Salute TO GEORGIA COUNTIES
Clay County
Indian Battleground
FOUNDED 1864
COUNTY SEAT, FORT GAINES

Clay County in southwestern Georgia was founded to surround the Chattahoochee River outpost of Fort Gaines, which dates from 1816 during the Indian Wars. In the early days cotton plantations bolstered river traffic. Today peanuts and cotton are leading products with more of the county moving toward cattle raising and planted pastures. Principal industries are peanut shelling, cotton gins, fertilizer mixing, a game bird farm, nursery for ornamental plants, and sawmills.
In this and other Georgia counties, the United States Brewers Foundation works constantly to maintain wholesome conditions where beer and ale are sold. Close attention is given areas near camps of the Armed Forces, and both military officials and Georgia law enforcement officers have commended the Foundation's self-regulation program. Retailer educational meetings offer sound suggestions for continued operation in the community's interest.

To Clear Up A Misunderstanding

IT SEEMED plain enough to us when we wrote it.

It seemed plain enough to the members of the Steering Committee of the Statesboro and Bulloch County Chamber of Commerce when it was discussed at their regular meeting on Tuesday, January 20.

Yet, we have been told by members of the Steering Committee that there are some who don't quite understand it.

Here is the paragraph which we wrote:

"It is recalled that the merchants of Statesboro, on May 26, 1952, had petitioned the City Council to increase their business license 100 percent for four years, 1953-1956. The funds from the increase were to be used by the (Bulloch County) Development Corporation to erect a building for prospective industrial use. The merchants were to receive participating common stock in the Corporation for the amount of the addition to their business license."

It was reported to us last Friday that some of the merchants of Statesboro had gotten the idea that part of the funds to have been raised by the increase in the business license were to have been used in paying the salary of the secretary-manager.

This is a complete misunderstanding. Let's go back to Monday, May 26, 1952. More than 100 businessmen and merchants met in the courthouse to petition the mayor and city council to increase their business license by 100 percent for the years, 1953, 1954, 1955, and 1956.

Following brief statements by the then mayor, J. Gilbert Cone, and Jim Hays, secretary-manager of the Statesboro and Bulloch County Chamber of Commerce, the business license holders of the city voted to double their licenses for four years.

The increase in the business license was to have been used to purchase stock in the Bulloch County Development Corporation which was being organized at the time of the meeting.

It was definitely stated at that meeting that the purpose of the Bulloch County Development Corporation was to promote Statesboro and Bulloch County and induce industry to select Statesboro as a site for new plants.

It was definitely explained that beginning with January 1, 1953, the increase in the license fees would be turned over to the Bulloch County Development Corporation, which in turn was to issue, participating shares of common stock at the par value of $10 per share for the amount that the business licenses were to have been increased.

It was anticipated that the new corporation was to borrow approximately $75,000 with which to erect a building 100 feet by 200 feet on property at the airport to be deeded to the corporation by the city and county. The $75,000 loan was to have been paid from the money secured by the 100 percent increase in the license fees over the four-year period.

Mr. Cone stated at that meeting that even of the industry with which the Chamber of Commerce was then negotiating should fail to come to Statesboro, "with the Bulloch County Development Corporation formed and funds in hand, we will be in the position to talk with other companies who have already shown an interest in Statesboro."

Never at any time was there mention of, nor at any time was there any intention of using funds from these business licenses which were to have been increased being used to pay salaries of any kind to any one.

We sincerely hope this clears up whatever misunderstanding may have come about our story last week.

Up Goes Our Hat

OH IT WAS PRETTY

And all those in it were pretty as pictures.

And it seems to us such a shame that out of the thirty pretty girls selected by the student body of Statesboro High School it was deemed necessary to select the "prettiest one," and the "second prettiest one," and then ten other prettiest ones.

The occasion was the Beauty Revue held at the high school auditorium last week to select the girls whose pictures will appear on the beauty pages of the 1953 Criterion, school yearbook.

June Carr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kermit R. Carr, was chosen by three judges from Metter, to be "the prettiest" of the 30. Mary Henderson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Zach Henderson, was selected as the "runner-up."

