New tax program for city to go into effect

Statesboro's long-awaited tax equalization program will be put into effect in the year 1958, Mayor W. A. Bowen announced this week.

"After more than two years of careful and painstaking study," Mayor Bowen said, "the results of the reappraisal survey conducted by the Board of Tax Assessors are ready for use. Every piece of real property in the city of Statesboro has been examined, and appraised at 100 per cent of its market value, and will be placed on the tax digest of the city of Statesboro at its market value. The millage rate will be cut from the present 17 mills to 6 mills. It is not the intention of the equalization program to raise taxes, but to do exactly as the name suggests—equalize the tax structure. Under the new appraisal, every person's property will be returned for taxation at the same percentage of value—a conservative present-day market value—and the millage rate will be reduced by approximately two-thirds. Every property owner will pay a fair share of taxes, in proportion to the actual value of his property. Some tax bills will be raised, others lowered, but the average tax bill should remain approximately the same."

J. G. Watson, city clerk, announced at the same time that the tax books of the city of Statesboro will be open from January 2 through March 31 for the receiving of tax returns. The Board of Tax Assessors will receive returns at City Hall on Mondays, Tuesdays, and Thursdays, from 9-12 a. m. and from 2-4:30 p. m., and on Wednesdays from 9-12 a. m. No returns will be taken at any other time, and no personnel are authorized to receive returns other than the tax assessors. It is essential that every owner of property in the City of Statesboro, including residents of the newly annexed areas, file a tax return for 1958.

Woman's Club to sell trees for Tallulah Falls

The Statesboro Woman's Club will sell Arizona cypress seedlings here beginning Wednesday, January 8. Mrs. L. M. Durden says that the conservation department of the club hopes to see "A Christmas tree in every yard in Statesboro by 1960."

The seedlings will be sold for three for twenty-five cents, with the proceeds to go into the club's Tallulah Falls School project. Those interested in buying these trees may contact Mrs. L. M. Durden or Mrs. Alfred Dorman.

Statesboro up, county down in population

According to population figures estimated by the Georgia Health Department as of July 1, 1957, Statesboro has gained 803 citizens to push its population up to 6,900 while Bulloch County lost 1,439 down to 23,310. These changes have taken place since the last official census in 1950. However, the health department's estimate does not take into account the annexation of the new areas into the city limits yesterday, January 1.

Jim Montgomery, writing in the Atlanta Constitution, suggests that the migration from Georgia farms appears in some respects to "be beefing up the economic life of many communities located in counties that are steadily losing population."

He believes that those who are leaving the farms in counties like Bulloch are finding jobs in plants like the Rockwell Statesboro Corporation which moved here to find more productive workers in non-metropolitan areas.

"The result," says Atlanta economic consultant Phil Hamner, "is the creation of new markets—new consumers for goods and services sold in the small towns."

Neighboring towns showing a similar trend as that in Statesboro and Bulloch County are Waynesboro's population estimate is up 539 to 5,000 while Lamar Simmons, 39, and Gordon Ashton Simmons Jr., ten-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ashton Simmons of Statesboro, were killed in a highway accident on U. S. 80 on Christmas Day.

Also killed were Arthur Davis, Negro, and his son, Albert.

Mr. Simmons and the two Negroes were killed instantly and young Simmons died about an hour after the accident in the Bulloch County Hospital.

The accident happened about one mile west of Statesboro on the Statesboro-Portals highway. Both automobiles were demolished by the impact.

Double funeral services were conducted Thursday, December 26, at the First Baptist Church, Statesboro, with the Rev. George Lovell and the Rev. Dan Williams officiating. Burial was in East Side Cemetery, Statesboro, with Smith-Tillman Mortuary in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Simmons is survived by his mother, Mrs. Homer Simmons Sr.; his widow, the former Miss Mildred Thompson; a sister, Miss Evelyn Simmons, and three brothers, Frank, Homer and Gordon Ashton Simmons, all of Statesboro.

The child, in addition to his parents, is survived by a sister, Eloise.

Pallbearers for Mr. Simmons were Lawrence Mallard, James Brunson, Cordell Thompson, Roy Thompson, Rudolph Thompson and Fred Kennedy.

