Peanut Growers To Go to Tifton

Bulloch county's peanut growers will be well represented at a meeting in Tifton January 8 when the farmers in Georgia grow a ton or more of peanuts per acre are acclaimed.

Topping the list of high producers from the county will be the state cotton champion, A. S. Hunnicutt, who grew 2,632 pounds per acre in 1952 on 5.9 acres. When another some 200 pounds he kept at home is added to the reported yield, Mr. Hunnicutt is probably going to also be crowned peanut champion of 1952.

Henry S. Blitch will be making his third entry in the ton-per-acre peanut club. W. O. Griner will be going to Tifton for the first time, as will be Willis C. Williams, Clyde Bailey, and Emilee C. Hunnicutt.

The peanut industry started honoring the growers in the state three years ago that had produced a ton or more peanuts per acre. Bulloch county had W. A. Groover and Mr. Blitch in the first group. Mr. Groover was the state champion. Last year Mr. Blitch was the champion. Bulloch hopes to bring back that honor again this time.

Hagin Twins Become 4-H Champs After Seven Years Planning Work

"You can't expect to be the champion the first time" the Hagin twins, Roger and Raymond, told Statesboro Rotarians Monday in relating how they reached the championship class in 4-H Club work.

Climaxing seven years of club work Roger won the national field crops championship at the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago last month. Raymond had won the state championship in tractor maintenance.

Robert Wynn, assistant county agent, told the story of these two outstanding 4-H clubsters which began in 1945 when they had one gilt between them. The next year they had one sow and one acre of corn. In 1947 there was one sow, one acre of corn, one steer and 100 chicks. In 1948 these had grown to two sows, one acre of corn, 2 steers and 100 chicks. The two steers died during this year. Then in 1949 they had 4 sows, 3 acres of corn, 200 chicks, 5 acres of watermelons—and no steers.

In 1950 the projects of these boys had grown to include 6 sows, five acres of corn, two steers, one

Chief Of Police Issues Warning To Motor Bike

Chief of Police Henry Anderson this week issues a warning to parents of children who own motor bikes and bicycles.

According to Chief Anderson many of these who own motor bikes and bicycles are riding them double. "This is against the city ordinance which regulates vehicles," he said. He added that it's a very dangerous practice. "If the practice is not stopped we will have to take steps to enforce the ordinance," he said.

He also urges the business people of the city to refrain from monopolizing the parking meter spaces in front of their businesses on the main streets of Statesboro.

"It's not fair to the other citizens of Statesboro, nor is it fair to visitors of our city," he said. He stated that there are several places where the practice is abused. He pointed out that they

TC Professors Whip Georgia In Gator Bowl Tourney 85 to 57

BY JOHNNY HENDRIX
Savannah Morning News
Sports Editor

JACKSONVILLE BEACH, Fla., Dec. 29.—Georgia Teachers College, after waiting 17 years for the chance, romped to an 85-57 victory over the University of Georgia in the Gator Bowl basketball tournament here tonight.

Jittery in the first quarter, the Professors began rolling as relentlessly as an ocean tide in the second quarter and were never headed.

It was a great team victory. Five players hit double numbers in the scoring and Jim Harley held Georgia's celebrated Zippy Morocco to but 11 points for the night.

At that, Morocco, who didn't play for the last four minutes, got two of these after Coach J. B. Searce of the Professors had started clearing the bench and Harley was out of the ball game.

The final margin of victory wasn't the largest the Teachers mustered. They held a 36-point advantage right after the final period started and then Searce, confident of the triumph he wanted so badly, started using his reserves.

Jim Hutto, a demon under the basket was leading scorer for the night with 20 points. He was followed by Harley, with 16, Capt. Boney Phillips with 14, and Horace Belflower and Jimmy Tudor with 11 each.

Tudor, one of the two freshmen started the ball game, played a sensational floor game. He was all over the court, stealing the ball and setting up plays, and in general, making trouble for the Georgia offense that never got started.

Tudor received a tremendous ovation from the crowd when he fouled out early in the fourth quarter.

