Portal High Junior Class honors Senior Class Apr. 29

By ANN HENDRIX

The junior class of Portal High entertained the senior class Saturday evening, April 29, with a Junior-Senior Prom. A "Hawaiian Cruise" was staged in the cafeteria.

Sailors and maids greeted the guests as they came down the gangplank by placing colorful leis around their necks. They were ushered to their tables which were centered with miniature palm trees and tropical flowers.

Amid tropical splendor of palm trees, water murals, flowers, leis, and hula dancers, the evening of dancing was enjoyed.

Joey Anderson served as master of ceremonies for the delightful event. Ann Hendrix gave the welcome, followed by Lynn Reddick with the senior responses.

As the evening progressed, a special floor show was presented. Barbara Akerman sang "Hawaiian Wedding Song" and accompanied by Linda Parrish. "It Happened in Koloha."

The hula dancers, composed of Patricia Johnson, Teresa Thigpen, Judy Beasley, Charlotte Stewart, Mary Sue DeLoach, Sandra Sue Allen, Annie Fred Lanier, Jane Akina, and Carolyn McCullough, charmed the group as they danced among the tables.

A quartet, composed of Marilyn Brannen, Jenny Hunnicutt, Emma Small and Gail Williams, sang "Tropical Isle."

All of these groups were accompanied by Mrs. H. C. Bland on the piano.

Assisting with the shower were Miss Verna Collins, Mrs. Ernest Carter and Mrs. F. N. Carter Jr.

Miss Verna Collins greeted each guest at the door. The receiving line was composed of Mrs. Millard Griffith, the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. Sylvia Allen, Miss Allen, the groom-elect's mother, Mrs. Ruby Lane and Mrs. Henry Allen.

As each guest entered the home, beautifully arranged with spring flowers, Miss Nancy Griffith pinned on the favors. "Mr. and Miss Senior for 1961." They were crowned by Lynn Reddick and Miss Ellen. They were crowned by Lynn Reddick and Miss Ellen. They were crowned by Lynn Reddick and Miss Ellen.

After the floor show, cakes, nuts, and punch were served. The highlight of the evening was the crowning of "Mr. and Miss Senior for 1961." They were crowned by Lynn Reddick and Miss Ellen. They were crowned by Lynn Reddick and Miss Ellen.

Mrs. Nattie Allen retires

Members of the Mattie Lively Elementary School PTA paid a special tribute to Mrs. Nattie Allen at the school on Tuesday night of this week.

The occasion was sparked by the retirement of Mrs. Allen after forty-five years as a teacher, forty-three of which have been spent in teaching in schools in Bulloch County.

Mr. Charles Olliff Jr., who was a student in her seventh grade, presented Mrs. Allen a gift on behalf of the PTA.

"It is difficult to tell Mrs. Allen of our love and devotion and respect we all have for her," Mr. Olliff said. "It is difficult to relate all the fine things for which she stands and to itemize all she has done for our children during her teaching experience," he added.

Mr. Olliff presented his daughter, Clissy, who is a student in Mrs. Allen's fifth grade.

The tribute followed the presentation of a pagant, "Our Singing Nation," presented by the Statesboro PTA.

At the meeting Mr. Joe Newell, past president of the school's PTA, installed the following new officers:

Mrs. Julian Hodges, vice president; Miles Deal, treasurer; Mrs. Jack Wynn, secretary and Francis Allen, parliamentarian.

Hospital Day is May 14 for Ga. Baptists

Sunday, May 14, "Mother's Day," has been designated as "Hospital Day" by the Baptist church members of Georgia.

On this day the Baptists of this county are being asked to give to the Baptists of Georgia to make a special offering for the continuing support of the Georgia Baptist Hospital.

This announcement was made this week by the Rev. J. W. Groves, Mr. Jimmy Gunter, moderator of the Ogeechee River Baptist Association.

"There are many people in our state who could not have medical care were it not for the help of others. In 1960 the Georgia Baptist Hospital gave over $300,000 worth of free and part-free medical care to needy people of our state."

Rev. Groves told of a pastor who wrote:

"When I accepted this church, less than a year ago, I was told the life of our youth. It is hoped that every possible effort will be made to avoid conflicts with the schedule of Vacation Church Schools."

