Rockwell reports substantial increase in sales, earnings

Pittsburg, Pa.—Rockwell Manufacturing Company's sales and earnings for the first six months of 1959 substantially exceed the results for the corresponding period in 1958, W. J. Rockwell, Jr., president, said today.

Mr. Rockwell also stated that the second quarter 1959 sales alone were the second highest for this period in the history of the company, exceeded only by the record 1957 second quarter.

Earnings for the first six months were $129 per share as compared with 71 cents for the first half of 1958. Second quarter 1959 earnings increased 64 per cent—from 49 cents to 80 cents—over the first quarter of this year. Sales for the six months 1959 vs. 1958, increased from $48,853,000 to $73,355,000.

The company also reported a growing backlog. Orders increased 29 per cent in the six month period. For the second quarter alone orders averaged more than $10 million a month.

Discussing the long-term outlook, Mr. Rockwell added: "The most important development of the first half has been the signs of a flood tide of recovery for the entire economy. Despite these signs, few economists are yet talking of a glittering boom because of lagging business outlays for new plants and equipment—one of the economy's major spending mainstays.

"However, there's one bright side to this general lag," Mr. Rockwell said. "One of our major markets, the petroleum industry, has raised its capital appropriations. The addition, though small, is a solid indicator of the industry's confidence in its future, especially when one considers the current problems of over-production and tight quotas on petroleum imports."

On May 31st Rockwell passed another milestone in its financial progress. On that date total assets passed $100 million mark for the first time.

Statesboro tobacco warehouses full, ready for market opening here today

The 1959 tobacco market opened here this morning with every one of the 762,000 square feet of floor space in Statesboro's twelve big warehouses covered with baskets of the golden weed we know as tobacco.

It is estimated that more than eighty per cent of the tobacco crop in Bulloch has been gathered and cured and is ready for selling.

County Agent Roy Powell said that this year's crop in the county should run from average to better in quality than in previous years. The figure probably will be about the same as last year despite an increase in acreage planted. This comes about because of the dry weather during the growing season. It is also expected that the tobacco this season will be lighter in weight.

The Statesboro A.S.C. office reports that 3,488 acres of tobacco were planted in the county in 1959. The figure dropped during 1957 and 1958, with approximately twenty per cent increase in acreage this year.

Every major company buying bright leaf tobacco was represented on the Statesboro market when it opened this morning. These include the American Tobacco Company, R. J. Reynolds, Liggett-Myers, Imperial, Export, Venable, Farnville Leaf, The Tobacco Company and Southeastern Tobacco Company. In addition a large number of independent buyers follow the sales. With the complete sale of buyers, the two daily sales here will sell over 700,000 pounds each day.

Over 200 people are employed by warehousemen and companies during the marketing season which usually lasts five or six weeks.

Warehousemen are of the opinion that the market will sell more this year than in 1958. Buying companies have had their offices opened here for several days and with warehouses beginning to take in tobacco everything was in readiness in Statesboro for the 1959 opening.

Jaycees will count dogs in city Aug. 10

Something new in census taking will take place in Statesboro on Monday, August 10.

Members of the Statesboro Junior Chamber of Commerce will fan-out over the entire City of Statesboro making a house-to-house check on the dog population of the city.

The project, sponsored by the Statesboro Jaycees, under the direction of Dent Newton, has the approval of the mayor and city council and the Bulloch County Department of Health.

The dog check is to determine the number of dogs in the city and their owners, if they have an owner.

Mayor Bowen stated that this year only 100 dog owners in Statesboro have secured licenses for their dogs. "We know that there are more dog owners with more dogs than that," he said.

Dr. Charles T. Brown, medical director of the Bulloch County Department of Health estimates that there are more than 5,000 dogs in the county and only 782 had been treated as of this week.

Mayor Bowen and Dr. Brown state that they are appalled at the apparent public apathy to the necessity of having their dogs treated and the public ignoring the laws which require the vaccination of dogs in this county to protect the population and livestock from rabies.

"We are backing 100 per cent the Jaycees in this project to determine the number of dogs and their owners in the city," Mayor Bowen and Dr. Brown said.

They ask that the citizens of the city give these young bloods their cooperation when they make their count on August 10.

Prisoners at Bulloch County prison camp want chapel in which to worship God

"Make a joyful noise unto the Lord, all ye lands. Serve the Lord with gladness; come before him with singing. Know that the Lord he is God: it is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves; we are his people, and he the sheep of his pasture."

"On Jordan's Stormy Bank" and "Softly and Tenderly."