Kermit Hall was Georgia's leading scorer for the night with 12 points. Morocco was the only other man to make the double column.

The Professors turned in a 60-point second half, again proving what had been said before: "They do their best scoring in the last two periods."

It started out like a low scoring affair. Georgia's zone defense and the butterflies that were dancing merrily in the stomachs of the Teachers, put a damper on the offense.

While the Professors weren't hitting, neither was Georgia.

Harley's foul shot with less than two minutes gone, started the scoring and the Teachers got off to a 4-0 margin before Georgia's Bill Shain made a foul and it was 4-1.

After that, Allan Parrish and Kermit Hall ran Georgia to the front, 5-4. They matched points from there to the quarter and although the Pros at one time gained a four-point lead, the Bulldogs tied it 12-12 at the whistle.

It was two minutes after the second quarter that the score changed again. A two-handed jump shot by Hutto put the Teachers out in front to stay.

The Professors racked 23 points in the period to but 14 for the

Ga. Power Pays $10,025.92 Taxes

Sam. Strauss, district manager of the Georgia Power Company, announced this week that the Statesboro office of the company has paid Bulloch county $10,025.92 in taxes for 1952. $6,233.53 was for property tax and franchise; $3,740.12 was for county-wide school district tax; $10.83 was for Middleground school district tax; and $41.44 was for the Portals School district tax.

The taxes were paid on December 8, 1952.

Bulldogs and it was 35-25 at the half.

Georgia cut the margin to six points after four minutes of play in the third period, but then the teachers found the basket.

With Hutto, Tudor, Harley, Belflower and Phillips hitting regularly they moved to a 53-35 lead at the end of the period.

It wasn't until Lawayne Anderson, who scored six points in half of the last quarter, ran it to 75-44 that the Professors got the lead of more than 30 points.

They moved to 82-46 for the largest margin of the night and with that Searce pulled every one of his first six out of the game and let the reserves play it out.

A Prayer For 1953

BY DR. STUART R. OGLESBY
Pastor of the Central Presbyterian Church, Atlanta

GRANT unto us, O Lord, the ability to look back over the experiences of the past year and to find those truths we should have learned along the way, but which were hidden from our understanding by lack of perspective, undue absorption in the clamorous demands of daily life, or selfish desires claiming immediate fulfillment. Having learned what we should from that which has gone before, may we be free from any bondage to the past and may we give ourselves with all the wisdom and strength we possess to the duties and obligations of the present, failing not to provide in a wise, foreseeing way for the days which are yet to come.

Fill us with quietness and strength in the presence of trouble, sorrow, or death should these come our way during the year ahead. May our faith in the ultimate victory of right over wrong be so firmly fixed in our hearts that, forgetful of ourselves, we can become helpers and friends of mankind.

Graciously extend thy healing and life-giving love to all nations and races of men upon the earth. Bring peace where there is now conflict or war, joy where sorrow dwells, and let the beauty of love and friendship displace hatred and enmity in the hearts of men everywhere. Amen.

'Daniel Boones' Take To The Tenn. Mountains

BY VIRGINIA RUSSELL

(N. B. Our son, the one with the Daniel Boone complex, had such a delightful experience on a Christmas-Holiday camp-out in the snow of the Great Smokies that we have invited him to be guest columnist for this week.)

ON TOP OF OLD SMOKY

BY WILLIAM RUSSELL

Six boys were seen climbing out of a very heavily packed car which had stopped at New Found Gap. They stood for only a moment and then were seen hurriedly pushing themselves back into the car.

It will only make you ask why six fine healthy boys should not like to stand and gaze at the beautiful Tennessee mountains from New Found Gap.

We should not try to keep you in the dark, so here we go with the whole story.

On Monday night, December 8, five Explorer Scouts—Charlie Cason, W. L. Cason, Fred Dyer, Chris Lanier, and William Russell—met at Charlie Cason's house with Mr. Merrill Fallen, Recreation Director at Sylvania, and former resident of Statesboro. The purpose of the meeting was to make final plans for a camping trip to the Smoky Mountains.

