Foundation for new industry laid

On Tuesday of last week the Bulloch County Development Corporation laid the foundation for a new industry for our community. The officials of the corporation, together with city and county officials, are now negotiating with a new plant which will begin with an operation requiring about one hundred employees, with prospects that the payroll would eventually expand to include nearly four hundred employees. According to Mr. T. J. Morris, president of the Development Corporation, the firm would need a building of 40,000 square feet which would cost an estimated $200,000. According to the planning of the corporation the building would be constructed with a loan of 60 per cent of the cost, secured by the building and a balance of about $80,000 to be raised by citizens of the community purchasing stock in the Development Corporation. The reaction to the proposal was enthusiastic as indicated by the more than $20,000 pledged on the spot at the meeting May 20. To raise the balance citizens are being given an opportunity to purchase stock at $25 per share on a pledge with payment to be made upon request. The purchaser may pay for his stock in four equal monthly installments, following

To honor John Abbott

Mayor Bill Bowen has proclaimed June 1 "John Abbott Day" to honor one of Bulloch County's most illustrious citizens. John Abbott moved to Bulloch County sometime after he came to the Colonies from England in 1773. He lived on a place belonging to the late W. E. McElveen near where Arcola was later located. He died there and was buried in the McElveen family cemetery. For decades his burial place was unknown but finally was located through the efforts of Dr. R. J. H. DeLoach of Bulloch County and Dr. Elsa G. Allen of Cornell University. On May 24 of last year a beautiful bronze plaque, mounted on marble, was erected in the McElveen cemetery to mark his grave. John Abbott's fame grew around his greatness as a naturalist. His drawings and water colors of birds, plants and insects are said to be as great as those of the famous Audubon. Dr. DeLoach has in his possession several of the originals. There are over one hundred of his nature drawings in the DeRenne Library in Athens. Members of the Georgia Historical Society consider the finding of the grave of John Abbott an important contribution to the history of Georgia and Bulloch County. Mayor Bowen has done our community a service in focusing our attention on one of the world's great naturalists who lived the latter part of his life in what was to become Bulloch County.

A thousand-fold

It was only a nickle—a five cent piece—but it was given in that spirit which increased to its worth a thousand-fold. It came in an envelope from Melvin Love, unemployed, with the notation, "My contribution to the fight against heart disease." On such foundations are strength and character built. Let there be more of them.

Building character

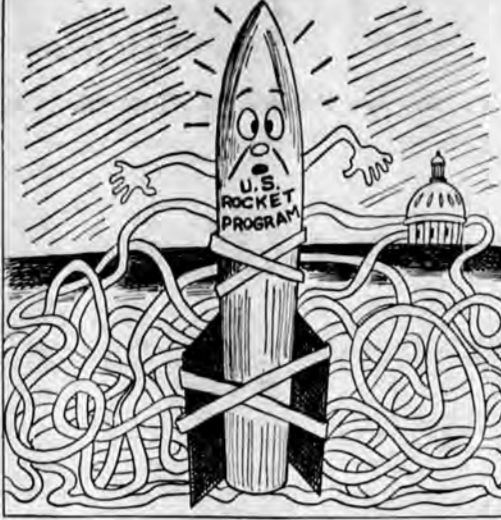

If there is any doubt about the youth of our community then knowledge of two events which took place recently should do much to dispell it. On the evening of May 15 the Statesboro Hi-Y Club held its annual meeting at which new officers were installed and at which awards were made for their outstanding contribution to their fellow youth and to the community of which they are such a valuable part. On the evenings of May 19 the Boy Scouts of Troop 340 held their annual honors court at which three of their members were given the Eagle Scout awards, one of the highest awards in Scouting. Other Scouts also received awards for achievement.

Out of groups like these two will come our leaders of tomorrow. They conducted their affairs with mature aplomb, they accepted their awards with humility, and they petitioned their Heavenly Father for guidance in all the things they do. On such foundations are strength and character built. Let there be more of them.

RED TAPE TIE-UP...

This Week's Meditation

By The Rev. L. E. Houston Jr. THERE IS NEED FOR UNDERSTANDING. Indifference often stems from a lack of understanding. I first found this to be true when I was assigned to my first charge as a Methodist minister.

UP UNTIL this time I had been so involved with the study of theology, church history, and the English Bible, that I was unaware that much of my time as a minister would be spent with people in ill health.

