An Apology to F. C. Parker, Jr.:

As a result of a joint meeting of the Citizens' Party and the People's Party Saturday, Nov. 20, we—who represent some of the people—apologize to you, Mr. Parker, for the things we have done without your approval and / or knowledge. We apologize for our POLITICAL INEXPERIENCE. We have never been in politics before.

We apologize: Our polls show that you will win this election by only a 10 to 1 majority. Our poll shows that the people in the City Limits want a change.

We did not know that most of the City Council was originally appointed by Mr. Bowen, and not elected by the people.

We did not know that two members of the Council threatened and promised to resign when you are elected.

We did not know that City vehicles, automobiles, equipment, etc. were serviced by one gasoline supplier who, rather than taking turns (which would be about every seventh turn) took every other turn.

We did not know that fuel oil for burning City trash and for operating City tractors, and that TIRES, BATTERIES, ACCESSORIES, etc. were all purchased from one councilman. American custom dictates equal opportunity for all. After eight years the people want a change, and we have six suitable, non-political personalities for this vacancy.

We did not know that the City buys its fertilizer for its flowers, plants, and parks from only one man. We have six suitable, non-political personalities for this vacancy.

We did not know that Mr. Bowen refused to grant any City Charity.

We did not know that Mr. Bowen charged the local hospital some $200 per month for City water and City sewage.

We apologize to the school teachers for not working harder, but we did not know that Mr. Bowen fought the school modernization issue of three years ago. Why?

We apologize to the National Guardsmen. We did not know that Mr. Bowen blocked all efforts to build an armory-- for EIGHT YEARS. We did not know that now because it is election time, he approves the building and has had three men working on repairs for the past three weeks. We did not know that this was a political issue. Will these men be working there after the election FRIDAY?

We apologize to members of City Council. We did not know that it was possible for fines and monies collected by the City to be lost or unaccounted for.

Again we apologize to you, Mr. Parker. We did not know that the W. A. Bowen Construction Co., Courtland Street, has the final bid on all industrial projects, buildings, repairs, painting, and improvements--and that an architect is not allowed to inspect the work. We thought that all merchants, wholesalers, carpenters, painters, and plumbers all had an equal chance in these money-making projects. Is that the reason for Mr. Bowen's efforts to control the Bulloch County Development Commission?

Ignorant as we were in politics, we should have known that the W. A. Bowen Supply Co. could supply the City with its gas pipes, water pipes, sewer pipes, nails, lumber, paint, and all the profit-making materials that go into the development of industries and sub-divisions. We felt that merchants and people of the community had an equal opportunity to share in these profits.

We, representing some of the people, pledge our members to make a change this Friday, December 2, and ELECT you, MR. F. C. PARKER, JR., OUR MAYOR.

AFTER THE PEOPLE SEE THE FACTS, IT'S POSSIBLE THAT YOU WILL WIN THIS ELECTION BY 20 TO 1

Elect F. C. Parker, Jr. Your Mayor Friday

Paid for by Members of the Citizens and Peoples Party in behalf of the candidacy of F. C. Parker, Jr., for Mayor

"NOT REALLY BAD, NOW WAS IT?" Mrs. Harold Sapp, Public Health nurse, could be saying to Mrs. F. E. Ruchels, a Statesboro High School teacher, as she received her flu immunization shot at the Mattie Lively School on November 30. Shows in the photo are Miss Veina Kemp of Statesboro High, extreme left, Mrs. Ruchels, Miss Gladys Duke (back of Mrs. Ruchels) Public Health Nurse, Mrs. Sapp and Mrs. Remer Brady Jr., extreme right. The flu immunization is a part of a special program to immunize teachers, bus drivers and members of the Bulloch County Board of Education. It has the approval of the county school board.

County school bus service to be reduced CSS Womack says

This week H. P. Womack, Bulloch County Superintendent of Schools, and Leefer Akins, director of transportation for the county school system, make a joint statement in which they announce that the county school system will discontinue the operation of twelve school busses for transportation of children to and from school.

The new transportation program will first be put into effect in Statesboro, and after January 1 all children within the city limits of Statesboro will walk to and from school except a small group of high school children who live beyond a mile and one-half from the school.

The complete statement is as follows:

In order for any county in the State of Georgia to participate in the School Building money, or Capital Outlay money, it was necessary that each county have a school survey of building needs, curriculum needs and transportation needs.

The Bulloch County Board of Education has complied with all of this. The survey shows that we need a new high school in Statesboro for whites and an elementary school in Statesboro for colored, some minor additions and repairs at Portals and also two processing plants, one at Southeast Bulloch, at Oricket and one at Portal in Statesboro.

