U. S. 301 Association takes positive action

The U. S. Highway 301 Association, of which The Statesboro and Bulloch County Chamber of Commerce is a member, lowered the boom on the business of emulating the practice of trapping tourists under the canopy of law enforcement along U. S. 301 and other principal tourist routes in Southeast Georgia.

The association is made up of those people along this heavily traveled route whose business is to provide desirable services for the traveling public.

They have been having a hard time in isolated sections of the state which have been giving the tourist business of the entire state a bad name.

They pin their troubles on the fee system under which persons exploit their positions of public trust and the badge of law to prey on those tourists who use the highways of our state.

The Association, meeting in Jesup on Tuesday of last week, adopted a twenty-point resolution calling for a massive assault on those who have given Georgia a black name in the tourists book.

Let's not forget our market's pioneer

Back in the late 1920's there was a lot of time, effort, and money expended by many citizens of Statesboro and Bulloch County to establish a market here to provide farmers a facility for selling their tobacco, a crop which has become, to this section, one of its most important sources of income.

Success came and the work of those men was applauded by one and all.

The market grew steadily, attracting the tobacco farmers from South Carolina across the Savannah River. Their tobacco helped the Statesboro market secure a second set of tobacco buyers and this market here grew into the major market in the state.

And now a chain of events, which began back in January with the Georgia General Assembly passing a law requiring the identifying of South Carolina tobacco with a blue tag and Georgia tobacco with a white tag, may end with Statesboro become a second-rate tobacco market.

Have those among us who would see this happen forgotten those pioneers who gave so much of themselves to establish the foundation for the greatest tobacco market in the state?

We hope not.

Be sure your dog's mad before killing it

Just because your dog has bitten someone does not necessarily mean that he is mad and has to be killed then and there.

Dr. Chas. T. Brown, director of the Bulloch County Health Department and medical director of Health District Seven, urges dog owners to notify the health department, the police department or a veterinarian in any case of suspicious dog or cat bites.

In case of strays, notify the police immediately and watch the dog until the animal is picked up. It is confusing and often impossible to determine whether or not an animal has rabies if the animal is killed before symptoms

The resolution calls for an end to secret trapping in Georgia; it advocates legislation to abolish the fee system; it calls for supplementing sheriff's salaries; it calls for an audit and published information on fines and bond forfeitures by counties; it calls for a broadening of gubernatorial powers to make sheriffs enforce the law; it calls for the state to increase the number of troopers on the highways; and raising their salaries along with other state officials and schoolteachers.

Georgians generally will approve of the action of the U. S. 301 Association. They are aware of the impact that the tourist dollar makes in the state. Yet there exists these hard core centers where Georgia's visitors are harassed, mistreated and cheated under the guise of law and in the name of safety.

We're glad to see the 301 group take such a positive stand and hope that the people of the state join them to help present Georgia to the nation as a state which extends a cordial welcome to those who would be its visitors while traveling.

Invest in our future today

Have you mailed in your membership fees for the Statesboro and Bulloch County Chamber of Commerce? If not, tie a string 'round your finger to do that immediately.

The Chamber of Commerce is entering into one of its most ambitious programs and will be needing the complete and unstinted support of every business firm, every professional man and woman in the community.

Membership now in the Chamber of Commerce is more than being just a member of a business organization. It is a participating investment in the present and future of Statesboro and Bulloch County.

Crime and rackets low in Bulloch

"Despite remarkable progress in the science of crime detection and the best efforts of law enforcement, the crime problem in our county continues to grow at an alarming rate," Walton Usher, Solicitor General of the Ogeechee Judicial Circuit and unopposed candidate for judge of the circuit, told members of the Statesboro Rotary Club on Monday of this week.

He then told the Rotarians that one of their important tasks is to keep Bulloch County free of criminals and racketeers. He assured them that they have a firm foundation upon which to build for he reported that we do not have an excessive amount of crime and no racketeering in this county.

It's a challenge to all in our community to keep it that way. Mr. Usher commended the local law enforcement agencies and gave them a great deal of the credit for keeping the order in our county.