THE elderly person with a chronic disease, the expectant mother and the anxious father, the patient who nervously awaits an emergency operation, the person who has just learned he has a cancerous condition—all these have need of a minister. And to think that I once thought a course in Pastoral Care was an elective in a master's program.

IN MY SHORT ministry I have discovered yet another area of concern. MENTAL HEALTH. The need for mental health is as great today as the need for physical health.

IN THE NEAR future, we citizens of Statesboro and Bulloch County will be given the opportunity to support the newly organized Bulloch County Mental Health Association. This organization is dedicated to the relief of the mentally ill and to the mental health of our community.

THE ACCEPTANCE of a mental health program has not been to correct the dictum which set the pattern for the current wave of judicial usurpation of legislative power—the ruling of the Court of May 17, 1954, that state and local governments cannot operate their public school systems in the manner they determine to be in the best interests of their citizens.

BECAUSE of that it shall be my purpose to seek to amend the Bill to remove jurisdiction of all federal courts to hear, determine, or review, or to issue any writ, process, order, rule, decree, or command with respect to, any case, controversy, or matter relating to the administration, by any state or any political or other sub-

The Editor's Uneasy Chair

We have been invited to join a new club. Well, it's not exactly an invitation, but we have been furnished the requirements for membership and that seems tantamount to an invitation.

THE set of requirements came to us from Charlie Robbins ("Lanky Franks" Robbins) with a notation, "Do you qualify?" So it seems to be implied that I might become a member.

HOWEVER, upon going over the requirements I'm not sure but that membership in the club is only the prelude to a ride in the big black limousine followed by another limousine with their headlights on.

CONSIDER these requirements for membership in the new club known as the Coronary Club. They are in the Congressional Record published by our U. S. Congress.

YOUR job comes first; personal considerations are secondary. 2. Go to the office evenings, Sundays, Saturdays and holidays.

THE take briefcase home on the evenings when you do not go to the office. This provides an opportunity to review all the troubles and worries of the day.

THERE ARE those who are something that when we lack for something about which to write about. Our readers see to that. But it's just what dogs are an everyday problem and attract

AND the destruction of the North Atlantic Alliance in Europe. The Communists are succeeding in their march to victory through internal struggle. This is a thing they could not have done without the aid of the Communists who have been protected by our own government.

ALL OF THIS means simply this to America. We have so busied ourselves in building atomic ships and planes, in building inter-continental defenses and in building guided missiles that we have neglected the war for the capture of man's minds. We have been content to let the Communists use small segments of peoples to keep us on the defensive and in the end to have so controlled the issues involved that we stand at a place in human history more despised than at any time since the rise of Paul Revere.

WE ARE in a position to fight a global war which perhaps never come. We know, of course, that we must be prepared and the cost of preparedness must be borne. At the same time we must not neglect those areas of effort where there could be gained through diplomacy and planning for a much lesser cost than a hydrogen bomb.

WE cannot afford to allow our prestige to fall. We must not allow small forces or groups of the Americas to ridicule the

THE LAST days are the hardest, and perhaps the bitterest—sweetest. The last days of school, that is, the most interesting in their fat bellies than in the welfare of their division of any state, of any public school, public education institution, or public educational system operated by such state or subdivision.

SO LONG AS the school decision is allowed to stand this nation will never be free from the threat of judicial dictatorship and the Constitution and the rights of the American people will forever be subject to the whims of the men who transiently occupy the Supreme Court bench.

UNLESS it is reversed, then the United States has no Constitution and no laws except what the Supreme Court may on any given occasion say the Constitution and the laws are.

IN voting on the Jenner Bill, Congress will vote on whether the Government of the United States is to be one of laws or men and whether it shall be Congress or the Supreme Court which shall make the "laws of the land."

OWENS-PATTERSON WEDDING PLANS DISCUSSED
Miss Louise Ethel Owens of Statesboro, Ga., and Joe Miller Patterson of Hickory, N. C., will be married June 8 at the First Baptist Church of Statesboro. The bride-elect announces her wedding plans today.

The Rev. Charles R. Patterson, father of the groom-elect, will officiate at the 4 p. m. ceremony. Nuptial music will be presented by Mrs. William Smith, organist, and Dr. Jack Averitt, vocalist.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jefferson E. Owens of Statesboro, and her father will give her in marriage. The groom's parents are the Rev. and Mrs. Patterson of Hickory.

