College Students Attend Conference

The delegation from S. G. T. C. to the B. S. U. Conference in Atlanta last week, returned to the college with a new desire to try to make our college the very best by living each day the best lives possible. Each Program was deeply inspirational.

Among the activities suggested at the Conference we are proud of already having a good many of them. It is hoped that each student on the campus will do his part in carrying on the work of the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A., the Missionary Inquiry Group, and the Morning Watch.

The speeches made at the conference seemed to strike the key note of our situation. Dr. Lake and Dr. Laarel were very inspiring in discussing their great missionary work.

Those attending the Conference were: Francis Parker, Francis Coleman, Constance Cone, Bonnie Lou Aycock, Beulah Davis, Ralph Daniel, Dora Smith, Dora King, Mr. and Mrs. Peebles, and Miss Veazy.

We regret very much to hear of the death of Miss Michael's mother. Miss Michael has been away for some time but we are very glad that she is back with us again.

Brannen-Donaldson

A marriage of interest was that of Miss Lucy Mae Brannen and Mr. Robert Donaldson at 10:30 o'clock Tuesday morning. The ceremony was performed at the home of the brides parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Brannen, on Zetterower Avenue. Rev. J. D. Peebles, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiated.

The couple left at noon for New York, where they spent their honeymoon.

"When did Milton write Paradise Regained?"
"When he got his divorce".

Realty

I stood on a crowded corner
Where thousands of men went by,
I saw in a thousand faces
Souls that were withered and dry;
But I followed the throng with the Gayest
Whithersoever they led Until my soul was drunk with their madness
And my ideals were sodden and dead
Broken, I sought other shelter,
Where the hills lived patient and strong;
Where the moon hung low in the Heave
And the birds were merry with song
Where the peace of a sylvan quietness
And the gleam of the evening star
Filled my heart with wonder and beau
With a message of "things as they

College Spirit

"College Spirit" is perhaps the most over-worked phrase we hear. Whenever we hear it we think of standing on the sidelines and cheering until we become hoarse. Is this the true meaning of "College Spirit"? Do you not think it also means being and doing the things which are beneficial in every way to our school? A person who does his duty by his fellow student, is fair and just in his work and play, who can be teamed a true and good sport, has the real college spirit.

Both teams seemed inspired to win, which made it an interesting game despite the chilly breezes that swept over the local gridiron.

Bird paved the way for the "Blue Tide" touchdown in the first quarter by a brilliant end run and by catching a pass from Beasley which brought the ball to Peidmont's four yard line. The Peidmont line held firm until the fourth down when Beasley crashed through for the touchdown that won the game.

This game uncovered a new ball carrier who will cut plenty of capers before the season is over. The hefty Jack Thompson sliced through the Peidmont line many times for substantial gains. He also distinguished himself by his hard and accurate tackling.

Coach Smith's team was a much improved aggregation since the defeat by Cochran two weeks ago. Their superiority over Peidmont portrayed itself in many facts of the game.

Starns, Gile, and Reikman were to be found on all corners of the field tackling and blocking with a will and determination that caused great unrest in the "Blue Tide" and stand. Starns carried the ball over for Peidmont in the last quarter on one of his terrific line plunges.

Fields, with his murderous tackling, and the general line play of Brannen, Donaldson, and Thrift provided a feature of "Blue Tides" fine performance before an enthusiastic army of "Blue Tide" rooters.

Literary Societies

Have you ever asked yourself the question, "Of what practical good is a literary society to me?". It is very valuable to a person to be able to express himself well and to be able to pass his ideas and opinions on to others through public speaking. Literary societies provide this kind of training. Interesting programs are presented in which current events, debates, and good musical numbers hold a place. As there are two fine societies on the campus, there is no reason why every student should not be a member and benefit thereby.

Sophomore Soccer team defeats the Junior and Senior team 1-0.

Last Friday afternoon the two soccer teams met on the football field and played a close game. The game was played mostly in the center of the field. The Junior-Senior team carried the ball down to their goal and came very near scoring, but due to the goal keepers' swiftness they were checked. The Sophomores made several attempts to send the ball through the goal but they succeeded only once, thus defeating the Junior-Senior team by one point.

The Lowly Freshman

Lo! the lowly Freshman!
He meekly wanders in;
Bewilderment in his mein,
And shyness in his grin,

He nervously adjusts his tie;
He blushes loud and long;
He shrugs his shoulder, clears his throat,
And thus begins his song:

"Bring on your collegians,
Your co-eds in legions,
Your Prexies, your profs and your grinds,
Your Phi Bets with glasses.
Your hard-drinking masses.
Your cynical Mencken-like minds.

"Bring on your keen dancers,
Your class-room romancers,
Your tough little babies that Smoke;
Your big football heroes
That alway get zeroes.
Your soph-mores that always are broke.

"Let's see some thrill-givers.
Some wise-cracking flivvers,
Some hip-flasks or cocktails or gin,
Some bluffers and stringers,
Some hot-party-flingers.
I'm here for the show. Let's begin!"

