or not their future roommate smokes. This question, we feel, should be included on the housing application.

Activity Fee: Student Congress feels that there should be some student representation for the allotment of this budget since they are the ones who pay it.

Admission: It was discussed last year that House Mothers should be allowed in athletic and social activities free of charge.

Faculty: Notices are being sent out each quarter about activities that will be held during the week. We hope they will use this in scheduling tests or papers.

Evaluation: Towards the end of each quarter we hope to evaluate the professors at Southern. It will be done by juniors and seniors. Since a full explanation is required for this topic, it will be taken up later this quarter.

This is just a brief look at this year's program.

There are many other subjects such as non-approved housing for men, discounts from Statesboro businesses, and recreational facilities that will be brought up in the near future. Student Congress needs the cooperation of every student in order to make this year our best.

Solidarity Characterizes Unique GSC Community

From The Bulloch Herald

By RIC MANDES

Georgia Southern College, third ranking residential unit of the University System, offers the freshman and transfer student a well designed program of academic, social and cultural exchange. Each student, as he becomes part of the Georgia Southern community, continued to build the college's personality and purpose.

From him and with him the college grows, and of course this is complemented by the nature of the college purpose: that through, by and with the institution he too grows.

Georgia Southern College is not unique in its academic, social or cultural presentations. But solid. Giving to the student the atmosphere in which he may choose his way amongst the three.

Academics

In academics, GSC offers nine divisions. Just this year the area of art and music was combined to form the Division of Fine Arts which will be located in the new and lovely Foy Fine Arts Building. The Foy Building will enhance the academic offerings of this division by providing a new $1,600,000 physical plant, modern equipment and a prominent and qualified faculty.

The other areas of the academic picture are equally comprehensive in their offerings. The Science and Mathematics Division offers six fields of major study on the graduate and undergraduate level. These offerings and the division itself will leap forward with exciting progress in the near future with the completion of a new science complex. Evidence of the already qualified program existing in this division is the number of its graduates leaving Southern to continue study on the doctorate level. These students are scattered throughout America's best institutions, including New York University, University of Florida, University of California, University of Miami and University of Georgia.

Social Science

The Division of Social Science and the Division of Language continue to combine an academic duet for producing some of the state's best teachers and furthering a highly dimensionalized liberal arts program. Both areas are individually being more fully developed each day on the graduate and undergraduate level by chairmen and faculty dedicated to the responsibility that both teacher training and liberal arts represent a multi-purpose offering. In social science a student has a choice of five areas of study and six degree programs. The same is true in language.

Being able to graduate with a degree in recreation is not easily found in the South. Georgia Southern's Division of Health, Physical Education and Recreation has had this program since 1959. And still remains one of the few institutions offering such a degree. This is in addition to the B.S. and B.S. in Education and two graduate degrees.

Home Economics

The Home Economics Division continues to produce the home economist, the high school teacher, the home demonstration agent, and many other professionals filling high places in corporations and industry. In this area, a student may graduate with the B.S. in Home Economics or the B.S. in Home Economics Education, and will study in the primary areas of food and nutrition, home management, family relations and child development.

Industrial Technology has always developed a wide space area on campus for theoretical and practical learning. Industry becomes alive; its ways and means, its profession are taught each year and highlighted with visiting lecturers and field trips. The division, as all divisions on campus offers the teacher training program on the graduate and undergraduate level, which gives the student insight into all fields, allowing him, as a future teacher, to become conscious of these fields and capable of making it all interesting.

Business

The Division of Business at Georgia Southern is too formed within the areas of liberal arts and teacher training. Majors in economics, business education, accounting, finance, general business, marketing, management, and leading to the B.B.A. degree. Business is one of the most popular divisions on campus, and rightfully so. It is here that the students move through four years of learning and training that make them intelligent candidates for many professional fields in today's world. They are permitted to choose their area of study with freedom. And are then guided by a major professor throughout their four years with individual interest for graduate and undergraduate programs.

This concept is carried out by all the divisions on campus.