"It is this sort of letter which cheers our hearts and helps us to believe that Georgia Baptists will, when they know the story, gladly give that they may live. In such hope we appeal to every church in our association to do its best to call our people to a worthy response this Hospital Day—Sunday, May 14," Rev. Groves said.

Editorials

Mother's Day should be every day in the year

Despite the nation-wide commercialism of Mother's Day, there is still a deep reservoir of love and respect for the annual celebration of the second Sunday in May when children all over this country pay honest and loving tribute to their mothers on Mother's Day.

And that is as it should be — though to us Mother's Day should be every day in the year with the same manifestation of our love and devotion, respect and admiration for our mothers, God's second finest gift to mankind, giving Himself being His finest gift to the world.

A mother's love is indeed the golden link that binds youth to age, and he is still but a child, however time may have wrinkled his cheek, or silvered his brow, who can yet recall, with a softened heart, the fond devotion or the gentle chidings of the best friend man has, his Mother.

The tie that links mother and child is of such pure and immaculate strength that it should never be violated.

A father may turn his back on his child, brothers and sisters may become deep-rooted enemies, husbands may desert their wives, wiven their husbands. But a mother's love endures through all, in good repute, in bad repute, in the face of the world's condemnation, a mother still loves on, and still hopes that her child may turn from his evil ways, and repent; still she remembers the infant smiles that once filled her bosom with rapture, the merry laugh, the joyful shout of his childhood, the opening promise of his youth; and she can never be brought to think him all unworthy.

And so we are reminded by national promotion that Sunday, May 14, is Mother's Day and that we should, in some tangible manner, assure our mother of our love and devotion.

But be reminded also that Mother's Day should be every day in the year.

'Tis some sort of record, it is

It's something of a record in both youth and adult activities in state organizations.

Fifty-two young people of Statesboro hold positions of leadership in the Georgia Future Teachers Association and the Student Georgia Education. They are Carole Jean Collins, state president; Danny Rushing, state president elect; Judy Chandler, college representative on the executive board; Jack Paul, member of the high school executive council and Ernie Campbell, state parliamentarian.

These young people were all elected to their positions at the annual state convention held in Atlanta on May 4-6.

We commend them upon their selection as leaders in an organization designed to promote the progress of the teaching profession.

The Lions Club says thanks to all

Members of the Statesboro Lions Club say "Thanks" to the people of Statesboro for their whole-hearted support of their broom and mop sale last week.

Proceeds from the sale of the brooms and mops enable the Lions Club to carry on their program of Sight Conservation for another year.

"We thank every citizen in Statesboro and Bulloch County who purchased a broom or mop. Your acceptance of this program will help us help many unfortunate children and senior adults of the city and county to see better. It also helped us help the blind workers of the state who made the brooms and mops.

"For your support, we say, 'Thanks'."

They'll dress up our community

Next weekend the City of Statesboro will belong to about four hundred lady visitors, when members of the Business and Professional Women's Clubs from fifty-two cities of Georgia meet here for their annual state convention.

It's the sort of meeting that our community loves. For say what one pleases, there's nothing that dresses up our city like four hundred ladies on a convention.

We tote our hat high into the air for the membership of the Statesboro BPW, for it is they who are responsible for the convention being held here. They are going all-out to make their fellow BPW members from all over Georgia feel "to home" here.

And it behooves the entire community to pitch in and give the Statesboro BPW its complete cooperation.

Are committees really needed?

The state senator from Lexington, Hamilton McWhorter Jr., sounded a warning cry recently about the fantastic number of interim committees created by the General Assembly.

His cry should not go unheeded. The taxpayer has little conception of the expense of these committees, many of which come up with recommendations that eventually find their way to the trash basket.

Chances are that the committees, which provide a $20 per diem pay and travel expenses for members, will cost well over a quarter of a million dollars. Last year the figure was $295,199, and there's no reason to believe this year will be less.

We agree with Sen. McWhorter that, had the general public realized the place where money is voted on last fall actually would have saved money by eliminating the special interim committee pay, the amendment would have been overwhelmingly approved.

