GEORGIA INDUSTRY

WEEK ...SEPT. 20-26 ...and Rockwell of Statesboro wants you to observe the occasion with them...

ROCKWELL STATESBORO CORPORATION

Subsidiary of Rockwell Manufacturing Company
P.O. BOX 450 STATESBORO, GEORGIA

An Open Letter to All Our Friends and Neighbors

September 20-26 has been designated Georgia Industry Week, and in observance of the occasion, we are having an Open House on September 23 from 12:30 p.m. until 3:30 p.m. There will be escorted tours throughout the production areas and plenty of Cokes, and coffee.

This is your invitation to visit us at that time.

Georgia Industry Week is held for the purpose of acquainting every one with the importance of industry to the economy of the state, and the particular community where the industry is located. The occasion is also designed to emphasize the fact that Georgia industries produce quality products in large quantities for use throughout the world.

To emphasize the importance of industry and new jobs, the Chamber of Commerce published these average figures some time ago. They are based on 100 new jobs in a community.

- 74 additional jobs created
- $590,000 more in personal income each year
- $270,000 more in bank deposits each year
- $360,000 more in retail sales per year

To use some more recent figures, the Georgia Power Company estimates that new plants and industries in Georgia in 1958 alone resulted in 6,800 people being employed with a payroll exceeding $20,000,000. Multiply these news jobs by the existing ones and it is easy to see that industry does play a large part in the economy of the state.

Georgia-made products such as transformers, aircraft, meters, and electronic equipment are in constant use in our country's defense program where quality is a must. The quality of Georgia products is seldom excelled, and sometimes exceeds the standards expected.

In our own plant you will probably notice the emphasis on quality and the equipment used to insure quality production. This is not a special effort by us to impress visitors, but a full time program conscientiously carried out so that our customers will constantly be assured of getting the best in metering equipment.

We said that Georgia products are used all over the world. Look at some of the shipping labels on the crates in our Shipping Room. It is very likely that they will be going to customers in South America, Canada, or Europe, to name the more common export countries.

Yes, Georgia Industry Week is a special occasion, and we are proud to be one of the thousands of industries within the state. We are proud of being part of this community, and of being able to share in its development. We are proud of our employees whose diligence and loyalty have enabled us to become firmly established.

Come out next Wednesday and let us show you Georgia Industry at work.

Sincerely,
W. M. CONNOR,
General Manager,
Rockwell Statesboro Corporation.

Preston tells Rotary about visit to Moscow

Congressman Prince H. Preston told members of the Statesboro Rotary Club and their guests Monday that "we must take every opportunity we can to get our way of life over to the Russians" in his report on his recent trip to Moscow to inspect the United States exhibit in Moscow.

Congressman Preston explained that, as a member of a subcommittee which appropriates funds for the state department, he visited the exhibit in Moscow to "see for ourselves what has been put together" in the exhibits.

Statesboro and Bulloch salute local industry during 'Ga. Industry Week'

This week the business community of Statesboro and Bulloch County salute local industry as part of the state-wide observance of Georgia Industry Week, as proclaimed by Governor Ernest Vandiver and sponsored by several groups in the state including the Georgia Chamber of Commerce.

Local Chamber of Commerce joins in tribute to Ga. Industry

This is Georgia Industry Week . . . September 20th through 26th.

We in Statesboro and Bulloch County should be proud of our manufacturing plants. We Georgians should be proud of our industrial progress, since Georgia leads the South. This is a good time for all us to salute our growing industrial progress. Its yours to keep great and keep growing. Look around you and see the many Georgia products you use every day.

The Statesboro and Bulloch County Chamber of Commerce joins other Georgians in paying tribute to Georgia's more than 7,000 plants turning out more than 14,000 different products and employing more than 330,000 Georgians. We salute our industries this week.

Atlanta: Statewide observance of GEORGIA INDUSTRY WEEK -1959 are being held this week. Sponsors of the 1959 program are the Association of Georgia Industries, the Georgia Department of Commerce, and the local Georgia Chambers of Commerce.

According to A. H. Massey, director of the Georgia Department of Commerce, "The unusually fast rate of growth and expansion from within our existing industrial plants has contributed immeasurably to Georgia's present position of industrial leadership in the southeast. Georgia industry has provided jobs for our workers and is serving as a major source of income for the people of our state. I am sure that all the citizens of Georgia will join us in observing this week's 'Salute to Industry'."

