Our College Gives Entertainment

THEY WERE professional in quality. They were delightful entertainment. And they were by young people.

On Monday and Tuesday nights of last week and Monday and Thursday nights of this week, The Masquers, dramatic club of the college, presented Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night" at the Community Center.

The presentation departed from the usual play. There was no scenery, no footlights. Acting was without the usual aids. The stage was an octagonal arrangement in the center of the Community Center building. Seats were arranged around the "arena." Actors made their entries and exits in darkness. The only lights were those directly overhead.

The acting, the costumes, the settings, all were by college students.

The entire performance was excellent. Miss Dorothy Stewart, who directed the production, is to be commended upon her accomplishment with this group of young people.

It was on Thursday night of last week that the division of music at the college presented a musical production with traditional lightness, with love and music and happiness all shining through.

With Dr. Ronald Neil as musical director, and Miss Dorothy Stewart as dramatic instructor, the students went through the lovely music, the comic situations, and sprightly dialogue of Victor Herbert's "The Red Mill" with professional ease and aplomb.

The properties, the settings, the lights, the acting and singing, were all by college students.

Victor Herbert would have been pleased.

We commend Dr. Neil and Miss Stewart on this fine work.

The people of Statesboro should appreciate these performances and support them. There are other forms of entertainments the young people offer—band concerts, basketball games, baseball coming up... all deserving of our support and applause.

Looking to Youth

AN ANNOUNCEMENT was made last week that five former Georgia 4-H Club members have been named to participate in the 1952 International Farm Youth Exchange Program as "grass roots diplomats of international good will."

Sarah Kathryn Adkins of Crisp county, Cordie Harold Joiner of Laurens county, Robert Wallen Jones of Union county, Carol Sirmans of Berrien county, and Hansel Lee Wilson of Bartow county will sail sometime in June for European countries after an intensive orientation course in Washington. These young people will be commissioned as "grass roots diplomats" before they leave Washington.

These "diplomats" will visit in homes and in various European countries. They will try to determine the opinion these people have of us Americans. They will learn how they feel toward Communism... how they feel toward Communism.

While these five youth with 4-H Club background are visiting in Europe there will be five young people from foreign countries to spend three to six months in the United States living, working and playing with our farm families. Seeing how their American friends live and work.

Now in its fifth year, the International Farm Youth Exchange is a project for young people from farms in the U. S. to live and work on farms in other countries and for farm youth from these countries to come here and observe rural life.

We think it a great thing. We think we must look to our youth in working out the problems of our country—we older ones seem to have made pretty much of a mess of things.

We wish them luck.

On Presidential Primaries

THE BUSINESS of presidential primaries is confusing to many Americans. In the first place, only 16 of the 48 states stage primaries to choose delegates to the conventions. Most of the other 32 states choose their delegates in party conventions in the states. In a number of these states, the delegates are chosen by the party machine in power in that state.

It is accurate to say that almost half of the delegates to a national party convention, which total number approximates 1200, are selections of politicians in power in the states from which they come. Thus the nomination of a candidate, in either the Republican or Democratic convention, is left to the politician as much as it is to the voters.

Of the 16 states in which primaries are held, New Hampshire's primary, which is on March 11, is first. Next comes Minnesota, then Nebraska, Wisconsin, Illinois, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts and so on. It is in these 16 states where primaries are held that the presidential candidates have an opportunity to put their personalities on the voting market to get an indication of their potential appeal in November. They also provide voters in states where no primaries are held an idea of the popularity of the various candidates.

The results of the primaries in these 16 states are not necessarily conclusive, since delegates are not bound to support the winning candidate in a majority of cases. As in the case of the Electoral College, where electors are not legally bound to vote for the presidential candidate with the majority vote in the home state of the elector, the delegate is likewise not bound to cast his vote in convention for the candidate with the majority in his home state.

The entire presidential election, in fact, becomes rather confusing when one goes into it. From the first to the last the voter does not have a chance to vote on a presidential candidate. In the first instance, at best, he votes for delegates to the convention. In the final analysis, he votes for a slate of electors who are not pledged to support any particular candidate. It is one of the curious ways of a democracy—a way which is always subject to change by constitutional methods—Eastman Times-Journal.

Hail to the Champs

IT WAS a great weekend for the people of Stilson.

Their young people really "went to town."

And for them we throw our battered hat way, high into the air.

Last week we gave it a tossing over the Stilson girls winning the Georgia Class C girls' basketball championship.

