Rites held for Clisby Cone Sr. at Fellowship

Funeral services for Clisby H. Cone Sr., 82, who died Sunday at his home in Ivanhoe, were held Tuesday at 2 p. m. at Fellowship Missionary Baptist Church, conducted by the Rev. Bill Price and the Rev. J. W. Grooms. Burial was in the church cemetery.

He was a native of Bulloch County and was a farmer and merchant in the Ivanhoe section of the Fellowship Church.

He also had served as postmaster of Ivanhoe.

Surviving are two sons, James B. and Clisby H. Cone Jr., both of Savannah; six daughters, Mrs. F. G. Griner, Mrs. L. T. Gilson, Mrs. E. P. Minney and Mrs. H. S. Saunders, all of Savannah, Mrs. W. M. Griner of Guyton and Mrs. Robert Benson of Statesboro; two sisters, Mrs. O. T. Harper of Naper, Calif. and Mrs. W. N. Lyndberg of St. Petersburg; 17 grandchildren, five great grandchildren.

Burial services were held at the home of Mrs. Cone, D. E. Turner and Francis Groover.

Smith-Tillman Mortuary was in charge.

Woman's Club puts spotlight on Religious Emphasis Week

Mayor Bill Bowen joined Governor Ernest Vandiver in proclaiming the week of March 22-29 as Religious Emphasis Week, according to an announcement made today by Mrs. Percy Bland, chairman of the Home Committee of the Statesboro Senior Woman's Club.

Religious emphasis week is sponsored on the state-wide basis by the Religion Division of the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Chester E. Martin of Atlanta. Mrs. E. L. Barnes of Statesboro is president of the Georgia Federation.

The joint proclamation by Mayor Bowen and Governor Vandiver reads:

WHEREAS: The World today calls for men and women of good will to exercise their faith by consistent, positive action, being strong and uncompromising in holding to the spiritual principles on which our nation was founded; and

WHEREAS: Faith in Divine power was stamped on this nation's first money with the words, "In God We Trust," and our religious beliefs have steadfastly endured as the foundation of our way of life; and

WHEREAS: The freedoms we enjoy today are the gift of God, no matter in what form or creed we worship Him, and it is our privilege to exercise this freedom by giving thanks at our houses of worship; and

WHEREAS: Religious Faith stabilizes family life and regular attendance at the worship services of our churches and builds moral character for the individual, the community and the nation; now

THEREFORE: We, Ernest Vandiver, Governor of Georgia, and W. A. Bowen, Mayor of the City of Statesboro, do hereby proclaim March 22-29, 1958, as RELIGIOUS EMPHASIS WEEK in the State of Georgia and in the City of Statesboro and we urge every resident to participate in this program through regular attendance in a house of worship.

The proclamation is signed by the governor and mayor.

Mrs. Bland says that the observance of Holy Week, March 22-29 gives the Home Committee and its Division of Religion, an opportunity to impress upon families and individuals the importance of such an emphasis on religion. "Only a strong faith can surmount the conflicts of our time," Mrs. Bland said.

Star students are named in Bulloch County

Hoke S. Brannen of Southeast Bulloch High School, accompanied by "Star" teacher, Mrs. V. J. Mitchell, math teacher, will be among Star students and Star teachers to be honored at a special State Chamber of Commerce luncheon in Atlanta on April 24.

Young Brannen was named "Star" student from the schools of Bulloch County and he in turn named Mrs. Mitchell as his Star teacher who, in his opinion, made the greatest contribution to his scholastic achievement.

The Southeast Bulloch High student is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Brannen of Brooklet.

Dick Russell, son of Dr. and Mrs. Fielding Russell, a senior at Statesboro High School, was named "Star" student of Statesboro High. He named Mrs. Velma Kemp his "Star" teacher.

These "Star" students were selected on the basis of high scores made on the College Board Scholastic Aptitude Test which they took before January 10, 1958.

Students in high schools in Georgia participated in the Student Achievement Recognition (Star) program sponsored by the Georgia Chamber of Commerce. Hoke Brannen made the highest score of the Bulloch County students who participated in the test. The scoring was made under the supervision of the Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia. The Statesboro and Bulloch County Chamber of Commerce sponsored the local participation.

Judy Nesmith is 'Miss S. E. Bulloch of 1959'

Miss Judy Nesmith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walton Nesmith of Nevils, is shown here being crowned "Miss Southeast Bulloch of 1959" by Miss Jessie Lou Clark of Georgia Teachers College, who was "Miss Southeast Bulloch of 1958." Miss Nesmith was selected in the fourth annual Beauty Revue held at the school on Friday night of last week. She is a member of the junior class at SEBH.

The new "Miss Southeast Bulloch" was crowned by Miss Jessie Lou Clark of Georgia Teachers College, who was "Miss Southeast Bulloch of 1958."

Miss Nesmith is a member of the Nevils Methodist Church and secretary of her Sunday School class and served as recreation chairman of the Bulloch County Sub-District for the past two years of the Methodist Youth Fellowship. She is now secretary of the Nevils MYF sub-district. She is active in 4-H Club work at the community, county and state levels. This week she was named one of the two nominees for an officer in the Savannah district of the South Georgia Youth Conference by the county MYF sub-district.

She is active in Future Homemakers activities at SEBH. Other school activities include membership in the Girls' Club. She is now editor of the school annual and participated in the girls' declamation.

Mr. Charles M. Robbins Jr., vice president in charge of sales and advertising, speaking for his father, Mr. C. M. Robbins Sr., president and Lewis (Boo) Hook, vice president and general manager, expressed their sincere thanks and deep appreciation for the "wonderful manner in which the people of the communities helped us serve, responded and helped us celebrate our birthday. It gives us a great feeling and emphasizes the responsibility which is placed upon us as a part of this community."

Rockwell I.A. Awards are attracting entries

A report from Marvin Pittman of Statesboro High School, Statesboro, is that he is working on such projects as what-nots, bookcases, lamps and tables. Although only a small number of students are eligible to compete, Mr. Pittman has had several entries in the awards program each year.

