27 Kappa Theta's Collect Funds for Mental Hospitals

Twenty-seven Kappa Theta brothers left the steps of the Administration Building at 8 a. m. May 2 to walk 250 miles from this college to the Capitol Building in Atlanta, Ga. The walk is a fund raising drive to collect money for mentally retarded children at Gracewood and Milledgeville institutions.

President Zach S. Henderson began the "Charity Walk" by walking through Sweetheart Circle with the Kappa Thetas. Jones Lane, state representative, spoke briefly to the brothers and walked through the Circle with them.

"I think it (the charity drive) is a good idea. It gives the men a motive to help in a cause that is worthy. Also, they know that they are undertaking a difficult task and this knowledge unifies them. Each fraternity brother must work to accomplish their goal," said Dr. Henderson.

"Charity Walk" will cover three routes in four days. There will be one walk route going through Swainsboro, Wrightsville, Irwinton, Macon and Jackson to Atlanta. Two additional routes will be covered by brothers in cars. One car will travel through the towns on Route 80 to Macon. Another car will leave the main route in Wrightsville to go through Ten-tile, Sandersville, Milledgeville, Eatonton, Willard, Monticello to Jackson. Brothers will get out of cars in each town not on the main route to canvas the town in collecting donations.

On Sunday, May 5, the fraternity brothers will present the donations to Governor Lester G.

Sally Harvard Elected Women's Gov. President

Sally Harvard, junior English major from Savannah, won the WSGA election for the office of president by a margin of 147 votes, according to Joan Jordan, president of Women's Student Government Association.

Carol Moore, junior political science major from Savannah, and Kay Kozojed, freshman undecided major from Macon, are the new first and second vice-presidents.

Paula Goggins, sophomore elementary education major from Thomasville, is the new secretary, and Lee Ann Alford, sophomore sociology major from Macon, is the new treasurer.

These officers will assume their duties beginning fall quarter stated Miss Jordan.

"Eighty-one per cent of the women students enrolled voted in this election. We think this is the largest turn-out in any campus-wide election that has been held here. Anderson, Deal, Lynne, and Wudie Halls had 100 per cent of dorm enrollment voting," said Mrs. Virginia Boger, Dean of Women.

"I am amazed and extravagantly pleased with the number of women students who voted in this election and I think it attests to the incredible effectiveness of Women's Student Government in its first year and to the fine student leadership that made this possible," added Dean Boger.

"These results should be considered a challenge by the elected officers to effectively represent the tremendous majority of women students who have shown such an interest in their government and college," said Miss Jordan.

Tally of Votes

For President: Sally Harvard 698; Pat Bolton 551. For First vice-president: Carol Moore 848; Linda Jordan 409. Second vice-president: Kay Kozojed 750; Donna Boone 498. Secretary: Paula Goggins 859; Bonnie Wilingham 398. Treasurer: Lee Ann Alford 831; Janelle Hudson 426.

Honors Dorm To Open in Fall

Fall quarter applications for the Honors Dorm are still being accepted, according to Mrs. Virginia Boger, dean of women.

Only junior and senior women are eligible to apply for residence in the dorm. A committee appointed by the Dean of Women will screen applicants for grade point average, activity points, and disciplinary record.

Applications can be picked up in Dean Boger's office. They should be filled out and given to Dean Boger in the Office of Student Personnel.

Meet Miss GSC—Cindy Taylor

Her Image Reflects Beauty, Versatility

Smiling with the happiness of her reign, yet busy finding hours to devote to traveling, promoting the college and student body, and expressing publicly that GSC exists and is certainly worthwhile—this is the new Miss GSC, the image that will represent this college across the state throughout the next year. How well do the students know her?

She loves rainy weather, hot chocolate, Paul Newman, and spring quarter, but Cindy Taylor's personality consists of much more than this!

Extremely aware that being Miss GSC is a service and responsibility as well as an honor, Cindy expressed candidly, "I want most of all for students to be proud of me." Through the public relations office, radio, television, U.S. mail, and even here on campus, the sophomore math major wishes to maintain the image students expect of her.

MISS GEORGIA PAGEANT

Cindy's eyes sparkled as she rapidly reviewed the plans for the Miss Georgia Pageant. Having worked to complete questionnaires, perfect her talent, have enough photographs made—the 5'10" brunette will be ready for orientation weekend May 18-19 in Columbus. She must present her talent number, be interviewed, and learn the rigid schedule set up for the Miss Georgia contest June 10-16.

In the Miss GSC Pageant, the talented coed presented chalk drawings spotlighted by iridescent lighting. Minor in art, Cindy is quite capable of capturing her vivid feelings and reactions on canvas. She plans to use the same talent number in the Miss Georgia Pageant.