Pallbearers for the young boy were Felton Mooney Jr., Erderick Hodges, Randy Simmons, J. H. Wood Jr., Ralph White and Dub Lovett.

Eight classmates served as honorary pallbearers for the child. They were Harry Brunson, Bill Lovett, David Newsome, Bill White, Homer Simmons Jr., Frankie Proctor, Bill Wyatt, Jerry Aldrich, Jimmy Spires and Lehman Ramsey.

Paul Bunce joins staff of Ag. Extension Dept.

Paul C. Bunce has been named assistant marketing specialist for the Agricultural Extension Service, University of Georgia College of Agriculture, according to W. A. Sutton Extension director.

The new member of the Extension staff is a native of Statesboro. He attended Georgia Teachers College and later graduated from the University of Georgia, receiving a bachelor of science in agriculture degree. Bunce also holds a master of science in Agriculture degree from the University.

He served in the Army for one year. Bunce worked for the Union Bag and Paper Company, Savannah, for three years and was with the John Deere Plow Company prior to joining the Extension staff. He has had seven years experience in helping his father manage a 400-acre farm in Bulloch County.

In his new position he will work with L. E. Farmer, Extension economist-project leader. Working with county and home demonstration agents throughout the state, the economists and marketing specialists furnish information to Extension workers, farmers, and others on economic trends. They assist them in marketing their farm products and in planning more efficient farm and money management.

Bunce is married to the former Miss Frances Rogers, Reidsville, and they have two children.

New city limits adds to city's population

The city limits of the city of Statesboro were increased by approximately 1.4 square miles on December 31, as the annexation program authorized by city voters on July 26 went into effect. Statesboro now becomes a city of some 4.5 square miles area, and approximately 10,000 population, according to a statement issued today by James W. Bland, city engineer.

New areas include the Jewell Drive and Pine Aft sections to the north, including JEF Road and Fletcher Drive; the Carmel Drive and Edgewood Acres sections to the east and southeast; and the Andersonville area to the south.

JOHN DEERE DAY IS JANUARY 8

Don Thompson and Joe Robert Tillman of the Bulloch Tractor Company, announce today their annual "John Deere Day" here on Wednesday, January 8, with a movie at the Georgia Theatre at 9 a. m. and a field demonstration at the farm of A. S. Hunnicutt on West Main Street at 2 p. m.

They say that all the events are free and that no tickets will be required. "It's a day of entertainment, carefully planned for all members of the family," they add.

The Bulloch Tractor Company has moved into new quarters at 3 South Walnut Street. The entrance is on Walnut Street near West Vine Street.

Mr. Thompson and Mr. Tillman also announce that Tom Smith, former owner of Smith Shoe Shop, is working in their stock room.

JUNIOR WOMAN'S CLUB TO MEET JANUARY 9

The regular meeting of the Statesboro Junior Woman's Club will be held Thursday afternoon, January 9, at 3:30 at the Recreation Center.

Shown above is just a small portion of the toys presented to the Statesboro Junior Chamber of Commerce by students at Georgia Teachers College for redistribution in Bulloch County. Citizens of Bulloch County and G.T.C. students filled the building formerly occupied by Aldred Grocery with toys and clothing. The program is an annual one for the Statesboro Jaycees, but President Donald McDougald termed this one "The best in club history."

1958 auto tags now on sale at B. C. tax office

Winfield Lee, Bulloch County Tax Commissioner, this week announced that the sale of 1958 auto tags will begin here today, Thursday, January 2, in the county courthouse.

He said that applications for the tags are now available at the courthouse and at service stations in the county. He added that tags will be sold only to persons who live in Bulloch County.

The tax commissioner pointed out that all 1957 taxes must be paid on automobiles and trucks on which owners are applying for 1958 tags. The application itself, is a sworn affidavit that these taxes have been paid, Mr. Lee said.

He suggests that applications should be completely filled out and signatures notarized when presented at the auto tag window in the tax commissioner's office.

"False swearing or forgery on tag applications subjects a penalty of up to $1,000 fine and imprisonment of not less than one year, nor more than five years, or both," Mr. Lee pointed out. "This is a ruling of the Department of Revenue," he said.