Mr. Pittman has a new instructor, Mr. John Martin, who has begun a process of re-organizing the field of study emphasizing wood, metal, electrical and drawing. Nevertheless his students are preparing modern metal-wood coffee tables as well as all wood tables for entry into the contest.

Any industrial arts student in the county high schools is eligible to compete for a Rockwell Delta 24" Scroll Saw, complete with all accessories. Projects may be of wood, metal, leather, plastic or other material, and must be constructed in the school workshop.

Joe Axelson Gets Special Award

Joe Axelson, public relations director at Georgia Teachers College, and district publicity director for NAIA District 25 (Georgia-Florida) received a special award by the NAIA at the annual Hall of Fame Awards Luncheon in Kansas City on Friday.

Dr. Hugh Arundel is president of the Statesboro Shrine Club. He stated that plans were made for the summer ceremonial to be held in Statesboro on June 11. He also said that Potentate Siel named Maurice Brannen as an aide, Logan Hagan as ambassador, E. W. Barnes and Wendell Rockett as membership committeemen, and Dr. W. F. Floyd on the medical staff.

1,200 at Robbins birthday party here Sunday

More than 1,200 people of this section joined the officers and personnel of Robbins Packing Company in celebrating their tenth anniversary at the packing company's plant here last Sunday.

Visitors at the open house were given the red carpet treatment as they were escorted through the packaging line, the killing floor, the smoke houses and storage freezers and education offices.

Following the visit through the packing house guests were served Robbins products on the porch of the pond house overlooking Robbins Pond. Mrs. Marion Robbins, Mrs. Charles Robbins and Mrs. Lewis Hook were assisted in serving by other members of the plant's "family and friends."

Mr. Charles M. Robbins Jr., vice president in charge of sales and advertising, speaking for his father, Mr. C. M. Interstate Life and Accident has office here

Interstate Life and Accident Insurance Company has opened a district office in Statesboro in the Bulloch County Bank Building. Under the leadership of W. A. Youngblood Jr., district manager, this office currently employs fifteen persons, but with the anticipated growth of Statesboro and the surrounding area, this number is expected to increase considerably in the near future.

Youngblood began his Interstate Life career as an agent in the Macon district April 4, 1949. In July of 1950, he was promoted to staff manager in the same district, and in March of 1952 was named assistant to the manager of the Macon district.

On February 6, 1956, Youngblood was promoted to the office of special home office representatives traveling over the entire ten-state area serviced by the Company assisting the sales force. In March of 1958 he was promoted to manager of the Swainsboro district office which was recently moved to Statesboro to better serve Interstate Life policyowners in this area.

A native of Swainsboro, Youngblood graduated from Swainsboro High School where he received a letter as a member of the varsity football team. After graduation, he served four years in the U. S. Merchant Marines during World War II, seeing action in both the European and Pacific theaters.

Statesboro Primitive Baptist Brotherhood to meet March 24

George C. Hagins, president of the Statesboro Primitive Baptist Brotherhood, announced this week that the group will meet on Tuesday evening, March 24, at 7:30 o'clock in the church annex. Appear on the program will be a vocal quartet made up of Bernard Banks, Clyde Rich, Roscoe Beasley and Birnie Rich, accompanied by Miss Gwen Banks. Supper will be served.

They're our 'champs'

They are "champions" in the hearts of all students on the campus of Georgia Teachers College...

The "Profs" went to the National NAA basketball tournament in Kansas City last week and won two thrilling games...

The "Profs" went to the tournament as an "unseeded" team, and playing inspired basketball they won a "come-from-behind victory"...

Their fans, glued to their radio sets back home, pulled for them by long distance. They were for them in their first two games and their devotion increased with each basket of the game they lost to the strong California team.

In losing they are finer champions than they could have been in winning and that's to their credit.

And there is always "next year." We congratulate Coach J. B. Seearce and Coach J. I. Clements and every member of the "Prof" squad.

You're our champions!

Our hat goes up

This week we toss our hat high into the air for a dog.

A dog by the name of "Jack," a good plain name befitting the status of man's dog.

For you see, "Jack" won the Georgia Hunting Dog Stakes held at Waynesboro on Saturday of last week. Jack went about the business of finding four coveys of quail in thirty minutes, and that's an accomplishment to warm the heart of any hunter.

Jack is a fine bird dog owned by Joe Johnston, trained by Si Waters and handled in the dog trails by Wendell Marsh.

The sponsors of the show presented "Jack" a three-legged cup trophy.

And with this fine feat this dog brought fame and acclaim to our community and exclamations of satisfaction among dog lovers in the county.

And so for "Jack" we toss our hat high into the air and exclaim, "good hunting!"

He has the keys

Joe Axelson, public relations director at Georgia Teachers College, has been honored by the National Association of Interscholastic Athletics at the annual Hall of Fame Awards Luncheon in Kansas City on Friday of last week.

Al Duer, executive secretary of the NAAIA, said in making the award, "The Strength of our program is in the unselfish and devoted service of such persons as Mr. Axelson, with whom we are proud to honor with a special award this year."

Though Mr. Axelson has given the national association the benefit of his talents, his and our college are the chief benefactors of his wide talents.

His genial and relaxed personality, together with his vast knowledge of athletic facts and his dedication to the Georgia Teachers College, make up his ring of keys with which he gains entrance to the newspaper editors and publishers' offices resulting in space proclaiming activities of Georgia Teachers College.

It could not have happened to a nicer guy.

There must be a way

The free Western nations are now being confronted with a simple case of threatened aggression. And unless the Western powers agree, the Moscow government intends to use force to get its way in its intention to give up formal jurisdiction over East Germany, thus making it an independent entity, something which, on its very face, is designed to suit only the evil purposes of one Nikita Khrushchev. He means to keep a Soviet hold on East Germany and wants to secure a foothold in West Germany.

We cannot trust this Russian. His May 27 deadline for "releasing" East Germany is an ultimatum.

We stand agast at such a dictatorship which now threatens war against the peace-loving millions of the free world.

