Members of Bulloch County HD Council attend Athens meet

The State Home Demonstration Council meeting was held in Athens, August 24-28, and the nine club members and two home agents from Bulloch County enjoyed a full schedule from the minute of arrival until departure time.

Registration time began at 10 a. m. on Tuesday, with the rooms being assigned and the ladies getting settled. At 3 p. m. the State Council officers met for a brief session. The agents had a meeting that afternoon.

The first joint assembly for 4-H and Home Demonstration Club members was held on Tuesday night. The meeting was officially opened by Extension Director, W. A. Sutton, with the welcome being given by Dr. O. C. Aderhold, president of University, and Dr. C. C. Murry, Dean of the College of Agriculture.

On Wednesday morning at 8:30 District group meetings were held while at 10:30 General Assembly was held for all Home Demonstration Club members. Here, both group singing and special music was enjoyed.

A report on National Home Demonstration Council was given followed by a talk on Mental Health, "Helping One Another Grow Toward Maturity," by William Russell, Georgia Department of Public Health.

Next, awards for best year books and scrap books were given with Bulloch County receiving a blue ribbon on year book and red ribbon on scrap book.

This meeting came to a close after a most interesting talk by Miss Dorothy Tappan, International Farm Youth Exchange student.

At 12:00 on Wednesday, the President's luncheon was held with Mrs. A. J. Trapnell, president of Bulloch County Home Demonstration Council, and Mrs. Beatrice Gay Davis, Assistant Home Demonstration Agent, attending. The president's well-acknowledged and a most enjoyable half-hour was spent as Mrs. Beatrice Gay Davis, of the State Department of Education, spoke to the group.

On this same day at 2 p. m. the group project meetings were held, after which the first free time was observed with most of the ladies doing a little shopping.

Those who enroll are expected to receive "Care and Feeding of Garden Plants," "The Hand Book," and "Directives" can be procured at the church. The others are in the library.

The instructors are Mr. J. M. Crevasse, Jr., Gainesville, Fla., and Mrs. Jesse Fort, Griffin, Ga.

Miss Lucile Higginbotham, health education specialist, Agricultural Extension Service, reminds parents that only a physician is competent to recognize and treat disease.

At 8:00 p. m. at General Assembly, the Home Demonstration Club presidents' message was given by Mrs. Hinton Logan, followed by a business session, plans for the 1959 National Home Demonstration meeting and a presentation based on the book by J. Edgar Hoover, "Masters of Deceit."

On Thursday, at 9:00, interesting meetings were held with the Southeast District enjoying Miss Mattilda Callaway on "How to Get Fun Out of Decorating." General Assembly for both groups was held in the Fine Arts Building. The highlight of this meeting was the presentation by Ernest Vandiver. From 2:30 to 5:00, a tour of the University campus was greatly enjoyed.

Beginning at 7:30, Thursday night, the Annual State Dress Revue was conducted by Mrs. Avola W. Callaway, 132 contestants, looking like professional models, paraded across the stage with our own Mrs. Delmas Rushing Jr., representing Bulloch County.

The following ladies attended from Bulloch County and all agreed that from eats to programs they had spent an enjoyable week:

Mrs. Delmas Rushing Jr., New Castle; Mrs. C. C. DeLoach, Denmark; Miss Georgia Hagin, Ogeechee; Mrs. C. S. Proctor, Arcola-Brooklet; Mrs. A. Trapnell, Denmark; Mrs. P. H. Carpenter, Denmark; Mrs. Brooks Akins, Arcola-Brooklet; Mrs. Roland Moore, Leslie; and Mrs. George Miller, Ogeechee.

Both Home Agents attended this meeting, with Mrs. Gertrude M. Gear attending with the 4-H girls and Mrs. Beatrice Gay Davis attending with the Home Demonstration ladies.

THE WESTERN AUTO ASSOCIATE STORE, Statesboro's newest business addition, celebrated the grand opening days last week. The store is owned and managed by E. W. (Buddy) Barnes, well-known Statesboro mortician. Pictured above are only a few of the many customers who took advantage of the many bargains that were offered. Visitors to the store also registered for several valuable cash prizes in merchandise given away during the three grand opening days. Those winning $25 in merchandise prizes were Mrs. Jerome Tanner, Mrs. F. G. Black, Gray Baxley, Hollis Cannon, all of Statesboro, Mrs. Ivey Trowell of Portal, won the $100 grand prize in merchandise. Dobbs photo.

Danish student sponsored by Rotary at GTC

Miss Elma Kofeod, 20-year-old student of Rosne, Denmark, arrived in Statesboro Sunday afternoon to enroll at Georgia Teachers College on registration day for a year's study under the joint sponsorship of the Statesboro, Swainsboro and McRae Rotary Clubs.

Miss Kofeod arrived in the United States on September 2 and divided her time in Georgia with the Swainsboro and McRae Rotary Clubs until she arrived here Sunday afternoon. Milton Corwell, president of the Swainsboro club, brought her over to the college Sunday afternoon.

The Rotary students is a native of Rosne, Denmark, which is located on the island of Bornholm, a Danish island in the Baltic Sea. She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Thor Kofeod. Dr. Kofeod is chief medical officer of the island.

Miss Kofeod is a graduate of the Danish "Gymnasium," which is the equivalent to an American junior college. She plans to be a librarian and will major in library science.

She was a special guest of the Statesboro Rotary Club Monday at noon at Mrs. Bryant's kitchen.

$2,137,000 building program at G.T.C. is at half-way mark

A $2,137,000 construction program at Georgia Teachers College has reached the half-way stage with two buildings completed, one nearing completion, one now under construction, and a fifth about to start.

Buildings completed include the Frank I. Williams Student Center and the warehouse. The Williams Center was named after the late Frank I. Williams of father of First District Regent F. Everett Williams. It contains the college dining hall, the post office, book store, lounge, snack bar, and student organizational offices.

A warehouse was completed in June, 1957 at a cost of $37,000. It houses under one roof all of the maintenance and operational supplies for the college.

