S.H.S. gets close going-over by school re-evaluation group

H. P. Womack, county school superintendent, and the members of the county board of education, this week released the findings and recommendations of the first five-year re-evaluation of the Statesboro High School of the Southern Association of Colleges and secondary schools.

W. An editorial

Fee-hungry law enforcement officers and a reputation of haphazardly handling traffic cases, reports of abusive language and tactics by county arresting officers is fouling up Georgia's attractiveness for the touring motorists who would like to use our highways.

We here in Bulloch County know our section of U. S. 301 is "clean." We know that those sections through Screven, Evans, Brantley and Charlton are "clean." We also know that the counties of Tattnall, Long and Wayne have "reputations" which are unsavory enough that the American Automobile Association in February of this year underscored these in red on A.A.A. maps.

The visiting committee made up of R. C. Beeson, principal of Savannah High School; Dr. Ward Pafford, head of the English department of Emory University; Dr. Doane M. Smith, director, Bureau of Educational Studies and Field Services, College of Education, University of Georgia; and Dr. George Watson, head of the Department of Guidance and Counseling, Georgia Teachers College, Statesboro, made their investigation on April 25 and 26 of this year.

The full report is as follows: This report, with its recommendations, is offered in the hope that it will be helpful to the faculty in continued study, evaluation, and improvement in all phases of the educational process.

Our National Guard

Sunday, June 9, the 225 members of Headquarters and Battery A of the 101st AAA Battalion of the Georgia National Guard located in Statesboro, will move to Fort Stewart for their annual field training. They will spend fifteen days there during which they will augment their regular training they receive from week to week at their local armory.

The high quality of the two local units of the Guard is attested to in a letter from Adjutant General George J. Hearn to Lt. Col. Bothwell A. ("Snag") Johnson, commanding officer, commending the battalion upon attaining 94.5 per cent of its authorized strength. This percentage is the highest in Georgia among the battalion-size units of the Army National Guard.

And membership in the local Guard is not just a Monday night social get-together. Battery A has attained a rating of "Superior" for annual field training for the past two years. During the past three years the battalion has attained nine "Superior" ratings and nine "Excellent" ratings at their annual field training. Battery A and Headquarters and Headquarters have won "Superior" awards for efficiency in training for 1955 and 1956. And in 1956 the 101st Battalion attained a score of 94.6 on the Army Training Test, the highest score yet made by the anti-aircraft artillery units of the Georgia National Guard.

The only place where our local Guard is "weak" is their armory. We're very proud of it. Nor should the community be proud of it. They deserve better than they have.

Up she goes!

This is another week for tossing up our hat for the young people in our community. Last week we carried a story about four who had been awarded scholarships to Georgia Teachers College—Mary Ann Hodges, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eli Hodges, who won the Lillie Deal Scholarship, and Irma Lou Roach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Roach who won the Dave Turner Scholarship, both awarded by the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Statesboro; Miss June Iler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Iler and Jean Arthur Mayer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Mayer of Savannah, winners of the H. Minkovitz awards.

Now comes The Elks Club announcing that award of cash scholarships to Sally Ann Akins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Akins and George Hayward Brown, both of Portal, for their scholastic achievement.

These are the Bulloch County citizens of the future and for them we throw up our hat high into the air and shout "Congratulations!"

Vaccinate your dog

If we are to protect the citizens of our county and if we are to protect the livestock of our county we must heed the warning given by the medical director of the Bulloch County Health Department and have all our dogs vaccinated against rabies.

It is reported that only 1,200 to 1,300 dogs of the county's estimated dog population of 4,000 to 4,500 are not yet vaccinated. This means that only 25 to 30 per cent of the dogs are protected against rabies and that's insufficient.

Georgia law requires that every dog be vaccinated every year. Failure to do so is punishable as a misdemeanor and the convicted persons is liable to a fine in addition to penalty fees for late compliance with the law.

This is something that must not be put off. Have your dog vaccinated immediately.

Dad's Day, June 16

Mother had her day on Sunday, May 12.

Now Dad has a day coming up—Sunday, June 16.

One would think that the idea of "Father's Day" would have been promoted by father himself. But not so. It was a woman who had the idea. Maybe she was thinking it might give her an extra excuse to go to town to do some shopping and just happen to think she ought to get something for Dad.

The observance of Father's Day goes back to 1909 when Mrs. John Bruce Dodd of Spokane, Washington, conceived the idea of honoring all fathers with a day of their own.

So it might be well for Dad to begin dropping hints for things which cost just a little bit—for he'll have to pay for them and that'll be the best tribute you can pay him—to help save his money. But deep down he knows that'll do no good. In these days of high-potency merchandising and advertising he's reconciled to a new batch of ties, shirts, socks, belts, tie clasps, cuff links, and such.