Nearly fifty percent of the students at Georgia Southern are enrolled in the teacher training program. The Division of Education directs and develops this program on the early elementary, elementary, junior and high school levels.

Its offerings are widespread. A student interested in becoming a teacher will find faculty members devoted to this interest and to his pursuit of knowledge.

In this division the student is permitted to study in his major area of subject matter located in the eight other divisions while gaining professional knowledge in the field of education, psychology, testing and measurement, child behavior, etc.

Teacher Training

Georgia Southern is extremely proud of its teacher-training program. The University System looks to it for providing a great number of the teachers desperately needed for Georgia. Each day inquiries come to the campus about the program, its undergraduate and graduate offerings.

Its graduate level programming gives evidence to the highly developed existence of this division. Leadership studies, Guidance, and Exceptional Education represent three of the graduate areas founded within the two master's degrees offered by this division. There are fourteen total areas.

Each year, superintendents and principals correspond and visit Georgia Southern, seeking out the candidates for the education degree in hopes that they might employ them.

Campus Life

The cultural and social activities complement vitally the wide scope of GSC academic offerings. In the cultural series of the past five years, outstanding personalities of screen and stage have appeared in Statesboro in addition to some of the nation's leading lecturers. The Campus Life Enrichment Program attempts to be diverse in its selection of activities each year.

For any one academic year, the schedule will present a highly selective group of both cultural and entertaining programs.

Socially, the campus explodes with variety and good organization. Over fifty fraternal organizations of service and honorary constitutions exist now at Georgia Southern. During the coming year, the formation of national social fraternities and sororities will take place.

There is something to do each day and evening through the medium of the official school social calendar. Each week presents activities, new and different. It is developed primarily by the students, giving them another medium of expression.

Georgia Southern College is a multi-purpose institution. It is determined to keep itself that way. Its cause, its purpose, is to educate Georgia students and any student interested in attending one of the fastest growing and deeply involved institutions of higher learning in this state.

The college student is a popular face today. And thus the "college challenge" is being picked up with a force equally as popular. Georgia Southern College wants to and intends to share in this task, along with her sister institutions. Share in a task of making available an exciting, purposeful program of education for those who are intent on making themselves a "very special person."

Student Congress Prints Newsletter Of Past Meetings

A Student Congress newsletter has been instituted by members of Student Congress in order to inform students of activities or discussions at a past Congress meeting, or to notify students of pending Congress activities or topics. The newsletter will be published by Sandra Hartness, communications coordinator, and is designed to encourage students to attend Student Congress meetings and to keep interested persons informed on Congress activities.

Poster Making Machine Usage Available To College Students

Students may now have posters made by a poster-making machine, which is owned by the Student Congress and is located in the R. I. Williams Center in the office of Mrs. Adyle Hudgins, director of Student Activities. The machine is available to students, faculty, and administration. Cost for posters is 25 or 35 cents per poster, including paper, and depending on whether one or two colors of ink are used. Persons interested in having posters made should contact Sandra Hartness in Mrs. Hudgins' office in the Williams Center.

The Looking Glass

By JANET HENRIKSEN

"But God, who is rich in mercy, for His great love where with He loved us."

Eph. 2:4

"In this was manifested the love of God toward us, because that God sent His only begotten Son into the world, that we might live through Him."

I John 4:9

"But God commendeth His love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us."

Rom. 5:8

I would like you to take just a moment to think of the love of God, this far-reaching and gracious love is for you. He sent His perfect Son ("Who did no sin, neither was guile found in His mouth." — I Pet. 2:22) to be your substitute ("For He hath made Him to be sin for us, who knew no sin; that we might be made the righteousness of God in Him." — II Cor. 5:21).

It amazes me to think of the lengths to which God has gone in order that we might have a rich and truly happy life. For Christ has said, "I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly."

It's wonderful to know that this life is available to everyone (John 3:16), for God is no respecter of persons (Col. 3:25). The secret to this life is in the Person of Jesus Christ.

"I am the way, the truth, and the life; no man cometh unto the Father, but by me."