Now the Stilson boys came along and did the same thing.

Saturday night in Macon they defeated the highly-favored Montezuma High School by a squeeze score of 53 to 52 to capture the Georgia Class C boys' basketball championship.

While the high school boys were winning fame and glory for the Stilson community, the "town boys" were in Savannah defeating the strong Union Bag and Paper Company's basketball team for the J. A. C. tournament championship.

These three teams must have set up some sort of record in basketball championship annals.

We join the citizens of the Stilson community in congratulating their young folk.

And in doing so we shout again, "Hail the Champs" and fling our hat high into the air.

Cheers For Jere Fletcher

WHILE OUR HAT is in our hand, we toss it up again—still for the youth of our community.

Word reached us Tuesday morning that Jere Fletcher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fletcher and a junior in high school, won first prize in the First District Oratorical Contest held Monday night in Savannah under the auspices of the American Legion. He was awarded $25 in cash and a gold medal.

He will now compete in the 15th annual area contest.

Young Fletcher is a popular student at school. He is an Eagle Scout, and was a valuable cog in the Blue Devil football team.

We join his friends in congratulating him on his accomplishment.

And so our beat-up hat goes high in the air for Jere.

MARCH 15TH RULES
It's a mean job. You don't want to do it. You're unhappy about it. You got to do it. So, you go about it grimly—tolling through the tedious business of filling out your income tax form—wondering if your share will go into the pocket of some stinking person who has managed to get into a position where he can get his sticky fingers on it.

And that's what makes you unhappy. We believe that the average American citizen, like you, you, you, and you, would not mind paying his just share in the cost of running our great nation.

But it burns us up to know that a large portion of our earnings finds its way into the hands of an unscrupulous group which has no interest in the welfare of our country or its citizens.

ALL'S FAIR By Jane

Blindfold your eyes, tie up your head. Put cotton in your ears, play like you're deaf; Clamp a clothespin tight on your nose.

For the odor you smell doesn't come from your nose. It's crime investigation and million dollar steaks; Men, rotten to the core, pulling off crooked deals.

The taxpayer's money, hard-earned dollars—Gets awful dirty, and nobody holds.

Unless a miracle takes place there is very little hope For the sort of cleaning up that requires lye soap.

Right here in Georgia we've got a man Who can do the job if anybody can. Senator Dick Russell, whose hat is in the ring, Is capable and fearless. He can smash THE THING!

"WE ARE MET ON FORM 1040"
Maybe while you are filling out your 1040, if you have not already so, you'll get a dry grin out of the following taxpayer's parody of Abe Lincoln's Gettysburg Address which is going the rounds:

"One score and 19 years ago, our fathers brought forth upon this nation a new tax, conceived in desperation and dedicated to the proposition that all men are fair game. Now we are engaged in a great mass of calculations, testing whether this taxpayer, or any taxpayer so confused and so impoverished, can long endure.

"We are met on Form 1040. We have come to dedicate a large portion of our income to a final resting place with those men who here spend their lives that they may spend our money. It is altogether anguish and torture that we should do this. But, in a larger sense, we cannot evade, we cannot cheat, we cannot underestimate this tax. The collectors, clever and sly, who compute here, have gone far beyond our poor power to add and subtract.

"Our creditors will little now long remember what we pay here, but the Bureau of Internal Revenue can never forget what we report here.

"It is not for us, the taxpayers, to question the tax which the Government has thus far ignobly spent. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us—that from these vanishing dollars we take increased devotion to the few remaining—that we here highly resolve that next year will not find us in the higher income bracket, that this taxpayer, underpaid, shall figure out more deductions, and that this tax of the people by the Congress, for the Government, shall not cause solvency to perish."

But little shopping is needed away from home. Our stores carry the same clothes, furniture, and appliances which may be found elsewhere. And our salespeople here know us, our figures, our pocketbooks, and they certainly show a more personal interest in us.

As we thought over these good-natured remarks, we came to mind an account which we had received from a friend of ours, an account of his friends visit to a town in another state, a town in which the social life turned too much upon round of parties at which bridge was played for money, of the daily cocktail hour at five for jaded spirits, of conversations which revolved around only the sordid details of divorce, liaisons, or the children of broken homes.

Later, after mulling and grieving over the picture which my friend's account detailed, I asked a friend here: "Could it be that I am just naive, don't get around much, and don't know the life of Statesboro?" Or am I right in believing that Statesboro is different. This friend assured me that I was right—Statesboro is different.