THE FLYING TRAPEZE

By LAWRENCE E. HOUSTON JR.

I was severely shocked one morning during college chapel to hear the president of the institution admit that he was preaching someone else's sermon. A few years experience has proved him right, and opened my eyes to this fact: If you hear something good; if you read something worthwhile, then share it with others. This I am doing today.

SEVERAL YEARS AGO, my newspaper-clipping utility mailed me an article from the Birmingham, Alabama, Post Herald. The editor of the article was Mrs. Walter Ferguson, but she too was quoting someone else. He was a young man of twenty-three and this is what he had to say:

"I was surprised to read so naive a statement from you as this: 'I am convinced that some of the troubles of our time stem from the fact that so many professing Christians do not follow the teachings of Jesus.' Surely you are not just discovering that... my generation found it out at school. In fact, it is the awareness of this hypocrisy which makes doubters of us. Perhaps at five we are lazily aware of the discrepancy between Sunday School and the everyday school of life. But our mothers and fathers, our preachers and priests, believe we want a bit of straight-laced morality while we are growing up. True enough! But we are taught that traditional religion is the only source of morality. It is very difficult for the intelligent adolescent to abide religion as we know it, so when he sloughs it off, he is apt to slough off morality too. He can't see Jesus for Christians. Now, Mrs. Ferguson continues: 'NOW WHAT CAN an adult say to these charges except, (I am guilty.) One knows so many good men and women who work ardently to instill Christian ethics into the young of their denominations. We admire and respect their zeal and loyalty to what is permanent and right to them. And today we see a vast surge of piety in the land. Americans are joining churches in droves. All this is good. But how do we account to the young for the terrible evils which exist in the cities where our most magnificent spires the sky? How explain a condition which permits brothels and churches to stand on the same street? How apologize for the church-going individuals who make money in the service of vice, and the pious politicians who cover up their sins under a religious cloak? Why doesn't our piety carry over in a more marked fashion into business, social, and political life? IT DOES! To a certain extent, of course. All politicians are not demagogues, all businessmen are not profiteers, and all churchmen are not hypocrites. Yet, there are still enough of the two-faced professing brethren around to justify the words, 'I can't see Jesus for the Christians.'"

AA helps those who come seeking help

By Dr. John Mooney

IN HELPING an alcoholic to sobriety the single most important factor is LOVE. During the early stages of recovery this love must come from the family as the alcoholic is so self-centered that he is probably not able to feel love for others.

Later the capacity for love develops and becomes the major factor in the perpetuation of sobriety. This does not come easily or often quickly. But it will come if the alcoholic places his sobriety above all other things and works at it as earnestly as he labored to keep his sobriety empty.

A minister writing in "Inventory" gave this excellent advice to the alcoholic: "PERHAPS the essential factor we are dealing with in sobriety is the matter of finding the ability to love and be loved. One of the characteristics of the alcoholic is the inability to love and to be loved. Unfortunately, many think the difficulty here lies in the fact that the alcoholic loves self too much to love others, but this is precisely what he cannot and does not do. The alcoholic cannot love his neighbor because he cannot love or accept himself. Here again we must enter the real realm of religion and accept the fact that no matter what has happened in the past love must be accepted and returned, if the human heart is to be healed. 'Yes accepting or giving love means willingness to accept help. It may mean a complete change of life or it may mean a little change. For some persons sobriety and accepting love change little of the routine of "THE BUTTRAM BONUS" In just a few weeks a great many young men and women are going off to college. Eventually they'll get diplomas entitling them to step into places in the world of work. For today's Buttram Bonus I'd like to point out some things I'd tell my child if he or she were going to college next month. Naturally I'd tell him - or her - that college isn't a place that gives out learning. It's a place where you go to get it. It's like a drinking fountain - not much good to a fellow who isn't thirsty.

I'd tell my son - or my daughter - that for eighteen years his mother and I have tried to bring him or her to this point in his or her life in health, in sound mind, and in clean heart. These are the weapons they have to challenge life; and college is the first great challenge. He will find some things - and some classrooms - will challenge the principles which we tried to give him. He will associate with other students, from other environments, who place their emphasis on other principles. His faith will be challenged in a hundred ways.

