The University of Georgia Cooperative Extension Service recommends this year's tomato seeds to the following varieties: 'Baltimore', 'Belcanto', 'California Wonder', 'Georgia Giant', and 'Red Ripe'. These varieties are resistant to various diseases and yield high-quality fruit. For more information or seed assistance, contact your local Extension office.

KILL SOIL INSECTS WITH ALDRIN

Alphonic is a powerful contact insecticide that kills a wide range of insects, including corn rootworm, cutworms, and fall armyworm, among others. It can be applied before planting or used to control emerging pests. Always follow the label instructions for proper application and safety precautions.

"I made 35 more cotton per acre by using Nemagon Soil Fumigant" said Susan H. Lake, a local cotton grower. "This product is effective against a variety of soilborne pests, including nematodes and fungi, which can significantly reduce crop yields. I highly recommend it for anyone looking to improve their cotton production."