We must in some manner convince this man of our total readiness to defend ourselves to the limit. We believe that this is what it takes to warn him, lest he commits the millions of his own people to destruction. There must be some way our leaders can get through to Nikita Khrushchev and to his people this thing he is about to do to the world.

Total selling medium

How valuable is newspaper advertising to the retail merchant?

Here's what the president of a large department store has to say: "If I were suddenly restricted to one and only one advertising medium, I would board up the display windows, discontinue all interior and departmental selling displays, eliminate all informative show cards, discontinue all sales meetings and sales incentives, stop all telephone selling—and continue an aggressive business advertising investment in the newspapers."

This merchant also terms newspapers "the total selling medium." What advertiser could ask for more?

Herman Talmadge Reports From Washington

CONGRESS HAS BEEN told by the Departments of State and Defense that details of waste, inefficiency and corruption in military foreign aid are secret.

The House Subcommittee for Review of the Mutual Security Program has disclosed in an interim report that "almost without exception" evidence of mismanagement and wrongdoing had been classified as confidential.

IT WILL TAKE much more than the usual glib slogans of the International Cooperation Administration to explain away these latest irrefutable revelations of foreign aid excesses. Even consistent defenders of the program, like Senator Hubert Humphrey have been moved to

Why, It's Just A Li'l Ol' Lamb...

This Week's Meditation

LAWRENCE E. HOUSTON

"SING UNTO THE LORD A NEW SONG"

There it was, scribbled on the fly-leaf of a Methodist Hymnal in the Emory University Christian Association's Chapel. Here is how it reads:

"Why can't your church put some music in these hymnals? The majority of the hymns in this book are nineteenth century wash-wash evangelistic horrors. This type of thing ranks slightly above rock 'n' roll which is the worst abomination ever inflicted on the human race."

While I am tempted to agree with this anonymous critic in his judgment of rock 'n' roll, nevertheless, I have somewhat against him.

For one thing, he needs to grow up. He is not nearly so mature as he might think, or as he should be. Defacing the property of others is a childish act in which older youth and adults sometimes persist.

The tone of this note also indicates that this person is not of the Methodist persuasion. Here, again, basic immaturity is evident, for no thinking Christian should ever be so understanding in his criticism of another religious group.

MOST OF ALL, this criticism shows a basic ignorance as to the value of the Christian hymnal. In this regard our youthful critic is not alone. Where is the pastor or the minister of music who has not been bombarded with this complaint: "Why can't we just sing the songs we know? The effort required to learn anything new, coupled with the strangeness of a new tune seems to be too much for many churchgoers. They prefer to sing what they know before they begin, and are content to criticize any effort at broadening their acquaintance with the great hymns of the church."

Take this season of the year as an example. Palm Sunday will usher in Holy Week. No Lord, help us!

The Editor's Uneasy Chair

PROGRESS is marked at the Bulloch Herald by the addition of new equipment to increase production and last week we took another step. We added another typesetting machine which will specialize in setting advertising copy.

With its installation came a flurry of moving other equipment to make room for it. Side effects were felt in our office when we were forced to do a bit of cleaning off on our desk. As always happens when we are maneuvered into this cleanup bit we lose time for we become intrigued with the things we find which we had thought to be lost.

We came across a clipping which Al Rosen found when he was cleaning off the desk of the late Harry Sack. Attached to the clipping was a note which Harry wrote to me. It brought it in to us soon after he began operating the Harry Sack Company. The clipping which Harry wanted us to have is entitled "Source of all Good" and reads like this:

"The government is my shepherd, I need not work. It allows me to lie down on good jobs; it leadeth me beside still waters; it refresheth my soul; it bringeth me into the paths of the pasture for politics sake, and we quickly agree that they have indeed found many souls to new spiritual heights. But, are these all?"

Consider the following stanzas which are found in most of our church hymnals:

"When I survey the wondrous cross on which the Prince of Glory died, My richest gain I count but loss, and pour contempt on all my pride."

"O Love divine, what hast Thou done, Th' incarnate God hath died for me! The Father's co-eternal Son became as all my sins upon the tree! The Son of God for me hath died: My Lord, my love, is crucified."

"Ask ye what good thing I strive me so? What the high reward I win? Whose the name I glory in? Jesus Christ the crucified."

"There is a green hill far away, without a city wall, Where the dear Lord was crucified, who died to save us all. We may not know, we cannot tell, what pains He had to bear, But we believe it was for us He hung and suffered there."

And the tunes of these hymns are as singable as the words are readable and easy to sing. We may be taking the text out of context when we say: "Sing unto the Lord a new song, but we believe the Psalmist would wholeheartedly agree."

Lord, help us!

EVERYWHERE one travels in Bulloch County the story is the same. New churches, new church homes, improved grounds, and best of all, improved programs for the membership.

Here in Bulloch our ministers have organized themselves in order that they might plan together in their work. Much in evidence in their organization is the respect which they hold for the members of other faiths.

IT IS HARDLY likely that President Eisenhower will get the $2.9 billion he is expected to request for foreign aid, unless he and his cabinet can convince the American people that these latest irrefutable revelations of foreign aid excesses. Even consistent defenders of the program, like Senator Hubert Humphrey have been moved to adults who read it, pass it on to the young folk they know: "A teenage girl has found her way into the Boston press by drawing a code of ethics and of conduct for her contemporaries which may bewildered, yet replacement, parents would do well to read, mark and inwardly digest."

"In submitting her 10 commandments to the Boston Globe, the youthful author, Virginia Williams, suggests that if every teenager would follow these simple rules, the world would be a safer place to live in. To which one may add, Amen."

"Don't let your parents down. They brought you up."

"Ditch dirty thoughts fast, or they'll die you."

"Be smart, obey. You'll give orders your friends care for."

"Go to church regularly. God gives you a week. Give Him your week."

"Choose a date fit for a mate."

"Don't go steady unless you're ready."

"We've put lots of our stuff up uncovered on our desk last night and will get it in the next time we clean off our desk."

There is a feeling of consideration and understanding which goes into the planning of a better church program for their total membership.