Charles R. Patterson Jr. will be his brother's best man. Miss Jo DeWitt of Elberne, N. C., college roommate of the bride, will attend Miss Owens as maid of honor. Miss Kathryn Owens, sister of the bride-elect, will be bridesmaid. Junior bridesmaid will be Margie Owens, sister of the bride, candy lambeth and Lambeth of Thomasville, N. C., brother-in-law of the groom, and Jeff Owens Jr. of Statesboro, brother of the bride-elect.

Mr. and Mrs. Owens, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lambeth and the Rev. and Mrs. Patterson will entertain at Mrs. Bryan's kitchen after the wedding reception on June 7.

RECENT BRIDE
Mrs. Rufus Futch, who was before her marriage, Miss Judy Zetterow was honored at a lovely shower tea at the home of Mrs. C. W. Zetterow Wednesday afternoon, May 14. Hostesses with Mrs. Zetterow were other aunts of the bride.

Mrs. Frank Proctor greeted the guests and introduced them to the receiving line, composed of Mrs. C. W. Zetterow, the bride's mother, Mrs. Robert Zetterow, Mrs. Newton, of Newton, Ga., and the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Linnie Zetterow of Statesboro.

Mrs. Willie Zetterow kept the bride's book. Mrs. W. W. Jones presided in the diningroom and Mrs. Cliff Brundage and Mrs. H. H. Zetterow, were hostesses in the gift room.

The home was decorated beautifully with Dr. Van Fleet roses and Queen Anne's lace.

In the living room a long boat arrangement of white flowers, with white love bird accessories, centering the mantel, was reflected in the mirror.

The tea table, with a white linen cover imported from

Don't Let Carpet Cleaning Floor You

Now you can clean all types of wall-to-wall carpets quickly and easily with the new Blue Lustre carpet and upholstery cleaner.

This very gentle foam cleaner is brushed into the carpet with a long handle brush without sootting or matting, leaving the pile open and lofty. Original colors spring out like magic.

Blue Lustre removes spots or traffic paths in a jiffy. Works beautifully on upholstery too. One-half gallon of Blue Lustre concentrate cleans three 9 x 12 rugs.

PRINCESS PRESENTATION AT CALVARY CHURCH

The Calvary Baptist Church was the setting for a "Princess Presentation" honoring Floyd Wood and Vicki Dwinell, Thursday evening, May 15.

In the service fifteen girls were presented with their emblems by Mrs. George Dwinell, intermediate counselor and Mrs. Gordon Freeman, junior counselor.

The maidens entered wearing pastel formal and carrying nosegays of white, made on gold stars with green streamers. The maidens receiving their emblems were Diann Brannen, Kathleen Bragg, Dianne NeSmith, Belinda Campbell, Sandra Cato, Gail Heath, Gloria and Linda Ellington, Brenda Beasley, Linda Powell, Nancy Gay also took part but was presented her emblem prior to this service.

The ladies-in-waiting, Miss Darlene Youmans, Fay Wood and Faye Bunch, were waltz-jug formal and held bouquets fashioned of white daisies on gleaming gold foil stars with showers of green and white streamers. They stood before a screen of wrought iron decorated with greenery and gold stars and flanked by candelabra holding white tapers.

The climax was the entrance of the princesses, Miss Wood and Miss Dwinell. Each was dressed in white formal and carried flat white baskets of daisies. The handles featured bows of white ending in streamers with gold stars attached. They took their places on either side of a white chair bearing a satin pillow upon which was placed a G. A. Queen's crown committee.

James Webb is Rockwell I. A. Award winner

James Webb, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Webb, Route 6, Statesboro, was recently honored as winner of the Rockwell Industrial Arts Award Contest.

During Honors Day ceremonies at Statesboro High School May 16, Rockwell General Manager S. W. Brown presented James with a Rockwell Delta 24-inch Scroll Saw complete with all attachments such as blades, guards, and pulleys. He also received a plaque designating him as winner of the contest.

Under the direction and guidance of Mr. Aubert Murray, Statesboro High Industrial Arts Instructor, James produced a radio-phonograph cabinet that was considered best in the contest from the standpoint of workmanship, appearance, originality, finishing, methods and shop procedure.

