Merry Christmas-

Soccer Tournament

Much enthusiasm was displayed on the occasion of the thrilling games of the soccer tournament. These games were interclass combats for soccer championship. Thus far three good games have been witnessed by a large percent of the students and faculty, also some visitors.

The opening game for the season was the High School-Freshman game. Though the Freshmen won the game 3-0, the High School showed their true sportsmanship by yells and conduct.

The High School-Sophomore game played Monday afternoon was another thrilling game. Both teams fought a good fight to the end which gave the score 3-1 in the Sophomores favor.

The Sophomore-Freshman game played Tuesday afternoon still holds the climax in suspense. Both teams responded to the hearty yells but neither scored. We wait anxiously to break the tie.

The Christmas season brings to us a sense of intimacy with mankind, a sort of sacred feeling that something is happening which tends to unite the world into one loving brotherhood. To one who is himself in tune with the meaning of Christmas, who gives reverent thought to its significance, the Yuletide season comes as a silent reminder that "Peace" and "Good Will" are in the divine plan of things.

We hope that every student at S. G. T. C. can be the cause of joy to a host of people during the holidays. Let radiant happiness be your constant meed at home, on the street, everywhere. Always have a "Merry Christmas" for everybody. If you have the real Christmas attitude of unselfishness and spirit of service, a thousand chances will come for you to translate the attitude and spirit into kind and gracious acts.

We also hope that in addition to making others happy you may have personal happiness. Gifts from friends may add to one's joys, but the assurance that one has friends is a deeper source of joy than mere physical gifts from such friends. May the Christmas season bring you renewed faith in yourselves, in your friends, and in the way of life taught by that quiet Galilean Teacher whose birthday we are celebrating.

Mr. Singley: Marr, how are you coming with your parallel readings
Marr: I haven't got started yet
Mr. Singley.
Mr. Singley: Your self-starter must be broke, somebody'll have to crank you.
Marr: No, I've been rushed too much.

Dramatic Club Officers

The Officers of the Dramatic Club, for the winter term, are as follows:

President	Mary Swain
V. President	Eugene Kinney
Secretary	Kathleen Harmon
Treasurer	Josie Hutchinson

The members of the Dramatic Club include the private expression pupils and also the public school expression class. Several one act plays are to be given in the future.

Student Volunteer Social

In the "Y" tea-room on Monday night between ten and eleven o'clock a student Volunteer social was held. Besides the members, Miss Stubbs was a guest at this delightful affair. Among the numbers that added much to the evening's enjoyment were:

Jokes--Ethel Lee.

Discussion of Christmas tree
--Lois Burke

Reading--Miss Simpson.

The leader then served hot chocolate and crackers.

Christmas Carols

One of the sweetest and most effective events of the Christmas season was the beautiful singing of a double quartet of Y. W. C. A. girls and sponsor early Sunday morning. It came as a surprise to the sleepers when the carolers were heard in a distance, and as they slowly passed through the dormitories bringing "Joy to the World". They left the campus and went to town spreading the "Glad tidings".

This is to become a beautiful annual custom of the Y. W. C. A. at Christmas time and will be deeply appreciated by all.

The carolers were Miss Simpson, Florence Brinson, Sarah K. Cone, Addie B. Parker, Edna Blount, Ruth Edenfield, Kathleen Harmon, and Evelyn Wilsons.

Man's existence is hardly more than the fragment of a second in the life of the earth.
