He answers like this

"What does the Bible say about integration?" is a recurring question among the peoples of our section. Many ministers of the Gospel shy away from the question. Many answer it sincerely in the light of their knowledge and experience and according to the dictates of their hearts.

One of those with the courage to speak his mind and heart is Elder V. F. Agan, former pastor of the Statesboro Primitive Baptist Church and now pastor of an Atlanta Primitive Baptist Church. He is well known here and is respected for his integrity and his deep knowledge of the Bible. He answers the question like this in a recent issue of "The Good Samaritan," the Primitive Baptist Church home publication:

"First, let us consider Acts 17:26, that God hath made of one blood all nations of men for to dwell on all the face of the earth, and hath determined the times before appointed, and the bounds of their habitation." We are all brothers in Adam; we are not the children of God until we are saved by His grace and born of His Spirit. Since God "made—all nations," He had a wise purpose in doing so. Any authority which seeks to dissolve nationalities is working against the will and the work of God. Failure and destruction must be their doom since "every purpose of the Lord shall stand." (Jeremiah 51:29)

"I do not hesitate to say that the Bible teaches national purity. God certainly commanded His Hebrew nation to be a separate people. In the realms of successful livestock business the thoroughbreds are the winners; and the bird kingdom we do not see Mr. Robin and Mrs. Mockingbird living and working together. They live in the same yard but their standards of specie are kept in purity. Whose law is this? It is God's law in His creation. Degradation always follows violations of God's laws."

"I AM UNABLE to quote statistics here, but we may rest assured that both Spangis II and Explorer from, or his nearness to, God.

We join their salute

This week the youth spotlight shifts over to the more than 143,940 members of the Georgia 4-H Club as they observe National 4-H Club Week.

Sunday, March 2 these young people gathered in churches all over Bulloch County and Georgia to worship in special services.

This week they are concentrating the observance emphasis on a salute to parents, their own and the parents of all others.

We can think of no finer way to observe a special week than this one adopted by the 4-H youth of the nation.

When young people honor their parents you are sure to find a well disciplined home in which the young people are truly a part of the family which works together, plays together, worships together, grows together and lives together.

We join these young 4-H Clubsters in their observance of National 4-H Club Week and lift our hand to our forebears and salute their parents with them.

Our home tour

Wednesday afternoon, March 12, seven Statesboro homes will open their doors and their owners will be hosts to people from all sections of Georgia.

Scores of people who love beautiful things will "oh" and "ah" over a lovely highboy, or an antique desk, or upon discovering a beautiful tea set as they move in groups through the rooms of these homes.

For you see, these homes are open for the annual tour of Homes sponsored by several of the garden clubs of the city as part of the state Tour of Homes. Statesboro is one of only nine cities in Georgia to participate in the annual tour which attracts people from all over the state.

We commend the garden clubs here for their part in the tour. But we reserve our special commendation for the home owners who open their homes to these tour visitors. It means days of preparation. There's a multitude of things that must be done to make the home ready for the keen eyes of those who visit during the day. And it's understandable if the man of the house can't exactly see what the fuss is all about, but he'll go along in the end, for he too is proud of his home.

We join the members of the garden clubs sponsoring the tour in welcoming the visitors who will be here that day.

Let's let them try

It would be an interesting experiment. With our Legislature out of the state capital and its members back home arguing the pros and cons of their accomplishments, the members of the Youth Assembly of the Y Clubs over the state move in for their annual session.

These youth representatives will go through the motions of running the state. They will organize, elect a governor, a lieutenant governor, a speaker of the house, a senate leader, set up committees, and debate and pass legislation.

Would it not be interesting if the legislation they bring up for consideration should be passed and signed into law should be for real? They couldn't do any worse than their elders did.

This week's Meditation

What has led to this with Christian living? By transferring this idea to the religious, we might say that a person's remoteness from God is his apogee, and his nearness to God is his perigee. Unfortunately, many people live in this apogee relationship to God. To them He is vague, distant, and otherworldly. His words to Moses—"My presence will go with thee"; Jesus' words—"If ye have seen me, ye have seen the Father"; they will come to rest in His Everlasting Arms.

Apogee and perigee may be astronomical terms, but they can also point a person to his Explorer from, or his nearness to, God.