We left from Sylvania at 7 a. m. on December 20. We had 925 miles to travel, not including the three times we took the wrong route. In a car loaded with about 1,500 lbs. of equipment and Scouts we proceeded to Cherokee, North Carolina with the words "crazy," "you'll freeze," "come back sick," still ringing in our ears.

We reached New Found Gap about 4:30 Saturday afternoon. Here we were at an altitude of 5,000 feet. Without coats we clambered out of the car but quickly got back in with cries of "Head for Florida!" With coats on, we put chains on the car and headed for Gatlinburg and the Ranger Station, for we had found our mountain road leading to our campsite blocked with snow. At the Ranger Station we were told that it would be possible to get up to our site though, we were all armed, we might expect to find much snow.

Leaving the Ranger Station we went for about three miles when dark caught up with us. So we decided to camp where we were for the night. For supper we cooked hunters' stew, six of us eating the amount of twelve. We ate breakfast of bacon and eggs. Then headed for the Gap. Reaching the Gap, we proceeded on the road to Clingmans' Dome, the highest point of Tennessee. On that three long miles of unscrapped road we had to drive in first or second gear. Parking the car, we loaded our packs and hit the trail for Indian Gap. Except for Mr. Fallen, he's an old mountain man, it was the first time for any of us to travel in snow. We found that with our packs and the high altitude at which we were climbing that one mile in the mountains would easily equal more than two at home.

Being from a near sea-level home, we discovered that our sties and breathing were hindered greatly. However, we reached our destination at about 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The first thing we did was to cook dinner of Italian spaghetti. After washing our utensils in snow we found that we were having the warmest weather of our trip, 33 degrees. After a short hike we came back to our three-sided hut, which was to be our home for the night. Our supper was chicken and rice. We slept this second night about 5, 425 feet.

The next day we were back at the Gap to begin a four-mile hike to the top of Mt. Kephart, named after the historian. We arrived late in the afternoon, finding the snow much deeper—eight or nine inches. We ate our last supper here and slept our last night at about 6,100 feet, in another three-sided cabin.

The next morning we hiked back to the car, which we had left at the Gap, and headed for home, feeling that for a bunch of South Georgia boys, we had spent a little time in the "High Heavens."

Ford's New Golden Jubilee Model Farm Tractor

FORD MOTOR COMPANY, manufacturer of more than 2 million farm tractors since 1917, has put into production a new, heavier, longer, much more powerful Golden Jubilee model. In 1953 Ford celebrates the 50th Anniversary of the founding of the company by Henry Ford, Sr. The new machine is described as the most modern farm tractor ever built and is equipped with advanced type hydraulic system. Outstanding features include Hy-Trol, to increase lifting power; a new over head valve "Red Tiger" engine, most powerful farm tractor engine ever produced by Ford. The new tractor is now in volume production at Ford's Highland Park, Michigan, plant.

The Golden Jubilee Model Ford Tractor described as the most modern farm tractor ever built with hydraulic controls and three-point linkage for implements will go on display Saturday, Jan. 3, 1953 at the Standard Tractor Company, not only is more powerful, but larger and heavier than the popular Model 8N which it replaces. More than 500,000 Model 8N tractors have been sold since their production started in 1947. The over-all length of the new tractor has been increased to 25.10 inches and its weight to 2,510 pounds. It is powered by the entirely new over head valve "Red-Tiger" engine.

Streamlined design gives it the appearance of being ahead ready to go to work. It has the familiar down gray and Vermillion red color scheme.

The Live-Action Hydraulic System built into the Golden Jubilee muscles for a wide variety of work, has been improved for greater power and faster, more accurate operation. Instead of the "cavitation" system used in previous Ford Tractors, the new Model introduces a solid system completely filled with oil at all times, which provides split-second response to controls.

