1-30-1958

Bulloch Herald

Notes
Condition varies. Some pages missing or in poor condition.
Originals provided for filming by the publisher.
Gift of Statesboro Herald and the Bulloch County Historical Society.

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.georgiasouthern.edu/bulloch-news-issues

Recommended Citation
https://digitalcommons.georgiasouthern.edu/bulloch-news-issues/3268

This newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by the Bulloch County Historical Newspapers at Digital Commons@Georgia Southern. It has been accepted for inclusion in Bulloch County Newspapers (Single Issues) by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons@Georgia Southern. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@georgiasouthern.edu.
Editorials

Rural roads, a political battlefield

Our efforts to get our county and state leaders to prioritize rural roads and roads of our rural areas is hampered by the belief that the rural population is just not big enough to vote and the politicians expect them to. Poor roads means poor service and we have the right to expect the best services we can possibly have. The rural population should be the ones to complain to and eventually demand better services. The more people that complain, the better it will be for us.

Yorks from an Uneasy Chair

We are told that it is a difficult time for us. We must continue to fight for what we want and what we need. It is important to keep fighting and not give up.

This Week's Meditation

It seems to me that the best way to approach meditation is to allow your mind to wander and to allow your thoughts to flow freely. It is important to let go of any judgment or expectations and to simply be present in the moment.

Spotlight on Statesboro

B.P.W. Career Women

In the words of the esteemed leader, "The best way to approach meditation is to allow your mind to wander and to allow your thoughts to flow freely. It is important to let go of any judgment or expectations and to simply be present in the moment." This sentiment is echoed by the esteemed writer, who adds, "It is important to keep fighting and not give up."

Waiting for a 65 tag

Our efforts to get our county and state leaders to prioritize rural roads and roads of our rural areas is hampered by the belief that the rural population is just not big enough to vote and the politicians expect them to. Poor roads means poor service and we have the right to expect the best services we can possibly have. The rural population should be the ones to complain to and eventually demand better services. The more people that complain, the better it will be for us.

The Editor’s Uneasy Chair

We are told that it is a difficult time for us. We must continue to fight for what we want and what we need. It is important to keep fighting and not give up.

This Week’s Meditation

It seems to me that the best way to approach meditation is to allow your mind to wander and to allow your thoughts to flow freely. It is important to let go of any judgment or expectations and to simply be present in the moment.

Spotlight on Statesboro

B.P.W. Career Women

In the words of the esteemed leader, "The best way to approach meditation is to allow your mind to wander and to allow your thoughts to flow freely. It is important to let go of any judgment or expectations and to simply be present in the moment." This sentiment is echoed by the esteemed writer, who adds, "It is important to keep fighting and not give up."

Waiting for a 65 tag

Our efforts to get our county and state leaders to prioritize rural roads and roads of our rural areas is hampered by the belief that the rural population is just not big enough to vote and the politicians expect them to. Poor roads means poor service and we have the right to expect the best services we can possibly have. The rural population should be the ones to complain to and eventually demand better services. The more people that complain, the better it will be for us.