I would tell my son - or my daughter - that the success with which he meets these extra-curricular college challenges may count far more, when the race is a run, and the A's or B's he may get in the classroom... I will tell him - or her - that if he or she comes out of college a better man - a better woman - then it has been well worth their four years - and our eight years... —GSC Alumni Bulletin

SITTING UP HERE in my office on this Sunday night there are many thoughts which go charging through my mind. This has been a beautiful summer day and I have absorbed it to the fullness.

The early morning hours were used to enjoy the stillness which comes with the dawn and while others slept I had the privilege of looking up the paper at the sun which always seem to fill me with the strength needed for a new day and another beginning.

"This is my chance," I say to myself. And many times I think of the words once spoken by a great American writer who had occasion to begin anew. As I stand there in the newness of the day and walk around among the latters and the fallures of yesterday the words of Thomas Edison come to me. Words which he spoke as he stood in the ruins of his laboratory which had just been destroyed by fire. Gone were years of hard work and accomplishment. Gone were copies of new creations not yet given to the world. Gone was the price of a great collection of his notes and work, compiled over the years with painstaking effort. As his son stumbled up to him among the still smoking ashes, expecting them to be filled with despairing through my mind. This said: "Oh Thank God, all the mistakes of yesterday are now gone forever, and I can begin again anew."

LEAVING THE FAMILY sleeping I left the quietness of the neighborhood and went to my favorite place for breakfast. Picking up the paper as I entered it was with a feeling of much contentment that I settled down to my cup of coffee and the news of the day. Somehow it is easier to understand and appreciate the news when one sees it during the early part of the day.

Returning home to our comfortable back yard and with things still quiet I settled down to complete the preparation of my Sunday school lesson to be presented a few hours away.

Then came the joy of the children as they, one at the time, returned with the enthusiasm as only they can express it tumbled out ready to meet every challenge of the day. How strange it is that they always seem to awaken in the same order. The youngest, then the next, the next and the next.

THEN THE WONDERFUL, busy, active afternoon hours stretched before us and so to the swimming pool we journeyed to play and relax and enjoy continued on page 5

Last week we went poetic over a tomato bush in the front yard at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Thompson on College Boulevard. We fumbled the thing and could not come up with the last two lines. This week we have an assist from Albert Quattlebaum, editor and publisher of the Pike County Journal. Albert finished it this way. (The cap lines are his) We thought we'd never see a tomato bush as big as a tree. Now we learn we were wrong. For we've seen one as big and strong

Yes, we admit that last line of Albert's seems sorta stamped in, and Albert admits it too, with this notation in his transmittal letter: "Of course the last line hasn't a thing to do with the rest of the poem, but smarter folks than you and I have slipped out of difficult spots by changing the subject."

And how right Albert is.

Peanut harvesting now well underway

By ROY POWELL, County Agent

PEANUT HARVEST

Peanut harvest is now well under way, and many of you are probably about ready to dry peanuts. In this last stage of harvest, there are certain do's and don'ts to follow for maintaining quality peanuts.

Peanuts should be artificially dried to an average moisture content of 8 1/2 percent. Air temperature for drying should not exceed 100 degrees F. Drying peanuts too rapidly and at temperatures exceeding 100 degrees F may adversely affect flavor of peanuts when processed, make them subject to breakage when shelled, and reduce their germination.

If peanuts are dried in bulk by use of one-way heated air system, they should not be placed in depths greater than 4 feet. No portion of a lot of peanuts should be dried either in windrows, or by artificial means, to below 7 percent moisture content (wet basis). Damage in shelling, such as seedcoat slippage, also appears to be associated with drying peanuts too long at a moisture content even though moisture is higher at time of shelling.

TALL BARK COTTON

Farmers who have tall bark cotton may find it helpful to use a defoliant. This is particularly true where mechanical picking is to be done, or where boll rot is beginning to give trouble.

Defoliation has several benefits.

It reduces boll rot allowing sunlight to penetrate and air to circulate among plants.

It hastens opening of bolls, thus permitting earlier harvesting.