Anyone inclined to dismiss the new civil rights bill introduced by Senators Douglas, Humphrey, Morse, Javits and 12 others as the second version of the same song had best take a look at the fine print.

While it purports to do no more than restore the vicious Part III which the Senate wisely eliminated from the measure that passed over Southern protests last year, it actually would set up a federal school dictatorship without parallel this side of the Iron Curtain. It would declare the school desegregation decisions of the Supreme Court to be "the supreme law of the land" and would, in all but name, make of the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare a Secretary of Integration with unlimited authority to plan, finance and—with the help of the Attorney General and Federal Courts—enforce school integration in any district, city, county or state he might choose.

COMBINING THE WORST features of already-repudiated federal aid to education and forced desegregation legislation, this bill proposes to give the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare $2,500,000 a year to employ integration "specialists" to draft segregation plans and $400,000 a year to finance extrajudicial enforcement. He would have the power to establish integrated schools with federal funds in any area or to take over the operation of any school program part of P.T.A. and a chapel. We spend a little time consulting each other before faculty meets.

BROADENS THE EDUCATION OF RURAL YOUTH IN AGRICULTURE, INDUSTRY, CIVIC AND CULTURAL INTERESTS THROUGH CONTACTS WITH PEOPLE FROM OTHER STATES...

POGEE OR PERIGEE? BEING ALIVE in the "Space Age" is both a fearful and wonderful sensation. It is fearful in that one constantly wonders just how long it will be before someone sets off the blast that will make the earth a flaming holocaust.

The other day, I learned two new words and, at the same time, discovered a spiritual truth. A friend asked me if I knew what the words apogee and perigee meant. I tried to put up an intelligent front, but had to admit that they were "unknowns" to my vocabulary.

Both of these words are astronomical terms. According to Webster's apogee means "that point in a heavenly body's orbit which is farthest from the earth—now properly said only of the moon." (You can tell how ancient is my dictionary.) Perigee means "that point in the orbit of the moon nearest to the earth."

Apogee and perigee may be astronomical terms, but they can also point a person to his Explorer from, or his nearness to, God.

The Editor's Uneasy Chair

THE FATHER of two little girls handed us the following. It expresses his concern and the concern of every mother and father of little girls and little boys. Read it with a vital and unimportant thing.

"Dear Driver "A few weeks ago, I saw a little girl struck by a car as she tried to cross the street. I saw a father race toward her and hold her to him as she struggled in the agony of death. I saw all the people who had been made for her dashed and I saw the look of despair that came over his face. I could only offer a prayer that such a thing may never happen again.

"Today, my daughter, who is six years old, started off to school. Her coxer spanks whose name is Scout, watched her leave and whined his belief in the safety of education.

"Tonight we talked about school. She told me about the girl who sits in front of her, a girl with yellow curls, and about the teacher who has eyes in the back of her head; about the trees in the yard...

It Seems to Me...

I CONTINUE in this column this week to discuss with you some thoughts which were presented in February. I am really interested in this series of writings my suggestion to you would be to keep them so that as almost a direct result of the beginning each week and thus gain a clearer picture of the purpose behind them. You will then have a better understanding of the solutions as the written proposals them.

As one looks at the total picture which is presented by the sorry situation involving so many of our youth in delinquency and crime and thinks in terms of a positive approach toward a solution the big question always is where do we start?

IN GIVING an answer many have said it lies in the home, in the church or in the school. Quite obviously any of these spheres of influence and of paramount importance in the life of the individual, but the attack must be made on a total society level. Scores of the young people I know have faced these questions...

TRUCKS EMPLOY 1,523 PAY $68 MILLION IN BULLOCH COUNTY

The importance of trucks as an employer and major income producer for the people of Bulloch County is emphasized in figures just released by the Georgia Motor Trucking Association.

Using the county's 1957 truck registration of 2,214 as a basis, the G.M.T.A. computations show a county trucking industry employment of 1,523 with an annual payroll of $6,858,069. Farm trucks are not included in the computations.

Over the state as a whole, the trucking industry employs 197,434 with an annual payroll of $753,955,320. Average annual wage for the trucking employees is $4,500, compared with a comparable figure of $3,120 for all industries in Georgia.

AS WE go to get in the car we discover the tools all over the floors of the car. The teenager is installing a second-hand radio he's found, somewhere. That causes more growling. "Now, I'll have to grope to six people for breaking the dances." The windshield wipers were disconnected and driving along sparks shoot all over my legs.