The other ten are Sybil Griner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Griner; Mary Jon Johnston, daughter of Mrs. Gady K. Johnston and the late Mr. Johnston; Florence Gross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gross; Carolyn Blackburn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Blackburn; Jane Richardson, daughter of Mrs. Frank Richardson and the late Mr. Richardson; Doris Rocker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Rocker; Margaret Ann Dekle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Inman Dekle; Lynn Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Smith; Donna DeLoach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carolyn DeLoach; and Audrey Faye Webb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Webb.

We throw up high our hat for the winners.

And we throw it up high for all those who were in the Revue—for had the Revue been held today and the judges been from Sylvania there might have been twelve other winners.

It's Pleasing To Know

THINGS CLOSE TO US we take for granted. But when we see it elsewhere it pleases us and makes a good impression.

And when it is pointed out to us that we excel in things we are sometimes surprised—and pleasantly so.

This week we have reason to be both pleased and surprised, but more pleased than surprised.

Cultural Experience

SUNDAY AFTERNOON, February 22 will mark a high in the cultural experience of the citizens of Statesboro and Bulloch County.

That afternoon at four o'clock Efreim Kurtz, musical director and conductor of the Houston Symphony Orchestra, will present that famous orchestra in a concert at the Teachers College.

We congratulate the Community Concert Association upon bringing this outstanding symphony orchestra to Statesboro.

Open Door in '53

HERE'S WHAT THE ALMANAC SAYS THE WEATHER WILL BE TODAY, February 19, will be fair.

Friday, February 20 Windy Saturday, February 21 Squally Sunday, February 22 Windy Monday, February 23 Windy Tuesday, February 24 Fair Wednesday, February 25 Pleasant

BUT DON'T BLAME US IF THE ALMANAC IS WRONG

Christ fasted for forty days and nights in the desert. He began His public life. He preached by example as well as by word.

Jesus spent these forty days near the Jordan at the foot of Mt. Quarantain in Palestine. The sides of that mountain are rock-marked with crude caves where early Christians came to live and to follow literally the example of the Master's forty day fast.

Until the nineteenth century the people took just one meal a day for the forty day period before Easter—and that meal was at sundown. Theatres and law-courts were closed for the Lenten season; and wars were suspended for these forty days. That was the universal custom in the Middle Ages—the ages of faith. Christians gave all their time and attention to the welfare of their immortal souls.

"I do not see the good that I wish, but the evil that I do not wish," that I perform." Rom. 7, 19. St. Paul tells us of the continual, violent struggle within him. His soul years for God and the things of God; but his body pulls him down to the things of earth—to evil. We're all like St. Paul. That same battle is going on within us.

Each one of us is a Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde. Our souls strain towards God; but our bodies cling to the earth. We are partly heavenly and partly earthly, part angel and part animal. Let's admit that much and go from there. Will the Dr. Jekyll of Mr. Hyde in us gain the upper hand, or will the animal part win out to say: "The inclination of the flesh is death, but the inclination of the spirit, life and peace..." and they who are carnal cannot please God.

What is the secret of getting mastery over the rebellious flesh? Will power. We are not at liberty to shrug our shoulders with "I can't." We'd better, or else we're lost forever. Our problem is to build up that all-important will power. Start giving orders to that unperched, comfort-loving body: No shows for Lent-or-no-candy-or-no-deserts-or-no-smoking. That's giving it up. It may be even better to give. You might resolve to read the Bible on your knees each day. Or you might think prayerfully about Jesus' sufferings and death for 5-10 minutes during the day. These are a few possibilities. You can choose anything you love for Jesus on the cross prompts you to offer Him. We want to get command of the animal in us so that we can serve our Master better. It's hard for us to do these things for love of Jesus. But He was nailed to the cross for love of us and to save us. That was no bed of roses.

Lent is a time for intensive soul-searching. Is me I here for? Where am I going—or hoping to go? Am I on my way there right now? Where do I stand? Almost all of us see plenty of room for improvement when we take a good look at ourselves as we really are in the sight of God. Then we get tough with ourselves. We try to get back "on the ball."

In Lent we concentrate on Jesus' sufferings. We walk with Him the Way of the Cross—to Calvary. In Jesus we find the strength, courage, and inspiration to "fight the good fight." We see what Jesus paid for our sins, yours and mine. We can't remain cold when we look at the bruised and bloody Jesus on the cross.

Then having suffered in union with Him we are ready to rise with Him on Easter morning. We are provided, however, we suffer with Him that we may also be glorified with Him." Rom. 8, 17.

That's what Lent is.