Tag prices are the same as last year he said. E tags—1 to 3,000 pounds, 1954 models and previous years, $3.00.

D tags—1 to 3,000 pounds, 1955 and current models, $5.00. Plain tags—3,001 to 3,500 pounds, $7.50.

J tags—3,501 to 4,000 pounds, $10.00. A tags—4,000 pounds and over, $15.00.

Trucks for hire and trucks not for hire, up to 2,000 pounds, can get tags at the counter of the tax office. Tags for trailers in this weight and category can also be purchased at the county tax office.

Businesses grow 16 per cent in city and county

The number of business concerns in the Statesboro area increased about 16 per cent last year in comparison with 1955, while Bulloch County, as a whole, also increased 16 per cent, according to Wm. M. Gordon, district manager at Atlanta, who bases this statement on figures in the current Dunn and Bradstreet Reference Book.

He said this increase showed up in the requests for financial information going out to approximately 400 business concerns in Bulloch County. In 1955, 342 requests were mailed to firms in this area.

Gordon said his company is mailing out approximately three-million such requests in the nation as a whole, an annual practice which is helpful in keeping its credit reference files up to date.

When the principal of a business or his accountant returns a financial statement, it becomes a part of the credit report on the business. The credit report includes a history of the business, a description of what it does, a financial section, and a record of how the concern pays its bills.

On the basis of the information in the report, a rating is assigned, and the businessman is listed in the Dunn and Bradstreet Reference Book. Gordon said the Reference Book is indispensable in conducting credit inquiry, pointing out that 95 per cent of all commercial transactions in the country are made on credit terms.

Editorials

We hope it accomplishes its objective

This week Mayor Bill Bowen emphasizes the assurances he made during the latter part of 1957—that the new tax equalization program, to become effective this year, is "not to raise taxes, but to do exactly as the name suggests—equalize the tax structure" of the real property in Statesboro.

For more than two years the City has been carefully studying the problem of property valuation here and now the results of the survey conducted by the Board of Tax Assessors are ready for use.

Under the new appraisal every person's property will be returned for taxation at the same percentage of value—a conservative present-day market value—and the millage rate will be reduced from seventeen mills to six mills. The end desired is that every property owner will pay his or her fair share of property taxes.

We commend our city officials for the effort they are making to equalize the tax burden being carried by property owners in our community.

Property owners need some relief. They are considered the prime source of revenue on the local government level and they carry a heavy load. They feel that they are supporting many services which benefit others who do not share in the cost.

So anything to equalize the property tax burden will be welcome.

Our hope is that the new equalization program accomplished its objective.

The New Year

The old year is dead, the new year is born. Humbly, fearfully, we sink on our knees, and slowly, in answer to our prayers, comes back something of the old faith of our childhood, and we rejoice that we are granted one more New Year's day on which to "begin again"—not in our childish way, with utter disregard of the past, but trustingly, patiently, knowing that we must ever carry with us our past, and rejoicing that, with God's help, we may make the future better because of the past. Then, as we rise from our knees, we look bravely forward to the veiled figure that stands at our threshold; we know nothing of what it brings, we know only that it is God's new year. May He bless it to us all!

Polio—The 2nd look

The decline in new polio cases in 1957 was truly one of the year's greatest blessings. But while we're saying "hat's off!" to the Salk vaccine, let's take a closer look at the polio picture. Is it really over? Can we now sit back and say "goodbye" to one of the most dread, costly and tragic of human diseases?

Tens of thousands of disabled polio patients know better. And so do March of Dimes volunteers now conducting the annual fund drive here and throughout the country. They can show you how visible polio is on the national scene.

The volunteers will also tell you about the 57,800 polio patients who needed care and rehabilitation in 1957. That took $21,700,000 in March of Dimes funds. What is especially significant is that only 4,800 of them contracted polio last year. The rest—53,000—were victims of former years who still needed help. They'll need help this year too, many of them. The March of Dimes has allocated $21,100,000 for their care and rehabilitation.

These are not statistics. They're real people. The child with the crutches standing on the sidelines watching others play—that's polio. In hospitals and respirator centers, you can hear it in the steady breathing of the iron lung bellows and you can see it in the thin arm dangling at the side.