The survey also showed what changes were needed to be made in our School Program as far as the curriculum was concerned. It was shown that we need to cut off twelve (12) buses in all, nine white and three colored. The white buses recommended to be cut off were one at Siltson, one at Brooklet, four at Statesboro, one at Portal, one at Register and one at Nevils. The colored buses recommended to be cut off were one at Statesboro, one at Willow Hill and one at New Hope.

This simply means that according to the State all children living within one and one-half (1 1/2) miles of the school house by the way the plane flies must walk; and also those living within a half-mile of the truck line must walk.

In order to comply with the State School Building money, each county must follow the recommendations of the State in this survey.

It is impossible to carry out this program at one time. So, we will begin as of January, when school starts back after Christmas, and work out. This simply means that all children within the city limits of Statesboro will walk to school except a small group of high school children who live beyond the mile and a half. As soon as this has been put into effect in Statesboro, we will then move out in the rural areas.

Due to the fact that the State has drawn the line in saying that all children living within one and one-half miles of the school house and one-half mile of the truck line must walk, then it will be impossible to use school buses owned by the

Bill Bowen re-elected mayor; Johnson and Lanier elected Statesboro's new councilmen

W. A. (Bill) Bowen was re-elected mayor of Statesboro in the city election held on December 2. Mr. Bowen received 1,215 of the 2,009 ballots cast. Mr. F. C. Parker Jr. received 772 votes.

In the city council race, Henry C. Lanier received 1,261 votes to W. P. (Tiny) Hill's 731, for the place held by I. M. Foy Sr., who was not a candidate to succeed himself.

J. Brantley Johnson was elected unopposed, for the council seat held by Rufus Anderson who resigned to become clerk of the Bulloch Superior Court on January 1.

In a statement made after the election Mayor Bowen said: "I realize that I could not have been elected without the support of my friends. To all of them I want to express my deepest appreciation. To those who could not reconcile themselves to vote for me, I hold no ill feeling, acknowledge a person's complete right to vote as he or she pleases. I must say that I am pleased that most people do not concur in the character assassination type of campaigning which crept into the December 2 election. But all that is forgotten and it is my pledge to the citizens of Statesboro to continue giving them the very best of me as their mayor."

Both Mr. Lanier and Mr. Johnson in statements to the Herald expressed their appreciation for having been elected to the places on the city council. Mr. Hill in his statement pledges his support to Mr. Lanier and other members of the council and the mayor.

The campaign was one of the most spirited in the history of city politics. Despite a cold day approximately 82 percent of the registered voters cast ballots.

Six new trustees were well-wishers to the board. They include Tom Gattis and the Rev. Marcus Jowers, both of Waycross, Bob Burgin, Culbert, Irl Blackburn, Newman, Tom Gurley, Thomasville, and Howard Collier, Griffin.

The program will include the following selections: "Glory To God in the Highest," Pergolesi; "The Christmas Story," Edvard Grieg; "Jesu, My Son," Caldwell; "The Matchless Morning," Williams; a solo by Mrs. Hayden Carmichael; "As It Fell Upon A Night," Davis; "O Come, Emmanuel," Christiansen; "How Brightly Shines the Morning Star," Nicolai; and "Silent Night, Holy Night," Gruber.

Mr. Gibson cited two recent cases where the Chambers of Commerce saved the business men and professional men of the city a lot of money by the proper investigation and then refusing to grant permission for the solicitation. C of C policy fixed on solicitations

This week Tiny Hill, president of the Statesboro and Bulloch County Chamber of Commerce, announced that the Chamber is taking steps to protect the business and professional people of Statesboro from the bother which develops from uncontrolled solicitations for money by questionable agencies and individuals.

Mr. Al Gibson, executive secretary, added that a placard is being given to every member of the Chamber of Commerce which reads: "Notice to solicitors. We are members of the Statesboro and Bulloch County Chamber of Commerce and will not consider requests for advertisements, contributions, subscriptions or the sale of tickets until the project is presented to the Solicitations Division of the Chamber and Bulloch County Chamber of Commerce, 31 North Main Street."

Mr. Gibson pointed out that this means the Solicitations Division of the chamber will screen every application for a card of approval before it will be granted. "We want all the recognized and legitimate agencies, including schools, civic groups, and others who have worthy projects to know that this will not work a hardship on in any way curtail their routine and regular activities in asking the support of the business and professional people of Statesboro."

He added that the new policy is to be a buffer against the fly-by-night operators, the questionable solicitors for funds by

For higher education

Georgians traditionally have been leaders in higher education. In 1785, the people of this state chartered the country's first state-supported university.

