Joe McDaniel Elected Senior President

By ROBERT SESSIONS
Managing Editor

Joe McDaniel, senior physical education major from Macon was elected president of the Senior class in elections held Oct. 12.

McDaniel said, "I was very pleased with the turnout for the election. It's surprising to have had such a large turnout, considering the slight attendance at class meetings held last week. This year's turnout was much better than that of last year."

"This has been," continued McDaniel, "the most vigorous campaign in the four years which I have been here at the college. I was very pleased with freshmen turnout, however only 250 out of 800 seniors voted. This fact is very discouraging."

The other officers and their total votes are as follows:

SENIORS

President; Joe McDaniel was the winner with 172 votes. His opponent, Gilbert Wermuth, received 78 votes.

Vice-president; Jimmy Kirkland was victorious with 106 votes. His opponents were Jimmy Dobson with 96 votes and votes.

Secretary - Treasurer; Connie Dodgen was elected with 113 votes. Opposing her was Janet Scarboro with 65 votes and Janet Henriksen with 63 votes.

JUNIORS

Billy Cochran was elected president of the junior class with a total of 215 votes. Opposing Cochran was David Cavender with 118 votes and Randy Clark with 50 votes.

Vice-president; Billy Jones was elected vice-president with 200 votes, defeating Durwood Fincher, who received 183 votes.

Secretary - Treasurer; Ellen Stone was elected Secretary - treasurer with 250 votes, defeating Murphy Sconyers, who had 129 votes.

SOPHOMORES

Vice-president; Eddie Nix received 337 votes defeating Mary Jo Hall, who received 147 votes.

Secretary - Treasurer; Ricky Smith was elected secretary - treasurer with 289 votes defeating Bob Grant who received 196 votes.

FRESHMAN

President of the freshman class is Ron Strickland with 315 votes. His opponents were Bob Wilson with 306 votes, Jane Thompson with 100 votes and David Culpepper with 98 votes.

Vice-president; Pat Winchester was victorious for the office of vice-president with 399 votes. She was opposed by Karen Elder with 191 votes, Dick Stewart with 186 votes and Bill Lewis with 90 votes.

Secretary - Treasurer; Trip Wingfield was the winner with 321 votes. Opposing Wingfield was Donna Thompson with 207 votes, Debbie Eskew with 198 votes and Billy "Zero" Davidson with 85 votes.

There was a total of 1937 people voting in this year's class elections out of an enrollment of 4408. This figure represented 44 per cent of all students at the college.

Totals as to the various classes were; Seniors, 250, Juniors, 383, Sophomores, 485 and Freshmen, 819.

McDaniel said, "All of the candidates co-operated extremely well. I would also like to thank the various house council officers for handling the elections so well in the dormitories."

"We were disappointed, however," continued McDaniel, "at the large number of ballots which had to be discarded due to the fact that they were marked incorrectly."

Any of the candidates who may wish to call a re-count must do so before Friday, Oct. 20.

Public Relations Office Slates Campus Television Features

A series of television features concerning the campus, its leaders, and certain aspects of campus life is being compiled by Ric Mandes, director of public relations. The first of the eight programs which are scheduled for viewing during fall quarter was shown Sept. 22 on WSAV television and featured the Amelia Earheart Memorial Bluegrass Band. Members of the popular singing group are Gordon Turner, Mike Martsoff, Lee Hunter, and John Boggan.

Runa Soderberg, Swedish foreign exchange student, was featured on video tape for WSAV Oct. 11. Dr. Ralph K. Tyson, dean of students, is scheduled for an Oct. 17 program on WTOC, channel 11.

The college, its growth and development will be the topic for WSAV television Oct. 18. For this program, Mandes will use films of the campus and students. Dr. Jack W. Broucek, pro-

'Europe's Finest Quartet' To Open CLES Oct. 18

The Netherlands String Quartet will open the 1967-68 Campus Life Enrichment Series with performances scheduled Oct. 18 in the Recital Hall of the Foy Fine Arts Building. The Quartet will hold a matinee performance at 3:30 p.m. and an evening performance at 8:15.

Composing the Quartet are Nap de Klijn (1st violin), Jaap Schroder (2nd violin), Paul Godwin (viola) and Carel Boomkamp (cello). The group made its first Amsterdam appearance in the Concertgebouw in 1952. The Quartet was immediately engaged for the Holland Festival of that year. Appearances on BBC television in Europe highlighted the musicians' European tour of 1958.