Our church leaders work hard for the development of a complete program in our overall community. The just completed church census by the churches in Statesboro is an outstanding example of how working together for the good of all can mean just that. Out of this census it came many benefits. Those who worked as a part of it have benefited in many ways. They have been blessed, for out of this contact with people of many faiths, they have a new and better understanding of church life in their community.

THESE WERE many new people in our community who felt that they had been forgotten. Perhaps nobody cared about their welfare. The census has put it all in a different light. They have never known God. What a blessing this census will have been to them.

EVERYWHERE one travels in Bulloch County the story is the same. New churches, new church homes, improved grounds, and best of all, improved programs for the membership.

Here in Bulloch our ministers have organized themselves in order that they might plan together in their work. Much in evidence in their organization is the respect which they hold for the members of other faiths.

Barlows and Gays could set up new section in United States Defense

BARLWS AND GAYS: Standing directly above the three former Gay sisters are their husbands, the Barlow brothers of the U. S. Army. At left are Walter and Wilma Barlow. Next to them, William and Bert Barlow. And at right, Rudolph and Ruby Barlow. The three couples are looking through a family photo album at Rudolph and Ruby's home. (Official U. S. Army Photo)

FORT JACKSON, S. C., March 5—Perhaps they should create a new division under the Department of Defense—Department of Barlows—and all came through the engagements intact.

The story of the Barlow brothers begins in Statesboro, Ga., which is their home town as well as that of the Gay sisters. Following the footsteps of their older brothers, Rudolph, Walter and Robert enlisted in 1934.

For a time, this trio—together with brother William—were in the same gun battery at Fort Stewart, Ga. At the outbreak of World War II, Robert and Walter were sent to Europe, Rudolph and Walter to the Pacific.

Starting with the action at Guadalcanal and proceeding through the campaigns in New Guinea and the Philippines, Rudolph and Walter stayed together. They later served with the occupation forces in Japan.

Returning to the United States in 1946, Rudolph and Walter again were together at Fort Bliss, Texas. When the Korean Campaign started, they were reunited again last June when both were assigned to Fort Jackson.

The three Columbia Barlow families maintain the same close relationships which have characterized their lives through two wars. "We get together just about every night, if only to 'chew the fat a little,'" says Rudolph.

Only one small inconsistency mars the saga of the Barlows and the Gays. It seems there was a four-year hiatus in the subject, Rudolph shrugs his shoulders, smiles, and says, "Guess she just had enough sense to leave the Barlow clan alone."

Aromatic tobacco covers should be removed when plants are two inches high, states J. O. Bethea, agronomist - tobacco, Agricultural Extension Service.

When feeders in broiler houses are filled only one-third full, a mere two per cent of feed is wasted, according to Arthur Gannon, poultryman, Agricultural Extension Service.

James, the oldest brother, served with the Army for 30 years and now is retired.

In all, the nine Barlow brothers have served for a total of 130 years of active service to the armed forces.

Seven of the nine boys were in combat at one time or another and all came through the engagements intact.

COLLEGE PHARMACY CAPTURES MEN'S BASKETBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

The 1958 Men's City Basketball League has its last ball game of the season Saturday night when the College Pharmacy defeated Belk's Department Store in the final championship game by a score of 62 to 48.

The College Pharmacy had a season record of six wins and four losses before the tournament games, and were placed in number four position in the tournament brackets.

The first round of the Men's tournament was played on Tuesday night, March 10, and was a single elimination. Robbins lost to Nevils 69 to 42 and Rockwell lost to the College Pharmacy 66 to 51. Wednesday, March 11, in the second round, which started the double elimination, Nevils won over Brooklet 54 to 49, and the College Pharmacy over Belk's 57 to 53. Thursday night with Brooklet and Belk's each with one loss Belk's defeated Brooklet 54 to 51 to put them out and in the second game, College Pharmacy again came through to defeat Nevils 54 to 48 and put the Pharmacy in the finals on Saturday night.

Friday night, March 13, the semi-final game between Belk's and Nevils took place. Belk's played against the College Pharmacy in the finals on Saturday night. Friday the 13th was an unlucky day for Nevils as Belk's won over Nevils 58 to 56 in a thrilling game that went into overtime.

In the final championship game on Saturday night the College Pharmacy was again determined not to be beaten in tournament competition as they downed the five from Belk's by a score of 62 to 48.

The College Pharmacy team had Roberts Adams as playing manager and members of the 1959 champs include: Harvey Berry, Kenny Bishop, Howard Brown, Julian Deal and Lindsey Hunicutt. Hunicutt was voted as the most valuable player in the tournament with a total of 89 points for an average of 24.7 points per game.

Each year the Masters champions nominate a player, either a professional or an amateur not otherwise eligible to participate. Ernie Vossler, a Texas born professional, was the winner. Others who received votes were George Bayer, Bob Gouby, E. J. "Dutch" Harrison, Doug Sanders and Jack Nicklaus.

The U. S. Open Champions have the right by ballot to nominate a Professional each year, and this time they named George Bayer. Others who received votes were Paul Harnet, Doug Sanders, Jerry Barber, E. J. "Dutch" Harrison, Bob Gouby, John McCullin, Jim Ferrell and Pete Cooper.

The U. S. amateur champion accept the responsibility of nominating the amateur who is not eligible otherwise and who, in their opinion, is qualified to play in the Masters. This year they again chose Don Cherry. Other votes went to James B. Michale Jr., Arnold Blum, James Key, Robert Gardner, Gene Andrews and Tom Robbins.

Another American player whose name is not on the United States Section, as previously published, has been invited. He is Wesley Ellis Jr., the 1958 winter circuit.

There are two professionals still to be nominated by the PGA and the identity of these players will be announced on Monday, March 30, within a few hours after the conclusion of the tournament in Wilmington. These berths are determined by a point system which is based on the scoring records of the Canadian Open champion.

Girl Scout fund now at $1,500; is half-way mark

The Statesboro Junior Women's Club today announced receipt of gifts from two of Bulloch County's banking institutions and pushed the temperature for Girl Scouting in Statesboro toward the $2,000 mark. A check from the Bulloch County Bank and the Sea Island Bank, each of $150, gave the building fund a big boost toward the $3,000 goal.