Picking becomes easier, whether by hand or machine.

By reducing trash and leaf content of machine-picked cotton, it helps produce better grades.

A number of defoliants will do a good job. Calcium cyanamide, special grade in the dust used most. Liquids that did a good job last year are Folax, DEF and Shd-a-leaf.

LEAN HOG RESEARCH

Corn-cob ratios may be in the future for hogs. Preliminary results of a recent state-USDA experiment showed that pigs fed corn-cob meal as the source of fiber did unusually well.

Researchers say that if the level of fiber in succeeding experiments proves to be more important than the source, then ratios based on corn-cob meal should be used to improve both carcass quality and economy of production.

In the test, 42 weaning pigs were divided into six groups, one on each of five fiber sources, one on corn-cob meal—and one on the original ration.

The researchers say that the animals on corn-cob meal did surprisingly well on all counts. They gained 129 pounds of live weight and averaged 430 pounds of feed per pound of gain for a feed cost of $10.15 per 100 pounds of gain.

Most important, these pigs yielded more lean cuts—54.65 percent—than any of the other animals.

The highest gaining pigs were the ones on the high-energy corn diet. Feed costs were up, though, averaging $10.52 per 100 pounds of gain. Yields of lean cuts averaged only $1.20 per bushel.

4-H BEEF CALVES NOW

The time for selecting and purchasing beef calves to be shown in the 1961 Fat Stock Show is now.

During this month and next livestock breeders will be putting the 1960 calf crop on the market. Once this calf crop is disposed of, the quantity and quality of feeder calves drop considerably. So, to get in on the largest choice of feeder calves now is the time to do so.

In selecting a steer that is suitable for show purposes, there are a few points you should keep in mind: the animal should be of beef type, have a medium length of body, a deep side, wide across the back and loin, and standing on fairly short legs. The calf should be grown and healthy.

In case calves suitable for the show cannot be purchased locally, there are two Feeder Calf sales near by. One will be held at the Wilkes County Stockyard, Washington, Georgia, on August 23, and one September 1, at the Farmers Stockyard in Sylvan, Ga. Sale time is 1:30 P. M.

It is important that the calves be put on feed as soon as possible. The exact date for the 1961 show has not been set, but the show will be held late in March.

JANE SMITH NAMED ASSISTANT HD AGENT IN LAURENS COUNTY

Miss Jane Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith has been named assistant home demonstration agent for Laurens county and assumed her duties on July 16. District Agent Frank Shurling announced recently.

This is the first time a permanent assistant agent has been named for Laurens county, but because of the need Miss Smith was added, Mr. Shurling said.

She graduated from Georgia Southern College in June.

It is profitable to know tax laws pertaining to timber. Most farmers pay more taxes than necessary on timber they sell, declares B. R. Murray, Extension forester.

Hunters get new shooting rules this year

The Georgia Game and Fish Commission said today dove hunters will be permitted to shoot over freshly plowed fields this fall.

Director Fulton Lovell of the commission said he received official notification of the change from the Fish and Wildlife Service of the U. S. Department of Interior.

"This will make it easier to enforce the law and at the same time provide better hunting for Georgia sportsmen," Lovell said. "During the past few years a great number of arrests resulted from hunters shooting doves over a freshly sown field."

Under the new regulation, shooting over fields that have just been sown will not constitute a violation of the migratory bird regulations.

The federal agency said the change is to "clarify the basic waterfowl regulations for the 1960-61 season."

This is the first time the Fish and Wildlife Service has permitted shooting over a freshly sown field. In the past, federal regulations have permitted shooting only over fields in which the natural harvesting of seed crops attracted birds, but not over fields that had the same effect by planting.

The change inserted into the Department of Interior to make the change at a meeting held in Washington, June 27th.

Lovell is president of the Association and played a big part in bringing about the change in the regulation.

Wheat quotas for 1961 about same as 1960

The 1961 Crop of Wheat will have marketing quotas in effect with marketing much the same as it is this year, according to the State ASC Office.

The nation's 39 commercial wheat states held a wheat referendum on July 21 and growers voted in favor of having wheat marketing quotas. Georgia's vote was 98 per cent in favor of the quotas.