Our system of higher education furnishes the state with the majority of its teachers, scientists, agriculturalists, foresters, home economists, engineers, industrial and business administrators, and scientific technicians.

The University System also provides citizens of the state with a number of services. Search programs at the various institutions have created new products, new industries, a better understanding of the world in which we live, and a higher per capita income for citizens of this state.

Research programs by units of the University System vary from the development of an important strain of bermuda grass for livestock feeding to specialized programs in the natural and satellite sciences, from important advancement in animal production and disease control to the economical use of radioactive length dress of lace and chiffon. She carried a bouquet of blue and pink carnations. The bride's mother wore a brown suit with beige accessories.

The couple will make their home in Beaufort, S. C., where he is presently serving in the U. S. Marine Corps, Beaufort Air Station.

Research in the University System has been largely responsible for Georgia becoming the nation's leading poultry producer as well as one of the South's strongholds of advancement in the fields of electronics and computers.

How long will Georgia's University System be able to serve the people of Georgia as it has in the past? This will depend on the people. Right now financial support given to higher education in Georgia is lower than in most states of the South and Nation.

Average per capita income spent on higher education in Georgia during 1959-60 was $6.16. For the South this average was $6.88, and for the Nation it was $7.88.

Average salary for faculty members in Georgia's University System is also lower than for the rest of the South and considerably lower than for the rest of the Nation.

The average salary for faculty in Georgia's University System is $5,975; for the South faculty salaries average $6,100; for the Nation $6,960.

The University System competes with other institutions throughout the country as well as with industry for faculty members. Today the University System of Georgia is losing this competitive battle for highly trained faculty members.

With the present financial support given higher education in Georgia's University System, how long in the future will this system be able to provide the quality services it has in the past?

APPECIATION
I would like to express, in this manner to the voters of the City of Statesboro my personal gratitude for your loyal support in my behalf in the recent City election.

Sincerely yours,
HENRY C. LANIER

Although Americans now spend much more for processing and packaging of foods than they did a few years ago, they still have to work fewer hours to get the same amount of food and the added conveniences together, says Extension Economist S. J. Brannen.

Miss Glenda Deal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Solomon Deal of Portal, became the bride of Mr. Edward Malcom Brussard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Valentine Brussard of Boston, Mass. Sunday evening, Dec. 4, at 5:30 in the chapel of the Portal Methodist Church. Miss Verona Deal, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Mr. J. B. Munger served as best man. The immediately family and a few close friends attended.

The bride wore a white ballerina length dress with a white lace crown and veil. The maid of honor wore a blue street length dress of lace and chiffon. She carried a bouquet of blue and pink carnations. The bride's mother wore a brown suit with beige accessories.

The couple will make their home in Beaufort, S. C., where he is presently serving in the U. S. Marine Corps, Beaufort Air Station.

Research in the University System has been largely responsible for Georgia becoming the nation's leading poultry producer as well as one of the South's strongholds of advancement in the fields of electronics and computers.

TO THE VOTERS OF STATESBORO:

Thank you from the bottom of my heart for the demonstration of confidence in me which you expressed at the polls on December 2.

I am humbly grateful that the people of Statesboro have shown by their vote that they do not condone the type campaign which was waged against me. The vicious charges hurled against me, and against the Council, are simply not true, but were manufactured for lack of any constructive issues on which to base a campaign.

On behalf of the City Council and myself, I would like to express our appreciation for your endorsement of our program of progress which has brought Statesboro to a position second to none in the southeast, and to pledge to you our continued efforts to keep Statesboro on the move forward. I thank you.

Sincerely,

chances are—WE KNOW HIS SIZE—75 Years Experience

Although he smokes a pipe he is still a thinking man

By MIDGE LASKY and ROBERTA HALPERN (GSC "George-Anne Editors")

Although Joe Axelson soon to be executive relations director at Georgia Southern College, smokes, he is still a thinking man.

Not only always thinking, but constantly on the go. It has frequently been said that it's a wonder how he accomplishes all that he does.

His recent astonishing announcement that he was leaving GSC to become sports director of radio station WPQD in Jacksonville, Fla., took quite a few people by surprise. This new position opens a new world of experiences for him and although everyone is sorry to see him leave, they are happy that he has this opportunity for promotion.

JOE AXELSON

Love of Sports

Joe calls his home Aurora, Illinois, and attends Georgia High School. His background in sports began at a very young age. His father, Joseph V. Axelson, was football and basketball coach for over 32 years and is now retired from coaching. Perhaps Joe's love and interest for all sports could be accredited to his father's early teaching.

Joe's favorite sport is baseball and a special ambition of his has always been to be the "Voice of the Cubs."