The Statesboro Junior Women's Club began work on the project in February in cooperation with the Statesboro Recreation Department. Plans called for the construction of a $3,000 building to be located near Memorial Park on property given to the Women's Club by Mrs. F. W. Darby of Statesboro.

The Junior Women have erected a large sign on the site of the building calling attention to the future location of the home for Girl Scouts. The sign carries on it a huge thermometer which is marked off in degrees reaching up to 3,000. The degrees represent dollars.

County residents have kept a sharp watch on the big thermometer as it has inched its way upward from 0 degrees to the present mark of 1,841 "degrees."

Mrs. Johnson Black, president of the Junior Women's Club urged individuals to make gifts to the fund. "We are not making personal contact," she said, "we are depending upon our people in Statesboro and Bulloch County to voluntarily make the building program a success."

On the Ohio Turnpike, they paved with CONCRETE saved $7,181,898 in first cost alone!

Studies proved in advance concrete pavement could give needed strength at a low cost. Now records show big maintenance savings, too.

According to estimates, pavement maintenance for the first five years would be 2 cents per square yard per year with flexible, dark colored pavement—1 cent per square yard per year with rigid concrete pavement.

Concrete was chosen for the entire Turnpike—and maintenance costs to date are only slightly more than half the estimated amount!

Concrete lasts—an expected 50 years and more. It's the only material with no "moving parts" to cause hidden wear... with load-bearing strength that can be figured mathematically to future traffic needs.

All good reasons why concrete is the only thrifty way to build highways like those for the Interstate System.

BPW Spring Fashion Show - Sixteen - delights enthusiastic audience

The Spring Fashion Show presented by the Statesboro B & PW Club and sponsored by Henry's on Thursday evening, March 5, at Fair Road Community Center delighted a large audience despite the wind and rain.

Mrs. Eloise Hunnicutt was mistress of ceremonies and Mrs. Carmen Morris was narrator for the show which featured lovely spring creations from Henry's.

Soloists were Mr. Billy Sanders and Miss Joanne Garrett, accompanied at the piano by Dr. Dan Hooley. A special dance number was presented by Miss Linda Nesmith and Mr. Joe Brewer.

Music was furnished throughout the evening by Mrs. Emma Kelly.

Beauty secrets were revealed by Miss Jean Williams, a member of the club.

Models for the show were Mrs. Carmen Morris, Miss Jean Williams, Mrs. Eloise Hunnicutt, Miss Marjorie Hendrix, Miss Virginia Kennedy, Mr. Charles Ragsdale, Miss GTC, Sibby Hogan, Miss Barbara Mills, Esther Sylvia Zetterower, Miss Janone Levalien, Miss Katie Repass, Miss Linda Lee Harvey, Miss Jane Frazier, Miss Cynthia Johnson, Mr. Billy Mock, Miss Jenny Lee, Mrs. Erna Mae Jones, Miss Ann Fulmer, Mrs. Anne Rucker, Mrs. Billie Lane, Mrs. Esther Gross, Miss Rose Marie Denson, Mr. Johnny Hathcock, Miss Sara Adams, Mrs. Jewell Parker, Misses Holly Harvey, Linda Harvey, Miss Joanne Garrett.

As a finale the models made their appearance as Mrs. Eloise Hunnicutt sang "May the Good Lord Bless and Keep You."

The modeling area was beautifully decorated with greenery and potted plants and the letters B & PW were artistically arranged in yellow narcissus and green fern, carrying out the club's colors, green and yellow.

The club was hostess at a reception following the show.

At intervals during the show little Misses Carol Moses drew numbers for door prizes.

Miss Alma Hopper, president of the club, in her remarks of welcome and appreciation, gave some highlights of the club's objectives and achievements.

Miss Zula Gammage was general chairman of the Fashion Show.

BRIDGE LUNCHEON AT BRYAN'S KITCHEN WITH GLAMOROUS DECOR

Mrs. Roger Holland R. and Mrs. Bruce Olliff were hostesses Thursday, March 5, at a bridge luncheon in the banquet room at Mrs. Bryan's Kitchen.

Spring enchantment in the East was artistically carried out in the flower arrangements. Purple hyacinths, yellow daffodils, pink perfection camellias, yellow and white narcissi and white spirea thumbergia, exquisitely arranged in an elegant silver ewer, were used on the U-shape table where fifty-two guests were seated. Smaller arrangements were placed at intervals on the table. A tall arrangement of rose bud spirea and daffodils on a side table had an Easter bunny with Easter eggs in a yellow basket with purple and yellow straw accessories.

The menu reflected the seasonal mood, the grapefruit cocktails, resembling a flower with yellow petals, golden broiled chicken, spring green asparagus, rosy beets, rolls, coffee and lemon chiffon pie.

Prizes for bridge were wrapped in Easter colors. Mrs. J. P. Foy received a Sunday night supper tray for high. For low, Mrs. Lillian Cowart was awarded a deck of cards and Mrs. Edna Hoefel won a box of soap for cut.

There were thirty-two guests for bridge, and twelve others who came for lunch.

Married to the former Miss Doris Spell of Whitesville, Georgia, the Youngbloods have one son, William A. III, age seven. The family resides in Swainsboro, where Youngblood is president of the Young Adult Sunday School class.

Other memberships include the Statesboro Life Underwriters Association, Swainsboro Masonic organization and the Swainsboro Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Assisting Youngblood in the Statesboro district office are staff managers T. M. Cowart; L. B. Gay of the detached office in Millen at the Millen Hotel building; J. R. Ellison of the detached office in Sylvania at 103 South Main Street; and Mrs. Barbara H. Martin, cashier.

Interstate Life was founded in Chattanooga, Tennessee in 1909 and is now celebrating its fiftieth anniversary. One of its original founders, Dr. Joseph W. Johnson, now deceased, was the father of its current president, H. Clay Evans Johnson.