North American audiences first heard the Netherlands String Quartet in 1958 when the group played 25 concerts in the United States and Canada. During the 1959-60 season the artists returned to America, and embarked on a nine-week, 45-concert tour. Critics say that this tour established the Netherlands String Quartet in the musical life of this country.

The Quartet was awarded the Elizabeth Sprague Coolidge Memorial Medal in 1962, and was immediately dubbed by critics as "the finest string quartet in Europe." Members of the Quartet were called to the Colorado music festival and school in Aspen, Colo. in 1964. They served as artists-in-residence.

An interesting note is added

Old Gray Mare Better Than Ever!

If I Had A Safety Pin I Could Fix It.

Have you ever looked longingly at Roy Rogers and Trigger ride off together into the sunset and said to yourself, "Self, wouldn't it be great to ride off in the sunset with a horse like that?" The time is right; now is your chance to fulfill a childhood dream. Or perhaps your aristocratic blood cries out to go fox hunting on your country estate across fields and meadows still wet with morning dew. You, too, may take heart; The Georgia Southern Physical Education Department has recognized a need for variety. Aside from the usual physical education courses offered, horseback riding was initiated into the program this fall.

Easy As Falling Off a What?

It Seems That Somebody's Always On My Back!

Under the direction of Coach Ron Oertley, the new course has been greeted with great enthusiasm by students and faculty. Enrollment for the six periods offered this quarter is approximately 180. Horseback riding is a regular activity course that receives one hour credit and counts as one of the electives for P. E. requirements. The course, now in its second month, was begun to offer students an exciting pastime activity with carry-over value and to upgrade the interest in proper riding procedures. Oertley stated that a three-fold purpose for the program is: (1) to teach students the proper methods of handling and riding trained horses; (2) to provide an acceptable leisure activity; (3) to provide a recreational outlet.

Horseback riding has joined the P. E. roster as a year-round activity. Winter quarter classes will be taught in the warmer part of the afternoon. The course cost is $17. a quarter or approximately 55 cents per hour. This fee provides for the use of the Varsity Stables, a privately owned facility. Dr. Don Martin, owner of the stable, offered its use because of his interest in horses and riding. The stable is approximately one mile out the Pembroke Highway from the college.

Elementary equitation is the impressive title given to the course. In addition to actual participation in riding, students are taught how to sit a horse correctly, how to groom the animal, and the anatomy of the horse. The three-gaited method horse. Students are instructed in taught. Three-gaited is "horse talk" for walk, center, and trot. Equipment is referred to as "tack". Newly purchased tack is available to the riders.

Horseback riding is not taught strictly for pleasure. The course has a definite format. Oertley explained that there is a great difference between sitting on a horse and working a horse in a ring. The latter requires more skill from the rider and the horse. Students are instructed in a series of rings of graduating size. Progression from smaller to larger rings come as the rider develops his ability to handle the animal.

Both English and Western riding procedures are taught, with emphasis placed on the English style. Cowboy style may be fun, but the smaller English saddles without saddle horns require more skill. The English style college may eventually have its own horse show and participate in competition throughout the state. This advanced course will emphasize showmanship.

A rider receives a thrill from the realization that he can master such a magnificent creature in size and strength as the horse. There are 21 horses at Varsity Stable for student use.

The stable is also available to students and faculty not enrolled in the regular course. Saturday group lessons or private instructions are scheduled to begin Oct. 14. Evening rides during the week are being planned from 6 to 9. The fee will be $1.75 per hour.

Assisting Coach Oertley in the riding classes are Mrs. Delores Collins, Mrs. Lillian Cochran, and Mrs. Susan Rockett. The staff feels that this course is a big step forward in breaking the monotony of the traditional

In answer to constant complaints of nothing to do on weekends, the possibilities of Saturday night trail and hay rides to a campsite is being investigated. Cook-out and singing around a campfire could highlight evenings. For a nominal fee students could participate in this unique type of entertainment.

The usual round of humorous horse situation have found their way into the riding classes. Human toes have been stepped on by horses, hoofs; long feminine hair has been nipped by fascinating animals; even petite lasses have tried to mount seven foot horses. No serious complications, however, have prevented horses and humans from being friends.