The hydraulic mechanism provides both Implement Position Control and Constant Draft Control at the flick of the Selector Lever, features of previous Ford Tractors that have met with wide acceptance by farmers. The faster acting system allows quicker automatic corrections for changes in view instrument cluster set in a raised section of the hood for the convenience of the operator. Instruments include the exclusive "Proof-Meter," ammeter, temperature gauge and oil pressure gauge mounted to provide mechanical muscles for a wide variety of work, has been improved for greater power and faster, more accurate operation. Instead of the "cavitation" system used in previous Ford Tractors, the new Model introduces a solid system completely filled with oil at all times, which provides split-second response to controls.

The new Ford Tractor can be equipped with a Live Power Take-Off attachment which permits PTO driven implements to be operated continuously whether the tractor is moving or standing still. This eliminates such gear shifting as well as the necessity for dismounting from the tractor to clear clogged corn pickers or combines. The completely new four-cylinder over head valve "Red-Tiger" engine develops ample reserve power which brings heavier farm jobs well within the economical working range of the tractor. It develops high torque necessary to start heavy loads and keep going.

Costly engine friction has been minimized by increasing the cylinder and shortening the piston stroke. This means more power and longer engine life. Pistons are of an aluminum alloy and cam scrap. Dry cast alloy cylinder sleeves are used.

The carburetor has been re-tilted for greater efficiency throughout the complete range of engine speeds. A new higher volume oil pump maintains effective circulation even at low engine speeds. The oil filter is the full flow type.

Increasing the wheelbase to 73-7/8 inches, coupled with the heavier engine, has given the Golden Jubilee Model improved stability and permits the use of heavier equipment. The front axle support assembly incorporates a number of mounting holes for convenient use of front-mounted equipment. A new front power-take-off drive is available and simplifies the installation of front end implements such as loaders.

"We are proud to introduce this great new powerful Golden Jubilee Model Ford Tractor in this area," said Mr. L. E. Tyson. "The entirely new engine, the advanced hydraulic system and many other new features make it ideal for jobs found on the farms in this area. And most important of all, Ford's mass production techniques and facilities make this quality tractor available at a price that's right."

Each of you deserves a pat on the back for making this community a fine place in which to welcome the New Year.

MIKELL-BRANNEN

A marriage of cordial interest to their many friends in this section was that of Miss Betty Mikell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Jester, and Mrs. Ernest Brannen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brannen.

The impressive double ring ceremony took place at seven o'clock in the afternoon on Christmas Day in the living room of the pasternum of the First Baptist Church with the Reverend George Lovell, pastor of the church officiating. With the lighted Christmas tree as a background and with glowing candles lighted by Herbert Jones, the bridegroom was lovely.

Miss Jackie Mikell, maid of honor, chose for her sister's marriage, an aqua ballerina length tafeta dress with rhinestone trim and matching bolero. Her corsage was a white and blue. The bridegroom wore a tuxedo with a white shirt and a bow tie. The bridegroom's mother wore a deep purple suit with black accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

They tell me the media and tooth artists put on the best dance during the holiday season—now that's hearsay, so you have to take it for what it's worth.

It seems it was a most hilarious party, punctuated throughout with laughs. Now with dentists who plan to hypnotize you while they yank out a tooth and the surgeons who talk while they operate and you don't feel pain, "It's all in the mind." It's apparent that they are usually gifted in putting on a party.

Lois Smith, one of the nurses, seemed to have starved. They tell me when she sings those blues, she discards her shoes for more freedom and from then on she keeps her audience in stitches.

Well my experience with doctors with nurses lead me to believe they are pretty good at keeping any one in stitches. The door prizes were so appealing and lovely. What could compete with Dr. Johnny Deal donating a $3 office call which was won by his brother, Dr. Albert Deal, or a penicillin shot for Mrs. Edgar Goddard donated by Dr. Waldo Floyd? Now these last ones the girls could really use.

Virginia Lee Floyd and Mrs. E. W. Barnes winning cute little golf caps and Iris Smith really hit the jack-pot when she won a year's subscription to THE BULLOCH HERALD, from Editor Leodeo Coleman (naturally). Since the dance fell on Lola Patrick's birthday, there was a lovely birthday cake.