Company assets as of December 31, 1958 were $52,071,528.28. For every $100 of legal liability the company has $118.44 in assets—a better ratio than the average ratio of the twenty largest life insurance companies.

Capital and surplus now stands at $8,105,308.24, and life insurance in force amounts to $479,950,597. Accident and health premium income amounted to $8,273,754.59 in 1958 with total income, including investment income, amounting to $23,945,921. The company owns $14,862,881.16 in stocks and bonds.

Life policy reserves amounted to $40,478,297.07 at the close of 1958, and investment in mortgage loans totaled $28,048,875.61.

In 1958 Interstate Life paid approximately one million dollars to policyholders and beneficiaries.

EDITOR'S NOTE—The following feature was written by Denny Rushing, a student in the tenth grade of Marvin Pittman High School.

A boy of sixteen may appear to be a curious creature. He is very clumsy, walks like a bull in a china shop, and is always knocking over things around the house. But when it comes to raising a refrigerator, he is as quiet as a mouse.

His laugh sounds curiously like the sound of a jungle beast. He always talks to his boy friends as though they were a mile away and slightly deaf. But just let him talk to a girl and his voice diminished to a whisper, and he forgets half of what he intended to say.

He often takes a dim view of his grades but seriously wants to do better. He never worries about a coming test, especially in algebra. He'd much rather watch television.

Watching him eat is like seeing a man finding food for the first time in weeks.

His posture in school always worries the teacher and not him. Although he is not too bad looking, he is short and he would much rather be tall and slender.

He worries about the spots on his face and usually has a thousand remedies.

He even uses shaving lotion right after washing.

There are times when he feels that nothing he does is right. This sometimes leads to his throwing up a cactus-like attitude against any affectionate gesture.

In fact, any affection he has toward his parents, he is careful not to disclose. His mother's kissing him hello or goodbye usually tries to avoid this. When he does show his affection, it's usually "thorng" around. This only aggravates his parents.

He objects to having his mother tell him what time to be home and to her disrupting his plans to go to this party and that. But yet he always remembers to buy her a birthday present from his meager amount of money.

Although he is learning to say, "I'm sorry," it still comes hard for him and in his rush for independence he sometimes forgets and breaks the rules. He doesn't like trouble but it seems to come naturally.

He likes to be treated as an adult and he resents implications that he isn't. Words like "consideration," "duty" and "responsibility" always brings an answer like, "I know, I know!" His favorite phrases are "Look, mom, I'm not a baby anymore" and "Look, you don't understand."

His feelings are easily hurt and often he gets fired up at someone who makes a wise crack about today's teenager. He is much too wise to say anything about it, though.

He is an expert on hot rods and he thinks nothing of playing the same record 3,000 times in one afternoon. He is always going with one girl or another and it is a must that he give her his ring or some token of friendship. At times he is as silent as a statue and any question is an invasion of his privacy.

He sometimes dreams of being a hero and really puts on a show, but he often worries about his place in the future. He sets his goals, although they may be as high as the stars, and he never forgets them. The age of 16 is his age for making mistakes and fumbling around. He waits impatiently, finally making his entrance into manhood.

MERRY WEEDERS GARDEN CLUB

The Merry Weeders Garden Club met Tuesday morning, March 3, with Mrs. E. C. Oliver at her lovely new home on College Boulevard. Co-hostesses with Mrs. Oliver were Mrs. Ronald Neil and Mrs. Jack Whelchel.

Many varieties and many colors of gorgeous camellias were used in the spacious family room where the guests met and were served cake and coffee. A special flower arrangement, displayed at the meeting, represented the combined talent of Mrs. Wilburn Woodcock, Mrs. Leodel Coleman, Mrs. Robert Donaldson and Mrs. R. J. Kennedy Jr. The arrangement was of Queen of Wales Camellias with youpon foliage.

Mrs. Neil presided at the business meeting. The nominating committee presented a slate of officers for the ensuing club year and by unanimous vote the following officers will serve: Mrs. Ronald Neil, president; Mrs. Bartow Lamb, vice president; Mrs. Wilburn Woodcock, recording secretary; Mrs. Dan Lester, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Frank Simmons; program chairman, Mrs. Bird Daniel, and co-chairman, Mrs. E. C. Oliver.

Mrs. Neil introduced Zack Smith, guest speaker, who talked about the planting, cultivation and care of garden flowers, elaborating on the proper use of fertilizer in relation to each type plant, bulbs, roses and spring garden plants.

Questions and answer period followed with many members besieging Mr. Smith with questions. There were 22 club members present. Mrs. Sam Franklin's sister, Mrs. Hollis Sullivan of Oakland, California, was a visitor.

Dr. DeLoach is one of Bulloch County's oldest citizens. For many years he taught at Georgia Teachers College. At present he lives at his home on the Potral highway about four miles from Statesboro.

EVERGREEN GARDEN CLUB MEETS WITH MRS. JOHNSON BLACK

The Evergreen Garden Club met at the home of Mrs. Johnson Black on Thursday, February 26, with Mrs. Herman Bray as hostess. They served pineapple cake, toasted nuts and coffee. There was a pretty arrangement of narcissus and daffodils on the dining table.

Mrs. Ed Cone introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Fred T. Lanier, who gave a talk on evergreens. She especially brought out that the kinds of evergreens planted should harmonize with the constructive material of the home. Everyone enjoyed the talk because it was information gathered from true experience.

Mrs. Billy Brown, president, conducted a business meeting following the program. Mrs. Carroll Herrington announced that the Spring Flower Show will be held on Wednesday, April 22.

The next regular meeting will be on Friday, April 17.

Those present were: Mrs. Bucky Atkins, Mrs. Billy Brown, Mrs. Wallis Cobb Jr., Mrs. Ed Cone, Mrs. Bobbie Cooper, Mrs. Sam Haun, Mrs. Charles Hendrix, Mrs. Carroll Herrington, Mrs. Jerry Howard, Mrs. Ivy Laird, Mrs. Joe Neville, Mrs. Foy Ouliff, Mrs. Edna Ouliff, and Mrs. Eddie Rushing.