EVERYONE looks nice and dressed up. I look in the faces of the men, carefully, and wonder if they give their wives as hard a light as a man I know gives his.

LET'S face it. This crowd is getting old—too old for this business," Pa says as we dance our first dance. He, it makes me mad, grows but he ends up having the best time.

Them come to dress for our bi-annual dance. Bi-annually, Pa

Farmers asked aid eradication of screw worm

Attention all farmers who have livestock of any kind! Now, while cold weather has brought temporary relief from screwworm infestations, it is time to join the effort to wipe out the screwworm in the Southeast.

WHY? Why should you check the oil in your car or truck? To determine whether oil is needed. A soil test is the fertility gauge for your farm. It tells you these important things: 1. How much and what major plant nutrients you have in your soil.

HOW? A soil test is as accurate as the sample sent to the soil testing laboratory. Therefore, it is very important that a representative soil sample be made. Sufficient samplings should be made from each field being tested and these samplings should be scattered over the field in order to obtain a representative sample.

1. Insect all animals frequently. It is necessary to find every case, including infested animals that hide out.

2. Promptly treat wounds with approved remedies. EQ-335 and Smer 62 are recommended by the U.S.D.A. These may cost a little more than older formulas but they do the job more effectively.

3. Keep animals in pens until wounds are healed. A screwworm-infested wound is highly attractive to egg-laying flies. Keep animals covered and keep the animal under observation until the wound has healed to protect the animal and the rest of the herd.

4. Report all screwworm cases to my office promptly.

5. Use bloodless emulsators on cattle, sheep, and goats.

6. Treat all surgical or accidental wounds. Cover with a smear and keep under observation until they are healed.

7. Prevent wounds in animals by handling and by keeping all pastures and handling facilities in good repair.

8. Where to send it? The soil sample and the information sheet filled out may be brought to the county agent's office. The county agent will furnish mailing instructions.

HOW MUCH DOES IT COST? Soil testing is a free service in Georgia.

WHEN? A soil sample can be taken any time of the year. The soil testing laboratories at least one month before planting time of the crop to be grown. This will allow sufficient time to obtain the results of the soil test and to purchase any necessary lime and fertilizer before planting time.

FOR spring plantings, take samples in October, November, December and January. For fall plantings, take samples in June, July and August.

Farm Bureau County Agent Roy Powell urges soil tests for Bulloch farms

County Agent Roy Powell urges farmers in Bulloch County to have their soils tested to determine the correct amount of fertilizer and lime needed for their particular farm.

WHAT IS IT? A scientific method to determine the fertility needs of a particular area. A sample of soil representing a particular farm field is analyzed by chemical means to determine whether oil is needed. A soil test is the fertility gauge for your farm. It tells you these important things:

1. How much and what major plant nutrients you have in your soil.

2. What grade of fertilizer is needed. A soil test is the fertility gauge for your farm. It tells you these important things: 1. How much and what major plant nutrients you have in your soil.

Electric short course set for March 10-12

Another in the series of rural electrification short courses in Bulloch County will be held March 10 through 12 on the farm of Rufus Brannen.

Meetings at 8 o'clock on the evenings of March 10 and 11 will give instruction in planning and carrying out an adequate rewiring program. Miniature houses will be equipped with fuse boxes and wired in preparation for the course's final session March 12. This entire day will be spent rewiring a house on the basis of a college education on the basis of a year in college on the G. I. Bill for each year in military service. He thus would have the skills of a college graduate.

The purpose of the course, say its organizers, is not to make electricians but to help those taking part to better plan adequate wiring programs for their own farms, and to develop skill in the use of electrical equipment. The course is open to all farmers in the area of Bulloch County in which Mr. Brannen lives. Anyone who is interested in attending is invited to contact him, or any of the county's vocational agriculture teachers.

JOIN! Your Red Cross Must Be Ready!

3 times in 1954 deadly hurricanes from the eastern part of the United States. "Carol" was the name of the first. Then came "Edna" and "Hazel." "Hazel" went so far inland that many never experienced a hurricane for the first time in the memory of man!

Disaster strikes like lightning—and just as unpredictably. It happens so often that your Red Cross must answer an average of 6 disaster calls every week—year after year.