CINDY'S EXTRA ACTIVITIES

The outfits Miss Taylor wore in the contest here were her own creations. She sews in her 'spare' time and makes practically all her clothes. There will be much shopping done for the Miss Georgia Pageant, but the sewing machine will be at work also!

In reference to fashion trends, the blue-eyed brunette said, "I am a conservative when it comes to fashion. I like tailored outfits and I dress to suit my personality and individuality." Cindy's skirt length is about two inches above her knees. "That's me," she said.

Being a member of Phi Mu, Cindy expressed her hope that fraternities and sororities interested in service to the college will work to disperse widespread apathy on campus. "Georgia Southern is a good size college, progressing and growing rapidly," she commented. "The physical growth exhibited in building plans is complemented with congress revisions and newly accepted or organized ideas and plans from sororities, fraternities, Woman's Student Government and the administration," added Cindy.

Working in the math department is just another of Cindy's activities. She plans to complete her masters degree and teach math in college.

HER BELIEFS, THOUGHTS

And deep inside the Cindy Taylor, there are thoughts and ideas that have molded her into who she is. She loves spring, people, the beach and sun. But, sitting in her room that is characteristically Cindy — identifiable by paintings, easel, and canvas — she tossed her head upward, her long, brown hair falling casually on her shoulders, and told more about herself:

"This generation is one that thinks. There is more to think about — new fields are open, and a complex society has formed in keeping with the rapid changes in science. Young people are no more radical in relation to society that were our parents or grandparents, and hippies seem no more degenerate than the flappers and deviating groups that conform to beliefs held by members of their own society."

Top Honor Taken By Debate Team

The college debate team closed its 1967-68 season last week with first place honors in the second annual Ogeechee Invitational Debate Tournament in Douglas, Ga.

The four-man team compiled a tournament record of three wins against one loss.

On the affirmative team were Peggy Godbee, and Jim Schuyler. They won one and lost one with Miss Godbee being named outstanding affirmative speaker in the tournament.

The negative team, comprised of Susan Sims, and Ron Mayhew, were undefeated and named outstanding negative in competition. Mayhew was voted most outstanding negative speaker.

Debate Coach Miss Marjorie Thomas commented that she was quite pleased with the success of the team in its first year of competition. She expressed particular pleasure at last week's tournament win due to none of the team members having had previous college debate experience.

The 1967-68 intercollegiate debate topic was: "Resolved: That the United States should guarantee an annual minimum cash income to its citizens." Both affirmative and negative teams argued for a variation of the resolution, the negative using it as a counterproposal.

The idea, according to team member Ron Mayhew, had been a pet theory of his for some months previous to the debating season. In essence the teams advocated a guaranteed annual income to all U.S. citizens but with a birth control stipulation attached as a deterrent to poverty being allowed to perpetuate itself into future generations.

"The shock value was phenomenal," Mayhew commented. "Both of our opposing teams said they'd never run into anything like it before and found it very difficult to refute."

Undergraduate women should wear black shoes but style and color of dress are optional. Graduate women should wear black shoes and dark dresses with short sleeves.

Rehearsal for the Academic Line of March will be held on Saturday, June 8, at 2:30 p.m., in the Hanner Gym.

Honors Day Date Set for May 13

Honors Day will be held at 10:45 a.m. on Monday, May 13, in McCroan.

Class schedule will be rearranged on that day as follows: No classes will be held during fourth, fifth, and sixth periods, from 10:30 until 1:30.

Classes will be resumed at the seventh period.

Red Cross Nurse Betty Finnigan talks to Sally Harvard, vice-president of WSGA as Miss Harvard donates her first pint of blood.

Bloodmobile Collects 134 Pints - A Record

A total of 134 pints of blood was donated to the bloodmobile Thursday, April 25, according to Sandy Richardson, representative of Women's Student Government Association. The goal had been set at 200.

In addition to the 134 donors, there were 31 persons rejected who came to give, making the turnout 165.

Miss Richardson said, "I would like to thank every student who gave, or tried to give blood. The support by Georgia Southern for the bloodmobile was the best it has ever been, and I hope in the future it will be better. Also, I would like to thank Kappa Theta Fraternity for helping set up the equipment and for helping during the hours the bloodmobile was here. Student support was tremendous and the Greeks and organizations did a great job."

A silver pitcher was presented to Sigma Phi Epsilon which was represented by 37 brothers who were present to give. The presentation was made by Dean Paul Carroll in behalf of WWSN Radio, who donated the pitcher.

Graduation Date Set for June 9

Baccalaureate Services for graduation are set for June 9, at 11:00 a.m., in Hanner Gym. Commencement Exercises are scheduled for the same day at 3:30 p.m.

Undergraduates and graduates must be present unless officially excused, if not diplomas will not be issued.

A fee of $10, which includes all graduation expenses, must be cleared with the Business Office before graduation. Those who have not been measured for cap and gowns should contact Mrs. Bob Benson in the Williams Center.

