It Seems to Me...

A good report
A recent report by Wilson Bank of Bulloch County, Ga., shows that the cotton harvest in the county is about complete, with the exception of some fields in the Telfair area. The report says that the harvest is about 30% ahead of the average for the last two years.

One of the best pastures
One of the best pastures recently reported to have been observed in the area is near the village of Byrd's Creek. The report says that the pasture is well cared for and that the grass is in excellent condition.