It was a moving experience. The quiet of the Bulloch Herald was a visitor at the class on Sunday, July 19. He was holding a Sunday School class for the Negro prisoners. Only about six of the more than fifty Negro prisoners were in attendance.

The teacher, Josh Lanier, Prisoner No. 167 at the Bulloch County prison camp, located on U.S. 301 north of Statesboro, was reading the 100th Psalm at the regular Sunday morning meeting of the Prison Sunday School Class, last Sunday.

"Patterson, serving a life term in prison, the Sunday School class president, opened the meeting with prayer and the entire group joined in singing "Are You Washed in the Blood."

Prisoners at Bulloch County prison camp want chapel in which to worship God

Warden Fed Fields expresses his approval of the services saying that it has done wonders for discipline among the prisoners.

With the Sunday Class nearly a year old now the members feel a pride in their services and the need for a chapel. The county commissioners approved the idea of building a chapel on the prison grounds. The prisoners have volunteered to do the labor in their free time. It is estimated that the cost of materials for the chapel will be about $15,000. Mr. Lanier says that more than 500 have already been contributed by those who are interested and named Josh Lanier as chaplain and Mr. Williams became his assistant.

A record-smashing $415,464.11 was received by the Georgia Heart Association from the people of Georgia during the past fiscal year ending June 30. It is stated in a "Report to Georgians" from Alfred S. Papp, GHSA Chairman of the Board of Directors.

"This total," Papp said, "represents an increase of $102,343 over $313,121 raised in the year 1957-58."

In making the report Mrs. Johnson and Mr. Uesey express their appreciation to the citizens of the county for their cooperation in the fund drive in this county.

REHEARSAL PARTY FOR MISS HUGHES

A lovely event of the season was the beautiful buffet supper given in the home of Mrs. and Mrs. Walton NeSmith on Friday night immediately after the rehearsal of the Hughes-Martin wedding. The spacious dining room was set up with small party tables to accommodate each guest. The place cards carried a small spray of lilies of the Valley. The NeSmith home was beautifully decorated with appropriate spring flowers. The dining table was a thing of beauty. The centerpiece for the table was made of stephanotis and zinnias.

The bride's table was recognized by the floor-length Irish linen cover with a centerpiece of stephanotis and white bouquets of peaches.

The menu consisted of baked country ham, garnished on a large silver platter with pine apple rings and red crabapples, green peas with butter, cauliflower, the salad was centered with egg petals to form a dogwood flower garnished with lettuce and deviled eggs. The ring of turkey held the pepper and tomato rings which added color and taste to the supper. Hot rolls and butter were served. Cupcakes decorated with colored bride's nosegays with tea was the dessert.

About 25 guests were present.

THE BULLOCH HERALD

SOIL CONSERVATION

By E. T. "Red" MULLIS

BRIGHT LEAF TOBACCO

Extension engineers say methods of harvesting and curing bright leaf tobacco are likely to go through some major changes within a few years. Studies in bulk curing were begun in 1958 at the Coastal Plain Experiment Station by the Agricultural Engineering Department with the tobacco department cooperating.

Through the studies it was hoped it would be possible for farmers to eliminate the necessity for employing sub-standard laborers for cropping and thus cut down on losses due to harvesting premature tobacco. It permits selective cropping by the owner by employing smaller complete curing units to accommodate daily harvesting. It eliminates the conventional stringing of tobacco on sticks, which involves heavy labor requirements for the several handling operations in curing preparation for market. It greatly reduces the amount of grading the cured tobacco before...

HYBRID SEED CORN

It doesn't pay to go to the trouble of raising a second generation hybrid corn for seed. That's what the results of recent tests at the College Experiment Station, Athens, show.

In the tests, the first generation of NC 27 hybrid corn seed gave a yield of 84.8 bushels per acre, 17.4 bushels less per acre than was obtained with the first generation seed. At this rate, it's easy to see how first generation hybrid seed corn can pay off about $20.00 per acre income for each dollar spent.

And that isn't all of the story. The first generation corn had 98 percent erect plants; whereas, the second generation had only 88 percent erect. Ears of the first generation corn were also heavier. They weighed 42 pounds per 100 ears, but the second generation weighed only 32 pounds per 100 ears. For quality of the second generation was poor, and most ears were short and not filled out.

CORN AND PASTURE

A recent county agent survey revealed that the use of fertilizer on corn and pastures in Georgia has greatly increased. Last year approximately 77 percent of the total fertilizer nutrients used by Georgia farmers was applied to corn and pastures. This is in line with the expansion corn as one of Georgia's main cash crops and the increased interest in beef production in the state.

