Editorials

He said 'thank you'

He stood there before them briefly and said sincerely and simply, "Thank You."

For ten minutes or more he had been listening to one of the leaders in the community in which he lives and works praise him for the things he does and is doing. Praise known by his friends and neighbors to be deserved.

The members of the Statesboro Junior Chamber of Commerce stood and cheered when J. H. Wyatt of Brooklet presented to them William C. Cromley Jr. who had been named the "Outstanding Young Farmer of 1956," an annual award given by the Statesboro Jaycees.

Based upon his farming record Mr. Cromley was selected to compete in the Georgia Outstanding Young Farmer, the winner of which will compete for the national title.

We commend the Jaycees for their interest in the county's young farmers, for upon them is based the future of our farming economy. Mr. Wyatt expressed it better than we when he too commended them for "sponsoring such a program to improve the relations between the rural and town communities, designed by a group of young men bonded together and dedicated to the promotion of our homes."

With our Master Farm Families, with our Outstanding Young Farmers, there's no wonder at Bulloch's top position in the esteem of this section.

Happy anniversary

In our fresh enthusiasm for the newest member of our industrial community, the Rockwell Statesboro Corporation, and in appreciation of its size, we are prone to forget that here in our community are many other industries. Small though they may be, they add up to a sizable segment of our economy.

Announcement this week is made of the forthcoming eighth anniversary of the Robbins Packing Company established here in 1949. With a 1956 payroll of $149,482.36 and a work force of 50, it can hardly be classified as very small. But the impact of this company is felt heaviest with the knowledge of the approximately $700,000 paid out during the year to producers of livestock in this section. They killed a total of 15,447 hogs and 2,402 cattle in that period. Serving twenty-one counties the company has won recognition for the fine quality of its products.

We commend the officials of the company, Mr. Marion Robbins, Mr. Charlie Robbins and Mr. Lewis "Bo" Hook. May they observe many more and bigger anniversaries after the one coming up on March 17.

That 'hammer-head'

It's what you would expect of Byron Dyer, county agent of Bulloch County for such a long time. So we commend him on his newest achievement in the field of extension service. And to be selected by his fellow workers makes the achievement the more to be desired. The award, including a check for $500, was made by the Citizens and Southern National Banks in Georgia for his work as a county agent here in Bulloch County and Southeast Georgia.

We commend Mr. Dyer—that "ole hammer-head"—upon his most recent award. There'll be others, but for now, we say, as we toss up our beat-up garden hat, "Congratulations."

Up she goes

Our beat-up hat goes into the air this week for the members of the Nevils 4-H Club. They have been named winner of the 4-H Club community corn program in the southeast district.

The club is richer in money by $100, but more important is the fact that these boys and girls are richer in experience of growing corn with better production methods.

Their winning is in true Bulloch County tradition — when something is done in our county, it is always done well. Each member of the Nevils club had to grow at least one acre of corn, agreeing to follow recommendations on the crop made by the Agricultural Extension Service.

And so we toss our hat high into the air this week for the Nevils 4-H Club and its members.

Let's have home rule

Sometime during the present session of the Georgia Legislature three bills effecting Statesboro and Bulloch County will be presented for consideration of the legislators.

One deals with the extension of our city limits, another with the salary of our deputy tax commissioner, and the third with the salary of our solicitor general of Superior Court.

One would think that we could decide these matters of business pertaining only to Statesboro and Bulloch County by ourselves—here at home.

Not so. Under the old laws that exist, cities, towns and counties throughout Georgia are dependent upon the political whims of the legislators.

There are many legislators who favor home rule as provided in the bill which Rep. Charles Gowen of Brunswick introduced last week.

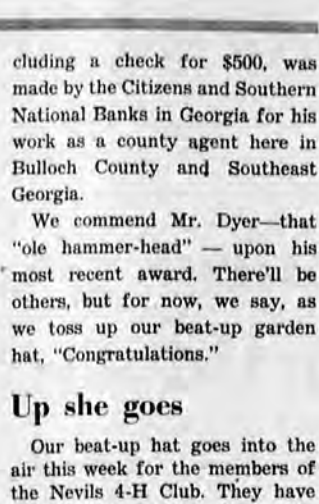

We hope that the current Legislature, by now, will have taken advantage of the opportunity to settle this perennial issue.

Give us home rule and turn to the business of working at matters of statewide importance.