Influential groups cooperating in observing Georgia Industry Week include Georgia Textile Manufacturers Assn., Georgia Chain Store Council, Georgia Chamber of Commerce Executive Assn., Georgia Motor Trucking Assn., Inc., Georgia Poultry Federation, Inc., State Chamber of Commerce, Georgia Press Association, Georgia Assn. of Broadcasters, and the Outdoor Advertising Assn. of Georgia.

Bulloch County Farm Bureau Day is Tues., September 29

Bulloch County Farm Bureau members will join with thousands of other farmers throughout Georgia in observing Farm Bureau Day next Tuesday, September 29, according to an announcement made today by W. C. Hodges, president of the Bulloch County Farm Bureau.

Farm Bureau membership committees will meet on Monday night to complete plans for the big one-day drive on Tuesday in carrying out their plans to reach Bulloch County's goal of 1,093 members for 1960.

Some of the results of Farm Bureau action during this year has been to set up a County Farm Bureau office, select a County Office Secretary, and they also cooperated with the local newspapers in getting a special subscription rate for Farm Bureau members.

Other results are as follows: 1. Successfully sponsored legislation (just passed) to keep cotton allotments in Georgia. 2. Successfully sponsored Georgia's Right to Work Law.

3. Successfully sponsored legislation to transfer Georgia Milk Commission to Georgia Department of Agriculture. 4. Successfully sponsored appropriations to develop research on Coastal Bermuda peaches, and to control and eradicate boll weevil.

5. Promoting legislation to provide an adequate research program for new uses of agricultural products. 6. Working continuously to improve the National Farm Program.

7. Successfully sponsored legislation to refund farmers 8 and one-half cents per gallon of present gas tax—5 and one-half cents from State—3 cents from Federal.

8. Legalized Scrubbers Decision C Log Rule in Georgia. 9. Sponsored Mandatory Poultry Inspection Law. 10. Successfully sponsored legislation to prevent mistreatment of livecock at Georgia Auction Markets.

Second quarter, 1959 retail sales in Bulloch, $5,577,700

Retail sales in Bulloch County for the second quarter of 1959 (April, May and June) jumped $563,304 over the second quarter of 1958.

According to figures released last week by the Georgia State Chamber of Commerce compiled by the Georgia Department of Revenue, Sales and Use Tax Unit and the Georgia Department of Labor, Bulloch county retail sales for April, May and June, 1959, were $5,577,700. This is $563,304 more than for the same quarter in 1958. But the second quarter of this year shows a decline of $116,170 from the first quarter (January, February and March, 1959)

Walker, Ware, Wayne, Whitfield. Georgia sales for the second quarter totaled $1,242,671,961. This is $177,574,754 over the second quarter of 1958 when total sales were $1,065,097,207.

These figures may not reflect an entirely accurate economic picture of a particular county because of collection of delinquent taxes, lump sum tax payments on large purchases of building materials, industrial machinery, equipment, etc. The figures represent only the tax-payers sales within any given county.

Morse (right), of the U.S. Maritime Administration, in making the presentation, said, "This is to express in some small way our appreciation of the major role you had in making this first nuclear powered ship a reality and a credit to the American Merchant Marine." The N.S. SAVANNAH was launched this summer and is expected to be completed by next summer.

Join the farm Bureau Tuesday, September 29

Tuesday, September 29, is the big day for the rural citizens of Bulloch County, as well as every other county in Georgia where agriculture is a principal source of income for its citizens.

For that day is "Farm Bureau Day" when farm leaders in our community will combine their efforts to enroll every farmer and every citizen interested in farming into the Bulloch County Farm Bureau.

Governor Ernest Vandiver is adding the strength of the office of Governor to the objective as expressed by the leaders of the Farm Bureau. The Governor has officially proclaimed September 29 as "Farm Bureau Day."

"I am confident that this organization will continue to serve the best interest of the farmers and other groups when sound thinking is demanded of our leaders when all segments of our economy are affected by these decisions; and

"This organization can do more effective and constructive work and render greater service to our commonwealth by substantially increasing the membership in each of the one hundred fifty-nine counties; and

"It is essential that our farm people co-ordinate their interest by supporting the new programs so ably outlined by the membership of the Georgia Farm Bureau Federation."

