BACCALAUREATE SERMONS

The baccalaureate sermon for the graduating class is to be conducted Sunday by Dr. Fred Turner of Jacksonville Florida. Miss Lucy Gage of George Peabody College for Teachers is to deliver the baccalaureate address Monday night at the graduating exercises. We feel fortunate indeed in having these capable speakers to deliver the addresses.

FAREWELL

The end of the school year of 1929-30 has come, and as we look back over the year we cannot help but realize that always we did not do our duty; nevertheless it is with a touch of sadness that we lay down our duties as editors of the official publication of South Georgia Teachers College. Our wish for next year is that the George-Anne staff might have the best of success in building up the paper in appearance and subject matter and that in the near future the school will have a printed paper.

PAY NOW!

Have you paid for your annual? Does the name "Reflector" mirror all dues paid on your part? Are you cooperating with the editors of our publication? In short--are you showing the ~~xxix~~ spirit by paying your part?

BOARD MEMBERS VISIT S. G. T. C.

We all were delighted to have the Board of Trustees spend the day with us on the campus Wednesday. We were glad to meet and learn personally these prominent men who are doing so much for us and are hoping they will delight us with other continuous visits.

Coming To The End Of A Year.

By Mr. Wells

We are entering our test week of the school year. It is sad to some of us, because we have enjoyed the work so much. It should be sadder to others who have wasted in much time.

The year as a whole has been a good one. The enrollement has been unusual the largest in our history. The spirit of the students body has been the very best.

Our teachers have worked loyally for the best interest of the College. The trustees have at all times given us their individual support. The parents have expressed confidence in our ability to do a good job of work. But most of all the students have been loyal to each other and to the institution.

The students believe we have the best College in the world. They are happy in their belief and want others to come here and find what they enjoy.

At the close of the year as President of the College I wish to express my appreciation to all who have worked so hard to make the year so pleasant. I hope each and every one an enjoyable vacation.

To those who are graduating I wish next year to be but the entrance to a year of splendid service. To those who are returning I hope next year will prove the best ever.

WHAT A RELIEF?

The printers of the George Anne come forward with this edition. We have been given a duty to perform which we have carried out successfully or not successfully. You dear reader; shall be the judge to our last statement.

We have enjoyed working with our fellow staff mates and hope that we have not been a draw back to them.

We believe that you will find this edition to be in better condition than the one just before, as the printers feel much better at the time of this printing.

Yours for a bigger and better George Anne.

As the time for commencement draws near, we wonder how many students will return to S. G. T. C. next fall and how many will be interested in showing prospective students the advantages which are offered here. If one will weigh carefully the points in favor of, and those against, returning to South Georgia Teachers College, he will find that all the argument is on the affirmative side. We are listing below a few of the many points in the affirmative.

The first to be taken in consideration is the expense. Any one who has looked into the costs of other colleges knows that he cannot get the same training at anything like the same cost as that at S. G. T. C.

Having already done work here, thereby having built up acquaintances in Statesboro, among the student body, and among the faculty, one may enter upon his work next year with some valuable assets which he would not have should he enter another college. There is also the disagreeable task of transferring and evaluating credits which, in most cases, results in a loss to the student.

During the vacation just ahead you will meet many of your friends who will ask: "How do you like South Georgia Teachers College?" Thereby you will be given an opportunity to explain why you have enjoyed being at Collegeboro, and why you are coming back next fall. A school gets its reputation probably more through its students' opinion of it than from any other source, hence, our good reputation over the State.

A STUDY OF COMMON ERRORS IN ENGLISH MADE BY STUDENTS OF S. G. T. C.

The need for a training in English that will not only lead the student to an appreciation of the artistic aspects of the language, but also fit him to meet the social and business situations of life, is not generally recognized.

The power to talk well is a great advantage in every business, and in many cases it is an imperative necessity. Whatever occupation you take up, your chances of success will be greatly increased by ability to talk well.

The school curriculum is the latest great social agency to feel the effect of the theory of evolution. The forms of institutions are determined by the attempts of man to make his environment minister to his needs. While revolutionary changes have been under way the theory of the formation of the Curriculum builder has felt that the specialists who organized the subjects to meet the needs of their groups have developed the best possible curriculum.

A project was conducted by a group of twelve students in the Curriculum Construction class over a period of two days in order to find the common errors of speech of the student body of South Georgia Teachers College. The student body is composed of 375 boys and girls. This project was furthered by a group of three over a period of days. They also made a study of the written work of some of the Freshmen in their history outlines and English exercise books. It was found that the common errors of written work was the same as the oral errors.

The following is a compilation of the most frequent errors found in this study

STUDENTS ENJOY OUTING IN SAVANNAH

Early Monday morning the senior and Normal graduating classes of S. G. T. C. were all astir in preparation for departing for a day of educational outing in Savannah. Cars were furnished by students and teachers of the College and by patrons of the school in Statesboro. The tour over Savannah was sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce of Savannah, which was headed by Mr. Richards, Manager of the Richard's Business College.

Those making the trip assembled on the veranda of the De Soto Hotel at 10:30. Here we were given note pads and pencils. In one room of the hotel we were welcomed by the Mayor of Midget Savannah, and each girl was presented with an attractive bouquet by the chairman of the Midget's Chamber of Commerce.

From the DeSoto Hotel we marched to the City Hall, where we were favored with an excellent address by Mayor Saussey. We marched from here to The Telfair Academy of Arts and Sciences. It was very constructive, entertaining and educative to observe these great paintings, sculptures, and Colonial Kitchens.