Fifteen years ago corn and tobacco received the largest part of the fertilizer used by Georgia farmers. Today the fertilizer used on cotton and tobacco accounts for only about 11.7 percent of the fertilizer nutrients used by farmers.

In recent years the increased use of fertilizer on pastures has resulted in an extension of the fertilizer season. This has meant a more even distribution of fertilizer sales throughout the calendar year.

PRIMITIVE BAPTIST LADIES AID SOCIETY

The Ladies Aid Society of the Primitive Baptist Church met Friday night at the home of Mrs. J. C. Preterius. The business meeting was in charge of the present Mrs. Virgil McEwen. Following the lesson study, presented by Mrs. Felix Parrish, refreshments were served by Mrs. F. W. Hughes.

METHODIST W. S. C. S. NIGHT CIRCLE MEETS

The Night Circle of the W. S. C. S. of the Methodist Church met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Joe Grooms with Mrs. L. S. Lee and Mrs. A. C. Watts co-hostesses. Mrs. Bob Mikell conducted the business session. The program was arranged by Mrs. C. E. Williams, who gave the devotional. Mrs. J. H. Griffith and Mrs. W. C. Cromley gave facts of "Preventive Measures of Juvenile Delinquency."

Tommy Scott Selected Outstanding Youth at Camp

Tommy Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Scott, Statesboro was selected from a group of some 300 campers as the "Outstanding Camper" in his age group. Young Tommy, age eleven, was presented a mounted plaque recognizing his efforts at a two weeks stay at Camp Greenville near Cedar Mountain, N. C. The boys were divided into four age groups.

This is the second year that young Tommy has attended Camp Greenville. He is a student at Sally Zetterower school.

HYBRID COTTON

Hybrid vigor has been used in corn for about 30 years and more recently it is being used in hybrid sorghum, Coastal Bermuda, onions and other vegetables.

Now, it seems, hybrid cotton may be a possibility. Several years ago a new chemical was discovered which would produce male sterility in cotton. In some tests, with the use of this chemical, up to 90 percent hybrid seeds can be obtained.

The experts now working on producing hybrid cotton say there is a good chance that such hybrids will be available for farmers within five years.

Root knot nematodes give cotton grower trouble again this year

Nematodes apparently are giving some grower trouble in cotton again this year. Most common has been the root knot nematode. It can be recognized by knots on the roots of the plants. Other nematodes, such as the meadow and sting nematode, do not cause knots on the roots and are harder to identify.

Cotton infested with nematodes may turn yellow and have wilted leaves. Plants become stunted, and some may die. When nematodes are present, Fusarium wilt may occur, even in wilt resistant varieties.

You can get help in recognition of nematode species other than root knot white cotton by growing by taking soil and root samples from suspected areas and sending them to Dr. J. M. Good, Plant Pathologist, Coastal Plain Experiment Station, Tifton, Georgia.

A weak tire usually chooses the most inconvenient time and place to go flat. But, with the help of your Phillips 66 Dealer, you can be pretty sure this won't happen to you.

Let him inspect your tires regularly and keep them inflated properly. If a tire becomes unsafe he can quickly provide a new Phillips 66 Action-Tread tubeless tire, made in such a way that it virtually eliminates the chance of an unexpected flat or blowout.

Phillips 66 Dealers carry a complete line of tires. Drive in and take your choice at the station where you see the Phillips 66 Shield.

Rockwell News

'Fresh water a limited natural resource,' says Mr. Rockwell

By W. F. ROCKWELL JR., President

How often have you turned on a water faucet without getting water, not very often. Yet it might be a very good thing if one day everyone in the United States had that experience, all at the same time. Nothing else would dramatize so well the degree to which we depend on water for convenience, comfort, health, and fire protection. It would also help emphasize two other very important facts:

One out of five is deficient in supply. Two out of five are deficient in transmission capacity. . . . One out of three has too little pumping capacity. . . . And two out of five are deficient in treatment capacity. . . .

Right now there is a $2.6 billion backlog in needed waterworks construction—and by 1975 there will be fifty or sixty million more people to serve.

The man who manages our water facilities are capable, and for the most part, dedicated men. With the limited funds at their disposal, they have performed near-miracles in supplying our communities with water.

But in many places these men are fighting a losing battle with engineering and bacteriological advances to assure safe water. In many places these men are fighting a losing battle with public apathy. Badly needed facilities will not be built in time unless we, the voters, express our desire for them.

Communities which do not provide for future needs will realize too late that their growth and prosperity have dried up along with their water supply.

One proved way to stretch dwindling water supplies is to encourage water waste through universal metering. Water consumption in the United States averages 150 gallons per day per person. Badly needed are installed in a previously unmet community, per capita water consumption decrease by about 50 per cent. . . .