W. C. Hodges, president of the Bulloch County Farm Bureau says that membership in the Farm Bureau "gives us a voice in agriculture, and the opportunity for farmers to determine the future of agriculture."

We urge all citizens of our county who are interested in the welfare of his family and his community to support our farm leaders in their drive to increase the membership of the voice of agriculture, "The Farm Bureau."

They'll get better

Our Statesboro High School Blue Devils have won their first game yet. But, let's not let this fact get us down. There is still a lot of football to be played, and our boys are improving. Continue the firm support given them their first games and they'll show you their appreciation.

And keep in the back of your mind . . . it's not the winning of the game, but how the game was played, which means so much in this competitive sport.

The sweet potato

The spotlight of attention will be focused on the Bulloch County sweet potato this week.

Several Bulloch County sweet potato growers are taking a batch of that wonderful Bulloch County produce to Atlanta to be sold at Rich's Harvest Sale on Thursday.

Atlanta housewives will have an opportunity to satisfy their yearning for a sweet potato pie like the ones they remember eating before they moved from the rural areas of the state into our state capital. They'll have visions of the candied sweet potatoes like they used to eat back home and then there is the old-time baked sweet potato with the skins still on at the edge of a plate with a fried chicken. And that fluffy sweet potato soufflé!

Oh, it should be a great day for those people in Atlanta who remember the sweet potato of their childhood.

Just let me fix you an ad for next week's paper. There'll be no charges. I'll prove you're wrong."

"O. K.," said the merchant. "The job is yours."

The day the papers hit the street the store was swamped with people—all carrying carts of all sizes and descriptions. Some were scrawny and haggled. Others were purring and composed. But they were all cats, hundreds of them. The storekeeper was taken aback. He demanded a copy of the paper.

There was, all right, all right. It simply read: "WANTED: ALL CATS," and carried the signature of the store.

The point was proved. People do read the ads, and especially if the copy is such that it strikes a respondent note.

Look Who's In The Dog House

This Week's Meditation

By Lawrence E. Huston Jr. have more: circumscribed on the eighth day, of the people of Israel, of the tribe of Benjamin, A Hebrew born of Hebrews; as that the law of Pharaoh, as to zeal a persecutor of the church, as to righteousness under the law, blameless.

Paul held a perfect position in religion. According to Dr. Paul Reese, he had the pride of ancestry; "circumscribed on the eighth day." He was no Johnny-come-lately! He had a pride of orthodoxy: "as to the law a Pharisee." They were the custodians of the true and undiluted teachings of Moses! He had the pride of activity: "as to zeal a persecutor of the church."

People do read ads

When occasionally someone tells me that he is not sure anyone reads the ads in the paper, I am tempted to tell the story of the ingenious newspaper editor who convinced the small town merchant that such was contrary.

Having been turned down time and again by the merchant who told the editor that "nobody reads the ads in your paper anyway," the editor made a proposition.

"Just let me fix you an ad for next week's paper. There'll be no charges. I'll prove you're wrong."

"O. K.," said the merchant. "The job is yours."

The Editor's Uneasy Chair

WE'RE HOME from a one-day visit to the great city of Atlanta. We found ourselves on the Atlanta expressway, with no sign, no indication, no hints as to which direction we were going, where it was to lead us, or where we could get off. We couldn't see up high walls hemmed us in.

We continued along—there was nothing else to do. We couldn't turn around on the expressway. But we did so want to get back on Piedmont so we would proceed to the motel.

WE CONTINUED moving, seeking an exit. Presently, after several hundred yards, we saw what appeared to be an alley leading up into the back yard of some industry. There was a high chain fence there which promised us safety, if we could just make it. We turned right and found that the alley didn't go into the back yard of that building.

Oh, it was a welcome site. NOW—from the comfort of our Uneasy Chair, we suggest that someone in Atlanta could win the everlasting good will of the people of the state of Georgia if he would see that proper notice be posted on streets which are closed at construction points on the expressway. And please tell the kind the Girl Scouts to help us on 'Tag Day' for the school.

There will be a "Sweet Sale" on Sat. Sept. 26, from 9 a.m. to 12 noon in Mr. Harry Smith's store next to Minkovitz. All those donating sweets, please put a price on them and also a note telling the kind the Girl Scouts to help us on 'Tag Day' for the school.