But seriously—it's a fine idea. Let him come up for air ONE day during the year.

A credit to us

Announcement has been made that the Marvin Pittman School has been designated by the National Education Association as an international visitation school.

This means that the school on the campus of Georgia Teachers College has been placed on a list of schools which the N.E.A. recommends to foreign visitors.

The Pittman school has been recognized for a number of years as one of the outstanding demonstration schools in the Southeast and a number of delegations of foreign educators have visited it.

The school serves as a laboratory school for the G.T.C. teacher training program and has nursery, kindergarten, elementary and secondary programs.

We commend the staff of the school upon its recognition which reflects with credit upon our community.

The Editor's Uneasy Chair

R. L. "CROOK" SMITH was speaker at graduation exercises of the seventh grade of Black Creek School in Bryan County last Thursday night. The name "Crook" Smith rings bells in the memories of many Bulloch Countians. He is with the Rehabilitation Service in Savannah. We would like to have heard "Crook" speak to those children of the Black Creek seventh grade. We bet that somewhere in his speech he recommended that they put their pennies and nickles and dimes in their piggy banks.

THE WEATHER is back in the news. Last week's daily showers sprouted the feeling "we're just about to get too much rain."

Hearing that up and down the streets we went back to our store of weather information we have accumulated on Bulloch County and we find there is no reason to become excited. As a matter of fact we are still 57 of an inch short of our normal rainfall of 16.90 inches for the first five months of 1957; 1.27 inches short of the 17.74 inches which fell during the first five months of 1956 and 5.6 inches short of the first five months of 1955 when 16.79 inches fell.

However 1957's first five months are 5.15 over 1954's "dry" five months of 11.08 inches. This was 6.66 inches below normal for the January-May (inclusive) which is 16.90 inches.

GOING BACK a ways—Bulloch County really got some rain back in 1929 when 71.35 inches of rain fell, 23.80 inches over the normal year's rainfall of 47.55 inches. It was that year that 12.75 inches fell in one day, September 27. During the month of September in 1929 a total of 24.34 inches fell for a record.

BULLOCH COUNTY'S driest year, during which records have been kept since 1908, came in 1954 when only 26.74 inches of

Thru the Ps of Virginia Russell

Evaluation is a commonly-remarked word in educational circles. It is only natural that I should be evaluating in a grasshopper fashion, since school is out.

THE P.T.A. PROGRAM at the Mattie Lively School, using the slides and tape recordings to depict the year's work, proved very successful. Mr. Adams and his faculty are working on future plans along the same line but these call for more permanent and wider-used types of records and pictures.

In this same program the P.T.A. honored the teachers in a very touching little ceremony. Mr. Joe Neville spoke briefly about the teaching profession making the teachers feel noble and humble at the same time and caused each to be more determined to do even greater things next year. Then congrats were given by the president, Mrs. Mallard after Mrs. James Aldred read an original poem about each teacher and the principal.

BUT SCHOOL AFFAIRS don't occupy everything that needs evaluation. Well, of course the farmers have been evaluating the rains. Someone has said that farmers around Statesboro have had too much rain and those near Statesboro have had too little.

KENNEDY STREET residents think they have had enough. Since this comes right home, I was led to believe that the part of the Lord's Prayer, "give us our daily bread," is all we ought to expect, anyhow. We were snugly discussing the

Meditation for This Week

By THE REV. TED PAGE

ATTITUDES Just what is an attitude? Is it the same as a reaction? No, for a reaction may be momentary. Our attitude toward anything is our habitual way of regarding it. The sum of our attitudes is our philosophy of life.

When you know a man's attitude toward his work, his labor and capital, toward men of other races, and toward the church, you know the essential man.

In ourselves, as well as in others, a good many of these attitudes are wrong, due to one or more of several causes. One of these is ignorance. We close our minds to unwelcome truth.

Another is selfishness. If a business rival is smarter than you, you will not readily admit the fact unless you are unusually generous. By rationalizing you build a case against him. His goods are inferior; his advertising lies; he cheats his customers. Your attitude bases on the fact that he threatens your program of acquisition.

Another is prejudice. Where judgment is weak, prejudice is strong. Perhaps the most potent enemy of right attitude is pride. Jesus hit the head of pride wherever it was reared—whether spiritual, intellectual, or racial pride.

Perhaps the most potent enemy of right attitude is pride. Jesus hit the head of pride wherever it was reared—whether spiritual, intellectual, or racial pride. In the instance of His bathing the disciples' feet.

THE BEATITUDES form a little manual of attitudes. Each shows forth the holy mind of Christ. If we know and are humble in our spiritual poverty; if we are sorry for our sins, gentle against violence; if we have a passion for goodness; if we are merciful; if we make peace where frictions irritate; if we are willing to take the consequences of right actions, for better or for worse; and if we have the gift of continuance—then our habitual reactions will in time approximate perfection.

