Peder Lunde Will Enter Regatta

Pedar Lunde, a 1960 Olympic gold-medal winner and a Georgia Southern College exchange student from Oslo, Norway, studying under a Rotary scholarship, will enter the 1962 International Sailing Regatta, Flying Dutchman World Championship, in St. Petersburg, Florida. The meet will run from March 2 through the 10th.

Lunde, who holds an Olympic gold medal and the Canadian Sailing Championship, was chosen to represent Norway in this 25-nation championship race.

While at Georgia Southern, Lunde has taken interest in many of the clubs on campus, i.e., French, German, and Business clubs. He has had many opportunities to speak to Georgia civic clubs and high schools. He has lectured to various sailing clubs, presenting demonstrations and showing slides of his many sailing experiences.

In discussing his travels through representing Norway in sailing contests, Pedar says, "the experience of meeting competitors from other countries is very interesting."

With no previous experience, Pedar has become a member of the Georgia Southern Gymnastics Team. According to Mr. Pat Yearger, coach, "If I could have Lunde for another year, he would place first in the National AAU 'long horse vaulting' position. He has the natural gift of strength accompanied by determination and discipline, which every gymnast must have," says Yeager. Pedar took first place in the long horse Georgia Southern in the National AAU Championship Invitational Meet in Florida.

When the Eagles met the University of Georgia, Pedar took first place in the long-horse vaulting and tied for first place honors in free calisthenics. "He is also a great tumbler," says Yeager, "he has placed second in this feat in most of the meets of the Eagles."

Of Georgia Southern College, Pedar says, "I like it very much!" He finds the American and Norwegian customs very similar. But the climate and Georgia landscape are completely new to him. One thing Pedar likes is "being able to speak to various clubs and high schools; this has been a very interesting avocation for me," says Pedar.