John 14:6

"And this is the record, that God hath given to us eternal life, and this life is in His Son. He that hath the Son hath life; and he that hath not the Son of God hath not life."

I John 5:11-12

Do you have this life in Jesus Christ?

'Pompey's Head' To Be Shown

"The View From Pompey's Head" is slated for the September 29 free movie. It stars Dana Wynter, Richard Egan, and Cameron Mitchell in a dramatic and controversial story of the deep South. The theme is centered around a young lawyer's return from the North to his family home. The revival of a childhood romance and uncovering of a racial mystery support the dramatic story.

Art Can be Fun

By JANE LIGHTCAP BROWN

Many people avoid art exhibits on the assumption that understanding art is a difficult and unpleasant task reserved for art majors and stuffy intellectuals. The exhibit currently open at the Gallery of Fine Arts in the Bank of Statesboro Building contains art works of sufficient scope and variety to dispel any lingering doubts about the attractiveness of art shows. Everyone, from first-grader through grandparent will surely find among the many art pieces something he can personally enjoy.

One very challenging exhibit is a hooked tapestry made of wool yarns of all shapes and textures, in subtle shades of beige and grey, with small touches of accenting orange and green. Tufts of threads springing from the background add textural variety. Nearby is an impressionistic oil painting by Alan Tiegreen; called "Porch Swing," it depicts two old Negroes sitting quietly, conveying an attitude of pleasant repose.

Vivid Colors and unusual, almost child-like shapes mark the work of Alan Stecker, a teacher at Clark College in Atlanta. Mr. Stecker won the 1967 Piedmont Art Festival Painting Award, and his wife, Eleanor Dixon, who is also represented in the show, won the 1966 drawing award at the Festival.

The print "Crucifixion" by Jim McClean is different from the others because in it an abstract Christ-figure is mystically interwoven with the background and is not readily visible; at first, the print appears to be only a cross without a figure on it. Several contour paintings are included in the show. These are like hanging sculptures, made from ordinary art canvas stretched over warped, twisted wood frames.

This creation process gives a rich depth to the finished work and causes the subject to jump out at the viewer. One contour painting called "Open Court" is constructed apparently from six small tin cans, a boy's T-shirt, and a lot of grey paint. One is interested to see how the artist creates a fascinating object from such mundane material.

The Georgia Art Commission has purchased representative work from nearly all the artists in this show. The GAC's collection will become part of a permanent exhibit designed to tour Georgia public schools.

At the Gallery of Fine Arts, this show will run until September 30. Edwin P. Akins, director of the Gallery, has announced that it will be open from 6:30 - 9 p.m. on weekdays and from 2:00 - 6:00 p.m. on Sundays. All items in the exhibit may be purchased for private collections.

He shouldn't. Not when you can make a healthy chunk as a campus Peugeot motorbike representative. The mechanics are simple. Just buy one Peugeot motorbike at our below dealer cost of $100. This demonstrator is for you to use—and to sell your friends on. Then send

Campus Life Enrichment Series

The Campus Life Enrichment Series for 1967-68 features seven presentations, including musical programs and drama. This year, two new types of music have been added to the schedule of events: a piano, cello and violin trio; and a string quartet.

The purpose of the Campus Life Enrichment Series is to bring cultural events of music, dance and drama to the college. Tickets to CLES activities are included in the student activity fee, which is paid each quarter at registration. All seats for CLES are reserved, and tickets are available upon show of student identification cards. CLES tickets are distributed two weeks prior to the event in the lobby of the Williams Center and in the office of Mrs. Adyle Hudgins, director of Student Activities. Tickets are on sale to the public four days before the event.

The Netherlands String Quartet, composed of Nap de Klinj (1st violin), Jaap Schroder (2nd violin), Paul Godwin (viola), and Carel Boomkemp (cello) will open the 1967 CLES events October 18 in the Recital Hall of the Foy Fine Arts Building. Scheduled performances include a matinee presentation at 3:30 p.m. and at 8:15 p.m. The quartet made its first Amsterdam appearance in the Concertgebouw in 1952. The musicians were engaged immediately for the Holland Festival of that year. A European tour was highlighted in 1958 with appearances on BBC television in London.