Undergraduate and graduate men will wear dark suits and black shoes. Undergraduate men are not required to wear coats.

Faculty Group Examines Policy Of 'Class Cuts'

Dr. David Ward, chairman of the division of history, has agreed to serve as chairman of a faculty committee on class absences, according to Paul F. Carroll, academic dean.

This committee will examine the current policies of cuts as stated in the college Bulletin to determine their effectiveness and applicability.

Current practices in the various departments will be studied and some guidelines made to assist faculty members in interpreting and administering policies. Possibly a new policy will develop.

"The main work of the committee will begin fall quarter," stated Dean Carroll.

Carroll added that it might be profitable if representative students were asked to participate.

Faculty members asked to serve on the committee are: Dr. Betty Lane, chairman of the division of home economics; Mr. Roy Powell, assistant professor of English; Dr. Martha Cain, associate professor of chemistry; Dr. Frank Ramsey, assistant professor of health and physical education; Dr. Shelby Monroe, professor of education; and Dr. Larry Price, assistant professor of finance and management.

ELEVEN PERIODS

Eleven class periods are scheduled for fall quarter, according to Paul F. Carroll, academic dean. Classes will begin at 7:30 a.m. and end at 6:30 p.m.

"This will only be temporary until the new buildings can be completed," stated Carroll.

25 teaching positions are open on the faculty and this will necessitate approximately 75 more class spaces.

Humphrey, chairman of the President's Council on Mental Retardation, and Herman E. Talmadge, democratic senator, for endorsement of the project.

The mayors, chambers of commerce and ministerial alliances associated with the Middle Georgia area were also written for assistance, according to Price. Radio stations and newspapers in the area were contacted by Ric Mandes, public relations director.

"This walk is to show that the students of this college are concerned with the problems of Georgia, such as mental retardation. Come rain or shine, we're going to be on time," said Bill Kingery, Kappa Theta president.

Kappa Thetas who were unable to participate in "Charity Walk" collected donations on campus Thursday, May 2.

I'D WALK A MILE...

On Thursday morning, May 2, 27 Kappa Theta brothers departed on a four day pilgrimage from this college to the Executive Mansion in Atlanta. The pilgrimage, entitled "Charity Walk," is a fund raising drive to collect money for mentally retarded children at Gracewood and Milledgeville institutions.

Kappa Thetas have corresponded with Vice president Hubert Humphrey, Senator Herman Talmadge and Governor Lester Maddox for endorsement and promotional assistance for the project. The brothers will present Governor Maddox with the collected donations Sunday, May 5.

The fraternity contacted mayors, Chambers of Commerce and Ministerial Associations throughout the Middle Georgia area, asking them to donate to the "Charity Walk."

Kappa Thetas are to be congratulated for the efficient organization of plans and for the unselfish purpose motivating the walk. The men wish not only to help retarded children, but also to prove that the average college student is not apathetic, not a draft dodger, not a draft card burner, but that he is a conscientious, hardworking citizen extremely interested in the problems of today's America.

We commend Kappa Theta for being an organization that accepts the responsibilities of citizenship and takes a leadership role in the campus community.

A RECORD?

A total of 134 persons gave blood at the bloodmobile, Thursday, April 25. This is the highest number of people who have ever given blood at a bloodmobile on this campus.

Recognition is due to the students who planned, supported, and carried out this event and made it successful.

It is hoped that next year's bloodmobile will be even more successful than this year's. The 165 people who gave blood represent only 4% of 4,412, including students, faculty, and administration.

The lowest number of any one of these bodies giving blood is apparently the faculty, with only 3 members donating.

It seems that their previous interest in the bloodmobile, evidenced by several criticisms toward bloodmobile publicity, was not followed by the charitable act of giving blood.

Students carry out many charitable campaigns while maintaining their academic standings. As part of a small community they need everyone's support to make their charity work successful. The faculty and administration are as much a part of this campus as the students, and should support these projects.

Perhaps with the support of everyone, (students, faculty, and administration) the bloodmobile, as well as other projects would be more successful.

THE BOX

The "George-Anne" printed an editorial in the April 5 issue which urged the use of the suggestion box. The Council has received numerous suggestions since that time. The suggestion were considered by the Council and channeled through the proper administrative committees.

The suggestion box offers students a chance to voice opinions about various phases of campus life. Council officers have repeatedly expressed the desire that students take advantage of this suggestion box to inform them of the changes and reforms needed on this campus. This suggestion box is the most effective and effortless method of making desires known to Council.

Students who criticize campus government should take advantage of the facility that will implement change.

Student Support Necessary For Survival of 'Exit'

By SARA FOUNTAIN
News Editor

On today's college campuses the students are confronted with problems of a greater magnitude than they have faced in their past lives. They have conflicting ideas with traditions regarding sex, religion, war, the draft, with the traditional versus the modern liberal. They are puzzled and seek the decisions to these questions in the classrooms, but the majority of these questions are not treated in the classrooms because they are not always relevant or because time does not permit.

