One of the big reasons, they will tell you, is they can always get a GMC that's exactly "engineed" for their particular kind of work.

There is no need for a GMC owner to strain away with an underpowered truck—or lose profit to a gas eater unsuited to its job.

To The Peanut Grower

The East Georgia Peanut Company has always tried to be helpful to the peanut growers of this section. We have at all times supported them in their efforts for high support price and their efforts to prevent cuts in peanut acreage allotments; also, to secure a grading and inspection system fair to the farmers and millers.

We think we should tell you, before you plant your crop, something about your support program you will have this Fall.

We do not like this new program, and we do not think you will. It was prepared by PMA (there is always a possibility of change) and it will be as follows:

- The support price of Runners will be about $220 per ton, with Spanish and Virginias higher, as usual.
- The Government (PMA or CCC) does not agree to buy your peanuts at harvest time at the support price as in past years.
- Instead of a purchase program, at 100% of the support price, the Government will make you a loan on your peanuts, at the support price less numerous deductions; this loan program will be controlled and handled by your county PMA office.
- You may secure a loan on your peanuts by storing them on your farm. But before this can be done your county PMA office must first inspect and approve the building as suitable for the storage of peanuts, and we doubt many farm buildings can be found for the safe storage of peanuts. If your PMA committee approves a building on your farm you may then harvest, pick and store your peanuts in that building. You then apply for a loan and your county PMA office will send out and measure the building, calculate the amount of your peanuts, deduct a percentage as a safety measure, and take a sample of your peanuts and turn it over to the inspector. On the basis of the sound mature kernels, damage, foreign material, moisture, etc., as certified by the inspector you can apply for a loan at the support price. But from your own loan will be deducted a loan fee to PMA, the inspector's fee and the charge for recording your mortgage. If your loan is not paid by May 31, the PMA will take over your peanuts and you will be required to pay them for any loss in weight, grade or deterioration of your peanuts while in storage.
- If you cannot or do not want to store your peanuts on your farm, you can secure a loan by storing them with a sheller or other approved warehouseman. When so stored, you take your warehouse receipt to your county PMA office and apply for a loan. From such loan PMA will deduct a service fee, the inspection fee, warehouse storage charges, a tolerance or allowance for loss of weight and grade, insurance, loading in and out, interest, etc. These deductions should average somewhere between $15 and $30 per ton.
- If you do not wish to secure a loan on your peanuts, either stored on your farm or in a warehouse, you may turn them over to the GFA Peanut Association (Camilla, Ga.). GFA will have warehouses in all sections and will take over title and possession of your peanuts, will advance you about the same amount you would receive through the warehouse-stored loan, and will handle and sell your peanuts for you, by pooling them with the peanuts of other producers. At the end of the season and after paying all of its operating expenses, GFA will distribute to you and all other farmers placing peanuts with them any earnings or savings it has realized over and above the amount advanced.
- In recent years the shellers have entered into a contract with the Commodity Credit Corporation under which the shellers agreed to pay all peanut producers the FULL SUPPORT PRICE, 100%, and in return, the Commodity Credit Corporation agreed to take over any surplus peanuts in the hands of the shellers. This arrangement resulted in the farmers receiving the FULL SUPPORT PRICE at harvest time and also made it possible for the shellers to borrow from the banks the money needed for buying the peanuts from the farmers. But this new program for 1952 leaves the shellers out entirely; they will not be under any contract to pay support prices and they will be able to buy only a limited quantity of peanuts at a time—they can buy only as they sell, due to lack of funds and their limited borrowing ability.

We are informed that PMA grade and eligibility rules will be about as follows:

- No farmer can get a loan or place his peanuts with GFA if he plants more than his allotted acreage; (2) no farmer can get a loan on peanuts containing over 15% foreign material; (3) no farmer can get a loan on peanuts containing more than 3% damage (there will be a heavy penalty or deduction on peanuts containing over 3% damage—peanuts damaged over 7% will bring only the crushing or oil price); (4) GFA and warehouses storing peanuts will fix limits on moisture.

Under the program we see little chance for farmers to receive full support price for peanuts unless the crop and supply is very short. Commodity Credit Corporation may carry over tonnage from this year's crop to increase the supply and compete with the 1952 crop.