The building nearing completion is the new classroom building that will house the science, business education, and home economics divisions. These three divisions now use classroom space in four different campus buildings. The approximate cost of the classroom building, to be named the Henry Building, is $600,000 about the same as the Frank I. Williams Student Center.

Work recently began on the new Arts and Industry Building. The 29,000 square feet, will provide GTC with one of the finest centers for industrial education in the nation. The budget request for this building was for $450,000.

Contracts were signed last week for the construction of a new $450,000 100-capacity girls' dormitory to be located southwest Lewis Hall. Women's housing is in the critical stage on the campus, and this new building will help relieve the situation for fall, 1960.

The Bulloch and Chandler School Food Service Association will meet Monday, September 21, at 3 o'clock with Mrs. H. U. Neal at the Register School.

Pittman Park Methodist say Welcome to GTC

Dear Methodist Students, On behalf of the congregation of Pittman Park Methodist Church let me welcome you to Statesboro and Georgia Teachers College.

We wish for you a most successful year in your intellectual pursuits, and trust that we may be able to serve you in the capacity of "your church away from home."

The Wesley Foundation, Methodist student work on state college campuses is the responsibility of Pittman Park Church. The program is centered in the chapel wing of our new building. We stand ready as a church to assist you in any way to make your stay in Statesboro pleasant and fruitful.

Yours in a common task, LAWRENCE E. HOUSTON JR., S.S.—Our traditional church picnic, with the Methodist students as our special guests, will be held on Tuesday, September 22 at 6:00 p.m. on the church grounds.

Arrangements of greenery and roses were used in the living room where the players assembled. Individual cherry pies, with toasted nuts, were passed during the game.

A floating prize for a game in clubs was won by Mrs. Zack Smith. This was a jar of corn relish, made by the hostess. A patio ware serving bowl, in a wicker container, went to Mrs. Lewis Hook for high score.

Other guests were Mrs. Earl Spivey, Mrs. Allen Lanier, Mrs. Herbert Holton, Miss Louise McClain, Miss Janice Cowart, Miss Jane Beasley, Miss Edwina Paul, Miss Bobbie Faye Shelton, Miss Carolyn Ellington, Miss Carolyn Deal, Mrs. Harry Fletcher, Mrs. Francis Hunter, Mrs. Joe Fuller, Mrs. Maurice Brannen, Mrs. Lester NeSmith, Mrs. R. Denmark News Mrs. W. W. Jones is honored on her birthday by members of her family

By MRS. H. H. ZETTEROWER
Mrs. W. W. Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Cloyce Martin honored Mrs. Jones with a birthday party last night. The hostesses and other family members and the neighbors were invited.

The table was decorated with cranberry and a pretty decorated cake. Grilled hamburgers, barbecue, salads, pickles and relishes, cakes and served.

Mrs. Jones received many nice gifts. Mrs. J. O. Alford assisted with entertaining and serving.

Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Brannen spent the Labor Day week-end at the old Simmons Home and had as guests, Mr. and Mrs. W. Deane, Mr. and Mrs. Sam W. Denmark, Brooklet, Mrs. M. J. Pennington and children and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Culver of Savannah, and others.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Hendley have returned to their home in Fla., having been called here on account of the death of Russell DeLoach.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecl Davis, who will leave soon for Toledo, Ohio, were honored by their neighbors with a "going away" supper, at Gurlie Branson's Pond Labor Day. The menu was charcoladed hamburgers, potatoes, salads, baked beans, deviled eggs, pickles and relishes, home made ice cream and pound cake.

These present were: Mr. and Mrs. Cecl Davis, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Clifton and son, Danny, Mr. and Mrs. Ruel Clifton and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Meeks, Mr. and Mrs. Cloyce Martin and children, Ted and Jane, Mrs. J. O. Alford, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Hagin, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Turner, Mrs. Doris Olliff and Mr. and Mrs. Gurlie Branson and son.

The G. A. Meeting of Harville Church was held last Tuesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Woodward with Norma Jean and Billie Blackner as hostesses, with Mrs. Morgan Waters as leader. During the social hour cookies and Coca-Cola were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Hendley of Clearwater, Fla. spent the week-end with Mrs. Russell DeLoach and Mrs. J. Hendley. Friends will be interested to learn that Mrs. Stilton Lanier has returned from the Bulloch County Hospital and is improving some.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Wotitzky and family of Pungapond, Fla., and Mr. and Mrs. Al Cox of Savannah spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Cox, having been called here on the account of Mr. Cox's illness. Mr. Cox is a patient at the Bulloch County Hospital. We hope for him a speedy recovery.

Statesboro QB Club to meet October 12

The first meeting of the Statesboro Quarterback Club will be held on October 12 at the Forest Heights Country Club, according to A. W. Stockdale, 1959 captain.

Other officers include: J. C. Hines, quarterback; W. P. Hill, treasurer; Joe Axelson, scorekeeper; Bob Usery, Don McDougald, Jim Brock, Dr. Jim Sikes, Dr. Tom Powell, and W. O. Stubbs.

Plans call for eight meetings. Those interested in joining the club are invited to contact one of the above listed club officers.

Parents, find out what traffic safety education your children are receiving at school and then back it up with home instruction. Working together, school and home can do much toward protecting school children from traffic accidents.

Regent Williams says 'Welcome' to students for Board of Regents TO STUDENTS OR GEORGIA TEACHERS COLLEGE

To the Students of Georgia Teachers College and to Statesboro and Bulloch County.

As a member of the Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia, from the First Congressional District, I wish to welcome you to Georgia Teachers College and to Statesboro and Bulloch County.

We on the Board of Regents are proud of the college here. Our pride is based upon the record of the college, the quality of its staff, facilities which are being constantly updated, and especially are we proud of the type of students which the college is attracting.

This last includes you. We believe that the future of Georgia Teachers College is bright while realizing that its future is dependent upon you who elect to come here for your education.

May your experiences here add to your growth as citizens in our community as well as in the community you call home.