Here we work, here we play, here we love each other. We need to be awakened to more service that we can render our fellow man; we must continually strive to improve our imperfections. But we challenge anybody to show us a finer place than our Statesboro.

Research reports show that there is a 50 percent or greater risk of a severe drought every year in Georgia during some part of the crop-growing season. Irrigation systems on farms can help to overcome the danger of crop losses, according to Extension Service workers.

Our City No Utopia —But One of Best

By VIRGINIA RUSSELL

AT THE Presbyterian Church last Sunday there were representatives from the different churches in town who had come to welcome to our city the new Presbyterian pastor, Mr. Lamar Wainwright. As he most appropriately greeted and welcomed the new pastor and citizens to our community, each speaker spoke enthusiastically of our town and the harmony and good-will which prevail among its various denominations.

As we sat there and listened we knew that no perfect state existed here, that there are many needed improvements, that even our relationships must be improved, and that a deeper understanding among all of us is needed. But, our line of thought continued, all of us strive for Utopia, and this side of Utopia, we contend, Statesboro can't be beat. We are conscious of our shortcomings, and steps are being made all along to bring about the needed improvements.

This is not exactly a new thought to us. We've been thinking this for 20 years—Statesboro is a great place in which to live.

First of all, considering the climate. For just plain all the year round climate Statesboro has no equal. (There is just enough gnats and mosquitoes to make us appreciate that part of the year when they don't bother us.) For six more months of the year the weather is pleasant enough for outdoor eating and picnicking. Nor do we have to buy extremely heavy clothes for winter. And the fuel bill is one-half to one-fourth as much as it is for our more northern cousins.

Bulloch county is a farming section, which means that the people who make up our population are fine, substantial, and steady folks. (Farm people are the "cream of the crop," and we know it.)

The Georgia Teachers College certainly contributes to the cultural life of our community. Faculty and students make contributions to the church life and the activities of the civic organizations. Speakers who come to the College bring in leaving from the outside. Student productions in drama, music, and art are excellent. Fine cooperation of town and college makes possible the concert series.

Our distance from Savannah enables us to attend concerts and good plays of the city. Nancy Hanis places us near Atlanta, Macon, and Savannah, should we be bitten by the shopping bug. Our buses can whisk us over these and to Augusta.

But little shopping is needed away from home. Our stores carry the same clothes, furniture, and appliances which may be found elsewhere. And our salespeople here know us, our figures, our pocketbooks, and they certainly show a more personal interest in us.

FARM BUREAU NEWS

Best Methods of Growing Corn Discussed at Farm Bureau Meetings

The best known methods of growing corn in Georgia were discussed at several Farm Bureau meetings last week. John B. Preston, extension agronomist, of Tifton, and Coker 811 for corn, and motion pictures on corn production were shown at other meetings.

Mr. Preston urged the use of Coker 811 and Coker 811 for corn. The Dixie 18 is about the best yellow variety for this section, and the Dixie 17 is one of the best, if not the best, soft corn to plant for early hog feed.

Mr. Preston presented data to show that the yields were consistently higher with Dixie 17 over some of the other soft corns, and that it would be profitable to wait 10 to 15 days for it to mature because of the higher yielding ability.

Mr. Preston urged the use of higher grades of fertilizer than formerly used on corn. Something equal to 4-8-8 is best. On fair to good land where corn does not follow a heavily fertilized crop, the use of 500 to 600 pounds of 4-8-8 and 340 pounds of nitrate of soda, or its equivalent, if a yield of 20 to 25 bushels is expected in this area. There should be 7,000 to 8,000 plants per acre of land to warrant this practice, it was said.

always notifies both his county Forestry Unit and his adjoining landowners whenever he plans any sort of controlled burning. The good neighbor is the wise neighbor who waits for rain, somewhat damp days to burn his brush and trash. He waits until after 4 p. m. to burn, he blows a firebreak, and he has adequate tools and help in case his fire gets out of control.

Good neighbors notify their County Forestry Unit when they see wildfires on another person's property, and in times of emergency they help by directing fire-fighting vehicles to roads easily accessible to the wildfire area.

Most of our Bulloch county citizens are good neighbors. Are you?

Are you a good neighbor? That's the question the Bulloch County Forestry Unit asks citizens of this county as we enter into another week of one of this area's most potentially dangerous forest fire seasons.

