 VOLUME XVIII—ESTABLISHED MARCH 26, 1937
 STATESBORO, GEORGIA, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 9, 1958
 NUMBER 47

G.T.C. enrollment reaches new high with 1,053 undergraduates registered

A record-breaking number of students streamed into Georgia Teachers College for the 1958-59 year. With registration not officially ending until Monday, October 6, the unofficial total last Friday stood at 1,053 undergraduates.

Of the total, 556 are boys and 497 are girls. This is the fourth time in the last 12 years that boys have outnumbered the girls on the CTC campus. To accommodate the increase, three women are now residing together in both Lewis and East halls, as well as in the first floor of West hall.

For the first time, Cone Hall, a men's dormitory, has three in a room. This is true of 27 rooms in Cone, and in a few rooms in Sanford Hall.

This total enrollment is a new record, representing an increase of about 10 percent over last fall's previous record mark of 914.

Enrollment by classes:

Class	Boys	Girls	Total
Freshmen	165	171	336
Sophomores	121	115	236
Juniors	147	108	255
Seniors	123	103	226
Total	556	497	1,053

A total of 750 students are living in dormitories, and the remaining 303 are day students. Housed in girls dormitories is 303, and in men's dormitories is a total of 357.

For the first time, Saturday graduate classes are being offered, and last Saturday's initial enrollment was 69. It is expected that a few more will register tomorrow. Adding undergraduates and graduates together, the enrollment is 1,122, an increase of 208 over last year.

An insight into the amazing increase of CTC enrollment has been when registration figures of September 1954 are examined. In just four years an increase of about 100 percent has been seen.

Mr. Brown went on to say that the action was taken to improve the overall position of the company and that it is the sincere thinking of the officials that it will not be very long before the number of people working here will be back up.

He added that they are giving the hourly people here an opportunity to work overtime in order that they might build up a little cash reserve, and that the company is making every effort to assist them in finding new employment.

"We are keeping our people informed of our plans for the plant, believing that in a climate of understanding periods of flux like the one in which we are now in will work out to the general benefit of the community," Mr. Brown said.

Rockwell manager reassures community

In a statement made at the plant Monday morning of this week, Sam Brown, general manager of the Rockwell Statesboro Corporation, assured the citizens of Statesboro and Bulloch County that the situation at the Statesboro plant is not as serious as first assumed with the announcement that officials of the company have ordered the transfer of nine of the salaried personnel to Tulsa, Oklahoma, and that the hourly people have been informed that about twenty of their number will be given notices in the near future.

Mr. Brown went on to say that the action was taken to improve the overall position of the company and that it is the sincere thinking of the officials that it will not be very long before the number of people working here will be back up.

He added that they are giving the hourly people here an opportunity to work overtime in order that they might build up a little cash reserve, and that the company is making every effort to assist them in finding new employment.

"We are keeping our people informed of our plans for the plant, believing that in a climate of understanding periods of flux like the one in which we are now in will work out to the general benefit of the community," Mr. Brown said.

Lunchroom a favorite with elementary kids

A visitor's first impression is "here is a well operated and managed cafeteria," and has to blink his eyes a second time to realize that he is about to share lunch with more than 478 school children from the first grade through the seventh grade.

One day recently were the guest of John Adams, principal of the Mattie Lively School, and had lunch in the school lunch room. Another day we were the guest of Don Coleman, principal of the Sallie Zetrower School, and had lunch with him in the school lunch room.

Little, if any differences, were seen between these two school lunch rooms. Both are being smoothly operated and managed.

We went along the serving line with our tray and were delighted with the baked turkey, giblet gravy, rice, string beans, congealed fruit salad, rolls and milk. And if I had been allowed to pay for it it would have cost me only 35 cents, which is the price charged guests. The same meal would have been from a restaurant somewhere," he said.

More than a game

To Pete Roberts there is something more to the game of football than just being on the team and winning scores.

More power to 'em

The spotlight is on the business ladies of our community this week, and Mayor Bill Bowen flipped the switch when he issued a proclamation last week declaring the week of October 5-11 to be "National Business Women's Week."

Young Roberts proved this last week when he revealed that, according to a rule which he had just learned, he was ineligible to play football with the Statesboro High School Blue Devils.

This special week is sponsored by the members of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, through the local B. & P.W. Club.

Because of his ineligibility the game the Blue Devils won from Cochran on Friday night, September 26, was forfeited and goes in to the record book as a victory for Cochran by the score of 1 to 0.

