The Bulloch Herald is 20 years old this week

A ten dollar equity in a typewriter, the confidence and good will of the citizens of Statesboro and Bulloch County, and a sublime ignorance of the newspaper business constituted the entire assets of a newspaper without a name, founded in March, 1937.

The newspaper, conceived by Leodel Coleman, the late James C. Coleman and G. C. Coleman Jr., sons of Mrs. G. C. Coleman and Mrs. M. J. Coleman, was born in the depths of the depression, was named only minutes before its first issue went to press on March 26, 1937.

We preempted the income from that first issue to finance the next three issues and we were in the newspaper business.

We printed 5,000 copies of that March 26, 1937 issue and mailed it to every rural box holder in Bulloch County and put a copy in every home in Statesboro, Brooklet, Portal, Register and Sifton.

Because we had no printing equipment our first issue was printed in Swainsboro by the late Wesley Hobby, publisher of the Swainsboro Forest Blade.

We shall keep our editorial sword bright

One day last week a "boat rocker" barged into our office and sat down and rocked our boat.

And his boat rocking set us to thinking. He didn't say so in so many words, but beneath what he said we found that he was building a fire under us.

He made several references to a speech made by Jenkin Lloyd Jones, editor of the Tulsa Tribune and president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, before the editors of the Georgia press at their annual institute in Athens in February.

Mr. Jones said the cowardly editor is worse than the cowardly plumber or the cowardly clerk, "for he has in his hand a keen bright sword."

Our "boat-rocker" friend had a lot to say about editors so bent on being respectable that they are afraid to use this sword.

As he spoke we visualized the scores of "hat-tossing" editorials we had written, commending all for all things.

And this week we close our twenty years of publishing the Bulloch Herald in Statesboro and Bulloch County we want you to know this:

We shall keep our editorial sword bright and unvarnished and in the presence of evil in our community we will not hesitate to unsheath it.

Statesboro are being recognized for their unselfish and untiring efforts on behalf of the community in which they live.

We commend Mrs. Braswell and Mrs. Jones for the fine work they are doing. We know them both and we concur in the Junior Woman's Club selection. They will represent the Statesboro club on the state level when they meet in Atlanta for the state convention of the Federation of Women's Clubs of Georgia.

The best wishes of their home community go with them.

Be careful. This is advice that often goes unheeded. If every American were to be so careful that he would not have a single accident for an entire year, the amount saved in dollars and cents alone would be fantastic.

The Institute for Safer Living has estimated that last year accidents cost the nation $10.8 billion. Thus, a full year without accidents would represent a saving of enough to build a million new single-family houses, or enough to clothe every man, woman and child in the nation, or to build 300,000 first-class school-rooms which would accommodate 9,000,000 students.

And this doesn't even take into account the relief of pain, misery and grief that would result from an accident-free year.

Accidents are expensive — in many ways. So be careful.

THE ONLY EFFECTIVE way to trim government spending without reducing the life of one group or another, as I learned from my own experience as Governor of Georgia, is through across-the-board budget reductions and refusal to inaugurate new spending programs.

SPRING TONIC

recreation, our drum beating for the library, our editorial ire over kids on motor scooters, children using rifles and air guns, our sounding off on the need for sidewalks and sidewalk repair.

We worried about the indiscrete use of police force, and the delays in our courts in handling traffic violations.

Meditation

It Seems to Me...

By THE REV. TED PAGE

THE ADEQUACY OF CHRIST In this meditation, I desire to write on the "Adequacy of Christ," as suggested by a sentence in Paul's letter to the church at Rome. Paul's letters and sermons were always Christ centered. This sentence, found in the eleventh verse of the tenth chapter of Romans, discloses the central note of his evangelical preaching.

I have often asked myself, "What is it about Statesboro that makes it such a good place to live? What is it about Bulloch County that makes it the most progressive, excellent place in which to live that it is?"

There are those who say that pride is the answer. Families here have a fierce pride in the way they keep their homes. Farmers have a real understanding of the importance of keeping their lands clean, well worked and productive.

Our schools are new or recently improved. They are well staffed with men and women who excel in the profession in which they work.