You get more of what you buy a wagon for

You can find a lot of reasons why Ford is America's best-selling wagon. For example, all-new Thunderbird V-8 power, a passenger-car ride, foam-rubber padding in front seats, longer load support space than many panel trucks, scuffproof floor covering.

World's Easiest Wagon to Load. Just one hand opens Ford's lift-and-luggage from the outside. Yet 10 hands can't open them from the inside. That's for safety's sake. And Ford's wrap-around ligate gives you a far wider load opening.

Built for Keeps. Only Ford in its field has six steel roof supports... and bodies anchored to frame in more places than its nearest competitor.

See your Ford Dealer for the rest of the Ford wagon story... including the lowest price of the low-price three.*

and Southeast Bulloch High Schools had entries in the semi-final judging. Preliminary judging was done by a group of senior students from the industrial arts department of Georgia Teachers College. These projects were displayed in the Georgia Power window during the week of May 12, where the semi-final and final judging took place.

Professors Hackett, Carmichael and Godfrey selected semi-final entries on May 14, and Rockwell General Manager S. W. Brown, along with J. A. Lombard, factory manager; J. P. Savage, plant superintendent; H. E. Rittenhouse, chief engineer; and Johnson Black, personnel manager, made the final selection on May 15.

"The number of entries and the quality of the projects were certainly equal or even better than those of last year," said Mr. Brown. "This is encouraging to us since it is an indication that this contest is encouraging interest in a shop or industrial arts program."

In addition to the radio-phonograph cabinet, James also had a copper dish entry. Other Statesboro High entries included a mahogany coffee table by John Wheelock Jr., tool steel punch by Edward Kirkland, mahogany lamp by Edward Carl, tool steel punch by James Sorenson, oak table by Harold Miller, tool steel screw driver by Bob Scruggs, cherry tier table by Elisha Ray Humnicutt, cherry nut bowl and mahogany coffee table by Roger Johnson, mahogany lamp by Edward Carl, cherry gun stock and an aluminum plate by Tommy Brown, embossed copper flower by Ann Henderson, and ceramic top and a steel plaque by W. C. Roberts. A cherry coffee table by Bobby McCoy was submitted from Southeast Bulloch.

All of these projects are being entered in the Industrial Arts Fair being held at Georgia Teachers College, May 16-17.

ELLIOTT HAGAN

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE FIRST CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT:

"I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of Representative from the First District of Georgia to the Congress of the United States, subject to the rules and regulations governing the Democratic Primary of September 10, 1958. I shall qualify by after the Democratic Executive Committee fixes the date and fee for qualification of candidates.

"At that time I shall make a more complete, detailed statement concerning the issues to be discussed in this campaign. I am deeply grateful to the thousands who voted and worked for me during the campaign of 1956, for the new friends I am making in every section of the district, and for the evidence of your continued interest and support in 1958 as I seek re-election to the U. S. House of Representatives.

"I have a tailor-made plan for high school seniors and graduates." Sgt. Morgan said. "Seniors still in school can enlist now and wait for the unit to be shipped July 1. Or, he said, they can wait and be processed at any time between now and the time the group leaves."

expressed by your letters and personal messages.

"I am covering every section of the district and hope to see you soon to let you know personally that I will greatly appreciate your support."

Sincerely,
G. ELLIOTT HAGAN

PLANT POISONING OF CATTLE

Plants that are potentially poisonous to cattle are legion. Fortunately, cattle by some unexplainable instinct generally avoid them, but to prevent casualties, growers must take certain precautions to protect their cattle.

Here are seven suggested precautions based on research conducted at the Coastal Plain Experiment Station:

1. Make every effort to prevent hunger from tempting animals to browse questionable plants.
2. Where crops such as cro-talaria or lupines are planted, rotate grazing away from them, especially during the seeding period.
3. Destroy suspected poisonous plants, at least near watering places and where cattle congregate and bed down.
4. Destroy wild cherries in the pasture and do not graze sorghums during periods of stunted growth or soon after frost.

5. Examine the pasture for old arsenate drums and paint buckets which may have been discarded in years past. These cans, should they contain arsenate or paint, are still dangerous after many years.

6. Always be careful with sprays and spray machines.

7. Keep nitrate of soda away from cattle.

If these rules are followed carefully, there may still be a few cases of cattle poisoning, but only a very few as compared to the past.