This group of working ladies are one of the community's most active and are deserving of the attention the spotlight brings to them.

It was only last week that young Roberts learned that a boy who reaches his nineteenth birthday prior to May 1 is not eligible to represent his school in athletic competition. This is a rule of the Georgia High School Association.

This year the B. & P.W. is working under the slogan, "More Power with Womanpower" and to prove their point the local ladies are working on a womanpower survey in which they hope to turn up a womanpower pool which would answer any labor emergency.

A check of the school records back to the first grade showed that Pete's birthday was in 1939. He actually was born in 1938. When Pete came into high school and was ready to play football the Statesboro coaches, acting in good faith, and according to the records which they had, thought he was eligible.

It's good business
Mayor Bill Bowen has proclaimed this week, October 5-11, to be "National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week."

Coach Teel states that it was not Pete's mistake. He explained that the boy didn't know about the rule until it came up last week and added that the coaches were going by the school records.

According to the Governor's Committee on Employment of the Physically Handicapped, qualified handicapped workers do produce, and their production rates are at least equal to those of workers who are free of impairments. Handicapped people do not want to be dependent. It is their desire to become active participants in the community's program of progress.

We think it wonderful that he has the strength of character and a feeling for what is the truth that prompted him to follow the dictates of his conscience.

Hiring qualified handicapped workers reduces the cost of dependency, saves tax funds, and bolsters the economy of the community, state and nation. For every dollar spent by the government rehabilitating disabled men and women, $10 is returned in the form of income taxes.

Win, lose, or draw, the Blue Devils and their fans should toss up their hats that boys like Pete Roberts are still with us.

Authorities believe that the epidemic is the direct result of public apathy to the Salk vaccine. This is a strange situation, one in which people deliberately allow themselves to be subjected to the killing effects of a disease for which there is a proven protection.

We can only hope that this situation does not develop in our community. Have you protected your children from Polio?

This Week's Meditation

By The Rev. L. E. Houston Jr.

A SENSE OF VALUE

HER YOUNGER sister had what she wanted. So, in order to get the doll, she decided to entice the two-year old with a promise. "If you'll give state the doll, I'll get you a gold diamond ring." I regret that I cannot report the outcome of this transaction, but this I know—daughter Deborah was well aware of the value of things, and the tantalizing temptation of a "gold diamond ring."

One of the richest persons I know is a little old lady who spent many years in China as a Christian missionary, who stood up to the invading Japanese and demanded protection for her and the other missionaries under her care, who refused to give to the service of her church, who gives away all the money that grateful friends give to her, and who lives today rich in her treasures laid up in heaven. Long ago, Miss Barbara Cullum White gave her heart to Jesus Christ and He, in turn gave her a proper sense of value.

Letter to the Editor

Editor, The Bulloch Herald: I am so much regret that we have learned of the recent passing of one of the pioneers of the optometric profession in Georgia and a citizen of our county, Dr. D. R. Dekle, of Statesboro.

The Editor's Uneasy Chair

IT ALWAYS pleases us when our newspaper is accepted with approval and when that approval is expressed in letters to the editor we are especially pleased.

On September 25 we published a sixteen-page edition in which we devoted the major space to an all-out welcome to the student body and members of the faculty of Georgia Teachers College. The idea was that of "advertising director," G. C. Coleman, our brother, and "The Skipper" to us. We merely revised the copy with you and that of Joe Axelson of G. T. C. Public relations, and he, "The Skipper," promoted the issue. It was given the wholehearted support of all the advertisers who liked the idea. We later received reports which indicate that the students and faculty liked the idea too.

So we are happy to publish the following letters which we received about our Welcome G. T. C. issue.

FROM PRESIDENT HENDERSON OF G. T. C.

"Dear Leode: Last week upon the special issue of The Bulloch Herald came out I had the impulse to write you and tell you how much I appreciate your production of the Georgia Teachers College. I think the paper was an excellent idea and the issue was outstanding. I have always felt that you have been publishing one of the best weekly papers in the state and it is good to have an opportunity to work with you as citizens of the community."

It Seems to Me...

max lockwood

SEVERAL YEARS ago I passed since my first column appeared. The Bulloch Herald during those years there have been many comments concerning the things which I have written. Every week there are those who write me in praise of my writing, and I have had to say, there are also those who are frank in their disagreement with me and appreciate what they have to say. Some of the statements are friendly and a few are not, but the great majority come from friends who recognize that to be of any value the column could not possibly meet with the approval of all who read it.

