CONSIDER OUR FUTURE

*God's children were given the rare, virgin earth,
In glorious splendor from its moment of birth.
Given to us to cultivate and treasure,
In His judgement of our true measure.*

*He trusted His people to guard and protect,
To watch over His gift without neglect.
To be guardians of the land and sea
And pass the torch through history.*

*Yet around the world spirits do soar,
And quiet whispers become the hopeful roar.
That the land will repair, flourish and bloom
And save itself from untimely doom.*

*Modern people understand conservation,
Educating and guiding to help every nation.
To repair the damage before it's too late
And this land is condemned to an ungodly fate.*

*We must continue to sweat and toil,
To grow the trees, revitalize the soil.
If life can be handed down to each one
This task must be carried forth and done.*

Consider our future . . . Consider it well.