Dr. John Styth Pemberton, native of Knoxville, Georgia, devised the formula for Coca-Cola in Atlanta in 1886. The next year he sold two-thirds of his interest for $1,200. Soon after that he sold his remaining third for $550. Georgia Historical Commission.

LaGrange College, chartered in 1831, is the oldest non-tax supported institution of higher education in Georgia. For many years a school for girls, it became co-educational in 1954. Georgia Historical Commission.

The Editor's Uneasy Chair

Once in a while you meet someone and there's an instant recognition of mutual interests, an unannounced understanding, and upon such a foundation a wonderful relationship is established which withstands the tests of time.

To us such a relationship was established and grew with time with Norman Chalker, late of Sylvania and the past publisher and editor of the Sylvania Telephone.

His sudden death was a deep shock to us. We received the word of his death over the telephone and it left us in a compelling silence.

During the thirteen years he was publisher and editor of the Sylvania Telephone he and we fought on the same side on many editorial battles while surrounded by editorial generals leading the "other side." Sincerely independent, he was editorially honest with a keen sense of fairness to all sides of the local and state issues.

Less than a year ago he left the newspaper field to serve in the business world with the Portland Cement Association where he created the same relationship for which he was gifted and because of which he was loved. But he never really left his first love—the newspaper and newspapermen for he found constant satisfaction and delight in visiting his friends and editorial antagonists.

On Saturday, January 19, he died suddenly in Atlanta. And the Georgia Weekly Press lost one of its really fine and great characters. We will miss him terribly.

Reports From WASHINGTON

THE QUESTION of so-called civil rights vs. constitutional rights is closely tied to six resolutions pending before the Senate Rules Committee.

These measures are aimed at changing the formula in Senate Rule XXII which requires a vote of two-thirds of the Senate membership, or 64 senators, to limit debate. They propose revisions which run the gamut from a majority of all Senators, or a total of 49, to a simple majority of those present and voting. Most attention centers on the Knowland-Johnson "comromise" which would shut off debate upon affirmative vote of two-thirds of the Senators in attendance.

ADVOCATES of civil rights want to limit debate in order to speed the enactment of legislation establishing absolute federal control over every facet of life. They are aware that such measures are hardly likely to be passed so long as the proponents of constitutional rights can utilize the historic right of free debate to voice their objections and warn the nation of the consequences.

The issue raises the fundamental question of the wisdom of placing the weapon of "gag rule" in the hands of a partisan majority. Such would present the possibility of substituting legislation by political stampede for legislation by mature deliberation and pose a threat to

IT STANDS to reason that so sweeping a revision of our nation's system of checks and balances is not something which should be undertaken with haste or without careful deliberation. It is a matter which calls for the most serious study by and full hearings before the Rules Committee.

As a member of that body, it shall be my purpose to support that viewpoint.

Meditation for This Week

It Seems to Me...

By THE REV. TED PAGE

As you read this column this week we perhaps you now have learned the answer to years of hard work and faithful planning. These words run through your thinking, I will have waited in the Governor's office, as many do these days, waiting to see him and discuss with him some plans which will affect our future. By now I will have entered into his fine new office, one which every Georgian can look upon with pride.

I WILL NOT have been alone there, for with me will have been a fine young man who has been elected to a place of high honor by those with whom he has given his life to serving others.

With us, as we enter, there will have been a man whom we know to be one of the foremost thinkers among the leaders in our state. With us, as we enter, there will have been a man whom we know to be one of the foremost thinkers among the leaders in our state.

Portal Home Demonstration Club meets at home of Mrs. Harry Aycock

By MRS. EDNA BRANNEN

EDITOR'S NOTE—Last week we were requesting to be sure and get the Portal News in. At the time we received the news it had become impossible to get it in. We want the friends and neighbors of Mrs. Edna Brannen, our Portal correspondent, to know that it was not the fault of hers. The responsibility is all ours.

PORTAL H.D. CLUB MEETS The Home Demonstration Club met at the home of Mrs. Harry Aycock last Tuesday night with Miss Vera Collins as co-hostess.

The president, Mrs. Harry Aycock, presided over the meeting. The minutes of the last meeting were read by Mrs. E. L. Womack. Mrs. W. L. Bishop gave the treasurer's report.