It Seems to Me...

THIS IS ONE of those critical weeks in the news in which is found many items of interest about which one is urged to comment.

As I have stated to the readers of this column many times in the past one of my hardest problems in preparing this week's column is to decide on a final choice of subjects.

EVERYONE READING the news this week of course would be interested to at least comment on the Khrushchev visit to the United States. I personally have been one of the proponents for a long time of the idea of extending Mr. Khrushchev an invitation. It is my own belief that many of the problems of our world can be solved by these two world leaders.

THE INCREASE in juvenile crime last year, another whopping 8 plus per cent over 1957, causes every parent to clutch his throat in fear. I have been trying for several weeks to finish a column giving you my views on the problem but it has not been completed for next week's edition.

It all started to come to a head last week when our nurseryman friend stopped in after several days of absence.

But the nurseryman friend stopped by shortly to explain. It was then that I betrayed my own mutual friend.

Now, Honey, we decided that nobody with good sense would cut down two pretty oak trees like these," he informed me.

OF COURSE, I knew I shouldn't have left those two men together. The family friend was now just Pe's came out and said, "My friend has turned on me. You are running my yard. This bride ribbon bows. The tiered bride's cake was embellished with pale pink roses, valley lilies and Stephanotis, topped with a bride and groom. The cake was encircled with pink net ruffles. Garlands of plumsora fern extended from the cake to a silver bowl filled with white stock and carnations.

The punch bowl was placed on another satin covered table, banked with plumosa and white mums. Double wedding rings of white styrofoam, wreathed with valley lilies and silver and white ribbon, also decorated the table at the other end.

Mrs. V. M. Her of Savannah out the wedding cake, after the bride and groom cut the first slice.

When the couple left for a wedding trip to the Great Smokies, the bride was wearing a beige and brown cotton knit suit with a beige feather hat, beige gloves and brown lizard shoes and bag, and the orchid from her wedding bouquet.

Attending the wedding from Statesboro and Savannah were Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Joe Hollingsworth, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Futch, Miss Susanne Futch, Mrs. R. C. Anderson, Mrs. V. M.

BRIDE'S ATTENDANTS Mrs. Charlie Joe Hollingsworth of Savannah was matron of honor and Miss Linda NeSmith of Statesboro was maid of honor. Miss Rita Sanders of Savannah and Miss Annette Ross of Macon were bridesmaids and Miss Susanne Futch, sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid.

All were gowned alike in orchid and silk organza, fashioned with empire waists and full skirts. The bridesmaids wore white and pink, with the crowns outlined with seeds, pearls, shoes dyed to match their gowns and matching gloves. Each carried a cascade bouquet of purple Beauty asters with matching ribbons.

The bride's dress in marriage by her father, was lovely in a gown of lace and satin. The bodice of Florentine lace featured a scoop neck in front and lined in U-shaped in the back. The long sleeves ended in call points. The de laistre summer satin skirt featured panels of lace reaching the floor. Her tiered veil of illusion was caught to a tiara of seed pearls. She carried a white lace covered Bible centered with a white orchid, showered with rhinestones and tube roses.

The bride's mother wore a beige linen and lace dress with beige feather hat and matching accessories. Her carriage was of bronze cymbidium orchids. The groom's mother wore light blue lace over taffeta, a matching feather hat and shoes dyed to match. She wore a corsage of pink cymbidium orchids.

Mrs. R. C. Anderson, the bride's maternal grandmother of Savannah, wore a light blue lace dress, navy blue accessories, and a corsage of pink carnations.

RECEPTION Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Futch entertained at a reception in the social room of the church.

Mrs. Alvin Davis greeted the guests and presented them to Mr. and Mrs. Futch, Mr. and Mrs. Grady Bishop, the bride and groom, and the bride's attendants, who formed the receiving line front of an arrangement of emerald palms and white gladioli.

The bride's table was overlaid with a white satin cloth, caught at the corners with clusters of frosted wedding bells and feeling of sumptuousness and luxury never before attained by any car in its field. There is great V8 power linked with new light, plus Chevrolet's superb flywheel engine. It is a traditional car that comes even closer to perfection—in silence, in room, in ease of control, in volute ride—than any other car we have ever made.