The Merry Weeders Garden Club met Tuesday morning, March 3, with Mrs. E. C. Oliver at her lovely new home on College Boulevard. Co-hostesses with Mrs. Oliver were Mrs. Ronald Neil and Mrs. Jack Whelchel.

Many varieties and many colors of gorgeous camellias were used in the spacious family room where the guests met and were served cake and coffee. A special flower arrangement, displayed at the meeting, represented the combined talent of Mrs. Wilburn Woodcock, Mrs. Leodel Coleman, Mrs. Robert Donaldson and Mrs. R. J. Kennedy Jr. The arrangement was of Queen of Wales Camellias with youpon foliage.

Mrs. Neil presided at the business meeting. The nominating committee presented a slate of officers for the ensuing club year and by unanimous vote the following officers will serve: Mrs. Ronald Neil, president; Mrs. Bartow Lamb, vice president; Mrs. Wilburn Woodcock, recording secretary; Mrs. Dan Lester, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Frank Simmons; program chairman, Mrs. Bird Daniel, and co-chairman, Mrs. E. C. Oliver.

Mrs. Neil introduced Zack Smith, guest speaker, who talked about the planting, cultivation and care of garden flowers, elaborating on the proper use of fertilizer in relation to each type plant, bulbs, roses and spring garden plants.

Questions and answer period followed with many members besieging Mr. Smith with questions. There were 22 club members present. Mrs. Sam Franklin's sister, Mrs. Hollis Sullivan of Oakland, California, was a visitor.

Dr. DeLoach is one of Bulloch County's oldest citizens. For many years he taught at Georgia Teachers College. At present he lives at his home on the Potral highway about four miles from Statesboro.

Betty Black gave a report of the plans for the state convention which will be held in Statesboro in April. Delegates to the convention will be Betty Black and the incoming president, with Kay Cook as alternate delegate.

Girl Scout building fund pushed over $2,000 mark on Tuesday

A check from Mrs. John E. Rusk of 9 East Grand Street in Statesboro made payable to the Girl Scout building fund reached today pushing the temperature for Girl Scouting to the two-thirds mark.

Mrs. Johnson Black, president of the Junior Woman's Club in making the announcement stated that the members of the club are greatly enthused at having reached the more than $2,000 mark in the fund drive.

As soon as weather conditions permit, Mrs. Black stated, work will begin on the building with the faith that the people in our area have enough interest in the Girl Scout program to more than subscribe to the $3,000 needed to finish the project.

Mrs. Black pointed out that no personal contacts have been made in the drive and that no canvasses would be made, therefore "we are dependent upon those people who have an interest in this program to support it with their volunteer gifts."

It is our belief that the project will be completed in early spring," she said.

Blue Devil Band says 'thanks' to supporters

The Statesboro High School Blue Devil band and its parents association this week say "thanks" to all those who made contributions to the band during the band Boosters Day last Saturday.

More than $600 were given by supporters of the high school band during the day.

"The generous contribution show that you appreciate and are proud of your high school band," the members of the band parents' association said.

The funds received will help in the purchase of a new band of which it can be proud.

Brownie Troop 3 says 'Thanks' to Herald

Members of Brownie Troop No. 3 made a special visit to the office of the Bulloch Herald on Wednesday last week to present the publishers and their staff a large box of candies and "Brownies" which they had prepared and cooked themselves.

G. C. Coleman, editor, and C. C. Coleman, advertising manager met them and received the box of candy on behalf of the staff.

Brownies in the troop making the presentation were Sandra Lee, Nancy O'Connor, Shirley Turner, Cindy Brannen, Shelia Deal, Mary Byrd, Anna Hollar, Anne Harper, Jean Robertson, Penny Harper and Brenda Brannen.

Mrs. E. O. O'Connor, the troop leader, was with the girls.

"To thank you for all you have done for the Girl Scouts" was signed by Troop No. 3.

'Jack,' a pointer dog wins show at Waynesboro

"Jack," a pointer dog, owned by Joe Johnston, trained by S. W. Waters and handled by Wendell Johnston, won the show at the Georgia Hunting Dog Stakes at Waynesboro on Saturday of last week.

"Jack" had four covey finds in a half hour and handled them all well.

The trial, which began Friday had fifty dogs entered. Officials of the trial said the number of birds found came close to equaling the total found during the recent Georgia Field Trial Association's Stakes.

Walking, while others were riding horses, Mr. Marsh handled the trial. He had four covey finds and gave a 30-minute performance to excite dog owners who attend the trial.

Shields Kenan is president of Zetterower PTA

Mr. Shields Kenan, publisher of the Bulloch Times, was elected president of the Zetterower PTA at its regular meeting Monday evening, March 9.

Other officers to serve with him are J. P. Folds, vice president; Mrs. Heywood Brunson, recording secretary; Mrs. Mary Nichols, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Herbert Bice, treasurer.

Dr. J. D. Park of Georgia Teachers College gave the devotion for the meeting.

The children of the school presented a program titled "A Day in School for Parents."

More than 230 parents attended the meeting.

Attendance prizes went to Mrs. Bishop's first-B, Mrs. Gay's second-B, and Mrs. Franklin's fourth-A, in the order named.

Holy Week at St. Matthew's begins

The beautiful Procession of Palms on Palm Sunday will open the Holy Week ceremonies at St. Matthew's. It will take place before the 8:30 a. m. Mass offered by Father William A. Tegeler. Blessed palms are held by the people in this day in honor of Christ our King during the procession.

The Mass of the last supper for Holy Thursday will be offered by Father Robert B. Rademacher at 5:30 p. m. He will be assisted by Father George Mathis. After Mass, the Procession of the Blessed Sacrament to the Altar of Repose will take place. Then the altar will be stripped in anticipation of the sufferings and death of Jesus on Good Friday.

At 5:30 p. m. on Good Friday, the Mass of the Presanctified will be offered by Father Tegeler. Father Mathis will assist him. During this service, Holy Communion is given to the faithful, our Lord Crucified receives special homage, the passion of Christ is read, and solemn prayers are offered for the world. The stripping of the altar again takes place signifying our sorrow at the death and burial of Jesus.