You'll find a warm welcome in the hearts of the people of this community. They too have a deep pride in the college and a keen interest in its future.

Sincerely,

EVERETT WILLIAMS, Member Board of Regents

L.H. Williams to talk to Lions Tuesday

Leroy H. Williams, former executive manager of the Swainsboro and Emanuel County Chamber of Commerce, will be the guest speaker at the Tuesday, September 22, meeting of the Statesboro Lions Club, according to an announcement today by Clem Rath, Lion president. He will speak at one o'clock at Mrs. Bryant's Kitchen.

Currently the Lions are engaged in their annual calendar drive, under the direction of George E. Sikes. The proceeds of the drive will go to the club's Sight Conservation Fund. If you have not been invited to list your birthday or anniversary date on this calendar call any member of the club. A listing is only twenty-five cents.

Mr. Williams will discuss ways of securing new industries in the community and the problem involved. Members of the board of directors of the Statesboro and Bulloch Chamber of Commerce will be special guests of the club.

PARKER-BLANCH REHEARSAL PARTY ENTERTAINED

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Blund entertained the wedding party of the Parker-Blanch wedding and out-of-town guests with a buffet dinner at their home on Grady St., Saturday night prior to the rehearsal.

Arrangements of summer flowers were placed throughout the house.

On the dining table was an arrangement of pink Asters and white stock. On each end of the table were crystal chandeliers with tall pink candles. On the card tables were pink candles, centered with a pink candle. Place cards were in pink and white.

The guests included Miss Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Blund, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Barnes, Rev. and Mrs. Robert Smith, Mrs. Effie Parker, Mrs. Pearl Davis, Miss Louise McClain, Miss Linda Pound, Miss Marilyn Perkins, Miss Miriam McClain, Miss Linda Nesmith, Miss Betty Jo Brannen, Miss Frances Rackley, Mr. and Mrs. J. First Baptist Church welcomes G. T. C. students

We of the First Baptist Church of Statesboro join with the others of our community in expressing greetings and welcome to you as you begin the year at Georgia Teachers College. It is our hope that this will be one of your happiest and most profitable years.

Our church wants to be of service to the students in any way we may. We have a regular college department in Sunday School and also in Training Union. Also, the BSU of the college sponsors a fellowship hour in our church for all college students following the evening worship on Sundays. We cordially invite those of Baptist faith or preference to become a part of our church and its organizations.

First Baptist will have a supper at the church next Tuesday, September 22, for the students of Baptist faith or preference. This will be held on the church grounds if weather permits. Otherwise, it will be held in the church building. Games and other activities will be enjoyed on the church grounds prior to the supper. The exact time will be announced later.

We invite you to call on us at any time you feel we may be of help. May God bless each one of you now and in the days ahead.

Cordially,
J. Robert Smith, Pastor

Rockwell News

New testing equipment is installed at Rockwell Statesboro plant here

A new type prover has been installed at Rockwell that will enable industrial type meters to be tested in oil varying from the thickness of kerosene to the thickness of syrup. The existing prover equipment was not capable of measuring such a wide range in viscosity, and the new equipment was installed to provide the customers with a better product.

The new prover only supplements the existing test facilities. After going through the regular testing process for pressure and accuracy, meters designated for certain customers will be proved. On this test, meter accuracy is held to within plus or minus of 1% accuracy between minimum and maximum flows at various viscosities. Endurance tests will also be conducted on the new equipment.

The equipment, which will be operated by the Engineering Department, has a unique feature in that a complex system of valves allows one pump to pull oil from either of two storage tanks to the prover, circulating oil through the meter and into the prover tank, and back into the original storage tank.

This equipment is an addition to test facilities valued at more than $100,000 when installed.

PETITION FOR CHARTER
STATE OF GEORGIA
County of Bulloch, Georgia
TO THE SUPERIOR COURT OF SAID COUNTY

The petition of F. D. Russell, P. G. Franklin, Sr., W. H. Smith, Jr., and A. B. McDougald, all of Bulloch County, Georgia, respectfully shows to the Court:

1. Petitioners desire to be incorporated and made a body corporate under the laws of this State as set forth in the corporation Act of 1938, as amended, under the name and style of THE JOHN KNOX DAY SCHOOL, INC.

2. The objects and purposes of said corporation are as follows: to conduct a preparatory school for boys and girls, instructing them in the various branches of literature, science, art and other appropriate subjects, and emphasizing the development of the principles of Christian character and citizenship; to receive, administer and disburse funds and other property for such educational purposes; and to carry on any business or activity in connection with and incident to the above purposes not forbidden to non-profit corporations by the laws of Georgia.

3. Said corporation is not organized and shall not be operated for pecuniary gain or profit and shall have no capital stock. No part of the property of said corporation and no part of its net earnings shall at any time inure to the benefit of any private shareholder or individual.

4. The corporation shall have the power and authority to accept gifts, contributions and legacies in any form of property unless the testator or donor at such conditions not within the objects and purposes of the corporation.

5. The governing body of the corporation consists of a Board of Trustees composed of not less than four (4) and not more than ten (10) members who shall be elected in the manner provided in the By-Laws of the Corporation to be adopted by the incorporators.

Dean Morgan and Dean Tyson say 'Welcome' to G. T. C. students

Greetings and welcome to Georgia Teachers College! After the quiet of the four weeks since summer quarter closed, the campus activities of returning students sounds good again. There will be the sound of more voices this fall than previously, as we have many more people on the campus.

These men and women come from every area in Georgia, and from several places out of the state. They will show a variety of interests as they register for courses which will prepare them for teaching and for medicine, business, law, engineering, nursing, and industry. Some will be taking a two-year course preparing them for clerical and secretarial work. Others will be staying four years and working toward an A.B. or B.S., or B.S.E.D. degree. Still others will be enrolling as Saturday classes leading toward a Master of Education degree.

The men and women on campus will become involved in such activities as Saturday night dances, movies, athletics, dramatics, art, band, choir, Student Council, and church or departmental organizations. Some will serve on the staff of the school publications, The George-Anne, The Reflector, the "T" Handbook, and the Miscellany. Our hope is that all will affiliate with a student organization compatible with their interest.