The other is the Corvair, a compact car that is astonishingly different from anything ever built in this country. It has to be—because this is a six-passenger compact car, with a really basic advantage resulting from this engine location are better traction on a compact 108-inch wheelbase and a practically flat floor. But to be placed in the rear, the engine had to be ultra light and ultra short. So Corvair's engine is totally new—mostly aluminum and air cooled; it weighs about 40 per cent less than conventional engines. It is a "flat" horizontally opposed six—so it is only three cylinders long . . . and that leaves a lot more room for passengers.

Another weight saving: like modern airplanes, the Corvair has no frame; the body-shell supplies its great structural strength . . . it's a welded unit that is virtually rattle-free.

The ride is fantastic. But to get it we had to design independent suspension at every wheel; conventional springing would give a compact car a choppy ride. Right now we'll make one prediction: no other U.S. compact car will ride so comfortably, hold the road so firmly and handle so beautifully.

Now there are two kinds of cars from Chevrolet—because it takes two kinds of cars to serve America's needs today. If you love luxury—the utmost in luxury—and if you want generous interior space, breath-taking performance, automatic drives and power assists—then the conventional '60 Chevrolet may be your choice.

If easy parking, traffic agility and utmost economy are high on your list—then you should seriously consider the Corvair. But the best thing to do is to look these two new cars over at your Chevrolet dealer's . . . take them out for a drive. It may be that your logical choice for your family between two cars like this is—both. They make a perfect pair.

Why we built two cars for 1960 . . . as different as night and day. On October 2—for the first time in Chevrolet's 49-year history—you will be able to walk into your dealer's showroom and see two totally different kinds of cars. One is the conventional 1960 Chevrolet, brand new in appearance and more beautifully refined and luxurious than you can imagine. The other is unlike any car we or anybody else ever built—the revolutionary Corvair, with the engine in the rear where it belongs in a compact car. We'd like to tell you why we built two such different cars, how we built them—and for whom we built them.

Three Great

Woman's club has first fall meeting

By Mrs. Edna Hoefel

The first fall meeting of the Senior Women's Club was held in the Recreation Center, Mrs. W. Ellis gave the concert and led the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag. The Georgia Song was sung, accompanied by Mrs. Georgia Brett.

Mrs. Jake Smith, who presided in Mrs. J. E. Bowen Jr.'s stead, introduced the new members and visitors. She announced that the programs were all lined up for the coming year, and the pages with the information could be obtained to clip into last year's Year Books.

There will be a Sweet Sale on Saturday Sept. 26 in the Old Maxwell Store next to Minkovitz, from 9 a. m. to 12 noon. Those donating sweets are asked to please put a price on them and a label, telling the kind. The boys' new dormitory at Tallulah Falls School will be the recipient of the receipts of the sale.

October will be Tallulah Falls School month, and we are planning a trip there on the 13th and 14th in a 39 passenger bus. If there are 39 passengers, it will cost $6.92 per person for a round trip. There will be accommodations for one night at the Lakeside Motel at $3.50. We will return on the 14th. It should be beautiful in the mountains in October, and everyone is urged to take advantage of the trip. The bus will start from Statesboro.

October 24 will be Tag Day for Tallulah, and we are asking the Girl Scouts to assist us in the campaign. Mrs. Edna Hoefel then gave a report on the Club Institute held at Tallulah Falls, and Mrs. Percy Bland reported on the Flower Show School which is to be held in Statesboro Sept. 29, 30, and Oct. 1.

MISS FRANCES RACKLEY HOSTESS AT BRIDESMAIDS LUNCHEON

On Saturday, September 15, Miss Frances Rackley was hostess at a lovely luncheon honor in Miss Reta Parker and her attendants at Mrs. Bryant Kitchin.

The table was centered with an arrangement of pink gladioli and white mums. Places were laid for Miss Parker, her mother, Mrs. J. L. Parker; Miss Marilyn Perkins, Betty Jo Branigan, Miriam McLain, Louise McClain, Linda Nesmith, and Linda Powell.

A four course luncheon was served.

There is a cash award of $50 in an essay contest on Conservation for 8th and 9th grade children. Besides this, there are numerous other activities which we can do. One of them is to try to prevent littering the highways or the city streets. Ninety millions dollars are spent each year in the United States to remove litter from the highways. 750 to 1000 people are killed each year as a result of litter.