The amendment should be re-submitted to the voters, along with a full-scale educational program to show them how the interim committees are costing.

At the same time, a thorough-going study should be made to determine just how many of the committees are really necessary. Of course, that'll probably mean setting up another committee to study the committees.

THE PET POPULATION in our household is decreasing. A short while ago, our menagerie numbered a parakeet, a hamster, two gold fish, two mud turtles, and a gopher. Today we have only the gold fish and the mud turtles.

When a student sets himself free from the demands of study, his freedom hurts him more than the strict discipline of an inquiring mind. (This realization may not come at the moment, but it will come.)

When parents, in frantic desperation, give in to the persistent cry of their children that "everybody is doing it," their lack of parental restraint and guidance is more hurtful to their children's future than the limitations placed upon them by experience and wisdom.

WHEN PEOPLE try to be Christian without surrendering to the discipline of Christian discipleship, their unrestricted freedom leads them either to a superficial understanding of the Christian faith, or to a pious fanaticism.

Long ago, St. Augustine made a statement which has caused some religionists to gasp: "Love God with all your heart, mind, and strength." Such an injunction cannot be taken lightly. There is a condition present: "Love God with all your heart, mind, and strength." This condition can be met when we go to "do as we please."

Somehow the Apostle Paul talks about being a "love-salve to Jesus Christ." Such is the paradox of spiritual freedom within the bounds of spiritual bondage. It is the only freedom that counts!

AA helps those who come seeking help

By DR. JOHN MOONEY

AN INTERESTING article by Clara Cox of the UPI carried in the Atlanta Constitution this week contained a review of a nationwide survey made by the Protestant Episcopal Church on the nature of the problems for which members seek ministerial guidance was the number one problem. Second was family difficulties followed by personal crises.

THE EPISCOPAL CHURCH has been a pioneer in seeking to understand and help the alcoholic. It is not surprising that this church should recognize alcoholism as a major source of disturbance in an individual's life.

Many other churches long accustomed to handling the alcohol problem in devious ways, are also revising their approaches and are trying to face alcoholism realistically. In the past each church had its own method, ranging from procedures which simply ignored or denied it, through efforts to whitewash or tolerate it, to measures for elimination of alcoholism by the expulsion of afflicted members.

Today most of the great churches have either accepted alcoholism as a disease or are working in that direction.

THE QUESTION of "which came first, the chicken or the egg" has always been a difficult one in the evaluation of a personal or family problem in a person who drinks.

Does a person drink because of domestic difficulties? Or does a difficult domestic situation cause excessive drinking?

As long as churches placed the emphasis on the individual or domestic problems and gave secondary attention to the drinking, satisfactory results were rare.

the editor's uneasy chair

The lady-folk do not have a monopoly on curiosity. We men-folk can be just as curious, but we sort of sublimate it and stand by and wait for the lady-folk to do the question-asking to satisfy our curiosity.

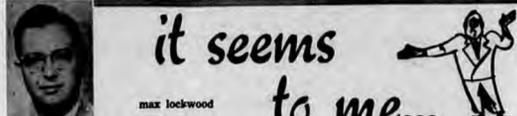

For a long time we've been curious about how much the ladies carry round in their hand bags. Last week our curiosity was appeased and it came about when the members of the Senior Citizens Club played a game at their April meeting. They called it "Who's got the most in the Bag?"

And Mrs. Hubert Mikell revealed that she was carrying a Coca Cola bottle and six THIRTY-SEVEN different items in her hand bag!

It would be interesting to know how many items the men-folk carry round in their briefcases.

FISHERMEN are a segment of our population apart from all other groups. And every week new evidence comes up confirming this assessment of them.

Recently we completed a garden pool in our back yard. We put some gold fish in it. Now, one of our neighbors makes a regular check on the activities of our gold fish. Know what? Sounds fantastic to us. He says that if the gold fish are moving around and active — that it's a good time to get

MANY AMERICANS these days are talking about Cuba. Not many of us really know too much about this neighbor of ours to the south and most of the information we do possess is often wrong or inaccurate.