The March of Dimes continues to carry on its important role in serving humanity. The success of its current campaign will be measured in the success stories of polio's remaining victims—those who have not only survived the disease but are learning to live worthwhile lives again. The March of Dimes deserves all-out support.

Welcome!

On this New Year we join the citizens of Statesboro in a resounding welcome to our neighbors in their new status as official residents of the City of Statesboro.

On January 1 the citizens of the areas including Jewell Drive, the Pine Air sections, JEF road, Fletcher Drive, Carmel Drive, Edgewood Acres and Andersonville, came into the city limits of the City of Statesboro.

With them they brought approximately 1.4 square miles of additional area to enlarge the land area of the city to about 4.5 square miles. Their numbers increased the city's population to approximately 10,000.

To make these new citizens feel "to home" in Statesboro the city now includes them in their street lighting service, garbage pick-up, and fire and police protection. They are also scheduled to be included in the city's new sewerage expansion program.

With the admission of these areas into the City of Statesboro they merely "formalize" their responsibilities as citizens of not only Bulloch County, but now as citizens of Statesboro.

We welcome them and say, "Make yourselves to home."

We sail our cap

For the members of the Southeast Bulloch High School basketball team we sail our ivy league cap with the buckle in back, into the blue yonder over their victory with Augusta's Richmond Academy here Saturday in the G.T.C.-Jaycee annual Christmas basketball tournament.

The boys from S.E.B.H. whipped the city boys from Augusta 66 to 55. They had to defeat Nichols in the first round and the Blue Devils from Statesboro High School in the second round for the privilege of defeating Richmond Academy in the finals.

We commend Coach George Roebuck and his boys of the Southeast Bulloch High School on their fine tournament record.

This Week's Meditation

By The Rev. L. E. Houston Jr.

NO FROTH IN 1958 IN FURTHERING my economic education the other day, I read an article by Mr. Roger Babson entitled, "Tight Money Called Only a Symptom." Now I'm interested in money, (and who isn't?) especially the "tight money market," since my congregation is on the verge of a building program.

THE THING that impressed me about Mr. Babson's article was not what he said about economics, but how he related our present financial condition to our spiritual development.

He wrote: "The real reason why money is 'tight' today is because most people have gone haywire materially seeking money, entertainment, and more gadgets, including stylish clothes, autos, TV sets, and all the other things their neighbors have." He believes firmly that a nation's material and spiritual development go hand in hand.

PERHAPS HIS most disturbing assertion was that present-day church attendance is largely the "froth of religion." This statement ruffled my "ministerial feathers" for a moment until I realized he was striking a vulnerable spot in our religious life. Many of us are grateful for the definite upswing in religious interest and church attendance in recent years. Yet, like Mr. Babson, we know the crux of the matter lies deeper than "filling the pews" every Sunday.

Until our religion affects honesty in business; until it transforms politicians into statesmen; until it brings sincerity to our efforts in the field of human relations; until it rebuilds the dignity of the family circle; it is only the "froth of religion."

WE ARE NOW two days into the new year. I wonder if you included in your list a resolution to keep your religion in force seven days a week? Please, no froth in 1958!

Spotlight on Statesboro B.P.W. Career Women

NELL GODBEE is the youngest of a quartet of daughters of the late Judge and Mrs. John F. Brannen of Bulloch County, all of whom at different times have been teachers.

Mrs. Godbee received her high school education at Statesboro. She is a graduate of Wesleyan College, Macon. Subsequent to college graduation, she served as director of public welfare in Dodge County, and for eight years taught in the Griffin schools. Three years ago, she and her husband, John R. Godbee, came back to Statesboro and they are now living in the home in which she was born, at 134 North Main Street.

MRS. GODBEE is now teaching the fourth grade in the Mattie Lively School. She says that "teaching is something that is born in you—something you never stop loving," and that "you have to have a great love for children—and the feeling that you want to help them shape their lives. NEW YEAR'S DAY, like Christmas, or even New Year's Eve, is a day for many people. According to traditions and religious practices of the various countries, it is observed the world over, as a time for paying past debts and looking forward to new beginnings. However, in this age of DeWise guidance and to many, many people, it becomes just the first of another month when another installment is due.