College attendance is not an "end" in itself—it is but a "means" to an "end"—the "end" being a life which is happier, more useful, more efficient, and more satisfactory to those about you than such a life would have been otherwise.

The office of the Dean of Students will be interested in you, your activities and anything which concerns you. We know that you will face many problems, if this office can be of help to you in finding information pertinent to some of your questions, come by to see us. Or just come by anyway! We'll be delighted to see you!

Sincerely yours,
RALPH K. TYSON, Dean of Students.
IRMA MORGAN, Dean of Women.

Westside Home Demonstration Club to be hostess to HD Club Council

The West Side Home Demonstration Club, with Mrs. R. L. Lanier, Mrs. Dan Lingo and Mrs. J. W. Anderson as hostesses, met in the school lunch room Wednesday afternoon, September 2nd. The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Cluise Smith, president. Mrs. R. L. Lanier gave a scripture reading, following it with a prayer.

During the business session, Mrs. J. W. Anderson gave the treasurer's report. Mrs. Paul Ne-Smith acted as secretary.

The West Side Club will serve as hostess for the County Council meeting September 2, at the Home-making Center.

Mrs. Hudson Allen gave an interesting demonstration on International Relations, using as her subject "International Farm and Home Week" recently conducted at Athens, Ga.

The nominating committee composed of Mrs. Emit Deal, Mrs. Jones Allen and Mrs. Ben NeSmith, presented the following as officers for another club year: Mrs. Cluise Smith, president; Mrs. Lanier Smith, vice-president; Mrs. Sam Braman, secretary; Mrs. J. W. Anderson, treasurer; and Mrs. Hudson Allen, reporter.

Mrs. Gear gave a demonstration on making curtains and draperies which was greatly appreciated.

to ten with an approximate cost of 3 1/2 million dollars. This could not have been done without the combined efforts of the Governors, the members of the Board of Regents, and especially our own Regent, F. Everett Williams of Statesboro, the college faculty and staff, the students, and the wonderful people of the city of Statesboro.

While this has been going on for the physical plant the college has also made real strides in the development of its academic program. The scope of the college changed from that of a single purpose program with one primary offering to a multiple purpose program with the following degrees: Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science in Recreation, and the Master of Education, with the first Masters degrees to be awarded at the August graduation, 1960.

Recently, while on a visit to the Frank I. Williams Center, three of the students who had just made their first visit to the building stopped me and said, "Now we have a building as good as any in the University System and it makes us feel that we do not have to apologize to anybody now concerning our college." This, I think, is typical of the way many people feel toward Georgia Teachers College.

Indications point to the fact that the enrollment this year will go over the 1,100 mark. If we had adequate housing space possibly the fall quarter enrollment would have reached 1,300. As it is, most of the girls will be living with three to a room and in some instances with four to a room. This indicates that for many years ahead we must provide additional facilities in order to make it possible for many of our young people to receive a college education.

I appreciate this privilege of being able to welcome the new students and at the same time being able to say something about the work at the college.

ZACH S. HENDERSON, President, Georgia Teachers College.

John Williams recovered a Statesboro fumble three plays later at the home 28, and full-back David Harn scored from three yards out of the fifth opening play.

End Bobby Wing converted after the second touchdown, and following a scoreless second quarter, Savannah led at the half, 13-0.

The Blue Jackets' third period touchdowns came on a 16-yard sprint by Billy Haynes, and a 30-yard pass interception return by tackle Jack Hare. Wing's placement was good after the last touchdown to complete the scoring.

Statesboro reached the Savannah 15 following a 32-yard run by Wendell McGlamary in the second quarter, but Williams broke through to throw Herbert Wiggins for a long loss on an end sweep and the threat was over. The Blue Devils were on the Savannah 30 as the game ended.

Tackle Victor Jay Alfili and Williams led a strong Savannah defense.

For Statesboro, lineman Lindsey Johnston, Arnold Cleary, Jerry Newsome, and halfbacks Jimmy Brock and Jimmy Scarce made most of the tackles.

Friday night, the light and inexperienced Statesboro squad will journey to Jesup in a case of what will probably be jumping from the frying pan into the fire.

Jesup whipped Jeff Davis 55-0 Friday night, and scored every time they touched the ball with one exception. Last year Jesup whipped Statesboro 7-0 on score in the last four minutes.

THE BULLOCH HERALD

DEDICATED TO THE PROGRESS OF STATESBORO AND BULLOCH COUNTY

VOLUME XVIII—ESTABLISHED MARCH 26, 1937—P.O. BOX 210

STATESBORO, GEORGIA, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 17, 1959

NUMBER 44

The G.T.C. Story from 1908 to date

Georgia Teachers College, today one of the leading teachers colleges in the nation was not always Georgia Teachers College.

The college's history begins as one of ten district agricultural and mechanical schools established through a legislative bill introduced by H. H. Perry of Hall County and supported by Governor Joseph H. Terrell and signed into law on August 18, 1906.

To assure the location of the First District school in Statesboro the citizens of the county and the town, under the leadership of Colonel Albert M. Deal, offered 275 acres of land, $25,000 in cash, and free electricity and water for ten years.

In the beginning there were no appropriations made by the state for maintenance of the new school, however provision was made that all funds derived from fertilizer and oil inspection fees would be utilized for the support of the district schools. This arrangement was unsatisfactory and was replaced in 1911 by an appropriation bill for maintenance.

The Board of Trustees of the First District Agricultural School, with Jefferson Randolph Anderson as chairman, met in 1907 and elected J. Walter Hendricks principal and Otto T. Harper professor of agriculture.

The new high school opened on February 8, 1908. Principal Hendricks' record book for March 25, 1908, shows the enrollment as follows:

Seventh grade — John Hendrix, Henry Waters, Arthur Morris, James Moore, Robert Williams, Clyde Franklin, Raleigh Kennedy, Charles Bland, Tom Moore, John McDougald, Frank Miller, Deans Crumpler, Cecil Waters, Hugh Lester Arto Council, Dan Bland, Grover Branne, James Rigdon, Vera Arnett, Gertrude Futch and Troy Anderson, (who enrolled on April 1).