S.H.S. Band Gives

Listeners A Wonderful Thrill

BY VIRGINIA RUSSELL

If you were at the Statesboro High School auditorium Sunday afternoon to hear the Statesboro High School Band give its Winter Concert, won't you agree that each concert gets better?

Perhaps we've said it before but we feel it's worth saying again. There is a wonderful thrill for those of us who have attended each of these concerts for several years. The thrill goes far beyond the music experience.

There is a real joy in observing a large group of boys and girls over a period of years. The evolution of these boys and girls into the poised young men and young women continues to be amazing.

The way these young people together is another thing of wonder. Any mother of several children knows how hard it is to keep harmony among brothers and sisters of different ages. That harmony we speak of isn't connected with band music. But in the band there are the same problems with the different age groups. Yet, our band leader is able to produce harmony in the relationships with one another and harmony in music, as well.

For one who knows so little about music, we still appreciate the improvement that we see and hear now over the very first concert the older members have naturally matured.

One of the finest things about the band is its unselfishness. The concerts are always free. The parade in town before football games require a great deal of energy but the boys and girls are always happy to do their part. The band certainly adds greatly to the football games. Surely players are helped by feeling the support of the band. The music even helps the spectators to support their team. In return for this unselfishness, is the satisfaction of knowing that many individuals in town support the band, not only with their attendance to concerts and other public appearances but they also support the band with their money.

Each one of us is a Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde. Our souls strain towards God; but our bodies cling to the earth. We are partly heavenly and partly earthly, part angel and part animal. Let's admit that much and go from there. Will the Dr. Jekyll of Mr. Hyde in us gain the upper hand, or will the animal part win out to say: "The inclination of the flesh is death, but the inclination of the spirit, life and peace..." and they who are carnal cannot please God.

SOCIETY

THE CIVIC GARDEN CLUB AT HOME OF MRS. PERCY BLAND

The regular meeting of the Civic Garden Club was held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Percy Bland with Mrs. Fred Lanier and Mrs. Olin Smith as co-hostesses. Beautiful camellias from Mrs. Bland's garden were used in decorating the lovely home.

Assorted sandwiches, cookies and coffee were served during the social hour.

According to their custom, three arrangements were brought to the meeting. Mrs. Waldo Floyd carried a basket of daffodils, and Mrs. Charles Olliff Jr. of Statesboro carried coffee, and was assisted by Mrs. Howard Prater of Jacksonville Beach, Florida. Patty Sue Lanier and Rachel Dean Anderson served the refreshments. Mrs. C. P. Martin, Mrs. H. H. Hodges, Mrs. C. P. Davis, and Mrs. Renner Barnes assisted with the refreshments.

Miss Maude White ushered the guests from the dining room where, Mrs. Davis Barnes and Mrs. Naughton Beasley were hostess.

Mrs. E. A. Proctor, paternal grandmother of the bride, Mrs. Ouida Strickland, mother of the bride, Mrs. Actor Proctor, mother of the groom, and Mrs. A. L. Davis, maternal grandmother of the groom.

Mrs. Charles Nevils was hostess of the dining room where ice cream and individual rose-bud cakes and coffee was served. give FIGHT HEART DISEASE

A Proclamation

WHEREAS, The diseases of the heart constitute a health problem that is everybody's concern, and despite the constant and intensive battle being waged against them by medical science, they remain the principal cause of disability and death in the United States, taking three-quarters of a million lives each year, with an estimated 200,000 in Georgia alone suffering from some form of heart disease, and

WHEREAS, The Governor of the State of Georgia has seen fit to recognize the seriousness of this problem and the importance of the work the Georgia Heart Association is doing to meet this problem through research, education and service to heart patients, and

WHEREAS, A group of local, civic-minded citizens have taken upon themselves the task of conducting the February Heart Fund Drive in our community to raise its share of the funds necessary to support the heart program.

NOW THEREFORE I, W. A. Bowen, Mayor of the City of Statesboro, do hereby order that the month of February be observed in the City of Statesboro as AMERICAN HEART MONTH. I further call upon all schools, churches, scientific bodies, civic bodies, civic associations, business establishments and fraternal organizations and the people of Statesboro generally, to fully cooperate wholeheartedly in the HEART FUND DRIVE and with the Georgia Heart Association in its activities, designed to improve the public health.

(Signed) W. A. Bowen, Mayor.