And We'll Head You Off At The Pass.

The need and values of group guidance, the organization of group guidance programs, is emphasized in Hitchcock's most recent publication.

What to include in the group guidance program, when to schedule these activities in the school curriculum, and the many problems of getting the program initiated are also noted.

In addition, evaluating the group guidance services was treated so that schools may determine the effectiveness of these programs.

Foreign Students

TIME FOR ACTION

Along the halls of all buildings on campus, one sees a myriad of colorful, sometimes humorous, campaign posters. Each loudly proclaims the attributes of a particular candidate. As is easy to discern, campaign week is here.

One may look at the list of candidates and wonder which one is really qualified to assume the duties of class president. It takes someone of exceptional intelligence, force, tact, ability and many, many other qualities. This is why it is so vital that one has a part in the choosing of officers.

Last week, class meetings were held for the purpose of nominating candidates for the various officers. The senior class had approximately 20 people at their meeting. The juniors may have surpassed 20, though not likely; the sophomores had about 18 people at their meeting. The freshmen were the only ones who had anything near a sizeable attendance.

One can easily sit back and criticize the work of class officers and tell them what they should have done. But then it's too late. It is usually the ones who did not attend the meetings who disavow the work of the officers and who feel "I could have done a better job."

Some students like nothing better than to complain, gripe and criticize without having any responsibilities, and without even attempting to remedy the ills which they complain of.

There are the do'ers and the non-do'ers. Judging from the attendance at the class meetings, there are more of the latter than the former. One should remember that with rights comes responsibilities. Twenty seniors, 19 juniors and 18 sophomores are aware of this fact. The others must learn the hard way.

GSC MONSTER

What is big, silver, ugly and obnoxious? The answer: The watertower. But now the former two attributes have been lessened somewhat by giving the water tower a purpose other than to contain water.

Iota Alpha Tau, industrial arts fraternity, has recently added a certain mark of identification to the tower in the form of the tree letters which symbolize this college . . . GSC.

There have been many uses of the water tower. During elections, the water tower serves as a billboard for the more enterprising and brave candidates. During gusts up to 50 miles per hour the tower serves as a source of fearful anticipation: Will it fall or not? And during anytime at all it is a ready target for airplane pilots.

The tower has, for a long time, been considered an eyesore by some and by others, a cherished tradition and a mark of identity for this college.

There have been many suggestions as to how the tower could be camouflaged. One suggestion was that ivy be planted at its base. In a few years the tower would be covered in the green growth and would no longer resemble a water tower. It would look more like the Jolly Green Giant's grandmother. There have also been suggestions to bomb it, burn it, topple it, trample it, launch it, and bury it. All attempts have proved fruitless.

With the adding of the letters GSC, there is no doubt in anyone's mind exactly who the tower belongs to. It's ours.

Seriously, we are thankful to Iota Alpha Tau for undertaking such a worthwhile task. Such enthusiasm for one's college is indeed a rare but welcomed sight.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"YOUR COUNSELOR HAS ADVISED ME TO EXCUSE YOU FROM ALL HOMEWORK FOR A FEW DAYS."

Red Cross Lifesaving Course Necessary for Rainy Season

By ELAINE THOMAS
Editor

With the coming of fall weather GSC students anxiously pull woollens out of moth balls. Ah . . . it's sweater time in south Georgia. Women dream of seeing their winter wardrobes outlined against a background of winter wonderlands, and men picture their alpaca sweaters as colorful additions to campus scenes. But there's the rub . . .

To many, winter never really comes to the campus. But what does come is Georgia Southern's claim to fame - the rain. And Statesboro rain is not like the rain Pat Boone crooned about in "With the Wind and the Rain in Your Hair." Georgia Southern rain does not drip, drizzle or make puddles. It pours, soaks and makes gullies which are lined with red clay combined with quicksand.

Standard attire for rainy weather always includes old saddle oxfords, the only shoes which are durable enough to withstand clay-sliding and puddle-jumping. Some brave souls (and soles) get disgusted and even go barefoot. Threatened additions to rain apparel here have included snorkles, fins, innertubes and even aqualungs. It has been rumored that the only persons who can make the trip from one class to another on rainy days are those who have passed the Red Cross senior lifesaving course.