A certain group of persons interested in students and their relationships with other people created a coffeehouse which is a partial answer to the dilemma of not having the opportunity to discuss issues which are pertinent to the student.

Out of the college population of almost 4,000, surprisingly few students seem aware of the coffeehouse or its function.

The coffeehouse is open to the public. The atmosphere of the coffeehouse is the same as in the traditional ones found in larger cities. It is conducive to the student's freedom to express his opinion or his talent. Students who wish to play their guitar, sing, or read poetry are given the stage. Faculty members read important works of literature as well as original compositions.

A student can discuss marijuana, sex, abortion, the war, the draft or anything across the table from his professor, his roommate, or other persons while leisurely drinking coffee or tea. Group discussions have been held with persons in certain fields to establish opinions on ideas shared by the students. Ralph McGill and James Hagerty are among those interesting persons who have appeared on campus and have gone to the "Exit" to talk freely with students.

Two excellent plays have been performed at the "Exit" which otherwise would not have been available to the students. Other plays are scheduled for the near future and will be produced for several nights in order that more persons will be able to attend.

Christopher Fry's "A Sleep of Prisoners," a 45 minute one-act religious drama will be performed May 21-25. The play probes the meaning of man's existence in relation to God.

The coffeehouse is a place of entertainment for the students and an outlet for their emotions. When the "Exit" first opened, students swarmed the place because there was always plenty of musical entertainment. The original plans of the "Exit" were to gradually introduce discussions, but as discussions replaced a majority of the entertainment, student interest waned. The college students are fortunate in having the coffeehouse, yet without their support the "Exit" will fade out of existence.

The coffeehouse is run primarily by students on a non-profit basis. The founding members have relinquished their own time and money for its success. The students must participate and work to keep the "Exit" alive.

Letters to the Editor

Mr. Editor:

Two wrecks in the past two weeks in the Dorman Hall Unpaved parking lot seem to point up the fact that this particular area is an unsafe place in which to park or drive through.

Agreed, it is nice to have a little entertainment every now and then, but multi-car crashes in the dorm lot can get old fast.

The men of Dorman Hall would appreciate some attention being given to the safety problem. The lot is in need of being paved and marked off with some regard to planning for auto and pedestrian safety. Also, as much as I hate to suggest it, speed limits might be advisable.

Yours in the interest of safety,

Andy Hall

Inquiring Reporter

What new style would you like to design for womens' fashions?

Richard Brazzel, Tampa, Fla. Bathing suit - something a little louder and more revealing.

Lynda Rendroe, Wrightsville, Ga. - I'm glad the styles are becoming more fitted, rather than the tent dress.

Glen Pierce, New Jersey, - I think that the bathing suits should become smaller.

Susan Walker, Conyers, Ga. - Something that will serve the same purpose as a raincoat at Georgia Southern.

Donnie McQuaig, Buford, Ga. - I would like to see the hemlines keep rising and the necklines plunging, and hope that some day they'll meet.

Diana Rowan, Nashville, Ga. - Something as popular as the A-line dresses, so I can be a millionaire.

Rod Meadows, Manchester, Ga. - A style with as little as possible.

Doreen Jacobs, Clarkston, Ga. - I think I would like to see women styles more feminine again.

Don McNeil, Parrott, Ga. -

Dresses with high hemlines, low necklines and no middle.

Suzanne Mosely, Lizella, Ga. - Stop putting boys clothes on girls!

Charlie Clegg, Young Harris, Ga. - Shorter from both ends.

Charles Hill, Jeffersonville, Ga. - Something with more solids, with stripes and checks - instead of the weird designs

Paul Leslie, Silver Springs, Fla. - I like them just the way they are now - they look comfortable. I don't like the short styles - they are in poor taste.

Jackie Bullington, Cordele, Ga. - Longer hems - knee length or just above.

Scott Meier, Milledgeville, Ga. - Shorter skirts.

Clint Montgomery, Macon, Ga. - I would like to rid all girls of culotte dresses - they are atrocious.

Denese Tootle, Baxley, Ga. - A style that would enhance every woman's figure regardless of her size and shape which could be uniquely hers.

Nancy Herrington, Savannah, Ga. - A nice tailor-made suit would look good on any woman and would fit most occasions.

Comic Al Capp Endorses Use Of Student Power

(ACP) — Comic Al Capp endorsed student power at the University of North Dakota recently, saying, "It's about time the lunatics ran the asylums," the Dakota Student reports.

Capp, creator of the comic strip "Li'l Abner," touched on drugs, sex and Lyndon Johnson in comments ranging from sarcastic to sadistic, delighting an overflow crowd.