IN FRANCE and Scotland, New Year's Day, instead of Christmas, is the day for the exchange of gifts, while Christmas takes the form of a religious festival.

According to the Gregorian calendar, New Year's Day is January 1. The Chinese New Year's celebration, which continues for several days and ends with the Feast of Lanterns, is one of China's principal feasts; the Jewish New Year is called Rosh Hoshanah.

IN THE UNITED STATES New Year celebrations combine early primitive customs with those of the modern world, as in the primitive emphasis on New Year's Eve as the time of festive ceremonies. On that night there are watch night services in churches, as well as carnivals and winter gatherings.

MANY STILL cling to the idea of making or renewing resolutions on New Year's Day to do better during the year. Many resolve to give up their gadgets, including stylish clothes, autos, TV sets, and all the other things their neighbors have." He believes firmly that a nation's material and spiritual development go hand in hand.

It Seems to Me...

CHRISTMAS, 1957, has been a wonderful one for me. For the first time in my life I've taken the time to remember the true meaning of the holiday season. For the first time in my life I've watched those things take place around me which spelled out the real feeling of Christmas.

I saw a twelve year old spending the first Christmas he could remember with "real" parents. He had been adopted back in the summer and had experienced the first time the loving tenderness which can only come from someone you dearly love.

I HEARD the story told of a police chief who received an unusual present. It seems that he, on several occasions over the years, was the only one to remember a man who had been sent to prison, by mailing him Christmas cards and small notes on special occasions. Forgotten by his family, these little notes had been high points in his life. Up on release from prison he bought a pair of hand cuffs, had them engraved with his name and mailed to this only one who had remembered.

THERE WAS an old fellow who walked into one of our grocery stores with a few old

A NEW YEAR. A brand new year with three hundred and sixty-five days, each day having twenty-four hours, is before us. It is easy to talk about the beauty of the forest when one stands on a mountain top and gazes at the wondrous sight from afar. It is easy to write about a New Year if one can stand alone from the days and see only the expanse of time.

IT ISN'T EASY, of course, to write about the beauty of the forest if one is getting tangled in the dense undergrowth among the massive trees. It isn't easy, of course, to write about the New Year when one's days are filled to the minute with the details of life—around the problems of eating, sleeping and dressing oneself and one's family.

IT WOULD be easier to look back, even though this is not considered a wise thing to do. Take my resolution, after Thanksgiving, "I do solemnly swear to keep the school children so busy that they won't even know Christmas is near." On top of this I laid out plans for a study of "Christmas Customs Around the World," and for each child to make his or her mother a present.

THE CHILDREN were kept busy as could be, but their very thoughts were never far from that great day. The nearer it got the more worn was the teacher. All the previous resolutions about keeping the voice low, no fussing, etc. were thrown to the winds. In the afternoons when the children left for the buses they had always looked at the teacher with the happy expression that might have been interpreted, "I love you." Now they had that "hang-dog" expression on their faces or their heads were bowed as they left. No one in his right senses would have tried to interpret those looks if she intended remaining a sensitive human being.

THERE WERE some bright spots for us all, though. Mrs. Zolton Farkas, wife of the language professor at G.T.C. and a former citizen of Hungary, visited the class room and told the children of the customs of celebrating Christmas in Hungary. One little story was most interesting to the children. The children have a handful of straw and a cradle. For each good deed a child does he is allowed to put one straw in the cradle. By Christmas day the cradle is full of straw. She also sang "Silent Night" in three languages.

Miss Kerstin Pihl, our Swedish student at the college, thrilled the fifth graders just as she has adults. Her freshness and loveliness overshadowed the children's thoughts of approaching Christmas. One little boy asked, "Are you married?" when she replied "No, but another young swain quickly put in, "Well you're going to be Christmas offering. Here it is. It is a take-off of the tired chain letter gimmick. If you can use it, Judson gives his permission.

"Dear Sir: This letter was started by a man like myself in hope that it will bring relief and happiness to tired and bored working men. Unlike most chain letters this does not cost a cent. Simply send a copy of this letter to five of your friends who are actually tired and bored. Then bundle up your wife and send her to the man whose name appears on the top of this list, deleting his name from the copies you send your friends. You will receive 16,748 women. Some of them are round to be a ball of fire and a big improvement over what you had. Have faith and do not break the chain. One man did get his old lady back.