MARRIAGE ANNOUNCED Shirley Hunnicutt Almand, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hunnicutt of Clayton, Georgia, and Charles Edwin Howell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Howell of Porterdale, were married in a double ceremony on Friday, July 17, at the First Baptist Church in Statesboro. After a short honeymoon to the mountains the couple will make their home at 56 Grenade Street in Statesboro.

PURCHASING AND PRODUCTION While on vacation Horace Binkley family visited interesting places in Tennessee. . . . Jean Williams returned Monday after a week's vacation at Savannah Beach.

A welcome goes out to Earl Dabbs. He will be working in the accounting department.

NOW FOR ATHLETE'S FOOT Use T-4, liquid because it gives you KERATOLYTIC ACTION. This process sloughs off and dissolves affected outer skin. Exposes deep infection to the killing medication in T-4. Relieves itching and burning, speeds healing. Watch new, healthy skin appear. Itchy, swollen feet, insect bites, poison ivy. Get T-4 FOOT POWDER too—provides a film of antiseptic protection. NOW AT DRANKLIN'S LANE - 182-822 pounds sold for $113.100.96 to average $9.24 per hundred pounds.

On Friday last week he brought in several full grown bolls of cotton from the same field. He picked the bolls on Tuesday, July 21.

Monday Franklin Zetterwerf also of RD 6, sent in a boll of cotton he picked on Sunday.

Prisoners continued from page 1 familiar with the unusual work being carried on at the prison. "Pat" in his opening prayer last Sunday, prayed, "Oh Lord, help make it possible to help us get a chapel where we may worship you."

In June of this year regular revival services were held for four nights at the prison camp when a Statesboro minister was the guest preacher. Twelve made public profession of faith and were baptized in the prison pond.

Mr. Lanier makes it plain this is not a project to humor, coddle or to be easy on these people. "These men who have broken the faith with their fellowmen want an opportunity to make their peace with God," he said.

There is no other prison camp in the state of Georgia where there is an organized Sunday School class, taught by a layman, Mr. Lanier believes.

"We believe that there are people in Bulloch County who would like to help this chapel for these prisoners," Mr. Lanier and Mr. Williams say. "Already many have contributed to it," he added.

After attending this most unusual Sunday School class at the Bulloch County prison camp, we too believe that there are people in Bulloch County who will want to help build this modest House of God. Those who do, may mail their contributions to "Chapel Fund," Box 210, Statesboro, Georgia. This is the post office box of The Bulloch Herald. All contributions will be promptly placed in the chapel building fund.

Let's go 1st class on concrete!

On light-colored concrete you can really see where you're going and you won't find yourself constantly "adjusting your head-lights." Concrete gives you far better visibility at night than any dark surface.

This high night visibility level saves tax money on lighting. Fewer fixtures are needed. It cuts the highway electric bill, too—up to $720 per mile per year.

Concrete also gives you a grainy surface for dependable skid resistance and a smooth, flat ride. Initial cost is moderate, yet modern concrete will last an expected 50 years and more. Upkeep costs will be as much as 60% less than for asphalt.

No wonder modern concrete is the preferred pavement for the Interstate System. A new booklet about highways is yours for the asking.

It is all top grade tobacco. He gets in a plug from Smith Fertilizer Company of Statesboro with his improved apron fashioned from an empty tobacco fertilizer sack.

262,616,195 lbs. of tobacco sold here for $100,192,823

When the Statesboro tobacco market opened here on Tuesday, July 23, it had sold 262,616,195 pounds of tobacco for a total of $100,192,823.14 during the thirty-one years from 1928, the first year of the market, through the 1958 market.

The phenomenal growth of the Statesboro Tobacco Market since the first auction sales were held here in 1928 is shown in the following complete sales record.

That year the average price per hundred pound was $10.76. The sales were above the two million dollars figure each of the first three years and then in 1932 there was a dramatic drop to only $27,504 pounds, 200,000 pounds less in the entire season than is now sold daily on the market here. The sales returned only $41,085.55 that year to average $7.78. The year before, 1931, saw the market's lowest average in the market's thirty-two year history when 1,182,862 pounds sold for $13,100.96 to average $9.24 per hundred pounds.

The market hit the ten-million pound annual sales in 1946 when 14,670,387 pounds sold for $5,974,966 to average $40.72. That year the Statesboro market led the state in sales.

In 1947 the market here slipped to 13, 021,824 pounds, but the next year it fell to 12, 470,387 pounds sold for $5,974,966 to average $40.72. That year the Statesboro market led the state in sales.