The farmer who complies with his 1961 acreage allotment will be able to market all the wheat he produces without penalty and be eligible for price support at a minimum of $1.78 per bushel.

The farmer who exceeds his allotment will not be eligible for price support. Any farmer not taking part in the feed wheat program who produces more than 15 acres of wheat and exceeds his acreage allotment will be subject to a penalty on each bushel of excess wheat, according to the ASC office.

MOWING PEANUT VINES

Mowing off tops of peanut vines facilitates uniform windrow drying and increases overall harvesting efficiency. This practice is most effective if accomplished two to four (but not more) days before digging, says J. Frank McGill, Extension agronomist.

Few trucks are subjected to the body-seaking beatings that are part of a day's work for this Chevrolet Series 60 pulpwood hauler. It's owned by J. E. Fox, North Carolina logging contractor. As Bobby Fox, a partner in the business says, "Loaded with pulpwood, we drive over stumps and potholes you'd think would tear the truck to pieces. These trails would shake the cab off an ordinary truck, but not our Chevy. We can average an extra load a day... make $45 to $50 a day more with this Chevy than we can with the others."

In every weight class these Chevs are doing more work at less expense than trucks have ever done before. Drive one at your Chevrolet dealer's. It's an experience that could pay you big dividends.

"That 6-cylinder engine really performs," says Bobby Fox. "It's got the biggest power we need in the woods and holds right along with a full load on the highway."

Lots of tobacco to be harvested yet

Tobacco harvesting is still going on in this section. There will be a good number of farmers that will be picking tobacco this week. Some will finish, while others may still have another picking left in the field after this week.

Most farmers have complained about poor stands of tobacco, some estimate three quarters or two thirds of a stand, but the quality of the tobacco is good from a general standpoint.

There has been no problem about getting tobacco on the floor, at the warehouse. The long here was late, and wonder if everyone will get their tobacco cured and on the market before the market closes? The folks who were lucky enough to get out tobacco early may be about finished while late setters are still going strong. Someone said that the tobacco went up around Claxton has about half the weed yet to pick, or it would look that way to someone riding by the tobacco patches.

Garry Morris is on the sick list this week. We wish him a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Kennedy and Mrs. Jack Thompson of Savannah visited Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Morris and family last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Shurling and Rickey and Harry Shurling and Miss Janie Mae Shurling and Mrs. Fannie E. Cobbs, and Charles Dixon were spend-the-day guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lavern Sanders at Avondale, last Sunday. Harry Shurling, H. N. Shurling Lavern Sanders, Ricky Shurling, Charles Dixon and Miss Janie Mae Shurling, Miss Carol Morrison went to see the Go-Cart races in the afternoon.

1. That the Association initiate a campaign for a massive reformation in the attitude of the citizens of the state of Georgia and particularly the law enforcement officers in regard to the tourist traffic.
2. That the Association enlist the support of the press, both local and statewide, to appraise the citizens of the state of the possibilities of the tourist industry, and the shocking conditions which adversely affect the industry and are prevalent in some sections of the state.
3. That the Association enlist the support of all other trade and professional groups in the state of Georgia who are interested in promoting the tourist industry within our state.
4. That we endorse and advocate the establishment of a constitutional Highway Board composed of a member elected by the voters from each congressional district with a chairman elected by the voters from the state at large.
5. That we endorse and advocate legislation to abolish the fee system of compensation for law enforcement officers and officers of the courts.
6. That we endorse and recommend legislation directing the state of Georgia to supplement the salaries of all sheriffs of the state in the sum of $200.00 per month.
7. That the Association obtain figures on the amount of fines and bonds forfeitures paid by out-of-state tourists to local law enforcement officers and the distribution and disposition of such money, and that this information be published in the press.
8. That we endorse and support legislation requiring an annual audit of fines and bond forfeitures collected in all counties, whether the sheriffs are on fee or salary, and that this audit be published in the local gazette of each county.
9. That steps be taken to remove the uniform division of the State Patrol from the political pressure of the sheriffs of the various counties and that the number of uniformed officers of the Georgia State Patrol be doubled.
10. That we solicit the support of the governor and lieutenant governor on all legislation recommended by the Association.
11. That an adequate number of State Troopers be assigned to patrol the heavily traveled tourist routes.
12. That all law enforcement officers be required to wear uniforms while working automobile traffic and that cars used in such work be marked uniformly.
13. That the state of Georgia receive 20 per cent of the fines and bond forfeitures paid by motorists on cases or arrests made by the Georgia State Patrol.
14. That we solicit and encourage the press to publish well-founded complaints of tourists who have suffered mistreatment at the hands of local law enforcement officers, to make the public more cognizant of the condition which exists in several Georgia counties.
15. That the Association support legislation which will give the governor of Georgia broader powers toward requiring sheriffs to enforce the laws of the state of Georgia.
16. That the Association endorse and support House Resolution No. 394-905 regarding compensation for the members of the General Assembly.