Our restaurants are good, second to none in atmosphere for dining, better than most in quality of food served and service rendered.

Our churches are new or recently improved. They are well staffed with men and women who excel in the profession in which they work.

Plans to free Bulloch County of

Bang disease announced last week

Walden Deal will help at Register. V. J. Rowe, rural telephone director at Nevis, and C. C. Anderson, a director from Register, urged their chapters to return the telephone ballots recently mailed them asking for advice on whether to seek extended scope service or not. These directors assured the cop telephone members they desired to carry out the wishes of the members, but that this extended scope service was what most members desired when the program was started here some five years ago.

Even though the livestock owner does not recover the full value of an animal under the program he is actually doing himself a favor by disposing of those diseased animals. Animals infected with bang disease are dangerous to other cattle and to humans who handle them or drink their milk. Such cattle are, as a rule, not profitable producers. Many of them fail to breed and when they do breed the calves are often born dead.

Every livestock owner is urged to cooperate with the program. Bulloch County can be freed from bang disease in the next few months if the wishes of all those involved in the program are carried out.

Every livestock owner will be contacted shortly prior to the visit by the veterinarian to advise with them on having their cattle ready for the crew that is to weed the stock sample.

B. & P.W. Club names delegates to state meet

The Business and Professional Women's Club held its regular meeting for March at Mrs. Bryant's Kitchen Monday evening, March 18. The radio and TV committee had the program in charge.

Since the chairman of the committee, Mrs. Eloise Ware, was absent due to illness, the co-chairman, Miss Nanette Ellington, presented the program which consisted of a taped recording of the speech delivered by Miss Hazel Palmer, the president of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs in Savannah last September during National Business Women's Week.

Mrs. Minnie Lee Johnson expressed the club's regret for the loss of Mrs. Eloise Ware who is moving to Atlanta and where she has accepted other employment. Mrs. Ware's services and her general personality will be missed. Although the club participated with other civic organizations in honoring Mrs. Ware, a delegation from the club after the meeting presented Eloise with a gift.

After the club program Mrs. Minnie Lee Johnson, the club president, presided at a short business session when several of the members, but that this extended scope service was what most members desired when the program was started here some five years ago.

Delegates and alternates were named to represent the Statesboro Club at the state convention to be held in Savannah, May 17, 18, and 19. It was announced that Miss Zula Gamble had been selected by the state president to serve on the rules committee at the state convention.

At the business meeting held on March 11, at the home of Mrs. Charlotte Anderson, several items of business were discussed. Mrs. Catherine Kirkland gave a report on the progress of the nurse's scholarship committee. The treasurer's report mentioned in communities which have commercial banks. He added that "today funds are invested with confidence in United States Savings Bonds and in government guaranteed bank deposits and loan deposits."

P. O. seeks to liquidate postal saving system

Postmaster D. R. DeLoach said today the Post Office Department is urging Congress to liquidate the Postal Savings System because it has outlived its usefulness.

Locally, postal savings total $238,000 today, compared with approximately $620,000 ten years ago.

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield, the local postal head explained, has urged that the Congress approve legislation which would permit liquidation of postal savings in such a way that there would be a minimum of inconvenience to depositors.

Such legislation, which is in line with recommendations of the second Hoover Commission and the Comptroller General of the United States, is now pending in Congress, Postmaster DeLoach noted.

Pointing out that postal savings deposits have dropped rapidly—from $3,393,000,000 in 1947 to $1,763,000,000 in 1956, with declines continuing at the rate of about $20 million a month — Postmaster DeLoach said the Post Office Department feels the system "no longer meets today's social conditions and savings habits."

Noting that today nearly all postal savings system deposits are concentrated in post offices in communities which have commercial banks, he added that "today funds are invested with confidence in United States Savings Bonds and in government guaranteed bank deposits and loan deposits."

Low-Line, High-Crop Clearance Are Combined in NEW TRACTOR

A new low-line, high-crop clearance 3-plow tractor weighing approximately 4,100 pounds, said to be a new concept in tractors, is announced by Allis-Chalmers according to Hoke S. Brunson, Allis-Chalmers dealer who attended a sales meeting at the company's Atlanta branch where this new tractor was introduced.