Eighth grade — Gordon Williams, Hubert Jones, Grady Johnson, Mark Lively, Willie Cox, Paul Simmons, Fred Kennedy, Rastus Brannen, James Donaldson, Hubert Kennedy, George (Pete) Donaldson, Ivy Everett, Naughton Mitchell, Gordon Donaldson, Dan Rigdon, James Blitch, Elma Smith, Mammie Newsome, Annie Waters, Josie Olliff, Minnie Reed Beasley, Sara Parker.

According to the recollection of Dan E. Bland, Lanie Rushing, John Rushing, Brantley Blitch and Grover Johnson had enrolled at the beginning of the school on February 8, but had withdrawn before Principal Hendricks' records of March 25.

Principal Hendricks, a graduate of the University of Georgia, taught English, history, spelling and physics. Prof. Otto T. Harper of the University of Georgia, taught agriculture, plant life, botany and geography. He was born in New York and lived at Dalton, Georgia before coming to Statesboro. Prof. F. M. Rowan of Cartersville, a Georgia Tech man, taught arithmetic, Algebra, shop work, carpentry and forge practices. Miss Josephine Schiffer, who was born in Java, and lived in New Jersey, taught domestic arts and domestic science. George Kicklighter was the farm superintendent.

That first term only three girls lived in the school dormitory. They were Elma Smith, Mammie Newsome and Annie Waters. They were under the care of Mrs. Nina Hendricks, the wife of Principal Hendricks.

Of the more than forty students enrolled during the first term about one-third were "day" students.

The first buildings of the new First District A. and M. School were the administration building, East Hall and West Hall which were erected at a total cost of $45,000.

The school existed as a high school from 1908 until 1924. Mr. Hendricks was principal in 1908 and 1909; E. C. Dickens, 1909-1914; F. M. Rowan, 1915-1920; and E. V. Hollis, 1920-1926.

It was during Mr. Hollis' administration in 1924 that the need for teachers began to concern the people of Georgia and of the State Department of Education. He proposed that the school be made into a Normal School to train teachers. His proposal had the backing of the board of trustees. J. E. McCroan was chairman at that time and Howell Cone, legal counsel. On August 18, 1924, Governor Cliff Walker signed a bill passed by the General Assembly, which created the Georgia Normal School at Statesboro. Ernest V. Hollis was named president. In 1926 the first class of five students, Lucille Dekle, Lucy Rhea Rushing, Annanella Screws, Janie Warren and Bernice Wilson received diplomas from Georgia Normal School.

Professor Hollis resigned in 1926, and Guy H. Wells became president and served until 1934.

On August 24, 1929, the General Assembly passed a bill changing the name of the school to South Georgia Teachers College. Zulme Lane, Ada Lou Rowe, Dorothy Thomas and Earl Wood received the first Bachelor of Science in Education degrees in the class of 1929, from the South Georgia Teachers College.

On August 28, 1931, Governor Dick Russell signed a bill which abolished all boards of trustees and substituted a Board of Regents. Among the institutions affected was South Georgia Teachers College in Statesboro.

On April 12, 1934 the new Board of Regents transferred Guy Wells to the presidency of Georgia State College for Women and Dr. Marvin Pittman, former director of education for Michigan State College at Ypsilanti, Michigan, was named president.

In 1936 the college was admitted to membership in the Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

In 1939 the Board of Regents changed the name of the college from South Georgia Teachers College to Georgia Teachers College.

Dr. Pittman was replaced as president of the college in 1941 by Albert M. Gates who served until 1943 when Dr. Pittman was renamed president. On September 1, 1947, Dr. Pittman retired and Judson C. Ward was named president. On April 1, 1948, he was named assistant chancellor of the University System of Georgia and Zach S. Henderson, who had been dean of the college since 1927, was named president and is still serving in that capacity.

On Friday, November 15, 1957, the Board of Regents approved the granting of master of education degrees in seven fields for Georgia Teachers College.

And on February 7, 1958 the college celebrated its Fiftieth Anniversary with Dr. Robert Strozio, president of Florida State University the principal speaker.

Mayor Bill Bowen says 'Welcome' to 1959-1960 G. T. C. students

To the Students of Georgia Teachers, Statesboro, Georgia
Young women and young men:

As Mayor of the City of Statesboro I am happy to have been given the opportunity to say "Welcome" to our community through the medium of this newspaper.

We know that you must think that Georgia Teachers College is a fine school—your very presence here is proof of that. Now, we want you to know that the citizens of Statesboro think the same.

We want you to feel that Statesboro is your home away from home and that the people here welcome you. Give them the opportunity and they will take you into their hearts.

We hope that your years here in our midst are to be your happiest ones. We hope that you find that for which you are searching here at Georgia Teachers College.

So, on behalf of the people of Statesboro, I welcome you to our college. Please make yourselves to home.

Sincerely,
W. A. BOWEN, Mayor
City of Statesboro

Georgia Industry Week to be observed September 20-26

Georgia Industry Week, September 20-26, which affords state-wide recognition to our industries is just another step in maintaining Georgia's "Industrial Climate," says Clifford M. Clarke, executive vice-president of the Associated Industries of Georgia.

Figures compiled by the U. S. Chamber of Commerce show that since 1950, manufacturing payrolls in Georgia have increased from $665 million to $1,086 million, this represents an increase of 63% and compares with a national increase of 55 per cent.

Another indication of "Georgia's Healthy Industrial Climate" is that every third employed person in the state works in manufacturing. Georgia Industry Week is sponsored by the Associated Industries of Georgia, Georgia Chamber of Commerce, Executive (Lives) Assn., Georgia Junior Chamber of Commerce, Georgia Motor Trucking Assn., Inc., Georgia Poultry Federation, Inc., Georgia State Chamber of Commerce, Georgia Press Association and the Georgia Association of Broadcasters.