At the age of 15 he was the youngest worker on the Illinois Central Railroad where he served as a dispatcher. He enjoyed this work so much that he almost made it his career. Another long time desire of his has been to write a book about railroads for young people.

Officer At 19

This industrious teenager was also an officer in the army at 19 and went to Officers' Candidate School at Fort Benning, Ga.

Joe attended the Medial School of Journalism at Northwestern University until "Uncle Sam" claimed his services once again. During his stay at Northwestern University Joe was helping to work his way through college as a waiter in a dining room. From December, 1947, to June, 1949, Joe was the officer in charge of the Armed Forces Radio Station in the cold, vast area of Whittier, Alaska.

Axelson Meets Scarece

After leaving Alaska, he became coach of the army basketball and baseball teams at Fort

Mon., all types of shows - even the commercials. He's a faithful fan of Jack Paar and likes Alex King and Jonathan Winters immensely.

Joe's many attributes include being tremendously loyal and he keeps close contact with the activities of people that he's known and liked in the past. He's a perfectionist and expects people to do what they promise.

Joe has his own personal vocabulary of sayings that he uses often. Such expressions "I kid you not," "the little round filing cabinet" for a wastebasket, "the only thing money can buy is groceries," "don't salute, I'll be in the area all day," and "Don't call me coach, call me George," are typical of Joe.

Active In Clubs

Some of the many activities and clubs that Joe is active in include being scorekeeper of the Football Writers Association and the Quarterback Club and newly elected captain which he will be unable to fulfill, a member of the NATA Athletics Public Relations and Statistics Committee and also chairman of the High School Officials Association.

A special thanks goes to Mrs. Rae Axelson, and David and Mrs. Joe's two oldest children, for some of the "inside" information on Joe's life.

As our advisor to the two GSC publications, the George-Anne and Reflector, Joe has certainly made our jobs more interesting and challenging, and we've enjoyed every minute of it.

Publisher At Furman

Before becoming public relations director at GSC, a post which he held since 1957, Joe was sports publisher at Furman University in Greenville, South Carolina.

Since coming to Statesboro Joe has made himself a true "insider" as well as a "regular" in the town. He has been heard twice on the radio on WWSB on his sports shows. He often referees and broadcasts the local games.

Once in a while you can find Joe in the kitchen perfecting his culinary art and he especially likes to cook on the outdoor grill. Joe enjoys all kinds of music, particularly Dixieland. His office is equipped with both a record player and radio and usually one or the other is constantly playing.

Even Likes Commercials

Joe enjoys watching television commercials. He has been a

How to lose Weight

By DR. JOHN MOONEY

One of the penalties of prosperity living today is the tendency to eat too much. Caught in the modern whirlwind of competition, speed, personal insecurity and international uncertainty, we develop anxiety and tension. To quell these two distressing feelings, we fill our dining plates with high-calorie foods like rolls, gravy and potatoes, topping it off with rich desserts, and thus gain an hour or so of the tranquility which is sought with temporary anorexia of the brain brought on by an overloaded stomach. As a result we get fat.

And another thing ladies, if you start now there will be thirty pounds less to cram into that new bathing suit come next Fourth of July.

So we mobilize crash programs. We beg the doctor for appetite-reducing pills which themselves may be dangerous because of side effects or habit-forming properties. We starve ourselves into the last vestige of life. Then when symptoms of nutritional deficiency appear we stuff ourselves until we are heavier than ever.

We go on low calorie diets, carefully measuring out the food at meal time and forgetting to count the between-meal coffee and cookies and the bedtime snack. We don't lose weight because there are too many bootleg calories.

Using these methods we set a weight loss goal. Weighing at the start we plunge into the program viciously, fighting food every hour of the waking day. Determined to turn the waistline back a decimeter, we struggle through a couple of weeks, with some extra exercise thrown in for good measure, only to step on the scales and find we have gained a few ounces. We chuck the whole thing.

In order to lose weight several conditions should be met. The loss should not be too rapid. There should be no danger of a nutritional deficiency. The dieter should be able to stay on the program without too much effort.

Here is a program which has worked well for others:

- (1) Weigh daily. Get a pair of bathroom scales and weigh Americans have been eating vegetables, not including potatoes at the rate of about 200 per person each year during the postwar period, according to U. S. Department of Agriculture records.

For best results in freezing lamb, use only high-quality cuts and prepare and freeze as soon as possible after purchase, advises Miss Nellie Thrash, Extension food preservation specialist.

The answer is simple. The only thing which makes much difference about food is how it tastes to the person who is eating it. Generally, food can be classified along taste lines into three categories: (a) Mouthwatering, (b) So-so, and (c) Nauseating. The latter category does not enter into a dieting program because nobody eats it.