After the business meeting Mrs. Gears demonstrated the care and routing of house plants. Officers for the new year were installed by Mrs. Thigpen, with a candlelight ceremony, as follows: President, Mrs. Harry Aycock; vice president, Mrs. E. L. Womack; secretary, Mrs. J. E. Rowland Jr.; reporter, Miss Vera Collins; and treasurer, Mrs. W. L. Bishop.

Several games were directed by Mrs. J. E. Rowland Jr. Prizes were won by Mrs. Harold Rucker and Mrs. A. U. Minney. Mrs. Thigpen won the door prize. Plans were also made for an all-day meeting in February at the home of Mrs. R. C. Roberts with Mrs. C. J. Wynn, co-hostess.

QUARTERLY CONFERENCE Our third quarterly conference of the Portal Methodist Church was held Thursday evening, January 24, at 7 p. m. The Rev. James H. Wilson, district superintendent, was in charge of the meeting.

GLEN STANLEY WILLIAMS IS BAPTIZED Sunday morning, January 13, Glen Stanley Williams, the infant son of Sgt. and Mrs. Roy Williams, received the sacrament of infant baptism, at the Portal Methodist Church. Rev. David Hudson, pastor of the church. A large group was present.

YES, THERE WILL be a price to pay. Fifty thousand dollars will be needed to do the job. We have spent more than this simply to study the causes of delinquency these past few years, but this is a real opportunity to help communities help themselves.

What will have been the Governor's answer to our plea? Well, as you read this we will perhaps know. Our answer has been "yes" which will come of it. If it has been "no" then there will be a great job to do, even so, it was still beautiful.

THE ROCK EAGLE 4-H Club Center is located a few miles from Eatonton, Georgia. The name "Rock Eagle" came from the Rock Eagle mound. This mound of rocks shaped like an eagle is believed by archaeologists to have been made by pre-Indian people. There is a nearby tower, built of granite, where one can look down on the Rock Eagle. From this distance the bird is much more distinguishable.

THE ROCK EAGLE 4-H Club Center has had national recognition and rightly so. Here any organization can go and enjoy the great beauty of the out-of-doors and enjoy at the same time the comforts of the best home both summer and winter.

Friday, January 26, I left Statesboro about noon for Rock Eagle to attend a classroom Teachers Leadership Conference sponsored by the Georgia Education Association and the National Education Association.

It was an excellent conference with good talks, good food, and good fellowship. The only drawback was that the program was so full that there was no time to exercise. Sitting for long hours way into the night is likely to develop a number of teachers, that doesn't need developing.

NEVERTHELESS, the conference was the first one of its kind. Georgia teachers need to become more professional-minded. They need to know what is going on outside the classroom as well as inside it.

But whatever conference it might be I'd declare there's no better place than Rock Eagle to meet!

INCOME TAX FACTS

How to Save Tax Dollars

(This is one of a series of articles on federal income tax filings. These articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Accountants, in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service.)

CLAIM ALL EXEMPTIONS FOR YOURSELF AND DEPENDENTS Many people overpay their taxes because they neglect to claim their personal exemptions.

Here is how to count your exemptions (each one takes $600 off your taxable income). One exemption for yourself, two if you are 65 or over, two if you are blind, three if you are both 65 and blind. The same applies to your husband or wife. If your husband or wife died during 1956 you can still file a joint return claiming the exemptions including those for age or blindness, to which the deceased would have been entitled at the time of death.

Who Qualifies One exemption of $600 can be taken for each person who fits the definition of a dependent. This $600 is not doubled for age or blindness, however, as in the case of your personal exemption.

To count for an exemption, the dependent must: (1) Have less than $600 gross income for 1956 (except that this does not apply to a child if he is under 19 or is a full-time student); (2) Have received more than half of his support from you, unless you file a Multiple Support Agreement (see below); (3) Not file a joint return; (4) Be either a citizen of the U. S. or a resident of the U. S., Canada, Mexico, Canal Zone, Panama and in some cases, a serviceman's child living in the Philippines; (5) Live with you (absence while attending school does not interfere) or be a close relative of the taxpayer. If there were some way to protect the wood from insects that introduce decay, then perhaps the wood would remain sound for a longer period of time. Last May the class placed two pens of pine wood on the school forest plot, and we sprayed one pen with DDT, using oil as a base for the insecticide. Yesterday, seven months later, the two pens of wood from the wood in the unsprayed pen, and the wood was getting soft and rotten. The bark on the wood in the sprayed pen, however, was fairly tight, and the wood was still hard and sound enough to be used.