Let us repeat that neither do we or other shellers recommend this kind of program. We did not ask for it, we did not want it, we have not agreed to it. It was prepared by PMA and has been approved by the Board of Directors of Commodity Credit Corporation and will be administered and enforced by PMA.

At the same time, all SHELLERS AND FARMERS MUST LIVE WITH IT, AND WORK UNDER IT. We shellers intend to work with and cooperate with farmers and the GFA and do all we can to see that the program is carried out in a manner which will be fair to all, will encourage and expand the use and the market of peanuts, will protect the support price program, prevent further reduction in peanut acreage allotments, save the marketing quota program, and preserve a free and independent agriculture and shelling industry.

Strike A Blow For Road Safety

"FIVE MEMBERS in one family were killed and another critically injured in an auto-truck collision on the outskirts of Bennettsville (S. C.) today."

So read the lead paragraph of a news story in Monday's newspapers. The dead were the father, the mother, their eight-year-old son, their 11-year-old daughter, and the father's mother. The critically injured was their 13-year-old daughter.

The accident occurred because the car, driven by the father, failed to stop at the intersection of two highways.

To you, and you, and you, this is just another newspaper report of an accident in South Carolina. It is of no interest to us.

Unless a member of your family, our family, or a close friend is in a shattering accident, we accept it simply as news and refuse to become aroused over the smash-ups on our streets and highways.

Continuing its campaign for highway safety, The Atlanta Constitution and its writer, Keeler McCartney, asked the State Patrol to outline its specific problems.

Borrowing from Mr. McCartney's report of the answers from the State Patrol, we reprint following:

"Post commanders (State Patrol), whose grim duty it is to view the mangled bodies on wreck-littered highways and attempt to fix the cause, voted unanimously that lax court action and inadquate punishment for willful offenders is the greatest obstacle to safety.

"They agreed that lack of public interest, except in cases where friends or relatives are involved, is the second underlying cause. They firmly believe if this condition is reversed, and the public thoroughly aroused in a demand for corrective action, the attitude of the courts would change overnight.

"In one six-county district, nine out of ten fatalities last year occurred in a single county where the traffic judge was known to 'go light' on offenders.

"We work five counties," a post commander reported. "In one county, where the court is lax, we have more accidents than in the other four combined. In one of our counties, the judge is very strict on drunk driving. The arrests for this offense in that particular county are at a minimum. There are very few accidents in that county."

"In one Georgia county, troopers booked 433 traffic cases last year. Of that number, 388 were still pending on January 1, 1952."

Don't wait until an automobile accident kills or injures you or a member of your family or a close friend. Be constantly aware of the consequences while driving. Make your police and your courts know that you will stand behind them in all cases where a "crack-down" on a traffic law violator is a blow for highway freedom.

Editor's Uneasy Chair

NO NEED TO GO TO CHARLESTON

Have you been trying to work out a day when you might drive over to Charleston to see Magnolia Gardens?

Have you been trying to get off down to Savannah to drive through Bonaventure Cemetery?

Have you a deep desire for beauty—the beauty to be found in flowers growing in their natural setting—against trees, slopes, along edges of water?

You don't have to drive to Charleston. You don't even have to drive to Savannah.

Less than three miles from the courthouse in Bulloch county there is a garden as lovely, in miniature, as the ones at Magnolia, at Bonaventure.

There's all the loveliness you see pictured in the garden magazines, the seed catalogs.

There's the azaleas in all their splendor. . . Poinsettias, Georgia Tabora.

Sprightly pansies hugging the green of their foliage under dignified tulips standing at attention under the stately Dutch iris, all under the watchcare of a beautiful pine.

Scores of rose bushes showing promise of hundreds of blooms—Charlotte Armstrongs, New Yorkers.

There's unnamed plants moved in from the woods edging the pond. There's iris, poppies, stock, lockspur, petunias, all set to add their beauty to the garden.

There's climbing roses along the fences. There's wisteria in the tree branches.

There's winding walks to lead one through the wonderland that was once a section of forest.

Five years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Williams moved to the country. In that time "Miss Cora" has surrounded her home by one of the loveliest gardens we've ever seen. And it's all hers.