Indeed, the rain is a tradition here. Students plot to outwit the weather, they curse the weather and then try to remedy the weather. But it never fails - fall quarter always brings the famous rain. But consolation may be found in the realization that the weather could be worse. And when does it get worse? Winter quarter.

GSC Traditions Come - Then Go - No Enthusiasm

By PAT GROOVER
George-Anne News Editor

Boys, next time you see a girl walking through Sweetheart Circle, kiss her.

It is a tradition that every girl who walks through the pines in front of the administration building for the first time, must be kissed.

Likewise, frowns are not allowed on this campus. A smile and a hello is the only appropriate greeting for friends and strangers alike.

There are other traditions along this lighter vein, customs that are enjoyed by many and ignored by others.

When a boy becomes engaged, married or pinned, he immediately goes into the Georgia-shaped pond, with the help of his friends. His mate meets the same wet fate in her dormitory shower.

The students keep these traditions alive, but sometimes it takes the help of the faculty members and administration to insure the continuation of the college's more serious activities.

The Christmas Tree Lighting is very special to not only the students, but also many of the faculty who have participated in and enjoyed the ceremony. Also at Christmas the dormitories are inspired by the carols and hymns sung by President and Mrs. Henderson.

To the seniors of long ago, the Lantern Walk was always a revered occasion.

These traditions and the many more can only exist with the cooperation and decisions of the students. It was both for and by the students that the customs were initiated.

The administration is trying to do its part. Spring Swing Week is planned again for this year. Twirp Week, which lacked full student enthusiasm last year, will occur this month. Homecoming, with its bonfire, game, and dances, is a week of activities, but it is more than just fun. It is a time of unity fore one cause . . . the GSC Eagles.

But other events, such as the Old South Ball, have been discontinued because many people on this campus find it easier to just go to classes, then go back to the dormitory and complain about the lack of spirit, interest, and activities here.

The difference between a college and an institution is the atmosphere. The elements that unites the varied individuals at a college is the activities common to all the students. The acts which makes the student a part of the college and which gives the graduate memories to relive. Are these attributes worth the extra effort?

Miss Hall Announces Masquers' Production

By DURWOOD FINCHER
Staff Writer

Hazel Hall, Masquers advisor, has announced plans for the fall production, "Servant of Two Masters" by Carlo Goldoni. The play will be presented Nov. 7-9 in McCroan Auditorium. Season tickets will be sold by Masquers members for $2.50. This ticket entitles the student to attend all three plays produced this year.

When asked to comment on the play, Miss Hall replied, "Servant of Two Masters" was written just for fun and should be performed the same way. The comic role of the zany Harlequin, Truffaldino will be played by Lee Hunter; the doddering Pantalone will be Greg Premo; the wordy doctor will be played by Alan Milton; and the cowardly captain, Jimmy Page. A steady procession of young lovers, Clarice and Silvio, Beatrice and Florindo, will be played by Sue Sims and Bill Bishop and Jan Smith and Gill Hargett, respectively.

Many of Goldoni's light-hearted comedies are concerned with Pantalone. In this play, Pantalone is a Venetian merchant bent on marrying his daughter to the wealthy Federigo of Turin. Basically, the story is of two frustrated pairs of lovers who cannot work out their own affairs. Silvio loves Clarice, and she loves him. On learning that Federigo has been killed, Pantalone reluctantly agrees to let Clarice marry Silvio. But at this moment, Federigo appears with a raffish servant he has picked up. Federigo, however, turns out to be Beatrice, disguised as her brother—and for good reason. The brother is dead and Florindo is accused of killing him.

Truffaldino, the delightful servant, further complicates affairs. The resulting confusions, compounded by the servant's opportunity to double his pay by serving two masters, end with Truffaldino's getting more than he bargained for. And the affairs of the lovers are happily resolved.

Anyone interested in working backstage with the production should attend the Masquers' meeting Monday, Oct. 9 at 7 p.m., backstage of McCroan Auditorium or should call Miss Hall, Ext. 214.

National Jazz Festival Finals Begin In May

The top collegiate bands, combos and vocal groups in the nation will fly to Miami Beach on May 9-11 for the second annual Intercollegiate Jazz Festival.

Winners of six regional competitions will battle for national honors as Ohio State University, San Francisco State College and Rider College defend their titles.