Mr. Brunson says this new Model D-14 gives farmers the convenience of a low-profile tractor, easy to get on and off, but with as much cultivating clearance as a high-wheeled row-crop tractor.

Some of the other exclusive features in this tractor are a new power control system that permits shifting on-the-go to high or low range, providing 8 forward speeds; completely enclosed hydraulic system; unusual comfort, security, and vision with the new easy-ride seat and wide runway platform; and new POWER-CRATER engine rated at 35 hp plus (manufacturer's rating). A new roll-shift front axle which also changes the spacing of front wheels for row widths is now available for the first time in a tractor. This combines with power-shift rear wheels introduced by Allis-Chalmers in 1948 so that all wheel spacings can be changed without blocks or jacks.

Among other Allis-Chalmers "firsts" included in the new tractor are two-clutch power control; automatic TRACTION BOOSTER; and SNAP-COUPLER hitch.

A brand-new line of "ROLL-IN" quick-hitch cultivators that can be rolled into position and quickly put on or removed without wrenches has been designed for the D-14. These are a part of the complete line of implements available for this tractor.

KILL NEMATODES WITH EASY-TO-USE D-D SOIL FUMIGANT

Get your tobacco off to a good start this season by controlling nematodes with D-D soil fumigant. D-D soil fumigant is an easy-to-use liquid. Apply it directly to the soil with gravity-flow or simple pressure equipment. In the ground it becomes a potent gas, killing root knot and other harmful nematodes as it spreads. And a single treatment gives effective control for an entire season.

This season, see for yourself how a pre-plant soil treatment with D-D soil fumigant pays off in bigger yields. D-D soil fumigant is available from your local pesticide dealer.

Recreation board praises

board praises G.T.C. students

The Statesboro Recreation Board last week was high in praise of activities carried out by Students of the physical education division at the Georgia Teachers College in their work if the Statesboro recreation program.

Thirty-two students have spent a total of more than 900 hours in the local program this winter quarter. The students are assigned to all phases of the program and work under the supervision of the recreation staff.

Mr. J. I. Clements is the college instructor in charge of the program which has gained recognition as one of the best training programs in the southeast. The students learn community recreation by actually being a part of a community recreation program.

Over a period of seven years several students, working in this phase of the physical education program, have become interested in making recreation a career. Students becoming interested in helping get programs of this type started in other communities where they have lived or worked.

The class very fittingly finished their work in the program by staging a hamburger supper at the Fair Road center for themselves and their friends.

Pittman School Is Recognized

German classes in the Marvin Pittman Elementary School have been publicized in the South Atlantic Bulletin and the Newsletters of the American Association of Teachers of German.

Dr. Zoltan J. Farkas, head of the foreign languages department at G.T.C., began the program at the beginning of last year and has continued teaching german in the fourth and fifth grades with the help of college students.

The Marvin Pittman School is the only elementary school in the southeastern states which offers the language. Though taught by oral methods, the students are able to read a limited amount of German by the end of a year.

Because wireworms can move rapidly through soil, they may severely damage plants, even in a field that has been fumigated for nematodes, says C. R. Jordan, entomologist, Agricultural Extension Service.

German classes in the Marvin Pittman Elementary School have been publicized in the South Atlantic Bulletin and the Newsletters of the American Association of Teachers of German.

Dr. Zoltan J. Farkas, head of the foreign languages department at G.T.C., began the program at the beginning of last year and has continued teaching german in the fourth and fifth grades with the help of college students.

The Marvin Pittman School is the only elementary school in the southeastern states which offers the language. Though taught by oral methods, the students are able to read a limited amount of German by the end of a year.

Because wireworms can move rapidly through soil, they may severely damage plants, even in a field that has been fumigated for nematodes, says C. R. Jordan, entomologist, Agricultural Extension Service.

The high school entries will be on exhibit in the biology and chemistry buildings, and the elementary school entries will be in the Marvin Pittman School, chemistry buildings, and the purpose of the science fair is to promote interest in the sciences in high school students.