LET THIS NEW YEAR be a year of service, a year of trust in God, and it will be a happy one.

things were piled out on the porch of the tiny home. I THINK PERHAPS the one single incident which stands out most clearly in my mind had to do with a little girl and a doll. There are some friends of mine who at this time of the year give me money to use to bring a little cheer into the lives of those less fortunate than they.

With some of this money I purchased food, some toys and in some instances simply gave away the cash. Riding through one of the colored neighborhoods on Christmas Eve I saw a little girl about five years old.

Stopping the car I reached back on the seat, took out a box containing a doll and handed it to her. Opening the box she peeped in. Her eyes flooded with tears of joy and clutching the doll to her little heart she raced from sight.

THERE WERE, of course, many other wonderful experiences during the holiday season. There is no joy which surpasses the joy of being present when one's own children awaken early on the wonderful morn, rush into the room where the tree has been trimmed and expression once again the pleasures of that joyous hour.

Stopping the car I reached back on the seat, took out a box containing a doll and handed it to her. Opening the box she peeped in. Her eyes flooded with tears of joy and clutching the doll to her little heart she raced from sight.

THERE WERE, of course, many other wonderful experiences during the holiday season. There is no joy which surpasses the joy of being present when one's own children awaken early on the wonderful morn, rush into the room where the tree has been trimmed and expression once again the pleasures of that joyous hour.

With some of this money I purchased food, some toys and in some instances simply gave away the cash. Riding through one of the colored neighborhoods on Christmas Eve I saw a little girl about five years old.

Stilson News Hunters in Stilson community have trouble with rattlers while hunting

Christmas was very quiet here though everyone seemed to enjoy the day.

The boys spent the day squirrel hunting and the men folks hunted quail on Christmas day. However, some of the men folks decided against squirrel hunting on Christmas Eve when they went hunting they stopped near a slab pile in the woods to listen for the dogs to tree a squirrel. They looked on the ground and saw a large rattlesnake. They killed that one, and they were each afraid to venture on to the dog. So after a while they decided to go on, and started toward where the rattlesnake had been. There was another big rattler. They killed that one also. But it broke up the squirrel hunt for the day. One snake had 10 rattlers. The larger one had only eight rattlers. These men thought the recent rains had filled the ponds and the snakes run the snakes out on the land. The woods being rough because of not being burned, there are more snakes than when the woods were burned.

Just a day before the last had freeze the boys killed a rattler with seven rattlers in the woods while squirrel hunting. So any one doing any kind of hunting had best be careful about the rattlesnakes, as most folks think that you don't see rattlesnakes in winter.

This Is The Story of Bulloch County

Chapter VI - Installment 3 Schools

This week we continue our "Story of Bulloch County" which we began on August 29, 1957.

In the 1850's there was agitation again to set up a state school system, free to all. In 1858, the state provided for an annual appropriation of $100,000 from the rentals of the Western and Atlantic Railroad for the establishing of free schools. The War between the States ended this program. Schools were closed in this emergency.

Following Sherman's devastating march through Bulloch County poverty and scarcity prevailed to such an extent that for the time all effort was spent in feeding and clothing families rather than providing for their education.

But as families began to regain some financial security they sent their children out of the county to recognized schools including Bradwell Institute in Liberty County, Reidville Academy in Tattnall County, Chatham Academy in Savannah and to the Monroe Female College in Forsyth Georgia.

A receipted bill from R. T. Ashbury, president of the Monroe Female College, dated December 1, 1877, for Miss Rena Hodges shows the following items: Tuition, $50.00; music, $50.00; French, $27.00; incidental expenses, $2.00; ornamental lessons, $27.00; books, $10.35; picture frames, $5.75.

The first graduates of liberal arts colleges from Bulloch County were: Daniel Groover, University of Georgia, 1873; John Slater, University of Georgia, 1881; D. N. Nichols, Kentucky School of Medicine, 1886 and S. L. Moore, Emory, 1887.