In the fields of labor supply, public acceptance of industry, tax comparisons with other states and in natural resources and transportation, all important factors in securing new industry and in the expansion of existing industry, Georgia ranks better or favorably when compared with other states.

Mr. Connor, assistant to the vice-president of Rockwell Manufacturing Company, was promoted to general manager of the Rockwell Statesboro Corporation's plant here in February of this year.

Mr. Connor has had many years of production and management experience at several Rockwell plants. He joined in 1929, became assembly superintendent at the DuBois plant in 1947, works manager at Pittsburgh Headquarters in 1951 and general manager of the Tulsa, Oklahoma, plant in 1952. He was general manager of the DuBois, Pa., plant before he came to Statesboro.

Mr. Rowand and Mr. Connor state they hope the citizens of this community will visit them Wednesday afternoon at their "open house."

Visitors will see the progress made at the plant since Rockwell moved here in January, 1956.

The City of Statesboro Recreation Department and the Chamber of Commerce held the annual "Welcome to Statesboro Dance" at the City Recreation Center.

During the rest of the week, the entertainment schedule includes the annual Student-Enc. Reception, two movies and two more dances.

This class is the first one to be able to utilize the new Frank I. Williams Student Center, where many of the events of Orientation Week are being held.

By the time classes start on Monday, Sept. 21, this year's freshman class at Georgia Teachers College will be "veterans" at this business of going to college.

Editorials

Our community welcomes G. T. C. students

Welcome to Statesboro! On behalf of the citizens of Statesboro and Bulloch County, the editors of The Bulloch Herald say "Welcome" to you and your family, all students of Georgia Teachers College.

Throughout this special Welcome issue of our newspaper the churches say welcome and invite you to worship in the church of your choice. Our city and county officials say welcome to Statesboro and Bulloch County.

Our special welcome is for the freshmen—those of you who come here from our neighboring counties, those of you who come here from far away counties and are new visitors in our community.

Many of you may be away from home for the first time—that is, really away from home and father and mother. You may be finding the going a bit tough these first few days, but that will soon change.

Welcome teachers

And while we are saying welcome to the students of Georgia Teachers College, we wish to extend a hearty greeting to the teachers of the college—especially to the thirteen additions to the faculty and staff who are here for their first year.

Mr. J. L. Mathews

The business community of Statesboro and Bulloch County lost one of their keenest businessmen with the death of Mr. J. L. Mathews on Tuesday of last week. For nearly sixty years of his life he has been identified with the banking business of the city and county having been named on the board of directors of the old Bank of Statesboro just a few years after its founding in 1894 and then becoming a director of the Bulloch County Bank when it was established in 1934.

He was a founder of the Statesboro Telephone Company in the first part of 1900. He remained active until just a few months before his death. He maintained his association with the Bulloch County Bank as a director and vice president until only ten days before his death.

His church meant a lot to him and he served as one of its deacons numerous times and had been named Deacon Emeritus. He found time to devote to other organizations, having been a charter member of the Knights of Pythias here and a member of the Ogeechee Masonic Lodge longer than any other of his Lodge brothers.

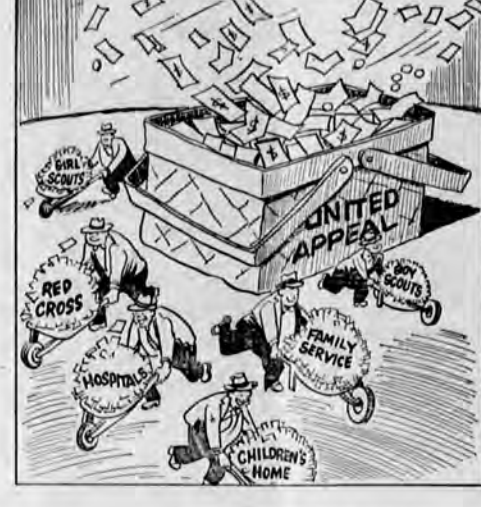

He was devoted to his family and to the community of which he was a part.

That's a lot to say of a man.

This Week's Meditation

By Lawrence E. Huston Jr.
One cannot read in the morning paper about Russia's successful moon rocket without recognizing again that a new world is on the verge of discovery—the world of outer space.

Now—we have said our welcome on behalf of the community. We have expressed how our community feels about you and our college. We are happy you are here. We want you to be happy here.

Herman Talmadge Reports From Washington

NO GOVERNMENT anywhere has more civil rights laws than the City of New York and despite them, there is no city in the world which has a worse record of racial friction and violence.

United Press International reports that, as of the end of August, at least 20 had been killed and another 38 wounded in racial violence involving teenagers in that metropolis. U. S. News and World Report says the racial tension seething there "can lead to real trouble."

Building a better Statesboro and Bulloch County and Georgia through proper industrialization calls for teamwork from all. Our economy can be improved immensely by establishing small industrial plants over the state.

Georgia Industry Week is designed to focus attention to the part that industry plays in communities throughout Georgia.

And we are for that.

FOR SAFETY'S SAKE
All school children should be taught at home to be extremely careful in traffic, especially those who ride the bicycle. Parents should be sure that their children know and obey the rules governing school bus transportation.

SO YOU HATE TO write a letter. Or is it that you're like us, just plain too lazy to write a letter?

Well the first week in October—October to October 10—will have an opportunity to participate in a nation-wide "Letter Writing Week."

FOR SAFETY'S SAKE
Here's a reminder from the State Patrol to all parents and motorists—if a child loses his life in a traffic accident, all the other important lessons he has learned will be in vain.

It's not really hard to write a letter. It's the business of getting to ready to write that's hard. Just get your pen and paper out and take off. Write just like you would talk. Write to your mother, father, brother, sister, mother or father, or friend.

IN WRITING this column this week I is with mixed emotions that I say to the more than eleven hundred students at Georgia Teachers College, "Welcome back" and to the freshmen we say sincerely, "Welcome to our community."