ANOTHER very special evening for Jane was Henry's annual Christmas Party held at Mrs. Bryant's Kitchen. No additional table decorations were really necessary for the food service was both glamorous and delicious. At the lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Moses the rest of the evening was spent in Christmas gift sharing and beautiful music. The star of the evening was Lois Bazemore, the mimic, who took off nearly all the force at Henry's including Jane.

Lois's Jingle to the tune of Jingle Bells has become a treat as presented by Lois—Sing these lines to Jingle Bells and you'll understand what we mean.

We have gathered here tonight with friends we love so dear. The entire family of Moses all are here. There's little Carol Elaine making spirits bright. How great it is to see them all at the party here tonight.

Papa, Henry, Mama, Martha, Helen and all the rest. With Christmas goodies and everything We'll eat and sing our best. And now to the store we'll go. Hurry here and there. To wrap those gifts for Christmas Day. For all those maidens fair.

Dashing up the stairs to answer someone's call. And when we view the task to do we almost want to fall. Then here comes Papa up the stairs with pants in three or four. Thirty minutes if you please, and Along about nine o'clock Martha, fresh and spry. With whose is this? and what is that? I'd like to know and why? Hurry, Hurry, Hurry all day long. And when we hear the clock strike six, we start to sing a song.

OTHER CHRISTMAS HIGH LIGHTS were Christmas formal, including the J.T.J. and T.E.T. all night parties, The Happy Go Lucky Dance, The Drag-On-In Formal, and The K.C.'s all night party, and the lovely Christmas Dance given by the Aulbert Brannens for their young sons, Aulbert, Jr., and Bob, held at the Country Club.

MRS. J. L. JACKSON'S thrill came when her son, Capt. Hiram Jackson called from Nagoya, Japan, Tuesday morning at two o'clock. He and Nell and their son, Walker, will start home in February and hope to reach Statesboro sometime in March. It has been two years in August since the Hiram Jacksons' left. While talking to his mother he reminded her to relay for him Merry Christmas greetings to all their friends.

WARM CONGRATULATIONS of the week go to Mr. and Mrs. George Franklin of Pulaski who observed their golden wedding anniversary with a lovely tea at their home.

AND MOST ELOQUENT about Christmas gifts as four year old Connie Evans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Evans, Connie told me Santa brought her a horse she quickly assured me it wasn't a real one, but it could buck like a bronco, and ice box with a real unit, a stove, a sink and cabinets, but the most exciting gift was a real live puppy, "Tippy" Evans.

WANDA WATSON received a lovely bicycle and Daddy Jim was sorely disappointed that she deserted it for a cocker spaniel that Horace McDougald gave her. Jim said the puppy was dog tired when night came. Wanda had pulled it around all day.

AND REALLY SUPER GIFTS went to the Sidney Dodds when at seven o'clock Christmas morning a little daughter arrived. Her name is Deanne. For the Chatham Aldermans, Christmas Day, at 2 o'clock, Santa brought them a daughter whose name is Candy. As ever, JANE

ANNIVERSARY TEA BRINGS OLD FRIENDS AND NEW

Mr. and Mrs. George O. Franklin entertained many friends and relatives Sunday afternoon, Dec. 28, at their lovely home in Pulaski at an elaborate tea in observance of their golden anniversary.

Mrs. Linton Williams, lovely in black lace and crepe, met 25 guests at the door. In the line with Mr. and Mrs. Franklin were their two sons, George Franklin of Metter and Lehman Franklin of Statesboro.

The bride of fifty years, the former Miss Lola Cobb, was beautifully gowned in damson plum lace. Her corsage was a white orchid with golden throat.

Keeping the bride's book was Mrs. Jerry Howard, great-niece of Mr. Franklin, very charming in a net dress of cerulean blue with matching stole.

Mrs. Gordon Franklin, wearing rose lace, Mrs. George Franklin Jr., in white chiffon with coral trim, and Mrs. Lehman Franklin, gowned in light rose net and matching stole, entertained the guests in the living room and the spacious hall.

Mrs. Paul Simmons of Metter and Mrs. Perry Cobb were hostesses in the dining room and served golden punch from a lovely crystal bowl on the serving table.