Oh, who will disillusion him,
The Freshman, shy and meek?
Who can tell him where to find
The thrills he's come to seek?

"Not I", the pretty co-ed said,
The college man--"Not I".
Oh, who will disillusion him,
The Freshman, meek and shy?

The Orchestra has delightfully intertained the students and faculty several mornings in chapel.

Those going home for the week and were: Lincie Dee Powell, Emily
Moye, Mamie Riner, Imogene Waters,
Evelyn Zetterower, Mildred Everett,
Mildred Newton, Almerita Lindsey,
Ruth Mallard, George Wingard, Nina
Peel, Martha Martin, Grace Hodges,
Orita Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Davis of Brook-let, were visitors on the campus
Sunday.

Margaret Witherspoon and Jane Watson spent last week end with Mildred Everett in Savannah.

Madge Temples, Annie Ruth Moore, and Stella Vanlandingham were the guests of Almerita Lindsey last week end.

Earlie Love spent Sunday at the home of Mr. L. E. Lindsey.

Josie Mae Clark was the visitor of Edith Rosier in Statesboro
last week end.

Kathryn Lovett and Katherine Brett spent last week end with Mae Cumming in Statesboro.

Reta Lee was the guest of Hazel
Deal last week end.

Misses Ellis Oglesbie and Ruby
Dixon spent last week end with Lorina Barnhill at Stilson.

Kathryn Enecks spent last week end in Reidsville.

Miss Essie Mae Davis was a visitor on the campus Sunday.

Waiter: Are you Hungary?
Broker: Yes, Siam.
Waiter: Den Russia to the table and I'll Fiji.
Broker: All right, Sweeden my coffee and Denmark my bill.

H. H. Olliff: May I hold your hand?
Francis Parker: It isn't very heavy--I can manage; thank you.

I met a girl in a revolving door and now we go around together!
That's nothing. I got engaged to a girl with a wooden leg and broke it off.

"Want a ride girlie?"
"Going South?"
"Sure thing".
"Well, give my regards to Byrd".

Prof: Listen here, Freshman--are you teaching this class, or am I?
Durb: I'm not.
Prof: Well, then, don't talk like an idiot.

Math Club

The regular meeting of the Math Club was held Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. This was the Social Meeting of the quarter. They were delightfully entertained with a candy-pulling at Miss Perry's home. Two Mathematical Contests were given that were solved by the members of the club. All of the members were present.

H. E. Club

The Happy Eight Club held its first meeting Monday night, and elected the following officers:

President	Mildred Bird.
Sec & Treas.	Mary Clark.
News Repoter	Lorena Barnhill.
Social Comt.	Ellis Oglesbie
	Nora Zetterower.
Sponsors.	Mr. and Mrs. Smith.

The Collegians

"The Collegians" are making wonderful progress for the time that they have been organized. They hope to be in fine shape for the Thanksgiving Football Dance at the New Armory.

They appreciate the backing and cooperation given them by Mr. Wells and the student body and hope to give many interesting programs during the year.

St. Mamie's Infirmary Enlarged

Since we have had St. Mamie's Infirmary in the girls' dormitory, so many girls have been sick that the small room devoted to the Infirmary has proved to be inadequate. Can it be true that an epidemic of colds, etc, is upon us, or do the girls really enjoy the time spent in the infirmary? At any rate, the Infirmary has been moved into a larger room, so as to take care of the patients who enjoy a good rest with breakfast served in bed.

Literary Society Debate

We are all very much interested in the debate between the Oglethorpe and Stephens Literary Societies. Quite a bit of preparation has been made on the debates.

Joe F: I can't give you anything but love.

Constance C: Well, hurry up, let's have it.

Minstrel coming soon

Rehearsals began Wednesday for the Dixie Blackbird Minstrel, which will be presented Friday, Nov. 14.

Bob Riner, better known in the radio and show world as "Old Man Bob", is the director.

The Dixie Blackbirds have made a big hit wherever they have shown, and we feel sure that we have quite a treat in store. In addition to the regular interlocutor and end men's dialogue, and solos and chorus singing and dancing, the show includes a "dark triangle" court scene, a negro sermon and wedding, and a "now and then" scene. The cast will be announced later.

President Speaks

President Wells will speak at Wrens, Stapleton, and Avera on Thursday, Nov. 13. The subject of these talks will be "Beautification".

G. E. A. Meets at Waycross

The Regional Meeting of the Georgia Education Association will meet in Waycross, Georgia, Nov. 11. Our school will be represented by eight faculty members. President Wells, who is vice-president of the association, will preside.

Girls, when they went out to swim
Once dressed like Mother Hubbard;
Now they have a bolder whim,
They dress more like her cupboard.

Pave: Why did you swear in the presence of that lady?

Ment: My tongue got wrapped around my eye tooth, and I couldn't see what I was saying.

Grandma (to flapper): You girls nowadays are so useless; I'll bet you don't even know what sewing means!"

Flapper: Why Gran'ma, how silly, of course I do. That has something to do with wild oats.

Dean (addressing a lazy student): Have you been up before me since the beginning of this term?

Student: I don't know, sir. What time do you get up?