Now, how did we get fat? By eating a lot of mouthwatering food we liked and passing up the so-so stuff we didn't like. There may be a few items of food which do not fit this classification. But they are the exceptions and do not make a lot of difference over a long period of time.

We just need to reverse this tendency and eat a little less of the things we like a lot and a little more of the things we have been avoiding entirely or, maybe, eating reluctantly because we had a sneaking idea they might be good for us.

That's all there is to it. You may need a couple of weeks to fall into the routine. But, it will work. Try it and see. An unexpected reward may be the development of an appreciation for some of the wholesome, vitamin-rich, delicious, non-fattening food you have been skipping.

MIGHTY MITES

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 30

The Blues won the Mighty Mite Championship after outplaying a strong red team in a 0-0 ballgame. The Blues were awarded the win on the basis of the most first downs, the most yards gained, and the most penetrations past their opponents 15-yard line.

The game was a strong defensive battle throughout with one team running several plays and then having to punt.

The Blues made the only threat in the game; the first coming in the first half of play when the Blues reached the Red's two yard line on fourth down. The Red line then showed their defensive ability as they held the line and then took over the ball on downs.

The Blues second threat came later in the game with two minutes left on the clock. Greg Sikes set up the play when he intercepted a Red pass and returned it to the eight yard line of the Red. Again the Reds held and took over on downs on the one yard line.

The Red's closest penetration was in the opening minutes of the game when they recovered the Blues twenty yard line, but the Blues were able to hold.

The Blues had several plays who contributed a great deal to their win. On offense Johnny Cobb, Marvin McMullen, and Jack Tillman brought the Blues out of trouble on several occasions. On defense Frankie Pearson, Sammy Johnson, and Chris Rowel led the tackling. The Blues were also somewhat handicapped by the absence of their fullback, Bill Hook and their center, Aaron Johnson.

The Reds were led on offense by Tommy Bailey, Gene Cariker, and Pratt Hill. Roger Webb, Tommy Renfrow, and David Turner led the defensive attack.

Contract is let to build 301 Welcome Station

Contract for $463,482.25 has been let to Construction Enterprises of Nashville, Ga., for the construction of Georgia's first Tourist Welcome Station to be located on U. S. Highway 301, near Sylvan, it was announced by Jack Minter, director of the Georgia Department of Commerce.

Work will be started by mid-December and will be completed, including the posting of a performance bond by the contractor, Minter said. The station, which will be operated by the Commerce Department, is expected to be completed and ready for operation by March 1, 1961.

The proposed station, expected to be the forerunner to others to be erected in Georgia in future years, will be located on a four-acre site about 14 miles north of Sylvan on U. S. 301 and less than a mile south of the Savannah River. The route is one of Georgia's heaviest traveled tourist thoroughfares and is often referred to as "the short route to Florida."

(An average of 5,227 motor vehicles daily travel over U. S. Highway 301 in 1959, of which 58.7 per cent were out-of-state cars, records show.) The proposed welcome station will be a one-story, rectangular-shaped, 2,200-square-foot structure built of concrete and steel. It will have a lounge, information room, products display room, rest rooms and two pre- and post-traffic restrooms. There also will be a parking area for 40 cars and a spacious area for ten picnic tables outside.

Primary function of the station, which will be manned by four employees of the State Department of Commerce, will be to offer every sort of hospitality that can be extended to the traveler. This will include a sales pitch about what the visitors might be missing if they do not linger a little longer in Georgia, according to Bill T. Hardman, the Commerce Department's Tourist Division manager.

In addition to dispensing courtesy and helpfulness, concrete things like Georgia-made products, maps and travel information, gifts, literature on Georgia scenic attractions and the like will be available to the visitors, Hardman said.

Lindsay Johnston and Jimmy Seare will lead the 1960-61 State High School Basketball team. These two players were elected co-captains by their team mates this past week. Lindsay and Jimmy are letter-men not only in basketball but also in football. Lindsay is also the region champ in the shot put.

GAME AND FISH

By FULTON LOVELL

HOW TO BE A SPORTSMAN

Consideration for his fellow man has always been characteristic of a true sportsman. No sportsman would be guilty of mistaking a farmer's cow for a deer, or letting his campfire get out of control and destroy timber on the farmer's property.

Yet there are hunters and fishermen hiding behind the cloak of the true sportsman who are gradually but surely destroying the amicable relationship between the farmer and sportsman.

Many of us remember the time when we could go almost anywhere and hunt or fish as we pleased. Farmers were glad to have us even recommended the best place to drop a hook or flush a covey of quail. But now, some of them have become leery of allowing anyone near their land.