Ray Akins Attends Advance Showing Of Frigidaires

An extensive new line of Frigidaire refrigerators—sprawled by four models with improved Cyclomatic cooling and automatic defrosting—a new Butter Preserver and roll-out shelves—a wide variety of newly styled electric ranges, including some with new Quick-Clean ovens and one budget-priced model with two ovens, were announced here today by Ray Akins of Akins Appliance Company, Frigidaire Dealer in this locality. He recently attended a special advance pre-showing of the 1953 Frigidaire products in Statesboro.

He pointed out that the revolutionary Food-Freezer-Refrigerator combination, featuring Cyclomatic cooling and automatic defrosting, is available this year in Deluxe as well as Imperial models.

More new ideas and engineering designs features ordinarily found only in top-line models have been incorporated into medium and budget-priced appliances," he explained. "In addition, colorful new styling has been added to all models." Revolutionary new Cyclomatic refrigeration which was first introduced to the industry and enthusiastically received by homemakers across the country, once more is the standout feature of new refrigerators. Mr. Dyer was graduated from the McCallie School in Chattanooga and attended Georgia Tech for two years where he was a member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. He is now a student at Georgia Teachers College in Statesboro.

The wedding will take place March 19 at the Statesboro Methodist Church.

ROSE SHOW SCHEDULED FOR MAY

The Statesboro Garden Club met Tuesday afternoon, February 10, at the home of Mrs. C. B. Altman with Mrs. Bill Alderman Jr., as co-hostesses. There were 37 members present.

The home was beautifully decorated with camellias, red buds and narcissi. Delicious chiffon pie was topped with whipped cream and a cherry. The club voted to have a Rose Show early in May. Entries of spring flowers would be judged as arrangements.

On the program was Mr. Mullis from the Ogeechee Soil Conservation unit. Mr. Mullis discussed horticulture as related to soil. Each member brought soil from her garden which Mr. Mullis tested for acidity.

Camellias were brought for competitive judging and the winners were: Mrs. James Bland, blue ribbon; Mrs. Lawrence Mallard, red ribbon; Mrs. Claude Howard, white ribbon.

SMITH-HAGAN REHEARSAL PARTY

On Saturday evening, Feb. 7, the Norris Hotel was the scene of the Smith-Hagan rehearsal party with the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Smith as host at a turkey dinner.

The banquet table was decorated with lovely arrangements of white gladioli, white carnations, white narcissi, placed at intervals the length of the table with English ivy trailing between. White candles in low holders added charm to the candle light dinner party. There were 30 guests present.

At the party, the bride presented her matron of honor rhinestone ear rings. The groom gave his attendants cuff links.

BLACKWOOD CLUB WITH MRS. DANA KING

On Monday evening, Feb. 9, Mrs. Dana King entertained her bridge club at her home on Granite street. Camellias were used in the decorations.

Top score prize, won by Mrs. J. B. Searee, was personalized note paper. Mrs. J. J. Clements received a bean pot sauce bouquet for consolation. Floating prize went to the player who took a trick with a device (The Society Reporter nearby fouled that one up. She understood it to be the first one who took a trip with a dunce). This prize, hand lotion, was won by Mrs. J. B. Searee. Mrs. John Strickland received a stamp holder for cut.

At different times the guests were served lemonade and nuts and daisy tarts and coffee.

Other players were Mrs. Leland Wilson, Mrs. George Stopp, Miss Lizzie Norman, Mrs. Donald McDougald, and Mrs. Thomas Little.

THE JOLLY CLUB

On Tuesday, February 10, the Jolly Club was entertained by Mrs. E. L. Mikell at her home on Woodrow Avenue.

Camellias were used in the decorations.

In keeping with the Valentine season, the table in the dining room had for a centerpiece, a heart-shaped pound cake, the icing delicate pink. Other refreshments were congested salad, crackers and toasted nuts.

In games, prizes were won by

DODGE "Job-Rated" TRUCKS

LANNIE F. SIMMONS
NORTH MAIN STREET PHONE 20 STATEBORO, GA.

