The Story of Bulloch County

Chapter VII - Installation II

JUNE 29, 1862—"This was an epochal political event in Bulloch County, which was inaugurated on June 29, 1862."

J. A. O'Neal, transferred to Company H, wounded at Savannah, Stone, and Company H, wounded at Savannah, Stone, and Company H, wounded at Savannah, Stone, was taken to a hospital in Savannah, Stone, where he died. William Whitaker, wounded at Savannah, Stone, died at Savannah, Stone, on September 29, 1862, while under treatment. His remains were subsequently buried at Savannah, Stone.

William Whitaker was replaced by a series of replacements:

July 1862: Capt. David Smith
August 1862: Capt. Robert Smith

The replacement process continued throughout the war, with a variety of officers and men serving in different capacities at various times.

THE BULLOCH HERALD

DEPENDING on the local water supply, the water must be made pure for use. Water treatment is often necessary to reduce the hardness or other impurities that can cause problems. This can be achieved through various methods such as filtration, chlorination, or reverse osmosis. The importance of pure water cannot be overstated, as it directly affects human health and the functionality of local industries. Therefore, ensuring access to pure water is crucial for maintaining a healthy and safe environment.