WE SEE in you leaders of today, not just leaders of tomorrow. We know that you will play a tremendous role in making the college program a success and as you claim for yourself the real advantages of a good education we see in you the hope for a better future.

THOSE AND DOZENS of similar recent incidents which can be cited should serve as stern warning to all Americans of the South that the cause of harmonious race relations is best served through the mutually-accepted pattern of separate, but equal, facilities.

WHAT MAKES the difference in folks? It is doubtless that anybody could give a pat answer to that question. Some say it's the home, some say the differences are inherited, some say both of these make the differences.

Dr. Jim Park welcomes students to the 'School with a Purpose'

It is a real pleasure to welcome the freshman class of 1959 to the campus of Georgia Teachers College, the school with a purpose.

Many students in previous years went to college just to "get a college education." Today's students are more discriminating. They want a college education, but they want one which will prepare them for a specific usefulness in the world.

It is gratifying that so many of the outstanding young persons of Georgia are knowingly selecting a college dedicated to thorough preparation for the teaching profession. No field holds more challenge, offers a wider opportunity for valuable human service, or is more rewarding in the long run.

120 Days Around the World on The Flying Hawk...

BY GUY H. WELLS, STATESBORO, GEORGIA

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is one of a series of accounts written by Guy Wells of Statesboro about the trip he and Mrs. Wells made around the world aboard the freighter "The Flying Hawk." They left the U. S. on February 26, 1959 and returned July 7, 1959.

Tokyo, Japan May 25, 1959 Dear Leodel: I will write you a few days impressions of our seven days tour of Japan. We are now in the Imperial Hotel of Tokyo, a hotel designed by the late Frank Lloyd Wright to resist earthquakes.

We landed in Kobe five days ago, toured Kobe one day, Osaka and Nara, the next day, and Kyoto, the next day. We took an electric train from Kyoto to Tokyo, 400 miles in seven hours. We saw the most beautiful and intensively-farmed land we have ever seen. Only forty-five per cent of Japan's land is tillable, the other fifty-five per cent is mountains, rice, grain, vegetables, and flowers are their chief crops.

The railroads run on a minute schedule and are clean and very comfortable. From Kobe to Tokyo a train runs every twenty minutes. Food on the diners is good and cheap.

We arrived at the Grand Station built in 1914. It handles 500,000 people in and out each day. The buildings in Japan cities are not tall, but are built very strong to withstand earthquakes. The homes, as a rule, are of light and small construction.

Tokyo has a population of nine million and is the largest city in the world. There are many religious shrines and temples in all the cities. We saw only a few in the rural sections. Sunday is not a day of rest. Most of the stores stay open, and the farmers work the same on Sundays as other days. Only seven per cent of Japan's population are Christian; the other 93 per cent are Buddhists and Shintists.

We have toured the principal cities and enjoyed most the beautiful gardens and parks. The houses include the details and the staging and scheduling committee and the meaning of terms as they apply to schedule making.

Corley, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Corley Jr., of Route 4, Covington, attended Young Harris College before transferring to GTC last year.

The scholarship is provided by Mrs. Benton Gaines of Atlanta, and is part of the movement by the Georgia Volunteer Teacher Scholarship Plan to help provide more teachers for the state. The award "was made in recognition of Mr. Corley's outstanding record as a student and a leader and because of his interest in the teaching profession."

He has been business manager of both the George-Anne student newspaper and of the Reflector student annual since entering GTC.

The churches also recognize your presence and want to minister to your need. You are cordially invited to visit your selves of the opportunities for worship and service which are offered throughout each week.

With best wishes for a successful year, Faithfully yours, The Statesboro Presbyterian Church, The Rev. Miles Wood, pastor

FOR SAFETY'S SAKE Knowing that the primary concern of all parents is the safety of their children isn't it amazing that so few take time to train them in good habits of safety—or even take the trouble to set them a good example. If the school child is to be safe—he must be carefully trained before he is permitted to get out alone on the streets and highways.

The Bulloch Herald Statesboro, Georgia, Thursday, September 17, 1959

FOR SAFETY'S SAKE Last year in Georgia, 130 children through 14 years of age were killed in traffic accidents—and another 2351 were injured, 67 of these were pedestrians and 10 were bicyclists. Those tragic statistics can be repeated this year, UNLESS both adults and children exercise utmost care in traffic.

THE BULLOCH HERALD

BY E. T. "RED" MULLIS

It was good to get back home from my two weeks vacation in August. And it takes a while to "rest up" from a vacation and get back into the "groove." It was nice and cool (downright cold at night) up in the North Georgia mountains camping out, and hot on the Gulf doing the same thing.

The Bulloch Herald and The Bulloch Times kept on giving the Soil Conservation Program every valuable publicity. Articles of interest to farmers in Bulloch County.

And my assistant, Luther O'Huff, kept on rendering technical assistance to District Cooperators with the help of District Engineer John Jackson, The District Soil Scientists, Jack Brown, George Brock and Herschel Paulk were busy mapping soils in the county for farm planning and to complete the maps for publication and distribution.

My sincere thanks go to all the people and groups mentioned above for their great assistance and devotion. Special thanks go to Mr. N. Smith, Don DeLoach, Edgar Wynne, Chairman of the Bulloch County Commission, Leodel and G. C. Coleman of the Bulloch Herald, Shields Kenna and Harry Clark, Don McDonald and Elmer Hunicutt of Radio Station WWNS. Also to Mr. T. H. Browne, Area Conservationist, and Area Clerk Mrs. Mary Storey for their help.

Farm and Family Features

Census of Agriculture for 1959 to begin in county in few weeks

By Roy Powell County Agent

In just a few weeks the U. S. Census Bureau will begin the Census of Agriculture for 1959. This census is conducted every five years. At about the end of the month questionnaires will be mailed to farmers by the Census Bureau. Farm operators will be asked to complete the forms accurately and promptly.