The good neighbor in Bulloch county is easily recognizable. He respects and protects his neighbor's property as he does his own. He knows, also, that it takes more than a fence to stop a wildfire. That's why, when he burns trash, brush, or debris, he takes every precaution to keep the fire under control on his own land.

The good neighbor in our county knows that one fire, carelessly set, or left to burn uncontrolled, can cross property lines and destroy trees, crops, pastures, and even buildings.

The good neighbor in our county helps put the Red Cross drive over because the organization did so much for him and others who were in prison camps during the war.

John F. Spence asked the group to make certain it was ready for the Bloodmobile visit to Brooklet on March 31, when 200 pints of blood is expected from that area.

James F. Spence showed a net of blood in picture on forest management, playing the part of the-

Bulloch Future Farmers Of America Honor Members Who Died In Service

By ED HOTCHKISS

CARROL E. MINICK
Brooklet, Ga.

Carrol Minick Dies Off Luzon In January 1945

Carrol E. Minick was a member of the Future Farmers of America at Brooklet High School four years before he graduated in 1937.

He attended Abraham Baldwin Agricultural College for two years, 1937-39. He went to the University of Georgia and graduated in 1941. For one year before entering the armed forces he taught vocational agriculture at Hazlehurst.

In July, 1942, he entered the armed forces and was commissioned an officer in Corpus Christi, Texas. He went overseas in October, 1944. His ship went down on January 15, 1945, off the coast of Luzon Island. His body was returned to the states and was buried in Arlington Cemetery on February 12, 1950.

His parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Minick, of Brooklet. He has one sister, Adenia Calhoun, of Haxley.

Under stately oaks overlooking the calm waters of Lake Jackson, Covington, Georgia, stands the Memorial Amphitheater erected as a lasting tribute to those Georgia Future Farmers of America and their advisers who served so nobly in World War II and dedicated especially to the 308 who gave their lives.

To those who learned loyalty and devotion to duty while helping build Georgia's FFA—and who kept faith with the red, white, and blue—the Memorial Amphitheater was solemnly dedicated in a ceremony at the state convention on Wednesday, August 1, 1951.

The idea of erecting a memorial to Future Farmers and advisers who served in the armed forces during World War II was conceived and approved by delegates to the annual state convention in 1946. It was one year later that building an outdoor theater at the FFA Camp was accepted as the Memorial project.

In the ensuing years Georgia FFA chapters—nearly 200 in all—have raised approximately $8,000 for this purpose. Their contributions have been on the basis of 85 cents per member.

At the back of the theatre is a bronze plaque, mounted on Stone Mountain granite, which bears the names of those who died. On the plaque is inscribed:

ERECTED BY GEORGIA FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA AS A LASTING TRIBUTE TO THOSE F.F.A. MEMBERS WHO SERVED SO NOBLY IN WORLD WAR II AND DEDICATED ESPECIALLY TO THOSE LISTED BELOW WHO GAVE THEIR LIVES.

Three Bulloch county F.F.A. members are included among those honored. They are Carrol Minick of Brooklet, John Gilbert Woodward of Stilson, and Jack Suddath of Portals, Ga.

This memorial serves as a reminder to those who visit the camp that the Georgia Association of Future Farmers of America are greatly indebted to those whose names are upon the plaque for what they have done for their country and the perpetuation of Americanism.

Lasting Tribute TO CARROL MINICK JOHN GILBERT WOODWARD JACK SUDDATH

Out of the fathomless deep, Out from the world beyond, Loving memories come. Memories come of Georgia's sons Who left us mid the sounding guns.

Here, within this natural beauty Amid trees reaching to the sky, We do not come to say goodbye, But, go to bring back old sweet memories Of you who left us in your manhood's prime. Who took the strange mysterious way Before your time.

Hallowed memories cluster 'round, The passing of you do make but sweeter The sacred bond.

Come close to us—loved ones, Gather 'round us now, we pray, Let us exchange the love we share With you this bright and glorious day.

Never will we cease to pour Our love and honor to that mystic shore Where you move about in glory, Wrapped in the mantle of the Spirit, Bound to us forevermore.

On History's eternal scroll You've made an everlasting mark. We dedicate this sacred places To you—for worship and for prayer—apart.

(R) R. N. Jones, FFA Adviser, Southwest Dekalb High School.

LT. JACK L. SUDDATH
Portals, Ga.

Jack Suddath Killed On Saipan On June 15, 1944

Lieut. Jack L. Suddath was graduated from Portals high school and entered the University of Georgia in 1941. Here he was a Blue Key man and was president of the Ag. Honor Club.