120 Days Around the World on The Flying Hawk...

BY GUY H. WELLS, STATESBORO, GEORGIA

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is one of a series of accounts written by Guy Wells of Statesboro about the trip he and Mrs. Wells made around the world aboard the freighter "The Flying Hawk." They left the U. S. on February 26, 1959 and returned July 7, 1959.

Deal Leddel: This will have to be a brief story to get mailed before we sail for San Francisco. We are to be on ship in about an hour, and Ouida is afraid they will pull up the gangplank and leave us in Japan. I think she would try to swim to the ship if it left us.

But we have greatly enjoyed our stay of eight days in Japan. We really like Japan best of all the countries visited. Everything is so clean, and the people are all working and well dressed. You see no beggars. The trains are streamlined and of stainless steel. They run on the minute. The country is beautiful to ride through with many mountains and beautiful valleys. Much of the land is in cultivation, even the mountains have nut trees and fruit trees planted on them.

The children are just out of school and all are taking tours. We see thousands upon thousands at every shrine or temple. They all wear uniforms of blue and look very attractive and happy.

The school system in Japan is modeled after American systems, six elementary grades, three junior high, three senior high and four college years. The first six and three junior high years are compulsory. Japan has also many colleges and universities, which account for their efficiency, and progress. The country has the lowest rate of illiteracy in the world. Only one per cent of the population.

Another reason we like the people is their politeness and good manners. You have to come to Japan to learn genuine politeness. They all bow two or three times when telling you goodbye. Their voices are gentle and modulated. We have not met a single person who would accept a tip of money.

All the streets are kept clean and free of paper and other waste. The buildings are well constructed and very clean. You see very few signs of the terrible bombing of the last war. New buildings have been erected, or grass planted over the spots. All the streets are lined with beautiful shade trees and shrubbery. Most of the streets have Ginkgo trees planted on them. This is said to be the most perfectly architected trees in the world.

MRS. LEROY COWART'S BROTHER DIES OF HEART ATTACK THURS, SEPT. 11

Dr. H. Perry Rackley optimistic for 34 years at Thomasville, Ga., died Thursday night, September 11, following a heart attack.

He is survived by his wife, the former Miss Rhaye Lindsey of Thomasville, two daughters, Mrs. Dewey Overton and Mrs. Asa Candler, of Atlanta; two sisters, Mrs. George W. Mays of Miller, and Mrs. Leroy Cowart to Statesboro.

Burial was in the Thomasville cemetery, Lt. Col. and Mrs. Leroy Cowart and Mr. and Mrs. George Mays of Miller attended the funeral.

The things I have enjoyed most about Japan are the flowers and gardens. The most beautiful gardens in the world are found here, and every house has shrubs and flowers around it. Many of our American shrubs and trees are natives of this country: nandiva, mimosa, ginkgo and hundreds of others. The azaleas are still blooming and are almost everywhere. Flower arrangement is taught in the schools.

Well, this could go on for a long time, but I must run for the post office before the ship sails. We will be next in California in twelve days.

Scale insects are often serious pest to ornamental plants here

By Roy Powell
County Agent

Scale insects are often serious pests of ornamental plants. Mealybugs, wax scales, and cottony scale are members of this type of insect. Some infest the foliage of plants, some attack the twigs and branches, while others are found doing to both foliage and branches.

These insects injure plants by sucking the juices from branches, twigs, or foliage. Infested plants are unhealthy and make little growth, their foliage may fade and drop early, and branches may die.

The eggs of scale insects hatch in one to three weeks into tiny crawlers. These active crawlers move about readily in search of tender new growth. When a suitable spot is found, they insert their mouthparts and settle down. In the case of most female scales, they remain in this spot the rest of their lives.

Malathion sprays containing one tablespoon of the liquid (emulsifiable) concentrate of four tablespoons of the 25 percent wettable powder per gallon of water will control most scales and mealybugs. Care should be taken to get thorough coverage of parts of the plants.

Bulloch shares in funds to get rid of beetle

Bulloch county is one of eight counties in Southeast Georgia to share in $50,000 to be spent this fiscal year on eradication of the pesky whitening beetle in twenty-three Georgia counties.

Governor Ernest Vandiver made the announcement Thursday of last week after being advised by the State Agriculture Department of a need to switch from a program of "control" to one of "eradication."