The population of Cuba is something like just under 7 million people. The 1953 census showed that 57 percent of the people in Cuba lived in the cities. Of those who lived in the neighborhoods and in the rural areas. The 1953 census classified the population as 73 percent white, 13 percent Afro-American, 14 percent mixed, and 3 percent as Asian.

IN 1955 when the United States placed arms embargo on Cuba, President Fulbright Batista, who was the military dictator at that time, was unable to stop the revolt led by Castro until the help of arms and munitions which our government kept him from getting from any source.

The guerrilla force operating in the mountains of Eastern Cuba became a victorious army and was supplied with adequate military equipment from some unknown source. Batista fled to Portugal.

ON JANUARY 2, 1959, a new provisional government was established and Fidel Castro was appointed prime minister. Following the establishment of this new government came indiscriminate arrests, torture and executions.

Castro selected a communist medical student of Argentine birth to head his victorious forces marching into Havana and immediately upon taking office he declared the communist leader a native born Cuban so as to make him eligible for any governmental post.

THE CUBAN situation in so far as the United States is concerned is serious in that the rest of the world is going to watch to see just how far we will let Castro go before taking steps to stop him. It is not an easy decision to make and many mistakes have been made. Still we must keep confident that the President believes that our President is acting and will continue to act in the best interests of the American people. Actually there is little more we can do.

At the world shows that every living thing seems to think that this is the month for doing. A walk in the yard shows that new growth which seemed to be only an inch yesterday has added six inches today.

The trees, only a week or so ago, stood naked against the sky. Now, in May they seemed to have put on beautiful dresses.

THE BIRDS' plumage seems more brilliant than in any other year. Surely their young have never required so much food. Perhaps bird parents find May as trying as human parents. After all, searching for worms may be as hard work as baking a cake or making sand-

When one stops and thinks about the month of May, it is easy to understand why all these things happen. Spring is so beautiful for ten-reasonable rental—Fernandina Beach, Fla. Call 4-3515 in Statesboro after 6 p.m.

Nitrogen is key to lush home lawns

By ROY POWELL
County Agent

Applying adequate nitrogen to the lawn is the key to having green, lush grass around the home.

Nitrogen stimulates growth and gives the grass a dark green color. If the lime, phosphate, and potash requirements of a lawn are met by early application, the growth and green color of the grass is largely determined by the amount of nitrogen applied.

The amount of nitrogen to apply to your lawn depends upon the kind of grass and how green you want to have it. Zoysia, Saint Augustine, and Bermuda grasses have the highest nitrogen requirements. One to two pounds of actual nitrogen per thousand square feet should be applied six to eight weeks apart during the growing season.

SOYBEANS

Last year, the Georgia broiler industry used 900 million pounds of soybean meal to produce 100 million broilers.

Georgia soybean producers are now producing an average of 16 bushels of soybeans per acre. If Georgia were to try to meet even the broiler market demand for soybeans, it would take 960 thousand acres of the present yield levels.

The P-90 League and newly organized Babe Ruth League have been undergoing some rugged practice to get ready for their season openers in early June. The Babe Ruth League will open the 1961 season with Wayneboro on Tuesday, June 6. The P-90 League will be defending its District Championship of last year as they open with Wayneboro also on June 5, but this game will be in Statesboro.

The Little League has also been practicing up on their skills and their seasonal schedule got underway last week.

TUESDAY, MAY 2
LITTLE LEAGUE MINORS

The Legion 90, under the management of Pratt Hill, was able to edge out the Lions in a close opening game by a score of 6 to 5. The winning pitcher for the Legion team was Tommy Bailey while their leading batter was Dennis Deal, the second baseman, with two hits for three trips to the plate.

The losing pitcher was Tommy Renfrow who is also the manager for the Lions. Jimmy Sisson and Donald Long picked up the only two hits that the Lions collected.

In the other game the Rotary edged out the Jaycees by a score of 8 to 6. Mike Brannen was the winning pitcher for the Rotary. Zack Smith was the leading slugger for the winners with three hits for four trips to the plate. Clyde Redding managed this team.

In the other game the Rotary defeated the Lions by a score of 11 to 9 for their third straight victory. They are at present in a tie for first place with the Legion-90 who also have a three and no record.