OF THE 3 LEADING MAKES, ONLY DODGE TRUCKS ARE "JOB-RATED" TO GIVE YOU THESE AND MANY MORE ADVANTAGES

- Greatest maneuverability of the 3 leaders—saves you time and effort.
- Greatest vision area of the "big 3" lets you see more—increases safety, handling ease.
- Widest seat of the 3 leading makes.
- More power in the 1½- and 2-ton ranges than the other 2 leading makes.
- More pick-up bodies than the other 2 leaders, including new 116" wheelbase ½-ton pick-up.
- Greatest ½-ton panel payload and capacity of the 3 leaders.
- 2 fuel filters on all models to assure cleaner fuel and a cleaner engine.
- Floating oil intake selects clean oil at top, avoids sediment at bottom of crankcase.
- 4-ring pistons on all engines save oil, upkeep.
- Independent parking brake on all models is simple, efficient, powerful.
- Rivelless Cycleshock brake linings last longer, can't score brake drums... linings are tapered and molded on many models for quiet stops.
- Oilflow shock absorbers on ½-, ¾- and 1-ton models give smoother riding, greater driver control on roughest roads.
- Better-balanced weight distribution for extra payload.

Dodge pioneers... others follow! Many features—just adopted by other leading makes—have been standard on Dodge trucks for years! For example: chrome-plated top piston rings in complete line, spark-plug covers, 45-ampere generators, short wheelbase.

Only Dodge builds trucks that are "Job-Rated" to fit your hauling needs!

There's a REASON why NATURAL CHILEAN NITRATE means a DIFFERENCE in results!

One difference between Natural Chilean Nitrate and other nitrogen fertilizers is quality—its natural quality. It is the world's only natural source of nitrate nitrogen.

The nitrogen content of Chilean Nitrate is 100% nitrate nitrogen—100% available—100% fast-acting—100% dependable.

No antidotes is necessary. Chilean Nitrate is non-acid forming.

Rich in sodium and minor elements. Chilean Nitrate is rich in beneficial sodium, all conditions. No special precautions needed.

Helps maintain productivity of your land. When used consistently in a sound farming program, Chilean Nitrate builds up fertility, increases efficiency.

Year after year, Natural Chilean Nitrate increases yields—improves quality—defends against disease—fertilizes against insect injury—counteracts soil acidity. Use Chilean Nitrate for solid satisfaction!

Chilean Nitrate is the ONLY fertilizer that supplies nitrate nitrogen, beneficial sodium and essential minor elements.

60 Negro Farmers At Tractor Course

The recent tractor clinic held February 9 through 11, at the Wilbur Hill School, was a gala and successful event. There were 60 farmers enrolled for the course.

The rodeo, which was the last day was attended by approximately 500 people. The two day course was taught by a farm shop specialist, Mr. Samuel U. Walton of the Fort Valley State College. The interest of the farmers were superb, and through this interest much was accomplished in this clinic.

The clinic was climaxed with a well conducted tractor rodeo. Superior tractor and trailer handling for the most part dominated the rodeo and made scoring for the judges a difficult endeavor.

Prizes consisted of various consumable products given by the tractor and oil dealers in the county. After the rodeo the farmers and their families retreated to a tasty treat of barbecue and refreshments through the compliments of the local Farm Bureau.

Guests for the afternoon were Mr. Houston Stallworth, assistant director of agriculture at the Fort Valley State College, Mr. Samuel Walton, instructor of farm mechanics at the college, and Mr. Joyner, assistant resident teacher at the Fort Valley State College. Mr. Martin, County Agent of Statesboro, crowned Miss Willow Hill.

The winners in the tractor rodeo, for the handling of tractor and trailer contests were as follows:

- In-School Youth—1st place, Willie Evans; 2nd place, Joseph Polk; 3rd place, Doey Hall.
- Young Farmer Group—1st place, Roosevelt Burke; 2nd place, Ernest Wiggins; 3rd place, James Green.
- Adult couple—Mr. & Mrs. E. B. Lee Jr.; 2nd place, H. L. McCray; 3rd place, James Green.

Blue Lupine Is Popular In Bulloch

Blue Lupine is making headlines again this year. Not in the same sense it has for the past 2 years. It is beautifying the countryside with a blanket of dark green. It is coming back with more cold resistance and disease resistant. New strains are coming into widespread production that will keep lupine at the front as a winter cover crop in the future.

Cecil Kennedy has two strains of lupine on his farm south of Statesboro on U. S. 301. Regular bitter blue and white sweet lupine. It looks like blue lupine is running ahead of white lupine, but the white lupine looks good as an emergency grazing crop in winter.