We shall live the good life. "How happy are the humble-minded, for they already own the Kingdom of Heaven!" "How happy are those who know what sorrow means, for they will be given courage and comfort!"

"Happy are those who claim nothing, for the whole earth will belong to them!" "Happy are those who are hungry and thirsty for goodness, for they will be fully satisfied!"

"Happy are the kind-hearted, for they will have kindness shown to them!" "Happy are the pure in heart, for they will see God!"

"Happy are those who make peace, for they will be known as sons of God!" "Happy are those who have suffered persecution for the cause of goodness, for the Kingdom of Heaven belongs to them!"

"And what happiness will be yours when people balm you and ill-treat you and say all kinds of slanderous things against you for My sake! Be glad then, yes, be tremendously glad—for your reward in Heaven is magnificent. They persecuted the prophets before your time in exactly the same way." (Phillips)

It Seems to Me...

max lockwood

I parked the car out in front and walked up to the big glass doors. There were many people there. They had come to see this impressive new home of First Federal Savings and Loan Association in Statesboro.

As I walked up to the front I began to notice that everyone was all "dressed up" and so I began to wonder if perhaps I might not be out of place at this grand new opening since I wasn't dressed in my suit which is reserved for Sunday.

THIS WAS a foolish thought and it lingered for an instant as the big doors opened and meeting me was the gracious friendliness which was and is the cornerstone of this old institution in its new home.

As I stepped inside the door she reached out and took my hand. His goods are inferior; his advertising lies; he cheats his customers. Your attitude bases on the fact that he threatens your program of acquisition.

Test for Bang's being slowed up

Evidently some livestock owners do not fully appreciate the importance of the bangs test program being offered them. Frank Simmons, a Department of Agriculture official, reports that some owners failed to pen their cattle when notified that the veterinarian will be there to test them.

AS I WALKED through the new offices, the board of directors room, the kitchen, the planning and conference room and back into the spacious lobby, I wondered if others had the same feeling which I had experienced.

There was something new here that friendliness. There was something more here than new brick and stone and mortar. There was something more here than adequate for growing families.

AND NOW once again these same folks had planned around the conference table and with confidence had again made the decision to invest in the future of Statesboro and Bulloch County. It is a big investment.

Herman Talmadge Reports From Washington

THE FUNDAMENTAL RIGHT imposed upon the beneficiary of every American to own property and to dispose of it as he sees fit has been placed in grave jeopardy by the decision of the United States Supreme Court that Girard College in Philadelphia cannot be operated according to the terms of the will which created and finances it.

Girard College was founded in 1844 under a $2 million bequest made by Stephen Girard to the City of Philadelphia in 1831 to be used in establishing a school for "poor white male orphans" and has been operated since that time solely on the proceeds from that bequest which now has accrued into an endowment of more than $100 million.

Notwithstanding the fact that not one cent of public funds ever has been spent on the institution, the Supreme Court held that since it is administered by the state-created Board of Directors of City Trusts, the Board is "an agency of the State" and, under the court's interpretation of the Fourteenth Amendment, cannot exclude any student on the grounds of race.

HEREFORE IT WAS basic legal doctrine that a man had the right to will his property in any manner he might choose and that the trustees of his estate acted as private persons in carrying out his wishes. This decision now raises the question of whether, under its terms, any conditions whatsoever can be

Betty Jo Brannen, Maxine Brunson win F.B. talent and queen contest

Miss Betty Jo Brannen was named West Side talent winner and Miss Maxine Brunson was named the queen for the community Tuesday night, May 28. Miss Brannen did a toe-tap, rope-jumping dance as her talent number with Mrs. Emma Kelly at the piano. Miss Brunson did a reading in the queen contest.

Other talent winners were Miss Gwen Banks teamed with her father, Bernard, to sing as a duet in the talent contest. Miss Gwen Banks teamed with her father, Bernard, to sing as a duet in the talent contest.

Mr. Simmons states that some owners failed to pen their cattle when notified that the veterinarian will be there to test them. On the whole, most livestock owners are beginning to appreciate the importance of the bangs test program being offered them.

Mr. Simmons observed, however, these scattered few are slowing down the work and making it expensive on the veterinarians doing the testing.

Mr. Simmons is visiting Ovum in the southern part of the county ahead of the veterinarians lining up the cattle for testing. The vets visit the farms on the designated day with their chule and help to handle the cattle.

AS LONG as every one is cooperating, things move right along. But when one or two livestock owners fail to carry out their part of the program it slows down the work.

IVANHOE Ivanhoe moved its June meeting to May 31. Plans were made for celebrating the 25th anniversary of the club on July 4. Ivanhoe was organized under the shade of the giant live oak in the back yard of the late John W. Davis, where James Davis and his family now live.