30 F.F.A. boys get Jr. ratings Thirty Junior Farmer candidates received their junior farmer certificates in the Statesboro High School auditorium Thursday night, January 17, when the Statesboro F.F.A. chapter acted as host for the F.F.A. regular in area VII.

The regular Junior Farmer initiation ceremony was used in placing the Green Hands to Junior Farmers. The Junior Farmer degree is the highest award that the local chapter can confer upon its members. The chapters that participated from area seven were Statesboro High, Marvin Pittman, Effingham County, Southeast Bulloch, Donald Donaldson, Johnnie Dekle and James Ronald Hotchkiss from the Statesboro chapter took part in the initiation ceremony. Earl Best and Hugh Deal received Junior Farmer certificates.

B. & P.W. ladies to attend meet in Brunswick

Mrs. Rosebud McCormick, president of the Georgia Federation of B. & P.W. Clubs, recently returned from national meeting in Washington, D. C., announced that Dr. Marjorie Webster, chairman of the career advancement of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, will attend the Georgia Federation Executive Board meeting in Brunswick, Georgia, on February 3, 1957.

Dr. Webster is a well known educator, teacher, civic and religious leader, public speaker, writer, radio and television artist. Founder and president of the Marjorie Webster Junior College, Washington, D. C., she held many responsible positions on civic affairs. An assiduous leader in the American Red Cross since World War I, Dr. Webster frequently appears on telecasts for civic organizations.

The Georgia Federation feels fortunate to have Dr. Webster attend the board meeting to serve as consultant, and speaker at the banquet on Saturday evening.

She will attend the meeting from Statesboro Club as Mrs. Minnie Lee Johnson, the president, and other delegates. Miss Maude White, Mrs. Camilla Lanier, Miss Alma Hopper, Mrs. Annie Mae Shealy, and Mrs. Billie Carr—who will represent fifty-four members of the local club.

Prominent on the agenda for consideration by the Georgia Federation are plans for the annual state meeting, which will be held in Savannah in May.

With a rich record of service to the communities of Georgia, the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs is not content to rest on those laurels. From the local club up to the state organization—plans of work, which involve every woman's interest, are at work to further the betterment of all mankind.

The Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs has offered its membership workshops in departmental programs, fitting them to the local community. Leadership courses, conferences on education and strengthening the operation of the local club.

On March 5-6, 1957, a Freedom Institute will be held at the University of Georgia, Athens. The purpose of which is to give the better understanding of our freedoms and our responsibilities in preserving them. This institute will be open to all members of Georgia Federation and other groups.

"The state organization has begun a teacher's scholarship program for the graduating students of its own school, Tallulah Falls, to prepare them for teaching careers in Georgia's public schools."

"Through the Community Achievement Contest, the local club has an opportunity to include every person in the community in a program toward real progress of that community. The state is giving guidance to the local club through workshops, films and printed materials."

"The mental health program of Georgia is being promoted through an educational program to understand mental sickness, proper care, secure proper care and rehabilitation of cured patients. Christmas gifts are being sent to Milledgeville and Gracewood. A scholarship for nurses to further study in psychiatry and serve Georgia is being promoted."

"The conservation of our national resources is being stressed in many ways. An Essay Contest for the sixth and seventh grades of Georgia's schools is being held to further stimulate the meaning and understanding of our forests. Bird sanctuaries are being set up. The truth of the hazard of fires to our forest and wildlife is being told in every community with a campaign to stop such needless waste underway."

"The Georgia Federation feels that all Georgians should have an opportunity to be educated in the best schools possible. It is supporting the financing of our schools, a curriculum to meet the atomic age and scholarships to aid the deserving."

"The Georgia Clubwoman will be very active in supporting the legislation to finance the school program, safety on the highways, more ample and better qualified state institutions for the mentally ill."

H. D. clubs meet in Swainsboro

Eighty five members of the Bulloch County Home Demonstration Clubs attended the Southeast Georgia District Home Demonstration Council meeting in Swainsboro on Wednesday, January 23.

"Prepared Unto Every Good Work" and "Continuing Education" were the themes for the meeting with Mrs. Charles Warnell of Bryan County, district chairman, presiding.