In time of trouble, only people can help people. And that is what your Red Cross is—people helping people. You are not alone when you need help or when you give help. This is the Red Cross way when blood or fire aid saves a life; when disaster victims need relief; when a serviceman or his family needs a helping hand. So wear your Red Cross button proudly. Join—and join generously so that no one will be alone in time of trouble.

MRS. CATHERINE KIRKLAND (left), chairman, Nurse's Qualification Committee, and (right) Mrs. Ernest Brannen, Editor of the Women's News and Society, and Mrs. Percy Bland, guest speaker on the program. She brought with her a large tray displaying many specimens of camellias. She took each bloom separately, gave its name and the climate most adaptable for its growth.

Spotlight on Statesboro B.P.W. Career Women

Trying to get a simplified account of her job would necessitate the use of an electronic brain. At any rate, Catherine Kirkland's title is instructional supervisor of schools for Bulloch County.

Mrs. Kirkland has achieved a notable reputation throughout the area for her service to the young in her spare-time. She is particularly interested in students making their hours productive ones and being taught to think for themselves. She is an enthusiastic believer in teenagers, and encourages young people to direct their energy into constructive channels.

Her educational background especially fits her for her profession. She holds a B.S. and an M.S. degree in education, University of Georgia, and has done post-graduate work at Florida State University and Universities of Maryland and Tennessee. In her work, she drives herself as though inactivity were a sort of profanity of life and health.

Despite her busy professional life, Mrs. Kirkland manages to maintain active membership in an impressive list of organizations. She is a member of the Woman's Club, A.A.U.W., G.E.A., N.E.A., A.S.C.D., Association for Childhood Education, International Readers' Club, and a member of Trinity Episcopal Church.

Prior to her membership in the Statesboro Business and Professional Women's Club in 1950, she was a member of the Punta Gorda, Florida club. She contributes to the Statesboro club.

Mrs. J. H. Rushing is honored on her 54th birthday.

On Tuesday, February 25, Mrs. J. H. Rushing on Fair Road was honored on her 54th birthday by her sisters, a brother, sons and daughters, cousins and friends, as they gathered at her home each bringing a covered dish for the bountiful luncheon.

After the luncheon, the ladies joined in singing as Mrs. George (Emma) Kelly played all the old-time songs and some pretty fast numbers, too, as Mrs. Algie Trappell and some of the younger ones sang along with them.

Those enjoying the birthday celebration were Mrs. Livvy Rushing, Mrs. John Rushing, Mrs. Ruth Suddath, Mrs. Mary Proctor of Pembroke, Mrs. J. D. Akins, Mrs. W. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. L. T. FEBRUARY MEETING OF HOE AND HOPE GARDEN CLUB

Mrs. J. Brantley Johnson Jr. and Mrs. Frank Simmons Jr. were co-hostesses Tuesday, February 4, to the Hoe and Hope Garden Club at Mrs. Johnson's home on Pine Drive.

Mrs. Gene Curry presided at the business meeting, hearing only routine reports in order to have ample time for the guests, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Landrum of Milton to demonstrate Japanese flower arrangements. They made ten lovely Japanese line arrangements explaining the technique as they worked.

The table, overlaid with a red organdy cover, had for the centerpiece a heart-shaped arrangement of flowers cascading a silver candelabrum interspersed with white candles.

Mrs. E. L. Anderson Jr. poured coffee at the silver service. Angel food loaf cake with whipped cream was served with coffee and nuts.

Other members present were Mrs. E. W. Barnes, Mrs. Inman Foy Jr., Mrs. Paul Franklin Jr., Mrs. Gerald Groover, Mrs. Hubert King, Mrs. John F. Mays, Mrs. John Mooney, Mrs. Don McQuinn, Mrs. J. P. Redding, Mrs. Roger Holland Jr., Mrs. Edgar Godfrey, Dr. and Mrs. Hunter Robertson.

The club is happy to have Mrs. Lawson Holloway as a new member.

During the social hour the hostess served cherry roll topped with whipped cream, nuts and coffee.

Mrs. Averitt is recording secretary and she is on the reception committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Elton Kennedy and children, Melody, Danny and Paul of Vidalia, visited Mr. Kennedy's mother, Mrs. Delma Kennedy over the weekend.

Mrs. Bobby Cook and small daughter, Julie of Montecello, spent the week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Smith.