There is a shocking shortage of scientifically trained persons in America today, which creates many openings in the field. The National Science Foundation and many industrial companies offer each year opportunities for graduate study through scholarships, fellowships and assistantships.

Over 13,000 Georgia 4-H Club members have received training in the annual poultry chain program.

Dining-Student Center Will Be Built This Fall

President Zach S. Henderson announces that construction of the new dining hall-student center should begin early next fall.

The money for the building, which will cost approximately $500,000, was appropriated at a recent meeting of the Board of Regents. This money will not be gotten by the sale of bonds, therefore this will not hold up construction as it is now doing on the new classroom building.

As soon as possible, architects will submit plans for the new center, when they are selected the school will receive bids and work will begin.

Plans that have been made call for the new building to include a little store, book store, snack bar, lounge and cafeteria for student organizations on campus. Besides these student facilities, it will also contain a new dining hall and the post office.

As yet, definite plans have not been made for the location of the center. As soon as the blueprints are ready the surveyors will mark off the site.

President Henderson announces that it will probably be where the little store is now situated.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to take this opportunity to thank all those who were so wonderful to me during the long illness and at the death of my mother, Mrs. John P. Lee. International Blue Key Fraternity Will Become Local Organization

A local chapter of the Blue Key, an international honorary fraternity, has just been organized on the G.T.C. campus. Dr. J. D. Park is to be the faculty advisor for the new chapter.

Blue Key was organized by Major Bert C. Riley of the University of Florida to unite the leading students for the benefit of the university on February, 1925. Since then it has expanded rapidly. While the activities of the chapters vary widely in different institutions, Blue Key aims to recognize outstanding qualities in character, scholarship, student activities, leadership, and service.

Membership is composed of graduate and undergraduate students of all departments of American colleges and Universities. Honorary membership is extended to a limited number of distinguished faculty members and alumni.

The society is committed to cooperation with the faculty; to study campus problems, stimulate progress, and promote the interests of the institutions where it has chapters. The plan of meetings and activity is similar to that of Rotary, the legislative powers of the fraternal organizations.

In 1953 Georgia had no bank for handling milk on farms, says John Conner, dairy marketing specialist, Agricultural Extension Service. By 1956 more than 400 dairy farmers were shipping milk from bulk tanks.

"UNIQUE"

Electrifying the vast rural areas of our great country has been UNIQUE. The singleness of purpose, the untiring effort, the constant aggressiveness and the unselfish devotion to ideals by its advocates has never been excelled.

Surely a prime motivating force has been the men and women of the soil who were ambitious to provide for themselves ample electric service at a price which they could afford to pay. Perhaps it even became an obsession with many who envisioned an equal, even competitive, opportunity in this rural development for their children and their children's children. For others it could have been the comforts, conveniences or even the safety which could be utilized once this wonderful servant was available to them.

Georgia's 41 rural electric cooperatives are still owned and many are still staffed by the people who performed this UNIQUE feat. The 41 Rural Electric Membership offices which are headquarters for their service areas are monuments to what was once pushed aside as an impossible undertaking.

Yes! Rural Electrification is a monument to the matches, unequalled, UNIQUE accomplishments of rural people. It is a monument which has been achieved as the result of properly blending ample sweat and perseverance with absolute faith.

Periodic Suffering

By DR. K. R. HERRING

Many women suffer from a periodic suffering which is not normal and natural; there is a cause producing it. There are so many women who have this complaint that it is considered normal.

The nerves which control the function and activity of female organs also lead to the muscles of the back, the legs, and bowels and other organs in the vicinity. Backache, leg-ache or constipation are also associated with each period.

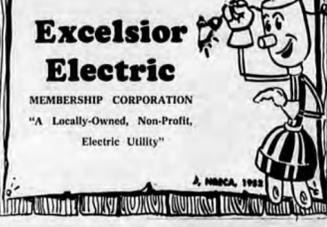

The chiropractor locates and removes nervous irritations to these organs and by so doing removes the cause of the trouble and nature does the rest.