On the program were Leonora Anderson, district H.D. agent; Miss Edythe Ross, state home demonstration leader, and Mrs. Harry B. Chapman, 1956 district chairman. Miss Audrey Morgan, family life education specialist, gave a demonstration on "Personality and You."

Mrs. Warnell led a panel discussion in which each 1956 county council president reported on the most outstanding project of her council.

A skit entitled, "Why I Chose to Study Home Economics in College," was presented by Sis Heys and Beverly Perkins of G.T.C.

S. G. Chandler, state demonstration leader, chose as his subject for discussion "Family Life in the Atomic Age."

The devotional was led by Mrs. Adele Vickers of Johnson County.

Denmark News

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Woodworth visited Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Hagan and Mrs. Aubrey Barnhill, delightfully entertained at the home of the former on Wednesday p. m., January 23, with a miscellaneous shower, honoring Mrs. Innaa Rushing, a recent bride.

The home was beautifully decorated for the occasion with arrangements of pink and white flowers. Mrs. Colen Rubins mother of the groom, Mrs. W. E. Jones and were presented to the receiving line composed of Mrs. L. H. Hagan, Mrs. Innaa Rushing, Mrs. Colen Rubins, Mrs. W. E. Jones and Mrs. C. A. Zetterower and Mrs. C. A. Zetterower.

The birthday celebration was highlighted by a speech by Congressman John J. Flynt Jr., Georgia representative, and a director of the company. Referring to the record made by the young company, Congressman Flynt said, "I am told that never before in the history of insurance business has a company put so much life insurance in force during its first year of operation. The fact that this new world's record is being established by a Georgia company, and one of which I am honored to be a director, makes me double proud."

Although the final figures for the year are not yet in, United American claims an industry of 34 million dollars in force business after one year of operation. According to Best's Insurance News, an industry expert, the previous record for a first year company was 23 million dollars, established by a Texas concern three years ago.

Factors credited to the success of the Southern firm include the youth of its officers (the oldest officer is in his early forties); the active participation of Senator Talmadge; progressive new policy offerings created after extensive research into the specific needs of Southerners; and an aggressive agency force carefully recruited and trained. There are ten agents who have placed in excess of one million dollars of insurance in force during 1956, an unusual achievement even for a long-established company.

Mr. and Mrs. Elwyn Proctor and little son visited Mr. and Mrs. Dorman DeLoach during the week.

Mrs. Dorman DeLoach returned from the Bulloch County Hospital in Savannah, and reasonable value of the farm. A loan to buy family-type farm cannot be made if the fair and reasonable value of the farm is more than the average private lending family-type farms in the county.

Additional information concerning these loans may be obtained from the Farm Home Administration county office, located at 7 North College Street, Statesboro, Georgia, according to Marshall R. Tilgson, county supervisor.

Youth Day at SHS is planned

By LINDA POUND

With February around the corner members of the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y Clubs of Statesboro High look forward to the annual Youth Mayor election.

THE REV. WYTCH STUBBS

Rev. Stubbs to preach here

The Rev. Wytch Stubbs, director of youth work, South Georgia Conference of the Methodist Church, will be the guest speaker at the Pittman Park Methodist Church on Sunday evening, February 3, at 7:30 p. m.

Rev. Stubbs is a native of Savannah, Georgia, and holds A.B. and B.D. degrees from Emory University. The youth group of the South Georgia Annual Conference has made tremendous strides under his leadership in the last two years and his message Sunday evening should appeal to both young and old. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Presidents of these clubs have announced that they will sponsor Civic Youth Day in Statesboro High again this year.

Festivities will get underway February 1, with registration of youth voters and qualification of candidates.

Beginning Monday, February 4, campaigns will be held yard and miles of posters, handshaking, and campaign hand-out cards. Voting will be held early Friday morning, February 5.

Candidates in the various races will include mayor, council, fire chief, clerk, city commissioners, and police chief.

Students elected to hold these offices will meet with City Mayor Bill Bowen and his council to decide the date on which youth officials will be sworn in charge of the city of Statesboro.

This Civic Youth Day project encourages student interest in matters political and in management of their city.

All students and adults are urged to support the "Y" Clubs in this worth while project—another step toward better and informed citizens of tomorrow.