Before going into the Marines Lt. Suddath taught agriculture in the "Crows" and Alston public schools. His F.F.A. Club was his "pet project" and his work in F.F.A. was outstanding. Lt. Suddath was a Marine leader under Carlson, and was awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor for bravery in the battle of Tarawa. He was killed in action while leading a platoon in the landing on Saipan June 15, 1944.

Lt. Suddath was survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Suddath; his wife, the former Dorothy Moses, and one son Jack Jr.; two sisters, Mrs. Raymond Bates of Dalton and Mrs. Nath Holleman of Statesboro.

A devoutly religious young man Lt. Suddath was a leader in the Methodist Church. He also served as superintendent of the Sunday School.

A brilliant record of a useful life—a life crowded with honors and noble deeds, given in defense of the freedom and country he loved.

Statesboro Hi-Owl Sponsors FFA Page

This Future Farmers of America page is sponsored by the Statesboro High School newspaper, "The Hi-Owl." The copy was prepared and edited by members of the "Hi-Owl" staff. This issue is wholly dedicated to the three Bulloch county members of the F.F.A. who died in the service of their country during World War II.

The F.F.A. of Georgia and the nation honor the memory of Lt. Jack L. Suddath. May his young son emulate his distinguished father's record.

He had looked forward to a life of useful work and happiness. A member of the Stilson F.F.A. chapter, he was enthusiastic in the yearly project of the chapter and in all contests and other activities. He was scarcely 21 years of age when he gave up his life. This loss to our own country and to the generation of F.F.A. boys will be through the years a shrine of gratitude for liberty-loving Americans.

Salute TO GEORGIA COUNTIES

Sumter County
Progress and Providence
FOUNDED 1831
COUNTY SEAT, AMERICUS

Sumter's 22 distinct types of soil encourage a diversity of products—mainly peanuts, fruits, cotton and livestock. America is the home of Southwestern Junior College, South Georgia Trade and Vocational School, and varied industries—shirt factories, veneer plants, canneries, glass, lumber mills. One of Georgia's most historical spots is Andersonville Prison Park, where 13,741 Union soldiers are buried. Of great interest is "Providence Spring," believed by thirst-tortured Union prisoners to have been sent in direct answer to their prayers for water.

In this and other Georgia counties, the United States Brewers Foundation works constantly to maintain wholesome conditions where beer and ale are sold. Close attention is given areas near camps of the Armed Forces, and both military officials and Georgia law enforcement officers have commended the Foundation's self-regulation program. Retailer educational meetings offer sound suggestions for continued operation in the community's interest.

FOR JUDGE SUPERIOR COURT
 To the People of the Ogeechee Judicial Circuit:
 I hereby announce my candidacy for Judge of the Superior Court of the Ogeechee Judicial Circuit in the Democratic Primary to be held on May 14, 1952.
 I have practiced law in the circuit since my admission to the bar in 1939 with the exception of the years spent in the Army in World War II. My practice has largely consisted in the trial of civil and criminal cases, which experience has, I believe, qualified me to perform the duties of a trial judge.
 If elected, I will preside in the trial of jury cases with fairness to all parties and conduct the business of the Courts in an efficient, prompt, and just manner.
 I will hear all motions and petitions addressed to the Court at the Court House in the County where the same is pending through parties, witnesses, and their attorneys of the traveling to the City of the Judge's residence. I will give parties and their counsel a respectful hearing and render an immediate decision based on the law in the case.
 In criminal cases where the Judge is authorized to fix the punishment, I will award sentences proportionate to the severity of the offense committed, seeking always to punish the guilty fairly and to protect the innocent.
 I feel that the only promise a candidate for Judge can make is that he will administer justice without respect to person and do equal rights between all parties. To this end I pledge you every effort of which I am capable.

FOR CONGRESS
 Subject to the rules adopted by the State Democratic Executive Committee and the rules adopted by the First District Democratic Executive Committee, I hereby announce my candidacy for re-election as Representative in the Congress of the United States in the forthcoming Democratic Primary to be held on May 14, 1952.
 In again seeking the Democratic nomination, I wish to express my sincere appreciation for the loyal support and cooperation given me by the people of the First District. It is again honored and privileged to serve as your Representative, and I will exert every effort to render satisfactory service through the facilities of the office and will conscientiously endeavor to reflect the philosophy and convictions of those I represent in my official action in the halls of Congress.
 Respectfully,
PRINCE H. PRESTON, M.C.