In the 1890's popular boarding schools for young ladies from Bulloch County were: Lucy Cobb Institute in Athens, Georgia; Cox College at College Park, Georgia; Wesleyan College at Macon, Georgia; Spartanburg College at Spartanburg, S. C.; Presbyterian Institute, Blackshear, Georgia; Georgia Normal and Industrial College at Milledgeville, Georgia, and Nannie Lou Warthen Institute at Wrightsville, Georgia.

In the 1870's an academy was established at Excelsior, the Post Office being called Red Branch. This was probably the best school from the point of scholarship that Bulloch County had ever had.

By BROOKS and LEOLE COLEMAN

An advertisement appearing in the "Excelsior News" for July 18, 1879, announced that the Academy was for male and female, the scholastic year being divided into three terms, each consisting of sixty-seven days. The first term would open the second Monday in January; the second term would open Wednesday, April 23; the third term, the second Monday in September. Between the first and second term there would be a vacation of one week only. The rates of tuition per term were $6.70 for the primary class, $8.35 for the Intermediate Class, and $10.00 for the Advanced Class. Music was $10.00 per term and incidental expenses were fifty cents. Incidental expenses must be paid in advance and there must be prompt settlement for tuition at the end of each term. Board including lights and washing, etc., could be had in the town at $7.00 and $8.00 per month. The teachers listed in this advertisement were the Rev. J. T. Smith, principal; Rev. J. C. Brewton, assistant; Miss G. A. Padgett, music teacher; Elder W. L. Geiger, general superintendent. The trustees were J. F. Alderman, Remer Franklin, secretary. There was also nine month's school at Eureka; the post office for which was Zoar. This was near the Clito community. Later when some of the county schools were consolidated Eureka, Beaver Pond, and Clito were joined under the name Clitonreka.

ANNUAL ALL-NIGHT PARTY AT J.T.'S AND T.E.T.'S

One of the most looked forward to social affairs for the young high school boys and girls is the all-night party which includes supper, dancing and a midnight movie with the members of the girls' club, J.T.'s, and the boys' T.E.T. club as joint hosts.

The party began at 8 o'clock Christmas Eve night at the Forest Heights Country Club where they were seated at long tables decorated in the holiday mood. Attractive hand-made place cards were used.

After dinner they danced until time for the midnight show at the Georgia Theatre where they saw "The Blonde Center." When the movie was over the returned to the country club for more dancing, followed by an early breakfast of doughnuts and coffee.

Mary Alice Chaney, in the role of Santa Claus, presented Beverly Brannen, president of J.T.'s Club, and Lehman Franklin, president of the T.E.T.'s, Christmas gifts. All attending received token gifts.

Senior J.T.'s and their dates were Beverly Brannen and Mike Bowen of Metter, Doty Daniel and Smets Bilch, Bonnie Wood, cook and Marshall Thigpen, Maxine Brunson and Ronnie Hueb, Barbara Brunson and Joe Olliff.

Junior members and dates were Anna Daniel and Harry Johnson, Mary Alice Chaney and Frederick Shearsore, Cynthia Johnson and Kenneth Chandler, Sue Ellis and William DeLoach.

Senior T.E.T.'s and dates were Lehman Franklin Jr., president, and Madelyn Waters, Kenneth Chandler and Cynthia Johnson, Harry Johnson and Ann Daniel, Juniors: Robbie Franklin and Martha Faye Hodges, Johnny Beaver and Mabel Youmans of Swainsboro, Billy Seacore and Kay Minkovitz, Tommie Martin and Doris McLelland, Ralph Howard and Bonnie Dekle.

Sophomores: Jim Anderson and Cerv Johnson, Bobbie Jo Cason and Cecil Anderson, Bob Olliff and Linda Cason, Bill Stubbs and Georgann Pether. Last year's president, Amelie Brown and her date, Bob Swiler.

The chorons were Mrs. Helen Lovette and R. D. Bowen.

He didn't intend to even add a few years to his ten for fear somebody might beat him to the prize.

FINALLY, the great day came and I vowed I'd not correct a single child on that day. It went by quickly and as I stood at the door I even received a few kisses as parting gifts.