Some of my friends have asked why I take the time to write and if there is an answer to this question I do not know how to express it. I do know that all of us have the urge to speak out on issues. With some of us it is stronger than in others.

In real honesty I can say that in this column I have always tried to feel the reader to remember that when he reads here are my own thoughts, my own feelings, my own expressions. They do not represent the sentiments of this newspaper, its editor or any other member of the paper's staff. Indeed, there are times when the editor and I are in complete disagreement. He has never intimated or suggested what approach I should take on any subject and at times

THOSE OF US who have no personal political ambitions are better qualified to write on the issues of the day for it is not necessary that we think in terms of votes for and against.

As long as I have the privilege to write this column and I understand and believe that it is a privilege to write I shall attempt to use my very limited talent to help my community forward for to do otherwise would be completely foreign to the love of community which can be found in my heart.

"Aren't women silly?" said the young woman as she picked leaves off the limbs of Chinese bamboo. This was being done in the kitchen of a Chinese restaurant. You know—the kind that has heaven, man and earth—and maybe, well at least those three.

Flowers were scarce and the hostesses were desperate for some blossoms. A friend had promised some spider lilies, and there were castor beans in his garden. (The only things that grow for me are those that require no care.)

Flowers were scarce and the hostesses were desperate for some blossoms. A friend had promised some spider lilies, and there were castor beans in his garden. (The only things that grow for me are those that require no care.)

In ordering the little cakes I told the baker that the little flowers should be orange red, not more red than orange. They were more red than orange. They were red.

The spider lilies were arranged to attend to and we were as-school year at G. T. C. "With warm personal regards and best wishes, I am sincerely yours, Zach S. Henderson."

FROM REP. PRESTON, U. S. CONGRESS

"Dear Leode: This is to extend my sincere congratulations to you and that of the Bulloch Herald in publishing a special edition of the newspaper welcoming students to Georgia Teachers College. There is nothing so encouraging to the President and faculty of a college as such a demonstration of public spirit and untiring effort as such a demonstration. I also want to thank you for the nice editorial about Everett Williams. He deserves all this praise and more. As a Regent, I am interested in all the schools of the University System and am dedicated to the cause of education at every level. We are fortunate to have his services on the Board of Regents."

Sincerely, Robert O. Arnold, Chairman, Regents of the University of Georgia, Atlanta, Ga."

The way to feel free... Live Better... Electrically

"You're breezin' along, taking time out for fun, when you're home is all-electric. The most faithful and efficient servant on earth is yours to command at the push of a button, the flick of a switch, the turn of a dial.

Electrical appliances — the so-handly little ones and the hard-working big ones — help you with scores of chores. They wash, dry and iron the clothes, do the dishes, dispose of the garbage, clean the house. They preserve your food and cook it when you are ready.

Electricity cools or warms your home for year-round springtime. It brightens every room every night of the year. And versatile, low-cost electricity entertains you with radio, records, movies and television.

Don't you agree that all-electric living is light-hearted living?

Mayor Bowen proclaims Oct. 5-11 National Business Women's Week

W. A. Bowen, Mayor of the City of Statesboro, Georgia, hereby proclaims October 5, 1958 through October 11, 1958 to be NATIONAL BUSINESS WOMEN'S WEEK.

This annual week, sponsored throughout the United States by The National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc., is set aside to pay tribute to women in business and the professions, and the contribution they make to the nation. The theme of 1958 "National Business Women's Week" is "More Power with Womanpower."

Mayor, City of Statesboro WILLIAM A. BOWEN.

ANNUAL NATIONAL BUSINESS WOMEN'S WEEK CELEBRATED

Every year National Business Women's Week, first founded in 1928, spotlights the women who work and their responsibilities in their home towns, the nation and the world. The President of the United States and national

The purpose of the national federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, which was established in 1919, include the improvement of conditions in all businesses and professions; the extension of opportunities to better the business and advancement of women; the preparation of women for leadership in their communities, their states and the nation; and the advancement of women in their respective fields of work so that they may make their greatest contribution to the common good.

A particular objective of the federation has been the advancement of the individual member as a business or professional woman. In February 1956, the first world-wide foundation was Built for tomorrow—here today! Relaxed riding on new-type concrete

"For my money, this new-type, sound-conditioned concrete gives the sweetest ride yet!"