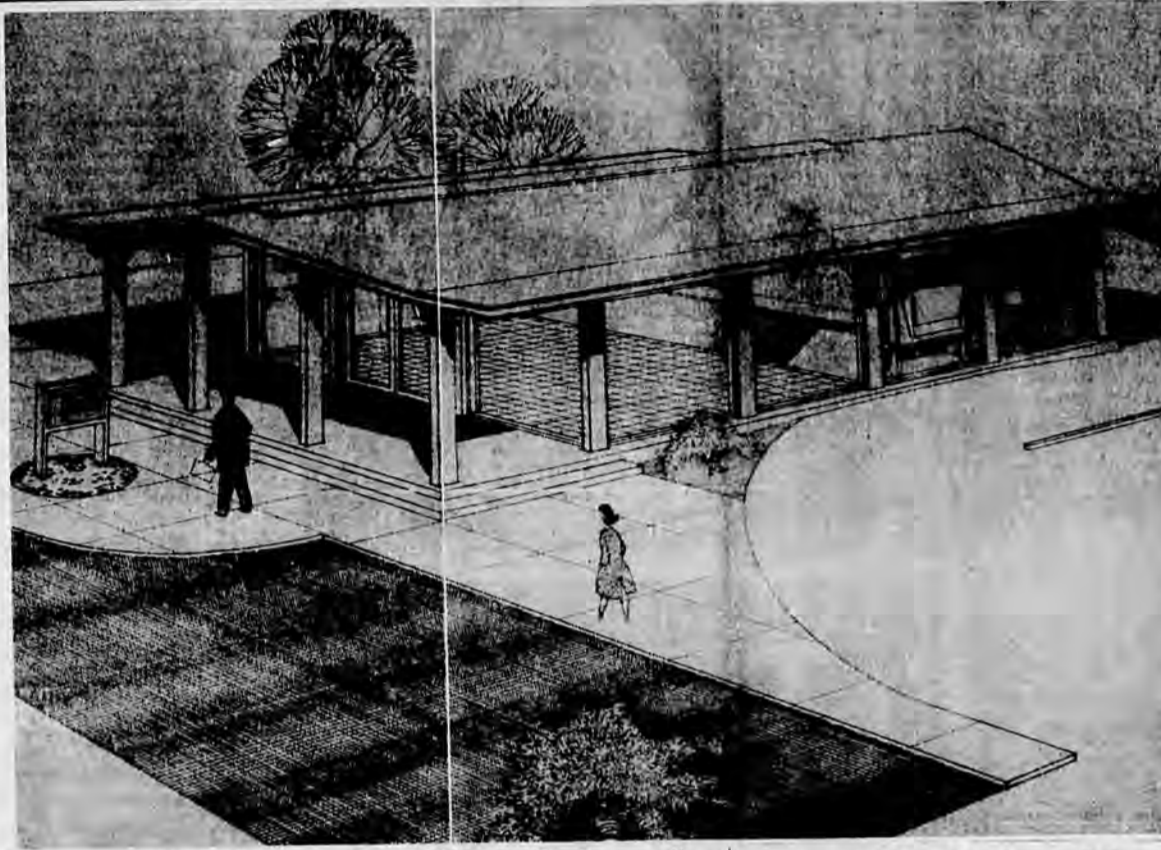

So with his travels and holding a gymnastics position, and his academic responsibilities, Pedar lives quite a busy life. About American girls, Pedar quickly grins, "they are all very nice."

Tea House of August Moon To Be Presented March 1-2

Mrs. Benard Morris today announced the cast for the forthcoming production of John Patrick's "Tea House of the August Moon." This play was a rowing success on Broadway several seasons ago, and has enjoyed much success in local theaters, community theaters, colleges and even the movies since then. However, it is quite a production for a High School group.

It is the story of our occupation troops in Okinawa, immediately following World War II. Captain Fisby, the man assigned to the task of spreading democracy to the village of Tobiki is played by Bill Lovett, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Lovett. Bill was last seen as Genesis in "Seventeen."

The part of Sakini will be played by Johnny Johnson, who has become known to the supporters of the Statesboro High Speech Productions as Willie, for his outstanding role in "Seventeen." He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Brantley Johnson. He plays in this play the part of the interpreter who is sent along with Captain Fisby.

Colonel Purdy, the not-too-efficient Colonel who is in charge of the whole operation is played by Bill Rice. Bill is a freshman who was seen in the role of Mr. Parson in "Seventeen." He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herb Bice. Sgt. Gregovitch, his assistant (or aide) is played by Bill Smith, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Smith, Jr., and was also seen in "Seventeen."

The character, who is sent to analyze Capt. Fisby, and has become very attached to the life and ways of Tobiki is played by John Wallace, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wallace. John was one of the boys in "Seventeen" who fell to Loh's charms.

Supporting roles will be played by Phil Hodges, Jimmy Redding, Don Lanier, Al Braswell, Bobby Durden, Jimmy Hendrix, Hal Burke, Terry Nessmith, Bob Smith, Johnny Godbee, David Minkovitz and Steve Groover. The girls in this play do not have the leading roles, as the story is primarily concerned with our occupation troops, but Donna Minkovitz who is Lotus Blossom is concerned enough with Captain Fisby to cause trouble in the village. This is to be straightened out by Miss High Jinx who is played by Paula Franklin. The Ladies League for Democratic Action consists of Kathy Murphy, Judy Rimes, Carol Hodges, India Blitch, Alice Paul, Cynthia Johnson, Janina Clements, Barbara Bachman, Fay Foy Smith, Marcie Shealey, Patricia Thigpen, Toy Vene Mikell, Sharon Stubbs, Sandra Hagan, Frances Smith, Cynthia Williams, Helen Waters, and Sue Dixon. The part of the "Old Lady" will be played by Martha Lamb, and her daughter by Gale Nessmith.

For the first time students are in charge of the various aspects of the play. Seniors who took part in the Region Contest Play will act in that capacity. Mahaley Tankersley has been named Student Director; Cheryl Whitechel, Production Manager (Publicity, tickets, programs); Bobby Pound, Technical Director; Jean and Beth Nessmith, House Managers and Ushers and music.