On leaving the Art gallery we went out about seven miles to the sugar refinery, where a very delicious and appetizing dinner was waiting for us. After this enjoyable repast we were given guides who carried us through the massive sugar refinery. The guide carefully showed and explained to us how the raw sugar product of Cuba was made into our white refined sugar.

Very hot and greatly delighted over our visit through the sugar plant, we left for a very pleasant examination of the S. S. Atlanta City. We went all through the ship, stopping long enough in the dining hall to be introduced to the manager of the ship and to drink a delicious quaff of coca cola.

As the steamer had to leave for New York at 6:00 o'clock we had to leave. From here we drove out Victor Drive to the Bohauenture Cemetery, and on returning to Savannah we were the guests of the Lucas Theater. The picture "Those High Society Blues" was highly entertaining and amusing.

After the show we again assembled at the De Soto Hotel. At this

BOYS HAVE CHARGE OF VESPERS PROGRAM

The T. C. boys had charge of Vespers Sunday night May 18. Their program was very effective. The members were:

Song by choir-"Will There Be Any Stars in My Crown."

Devotional-Hubert Dewberry

Song by Choir-"True-Hearted, Whole-Hearted."

The Part that Students should take in Vesper-Walton Usher.

Vocal Solo-Harry Davis

The Things our College Stands For-Waldo Pafford.

Quartet-"Day is Dying in the West."

The Need of a Y. M. C. A. on the Campus-Ralph Henderson.

Piano Solo-Daniel Young

The Value of a Y. M. C. A. to a College-Hubert Dewberry.

Song-Audience-"Abide With Me."

The boys show their deep interest in this christian organization and we hope by the fall term they will succeed in their plan for the organization of a Y. M. C. A. A desire for the organization is the necessary element. We feel that they have caught the spirit.

STUDENTS FROM DODGE COUNTY ENTERTAINED

Among the distinguished Board Members on the campus Wednesday, were Mr. W. C. Rozar, C. S. S. of Dodge County, Eastman, Georgia.

Mr and Mrs. Rozar entertained the students from Dodge County with a drug store party, Wednesday P. M. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Rozar, W. C. Rozar, Jr., Waldo Pafford, Grace Hinson, Louise Bollinger, Mrs. Alvin Hardin, Joe Eubanks, Lillian Eubanks, and E. M. Horne. Mr. Rozar has done much for the progress of S. G. T. C. He is a man of high esteem and a great worker in the field of education.

~~TIME XXXXXXXX~~

we went up to Savannah's Radio broadcasting office of Station W. T. O. C. Then we went on the roof and got a birdseye view of Savannah. After descending from the roof we were led to the De Soto Hotel Swimming pool, which the manager turned over to us. A great number of the students thoroughly enjoyed a swim in this pool. After the swim every one reported to his respective chauffeur and all started back to school greatly elated and highly appreciative of the days trip.

A Study of Common Errors in English Made by Students of S. G. T. C.

We find from this project that these rules should be stressed in the English course for the freshmen of South Georgia Teachers College, since they were not instilled in their habits of speech during their grammar and high school training. The application and actual use of these rules will improve the standards and cultural life of the student of the college.

Rule 1. The past participle of verbs should always be used with an auxiliary verb when used as a verb.

The third part in the principle parts of verbs should be learned.

Conjugation of verbs.

Errors-I seen, I drunk, we began be taken, it shrunk.

2. Avoid the use of double negatives.

Errors-can't hardly, can't never didn't do nothing, ain't got none.

3. Use adverbs to modify verbs

Errors-sure did, come here quick, she walks soft, he sits erect, he did that good.

4. Avoid slang expressions which are not in good usage.

Errors-sho is, sho tis, naw, gw gwan, rex, uh-huh/

5. Avoid the use of profanity.

6. A verb and its subject should always agree in number and person.

Conjugation of verb to be.

Errors-they was, we is, girls is.

7. All forms of verb to be are followed by the nominative case except the infinitive.

Errors- it is him-me-she-them.

8. Avoid wrong use of contractions.

Errors-'tweren't, 'tisin't, hain't 'taint.

9. Avoid use of omnibus words.

Errors-nice, lots, awful.

The cause of the common speech errors of the student body is due probably to improper teaching or lack of drill in the grammar and high school training.

The elimination of common speech errors is begun in fourth grade. The correct use of seen, drunk, begin, taken and drunk is

SPRING TERM STUDENTS
ENJOYS PICNIC

The Spring Term students had a very enjoyable picnic Friday afternoon. Several students outside the spring term students were invited. They left the campus properly chaperoned by Miss Simpson, and strolled down to a very attractive place on the edge of the campus among the pines. Because of rain they were compelled to return to the art room. There a short impromptu program was rendered.

"Experiences of the first day of teaching school", by Mr. Harvely. "How to make Hash", by Lester Newton. "Her first date", by Ann Lewis. "My first impression of S. G. T. C.", by Mary Jones. "How I managed to get to breakfast on time", Aubry Wells. A reading was given by Louise Bellinger.

After this every one was served a nicely prepared plate and punch. After supper they enjoyed music, and Coach Smith furnished many jokes and laughs throughout the evening.

SOPHOMORES BEAT FACULTY

The Sophomore-Faculty baseball game played on the campus court was without doubt one of the most interesting games of this season. The lady faculty members put up a surprisingly brave fight. Almost the entire student body was spectator to the game. The score was just 11 to 32 in favor of the Sophomores.

Taught is this grade.

This study shows that there was either something wrong with the curriculum used or a lack of application of the rules learned in these grades.

If the common speech errors are not eliminated in the elementary grades, the high school should stress this correction of errors. If the high school does not then there should be in the curriculum for the freshmen in college, a course for this purpose.