North American audiences first heard the Netherlands

String Quartet in 1958 when the group played 25 concerts in the United States and Canada. During the 1959-60 season, artists returned to America for a second time, and embarked on a 9-week, 45 concert tour to major American cities.

In 1962, the Quartet was awarded the Elizabeth Sprague Coolidge Medal. In the summer of 1964, the Quartet was called to the now celebrated Colorado music festival and school in Aspen, as artists in residence.

The Netherlands String Quartet has been rated as "the finest in Europe." The Georgia Southern performances will be the first concerts given by the Netherlands String Quartet this season.

Ensemble, Pianist, Play Highlight CLES Events

The University of Georgia Baroque Ensemble will perform October 30 in the Recital Hall of the Foy Fine Arts Building. This group will be given at a later time.

Blanca Uribe, concert pianist, will perform in McCroan Auditorium Nov. 14. Miss Uribe attended the Kansas City Conservatory and the Vienna Academy of Music. She studied with Wiktor Labunski and Richard Hauser. Presently, she is on scholarship at the Juillard School of Music.

Miss Uribe, still in her early twenties, has received critical acclaim from three continents. She has concertized extensively in Austria, Poland, Brazil and her native Colombia. In the United States she has given recitals in Kansas City, Missouri; Princeton, New Jersey; Washington, D. C.; and Reading, Pennsylvania. As soloist she has performed with the Kansas City Philharmonic, the Vienna Symphony and the Colombian Symphony. Miss Uribe was a 1959 finalist in the Beethoven Piano Competition, Geneva International Competition, and a prizewinner in the 1962. In addition, she was a prizewinner in the Chopin International Competition in Warsaw, 1965.

A highlight of the 1967 CLES will be the Anthony Newley-Leslie Bricusse musical, "The Roar of the Greasepaint, The Smell of the Crowd," which will be presented in McCroan Auditorium Jan. 16.

The play is a simplified statement of the class war, the rich vs. the poor, and the strong vs. the weak. The sociological theories which are used concerning modern man are reduced to cliches born of centuries of accepting the status quo. Characters in the musical decide that social structure should not be based on the idea that life should be played by the accepted rules.

Two Musical Groups To Appear in March

America's first and largest Chamber Orchestra, the Chamber Symphony of Philadelphia, will appear March 15 in McCroan Auditorium. The Chamber Symphony is ideal for presentation of the widest possible variety of repertoire: 36 players, a full complement of string woodwinds, brass and percussion. Included in the program are masterpieces of the Baroque and Romantic periods as well as compositions by outstanding contemporaries, including Benjamin Lees and David Yardumians' "Mass in English" commission by Fordham University as part of its 125th anniversary celebration was given a Premiere Performance by the Chamber Symphony of Philadelphia at Philharmonic Hall, New York, March 31, 1967.

The Beaux Arts Trio of New York is scheduled for a concert March 25 in the Recital Hall of the Foy Building, with matinee and evening performances. This group made its official public debut a decade ago at the Berkshire Festival in Tanglewood and had the distinction of performing there for nine consecutive seasons. Freshness of approach, oneness of ensemble playing, superb musicianship and tremendous zest characterize the Trio's performances. The Beaux Arts Trio has been hailed on three continents and played close to 2,000 engagements throughout North America, Europe, Israel, Africa and the Middle East.

While in Europe, the prize-winning ensemble recorded all the Beethoven Trios for Philips; this album has been released in the United States by Mercury Records.