After our visit there Sunday afternoon we were tempted to completely forget and abandon our "back yard garden" and devote our spare time to piddling on the piano, but, after hearing the two piano artists at the college Wednesday night of last week we were discouraged over our attempts at the piano.

Then upon second and more considered thinking we decided we'd just go on searching in the earth about our home and just go on piddling on the piano in our home and be happy with the response the earth makes to our efforts and the tunes we manage out of the piano.

If one isn't careful he can find himself going to some meeting every night in the week. Now it is unusual for the teenager to have a meeting every night in the week, also.

The evening meal is no longer a time for family discourse, a time in which each member of the family can take time to recount what has happened to him that day, or what interesting thing he may have observed, or what new thing he has learned. It is a time when at least two members of the family sit with their left arms on the table, timing each mouthful and bolting each bite.

I recall my childhood and remember when the first 4-H Club was organized. Up until that time our main activity each day was going down to the little station and meeting Bell (the local passenger train) and getting the daily paper. So, the 4-H Club filled a real need in our young lives. Since that time, clubs for young folks organized activities for young folks have mushroomed by the hundreds. And those for adults have grown so numerous that we can't name them all. We are over-organized. Our homes, churches, and our schools are competing for their very existence.

If I sound as if I am old-fashioned and out-of-date, I confess to the charge—but pardon me while I whistle through my false teeth. Surely we could do something to combine some of the fine organizations. Would it be possible to set aside one night a week for meetings? Start them, say, at 7 o'clock and let each meeting last for 40 minutes. In this way three nights could be put into one night.

Then, could we not put aside one night which we could call, and really make, family night? On this night there would be no meetings anywhere. Everybody would remain at home and become acquainted with the members of his family and work out family activities. And no one would dawdle on this meeting.

Would it not be ironical if our nation's home life were destroyed by well-meant organization of one life away from home? I insist. . . something must be cut out. Just as some trees should be cut down.

SOIL ANALYSIS Georgia is the first state in the nation to organize a mobile soil testing operation that can go into every community to assist farmers in analyzing soils for lime and fertilizer requirements. Four mobile soil testing units are now in operation in the state.

From the liner President Cleveland came a letter from Virginia Mathis and Lucille Saunders enroute to the Philippines. A card bore the post mark Athens, Greece. This one from New York friends of Lulie's who are touring Europe. They thought it singular that in Athens, Greece they met a mother and daughter, tourists from Athens, Georgia. From Santiago, Chile, S. A., was a card from our neighbors at Metter, Lawton and Zada Brannen who are visiting all of the South American capitals and other places of interest. Jane, for one, would be rather jittery in some hot spots in South America.

DADS, YOU'RE HEROES to your boys. Rev. Gus Groover, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church overheard this conversation. Charles Groover announced to his playmates Jimmy Redding and Harry Brunson Jr., with great pride that his Daddy was a preacher. Jimmy not to be outdone boasted, "That's nothing, my daddy is half preacher and half policeman." Harry Brunson not to be outdone came up with this—Well, my daddy is THE BAPTIST in the church.

OUR DISTANT CARD last week came from Yokohama, Japan. From John Groover, attached to Signal Corps office in the city. He is doing a bit of sight-seeing and enjoying it.

BOBBY HOLLAND, sightseeing in Italy has difficulties in his own Italian. An elderly lady on hearing his efforts to make an engagement to take him out to dinner. She had been visiting her daughter and was touring Europe before returning home. Bobby writes, "She took me to the most expensive night club in Rome and she and I had a good time speaking our own language."

AL AND JIMMY MOONEY had quite a thrill Thursday morning when they left home early with Papa and Mama. (Dr. John and Del) to meet Uncle Bert (Biggs) who flew from Valparaiso, Ind., where he is working on post graduate course in radio and television. Sara had to teach and couldn't meet her husband at the Air Port. Excuse us while we meet a deadline.

DADS, YOU'RE HEROES to your boys. Rev. Gus Groover, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church overheard this conversation. Charles Groover announced to his playmates Jimmy Redding and Harry Brunson Jr., with great pride that his Daddy was a preacher. Jimmy not to be outdone boasted, "That's nothing, my daddy is half preacher and half policeman." Harry Brunson not to be outdone came up with this—Well, my daddy is THE BAPTIST in the church.