Frank U. L. Harley's South of the city limits. A masterpiece in pond building, Mr. Fletcher is to be congratulated for his foresight in his first pond venture. Most people learn only by the mistakes they themselves make, but Mr. Fletcher learned from the mistakes of others. Incidentally, the gate is not locked leading to the pond so take a peek at it, Mr. Fletcher doesn't mind.

More farmers are building terraces for soil and water conservation to increase yields and keep

Vernon Collins Makes Corporal

WITH I CORPS IN KOREA—Vernon Collins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Early Collins, Route 1, Brooklet, Ga., recently was promoted to corporal while serving in Korea with I Corps.

I Corps, which traces its history to the Civil War, has fought in Korea since September 1950. It led the breach of the Pusan perimeter and smashed it within 40 miles of the Yalu River before the Chinese Communist intervention. In January 1951, I Corps again drove the Communists north of the 38th parallel.

Corporal Collins is a senior wireman in Headquarters Battery, 62nd Field Artillery Battalion. He has been in Korea since last October. Collins entered the Army in November 1950. He formerly attended Brooklet High School.

The Jimps Home Demonstration Club met at the home of Mrs. C. H. Zissett, February 9. Mrs. Emmet Scott, president, called the meeting to order, and Mrs. Luther Olliff conducted the devotional. Everyone present enjoyed Mrs. Dorothy Whitehead's demonstration on sandwich fillings, and afterward drew names for secret sisters. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess during the social hour.

Nevils Workshop Held Last Week

Another in the series of PTA workshops being held by the Nevils parents and teachers was held on Wednesday night of last week. The health condition of the Nevils School community was discussed with Mrs. Robert Cox as moderator.

The discussion revolved around the problem of eradicating hookworm in the county. Those taking part were Mrs. R. G. Hodges, health chairman of the Bulloch County P.T.A. Council and Mrs. Trell Nesmith, health chairman of the Nevils P.T.A. They were named to make a survey in the Nevils community to determine the number of homes which do not have sanitary units.

It was decided to hold Family Night with Dad's Night early in March. Mrs. Maude White reported for the recreation committee.

The next workshop will be on Wednesday, March 4, at 7:30.

Recreation Roundup At City Community Center

ALL STAR GAMES ARE ALL THRILLERS

The All Star Games in all three boys' leagues were played in the College Gym on Monday night of this week by invitation of Coach J. B. Seares of the Teachers College. All those who missed these games missed some of the best of the year. In the Midget League the All Stars conquered the Indians in a 33 to 29 thriller that found all 10 all stars participating in the game to bring about the defeat of the favored quintet. Barry and Street led the scoring for the All Stars by 11 points each while the scoring for the Indians was evenly divided.

In the Junior League the Cards defeated the favored all stars 42 to 42 in a game in which the Cards trailed all the way to the final period. Even after Capt. Gordon Franklin and forward Eidenfeld fouled out, the hard working Cards held on to their 2 point lead in the final minutes for the upset win. Franklin was high scorer for the All Stars with 22 points, while Max Roberts equaled his achievement with an equal 22 points. Roberts was Capt. of the All Star Team.

In the Senior League where the All Stars were picked as the under dogs in pre-game sentiment upset the league leading Dynamites 45 to 41 in a game in which they led all the way. Paul Waters led the Dynamites with 12 points as Billy Jo Deal took top scoring honors for the All Stars with 18 points. In the Junior Girls' League the all star game was played at the Recreation Center and favored all stars came through as expected with 38 to 15 shelling of the Bobbie Sox. Edna Mae Denmark, Capt. of the Bobbie Sox led her team in scoring with 10 points, while Amelia Brown took honors for the All Stars with 27 points.

Telephones For Bulloch County Now Certain, W. A. Hodges Tells Ogeechee

Everything necessary to procure the loan from REA for the Bulloch county telephone project has been completed. W. A. Hodges, secretary of the local telephone cooperative, told the Ogeechee, Farm Bureau group Tuesday night.

Mr. Hodges stated that when the loan is approved, actual work can begin on the project. Mr. Hodges stated that some short cuts might have been taken and the project started earlier but that the directors felt it was wise to play it safe.

J. A. Hart, chairman of the fertilizer buying committee for the chapter, reported that several companies had agreed to let the group have fertilizer at dealer prices, which would save some $400 per ton for those that did not hold a dealer's contract. Those wanting to group their order for fertilizer for this year were asked to give it to Mr. Hart as chairman of the committee.