Applications and information for all regional events are available from the Intercollegiate Jazz Festival, P. O. Box 246, Miami Beach, Florida, 33139. Entries for some of the festivals close on January 1.

Regional competitions are the Mobile (Alabama) Jazz festival on February 16-17; the Villanova Intercollegiate Jazz Festival on February 23-24; the Cerritos College Jazz Festival to be held at Norwalk, California on March 22-23; the Midwest College Jazz Festival in Elmhurst, Illinois on March 29-30; the Intermountain College

Jazz Festival set for Salt Lake City, Utah, on April 5-6, and the Little Rock (Arkansas) Jazz Festival on April 12-13.

Sponsored by Trans World Airlines and the Sero Shirt Jazz Festival attracted over 700 colleges and universities in the battle for the Duke Ellington, John Coltrane and Tony Bennett National Championship Awards in 1967. Outstanding individual musicians and vocalists were awarded scholarships.

Over 500 news media, including the wire services, Voice of America, Armed Forces Radio and the ABC Radio Network, covered the 1967 national finals. The Festival was recorded by ABC Records for an album to be released this October.

Judges for the regional festivals and the national finals include outstanding recording artists, performers, educators, and music officials.

A new innovation for the 1968 Festival is the vocal group category, with groups of three to eight voices competing for the championship.

Any band, combo, or vocal group composed of students taking at least six semester or nine quarter hours at a college or university is eligible for the festival. Finalists for each regional contest will be selected from tapes submitted by the entrants. Winners of all regional festivals in each of three categories will be flown to Miami Beach for the national finals.

Men know all about the fine craftsmanship that goes into a pair of Lady Bostonian genuine moccasins. They should. They've been buying it in men's Bostonians for years. The easy comfort... classic styling... and handsewn detailing. It's all the same except... Lady B's are utterly feminine.

A word of caution, gals! Look out when you're wearing Lady B's. When THEY see the Lady Bee on the back of the shoe, YOUR B's might end up a trophy for some wide-eyed male. Come choose your pair—TODAY. Dare you!

OFF THE KING'S CUFF

TOM KING, G-A Sports Editor

GSC Basketball

The tension is mounting as the moments fly past. Students file through the entrances eager to get a seat.

The old expression of "Excuse me, please" is prevalent throughout the affair. Once seated, the excitement takes hold and casts you into a world that many say is "the thing".

You begin to notice people around you and also the people whom you came to watch. You may see things that some will never notice and you may miss a lot. The tension continues to mount as the floor before your eyes is cleared of its occupants. People scurry to their seats. The lights have suddenly disappeared and all attention is turned upon the Eagle.

"GOOD EVENING"

The audience is spellbound with the serenity that engulfs the building. Goose bumps and cold chills take hold. A voice, to some very familiar, has the undivided attention of the audience, with the very descriptive words of "Good evening ladies and gentlemen. Welcome to Georgia Southern College basketball."

The respective line-ups are introduced and the goose bumps and cold chills return. During the introductions former students may recall days of "Welcome if you will a 6-2 guard from Hi Hat, Ky., No. 5, Jimmy Rose, GSC's three year All-American. Or one can recall the introductions of Jim. Seeley and Robert Jordan. Seniors present may recall the days of Bill Pickens, Mike Rickard, Raymond Reynolds or David Owens.

Daylight once again reigns in the "Wonderful World of Hanner" after the introductions are complete. Excitement is prevalent throughout the contest as you, the fans react to every referee's call Time running out and the tension is mounting as the seconds tick quickly away.

During the opening game against Northwestern Louisiana State, former students and fans, who witnessed last year's opening game, with Stetson will recall the last second basket by Ken Szotkiewicz GSC's answer to Jim Thorpe. Stetson had led throughout the contest. Soc's basket gave the Eagles their first win of the season. When the buzzer sounded, the Eagles had won by one point.

This is excitement to its fullest. Tensions like you have never experienced before will grasp you while witnessing a GSC basketball game. Think of what has been said. Prior to this year's opener with Northwestern Louisiana State College. Also remember the announcer's words: "Good evening ladies and gentlemen. This is Georgia Southern College basketball."

Bob Bohman (11) awaits eagerly as Jim Seeley (25) goes up for shot in last year's spine-tingling win over rival Mercer University. Bohman will be a junior this season.