The Trio is composed of Menahem Pressler, an Israeli pianist. Pressler has appeared with the New York Philharmonic, Cleveland Orchestra, Indiana Symphony and the National Symphony in Washington, D. C. He is a professor at the University of Indiana. Violist for the Trio is Daniel Guilet, who is famous in Europe and America as soloist and chamber musician. Guilet came to America from France in 1941, when he organized a new Guilet Quartet. In 1944, he was chosen as a member of the NBC Symphony. Guilet has given concerts in major U. S. cities and has recorded for Concert Hall, Vox and Columbia Records. Bernard Greenhouse, a cellist, is the third member of the Trio. Greenhouse studied at Jullard, and has appeared in major cities of Europe and America. He has recorded for Columbia, RCA Victor, Concert Hall and the American Recording Society. Greenhouse is a member of the faculties of the Manhattan School of Music and the University of Hartford.

In addition to a European tour, the Trio will have a cross-country tour of the United States and Canada.

GSC ATHLETICS

Georgia Southern College is noted for its intercollegiate competition in athletics, primarily basketball, baseball, and gymnastics. Tennis is steadily progressing at Southern, while golf remains in the background as a minor sport.

Just as Georgia is recognized as the football power of the South, along with Alabama, GSC is recognized as the basketball power of the state in the collegiate ranks. Coach J. B. Screace, Jr., who is on a leave of absence this year, has been the Eagle head coach for twenty campaigns. During those twenty seasons, Georgia Southern basketball teams have compiled an overall mark of 357 wins against 166 losses.

Second - NAIA

In 1965 the Eagles placed second in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) tournament and completed the season with an impressive 22-6 record. Southern basketball teams have won twenty or more games nine times. Need we say more about basketball GSC style-just wait 'til December and see.

Midway through winter quarter you may hear the crack of bats or the shrill whistles that characterize a GSC baseball practice session. Southern's baseball Eagles will be hard at work trying to accomplish what they almost won last June in St. Joseph's, Mo.- the national NAIA baseball championship.

The Eagles won the first game of the tourney and were the favorites to win the coveted title. Unfortunately the Eagles blew a 5-1 lead over Grambling and eventually lost to the Louisiana team 6-5. GSC lost the next game and returned home without the title. Coach J. I. Clements and his boys went all the way in 1962 and brought the national championship home to Georgia Southern. The upcoming campaign may well see the national championship returned to GSC-just wait 'til April and see.

Number 1 ?

Walk in the Hanner Gym around 3 p.m. and you may notice a few healthy looking men bouncing or flying around the gym. Don't be alarmed, it's only the GSC gymnasts in the midst of a daily workout. Last season the Eagle gymnasts placed eleventh in the nation and don't be surprised if they finish near the top this season-if not on the top-just wait 'til January and see.

Tennis is on the upswing at Southern and is quickly losing its identification as a "minor sport". Last season the Eagle netters posted their first winning season ever with a 12-8 mark. This season should be even brighter with five returning lettermen and several promising newcomers - just wait 'til March and see.

Golf ?

Golf is also an intercollegiate sport at GSC. Although the Eagle linksmen struggled through a losing season last year, the outlook for this year is somewhat brighter-just wait 'til March and see.

As the year progresses you will learn more of the athletic department at GSC. The George-Anne sports staff will try to keep you informed and up to date with the "sports" of Southern, both intercollegiate and intramural.

ENEMY BASERUNNER CUT DOWN AT SECOND

Eagles Lose in St. Jo; Dobson, Stanley Sparkle

The Georgia Southern College Baseball players, who were seeking the National Crown of the Small College World Series last June at St. Joseph, Mo., were defeated in the second round of the double-elimination tourney by Grambling College (La.), 6-5, and Occidental (Calif.), 2-1.

The Eagles won the first round by topping Eastern Michigan 8-2, behind the tough pitching of Jimmy Dobson.

Although the Eagles, who posted a highly respectable 31-17 record, were eliminated in the Nationals, players and fans alike will proudly recall the season of 1967, under the direction of Coach Bill Speith. . . there was the time Speedy Shortstop Ken Szotkiewicz stole home plate against the West Georgia pitcher and the Eagles squeaked past them 2-1.

And who will forget the superb pitching staff led by Dobson; and remember when Tim O'Leary pitched Mercer a one-hitter? And finally fans will recall the tourneys played at Eagle Field where Southern again defeated the West Ga. Braves in a best two out of three series and won the right to take their talents to St. Joseph.