Mrs. George B. Franklin of Boston, Mass., is a patient in the Candler Hospital in Savannah. Mrs. Franklin who suffered a broken hip and other injuries in a car crash near Pembroke and her husband, Dr. George Franklin, were on their way to visit Mrs. Herschell Franklin.

Mrs. J. H. Rushing on Fair Road was honored on her 54th birthday by her sisters, a brother, sons and daughters, cousins and friends, as they gathered at her home each bringing a covered dish for the bountiful luncheon.

MISS LANIER, MR. MORALES WED IN CHURCH CEREMONY

Miss Jo Nelle Lanier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Lanier of Statesboro, and James Morales of New York City and Statesboro were married at St. Matthews Catholic Church Tuesday 9 at 1:30 o'clock.

Father Robert D. Rademacher performed the ceremony. The altar vases were filled with white gladioli. Mrs. Joe Zetrower, organist, presented a program of wedding music.

Ushers were Larry Jacobs and Al Peters. Don Hansen of Toledo, Ohio, and Hunter Art Base was best man.

Miss Linda Lanier, her sister's maid of honor and only attendant, wore shrimp netlon net over matching taffeta with ruffled bodice and bouffant skirt with graceful flower sprays embroidered on the net. She wore a net and taffeta bandeau. She carried a nosegay of white carnations.

The bride, entering with her father, was lovely in her wedding gown of white lace and tulle over princess satin. The fitted lace bodice with a Sabrina neckline ended in points at a long torso from which the full skirt swept to a graceful train. Her tiered finger-tip veil of illusion was attached to a tiara of seed pearls. Her wedding bouquet of white chrysanthemums was outlined with white satin ribbons.

Mrs. Lanier, mother of the bride, wore a black suit with a pink carnation corsage.

Mrs. Morales, a graduate of Statesboro High School and of Bolen-Draughton Business College in Savannah, is employed at the Department of Public Health.

The bride and groom will make their home in Statesboro.

MARRIAGE ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. George Bernard Bowen of Register announce the marriage of their daughter, Ann, to Pfc. Billy C. Mikell. The wedding took place on Saturday, February 21. The ceremony was performed at 4 o'clock in the afternoon in the First Baptist Church of St. Mary's Georgia by the Rev. David J. Lundin.

Mrs. Mikell was graduated from Statesboro High School and is now a sophomore at Georgia Teachers College.

Pfc. Mikell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clayton Mikell of Statesboro. He is now serving with the U. S. Army at Fort Las Cruces, New Mexico.

The wedding is planned for June 8 in the First Baptist Church, Statesboro, Ga.

Miss Owens is a senior at Queens College in Charlotte, N. C., and Mr. Patterson is attending Emory University Dental School in Atlanta, Ga.

DEBORAH HAGIN CELEBRATES 4TH BIRTHDAY

Deborah Hagin, daughter of Edgar and Faye Hagin, celebrated her fourth birthday at a party at the Recreation Center on Saturday afternoon.

Deborah's mother, Mrs. Edgar Hagin, invited forty of her little friends to attend the party.

Deborah wore a navy blue polished cotton dress with a very full skirt lavishly trimmed with white lace.

Ice cream, birthday cake and punch were served. Her birthday cake with candles was a doll cake. Small Easter baskets filled with Easter eggs were the favors for the children. On the table there was a large Easter basket filled with eggs and the bunny rabbit.

Mrs. Paul Moore and Mrs. Floyd Olliff assisted in serving.

Size, shape, and weight of cotton balls vary with variety, fertility of soil, and moisture conditions. This information is from agronomists at the Agricultural Extension Service.

Donell Thompson teaches science with aid of television set-up

One day recently members of the State Board of Education attended a class at Conley Hill Elementary School and watched something new in teaching.

They were watching a pre-recorded, Miss Donnell Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Thompson of Statesboro, as she taught a science lesson by closed-circuit television. Miss Thompson, who teaches fourth grade at the Conley Hill Elementary School, was directing the lesson to about 350 third, fourth and fifth grade boys and girls in twelve classrooms.

The closed-circuit television teaching experiment is the first of its kind in Georgia. A good part of the money—$35,000—to finance it was put up by the state board. Fulton County schools pay most of the rest, and an electronic concern helps some.

Among late school officials present at the demonstration were Dr. Claude Purcell, and Dr. M. D. Collins of the state department.