One member of the group was so remarking "When you get full at Ivanhoe, that is the fullest full you can get." The dinner is just that abundant and tasty.

Mr. C. C. DeLoach entertained the Denmark Sewing Club Wednesday afternoon at her home with Mrs. Ernest North and Mrs. Bill Davis as co-hostesses.

During the business hour, the has been invited to spend July 4 with the group, since he was in on the original plans to develop this cooperative community club. Mr. Brown has retired and now lives in the mountains of north Georgia. It was Mr. Brown and Mr. Davis that worked out the plans for such an organization in June of 1932. Plans call for the men in the club to meet Saturday morning to do some repair to their club house and clean the grounds. The members are to invite any guest they desire and dinner will be served at high noon on July 4 so that following the program after lunch the members can go ahead with any holiday plans they have in mind.

Since Ivanhoe was organized, twelve other communities formed Farm Bureau chapters and sixteen others developed home demonstration clubs. All these groups meet once each month, eat together, study together, and visit with each other.

Send more and better cotton to market—

Get rid of Boll Weevils with aldrin

Will boll weevils walk off with the larger share of your cotton profits this season? Not if you treat with aldrin! Fast-acting aldrin knocks out boll weevils, as well as thrips, fleahoppers, cutworms, lygus bugs and other cotton insects. For bollworm control, simply add DDT.

FAST ACTING—Aldrin goes right to work—hours after application you'll see dead insects. Even if it rains the next day, the kill is made.

ECONOMICAL—The cost of aldrin is repaid many times over in increased yields.

EASY TO USE—Apply aldrin as a dust or spray. With either method, you can be sure of dependable control.

This season, send a bigger yield of top-quality cotton to market. See your insecticide dealer for aldrin, available under well-known brand names in all popular formulations.

TOBACCO HORNWORMS! Kill 'em with endrin

Knock out this destructive pest, and at the same time get budworms, flea beetles, grasshoppers, and other tobacco destroyers—with powerful endrin!

Once applied, endrin works fast—and it lasts for many days after application. It's economical, too! You need more ounces per acre for effective control.

Don't let hornworms and other tobacco pests steal your hard-earned profits—use endrin! Endrin is available under well-known brand names from your insecticide dealer.

Sallie Ann Akins wins county Education Association scholarship

By MRS. EDNA BRANNEN

FIRST B.E.A. SCHOLARSHIP IS AWARDED

Miss Sallie Ann Akins of Portal High School has been awarded the first Bullock Education Association scholarship.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace A. Akins of Portal, and the ninth of twelve children. The amount of $185 is being credited to her account at Georgia Teachers College, where she plans to prepare for elementary teaching.

Sally Ann is an honor student and has served as president of the 4-H Club and business manager of the Portal Hi-Lite. She has been an active member of the library staff, Beta Club, chorus, Student Council, Panther staff, and F.H.A., receiving her homemaker degree.

She has had a leading role in the one-act play and has twice represented her school in the home economics literary contest. She has been county representative in the 4-H Club, winning an achievement award. She served as lieutenant for the school patrol for two years and was selected as girl representative in the Future Teachers Club. Sally Ann received the girl's activities award for the class of 1957.

She has done part-time work for two years at Ben Franklin's Store and is now employed at Franklin's Restaurant.

Get in the fine-car swim at the low Ford price!

There's no need to pay a "fancy price" to enjoy fine-car luxury. Ford is lowest priced* of the low-price three, yet offers values you'd expect only in cars costing far more!

To start with, you can easily pay twice the money, and not find lines that can hold a candle to Ford's for lowness, liveliness, or just plain good taste.

But step inside. That's when you'll find the real evidence of Ford's quality! And, on the way in, note that Ford offers door checks that hold doors open in either of two positions—for easy entrance or exit. A little thing. But, in a fine car, why not? Then, inside, notice how comfortable those plush, foam-rubber seats are. They'll stay that way. And on long trips. For they're scientifically contoured over non-sag springs. Your rear-seat passengers are treated extra kindly, too—with spring assists to help them open and close the doors—with the most leg room in Ford's field!

Ford's rear springs automatically adjust to give the right ride for every road. And Ford keeps things quiet, with the most sound insulation in its field.

Fine cars are built to stay solid, so's Ford! Ford has the only frame in its field to make use of rugged tubular steel beams. No car at the price offers so many roof-strengthening beams. Expensive cars aren't built of thicker body steel or with sounder engineering skill. Then, of course, in Ford you can have all the power assists and other conveniences found in fine cars. And they cost far less in Ford. Yes sir! In every feature, every part, Ford is the fine car at half the fine-car price. Come in and see!