In their game Ricky Lewis was the winning pitcher as well as the leading slugger at the plate with two hits for four trips. The pitcher who got the lion for the Lions was Jimmy Sisson. Johnny Barber was a leading batter with a record of two for two.

FRIDAY, MAY 5 LITTLE LEAGUE MAJORS

The Majors who have not yet established their team are still playing under the names of their current managers. In the first game Bill Kelly's team came out on top of a 10 to 2 decision over Gene Cariker's team. Stacy Webb was the winning pitcher for the victorious team while Robert Bowen was the leading batter with a perfect two for two.

James Pyle got the loss on the mound for the losers. Cariker's team was only able to collect three hits between all of them and they were collected by Bill Hook, James Pyle, and Jimmy Sisson.

In the other game Ronald Barnes' team chalked up a 17 to 4 score against Bill Storey's team in the six-inning contest. Manager Barnes was the winning pitcher for his team while Ricky Hendrix was strongest at the plate with three hits for six times at bat.

Gene Osborne was the losing pitcher on Storey's team while the heavy batting was done by

Ag College joins Soil Stewardship Week observance

By ROY POWELL, County Agent
The University of Georgia College of Agriculture is joining with other agencies and departments in sponsoring the importance of soil as a basic resource during Soil Stewardship Week, May 7-14.
Dean C. Murray pointed out that in becoming an urban people, we have in many cases forgotten our close association with and dependence upon the soil.
The tremendous strides agriculture has made in contributing to economic growth and advancement of the country are attributable to the stewardship of farmers in caring for and improving the soil, he said.
The Cooperative Extension Service of the College of Agriculture is sponsoring the Soil Stewardship Week observance in Bulloch County and throughout the nation May 7-14.
"People have always recognized their dependence upon the soil for the food and fiber to maintain life," he pointed out. "A look at the history of this observance will show this." Rogation Days were the beginning of this observance, which has grown to be a week-long recognition of the importance of the soil to the people and security of the nation, he said.
This history can be traced back as far as the year 470, the county agent continued.
In this year the people of Vienna, France, were suffering because crops had failed and hunger was widespread. The people, depending on the fruits of their soil each year, had scanty reserved and little money.
The scene shifts from North to South as the lives of the people are unfolded. When the great decision comes, Lincoln, again played by Danny Bray has a famous speech that he makes in the form of a prayer. "On Behalf of His Despaired People."
After the trial and the hanging of John Brown his ghostly echo is heard warning the people of the disaster that is to follow. The verse speaking choir adds much to this scene. The members of the choir play a major part in the production.

'DOWN-TO-EARTH'

"DOWN TO EARTH" By WENDELL BRANNEN Marvin Pittman School Statesboro, Georgia
Conservation means intelligent utilization of our resources today and their maintenance for the uses of our children tomorrow. The battle to save our soil must be won on each individual farm. It concerns everyone whether on the farm or in the city. The soil conservation battle is our battle.
Fertile soil keeps us alive. We need food, clothing, and shelter in order to live. Our soil gives us all three. All our food comes from the soil. Some directly such as fruits, and some indirectly such as meat, eggs, and milk. Since cotton gets clothes from the soil, our houses, barns, schools, and churches are all partly made from wood which comes from the soil. These raw materials keep the factories running and factories hire men.

Before we started cultivating our land we had an average of nine inches of topsoil. Today only about 5 inches remain. But now we have waked up to this fact. It takes about 500 to 1,000 years to restore 1 inch of this valuable topsoil. We destroyed nature's protective covering by cutting down forest and plowing up the land. This caused erosion of our topsoil. But today we have experimented and found many ways of preventing erosion, such as contour plowing and terracing, strip cropping, and farm drainage.
Soil conservation is everybody's battle. Only by going "all out" for conservation of our resources — and foremost our soil — can we keep Georgia beautiful and the true Empire State of the South.

BULLETIN:

Chemical "policeman" in today's Super Shell guards against gum-fouled carburetors — to give your car top performance

One special ingredient among the nine in today's Super Shell gasoline is a gum preventive.
Like a policeman dealing with a mob, it works to keep unstable elements from clotting together. Hence no gum problem. Result: top performance.