Phil Campbell, Commissioner of Agriculture, and W. E. Blasingame, state entomologist, reported that unless some action is taken Georgia farmers could eventually lose $60,000,000 annually in crop damage.

The "control" program cost the state federal governments and individuals $2,000,000 from 1950 through 1960. The entomology department reports that the state's $50,000 for "eradication" will be added to $50,000 more from the federal government.

It was explained that the counties to be treated are not necessarily the ones with the worst infection. They are mainly the ones on the edges of the infested areas. The purpose is to prevent spread to new areas.

The entomology department reported a total of eighty-three infested counties. The bug destroys most vegetables and cotton. As many as 250 adult beetles have been collected from a single cotton plant.

The pest a native of South America was first found in the United States in 1936. Since then it has spread from Florida to Mississippi North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee and New Jersey.

More than 155 members of the Farm Bureau from seventeen counties attended a meeting at Mrs. Bryant's Kitchen on Tuesday night of this week to make plans for the annual one-day membership drive scheduled for September 29 and to hear Congressman Prince Preston.

Georgia Farm Bureau President, John Duncan, presided. Expecting about 100 at the meeting Mrs. Bryant's Kitchen was filled to overflowing as a surprising attendance turned out.

Ray Johnson, a graduate of 1959, is attending Furman. He has been awarded a four-year scholarship for full tuition and maintenance.

The majority of the Portal High School teachers were engaged in furthering their education this past summer. Mr. John Godbee received his M. A.

SOIL CONSERVATION

BY E. T. "RED" MULLIS
Soil Conservation Service

Mr. J. T. McAllister, Conservation Equipment Engineer with the Soil Conservation Service, and "Father of Much Farming," was in the county last week looking at our much planted soybeans.

I took him to see several plantings made by cooperators of the Ogeechee River Soil Conservation District. Among them were Henry S. Blitch in the Westside Community; Frank Proctor in the Ogeechee Community; Shaw Brothers, John McCormick, John Cromley, William Cromley and John Rushing.

This brief study was quite revealing. On Mr. Blitch's farm we saw very good soybeans—above the average and clean because of his ingenuity in cultivation. We also found worm and beetle damage which Mr. Blitch quickly checked by spraying. He said they came so quickly that almost took him overnight. We also found root knot nematode damage where soybeans followed soybeans.

On Mr. Proctor's farm we saw some mighty good soybeans and some pretty wacky where soybeans followed soybeans (all much planted). But Mr. Proctor showed us something of great importance. Where he had much planted soybeans last year followed by cotton and corn. Some of this is side by side and anyone can just look and see the tremendous difference.

Unseasonal rainy weather around Brooklet caused severe weed competition for much planted soybeans of Shaw Brothers, Mr. McCormick, John and William Cromley and John Rushing. Several of these co-operators were also too late spraying for worm and beetle control and their soybeans have "gaten up." John Cromley and John Rushing caught most of their beans in time and saved their crop.

NOW... '60 CHEVROLET TRUCKS

WITH REVOLUTIONARY TORSION-SPRING SUSPENSION THAT GIVES ASTONISHING NEW SHOCKPROOF ACTION!!!!

Chevy's done the next best thing to paving every road in America!

First they threw out the front axle and put in torsion-spring independent suspension. Then they built wide-base coil rear springs into most light-duty models, variable-rate leaf springs into heavies. That made it—ride you have to feel to believe. A ride that lets you move faster to get more work done in a day's time.

Bravier bulldozer build!

Frames are stronger, cabs 67% more rigid. Front wheels and tires are precision-balanced. And that new suspension cushions jars and road shock that used to spell slow death for the truck's body and sheet metal.

More comfortable cabs!

Easier to hop in and out of, too. Many models are a whole 7 inches lower outside. Yet, there's more head room inside, plus more width for shoulders and hips. More real comfort!

Big in the power department!

With the industry's most advanced gas-saving 6's. With high-torque Workmaster V8 performance in heavyweights. With new 6-cylinder or V8 power available in L.C.F.'s.

More models than ever!

New 4-wheel-drive models and tandems and high-styled Suburban Carryalls. It's the handsomest, hardest-working Chevy fleet ever to report for duty. See your dealer soon for a ride!

Anything less is an old-fashioned truck!