OUR DISTANT CARD last week came from Yokohama, Japan. From John Groover, attached to Signal Corps office in the city. He is doing a bit of sight-seeing and enjoying it.

BOBBY HOLLAND, sightseeing in Italy has difficulties in his own Italian. An elderly lady on hearing his efforts to make an engagement to take him out to dinner. She had been visiting her daughter and was touring Europe before returning home. Bobby writes, "She took me to the most expensive night club in Rome and she and I had a good time speaking our own language."

Are We Overdoing Organization?

Walking in our yard and watching for signs of growth on a few plants—other than weeds—I was amazed to find several new trees—a very pretty oak and several pine—that have just volunteered to grow. The great trouble is that they did not choose a proper place to grow. Instead, they grew up too near other trees.

I spoke to the man who happens to be my husband about these trees and pointed out that they must be dug up. He vehemently insisted (I strongly suspect him of trying to get out of work) that they must be allowed to grow, that a tree is a thing of beauty, no matter where it may spring up. I pointed out two sad cases in our yard where a pine and a peach grow too near each other, and with oak and a pecan which are too close together. I pointed out that had we had the courage to cut one of each of these pairs down a few years ago, the tree left in each case would have had more room in which to develop into real beauty. But he couldn't be persuaded to cut them down.

As I pondered over these trees running wild over the yard, I thought how like our yard our family life (not just the family who lives here, but U.S.A. family life) has become. Organizations are growing up everywhere and most of them are fine things. But there are too many of them growing up to close to each other. And crowding out our family life. It is not confined to any age group.

If one isn't careful he can find himself going to some meeting every night in the week. Now it is unusual for the teenager to have a meeting every night in the week, also.

The evening meal is no longer a time for family discourse, a time in which each member of the family can take time to recount what has happened to him that day, or what interesting thing he may have observed, or what new thing he has learned. It is a time when at least two members of the family sit with their left arms on the table, timing each mouthful and bolting each bite.

I recall my childhood and remember when the first 4-H Club was organized. Up until that time our main activity each day was going down to the little station and meeting Bell (the local passenger train) and getting the daily paper. So, the 4-H Club filled a real need in our young lives. Since that time, clubs for young folks organized activities for young folks have mushroomed by the hundreds. And those for adults have grown so numerous that we can't name them all. We are over-organized. Our homes, churches, and our schools are competing for their very existence.

If I sound as if I am old-fashioned and out-of-date, I confess to the charge—but pardon me while I whistle through my false teeth. Surely we could do something to combine some of the fine organizations. Would it be possible to set aside one night a week for meetings? Start them, say, at 7 o'clock and let each meeting last for 40 minutes. In this way three nights could be put into one night.

Then, could we not put aside one night which we could call, and really make, family night? On this night there would be no meetings anywhere. Everybody would remain at home and become acquainted with the members of his family and work out family activities. And no one would dawdle on this meeting.

Would it not be ironical if our nation's home life were destroyed by well-meant organization of one life away from home? I insist. . . something must be cut out. Just as some trees should be cut down.

SOIL ANALYSIS Georgia is the first state in the nation to organize a mobile soil testing operation that can go into every community to assist farmers in analyzing soils for lime and fertilizer requirements. Four mobile soil testing units are now in operation in the state.

We Like That Young Man

WE LIKE that young man. We like him because he represents the thinking of the young people of our great nation.

We like him because he believes in the courage to say what the young men he represents are thinking.

We like him because he believes in the young men of this nation.

On Friday afternoon of last week the members of the Statesboro Junior Chamber of Commerce were host to their national president, Lee Price, of Swainsboro.

In spite of the fact that 85 percent of the members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce in the United States are veterans of World War II and many are in the armed forces now, they, as a national organization, took a firm stand against the law being considered which gives $120 a month for life to veterans for non-service connected disabilities.

He told of one congressman who excused his vote for the bill by saying, "Well, I just had to go along with the boys."

The young Jaycee president holds no brief with such thinking. "It's dangerous and is putting the U. S. on the road to ruin."

He commended the young members of the Georgia organization for the resolution they adopted in which they stood firm against the "elector's bill" passed by the Georgia Legislature at its last session.