Concrete

Concrete increases in strength year by year—gets up to 20% stronger in five years. Here's a durability—"bones" only concrete gives. Crushing resistance tests in the laboratory prove it. It's another reason why concrete lasts longer, costs less to maintain.

Says BOB CROSBY, popular MC of TV, bandleader and singer
"I've driven it—lots of times. It's smooth—not a bump to be heard. They're using it now on highways designed for the needs of 1975 traffic."

You'll be glad highway engineers who helped develop new-type concrete plan thousands more miles of it. What comfort! It's laid without joints, has only tiny cushion spaces you can't feel or hear!

A new process, "air entrainment," prevents weather or de-icer roughening. Laid flat on a specially designed subbase, concrete stays flat. It has an expected life of 50 years and more... with up to 60% lower upkeep cost than asphalt. Yet first cost is moderate. That's why concrete is first choice for the Interstate System and other new primary roads.

husbands are more than likely in the college period or approaching it for our children. We are bound, yes, by many common ties.

SO WE GET TOGETHER once a month. And we talk. Our children listening at a distance say it sounds like many machines going at once.

Each Dame told of her summer. Perhaps the most interesting story was told by a new Dame. She told how her family had moved in relays in "U Haul Its" (You know, to save money) the last load was overloaded and they were hours driving a few miles. Every few miles they would stop and re-load. But it would do no good. So she decided to relieve the situation. They were in a town in front of a house where a lady was sitting on the porch. She called, "Would you like some porch furniture?" She gave away the porch furniture. She went on down the street acting like a John D. Rockefeller giving out dimes, only she was giving away household things. She stopped when the load was light enough to go on. All the Dames were wishing they could have been at the "giving away."

WHEN EVERYONE had gone home and the hostesses were setting up, we rejoiced that we

GTC Masquers Get an SOS

Mrs. Winfield Lee, speech instructor and director of the Masquers, dispatched green jellies to cover the broken light and avert the overcrowded condition.

established for business and professional women.

Of particular interest has been the federation's reaffirmation of American values and American traditions, and a well-balanced program of action in five particular fields: career advancement, health and safety, international relations, national security and public affairs.

"In all the history of the world, there never was a time when dedicated, intelligent and courageous women were more needed—these are the women who will stand up and be counted—women who will make contributions of leadership in their communities, who will take on the serious assignment of national security and the preservation of our freedoms—these are women with a dedicated purpose and a job to do," says Miss Grace B. Daniels, national president.

The local Business and Professional Women's Club begins its observance of National Business Women's Week October 5 to 11. Miss Alma Hopper, club president, urges the citizens of Statesboro to join in the celebration.

Salute TO GEORGIA COUNTIES
NAMED FOR CONFEDERATE GENERAL
Evans County

Evans County, created in 1914 by combining parts of Bulloch and Tatnall counties, was named for Confederate General Clement A. Evans. Its county seat is Clayton, home of the "World-famous fruit cake" sold at Christmastime by Civilian and other civic groups to raise funds for community projects.

Evans County is noted for tobacco, cotton, corn, peanuts, sweet potatoes, tomato plants, livestock, poultry, naval stores, diamonds and wine. One of Georgia's smallest and youngest counties, the county is noted for its well-kept farmlands, lovely homes and fine lakes.

In energetic Evans County, and throughout Georgia, the United States Brewers Foundation works constantly to assure the sale of beer and ale under pleasant, orderly conditions. Believing that strict law enforcement serves the best interests of the people of Georgia, the Foundation stresses close cooperation with the Armed Forces, law enforcement and governing officials in its continuing "self-governance" program.

ENJOY SUMMER FUN IN A KING-SIZE WAY... GIVE AN INDOOR PICNIC WITH KING SIZE COKE!

Whatever the weather, enjoy the fun of a picnic...right at home! Just take your pick of the recipes given here, then shop at your grocer's for all the fixings. Of course he's featuring that big picnic favorite...King Size Coke! What a handy way to get more of the real refreshment, more of the cold crisp taste of Coca-Cola. King Size Coke is great for king-size thirsts, so stock up on cartons of Coca-Cola in big King Size today.

HAWAIIAN RIBS. Combine 1 can condensed consommé with 1 cup orange marmalade, 1/4 cup each catsup and vinegar. Marinate pork ribs in sauce, grill, basting often with sauce. Delicious with Coke.

