B. & P.W. revises program of service for year

At the March meeting of the Statesboro Business and Professional Woman's Club the revised program for the club's 1957-58 program was presented.

The new program was designed to help meet the five major problems confronting women in this new space age, said Mrs. Minnie Lee Johnson, club president.

The problems as listed by the club are: 1. "We must know the resources of trained womanpower in our community." To work on this problem the club plans to establish a register of trained women who could be made available for full time or part time work in the fields of science, math, education and teaching.

2. "We must utilize and expand research and educational opportunities and facilities." The club plans to catalogue and publicize educational facilities; sponsor youth forums to interest and encourage high school students to enter scientific fields; and organize adult courses.

3. "We must work to ensure the safety of our community." The club plans to train every member in the latest civil defense methods; stimulate action by local government to provide similar training courses for all citizens.

4. We must take an active role in promoting peace. The club plans to organize groups to study our foreign and domestic policies and spearhead "People to People" activities.

5. "We must be spiritually, mentally, physically and emotionally prepared." Plans are to sponsor forums, panels and clinics under professional guidance.

At the March 17 meeting the membership committee presented the initial program under the revision. Mrs. Ester Gross, chairman, introduced Miss Maude White, who said that "the door of membership in our Federation must be opened wider. An organization never stands still. That it is our duty and privilege as members of this choice Federation to advance. That we can advance only as far as we, the members, desire our organization to go."

Miss White said that from her observation at the recent board meeting in Columbus, all clubs, in their reports, indicated progress, but that greater progress is now essential; that every member and prospective member should be vitally interested in the Federation's new "crash" action program, that fully developed, will make the Statesboro B. & P.W. Club play a major role in carrying out the peacetime program of our country, and that will focus the attention of men and women in our community on the forward progress of our organization.

Business conducted at the meeting included the appointment of Miss Maude White, Miss Penny Allen and Mrs. Mattie Tenner to the nominating committee, and election of the following delegates and alternate delegates to the state convention to be held in Albany, Georgia, on May 16-17-18, 1958: as delegates—Miss Sylvia Zetterower, Mrs. Nell Godbee, Mrs. Mattie Tanner, Miss Sylvia Zetterower, Miss Shirley Purser and Miss Alma Hopper; as alternate delegates—Miss Grace Gray, Miss Katie Repass, Mrs. Eloise Ware, Miss Martha Moses, Mrs. Comilla Lanier, and Miss Ann Williford.

Edgar Hart retires from police service

Edgar Hart, chief of the Bulloch County Police Department and one of the most widely known police officers in the state, retired Tuesday, April 1, after 30 years as a police officer.

The name Edgar Hart is known to every man, woman and child in Bulloch County and his reputation as a police officer extends throughout south-east Georgia.

Mr. Hart, who is a native of Bulloch, began his police duties here in 1928 with the City of Statesboro. He served 20 years with the city and was chief of police for 10 years. Mr. Hart served under five mayors.

On January 1, 1948, Mr. Hart was named chief of the county police. During those 10 years, serving under three different county commissioner administrations, he has made thousands of cases for law violations and in most instances there was a conviction.

During the period he has destroyed 62 liquor stills and in his first year accounted for the demolition of 16 stills.

Chief Hart, who is still a young man and owns a farm near Statesboro, said that he hopes to take things easy for a while.

Observers around Statesboro are of the opinion that Mr. Hart will be found in and around the Bulloch County Courthouse, a place where he has had headquarters for a long, long time.

afternoon seminars for businessmen and the annual banquet which will have Pierre S. du Pont III as guest speaker.

Although the entire membership of the seven garden clubs, which comprise the Bulloch County Council of Federated Garden Clubs, will have a part in the show, all committee chairmen this year were drawn from the membership of the Spade 'n' Trowel Garden Club of which

The Easter Story as told by Luke

As Told by Luke Chapter 24, Verses 1-53

ON UPON the first day of the week, very early in the morning, they came unto the sepulchre, bringing the spices which they had prepared, and certain others with them.

And they found the stone rolled away from the sepulchre. And they entered in, and found not the body of the Lord Jesus.

And it came to pass, as they were much perplexed thereabout, behold, two men stood by them in shining garments: And as they were afraid, and bowed down their faces to the earth, they said unto them, Why seek ye the living among the dead?

He is not here, but is risen. Remember how he spake unto you when he was yet in Galilee, Saying, The Son of Man must be delivered into the hands of sinful men, and be crucified, and the third day rise again.

And they remembered his words, And returned from the sepulchre, and told all these things unto the eleven, and to all the rest.

It was Mary Magdalene, and Joanna, and Mary the mother of James, and other women that were with them, which told these things unto the apostles.

And their words seemed to them as idle tales, and they believed them not.

Then arose Peter, and ran unto the sepulchre: and stooping down, he beheld the linen clothes laid by themselves, and departed, wondering in himself at that which was come to pass.

And behold, two of them went that same day to a village called Emmaus, which was from Jerusalem about three score furlongs; and they talked together of all these things which had happened.

And it came to pass, that while they communed together and reasoned, Jesus himself drew near, and went with them.

But their eyes were holden, that they should not know him. And he said unto them, What manner of communications are these, that ye have one to another, as ye walk, and are sad?

And he said unto them, What manner of communications are these, that ye have one to another, as ye walk, and are sad?

A.S.C. says most farmers to be able to sign up

The chairman of the local county A.S.C. committee, V. J. Rowe, reports that most farmers who wanted to take part in the 1958 acreage reserve of the Soil Bank, but could not file signed agreements because of fund limitations, will apparently be able to sign up at the county office in the near future. Both the Senate and House of Representatives have approved a supplemental appropriation of 250 million dollars to provide for additional acreage reserve participation. This will bring the total to 750 million dollars for the 1958 program. Because agreement on some detailed program provisions must still be reached in House-Senate conference, Congressional action on the supplemental appropriation is not yet complete. As soon as final action is taken, the county committee will get the "go ahead" for completing the sign-up. Preliminary steps have been taken to state A.S.C. committee to prepare the way for immediate action when the

Coastal Bermuda good for grazing, hay and silage says county agent

Coastal Bermuda, that versatile, three-purpose grass good for grazing, hay and silage, is still a young "sprout" as the young of plants go. Yet by 1957 there were 643,919 acres planted in Georgia. Bill Sell, Extension pasture agronomist, tells me that Extension hopes to increase this to one million acres by 1965. Certainly there is more room for Coastal Bermuda grass in this county.

HOW TO PLANT

If you want to plant some Coastal Bermuda this spring and not have to stolon, contact me and I'll steer you to the nearest source. Having a nearby source is important because only fresh stolons should be planted—the day they are dug, in fact. If you plan to establish several acres, it is a good idea to establish a small stolon lot of your own.

FERTILIZE

When planted on soils of medium fertility Coastal does not need fertilizer until runners begin to grow. On low fertility soils a complete fertilizer should be placed directly in the row, at or before planting. As runners begin to grow side dress with 20 to 30 pounds of available nitrogen per acre.

HOME-GROWN DAIRY COWS BETTER

One big advantage of growing your own dairy replacement is that home-grown cows require less to keep per year of milk production. Recent studies show that home-grown replacements remained in the milking herd an average of five years longer than purchased replacements, lasted an average of only half as long—about two and a half years.