Then, there were "Christmas Customs at Home" to be considered. How much there needs to be done to ready a house for returning children, for guests, for Christmas, only a mama knows. The hours flew by. Santa Claus came even though one of the older boys said he was the poorest he had ever been. Then our Christmas dinner with forty some odd other members of the family. A return trip brought along a young cousin and more fun—but good for the mama—help. (Anybody knows she was a girl!) Another visitor came.

NEEDLESS to say the problems of the world were solved as we held many a round table, coffee dance, hours long conference. We haven't finished, yet.

So since there's no way to get out on a mountain top and gaze at the forest, I personally, tramping in the woods, will just have to resolve to take each day as it comes and do the best I can. It's the only way I know.

A Christmas gift donation of $25.00 was made by the members of the club to the Georgia Federation's "Rosebud McCormick Foundation."

Veterans at the Dublin Hospital, and those in the homes for elderly people, colored and white, located in and near Statesboro, were remembered with appropriate gifts.

Gifts were exchanged among all present.

Mrs. Nell Godbee presented the officers with ceramic ashtrays which she had made in her home.

MISS THACKSTON AND MR. HOLLAND ARE MARRIED

Miss Patricia Ann Thackston became the bride of Henry Lawton Holland Thursday morning, December 19, at the home of the bride.

The Rev. R. C. Howard of Glenview performed the double ceremony before members of the families.

The altar was decorated with arrangements of white gladioli and chrysanthemums, palms and lighted candles.

Mrs. Holland is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. DeWitte Thackston of Holland, Miss. Her father is the son of Mrs. Charlie B. Holland of Register and the late Mr. Holland.

The couple wore a powder blue sheath dress with matching jacket, the collar of which was embroidered with pearls and beads. Her hat was of blue feathers and she wore a white orchid corsage.

Following the ceremony a reception was held. The bride's table was covered with a white lace cloth. The tiered cake was flanked by silver candelabra.

Mrs. F. D. Thackston Sr., grandmother of the bride, cut the cake and Mrs. Hobson DuBose poured coffee.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Coursey of New Madrid, Mo., where Bob is employed by Proctor and Gamble, visited Helen's mother, Mrs. W. L. Hall, for Christmas and went on to Lyons to visit Bob's mother, Mrs. Baker.

Dear Folks:

There are dozens of surprises in the new John Deere Day we planned for you, your family, and your friends. More colorful, more informative, more entertaining than ever, it's entirely different from previous John Deere Day programs.

In beautiful Technicolor you'll see an interesting new "Addition to Farming," your old friend Strom Hordson, an interesting success story on irrigation. In "What's New for '58" you'll see the latest in farm machinery. The feature picture is something new—a rib-tickling western musical comedy. And tying the program together are colorful, continued choruses and trios singing bouncy music written especially for this show. It's a program you and your family will long remember.

Here's something else—no tickets are required, you simply leave to show up on the date, at the time, and at the place shown below. You'll be our guests.

We're counting on you!

OGEECHEE HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB HAS CHRISTMAS PARTY

The annual Christmas party of the Ogeechee Home Demonstration Club was held December 12 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Aaron.
After the devotional given by Mrs. F. D. Thackston, a short business session was held and the regular meeting for the club was changed from third Thursday to fourth Thursday of each month.
Christmas decorations, with a lighted tree, contests, with prizes, and an exchange of gifts made this meeting one of the best of the club year.
Fruit cake, pound cake and coffee were served by the committee.

"Willie Wiredhand" Says

Happy New Year!

WE HOPE YOUR CHRISTMAS was merry and bright... that Santa brought you just what you ordered. We're happy that so many of you asked for—and received—efficient new electric appliances. They'll make life easier for you in the years to come.

IT'S BEEN PLEASANT to serve our members this past year, and every year. We've done our best to anticipate their needs—from our board of directors to the newest of our linemen.

We've tried to help them get electric power to the best use. They have responded by using more power each month. We expect to continue to grow—slightly ahead of the demand on our system.

THE GREAT DIFFERENCE between a rural electric co-op and most other business is that our primary aim is service. We are a non-profit corporation, trying to supply electric power to our members as close to actual cost as possible. This has resulted in low rates, despite the scattered areas in which we are privileged to serve... rates as low as anybody's in Georgia.

SO—WE WISH YOU A HAPPY NEW YEAR! Remember, too...