The Rambling Pittmans' Spend The Christmas Holidays In Panama, C.A.

By The Rambling Pittmans

CHRISTMAS IN THE CANAL ZONE

Christmas, 1952 Here we are down in the Canal Zone for our Christmas holidays. As you know, we had planned to go see that new grandstand but common sense dictated that we should not go at this time. I shall be going the middle of January for a five weeks tour of schools with Costa Rican educators. Mrs. "P" can go at the same time and can spend five weeks instead of one. In that length of time she can teach her grandsons to speak Spanish as well as he can speak English. The fact is babies can speak in all languages—Like the Holy Ghost, all mothers of every tongue understand perfectly what their babies say.

To compensate ourselves for our disappointment, we decided to fly down to the Canal Zone—350 miles—for a few days.

We landed at the Panama City airfield, over on the Pacific coast and spent Monday night (Dec. 22) at the Hotel International. We crossed the Isthmus yesterday morning by train in one and one-half hours. The railroad parallels the Canal and runs between the highway on the east side of the track, and the Canal on the other side.

Sometimes we were close to one and sometimes close to the other. Occasionally we were very close to both.

We are staying at the Hotel Washington which is an ideal place for old folks to spend a quiet, relaxed vacation and, also, an ideal place for "honey-mooners." Those two sorts are the only people here at present. You can decide in which group the Pittmans belong.

This hotel was authorized during the administration of President Taft and has been in operation for 40 years. During both World Wars (I and II) it rendered very valuable service as headquarters for important military personnel. It is located on a beautiful point, jutting out into the Caribbean which serves as the Atlantic entrance to the Canal.

From our French door, which opens to the northwest, we have been observing, counting, and admiring beautiful ships—some entering, and some leaving the Canal. There is an average of one each hour which takes the capacity of the Canal. The hotel is located in a beautiful grove of Royal Palm which adds much to the tropical atmosphere of the place. The rooms are reasonable and the meals are unbelievably delicious. The music in the dining hall is soft in tone and of the best quality. The waiters are gentle-voiced, tactful, colored men, the kind who would cause any Georgian to feel that it was Christmas, 1852.

Yes, folks, this is Shangri! Panama City is a thriving place of about 100,000 people and at night, the noisiness I have ever been. The sounds along the main street are like the noise of a dozen circuses just before show-time. Practically all of the people are African in origin. Most of the stores seem to be owned by Orientals—East Indians and Chinese.

Every other building is a saloon or a hall of dancing and gambling. Like most places of the frontier, it boasts of being "wide open." It is the kind of place where people go to have leisure and "more money than sense." When they leave they are sure to have "less money and are likely to be wiser and sadder."

Even the Pittmans "invested" some of their hard-earned "simoleons" for some IRRISTABLE oriental linens and brass. I asked for an explanation of the amount of money which was evidently available: "Well, you know there are many American soldiers and sailors located near here." When I asked about the unit of money, I was told: "It is the 'Balboa.' It is the same as the American dollar. It is all American money, anyway."

Colon and Cristobal are two towns which make one city at the Atlantic end of the Canal. If this place were in Georgia, we would call it Christopher Columbus. This was a thriving place thirty or forty years ago. At present it looks much like American cities at the close of the Hoover administration—with empty buildings on every hand. "Social Security Building, seems to be the best and busiest place in town. The population, like African in origin, with the mercantile business here, as in Panama, in the hands of the Orientals.

There is a very large EX here for the accommodation of American military personnel. We visited it yesterday and again this morning. With the use of my "diplomatic" favorite brand of "shampoos," and Mrs. "P" invested in some things peculiarly American and feminine, the name of which "no man knoweth the name thereof." While we were in that maze, we hear plenty of wives talking and babies crying who had a very familiar "Bulloch County drawl."

IT SHO'D SOUND GOOD

At lunch today, I asked our waiter what all these people here do. He replied: "Well, you know, the Republic of Panama has only about one million people, more or less—we all work for America, one way or another and in that way we get on."