BROOKLET—Plans are announced for the wedding of Miss Betty Frances Ward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Ward of Brooklet, and William Walter Waine of Savannah, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Homewood of Richmond Hill. The marriage will take place August 28, at four o'clock, in the Aldersgate Methodist Church, Savannah.

Miss Richardson weds Mr. Fulmer in home ceremony
Miss Janie Lou Richardson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard L. Atwell, became the bride of Gaspard Calhoun Fulmer Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Fulmer Sr., in a candlelight ceremony at the home of the bride on Saturday, August 13, at 6:30 with Elder T. Roe Scott officiating at the double ring ceremony, followed by prayer by Mr. C. C. Fulmer, Mrs. Gene Burgamy of Atlanta presented the wedding music.
White gladioli, white asters and mums, against a background of woodvardia fern with tree candelabra holding burning white tapers, decorated the bridal area. Ribbons were pulled by Cindy Brannen and Janice Brannen to form an aisle for the bride and her attendants.
The bride, a lovely brunette, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of pure silk organza enhanced by handclipped chantilly lace fashioned with a Sabrina neckline and basque waist. The back was highlighted by a cascade of alternate layers of lace and silk organza, falling into a chapel sweep. Her full circular veil of pure silk organza was attached to a half hat fashioned by imported hand-clipped chantilly lace, outlined with small pearls. She carried a white satin covered bible topped with a white orchid showered with white tuberoses.
Mrs. Brannen Richardson, sister-in-law of the bride and only attendant, was gowned in a hyacinth blue pure silk organza with circlet neckline and draped bodice. The skirt featured folds in tiered effect. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink carnations.
G. C. Fulmer Sr., was his son's best man. Ushers were Emerson Brannen and Brannen Richardson of Jacksonville, Fla., brother of the bride.
Mrs. Atwell chose for her daughter's wedding a mauve silk faille with a square neck line, with cummerbund and side drape accented by a matching bow. Her corsage was a purple orchid.

The mother of the groom wore light blue organza over taffeta and a purple orchid corsage.
Following the ceremony, the parents of the bride entertained with a reception at which time many friends and relatives joined the wedding party. The guests were met at the door by Mrs. A. L. Waller, Mrs. R. L. Winburn introduced them to bride and groom and their parents and the honor attendant.
Mrs. LeRoy Shively directed guests to the dining room where they were served punch, nuts, mints and the lovely wedding cake cut by Mrs. Floyd Brannen. Mrs. D. P. Waters and Mrs. Raleigh mingled with the guests. Miss Ann Fulmer presided at the bride's book.
Mrs. Homer Cason, Mrs. Dorris Cason and Mrs. Naughton Caskey were assisted in serving by Mrs. Gordon Franklin, Mrs. Gene Hodges, Mrs. Jimmy DeLoach, Mrs. George Hagins Jr., Miss Armiel Reeves and Miss Linda Nemith.
Miss Irene Groover furnished lovely background music.
Mrs. Penon Kim was at the door as guests departed.
When Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Fulmer Jr. left for their wedding trip, the bride was wearing a stunning stone-grey silk and rayon costume suit. The bodice was beautifully draped with matching silk chiffon with fitted midriff and front bow. The jacket was fitted and the skirt a slender sheath. Her corsage combined grey luster shoes with matching bag and gloves. Her hat was ruby red and she wore the white orchid from her wedding bouquet.