"We can talk," said Capp, "about sex or the social life at UND; Bonnie and Clyde or Bobbie and Ethyl; the quiet dignity of H. Rap Brown, Joan Baez as a statesman or Everett Dirksen as a folksinger."

Sex before marriage definitely has psychological effects, he said — "Take the crying of the baby during the honeymoon, for instance."

Should college students be allowed to use LSD? "They're the only ones who don't need LSD to have delusions of grandeur," he said.

Should there be free sex on campus? "Well, I think that if they started charging for it, they'd lose a lot of the romance."

Is sex important in dating today? "Of course it's important today. And it was important yesterday and the day before. You didn't invent it, you know."

How about drugs for a new and different experience? "How about maturing and growing up for a new and different experience?"

And Lyndon Johnson? Capp finds him unlovable — most of the time. "Only when I hear Bobby speak do I find something charming about him," he said.

To get rich quick, Capp recommended the poverty business. "There's a lot of money to be made there . . . my money, your money . . ."

Care Center Fills Discussion Needs At Kansas State

(ACP) — There's a new direction for intelligent campus discussion at Kansas State University, says the Collegian. The direction is up.

A sign will now point up to an individual attention care center in the student union. The care center, sponsored by University for Man, answers students' needs for discussion in any form.

Students can come and go anytime from 9:30 to 11 a.m. The center offers "attention" in the form of a sounding board. Any topic may be discussed and any student mood expressed. It's a place to go when a new idea hits a student or an old one becomes a firm conviction.

The idea is informal, personal and sound. Anyone is free to join discussions perhaps he has been able only to overhear in the union.

It would not be wise to demand that students go up to receive individual attention. But it is appropriate to ask them to go up whenever the spirit moves them.

'Drop Out and Save' Reports Minnesota

(ACP) — Quit school — you probably can earn more by saving the money instead of pursuing a college education, the University of Minnesota Daily reports.

A recent study concluded that a college graduate's lifetime earnings might often be greater if he had chosen not to continue in school and placed the cost of higher education in a savings bank.

Arthur Carol and Samuel Perry, assistant professors of operations analysis in Monterey, Calif., said that in some cases it is wiser for an individual to leave school earlier and invest his earnings during the years when he would have been in school.

When the costs of undergraduate education are added to those of graduate school, they found, for example, a person would be better off financially as a plumber than as a chemist.

They also found that when the money for graduate school must be borrowed, the lifetime earnings of many professions are lowered considerably.

So why wait? Drop out now and avoid the rush.

Hendricks Women, Faculty Members Hold Informal Talks

The first in a series of informal discussions between faculty members and Hendricks Hall women is scheduled for Wednesday, May 1, 6:30 to 7:00 in the activity room of Hendricks Hall, according to Margaret Watson, assistant dean of women.

Students Figure Energy Output While Walking

Students will wear pedometers measuring their energy output while walking in a study to be conducted this summer by Dr. Donald Olewine, assistant professor of biology and Dr. Frank Ramsey, assistant professor of health and physical education.

The study is the first of its kind on this campus and will reveal whether jogging (walking at a slow, steady pace) would benefit under severe cardiovascular stress.

Graduate students of the physical education and recreation department as well as others will participate. The students will keep records of all their activities and of those registered by the pedometers.

The study will measure the energy output and the oxygen consumption of each student for walking a certain distance. The measurements will then be correlated with the pedometers.

Previous studies have already shown the benefit of exercise in preventing heart disease and aiding in recovery of heart disease patients, according to Dr. Olewine.

and a group of 20 to 25 women from Hendricks. "The topics may range from academic to personal interests," stated Miss Watson.

"The program is the first of its kind on campus and is the result of interest shown by students to get to know their faculty better. Through this program, students feel more personal contact with their professors although classes are getting larger," said Miss Watson.

Both faculty and students are enthusiastic about the program which is still in its trial period, stated Miss Watson. Presently only women in Hendricks Hall are involved by invitation.

Dobson, O'Leary Set for Action

By KEN PURCELL
Sports Editor

Florida State University's Seminoles invade Eagle Field today to begin a two game series with Southern in hopes of retaining their national top ranking.

The Indians, sitting on top of the Associated Press collegiate baseball poll, will be out to scalp Coach J. I. Clements' Eagles in any way they can.

To help hold off the tribe's attack, Clements has assigned ace righthander Jimmy Dobson pitching duties for Friday. Dobson, sporting a 6-2 record, has compiled a 1.21 earned run average, lowest on the Eagle squad.

O'LEARY TO THROW

On Saturday for the second and final game of the series, Tim O'Leary has been chosen for mound action. His record for the season stands at 5-1 with an ERA of 3.33.