Looking at the graduate of Georgia Teachers College

Last week we received a copy of the Georgia Teachers College Alumni Quarterly. In it is a story on the Georgia Teachers College graduates, which we believe will prove interesting to our readers. Here it is:

Twice each year, in June and August, Georgia Teachers College turns its graduates into the academic stream of degree people. This has been going on since 1929 when the college awarded the first bachelor of science degrees to four people. Including the August graduates of 1954, the number four has increased to approximately 2,500. Recently, a survey was conducted to find out a few "vital statistics" about the 2,500. Here are the results:

Cards asking for information were mailed to 2,350 graduates of Georgia Teachers College. Usable returns were received from 1,170 of the graduates. Of this number, 690 were women and 480 were men. Women graduates range in age from 19 to 77, while men graduates have an age range from 19 to 65. The average age of the G.T.C. graduate, both men and women, is thirty-five.

Of the 690 women who returned the questionnaire, 170 are single, 22 are widows, 15 divorced and 483 are now living in the state of matrimony. The 690 women graduates have 240 children. This is an average of 35 children per female graduate or one-half child for each married woman. The largest number of children reported by a woman graduate was 6.

The 480 men who returned the cards have 244 children. This is an average of 47 children per male graduate or 56 children per married male graduate. Seventy-eight of the 480 are single. Two are divorced, none are widowers. On a percentage basis there are more single women than single men. Twenty-four per cent of the reporting women are single while only 16 per cent of the men checked in as single.

In checking advanced degrees, 138 or 20 per cent of the women graduates indicated degrees above the bachelor level. A larger percentage of the G.T.C. men have received advanced degrees. Out of the 480 returns, 216 or 45 per cent, reported degrees since receiving the B.S. Twelve of these were doctor of philosophy or doctor of education degrees, three were dentists and six medical doctors. Law and divinity degrees were also listed. The most popular graduate level degree is the master of education.

Teaching is the most popular job for the G.T.C. female graduate. Out of the 690 cards returned, 300 indicated teaching jobs. Of these, 240 are teaching in the elementary school. The remaining 120 are teaching in junior high schools, high schools, high schools and colleges. Forty women are principals, librarians, supervisors, or doing some kind of administrative work. This makes a total of 400 women graduates who are

Baptists move in their new church at Register

The Register Baptist Church in Statesboro moved into their new brick church building last week following a year of active work among the members to replace the church which was burned in 1947.

The Rev. W. H. Howard, pastor of the church, now a modern church building, announced at the first services in the new building Sunday, March 17, that within a few weeks a "homecoming" will be observed and recognition given to all those who participated in replacing the burned edifice with the new one.

In 1906 a small group of local inhabitants under the leadership of Mr. Register organized the Missionary Baptist Church of Statesboro, and in 1907 the church was admitted to the Bulloch County Baptist Assn. In 1908 a church building was erected. In 1949 a Sunday school annex was added to the building. In 1950, only a few weeks after the church building had undergone extensive repairs the

Stilson News

Stilson community received wonderful rain last week

By MRS. W. H. MORRIS

Last Saturday night and Sunday we had the most wonderful rain. Not a drop of rain fell at any time, but just good showers. It will allow us to plant for a few days, but it sure was nice for bringing up that which is already planted.

I guess there will be a good number of folks in this community who will get some tobacco set out this week. I have heard a few say they would start setting today (Monday), but my guess is that the fields are too wet for planting today but by tomorrow (Tuesday) they may be able to get into the fields to set out tobacco, unless we have more rain.

Miss Shirley Jordan and W. L. Newman of Savannah were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Morris.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cribbs and children, Barbara and Vickie Sue of Savannah spent the day Sunday visiting relatives here.

At 4:30 o'clock following the singing of Evensong, the bishop administered the apostolic rite of the Laying On of Hands, commonly called the Sacrament of Holy Confirmation to a class presented to him by the vicar. At a coffee, sandwich and cake reception held afterwards in the parish hall, Bishop Stuart was asked to make a presentation on behalf of the congregation of Trinity Church to Mr. and Mrs. J. Minton Tinker on the occasion of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. Both husband and wife replied with appropriate speeches upon