USE SHELL BULLETIN

Imagine an ingredient so effective that only one thousandth of an ounce is enough to treat a gallon of gasoline.
This tiny drop is all today's Super Shell needs to stave off gum troubles that can hamper your car's performance.
Gum forms when even the purest gasolines are held in storage. Unstable elements in the fuel combine chemically with oxygen and with each other. The later is what scientists call polymerization (a good thing if you want to make plastic, but not if you want top performance from your gasoline).
Shell tackles the situation with a special inhibitor that is designed to keep gum from forming.
Where the trouble strikes
Gum usually ends up on sensitive carburetor parts, where it can foul the automatic choke and raise hobb with a car's air-fuel mixture.
Too rich a mixture can waste gallons of gasoline. Too weak a mixture can burn valves. Either way, gum troubles cost money.
In extreme cases, gum can even stick your intake valves. This means a rough and noisy engine — lost power — and perhaps an expensive repair job.
To say that Super Shell's chemical "policeman" protects your pocketbook is an understatement.
How the "policeman" works
Shell's special anti-gum ingredient is an oxidation inhibitor. It helps keep unstable elements in the gasoline from sticking together — just the way a skilled policeman prevents trouble by keeping a crowd from forming.
As a result your engine is cleaner — for maximum power, maximum mileage. All of which adds up to top performance.
This is just one of the special jobs done by the 9 ingredients in Super Shell to give your car top performance. You owe it to your car to learn what each of the others can do for you, too.

#2 is TCP for power, mileage and longer plug-life
Today's Super Shell now contains an even better version of this famous additive. Its name is cresyl-diphenyl-phosphate.
TCP additive can give your car up to 15 per cent more power, up to 17 extra miles per tankful, and can make spark plugs last up to twice as long.
New TCP does this by neutralizing certain effects of combustion deposits. It is scientifically formulated to keep them from glowing when hot—a major cause of power loss. Also from diverting your spark—a major cause of "misfing".

#3 is "cat-cracked" gasoline for power with a purr
This is petroleum that has actually cracked under 500-degree heat and catalytic action, heavier molecules have been shattered into lighter ones.
The result is a super-octane ingredient that makes your engine run smoother and quieter.
You might think that two high-octane ingredients are enough for knock-free performance. But Shell's scientists have ears like musicians.
They insist on adding a special anti-knock mix, a mix so effective, one teaspoon per gallon can boost anti-knock rating by five points.
This has the tricky job of regulating combustion so that Super Shell gives each piston a firm, even push — rather than a sharp blow which would cause a knock.

#6 is Butane for quick starts on cold mornings
Butane is so eager to get going that Shell keeps it under pressure 400 feet below ground so it can boil up from vaporizing by itself.

#9 is Platformate for extra energy, more mileage
It takes eight million dollars' worth of platinum catalyst for Shell to produce Platformate. But fortunately this precious stuff can be used over and over again. The platinum re-forming process, which gives Platformate its old name, converts petroleum into super-energy components — such as benzene, xylene and toluene.
The three alone release 11 per cent more energy per gallon than 100-octane aviation gasoline. This is energy that shows up as extra mileage.

Test Super Shell for yourself
Try Super Shell next time you fill up. You'll soon feel and hear a difference in the way your engine runs. That difference is top performance.

#7 is Pentane mix for fast warm-up on cold days
Pentanes are made by tearing gasoline apart, much as you split kindling to start a log fire.
In this case, the "logs" are petroleum's heavier hydrocarbons. A special process transforms their molecules from slow-burning "logs" into the quicker-burning "kindling."
NET RESULT: Fast warm-up and top performance in a hurry.

#8 is an "anti-icer" to check cold-weather stalling
Super Shell's formula is adjusted up to eight times a year to beat the weather. For example, when ever the temperature is likely to be less than forty-five degrees, a carburetor anti-icer is added.
Why add anti-icer at forty-five degrees? Because, even then, frost can form in your carburetor just as it does in your refrigerator. It can stall your engine.