The Eagles have had 11 days off since their last game in which they blasted Davidson 11-0 for their 21 win against only 13 losses. Southern was scheduled to play Mercer in Macon Wednesday, April 24, but that game was cancelled because of rain. Although the extra time off may have given the Eagles a chance to work on some details of the game, it may also have been too long a rest between action for the team.

MASTIN-FSU ACE

Florida State, going into Friday's game with a fine 2-1 record, may turn to any of several of its pitchers for the series. The Seminoles, coached by Fred Hatfield, have an abundance of talent on the mound, including six undefeated pitchers. Steve Mastin has been State's leading hurler, now with a record of 8-0. There is a good possibility that FSU will use Mastin in the first game of the series, since that will give him plenty of time to rest before the Tribe begins a two game series with the University of Florida on May 7.

EAGLE LINEUP

The starting line-up for today's game for Southern is expected to go something like this: Jimmy Dobson, pitcher; Terry Childers, catcher; Terry Webb or Ralph Lynch, first base; Ron Cawthon, second base; Tom Brown, third base; Jimmy Walters, short stop; Roddy Michele, left field, Jimmy Fields, centerfield and Mike Long, right field.

Today's game was scheduled to begin at 3 p.m. while tomorrow's contest is on tap for 1:30 p.m.

SPORTS SPOTLIGHT

By KEN PURCELL,
Sports Editor

The Indians are coming to town.

The Tribe of Seminoles from Florida State University will be in Statesboro for a two-game series today and Saturday, and although Coach Fred Hatfield's scalpers are not generally hostile, they may have a little uprising planned for Southern's Eagles.

Florida State is presently on top of collegiate baseball's polls, sporting a fantastic 20-1 record. After downing tough Miami of Florida twice last week to stretch their winning streak to 19, the Seminoles will be in good spirits when they come to tangle with Coach J. I. Clements' Eagles.

But Florida State may view the series with Southern cautiously, having suffered its only loss at the hands of a Georgia school. The University of Georgia downed FSU 3-2 back in March.

Common Foes

Florida State and Southern have played two common foes, which may or may not be an indication of how the Eagles will do against the Seminoles. FSU played Springfield College of Illinois twice and Wake Forest twice. Southern has played Springfield once and Wake Forest three times.

The Seminoles had better luck with both schools than did our Eagles. The Tribe had little trouble downing the Deacons of Wake Forest, 3-0 and 7-3, but ran into a bit of difficulty against Springfield. In their first game with Springfield, FSU pulled out a close 10-9 decision in a 10-inning contest. Later when the two teams again met State found the winning combination and took a very easy 18-0 victory.

The Eagles played Wake Forest twice during the first week of the season, winning the first game 9-4 and losing the second 5-3. Later in the season, last week to be more exact, Southern dropped an 8-3 contest with the Deacons. Southern only played Springfield once, losing that game 7-1, on Eagle Field.

Impressive Stats

Florida State has compiled some pretty impressive statistics thus far this season. Though their first 17 games the Seminoles were batting .332 as a team and had nine regulars over the .300 mark. Top sluggers have been first baseman Mike Easom (.463) and catcher Tom Cook (.407).

Besides those that see regular action, another Seminole batter has stood out on several occasions. Jim Gurzynski, on the roster as a utility man, has only been to bat 14 times all season but is hitting .429 and has had a double and three home runs. One of those homers will be remembered for a long time by State fans. Gurzynski put the wood to a ball in FSU's 15-5 win over Kentucky Wesleyan and sent it soaring a measured 500 feet, 8 inches, a record for Florida State and possibly for collegiate baseball everywhere.

Great Pitching

Besides hitting, Florida State has something else—pitching. To say that FSU has good pitching is a vast understatement.

The Seminole pitching staff in 17 games compiled a stingy 1.80 earned run average and gave up less than 100 hits in 150 innings. Over that span Indian hurlers struck out 173 batters, more than one-third of the men they faced.

The leading pitcher is righthander Steve Mastin who had a record of 6-0 through the team's first 17 games. His ERA was 0.63. He chalked up 57 strikeouts in 42 2/3 innings while issuing only seven walks.

Six other State hurlers are undefeated. Only Wayne Vincent (3-1) has lost a game. The senior lefty was the leading Seminole pitcher last season and the year before, and holds the FSU record for career victories with 23.

No Greek Gods

So the Seminoles have an impressive ball club. But when they come to Statesboro today they won't look like Greek gods or super-human beings—just plain people. And as everyone knows, people aren't perfect and so neither is Florida State. Georgia has already shown us that. And don't be too surprised if Georgia Southern reminds the Seminoles of this fact.

Eagle Golfers Split

Armstrong State College of Savannah downed the Eagle golf team, 293-303 Monday, then on Thursday the Eagles got back on the winning side of things by defeating Erskine of Due West, South Carolina, 306-318.

The victory over Erskine yesterday evened Southern's record at 6-6 going into today's match with the Citadel in Charleston, South Carolina.