In the first round against Eastern Michigan, the Eagles sailed to a 5-0 lead in the first inning and added three more to down the Michigan team 8-2. Jimmy Dobson ended his pitching season with a 8-3 record as the Eagles' most successful pitcher.

"I was dead tired after the eighth inning but managed to hold on. The last guy I faced fouled the ball off at least seven times," Dobson replied. He gave up only six hits - Four coming in the ninth inning.

In the second round, Southern was faced with the task of tangling with Grambling, who held an impressive 35-1 season record. "They actually weren't as good as their record indicated. They didn't have nearly the schedule we had," commented Dobson.

The Eagles were fired up and grabbed an early third inning lead of 3-1. Then Southern rallied for two more runs in the top of the fifth to lead 5-1. Everything looked bright for the Eagles until Pitcher Jim Nevin made two fielding errors, which cost the Eagles three runs. Grambling rallied in the bottom of the ninth to stun the Eagles 6-5.

The loss to Grambling dropped the Eagles into the losers' bracket. In the third game with Occidental, O'Leary held them to only two runs - one run scored on an outside pitch which proved hard to hold on to.

So the Eagles returned to Statesboro - not winning the tournament but representing their school well, and placing two members on the All-Tournament team - Szotkiewicz and Leahman Stanley, who hit a home run against Occidental - the only round tripper of the tourney.

"There's no doubt in my mind - we would have gone all the way if we had beaten Grambling. The loss just took too much fight out of us. There's no doubt about it - we could have won it," O'Leary said confidently.

Radovich Commands GSC Cagers

Coach Frank Radovich has been named head basketball College replacing Coach J. B. Searce for the Basketball Season 1967-68, according to J. I. Clements, Athletic director.

Coach Radovich, who begins his initial season at the reigns of the Eagles, commented on his players and the schedule:

"We have only five returning lettermen but this does not mean that we will have a losing season. We are in a rebuilding year and with only one senior on the squad we will have to depend on the sophomores and juniors. Also we may be using a few freshmen."

Coach Radovich, who played behind Wilt Chamberlain in 1961-62 at Philadelphia, stated, "We have not even thought about a starting lineup yet and we probably will not know who will start until a week or so before our opening game."

Many coaches in colleges today put a lot more emphasis on offense than defense but not Coach Radovich. "The way the boys play defense will go a long way in determining who will start."

Players who saw a lot of action last year were Elden Carmichael, Ken Szotkiewicz, Barry Miller, and Bob Bowman. Szotkiewicz, who was a starter last year, reinjured his knee this week but the doctors say that he will be ready when the season opens.

These boys, a very good freshman group - plus junior college standout David Westfield will give Coach Radovich a nucleus to work with. Commenting on Westfield Coach Radovich said "If he has any weakness at all it is his defense."

Flag Footballers Set For Action

By KEN PURCELL
G-A Sports Writer

Flag football, the first of many intramural games provided for Georgia Southern College men, will begin Monday with an expected ten to twelve teams competing for the championship, according to Charles Exley, director of intramurals.

"All football games will be held on the athletic fields directly behind the Hanner Gymnasium. Games will be scheduled for Monday thru Thursday with two games on tap for each day. Game times will be 4 p.m. for the first match and 5:30 for the second," said Exley.

According to Exley, "All male students at Georgia Southern College are eligible to participate in flag football, with the exception of those students who have earned a letter in varsity football at a four-year college or university.

Exley stated that a ten game schedule would likely be used with a single elimination tournament to be held at the end of the season to determine the teams in each of the two leagues will make up the slate of teams for the tourney.

Each flag football team will consist of at least nine players, the minimum number needed to play. Any number of other members may be placed on the team roster to insure the necessary amount of players.

Rowe, Johnson Named To GSC Coaching Staff

J. E. Rowe, former head basketball coach at Avondale High of Atlanta, and Alan Johnson, former head basketball coach of St. Joseph's of Atlanta, have been named to the GSC coaching staff, according to J. I. Clements, athletic director.