Tickets will be on sale by members of the cast, or can be purchased at THE MUSIC BOX.

Eagles Meet Oglethorpe Saturday

The Georgia Southern Eagles will be playing only one game at home this week, and it should be a real tough fight. The Eagles will host the fighting Oglethorpe University squad this Saturday, February 3rd.

In their last meeting Oglethorpe came out on top in a game that saw the teams fight through two overtime periods with the final score 77-67. That game was played on Oglethorpe's home floor in Atlanta.

Fran Florian, Eagles top scorer with 388 points and a 21.5 game average, was high scorer for the Eagles and Jay Rowland scored 23 for the Potrels in their last game.

The Eagles then hit the road for their first game this year with Belmont Abbey in Gastonia, N. C.

In the Eagles game with Rollins College, the final score was 106-63 instead of 104 as originally thought. The scoreboard failed to register the last two points of the game.

There will be a preliminary game between Telfair County High School and Portia High. Telfair is one of the leading B conference teams in the state. Tip-off time for the preliminary is 7:00 p.m. and the GSC-Oglethorpe game will start at 8:30 p.m.

Good Response Shown

Within recent days, through the mails and in person, friends of the TIMES have said "Keep the paper coming" as they have paid their subscriptions for the new year. Many have been renewals, some new subscribers but all have expressed their appreciation as they demonstrated that friendship in the finest way we know — by paying up.

Like other small things, it's often easy to put off such things as subscriptions. With good intentions, a reader will promise himself that he will take care of it the first time he gets around our way. But there are always loyal and faithful friends who can be counted on to take care of the little details to and who do not "put it off."

The TIMES has a good readership and more and more of our friends are getting in the habit of attending to this all important item when it is due. If you are among those who need to join this group — won't you do it today and like so many others give us the word to "keep it going your way."

THE BULLOCH TIMES

There Ought to be a Law

Improperly placed shrubbery on private property near street corners and intersections often present real and dangerous traffic hazards. Many such places exist along busy streets in Statesboro. Moving into heavy traffic from a side street on U. S. 301 can present enough of a problem itself and when this is aggravated by the presence of shrubbery placed at or near a street corner in such a manner that good vision is seriously curtailed then it becomes a hazard that needs to be remedied.

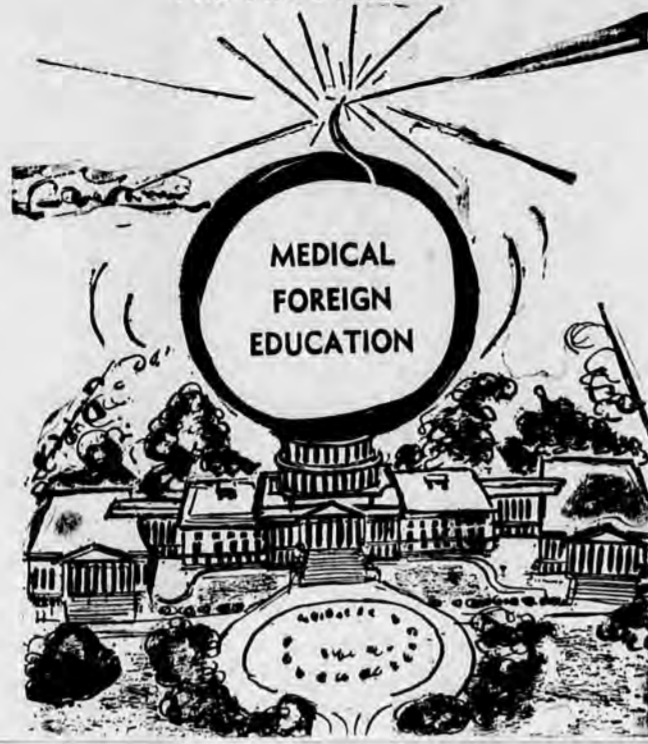

Cultural Things

One of the best measuring devices for a community's cultural attainment perhaps would be the measure of appreciation that it's people have for the fine arts - music, art, literature, the theatre and the like. Statesboro and Bulloch County citizens have invariable and frequent opportunities to develop these appreciations as compared with many communities of comparable size.