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENT
 To the Voters of Bulloch County:

ALGIE E. TRAPNELL
 Sincerely yours,

Bulloch Primary Rules Formulated

The Bulloch County Democratic Executive Committee in session here Saturday set primary and caucus entry dates to coincide with those set by the state committee.

John D. Lanier, chairman of the county committee, presided at the meeting. Saturday morning held in the county courthouse, the primary date was set for May 14 and the caucus date for candidates March 22. The qualifying fee for representative in the general assembly was set at $55.

The committee ruled that it would not be necessary for a candidate to appear at the caucus, but the two high men would be deleted the nominees. There will be no primaries unless a tie develops.

JOE NEVILLE NOT TO BE LEGISLATURE CANDIDATE

Joe Neville announced today that he will not be a candidate for representative from Bulloch county in the Georgia General Assembly in the May 14 primary. He states that at the present time the responsibilities connected with his law practice and his civic duties through the Junior Chamber of Commerce will demand his full attention.

It is understood from other sources that Everett Williams, who served as senator from this district at the last session of the legislature, may be a candidate for the Georgia House of Representatives.

Algie Trappnell has already said he will not be a candidate for the general assembly.

Duo-Pianists Appear As Concert Series Ends

Vera Appleton and Michael Field, brilliant young American duo-pianists, will appear in concert at Teachers College auditorium on Wednesday, March 26.

Vera Appleton and Michael Field, brilliant young American duo-pianists, will appear in concert at the T. C. auditorium on Wednesday, March 26. This appearance highlights the ninth season of this keyboard team which is one of the most heavily booked musical attractions on the North American concert stage.

The Appleton-Field career has constantly been linked with pioneer undertakings in the keyboard ensemble field. They made the first attempt to record to survey the repertoire of original keyboard music for four hands. They were also the first in this country to perform "Salve Dance," the juke-box hit.

Miss Appleton, a gifted pianist as well as a piano prodigy, turned down an offer for a modeling career to devote herself to music. Mr. Field was a popular song composer before settling down to a "long-hair" musical career. One of his songs once placed first on the Hit Parade. Until his concert career claimed all his time, he was editor for a well-known jazz publishing firm.

Since teaming up as piano duo, Miss Appleton and Mr. Field have played more than 500 concerts in leading cities throughout North America. They have appeared with many leading symphony orchestras, as radio guests stars, and are each summer at New York's famed Juillard School of Music, both of them being graduates of that school.

Chamber Of Commerce Honors Georgia's Basketball Champs

The Statesboro and Bulloch County Chamber of Commerce honored the members of the boys' and girls' basketball teams of Stilson High School at its regular meeting here Tuesday of this week at the Norris Hotel.

These two basketball teams won Georgia's Class C basketball championship in both the boys' and girls' division in the tournament held in Macon recently.

S. A. Driggers, who climaxed his 26-year coaching career at Stilson when his two teams won the championships, presented the champions to the Statesboro and Bulloch county businessmen.

He reviewed the tournament record of the two teams, expressing the delight of the citizens of the Stilson community over their school being the only one in Georgia ever to win both championships in one year in their class. He expressed his appreciation to the Chamber of Commerce for the honor they paid them.

Following the presentation Mrs. W. A. Groover presented a musical program by the Stilson High School chorus. In addition to the members of the chorus there were Kate Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Adams; Drusella Gilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgison Gilson; Polly A. King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lehman Atkins; and Loretta Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Smith.

More than $500 in cash, bonds, and prizes will go to the winners. A deluxe bicycle is the grand prize. Entrants will be accepted until March 21. They must be 14, 15, 16 or 17 years old to enter.

Refreshments will be served to all attending the race from 2 to 6 p. m.

Red Cross Over $1,000 In Drive

With only one rural community complete, the first returns on the 1952 Red Cross drive shows contributions amounting to more than $1,000, according to W. G. Cobb, county drive chairman.

The annual drive for funds began the first week in March with contributions named in all sections of the county.

Mr. Cobb in making his report stated that the Ogeechee community has completed the drive and has turned in funds amounting to 150 per cent of their quota.

He said, "We still have a long way to go to complete our quota, but we feel sure that Bulloch county will make it."

He added that the committee chairman urged the members of the committee who are working to complete their communities. He urges everyone who has not yet made his contribution to do so when called upon.

"Know that when you give to the Red Cross you are giving it for a wonderful cause," Mr. Cobb said. He stated that the general efforts will be made as they come in.