Hard Work Lies Ahead; Practice Begins Monday

By DAN STILES
G-A Assistant Sports Editor

While most Georgia Southern students have about settled down and found the rut they will travel in for the remainder of the quarter, one group of individuals are far from finding their traveling groove. As a matter of fact, for basketball players the digging has just begun.

Monday opens the first day of organized practice, and this anticipation of the final test has, no doubt, brought a few lumps in the throat and a few funny feelings to the pit of the stomach.

Although these cagers have been very busy for the past four weeks in the half-court "massacres," in addition to playing defense, watching for screens, getting rebounds, and playing offense, they have managed to glance around to see if Coaches Radovich, Rowe, or Johnson are watching.

The players skillfully find them whether they are sitting near the organ, in the upper stands, or standing in the doorways. No matter where they find them, the players realize they are being summed up, and this makes their scrapping become even more aggressive.

MONDAY IT BEGINS

Monday begins the second phase of basketball for this 1967-68 season, and today ends the first phase. These pre-season drills cannot end without a last surge of excitement; therefore, a two-mile cross-country race is being held this afternoon for all basketball players.

Every race has its favorites, and this one is no exception. Interviews with three of the players indicated the odds to be two votes for Bob Bohman and one for Barry Miller.

Dave Westerfield, a transfer guard from Abraham Baldwin Junior College is new to the GSC campus, but he was fast to learn the reputation Bohman made for himself as a runner when he won the cross-country affair last year.

BOHMAN IS STRONG

"I really don't know how any of the players run, but everybody tells me Bohman is a pretty strong runner," Westerfield said.

"At the beginning of the year, I thought I'd win it," Bohman commented, "but the other day I ran with Barry Miller and all I saw was the dust trail he left for me to follow."

Roger Moore, a freshman from Beach High School of Savannah, threw his bet on Bohman, but pitched in a clever answer as to whom might win: "I think Bohman will win, but if he doesn't, I'll say the hungriest player will because of the steak dinner the winner receives."

Although Bohman is favored in the cross-country race, his thoughts drift away from the first phase of basketball, and he eagerly awaits the season. "Yes. I am looking forward to the season very much. This year should bring a refreshing change with a completely different style of basketball."

GAINED 25?

When Bohman, who is a 6-3 Junior from Covington, Ky., returned to school this fall, he had gained 25 pounds. How?

"Oh, I guess just by eating and resting a lot. I just layed around this summer, worked a little for a bottling company in Cincinnati, and worked a great deal on my shooting."

Roger Moore, a 6-7 athlete, who hates the new rule outlawing the dunk, thinks "Southern is a real nice institution with a fine academic and sport program."

Moore is right when he assumes that one of his stronger points will be his rebounding because if his 6-7 frame isn't enough, his large arms and hands make up for it.

"TREE MAN"

Moore has a nickname. According to him, "When I first visited Southern, I met a fellow by the name of Keith, and at first sight he named me 'Tree Man'. He said I looked like a tree and my arms looked like tree limbs."

Moore mentioned that his weakness might be his lack of hustle. "I just don't hustle the way I should - maybe because in high school I didn't have to."

Dave Westerfield, who was voted Most Valuable Player in the Southern Conference in the Georgia Junior College Circuit and averaged 18.5 points his last year at Abraham Baldwin, thinks "it's a real honor to have the opportunity to play here. I've had some real bad games playing in the State Junior College tournaments in the Hanner Gym, but as far as being jinxed, I don't think so."

When asked about his strong points or weaknesses, Dave replied, "Up until this year I considered my strong points to be my ball-handling and defense, but so far my defense has stunk. I hope it will improve as this year goes along."

The S-Club, the organization for all varsity athletics of Georgia Southern, will hold its initial meeting of the year Wednesday night, Oct. 18, at 8 p.m. in Room 10 of the Hollis Building, according to Ron Oertley, adviser.

According to Oertley, the S-Club is designed to draw the different intercollegiate sports together at GSC in an effort to have a better athletic spirit at Southern.

Returning from last years club are lettermen Jimmy Dobson, Denny Davis, Jimmy Kirkland, Dan Stiles and Eddie Russell. Oertley is looking for a large turnout at the meeting and, according to Oertley, the S-Club should have a real good year.