Rowe, a 1961 graduate of GSC, has been appointed assistant basketball coach. While at Southern Rowe lettered in basketball and baseball. He received his M.A.D. from Middle Tennessee State University. Coach Rowe guided the Avondale cage teams to the state tournaments three out of the five years he was there.

Asked about coaching at his alma mater he stated, "It is a pleasure to be back at Southern and I am looking forward to the coming season. I feel that we have a fine coaching staff and it will be a real pleasure working with Coach Radovich."

Alan Johnson, who will serve as head freshman coach, comes to Southern after a somewhat successful season at St. Joseph's High of Atlanta. Though his team posted a 9-12 mark, this was the best season in the history of the school. Prior to his stint in Atlanta, Johnson coached three years in the Army.

Johnson, a graduate of Georgia and a basketball letterman while there, stated, "I feel it is going to be a real challenge coaching here." When questioned about his players he replied that "we have some good shooters and ball handlers but we don't have very much height. This will hurt us on the boards but the boys have a real good attitude and we should have a good year."

Air Force Team To Visit College

The U. S. Air Force Officer Selection Team from Jacksonville, Fla. will visit the college October 4 and 5, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the Williams Center. The Air Force Officer Qualifying Test will be given Oct. 5.

System of Unlimited Absences Offered To LaFayette Seniors

Easton, Pa. (IP) — A change in the regulations concerning class attendance will allow all Lafayette College seniors in good academic standing to have unlimited absences, according to Dr. Charles C. Cole Jr., dean of the college.

Prior to the change in the regulations, all Lafayette students except those on the Dean's List, were allowed to be absent from class no more than six times each semester or twice the number of semester ever, was lower.

"The liberalization of attendance regulations for seniors was made for several reasons," Dean Cole said. "Seniors presumably don't need the prod of required attendance to do their work the way freshmen and sophomores do. Many seniors have had to take cuts in the past in order to graduate school and employment interviews."

Dogs, 'Bama Expected To Battle for SEC Title

By MIKE CLARK
G-A Sports Writer

Way down South in the land of cotton there is a football conference that many consider to be the toughest in the nation. The conference is composed of the REALLY BIG TEN which are Florida, Georgia, Alabama, Tennessee, LSU, Mississippi, Mississippi State, Kentucky, Auburn, and Vanderbilt. Out of these ten, five are ranked in the Top Twenty and three in the Top Ten by various polls. The elite three are Georgia, Alabama, and Tennessee.

Looking at the Southeastern Conference race, Alabama and Georgia once again should battle it out for the title. Their toughest challenge will come from Tennessee and Mississippi. The "darkhorse" should be either Florida or Louisiana State. Auburn, Mississippi State Vanderbilt and Kentucky are considered as the weak teams in the conference.

Kenny "The Snake" Stabler is back on the good side of Coach Paul "Bear" Bryant and if he stays healthy, Alabama may find itself in a bowl come New Year's Day. The Tide has gone to a bowl for the last seven years. Stabler, who will be bidding for All-American honors, is the most accurate passer in the history of the SEC.

The big question that faces Coach Bryant is whether the Tide can mold together an offensive line to protect Stabler and open holes for the runners. Only senior guard Bruce Stephens returns but he has already been picked to contend for All-SEC honors. Dennis Homan has been moved to split end to replace All-American Ray Perkins.

About 150 miles northeast of Georgia Southern there lies the campus of the Georgia Bulldogs at Athens. Georgia used to be known mostly for its fraternities but all this has changed in the last three years. Now, football is the King and the reason behind this is a man by the name of Vince Dooley. Since he took over record of 23-8-1, and was named Coach of the Year in the SEC last year. The Bulldogs, who shared the SEC title with 'Bama a year ago, ended the season with a victory in the Cotton Bowl.