Not long ago, I read that a South Georgia farmer lost thousands of dollars worth of his cattle strayed into a field that had been poisoned. Someone had left the gate open. There have been numerous cases where the farmer spent hours rounding up loose livestock because a "sportsman" had been careless.

A fisherman takes his family to a farmer's pond for a day of recreation and a picnic. Then, after their picnic, they rush back to their angling, leaving the grounds littered with paper and trash.

There are more than 40,000 farm ponds scattered throughout the state. Most of the pond owners prefer to have someone fish them, for steady fish kills for the pond owner are more overpopulated with fish. Most of the pond owners charge one dollar for fishing privileges which helps pay for fertilizer. But when it becomes necessary for the pond owner to act as a garbage man after the recreationists leave, he feels it's no longer worth while.

There are a few basic rules of common courtesy which, if used, will result in the relationship we once had with the farmers and landowners.

1. Never hunt or fish on any man's property unless you ask his permission.
2. Be careful not to damage any crops or endanger any livestock.
3. Close all gates so livestock will not escape.
4. If you are hunting, aim carefully before you shoot. For a good sportsman always knows what he is shooting before he pulls the trigger.
5. Don't be a litterbug. Clean up all trash and paper before you leave.
6. Be careful with campfires and cigarettes. Clean up all paper and trash before you leave.
7. Always make sure your fire is out before leaving an area, and use the old Army technique of field-stripping your cigarettes.
8. Be courteous to the landowner and his family. Treat his property as if it were your own.

Region play for SHS has been selected

The Statesboro High School Region play this year will be a cutting from the ever popular "Arsenic and Old Lace." It is a clever comedy, suitable for cost test use, and permission to perform it in contest has been secured from Dramatists Play Service in New York by Mrs. Bernard Morris, Play Director.

After try-outs on Thursday December 1st, the following cast and understudies have been named:

Abby Brewster, Mahaley Tankersley (Understudy Sharon Stubbs); Martha Brewster, Cheryl Welchel (Understudy Paula Franklin); Mortimer, Bob Scruggs (Understudy Johnny Johnson); Dr. Harper, Johnny Johnson; Elaine, Donna Minkovitz (Understudy Alison Mitchell); Teddy, Billy Franklin; Mr. Gibbs, Ashley Tyson and Miss Brophy; Beth Nesmith (Understudy Patricia Wright).

It is quite interesting to note that Mahaley and Bob are both members of last year's winning state and region play, "The Mad Woman of Chaillot." Donna Minkovitz is the sister of Kay Minkovitz, who was a member of the "Madwoman" cast, and in the cast of "Soldiers" which won both state and region contest in 1959. Billy Franklin is the brother of Lehman Franklin, member of the cast of the 1958 second place winning play "Riders, Peasos." Ashley Tyson is the nephew of Harville Hendrix, state declamation winner in 1953. "So you see, we have had much talent in the Statesboro students, and the relatives of these people who made SHS an outstanding High School, are keeping up the tradition." Mrs. Morris said.

The play will take place in January but will be presented locally for the public.

Don Lanier and Danny Brochard are stage managers and understudies for the production. The prompters are Joan Nesmith and Gale Nesmith.

Editorials

Let's take a look at registration requirements

Now with the county primary, the state primary and the general election and the city election behind us we would like to have something to say about the individual's vote and his right to vote.

Let us ask these questions. Why must you vote every two years or be purged? ... even though there may be a span of two years in which there is no election or candidate that appeals to you?

Why must you be a resident of Georgia for six months before you can vote for a president? (In some states the requirements are between forty and sixty days.)

Why must you register in May to vote in November? (In many states registration doesn't close until October.)

In a growing community like ours many new citizens are moving into Statesboro every month, with the intention of making their home and rearing their children here. Why should they be disfranchised because they happen to move into the community after the registration deadline and long before the election? It's not right.

It should be made as easy as possible for every citizen of our community to vote in every election. We suggest that those who claim to have the interest of the people at heart do some serious thinking on this business of residence requirements and registration deadlines.

To the winners— Congratulations!

To the winners we say, "Congratulations!" And to the losers, we say, "A race well made."

By a majority of 443 of the more than 2,000 voters who registered their preference W. A. "Bill" Bowen was reelected mayor of the City of Statesboro in the December 2 election. Mr. Bowen received 1,215 votes and Mr. F. C. Parker Jr. received 772.

By a majority of 530 votes Henry C. Lanier was elected member of the city council to succeed Inman Foy Sr. who was not a candidate to succeed himself. Mr. Lanier received 1,261 votes and Mr. Tiny Hill received 731.