The ceremonies of Holy Week reach their climax in the beautiful Easter Vigil. The Ceremony. It begins at 8 p. m. on Holy Saturday night. In this ceremony a new fire is blessed and from it the Easter Candle is lighted. This lighted candle is a symbol of the Resurrection. It is carried by the priest in procession from the front of the church to the altar. There the Easter Song is sung and the Easter Water and Blessing of the Water are blessed. The joyful Easter Vigil Mass follows. Father George Mathis will offer the Easter Vigil Mass. He will be assisted by Father Rademacher. The choir will be under the direction of Father Tegeler, with Helen Zetterower as organist. The public is invited to attend these ceremonies.

ELECTRICITY from the atom someday will respond to the flick of your finger. The nation's electric companies are helping to hasten the day with study, research, development and construction.

Sixty of the companies, including the Georgia Power Company, are spending over half a billion dollars in building 15 developmental atomic power plants. The only profit expected from this expenditure is knowledge.

It is hoped that this knowledge will help to solve the problem of producing low-cost electricity from nuclear fuel. At present, the cost is many times that of power generated from coal, gas and oil, or from falling water.

There is no need for a massive program of constructing large and uneconomical atomic power plants of present-day design. Instead, the efforts of electric companies, manufacturers and government ought to be directed at making the atom a practical and economical source of fuel.

Unrelenting research, not a nuclear power production race with other nations, will give us electricity from the atom at low cost.

FARM POND FERTILIZATION PAYS
 By E. T. "RED" MULLIS
 Just ahead and fishing are just ahead. Where farm ponds are fertilized the fishing is almost invariably good. Where not fertilized fishing in ponds is good only at the best, for the first couple of years. Much too much time is wasted fishing in poorly managed ponds.

Fish need food to grow. The food is produced through a good fertilization program. Fertilization should start by March 1 and be continued all through the growing months.

It is wise to spend this money and not get good fishing from it because you won't spend a few more dollars for fertilizer? This is even more important when a pond is stocked with fish on a fertilized basis.

Here are farm pond recommendations of the Soil Conservation Service which experience in pond management dates back twenty years.

Beginning the last week of February or the first week in March apply 100 pounds per surface acre of 8-8-2 fertilizer, or its equivalent. Apply the same amount once a week for the following two weeks. After the first three applications, add fertilizer according to the water color test.

Fertilizer is best applied by the platform method. The Soil Conservation Service technician will give you information on how to construct the platform.

By investing a few dollars in fertilizer you will make your fish fat, your family and friends happy, and your fish stranding heavier.

It's a real bonus!

Farmers are becoming better corn growers says county agent

By ROY POWELL
County Agent
HIGH CORN YIELDS
 Georgia farmers are becoming better and better growers. In 1958 they planted 2,711,000 acres which produced 86,752,000 bushels. The 1958 state average yield was 32 bushels per acre—six bushels higher than the all-time average made in 1957. In dollars and cents this is an increase of $2,332,500 to Georgia's farm income.

At the Corn Club luncheon at Athens last Saturday, 334 farmers and 227 4-H Club boys and girls were honored with 100 Bushel Corn Club keys and certificates. One hundred and forty of these became members for the first time. One hundred and seventy-five 100 Bushel Corn Club members and 57 other growers also qualified for the 1,000 Bushel Corn Club by producing 1,000 or more bushels on 12 acres or less.

Calculations made in the state Extension agronomy office show that 220 of these 1,000 bushel members produced 382,250 bushels of 3,537 acres. Their average yield was 108.7 bushels per acre. These growers used an average of 502 pounds of 4-12-12 fertilizer at planting and 57 bushels of actual nitrogen. Average number of stalks per acre was 12,080. Average cost of production was 55 cents per acre.

That's good corn growing and I hope the results of our top corn growers will inspire us all to grow more and better corn per acre in this county.

BUYING MACHINERY
 Last week this column gave some ways to save farm operation costs by checking closely on machinery use. Along this same line here are some questions it will pay you to ask and answer before buying new farm machinery or equipment now:

- (1) Do you really need new machinery and equipment now?
- (2) Will more machinery and equipment reduce expenditures for labor to more than pay for itself?
- (3) Is it a necessary or luxury item?
- (4) Can you repair machinery and equipment to postpone buying new?
- (5) Will a used machine be a better buy than a new one?
- (6) Can you exchange machinery with a neighbor or own some machines jointly with others?
- (7) Will the machine or equipment fit your future plans—does it fit new methods, tillage, etc. is it the right size?

Hookey Leads Busy Life Here

Dr. Dan Hookey, associate professor of music here at GTC and husband and father of a fine family, leads a life which is far from dull. His time is spent in a seemingly unceasing round of performing, teaching, and adjudicating.

Read on for a glance into his every-day activities. Recently he conducted a clinic in Savannah for elementary classroom teachers. Shortly after that, he conducted an addition for Glenn County piano students for entrance in the District - music festival.

As piano chairman for the southern region MEAC, he will handle about five meetings of piano people at the annual conference in Roanoke, Virginia, on April 27. He himself, being chairman, will preside at the opening session; another session will feature the eminent jazz pianist, Billy Taylor, and at still another, Jack Broeck will act as moderator.

Dr. Hookey is quite an accomplished performer on his instrument, the piano. His recent past performances include an appearance before the assembly of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, guest soloist with the Savannah Symphony; and his latest, the duo-recital with Jack Broeck which many of you will recall with pleasure.

In addition to all this—plus a regular teaching load of three college classes daily including a lab course and numerous piano students—he finds time for the piano of the series which is due for recording this summer. He has collaborated on a music series text for American Young Americans and it has been adopted by the GMEA for its state list. The book for kindergarten, grades one, two, and three have been completed. Also among his present projects is a music appreciation series for intermediate grades for Columbia records.

So you see, there is ability and unused capacities all around us. Keep it up, Dr. Hookey!

CARD OF THANKS
 We want to thank everyone who was so good to us during the illness and at the death of G. L. Hill.