Georgia has a crunching ground game that looks similar to that of the Green Bay Packers. Heading the talent laden backfield is Kent Lawrence a 9.5 speedster, who broke up the Cotton Bowl game the first time he got the ball. Powerful Ron Jenkins returns at fullback where he finished as the second leading rusher in the SEC in 1966. Kirby Moore pilots the team and is considered as the quickest quarterback in the conference. Moore can run as well and he was Georgia's second leading ground gainer last season.

Georgia should go unbeaten with their toughest competition Houston in the Astrodome, Georgia Tech in Atlanta and Clemson at Clemson.

The Rebels from Ole Miss will bear watching. Coach John Vaught's Rebs lost only two games in 1966 before losing to Texas in the Bluebonnet Bowl.

This may be the year for the Rebels to bring another title back to Oxford. Their first two games in October should indicate the Rebs strength as they play host to Alabama and Georgia on successive week-ends.

Tennessee, last year's Gator Bowl Champs, will field another powerhouse. Though they lost their opening game to UCLA, the Volunteers are not about to give up.

With such illustrious backs as Dewey "Swamp Rat" Warren, who threw 18 TD passes last year and Richmond Flowers, hoping to be a 1968 Olympic hurdler, the remaining nine teams they face will be in for trouble.

The last of this year's big five is Florida. The Gators, who buried Georgia Tech in the Orange Bowl, are without Hisman Trophy winner Steve Spurrier, but explosive halfback Larry Smith, returns. Smith won the Sophomore-of-the-Year award in 1966 and his record breaking performance in the Orange Bowl should make Gator followers take their minds off of Spurrier. Florida's schedule is a rough one, but Coach Ray Graves has his team ready.

If LSU's players can keep from getting injured this year, then they could become contenders for the number one spot. They face the toughest schedule of any of the SEC teams. Florida, Miami, Tennessee, Mississippi, and Alabama, with the latter three coming on consecutive Saturdays.

The key to the championship lies with two games in Birmingham, one in Jackson and one in Memphis. If Alabama wins the title they will have to beat Birmingham. If Georgia is to take the crown, the Bulldogs will have to stop Mississippi in Jackson, and that will be a big chore especially playing on their home field.

When the bowls teams are selected at the end of the season the SEC will be well represented again this year.

DUNKEL COLLEGE FOOTBALL INDEX

EXPLANATION — The Dunkel system provides a continuous index to the relative strength of all teams. It reflects average scoring margin combined with average opposition rating, weighted in favor of recent performance. Example: a 50.0 team has been 10 scoring points stronger, per game, than a 40.0 team against opposition of identical strength. Originated in 1929 by Dick Dunkel.

WIA to Sponsor
Roundup MondayBy LINDA JORDON
G-A Sports Writer

The Women's Intramural Association will sponsor an Intramurals Round-Up Monday Oct. 2, at 7 p.m. in the W. S. Hanner Gymnasium according to Miss Janet Henriksen, co-chairman of the WIA.

"The purpose of the Round-up," said Miss Henriksen, "is to arouse more interest and create more spirit in the program this year. 'It's really a get-acquainted party and we invite any girls who are interested in participating in the women's intramural program,' she added.

The main objectives of the WIA, as stated in a recent intramurals meeting by Charles M. Exley, intramurals director, "is to give the students an opportunity to make new friends, develop new and useful skills, engage in healthful exercise, and release some of their nervous energy through team spirit and wholesome competition."

The tentative schedule of activities for the WIA this year is: fall quarter: speedball and volleyball; winter quarter: basketball and badminton, and bowling; spring quarter: softball, tennis, and ping pong.

Six teams will compete in the program this year. The teams and their captains and co-captains are: Mustangs, Cheryl Pence and Claudia Walley;

Panthers, Linda Souter and Marie Driggers; Pythons, Hannah Thompson and Gail Junot; Termites, Faye Powers; Tigers, Ginny Sutton and Sally Knowlton and Yellow Jackets, Gale Williams and Dorothy Plummer.

Coach J. I. Clements requests that all boys interested in trying out for the varsity baseball team should report directly behind the Hanner Gymnasium Monday at 3 p.m.