This entire situation here is just another instant of the kind of dear, wonderful UNCLE SAM is. He truly is a wonderful fellow. He is the BIGGEST and the BEST man in all the world. He is just like all the folks in Bulloch county.

JAN. 3rd! First Showing of the NEW FORD TRACTOR Golden Jubilee MODEL

MOST ADVANCED Hydraulic System in any Tractor!

EXTRA POWER with New Overhead Valve Engine!

Yes, it goes on display Saturday, Jan. 3rd, ready to show you what a really modern tractor can do and should be.

It's ready with extra power, extra size, extra weight. It's ready to demonstrate new handling ease, comfort and convenience.

It's ready also to introduce you to the most advanced hydraulic system in any tractor. We call it Live-Action Hydraulic Control. That means split-second hydraulic response any time the tractor engine is running. Then there's a choice of hydraulic speeds when you want even faster action. It is called Hy-Trol.

This new tractor is ready with its great new overhead valve Ford "Red Tiger" engine. With its greatly reduced piston travel, lessened friction and other advanced design features, this engine develops ample reserve power with new economy of gas and oil.

Most important of all, Ford's Golden Jubilee Model is eager to show you what it can do—what this great combination of modern advancements and every time-proved Ford Tractor advantage means in more and better work, done more easily and more profitably.

SEE IT SOON!

Eisenhower Urges Nation Support March of Dimes

President-elect Eisenhower meets 1953 March of Dimes poster girls Pamela (left) and Patricia O'Neil, of Raleigh, N. C.

NEW YORK CITY—President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower called on the American public to support the 1953 March of Dimes being conducted throughout the nation during all of January.

He joined in the annual appeal after meeting the two Raleigh, N. C. sisters who are pictured on the 1953 March of Dimes poster. They are Patricia, 6, and five-year-old Pamela O'Neil, both of whom were stricken with polio but now are recovered completely.

"It's hard to believe that these are the same little girls whose pictures are on the March of Dimes poster," he noted. "Now they're completely recovered from polio, thanks to the generosity of the American people."

He urged all Americans "to help the others like them by joining the March of Dimes."

This year's March of Dimes follows the all-time record polio epidemic of 1952 in which more than 35,000 were stricken. At the beginning of 1953, there were 36,000 polio victims of former years still undergoing treatment, with financial help from local March of Dimes chapters.

Rare Book Exhibit At GTC Library Tells Story Of Printing, Bookbinding

Miss Hassie McElveen, librarian at the Georgia Teachers College Library, announced this week that a collection of rare books will be on display in a big house trailer to be parked in front of the college library building on Tuesday and Wednesday, January 13 and 14.