DR. JOHN MOONEY TO DO POST-GRADUATE WORK IN INDUSTRIAL MEDICINE

Dr. John Mooney left Monday, January 28, to take post-graduate work in industrial medicine and surgery. He will be gone several weeks and during his trip will attend the annual conference on industrial health at the Billmore Hotel in Los Angeles, Calif., and will spend some time at the home of the Rockwell Manufacturing Company in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Civil Defense

Heart Drive

There is no known way of preventing most enemy bombers from reaching their targets in the United States. The Chief of Staff for the United States Air Force has stated that at most we could knock down only thirty out of 100 enemy planes attacking the United States. At least seven out of ten would get through.

This does not mean that our air force is ineffective. We have a fine air defense, as everyone knows. We have good anti-aircraft guns, too. So had the Germans in the last war. But the entire strength of the German Air Force and all Hitler's anti-aircraft batteries were not able to stop our attacking bombers.

Mr. Motz urged every volunteer worker to set a personal goal of seeing that every person in Georgia is given the opportunity to contribute to the fight against heart disease. "If this is done, I have no doubt that the Heart Fund will be sufficient to our needs," he said.

The Bulloch County chairman called upon everyone in the county to contribute to the fight against heart disease. "If we can reach this goal, we will have taken a great stride toward the final goal of victory over heart disease," Mr. Mikell said.

That is why we must have adequate civil defense planning, beginning now.

Fort Stewart general talks to Rotarians

Brigadier General Paul Russell Weyrauch, commanding general of Fort Stewart, told members of the Statesboro Rotary Club at its regular Monday meeting that the Army takes the very best care possible of its soldiers after they have finished their working hours.

Citing an example of the Army's attitude, he made reference to a situation which exists in Long County on U. S. 301, where soldiers on leave from Fort Stewart sometimes are given rough treatment at the hands of the authorities, when the facts reveal that the treatment was unwarranted.

He told the Rotarians that Fort Stewart includes 286,000 acres of land valued at $50,000,000. The annual budget for the fort is about $16,000,000. It is the largest training base in the U. S. from an acreage standpoint.

He explained that part of the Fort's objective is to help train National Guardsmen, adding that the National Guard is "the better they are trained the better off we are."

The general was presented to the club by Bill Bowen, who had charge of the program. He began his service in the Army with his graduation from the U. S. Military Academy as a second lieutenant in 1930. He was made brigadier general in June, 1953. He was named commanding general at Fort Stewart on September 1, 1956.

IT HAPPENED AGAIN—Shown here is a huge truck trailer on its side after it turned over trying to avoid an accident at the gate of the Rockwell Statesboro Corporation on U. S. 301. A similar accident occurred at the exact location in September of last year. The accident last Saturday morning resulted from a situation involving an employee who was making a turn to enter the gate and the truck trailer operating out of Durham, N. C. None was injured. The company's plant is shown at the right of the photograph. The entrance gate is seen over the top of the rear wheels of the overturned truck.

Ogeechee W.M.U. to meet at Elmer Feb. 14

The Ogeechee Baptist Association W.M.U. meeting will be held at Elmer Baptist Church on Thursday, February 14, beginning at 10 o'clock in the morning.

The theme of the meeting is "The Joyful Sound of Proclaim." The program is as follows:

Prayer, Hymn, "From Greenland's Icy Mountains." Devotional, "God So Loved the World" by Mrs. A. Smith. Welcome by Mrs. Charlie Newsome. Response by Mrs. Harry McCormick. Prayer plans by Mrs. C. M. Bragg. Missions, U.S.A. by Mrs. T. Earl Serson. "What Christian Women Can Do" by Mrs. Delmas Rusing and Sr. Hymn, "O Zion Haste."

The guest speaker, Mrs. Homer Littleton, Church of the Good Coast, Africa, will speak on "To Every People, Tongue and Nation."

"Vitamins A.P.A." by Grace W.M.S. "We Hear Thy Voice" by Miss Sara Stephens.

At this point in the program lunch will be served.

After lunch the program continues as follows:

Mrs. Harry Lee is superintendent of the Ogeechee Baptist W.M.U. Mrs. E. A. Smith is superintendent of the Y.W.O. Mel Price is divisional vice president and Mrs. Peter Martin is the association's youth leader. Miss Sara Stephens is from Atlanta.

During his ministry, Mr. Grooms has been a builder. A number of the church buildings were enlarged. At Fort Worth he led in the building of a large new brick church. During this ministry he was also moderator of the Savannah Baptist Association, secretary of the Association Executive Committee, and chairman of the City Missions Committee. At the present time he is moderator of the Ogeechee River Association and a member of the Executive Committee of the Georgia Baptist Convention.