Jack Hartness fired an even par 72 in the losing effort with Armstrong, but that was not good enough for medalist honors. John Hautt of Armstrong went two under par for the round, played on the par 72 Windsor Forest course.

Dennis Raith had a 76, Eddie Register a 77 and Frank Saxon a 78 for the match. Greg Brewer and Rick Jordan also played for the Eagles.

Brewer was medalist for the Eagles yesterday in their win over Erskine. Brewer had a 75 on the tough 6600 yard par 72 Bonnie Brae course in Greenville, South Carolina.

Raith was consistent with his 76 as was Register with his 77. Clyde Redding finished with 78. Saxon and Hartness also competed in the round.

INTRAMURAL CORNER

Unknowns, ATO Still Undefeated

The Unknowns of the Independent League remain undefeated although tied with a record of 7-0-1. The only other team to remain unbeaten is Alpha Tau Omega with a perfect 5-0 record. With the first half of the season completed, indications as to the winners of each league are undetermined.

Games last Wednesday and Thursday were postponed. Action continued last Monday as Delta Sigma Pi barely defeated Tau Kappa Epsilon 15-14; Pi Kappa Phi walked all over Chi Sigma 9-1; and the Hobos ran past the Draft Dodgers 7-2.

Tuesday, Phi Epsilon Kappa bombed Tau Epsilon Pi 17-4. Kappa Theta ripped Nu Sigma 9-8, and the Unexpected's trounced, bounced, and denounced the Sows 30-7. In the final game of the afternoon, the Sinners II forced the Unknowns into extra innings and into the final outcome of a 3-3 tie.

Women's Softball

Results from last week's games of the Sorority Round-Robin Softball Tournament are as follows: Delta Zeta fell to ZTA 18-5, Kappa Delta over AZD 17-10, the AD Pi's defeated Phi Mu 24-6, and Kappa Delta edged Delta 16-15. Two games are played per night beginning at 5:30 on the Marvin Pittman fields. "The tournament is scheduled to end May 9, but if the girls want to, we'll hold another one," said Brenda Smith, program coordinator. "The girls have shown tremendous team spirit, which we would like to channel into an over-all intramurals program for sororities," she continued.

The WIA's (Women's Intramurals Association) double-elimination softball tournament will get underway at 5:30 Monday, May 6, with the Pythons and Mustangs slamming it out, and the Tigers meeting the Bulldogs (former Termites) on the Marvin Pittman fields.

The GSC Women's Tennis Team is being reorganized, and official practice for the upcoming state tournament will begin Monday at 3:30, according to Coach Tom King. Ten to twelve girls will represent the college at the invitational scheduled for May 17-19 at the Univ. of Ga. All interested girls are asked to be at practice this Monday.

Volleyball Tournney Is 'Slow'

Georgia Southern's intramural volleyball tournament has had a very slow beginning as only two matches have been decided presently. Director Bobby Benson has had a problem scheduling the matches because of the conflict with the existing softball playing.

"It's been hard to find the date for two particular teams to meet on the volleyball court with softball still being played. This tournament has been a difficult one to get in thus far," Bobby said.

In the first match, Kappa Alpha defeated Tau Kappa Epsilon 15-3 and 15-11. In the only other contest, Phi Epsilon Kappa forfeited to Delta Tau Delta for lack of enough players.

It was asked why the tournament could not have been scheduled after the regular softball season was over, thereby leaving a week and a half of competition.

"When our regular season has been completed, the playoffs in softball will begin and most of the boys who will be participating would rather not play volleyball at the same time," Benson concluded.

Bob Butts Wins X-Country Race

Sigma Pi's Bobby Butts rushed past Sigma Phi Epsilon's Robert Eubanks at the finish line to win the Georgia Southern College Cross Country Race held last week. Eubanks led all the way during the 2.5 mile run until finally outlasted by the oncoming Butts who finished the race at 15:41.7 seconds. Eubanks was timed at 15:42.3 seconds.

The race began on Ga. Highway 67 and traced to Highway 301 where it continued in back of Veazey Hall, behind Marvin Pittman School, behind the lake onto the road in front of the BSU center. It continued down the road as officials held traffic back at the lights, past Dorman Hall and onto Ga. Highway 67 again where it ended as it began, adjacent to the tennis courts.

Ray Poss from Pi Kappa Phi was third with a time of 16:30.4, Kappa Alpha's Phil Sick was fourth as he finished 17:44.2 after the start. Jim Martin from Sigma Phi Epsilon finished fifth with a time of 18:02.45 and Steve Buckler from Kappa Alpha who ran the race in 18:18 was sixth.

Netters Win Two, End Season 5-6

By KEN PURCELL,
Sports Editor

The Southern Tennis team ended its season this week with a pair of impressive victories to set its final record at 5-6. The Eagles defeated Armstrong State College of Savannah on their own courts, 9-0, Monday, then returned home to brush off Brunswick College, 9-0, on Tuesday.