Vacations and the Tourist

The first reports on the apparent success of the new Tourist Welcome Station on U. S. 301 in Screven county comes as good news. According to a recent release approximately four hundred tourist parties have stopped at the new facility to ask for information on where to spend vacation time in Georgia.

The Aid Problems

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 1 Read John 4:6-10. "The hour is coming, and now is, when the true worshipers will worship the Father in spirit and truth, for such the Father seeks to worship him." (John 4:23, RSV.)

PRAYER: Our Father, teach us that true worship is not achieved merely by gazing at our beautiful church structures or admiring the splendid equipment which surround them. Grant us contrite hearts and humbleness of mind that we may worship Thee in spirit and in truth through Christ our Lord. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY The church is the fountain from which we drink the living water. - Myrtle Smith (Minnesota)

Philosopher Of Ailments Anonymous A fascinating peculiarity about people is their imagination pertaining to illness and how far the imagination goes in producing disability. In any group of ten people, you will find four whose physical condition depends on either the weather or how someone else feels. Cures are effected the same way. A poor doctor is a poor actor and a good doctor would make a good leading man in any stage play.

This Is Civil Defense by MAX LOCKWOOD by Some Basic Facts The probable effects of nuclear attack and the human and relative value of certain protective measures are complex subjects. There is no attempt here to discuss them in great detail, but to present information that might be helpful in understanding the relative value of certain protective measures. EFFECTS OF A NUCLEAR BURST. A five megaton nuclear burst at ground level would destroy most buildings two miles from the point of the explosion. Steel-framed buildings would be knocked side-ways and great fires started.

because God had treated him badly. He was poverty stricken; poor as Job's turkey, which creeps in so fast he did not have a shadow; His children were dead. So, bereft of everything, he sat on the garbage pile, and felt sorry for himself.

This trash pile was often a big affair, because all the refuse was thrown upon it year in and year out. There were no kindly garbage collectors in those days. It is from these piles that archeologists today often get their facts about our ancestors. In this respect had housekeeping paid off.

So Job lay on the trash mound, and he moaned his fate. No wonder he was covered with sores. Think of the crawling, creeping things that lived in that filth! Fleas, ants, worms, and roaches! Dogs nosing around for bones! Talk of germs! And he scratched himself with shreds from the broken pots.

His wife, poor thing, must have been sickened with his loathsome appearance. She was so shocked she told him to curse God and die. We sometimes find fault with the hard-hearted woman, but she had no choice. She was as poor as he was; the children were hers, too. His friends found fault with him, and ruffed his temper!

When he was man enough to get up from the dump pile; when he stood erect and faced life as a man; when he was no longer a beggar; when he could throw back his shoulders, look up at the heavens and not down at the dirt; when he could say those wonderful words, "I know that my Redeemer liveth," then and then only was Job a changed man, a redeemed soul, strong enough to accept life, and all the woes that come to poor humans.

I've Been Thinking... LEHMAN FRANKLIN, JR. For a hundred years scholars have studied the reasons for Europe's diversification - idealist and realist have had a possible union; and intellectuals and writers and their theories pertaining to the golden benefits that could be had if such a union were effected. From the time of the division of Charlemagne's empire, kings, dictators, and governments have

"I Don't Like The Catholic Church BECAUSE..." Ask many non-Catholics to finish this sentence in 25 words or less, and their answers might surprise you. Some of them, no doubt, would attribute their dislike to a doctrinal difference. They might be critical of some or all of the Seven Sacraments accepted by Catholics. Others might not see the Church's ritual and devotions, even the Catholic attitude on social questions.

Thoughts Of An Oldster by MAUDE BRANNEN It's all in the way you take it. An old Bible question was "Who was the most patient man?" The Book of Job is the story of a man of the long ago ages, but he is typical of mankind in this modern age. Human nature has not changed since Adam's day.