"The day that bill passed will live in infamy in the state of Georgia," he said.

Pulling no punches he told the Jaycees that their vote amounts to nothing in the next election because of the bill.

He urged young men to take on civic responsibilities. He stated that in young men there is a tendency to feel inadequate in the face of experience of older men. But he pointed to George Washington, who at 21 years of age, was commander of the Virginia militia.

"When the spotlight was thrown on many of our national figures and we saw them crumbling we knew that something must be done," he said. Adding that young men must do something about it.

"We must have men who can stand on principles and justice," he pointed out and went on to say that the Jaycee organization are such young men.

"We stand for government by law, not by men," he said in closing.

We like Lee Price.

Seeing and hearing him we understand how the young people over the United States selected him as their national leader. He's talking that sort of thinking all over the nation. He's inspiring the young people of his organization to an awareness of the problems which confront them, their nation and their community.

We hope what he says finds fertile ground.

Bulloch County FARM NEWS

FARM BUREAU NEWS

More Than 1,000 Bulloch Countians Attend Last Week's Farm Meetings

Community Farm Bureau meetings last week at Westside, Stilton and Portal drew the largest attendance of any community meetings in some time. More than 1,000 people attended these three community meetings.

The music, fun and frolic of the three programs gave every individual a bit more spring fever than the spring is truly here, and the people in Bulloch county wanted to celebrate.

Following invocation by Allen R. Lister at West Side, the Moonlight Hallelujahs took over with a series of songs that pleased the audience.

Tommy Johnson, Fred Hendrix and Roger Hedrick made up this organization. Then Miss Linda Ne-Smith added a bit more spring fever with several tap dance numbers with Mrs. Emma Kelly at the piano.

Westside did add some agriculture to their program with a series of slides on growing more corn per acre by planting adapted varieties, close spacing, thorough land preparation, along with ample fertilizer and rapid, but short, cultivation practices.

Mrs. W. H. Smith Jr., associated women's chairman, announced that the queen and talent contest for the community would be held at the next meeting.

Henry Parrish, fieldman for the Cotton Producers' Association, stated that those who were interested in the livestock marketing program had invested about $22,000, and that more than 200 farms had entered the program.

More Acreage For Feed Needed

The nation's farmers intend to plant 5,000,000 fewer acres of corn than the 1952 goal call for, according to M. L. Taylor, chairman of the Bulloch County Agricultural Mobilization Committee. Other feed grains will be short about 4,000,000 acres if farmers carry out their expressed intentions.

If farmers go through with their expressed intention it could create a serious feed situation in from 12 to 18 months, say the chairman. He urges every farmer to take another good look before planting time to see if he can't add a few acres of the feed crop that produces the most feed on his farm. Since corn makes up 75 percent of the nation's feed grain most farmers can best increase their feed supply by increasing their corn acreage.

The chairman points out that Georgia's corn acreage goal is 3,400,000 acres and expressed intentions on March 1 indicated that farmers were planning to plant only 3,190,000 acres. If farmers would add seven acres to each 100 acres planned the goal would be met.

Mr. Taylor suggests that the added acreage may best come from idle or poor pasture land, or other feed crops that produce less feed per acre than corn.

PASTURE TOUR

The second Bulloch county pasture tour of the spring will be held Wednesday, April 9, starting from the courthouse at 9 a. m.

The Georgia Bankers Association has asked to be permitted to participate in this tour and stated that some 40 bankers from this area, as well as a few from all sections of the state, would be on hand for the event.

Unlike the previous tour, this one will be mostly traveling, with only one or two stops before the noon hour. Discussions on pasture work will be held at the end of the tour under the direction of E. D. Alexander, extension agronomist, and J. W. Fanning, extension economist.

PORTAL GROUP HEARS QUARTET

Portal started its meeting off with a quartet composed of Bobby Cowart, I. W. Spence, James Bullock and Edwin Rocker, with Mrs. H. C. Hand at the piano.

Miss Charlotte Hendrix followed with a solo number with Mrs. Rosa Sturgis at the piano. James Roger Hagan, Bulloch County 4-H Club president, stated that Bulloch's group would leave here from the courthouse about 8:30 a. m. He expects about 60 from Bulloch county to attend and like numbers from the other 26 counties.