Last Friday Columbus College downed the Eagles, 7-2, and on Saturday the University of South Carolina shutout Southern, 9-0. In the Columbus match only Tom King and Sonny Harmon were able to salvage their matches. King, playing number three, won a close 8-6, 6-3 contest while Harmon was winning 7-5, 6-3.

Against Armstrong, every Eagle won his match in both singles and doubles for the Eagles fourth win of the year. In singles for the day Eagle netters won a total of 72 games while losing only 15. In doubles the Eagles won 37 games, losing only seven.

In the Brunswick match the Eagles again won all possible points in both singles and doubles. Björn Kjerfve won at the number one singles position with scores of 6-1 and 6-4, while Eddie Russell was having a little more difficulty, going three sets 7-5, 7-9, 6-3, before winning.

Tom King won his match, 6-4, 12-10, for an exciting victory. Jerry Poppell edged his opponent 6-3, 7-5 and Sonny Harmon downed his man easily, 6-0, 6-1. Ken Purcell also won for the Eagles with a 6-0, 6-0 victory over the Brunswick number six player.

Over the season the Eagles downed Armstrong twice, Georgia State, Emory, and Brunswick once each, while losing to Emory, South Carolina, Western Kentucky, Appalachian State, VPI and Columbus each once.

An interesting point that stands out when looking at the season's results: eight out of 11 matches were 9-0 shutouts. Four matches the Eagles won 9-0 and four they lost by the same score.

The Southern team will continue to practice, preparing for the district tourney coming up later this month in Valdosta.

INSIGHTS

By TIM O'LEARY
Assistant Sports Editor

Some people have approached me and asked why a particular player on our team happens to be hitting so well. I tell them that all of the credit goes to the player's ability, his innate ability to hit the ball well. Actually, though, this is not the whole story. It's not even half of it. To tell the truth, almost all of the players on the team would not be batting above .250 if it were not for the opposing pitcher. When that "cherry chucker" goes out there to face us, he has practically got us out already. We only have a 30 percent chance of getting a base hit because for the most part, the highest a hitter will hit on our team is about .300. With this being the case, our chance of getting a hit is about 15 percent less. Therefore, the opposing thrower has a very definite psychological advantage over our swingers.

When the hurler does go out there to throw he is not smart, not adept at picking up a batter's weaknesses, and too consistent in the type of pitches he uses. If he were observant, our record would be 13-21 instead of the other way around, and I'm being generous. Whenever I pitch, I make it a point to know the situations with which I am working. Strict attention is paid to the stance and type of swing a batter uses. Also, it is noticed how shallow or deep he stands in the batter's box and how far from the plate he may be. It is important to know his weaknesses immediately, or you will not last four innings; you will not win.

Jimmy rields cannot hit the outside fastball. He hates to swing at it because he knows he cannot get "good wood" on it. The reason for this is that when he swings, his right foot already stepped toward first base, thus pulling him from the plate. It's nice to have speed to beat out the infield roller, but speed doesn't help very much when you're walking back to the dugout after taking a called third strike.

Mike Long can't hit the high fast ball. His swing is tempered so as only to hit anything just about or below the belt. When he's in a slump, he's the pitchers' most trustworthy ally because he never fails to go after any type of bad pitch. Mike will have to learn to wait for his pitch or he will always remain the very inconsistent hitter he is.

Roddy Michele hits anything fast and he hits it well, anywhere. So we slow curve him or change-up on him away from the plate. As he is always ready for "the heat", slow 'junk' would get him time and time again. However, Roddy is one of the better hitters on the team.

Jimmy Walters hits the curve ball extremely well. He doesn't do a bad job with the fast ball either. His main problem is that he thinks too much when he stands in the batter's box. When he hits the long double down the line, no one can blame him for guessing. When he nubs one too short, it's because he has been fooled. Next to Michele, Jimmie can usually be counted on to get a run across most of the time.

Terry Childers is weak on anything over the outside part of the plate, especially the higher pitches. From time to time, Terry has been known to guess too. He has a problem of trying to hit the ball too hard instead of just trying to meet it. Another weakness is that he sometimes carries a heavy bat; he fails to get around the fast ball. But Terry has been working hard against his weaknesses, and he will soon become the tough hitter that he should be now.

Ronnie Cawthon is one of the strongest hitters on the team. The 155 lb. junior hits the fast ball with unbelievable power. His weakness lies in the outside curve ball. He will chase the pitch out of the strike zone time and again. His anxiousness has cost him base hits, but this does not influence his batting average in the least. He is presently hitting over .300. Ronnie is one of the better hitters in the club.

Anyway, these are our sluggers as I see them. Next week, we'll take a look at the comical side of baseball — the GSC pitching staff.