Stilson farmers have rough time planting, replanting

By MRS. W. H. MORRIS
Most of the farmers here have completed their planting and the planting-over of their crops. It was reported to me that some farmer planted his tobacco over the third time. Up until now, we have had very unusual weather conditions for planting crops. The crops, on a whole are planted late. As a rule, late crops are made quickly, maybe not as much yield, but less working time until harvest.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Padgett of Savannah spent the weekend at their country home here. Mrs. D. L. Morris, of Brooklet spent several days last week here with the W. H. Morris family.

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Beasley and Mrs. C. S. Proctor have returned after spending a weekend in Washington, D. C. Mr. and Mrs. James Morris and Gary spent Friday night and Saturday in Savannah where they visited relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Rayburn Strickland and Miss Carol Morrison and her girl friend and Walter Strickland of Garden City were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Shurling and Mrs. Fannie E. Miss Trina Davis off to Miss Georgia Pageant

Statesboro's chances of scoring another victory in the Joyce sponsored Miss Georgia Pageant this weekend in Columbus, Ga., depend entirely on a vibrant and beautiful blonde freshman at Georgia Southern College, Miss Trina Davis.

Miss Davis won over fourteen other beauties in the Miss Statesboro Pageant last October to get the chance to carry the banner for Statesboro and Bulloch County.

Statesboro's last effort in this direction was late in the forties when Gwen West represented Statesboro and came "home" as "Miss Georgia." She later represented the state in the Miss America Pageant in Atlantic City.

The winner of the Miss Georgia Pageant will earn some $200 during the year of her reign and will again make the tour to Atlantic City with fame and fortune as the prize for her beauty and talent.

Miss Davis, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Davis of Albany, is nineteen years old, 5'9", and a farm girl. Her father has 7,000 caged layers, large acreages in corn, cotton and peanuts and she is not sure whether the life of a school-teacher offers greater rewards than that of being a fulltime housewife.

She is a 1960 graduate of Albany High School, played basketball and was a member of the Trinity Methodist Church in Albany.

Accompanying Miss Davis to Columbus are Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Hagin, Mr. and Mrs. Don McDougald, Miss Margaret Stevens and Tracy Rivers. Mrs. Hagin is Trina's official chaperone and represents the Statesboro Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The first event of the three day pageant will be a presentation of the 39 lovely ladies on Thursday night when Miss Davis will be in "Evening Gown" competition. On Friday evening she appears in a swim suit competition which has been loaned to her by the sportswear company.

Marvin Pittman seventh, eighth grades break camp at Labjoy

Marvin Pittman's seventh and eighth grades broke camp Wednesday after a full week of outdoor education "in the Camp Labjoy on the Tattall Methodist Camp Grounds near Manassas."
A visit with the campers on Tuesday revealed exciting scenes of youngsters learning and doing in numbers of ways spread out over the camp grounds.
The first striking scene was that of a small group of boys and girls assembled in the huge open-air tabernacle quietly and reverently rehearsing their vesper program for the evening. Their small voices drifting through the high tabernacle echoed the truth of their heritage - the freedom to live and learn and worship.
The still quiet of the moment was suddenly interrupted by the excited voices of a red-headed freckle-faced seventh-grader bent over a microscope in the center of another group study. "I'm seeing a line to see the newly-discovered wonder."
Another group across the way was busy going about the task of evaluating their activities for the day.
In the kitchen about a dozen eighth-grade students were preparing supper, their excited voices mingling with the sounds of sizzling hamburgers and the clatter of pots and pans.
At the same time another very different activity was in progress at the other end of the dining hall. Several boys and girls were taping the activities of their group for the day. The doings of the day would be recorded and played back to the whole group as "newscasts" during their snack before bedtime.
When the camp store opened, there was a sudden rush of children from every nook and corner of the Camp. A dozen voices asked at once, "How much have I got left in the bank?" A student teacher, majoring in business, quickly ran down a balance sheet and informed them one by one. And they quickly wrote their checks and made their purchases.
Later in the evening, the students' principal, J. A. Pafford, arrived with a visitor, Pio S. Tejada from the Philippines. A graduate student at the University of International Cooperation Administration.
After a tour of the Camp and observation of activities, Tejada remarked, "I believe this is one of the most practical types of education that can be given to a child to provide him with well-rounded training."
Tejada was