J. Brantley Johnson was elected without opposition for the council place held by Rufus Anderson, who becomes the Clerk of Superior Court January 1.

It was a spirited election. It brought out more Statesboro voters to take part in a city election than for any election in the history of the city, 2,000 of the 2,450 registered voters cast their ballots—that's almost eighty-two percent of the voters.

The winners have a recognized and acknowledged responsibility. The losers too have a responsibility—to forget the election and work with the winners to bring Statesboro into the fulfillment of its goals for the future. And knowing the candidates, we feel assured that this they will do.

And there'll always be another election!

Help make Statesboro a Christmas town

You planned to do a little Christmas decorations about your home and yard. If you have children your plans are a must.

Now comes the Bulloch County Council of Federated Garden Clubs sponsoring an Out-Door Christmas Lighting Contest, which, in addition to the delight it gives the children and the citizens of our community, gives you an incentive to go all out on the outdoor phase of your Christmas lighting program.

The success of the contest depends upon you, and you. If you have not entered this contest, do so today and help make Statesboro the prettiest Christmas town in this section.

Call Mrs. W. Z. Brown, chairman of the contest and she will fill you in on the requirements.

The Last Minute Rush

By the Rev. L. E. Houston Jr.

COL. SPENCER CHAPMAN, in his book "The Jungle is Neutral," records how while hidden from the Japanese in Malaya during the last war, he attempted to read the New Testament. But, when it came to making a start, he and his companions found they could not do it. They read a thousand pages of the Oxford Dictionary, but not the Bible. Why couldn't they read it?

Better yet, why can't we? Statistics prove that it is still the world's best seller, but who reads it? I well remember the most beautiful Bible I ever saw in my youth. Its owner was the superintendent of our Church School in my home town. The print was inscribed on India paper, and the real leather binding was so soft and pliable that you could squeeze it in your fist and it would return to its proper shape. The height of my ambition was to own a Bible like that.

HOW CHILDISH I was, and how immature a host of people are who attach the wrong significance to the binding of the Book, rather than permitting its message to become a lamp unto their feet on the road of life.

Why is it that the Bible is the last book the average intelligent person would dream of opening outside a church service? There are some very obvious reasons. The format of the average Bible is unattractive. Small print, verse divisions, and double columns greatly disturb the average reader. Much of the language of the Bible is unintelligible. In all its beauty, the King James version has questionable merit in a day when its phrases are three hundred years old. We just don't think in those terms!

ANOTHER REASON for our failure to read the Bible lies in our loss of a sense of history. So much has happened to our world in the past fifty years that we tend to question whether the past has anything to say to the present. What happened to obscure tribes in the Middle East three thousand years ago can hardly be expected to be of vital interest to twentieth-century minds schooled in radio, electronics, jet airplane travel, and missile production.

Also, we refuse to read the Bible because of an uneasy suspicion that science has exploded the teaching of the Bible. The creation of the world, in six days, Noah's ark, serpents that talk, and ax-bushes that float give us much concern a day of scientific thinking and judgment.

All these problems tend to leave the Bible to catch its appointed amount of dust, and thereby we refuse to let the Book live.

HOW, THEN, CAN WE let the Bible come alive to us? How can it become a lamp unto our feet and a light on our path? We can begin by removing our defensive attitude. We forget that the Bible is spiritual, and the tests of the ages. It does not need our feeble efforts to defend it.

WE must discuss a new perspective. The Bible, frankly, this is what I have had to do in my own thinking. It doesn't matter if the whale actually swallowed Jonah or not, as long as I catch the central message of that book—a man running from God, a man running ahead of God.

What is faith - destroying about accepting the temptations of Satan as he tempts and spiritual temptations rather than physical. The parable of the prodigal son is just a story, but it speaks to our situation because the wayward boy and his out-pouring brother live over and over again in the lives of people.

ONE PRACTICAL way in which we can have the Bible come alive to us is to make ourselves available to its message. We can begin by obtaining a new Bible. The King James Version for its superb beauty, the Revised Standard Version for its clarity, Moffatt, Goodspeed, Weymouth, and Phillips translations of the New Testament. Phillips translation, in particular, is excellent since its setting is modern English.

the editor's uneasy chair

We are now in that season of the year when a certain group of otherwise sane and normal people go through a change which makes them fit company only among themselves. They are controlled by and dictated to by a lovely and altogether wonderful "master" they call "Camellia."

The Camellia comes in a thousand shapes, forms, colors and controls its subjects in as many different ways. It sneaks up in the shape of a tiny, delicate pink form which its subject knows as Debutante. It overpowers them in the form of the large, fragrant and proud "Dakota" which sits up next to its subjects in the form of the virgin-pure white Alba Plena. Oh, there are thousands of forms in which the master appears before its subjects.