Baseball at the Recreation Center

The baseball season has just been completed in our program at the Recreation Center and the plunking has been taken out of the storage trunks for loosening up purposes.

A recap of the summer sports program at the Recreation Center shows that the sports and competition has been the best in the history of the Department. The Statesboro teams have won every district tournament in which they entered this year, with the exception of the American Legion Baseball Team and they placed second to the Savannah team that won the District title and also the State title.

At the beginning of the summer track team, made up of 9, 10, 11, 12, and 13 year old boys, competed in the First District track meet in Savannah and brought home the Championship. Three weeks ago the swim team stood off all competition here at the Swim Center to take the swim title in Savannah, the 1959 champions.

Two weeks ago the Pony League baseball team won the district championship for the third consecutive year and last Thursday, August 11, the Little League All-Stars overpowered all opponents in the District tournament to capture the Little League Championship. This closes out our big summer sports program with an exceptionally fine record.

Now that baseball is over and the football season just around the corner, the midge football can be seen loosening up for the beginning of football practice.

The Midget Varsity is composed of 12 and 13 year old boys who will begin practice Monday night, August 22, at 7:30 P. M. The first practice session will be under the lights at Memorial Park Stadium. This will also be a registration session when boys from any where in Bulloch County between the ages of 12 and 13 and within the weight limit of 80 pounds to 115 pounds may play on

Tracy Rivers of GSC to play in East-West series

Tracy Rivers, Georgia Southern College's righthanded pitcher from Omega, has been invited to play for the All-Eastern American Amateur baseball team in a series in Long Beach, California beginning on Sept. 1.

Coch of the Eastern unit is Glenn "Abe" Martin of South Illinois University.

Following a five-game East-West series in Long Beach, 14 players will be selected from the two squads to play a seven-game series in Honolulu.

Rivers, a 6-4, 210 pound rising senior, pitched 18 innings without allowing an earned run at the NAIA College World Series in Sioux City, Iowa in June and was named to the all-tournament team, as GSC placed second in the tournament.

This year's Varsity will have several new faces since only five regulars return from last year's team. These players who saw considerable action last fall are Wayne Howard, Ronnie Street, Larry Deary, Charles Hodges, and Ted Christy.

This year's team will be young, small, and inexperienced but very aggressive and competitive. It should be another good season for Statesboro if the new boys come through as expected.

GSC To Graduate 138 On August 18

Georgia Southern College will confer 49 master of education degrees, two bachelor of arts degrees, four bachelor of science degrees, and 83 bachelor of education degrees at its 20th annual summer commencement program to be held in the school's McCroan Auditorium on Thursday, August 18 at 10:30 a.m.

Commencement speaker will be Dr. W. Earl Strickland, president of Wesleyan College in Macon since January 4 of this year. He is also secretary of the Georgia Methodist Commission on Higher Education.

Members of the new graduates' families are invited as guests of the college to luncheon at the William Center immediately following the exercises.

Those receiving the master of education degree are the first so awarded by Georgia Southern College. The program was approved by the Georgia board of regents on Nov. 15, 1957, and most of these graduates began study in June, 1958, attending Saturday and evening classes as well as fulltime during the summer.

Completed 60 Hours

In qualifying for this advanced degree, they satisfactorily completed 60 quarter hours of graduate study beyond the bachelor's degree. They are now eligible for the teacher's professional five-year certificate issued by the Georgia State Department of Education.

The program is designed to increase the teacher's skill and competence at his or her particular teaching level. It involves four academic quarters of study.

Those to be awarded the master of education degree include: Helen Gillespie Adams (elementary), Sarah Anne Black (elementary education), Lottia Akina Furch (elementary education), Barney Troy Mialard (industrial education), Carole Deal Mialard (elementary education), John Stater Martin (industrial education), Hazel Hamm Powell (elementary education), Frances Carolyn Rackley (elementary education), Fronia O. Rosch (English), and Louis N. Woodruff (social science), of Statesboro.