By DALE JENSEN
WHY DON'T we have soccer as a popular sport in Statesboro? Soccer is one of the most widely played and followed sports over the entire world. Why then, is Statesboro devoid of soccer? Well, we imagine the answer is that we have simply not been exposed to soccer as a sport, and having adequate substitute in other sports like volleyball, baseball, football, and basketball, we have no need to go after soccer.
Why isn't music a part of our average school day? We live as well include art, too. Why don't our children have the opportunity to learn the skills and techniques of, and thus appreciate for, these fine arts? The only two possible answers are either that we have adequate substitutes for the arts, and thus have no need for them, or that we have never been exposed to them, and thus do not know what we are missing.

HD Club members back home from Washington, D. C.

By MRS. W. L. ZETTEROWER

Thirty-nine members of Home Demonstration Clubs, representing 19 counties in Georgia, returned from a week's trip to Washington, D. C., and broke... but happy. They had spent the week as the first group of Home Demonstration members to go on such a mission, of studying "The meaning of Citizenship in a Democracy," "Our International Responsibilities," "What It Means to be a Good Citizen," and "Washington, the Heart of the World." Speakers heard were: Grant Shrum, Executive Director of the National 4-H Foundation; W. W. Eare, Associate Director; Dr. Glenn C. Dildine, Human Relations; Warren E. Schmidt, Coordinator, IFYE; John Duncan, of Georgia Assistant Secretary of Agriculture; and others.

In his talk to the group at the U. S. District of Agriculture Building, Mr. Duncan stated that it is better to send a boat load of food than a boat of arms to a foreign nation. He warmly welcomes the Georgia group to the Capitol.

After a full week of study and tours, the lovely banquet on Thursday night climaxed the week, when the group entertained Georgia officials in Washington. Their distinguished guests included U. S. Senator and Mrs. Herman E. Talmadge, Congressman and Mrs. Elliott E. Forrester, Third District of Leesburg; Congressman and Mrs. J. L. Pilcher, Second District of Meigs; Congressman and Mrs. E. Forrester, Third District of Leesburg; Congressman and Mrs. J. W. Davis, Seventh District of Sumnerville; and Congressman, Robert G. Stephens, 10th District of Athens.

Senator Talmadge addressed the ladies and guests. He spoke of the pleasure at meeting with such a large group of Georgians and related many happenings of interest that had transpired with in the Nation's Capitol.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. L. C. Seagraves, president of the Georgia Home Demonstration Council in June. Mrs. Seagraves, who conducted the trip with Miss Ross, Mrs. Seagraves were presented lovely orchids for the occasion. They were on the Washington Tour from the First District in Mrs. Rupert W. Bazemore, 120 Ramey Avenue, Savannah, Ga., Mrs. Robert, 167 Varnedoe Avenue, Savannah, Ga., and Mrs. W. L. Zetterower, Jr., Statesboro, Ga., Route No. 1.

The Bishop of Vienna called for prayer and penance on the three days preceding Ascension Day.

Other communities soon took up the observance from France and the custom of Rogation Days - days of giving thanks to God for His bountiful gifts for His continued blessings spread throughout the world.

In America, Rogation Days are the calendar of many churches.

Some 15 years ago a renewed and more widespread interest in the observance was fostered in the United States by the publishers of Farm and Ranch magazine. They suggested to a few religious leaders that one Sunday in each year be recognized nationally as a time to remind all church members of their obligations to their Creator in being a good steward of his soil and water resources.

By 1954 the observance had grown to nationwide proportions. Among the leading laymen who worked for this goal were the non-salaried Soil Conservation District officials in all the states. Knowing first hand of the importance of man's relationship and dependence upon soil and water, these farmers and ranchers with the leadership of their clergy were helpful in reawakening a spiritual response to the responsibilities of the steward of the soil.

In 1954 the publishers of the magazine offered to relinquish their limited sponsorship of the Stewardship Sunday, later to become Soil Stewardship Week, to the National Association of Soil Conservation Districts. This organization's prime purpose is the conservation and development of land and water resources of the nation through organized local community effort.

Since that time the NASCD has continued to work with church leaders and other agricultural organizations and agencies in promoting the observance of Soil Stewardship Week.