The Camellia excites its subjects by showing up suddenly in the form of a master who is satisfied and happy by growing and thriving through the spring and summer—then plunges them into despair and breaks their hearts by showing signs of "die-back" or by playing host to millions of tiny scales.

The Camellia is demanding of its subjects. They must work hard and continuously. The Camellia demands attention and frowns upon its subjects when it is neglected.

But we know of no group of subjects who glory in their complete subjection and adoration that those of us who go to our "Pink Dawn," The Camellia has "gink" us "the word" and when "the word" is passed we are subjected to attention and objects of it map to attention and heed.

IT WILL BE WELL for you to make this time of giving a personal thing if you know how and if you have the kind. If you can not make this kind of thing a personal act, from person to person, then you should give through those who are willing to be of service in this manner.

Christmas is a wonderful season, filled with many opportunities for us to have real and lasting experiences. We can make it a season of too many parties, too much giving, too much shooting, too much travel and just too much if we let ourselves fall into that trap.

Christmas need not be too commercial. It is only so if we allow ourselves to become too involved in that sort of thinking. It is easy for our Christmas cards to become a burden when we try to send cards to everyone in the alphabet. If rather in the time of the first time in twenty days had been allowed to sleep and rest. That is a wonderful experience that we will have special meaning, and then this can be a real experience for the sender and for the receiver.

TO THE CHILDREN (after all critics keep saying that the school aren't teaching anything) when suddenly this little face attracts your attention. Her mother was pressuring her to bring home good marks, her teacher was pressuring her to learn fractions. The result was that she stayed practically sick due to her frustration.

IN ITS DEAL for learning the state is spending thousands of dollars on tests. The teachers spend hours and hours scoring tests when they might have spent these hours preparing for their work. There is a tremendous amount of book work and records for teachers to do these days. This time could be spent studying the children in our rooms. Teachers often worry children unknowingly because they are concerned about many things other than the children.

IT'S ALMOST EQUIVALENT to the father who becomes so engrossed in making a living for a family that he forgets to live with his family. If children have to live with parents and teachers like this, pity the poor things!

Farmers start work with pine crop

By ROY POWELL, County Agent

WALKING IN THE WOODS
On most Georgia farms about half the land is in the woods. Georgia farmers and other landowners sell almost $150 million worth of wood products each year, and the wood processing and manufacturing plants add many more millions of dollars to Georgia's income.

Bulloch County farmers are now starting the seasonal job of thinning, harvesting, and planting seedlings. Some of this work can be a waste of time if not done properly.

A study made recently by the Georgia Forestry Commission showed that about 30 percent of the pine seedlings planted in 1959 failed to survive the first year. A few simple precautions could help to get more of your young trees to live.

Remember: (1) Don't let seedlings freeze in bundles; (2) Keep the roots straight when planting the seedling in the ground. Probably more seedlings are lost from shallow planting than from any other cause. If a portion of the root system is left above ground, the seedling is sure to die.

Some poultrymen have put up as many as five layers to the cage because it requires less house-keeping and less labor. But this may not be such a saving after all if egg production drops seriously.

By watching the dairy cow's production performance and other factors, many Georgia dairymen are learning to feed their cows economically. They allow the cows to consume large amounts of high-quality forage and then feed additional grain depending upon (1) the quality and quantity of forages—pasture, hay, or silage—that are fed, (2) the milk yields and its butterfat percent for the individual cow, (3) the weight, condition and appetite of the animal, and (4) the local milk marketing conditions.

Feeding all milking animals in the herd the same amount of grain usually tends to overfeed the poor producers and underfeed the high producers. An efficient way to feed is to give each milking cow grain according to her milk production and butterfat tests. Under most Georgia conditions, 12 to 16 percent ration fed at the rate of 1 pound of grain to 2½ to 4 pounds of milk should be ample.

During periods when surplus milk is being produced, it may be practical for dairymen to reduce the amount of grain fed, particularly during the latter stage of the cow's lactation. Grain feeding recommendations and tables on amounts of feed to use are included in Georgia Agricultural Extension Bulletin 604, "Georgia Dairy Herd Management Practices," which can be obtained at your county agent's office.

CLEAN LITTER FOR HEALTHY CHICKS

Broiler houses should be thoroughly cleaned between every bond of chicks, says Extension Poultryman Martin Dundy of the University of Georgia College of Agriculture. He advises using four inches of clean, new litter when the brood is changed. If old litter must be reused, be sure to remove all wet spots and caked litter.