Bowling League To Begin Action

The Eagle Tenpinners League is underway with bowling action slated for every Thursday night, according to Hugh Darley, director of the league.

Teams are composed of four students, two men and two women. The league is restricted to GSC students. According to Darley, reduced rates are being offered and there is no charge for shoes. This is a handicap league with awards being given at the end of the quarter for the top teams in the league.

'WIA Practices Going Smoothly; Competition Tough' - Strickland

By LINDA JORDON
G-A Sports Writer

"Intramural practice has been going very smoothly with four teams practicing each day. The competition should be keener this year now that the teams are more evenly balanced," said Miss Evelyn Strickland, co-chairman of the Women's Intramural Association.

According to Miss Strickland, the teams are more evenly balanced due to the new choice-from-the-hat-member-placement system that was adopted this year to stock the teams with new members.

"The Mustangs and the Tigers have had tremendous turnouts at practice thus far. Also the Panthers are showing signs of developing a very strong team in the speedball competition. The Panthers have more members this year that are showing more enthusiasm toward playing in intramural sports," Miss Strickland added.

Final standings for the WIA activities last year were the Tigers in first place with 260 points and the Mustangs edging the Yellow Jackets for second place and the Pythons taking fourth place.

The first speedball game will be October 18 on the speedball field behind the baseball field.

We would like to correct our error that appeared in the George-Anne concerning the basketball schedule. The last game of the season, previously scheduled for Feb. 27 with Southwestern Louisiana University, has been dropped from the schedule, according to J. I. Clements, GSC athletic director.

INDEX

EXPLANATION — The Dunkel system provides a continuous index to the relative strength of all teams. It reflects average scoring margin combined with average opposition rating, weighted in favor of recent performance. Example: A 50.0 team has been 10 scoring points stronger, per game, than a 40.0 team against opposition of identical strength. Originated in 1929 by Dick Dunkel.

Clements Back at Helm; Nine Lettermen Return

By MIKE CLARK
G-A Sports Writer

Georgia Southern will open its 25th baseball season in March, 1968 with Coach J. I. Clements returning as head coach for his 19th campaign. He sat out last season due to a back operation.

His teams have compiled an impressive 289-184 won and lost record. The best campaign the Eagles enjoyed under Coach Clements was in 1965 when their record was 23-9.

Concerning the 1968 season Coach Clements stated, "We have nine lettermen returning and that should give us a nucleus of a good ball club, plus we have three veteran pitchers returning." He went on to say, "With three veteran pitchers back you would think that our pitching staff would be our strongest spot, but one can never know."

Thirty-five players reported for fall practice on Oct. 2, and from these Coach Clements hopes to mold together a sound ball club to face the grueling schedule that he has lined up. The team is full of spirit and from all indications it should be equal to last year's squad that posted a 31-18-1 record and finished fifth in the nation. The lone tie resulted from a game being called because of a time limit.

VETERANS

Veteran pitchers returning are Allen Simmons, Jimmy Dobson and Tim O'Leary. All three are seniors and a lot of pressure will rest on their shoulders. Other lettermen are Ronnie McLeMore, Ralph Lynch, Jimmy Fields, Mike Long, Roddy Michele and All-American Ken Szotkiewicz.

Three players from the 1967 team have turned professional. They are pitcher Jim Nevin, catcher Vic Correll and infielder Leahman Stanley. Nevin signed with the Kansas City Athletics, Correll with the Cleveland Indians and Stanley with the Minnesota Twins.

nia Tech, North Carolina, Kentucky and Florida State.

The last losing season that a baseball team has had was in 1951. The 1968 squad will be out to make it 17 years in a row with a winning record.

Coach Clements is hoping that the baseball field will soon have lights so that night games can be played. If the lights are added he plans to have a baseball week and invite some of the major schools across the nation.

ALLEN SIMMONS

Coach Clements seemed pleased that three of his former players had gone on into the pro ranks. Commenting on Leahman Stanley he said, "Leahman is a fine prospect. He has always been a good hitter, but he scares you to death with his fielding." Stanley finished in the top ten in batting in the Gulf State League.

42 GAMES

Looking ahead to the schedule, the "diamondmen" will be playing a 42 game slate. Thirty-four will be played at home and only eight will be played on the road.