Also, Jerry Kicklighter, (business education), Brooklet.

A pile fabric should not be cut into strict, straight lines because much of its beauty lies in the play of light and shadow in the folds created by its bulky softness, advises Miss Peggy Ott, Extension clothing specialist.

Tickets are on sale at the public relations office at GSC. The concert, starting at 7:30, is priced at $1.00, and admission to the dance is $2.50 per couple.

This is believed to be the first "name" dance band to appear at Georgia Southern. Lee Castle was a featured trumpet player and arranger in both the Tommy Dorsey and Jimmy Dorsey bands, and upon Jimmy Dorsey's death was the logical choice to lead the group that had sold 40 million records.

Statesboro Little League All-Stars are Dist. Champs

Statesboro's Little League All-Stars played top-notch baseball Thursday, August 11, at Claxton when they defeated the Claxton team to capture the District Championship when they defeated Sylvania for the second time by a 19 to 5 score.

Statesboro played the entire double elimination tourney without one defeat.

On Monday they downed Claxton by a score of 4 to 2 in a close game. Frank Hook was the winning pitcher that game as he allowed his opponents only two hits and one walk. Statesboro collected eight hits with Ricky Hendrix leading the attack with two for two record.

On Wednesday the All-Stars defeated Sylvania 8 to 1 and won the right to play in the finals. Jamie Beasley collected the win for Statesboro on the mound as he gave up only three hits to Sylvania. Leading the hitting attack for Statesboro were Jamie Beasley and Donald White with three hits each for four trips to the plate. Frank Hook added two more hits for the winners. The highlight of the game for Statesboro was Donald White's home run in the fourth inning with two men on base.

Going into the game on Thursday Statesboro had the big advantage. Since the tourney was double-elimination they could lose the game that day and still have another crack at it or they could win and win the game on Thursday and win the Championship.

Things weren't looking too well during the first two innings, but that usual team "pep" paid off in the third. In that inning Statesboro collected eight runs on five base hits, led by the double and triple of Jamie Beasley and Donald White.

The All-Stars went scoreless in the fourth, but came back in the fifth with four runs and their final seven in the sixth. Donald White hit his second home run of the tournament in the fifth inning with no-one on base.

Frank Hook was the winning pitcher for the All-Stars giving up nine hits to his opponents while he struck out nine. Leading the 17-hit attack for the Champs were Bill Kelly with four hits for five trips to the plate, and Donald White and Jamie Beasley with their three hits each for five trips to the plate.

The losing pitcher for Sylvania was Berry as he was un-

Robbins Packers eliminate Portal 7 to 3

The Robbins Packers of Statesboro eliminated Portal from the Ogeechee League play-offs Sunday, August 14, with a 7 to 3 win.

Harvey Berry was the winning pitcher as he scattered out eight base hits to the visiting Portal team. Berry struck out eight batters in his fine pitching performance. This was Berry's third victory in as many starts.

Statesboro collected their seven runs on seven base hits. Junior Pyle and Lloyd Smith were the leading hitters for the Packers in their victory. Pyle collected a single and a triple in three trips to the plate while Smith had two singles in four times at bat. Fuller Hunicutt smashed a 350-foot triple into the center field fence for the longest blow of the day.

Jack Turner and Mac Carter led the Portal team in hitting. Roy Johnson suffered the defeat for the Portal team but pitched a good game.

This ends the baseball season for Portal and Statesboro for this season with Rocky Ford and Millen still battling it out for the title.

The Packers record for this season was 9 and 6.

Concrete

There's no "fighting the wheel" ... new-type concrete gives you the smoothest ride ever!

No bouncing and bumping! No dips and waves! Only concrete can be laid so flat... placed and leveled to such highly accurate engineering standards—not just poured into shape. Expect that smooth ride to last 50 years or more—for two big reasons. The first is the concrete itself, supported by a specially designed subbase that gives it greater strength. Second is "air entrainment," a new process that prevents surface roughening by freezing and de-icers. Sound reasons why concrete is the preferred pavement for the Interstate System and other vital roads.