George P. Donaldson, president of Abraham Baldwin College, Tifton, will be one of the speakers at the morning session. A highlight of the afternoon program will be folk games under the direction of M. L. Van Winkle, extension recreation specialist.

Judge is authorized to fix the punishment. I will award sentences proportionate to the severity of the offense committed seeking always to punish the guilty fairly and to protect the innocent.

I feel that the only promise a candidate for Judge can make is that he will administer justice without respect to person and equal rights between all parties. To this end I pledge my every effort of which I am capable.

Respectfully submitted,
COLBERT HAWKINS.

FOR JUDGE SUPERIOR COURT

To the People of Bulloch County: I am a candidate for Judge of the Superior Court in the Primary to be held May 14, 1952. I am completing my first term as Solicitor General. I have enjoyed the work of that office, and I appreciate the fine cooperation which has been given me by the officials of the Court, the attorneys, and the citizens of the several counties in performing the duties of that office. I deeply appreciate the fact that I am permitted now to enter the primary without opposition.

I assure you that when re-elected I shall continue to devote my time and best efforts to the work of that office and serve you at all times to the best of my ability.

Sincerely yours,
WALTON USHER.

FOR JUDGE SUPERIOR COURT

To the People of the Ogeechee Judicial Circuit: I hereby announce my candidacy for Judge of the Superior Court in the Democratic Primary to be held on May 14, 1952.

I have practiced law in the circuit since my admission to the Bar in 1939 with the exception of the years spent in the Army in World War II. My practice has largely consisted in the trial of civil and criminal cases, which experience has, I believe, qualified me to perform the duties of a trial judge.

If elected, I will preside in the trial of jury cases with fairness to all parties and conduct the business of the Court in an efficient, prompt, and just manner.

I will hear all motions and petitions addressed to the Court at the Court House in the County where the same is pending thus relieving parties, witnesses, and their attorneys of the traveling to the city of the Judge's residence for hearing. I will give parties and their counsel a respectful hearing and render an immediate decision based on the law in the case.

"Our Dodge 2-ton models have done a remarkable job for us."

Look first for the truck that best fits your job! Look for strong, rugged load-carrying units—frame, springs, axles, wheels, and others—engineered to provide the strength and capacity you need. Look for load-moving units—engine, clutch, transmission, and others—engineered to meet the most severe operating conditions.

Look, too, for a powerful engine, easy steering, short turning ability, and extra payload capacity.

You'll get all these advantages when you choose a Dodge "Job-Rated" 1 1/2- or 2-ton truck.

Yes, look for the best in a 1 1/2- or 2-ton truck, and you'll find it in a Dodge. Come in today.

Big Power at a Saving. Dodge "Job-Rated" 1 1/2- and 2-ton trucks feature a high-compression 105-h.p. engine. For outstanding economy, you get 4-ring pistons, chrome-plated top rings, and other advantages.

Exceptional Handling Ease. Champion Truck Roadster contestants choose Dodge "Job-Rated" trucks because you can cut sharper, maneuver easier, park faster—thanks to wide front end and short wheelbase.

Fast Delivery Work. There's a 5-speed transmission available on most models for higher road speeds—greater pulling power. And low loading height simplifies the job of loading and unloading.

Portal Is Winner In Play Contest

Portal, eyeing the class C literary trophy of the First District High School Association, won over six entries in the district one-act play contest and also produced the two best actresses seen at Georgia Teachers College Wednesday night of last week.

Fat Stock Show Entries To Fill Five Classes

The number of cattle being entered in the fat stock show April 24 has increased to the point that it will be necessary to divide the 4-H Club cattle into five classes, announced.

For several years only three individual rings were used for 4-H boys and girls. Last year it was increased to four and this year five classes may have as many as 15 to 20 calves in each ring.

There are 90 4-H Club entries this year, Mr. Roberts stated. It is possible that the number will be greater.

The Negro group will have 15 entries. Forty-five head of cattle are expected to be entered in the two ring classes for adults.

Mr. Roberts thinks the show will be the largest held in years, with some of the best cattle ever finished out in the county. The show last year had 16 prime steers and 17 choice animals. Mr. Roberts stated that the 1952 show will probably exceed these figures in quality cattle.