Lack of Height Plagues Frosh

By KEN PURCELL
G-A Sports Writer

A definite lack of height will be new head freshman Coach Alan Johnson's major concern when his basketball squad takes to the court Monday afternoon in preparation for the 1967-68 season.

Johnson, who came to GSC this year after several years of high school coaching since graduation from the University of Georgia, has had little chance to view his cage squad in action, but at this time the team adds up to one with a surplus of shooting and ball handling ability, according to Johnson.

Rebounding strength will be a major problem for Coach

Johnson, since most of his cagers are under 6 ft 2 in. Only Phil Sisk and Roger Moore are tall enough to be considered typical college centers or forwards. Sisk, who played his high school ball in Atlanta, stands 6 ft. 5 in. and will be heavily depended upon for strength under the boards.

Moore, at 6 ft. 7 in., is the tallest freshman on the team, but according to Johnson has an excellent chance to make the GSC varsity. Should Moore, who hails from Savannah, make the varsity team, Johnson would be faced with an even greater lack of height.

Guards are plentiful on the freshman team, with at least five of the nine players fitting into this category.

Among the freshman guards are Gene Brown (5'11"), a high school teammate of Moore, and Tommy Bond (5'8"), both of Savannah. Steve Buckler (6'1") of Avondale, Buddy Pinkston (6'0") of Atlanta, and Mike Ulaki (6'1") of Marietta are also guards.

Marvin Stephens, (6'2") of Springfield, and Danny Gordon, (6'2"), may find themselves playing at forward positions rather than their usual guard spots, to attempt to make up for the team's lack of height.

The Eagle freshman squad will play a 17 game schedule this season. The slate of contests contains very few weak teams and should be a good test for Johnson's first college basketball team.

Cheerleaders to Begin Practice for New Season

Official practice begins Monday, Oct. 16, for the GSC cheerleading squad and any girls or boys who are interested in trying out are asked to report to gym Monday afternoon, according to Miss Janie Dodson, adviser.

Miss Dodson is in her first year as adviser for the squad, succeeding Mrs. Sue Oertley.

According to Miss Dodson, some tumbling experience is required but instruction will be given during the practice sessions for those who have no previous tumbling experience.

An awards banquet was held last week. Last year was the first year the cheerleading squad had included boy cheerleaders and Miss Dodson is hoping to have boy cheerleaders again this year.

DPA Takes Win; Unknowns Fall

Action continued in the men's intramurals league with the Delta Pi Alpha team continuing its winning ways and the Rebels upsetting the Unknowns.

Last Wednesday the DPA's edged Phi Epsilon Kappa, 12-7, and the Hawks evened their record at 1-1 in sending the Blue Ribbons to their second defeat of the young season by the tune of 40-6.

The Rebels of Morgan Hall pulled the upset of the season to date in downing the Unknowns, 13-6. The Rebels never looked like the underdog they were supposed to be as the highly heralded Unknowns found the going rough.

In other action last Thursday, Cone Hall defeated Sanford. Last Monday's game was postponed due to rain and the games will be made up at the end of the season.

The Looking Glass

By JANET HENRIKSEN

WHO IS JESUS CHRIST?

He was conceived by God and born of a virgin woman over 1960 years ago.

His public ministry began when He was thirty years of age and covered a span of only three years. In those years, however, He introduced the world to full-capacity living!

"The life of Jesus, the miracles He performed, the words He spoke, His death on the Cross, His resurrection, His ascent to heaven, all point to the fact that He was not mere man but more than man. He, Himself, claimed, 'I and my Father are One,' and 'he that hath seen Me hath seen the Father.'"

"It is important to consider that Jesus Christ claimed to be God. He claimed to be the author of a new way of life. Historically, we know that wherever His message has gone, new life, new hope, and new purpose for living have resulted. Either Jesus of Nazareth was Who He claimed to be, the Son of God, the Saviour of mankind, or He was the greatest imposter the world has ever known. If His claims were false, a lie has accomplished more good than the truth has ever done. Does it not make sense that this person (whom most people knowing the facts consider the greatest teacher, the greatest example, the greatest leader the world has ever known; would be, as He Himself claimed to be and as the Bible tells us, the one person who could bridge the gap between God and man?"

"He that cometh from above is above all: He that is of the earth is earthly, and speaketh of the earth: He that cometh from heaven is above all."

John 3:31