GARNISH YOUR HAWAIIAN RIBS with pineapple and green pepper cubes on picks, half tomatoes stuffed with coloslaw. It's these little touches that make the difference...just as Coke makes a difference, too.

MAKE THE CLEAN-UP EASY! With paper plates, napkins and cups you can clean up in a jiffy, and they're part of the fun of the picnic. Just fill the cups with Coke and you're set for a pleasant picnic.

TUNA SALAD ROLLS. Add dried celery, onion and capers to drained, flaked tuna. Moisten with salad dressing. Heap into split and buttered rolls. Let guests help themselves to Coke, served in an ice-filled plastic bucket (available at your grocer). People do help themselves to Coke over 88 million times a day.

SMACK TRAY. A picnic standby—meant only to Coca-Cola Coke actually freshens up your taste between bites, makes every mouthful more delicious. No wonder Coke is a favorite with food. So treat guests to the real refreshment—Coca-Cola. They'll appreciate your good taste in serving Coca-Cola, ice-cold!

PICNIC STICKS. Place slice of American cheese between two slices of canned luncheon meat. Slice into sticks, fasten with picks. This easy "finger food" tastes so good with sparkling Coca-Cola. In fact, the cold crisp taste of Coke brings out the flavor of almost any dish you serve.

YOUR GROCER IS FEATURING ALL THE MAKINGS!

Something new to be added to Blue Devil band

Dale Jensen, director of the Statesboro Blue Devil Band announced today that the combined bands from the Mattie Lively and Sallie Zetterower schools will appear on the field for the first time tomorrow night during the half-time of the Statesboro-Metter football game. This band, composed of sixth and seventh grade students, will be featured in a drill routine to the music, "The Parade of the Wooden Soldiers," with a novelty ending that will delight the audience. The band will also march with the Blue Devil band on the afternoon parade, and will show their new uniforms off with the same flashy marching style used by their bigger brothers and sisters in the Blue Devil Band.

"The little band will not play as they march this time for they have been working on concert music in the past weeks," Mr. Jensen said. Last Friday, the band students from Mattie Lively presented a chapel program for their school, and tomorrow the Sallie Zetterower students will play for their chapel program. At each of the concerts, a demonstration of the various instruments is given by a student playing that instrument. This allows the other students in the school to have an idea of what they would like to play in the band.

The fifth and seventh grade pupils were recently tested for musical talent, and letters sent to the parents telling them of the band program. Next Monday, October 13, Mr. Fred Wagner, from the Lyons Band Instrument Company, will be at the Mattie Lively school to give a demonstration of new instruments. Tuesday he will be at the Sallie Zetterower School. In each case the meeting will start at 7:30 p. m. and will be held in the school lunchroom.

Mr. Dale Jensen, director at the Statesboro High School, will introduce Mr. Wagner, and offer assistance in selecting the best instrument for each to play, according to his physical characteristics.

Fine exhibit of silverware here for ten days

Beautiful silverware, over 134 years old, is a delight to see. One is impressed by the beauty of the handwork and the loveliness of the designs.

Harry W. Smith this week invites the public to visit his jewelry store here and enjoy the rare exhibit furnished him by the Samuel Kirk and Son, Inc., America's oldest silversmiths. It consists of a complete tea set of hand-made silver wrought in 1824. The design is exquisite and the workmanship perfect. It consists of a hot water pot, a coffee pot, sugar and cream and waste bowl.

Another exhibit consists of a snapper, hand cast in 1825, and fourteen pieces including a wine strainer, a salad dish, a platter, spoon and sugar sifter, and others.

Mr. Smith says that the collection will be at his store for about ten days and invites all to drift in and see "what the masters did with silver over a hundred years ago."

Statistics. The Lyons Company has dealt with the High School for several years, with outstanding results and complete satisfaction among the students purchasing their instruments. Parents are reminded that Lyons has a very fine rental system that allows a student to try an instrument for three months, in order that he may be certain that he will do well before purchasing the instrument. Mr. Jensen announced that the Lyons Company will be at the Mattie Lively school to give a demonstration of new instruments. Tuesday he will be at the Sallie Zetterower School. In each case the meeting will start at 7:30 p. m. and will be held in the school lunchroom.

Mr. Dale Jensen, director at the Statesboro High School, will introduce Mr. Wagner, and offer assistance in selecting the best instrument for each to play, according to his physical characteristics.