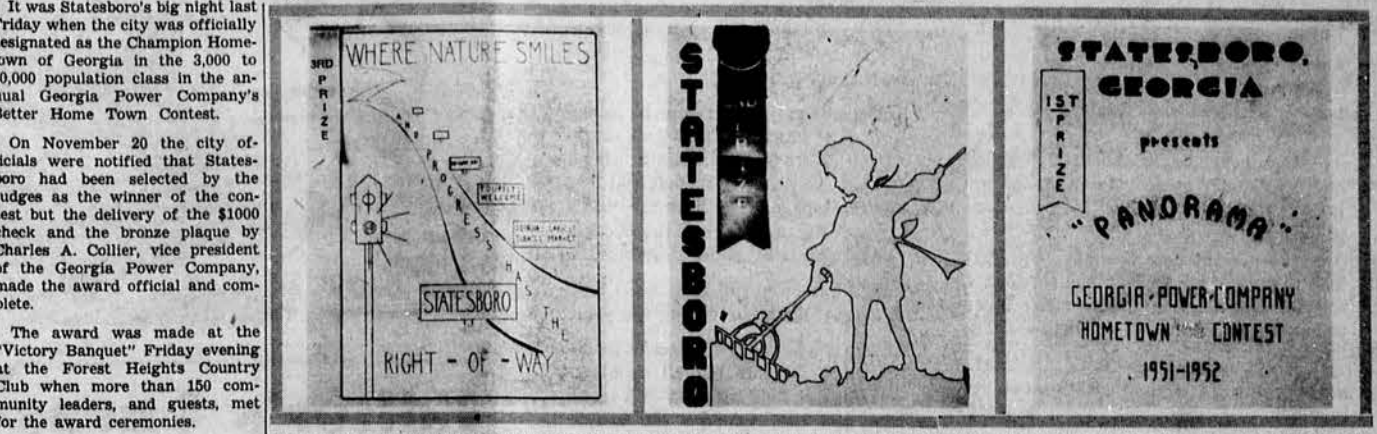

Here, books, illuminated manuscripts and authentic examples of ancient writing contained in the exhibit show a complete history of the written and printed word for more than four centuries, according to Miss McElveen.

The exhibit includes cuneiform writing on clay, recording deeds of sale and royal decrees from ancient Babylon and Sumera. A papyrus leaf from the Egyptian Book of the Dead displays the first use of color in pre-Christmas books. There is a rare fragment of the celebrated 36-line Gutenberg Bible, one of the most sought after items in the world of rare books.

Ancient book bindings in velvet and gold embroidery as well as leather are on display.

The general public and students are invited to visit the exhibit at any time during the two days it will be here. No charge is made to visitors.

Statesboro Gets Check For $1,000 And Officially Acclaimed Champ Hometown

It was Statesboro's big night last Friday when the city was officially designated as the Champion Hometown of Georgia in the 3,000 to 20,000 population class in the annual Georgia Power Company's Better Home Town Contest.

On November 20 the city officials were notified that Statesboro had been selected by the judges as the winner of the contest but the delivery of the $1000 check and the bronze plaque by Charles A. Collier, vice president of the Georgia Power Company, made the award official and complete.

The award was made at the "Victory Banquet" Friday evening at the Forest Heights Country Club when more than 150 community leaders and guests met for the award ceremonies.

The $1000 check was received jointly by Mayor Bill Bowen and past mayor J. Gilbert Cone, and Kermit R. Carr, general chairman of the Home Town Contest.

In making the presentation Mr. Collier challenged Statesboro to win the sweepstakes in the 1953 contest in which only first place winners are eligible.

"You've got another year ahead of you. You've really got a job to do," he told the group gathered at the club.

Mayor Bowen promised that Statesboro would do everything possible to win the top prize this year. He set the ball in motion by proposing that Kermit R. Carr again be chairman of the committee for the 1953 contest. The proposal met with a resounding approval of the crowd.

Statesboro has progressed steadily toward the top spot in the Georgia Power Company's annual contest. In 1951 the city won third place, in 1950-51 the city won second place and for 1951-52 it won the top award in the 3,000 to 20,000 population classification. Pelham won second place this year, and Douglas won third place.

Statesboro was sponsored in the contest by the city government with Mr. Cone as mayor.

T. A. Gibson, vice president, in charge of the Augusta Division of the company, presided. The entertainment was furnished by Miss Carol Little, and John Scoggins, vocalist of Augusta, with Johnny DeBatto of the Teachers College as accompanist.

The financial report of the bank was made by H. M. Robertson Jr. He reported that the capital stock, surplus, undivided profits and reserves totaled $65,000, and the bank's total reserves is $781,000. Mr. Robertson passed out 8 percent dividend checks to all stockholders, the checks being enclosed in lovely folders carrying a Happy New Year's message.

Col. Hinton Booth of Statesboro gave a timely talk on the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, and told what this meant to the banking business, and said "A prosperous bank means a prosperous community." The last talk was made by J. H. Wyatt who discussed matters pertaining to banking business.

The following directors were elected to serve for the year 1953: F. A. Akins, T. E. Daves, W. O. Denmark, J. L. Minick, H. Wyatt, John R. Hunnicutt, and Dan C. Lee. Corner winners were J. R. Poyner, Mrs. Alfred Dorman chairman, will be hostess for the meeting.

The executive board of the Women's Club will meet at the home of Mrs. R. S. Bondurant on Tuesday morning, January 13, at 10:00 o'clock. All members are urged to be present.