In 1913 Mr. Grooms married Miss Viola Stirling, daughter of Francis Stirling of Wrightsville as Georgia's representative.

The council is made up of two members from each legislature in the sixteen Southern States in the regional council.

At the Calvary Baptist Church Sunday morning, February 3, the Rev. J. W. Grooms announced to the people that he plans to retire from the pastorate on March 31. On that date he will complete twenty-six years in the ministry. He and Mrs. Grooms are building a new house in North Edgewood Acres and they will live in Statesboro.

Mr. Grooms was ordained at the Central Baptist Church, Waycross, in 1934. He has served the Baptist Churches at Heardsville, Pearson, Homer, Port Wentworth and Calvary at Statesboro. He will do supply work following retirement.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Grooms, he was born at Stillson. His early school work was done in Bulloch County. He studied at Gordon Military College, Barnesville, and the State Normal School at Athens.

After teaching school for some years, he entered the business world. He decided to enter the Baptist ministry in 1931 while living at Bainbridge. Until 1934 he divided his time working and preaching.

Toll road measure killed by Senate Highway Committee

Following a public hearing on the controversial bill which would have allowed the State Toll Bridge Authority to build a toll road in Southeast Georgia, the Senate Highway Committee voted eight to four against the measure after nearly two hours of debate on Tuesday of this week.

The public hearing was demanded by Senator Everett Williams of Statesboro, a member of the Senate highway committee. "I don't think a toll road is needed now," with the new interstate system coming into being," Mr. Williams said.

Attending the public hearing from Statesboro were Buford Knight, representative of the motel operators on U. S. 301, Charles Bryant and Ralph White. Opposition to the toll road said the route proposed for the road was through "the worst possible" terrain, the marshes of Camden County, from Brunswick to the Florida line.

Lined up against the bill, in addition to the motel operators, were the county commissioners of Camden County, Representative John Odum of Camden County, and several other representatives, including Francis Allen and Wiley Fordham from Bulloch.

The proposed toll road would have cost $70,000,000.

Mayor Bill Bowen, Chief of Police Allen and Merchants' Council Chairman Josh Lanier, announced this week that the citizens of Statesboro and Bulloch County will get a good look at the Third Battalion of the 504th Airborne Regiment when they put on a special post-Washington's birthday parade here.

The parade will be on Saturday morning, February 23, beginning at 10 o'clock. The parade will include five companies of 120 men to the company plus twelve motorized units and the bands from Fort Stewart and Georgia Teachers College.

Everett Williams named to S.R.E.B.

Senator F. Everett Williams of Statesboro last Friday was appointed by Gov. Marvin Griffin to the legislative council of the Southern Regional Education Board, succeeding Sen. Francis Stirling of Wrightsville as Georgia's representative.

The council is made up of two members from each legislature in the sixteen Southern States in the regional council.

Rockwell begins new training for draftsmen

Recently the Rockwell Statesboro Corporation advertised for high school graduates who might be interested in a training program for draftsmen. This program is now in operation at the Statesboro campus.

Paul Brisenidine, Johnnie M. Sanders Jr., and Charles E. Addison were employed in the engineering department as a result of the aptitude tests given to all applicants for this program. Robert Wiggins and James H. Bowen were transferred from shop jobs because of the potential shown for this type work.

This award is made each year by the council to three of its 1,500 volunteer workers for outstanding service to youth. It is the highest award that the council can give.

Dr. Russell is chairman of the Department of Language at Georgia Teachers College. For the past several years he has been active in scout work and was chairman of the Ogeechee County District in 1955 and 1956. Under his leadership the district's Boy Scout membership grew from 509 to 639, and its adult volunteers increased from 156 to 242.

Dr. Russell will continue to serve scouting in the district program as vice president of the Coastal Empire Council.

Mr. Hodges reported 1,158 members enrolled in the county at the present but predicted there would be 1,500 members signed up by April, the deadline for enrolling in the Georgia Farm Bureau.

Riley G. Arnold, fieldman for the American Farm Bureau in the Southern States was the speaker for this annual meeting.

Mr. Arnold enumerated the many needs for farmers maintaining a strong voice in agricultural legislation and pointed out that the American Farm Bureau dictated the national legislation for farmers. Membership counts more than is generally