When proper farm records have been kept, completing the questionnaire will be a fairly simple job. Here is the type of information they'll be asking for: location of your land, acreage, quantity of crops harvested and amounts sold, acreage of irrigated land, amount of off-farm income by the farm operator, number of livestock owned, quantity of commodities of timber cut and sold, and sales of eggs, chickens, broilers, turkeys, and other poultry.

These are just a few of the things the questionnaire will be asking about. It's important that answers to the census questions be as accurate as possible, for the information gained will be used to form the basis for programs of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Congressional farm legislation, farm organization policies, farm programs established by State Departments of Agriculture, and many other services provided by colleges, business, and manufacturers, publishers and broadcasters.

Full time is "lime" time. For getting the best results from cropland in the Soil's Bank, the soil in the fall just after plowing. It should be worked well into the soil. To determine the amount of lime to apply, you should have your soil tested. What does lime do? For one thing, if used properly, it will most likely increase your crop yield. Here's why: When soil becomes excessively acid, it can be sweetened by the use of lime. business concerns and individuals who are buying the stamps in quantity. Such unified efforts cannot help but greatly strengthen Soil and Water Conservation

Also, acid soils tie up plant nutrients such as phosphorus. Lime, when applied to soils, acts on these insoluble chemicals and releases them to the crop. Lime, too, is needed by plants to grow. A lack of calcium will even appear in the leaves of some plants.

Nitrogen, of course, is needed by plants. What does lime have to do with nitrogen? Lime acts up the soil microbes that make nitrogen. Legume root bacteria thrive in sweet soils and lime neutralizes the acids in decaying matter. This helps to keep the microbes healthy.

So, you can see that adding lime to your soil is important and profitable.

FOWL POX
Fowl pox is again plaguing some of our poultry producers. This is the season when fowl pox spreads most rapidly, and flocks that have not been vaccinated often become infected and suffer heavy losses. Several 4-H Club poultry project members have reported the diseases among their flocks, and as a result they were not able to show their birds and compete for prizes.

If your pullets have not yet been vaccinated for fowl pox, be sure it is done before they come into production. If properly done, using fowl pox vaccine, this will result in 95 per cent, or maybe more, of your birds acquiring lifetime immunity to fowl pox.

If your pullets are already in production and unvaccinated, it poses an entirely different problem. In the event that fowl pox breaks out in your vicinity and you suspect your birds will be come exposed, it would be better to vaccinate them with pigeon-pox vaccine instead of fowl pox vaccine. This will protect them for several weeks with any danger of a serious loss in egg production. Pigeon pox vaccine is a mild virus and does not cause a severe reaction such as may occur in laying birds when fowl pox vaccine is given. It does not give birds life time immunity, and it is recommended only if unvaccinated birds already in production become exposed.

If you have neglected giving your growing pullets this vital protection, be sure they get fowl pox vaccination before they begin to drop some eggs. An outbreak of fowl pox usually results in some mortality and heavy losses in egg production. This is one management practice you can't afford to.

SLOW MATURING PULLETS
Slow maturing pullets should now be separated from the remainder of the flock. These pullets should be put in a separate house or pen and fed antibiotics for two or three weeks at the rate of 100 grams per ton. After the pullets begin laying, the portion can be re-mixed and all birds can run together. Using this management practice will make many slow maturing pullets in to good layers.

Conservation Reserve signup ends on Sept. 30
Farmers who wish to put cropland in the Soil's Bank, the 1960 Conservation Reserve must ask the county ASC committee to set a basic annual rate per acre for the offered land. John F. Bradley, Administration Officer of the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Office, said today. The period for filing such requests expires September 30, 1959.

W. C. Hodges is appointed F.H.A. committeeman

Richard B. Russell informed W. C. Hodges, recognized Bulloch County farm leader, has been named a member of the area committee of the Farmers Home Administration serving Chatham, Evans, Bulloch and Bryan counties.

The Farmers Home Administration makes loans to farmers to buy livestock and machinery, to finance annual operating costs, to improve and construct dwellings and other farm buildings. The agency also lends money to farmers to finance their approved soil and water conservation practices.

Hodges operates a large acreage in Bulloch County. He is the son of a master farmer. Hodges is president of the Bulloch County Farm Bureau, a member of the Bulloch County Board of Education, Chamber of Commerce, and the Statesboro Rotary Club.

USDA changes Conservation Reserve program
Farm Bureau member efforts to obtain a change in the Conservation Reserve program has met with success. John P. Duncan, Jr., Georgia Farm Bureau Federation President of Quitman, disclosed today.

Under earlier USDA announced rules of the 1960 program, numerous Georgia farmers were prohibited from participation where farmers earlier were forced to sell their farms for use by the Federal Government through eminent domain. In most cases such farmers had purchased their farms since December 31, 1956.

FOR SAFETY'S SAKE
Parents, find out what traffic safety education your children are receiving at school and then back it up with home instruction. Working together, school and home can do much toward protecting school children from traffic accidents.

COMING!
TRUCKS THAT DO THE NEXT BEST THING TO PAVING EVERY ROAD IN AMERICA!

Imagine a truck ride so smooth and cushioned that fragile loads can travel the worst "wash-board" roads with ease. Imagine a truck ride that virtually eliminates shimmy and wheel fight, cuts side sway on curves, makes steering far steadier and easier, keeps drivers far fresher. Imagine a truck ride that permits higher safe cruising speeds, more trips per day with all kinds of cargo over every type of road surface. Imagine a ride that keeps up to 78% of all objectionable road shock and vibration from ever reaching the driver and cargo, a design that sharply reduces twisting and fatigue forces on chassis, cabs and bodies, that keeps trucks young for extra thousands of miles. / Soon you won't have to just imagine such a ride. You can try it for yourself in the trucks that do the next best thing to paving every road in America—new Chevrolet trucks for 1960. You'll see what happens when Chevy's truck engineers design a whole new line of trucks around a whole new kind of torsion-spring suspension. These trucks are new from the ride on up—with wonderfully roomier cabs, braunier frames, style that's fresh as sixty and more! Don't decide on any new truck till you see the newest of all.

See them soon at your local authorized Chevrolet dealer's.