Frank Proctor, vice president since the Ogeechee meeting, reported that the ladies met with Mrs. William Moore to study flower arranging.

A motion picture on tractor safety was a part of the Ogeechee program.

WARNOCK

Through the cooperation of the local health department a rat control program has been started in the Warnock school building, where the Warnock Farm Bureau holds its meetings.

Mrs. L. F. Martin had charge of the Warnock program Wednesday night and led the song service. Frank Rushing and Jesse N. Akina gave piano solos, Hayward and Sherward Boyd put on a black-face skit, Carol Groover gave a reading, and E. T. Mullis, county conservationist, outlined the work of the Soil Conservation Service, pointing out the types of soil found in the county and the recommended fertilizer for such soils as well as conservation practices best for holding the soil.

COASTAL BERMUUDA

Coastal Bermuda is unexcelled for summer grazing, according to Georgia Agricultural Extension Service. It is unexcelled because it grows late in the fall, makes more growth, is an excellent hay plant, and is more disease and cold resistant.

"RECONSTRUCTION"—The amount of destruction and devastation wrought in this little land during the last two and one-half years is impossible to estimate, and just as immeasurable is the amount and quality of the faith and courage to build again and look to a brighter future that is found here today. In June 1950 when the Red invasion of South Korea began, there was not a Methodist Church in the Pusan area. (Methodism had concentrated in other areas.) Today there are 12 Methodist churches in Pusan—refugees from central and north Korea have formed the nucleus and the number of new Christians is amazing. Last Sunday I attended morning worship in the new Pong Su Dong Church, the pride of Methodism in this lovely new white stucco building, an orderly service, a well trained choir singing some lovely numbers, an impressive order of worship followed and a splendid message given. People sat together on the floor when more people kept coming they crowded closer and closer. These people are reconstructing their church life in a beautiful little church. Now, go with me to the little church where I worshipped this morning. This church group is mostly refugees from Wonsan, the city in north Korea where I lived and worked from 1924 until 1940. A delegation of these friends visited me and invited me to worship with them this Sunday. They said they had only a little room in a building with not much to make it look like a church, but they are having such good times there under the leadership of one of the Wonsan District pastors. That same afternoon we heard that the little church had destroyed their fire church and had been being put to good use in church architecture—it didn't make any difference that some of the labels on the boxes read "Tide," "Corn Flakes," "Blue Ribbon Beer," "Cool Cigarettes," etc! These boxes kept out most of the snow that fell last night and kept the breezes from cooling us off too much during the service. In such a situation, I dare say, many of us would have said, "No church for me today," but not so with that group. When we arrived Sunday School was in session, some 85 girls and boys singing lustily and we were told that they had planned a campaign to save their pennies to buy a church bell for the new church they hope to build. The day of the fire on the little land whose home was destroyed hurried over to see about the church and seeing it still standing, exclaimed, "My house is gone, but how happy I am that we still have a place for our Sunday School." After the SS group went out, the church was put in order for the adult worship service. I was touched and rejoiced in the fellowship of the service. Some 75 or 80 women sang with feeling. "Simply Trusting Every Day" and "Jesus is all the World to Me," and the message based on the experience of Paul and Silas singing in the jail at Philippi was a challenge to meet the difficult experiences of this day with singing faith. The whole experience was a moving one, and when they announced that the service would be concluded with a "Welcome" for me, it seemed just too much. In spite of war-torn and refugee conditions and a recent devastating fire these dear Korean friends just MUST be their gracious selves, and you can see the sweet little service with appropriate songs, talks and gift (a Korean Bible) was appreciated very deeply. These friends are going ahead to reconstruct and enlarge their place of worship—surely there just must be a brighter tomorrow for people who sing through their difficulties, and make such ventures of faith."

JOHNSTON-PRYOR NUPTIALS
IN SWAINSBORO SATURDAY
A wedding of unusual interest to friends and relatives in Statesboro was that of Miss Rita Booth Johnston, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gibson Johnston, of Swainsboro, who became the bride of Lieut. Gerald Wilcox Pryor of Fitzgerald and Camp Rucker, Alabama, son of J. J. Pryor and the late Mrs. Pryor.

The marriage took place Saturday afternoon, February 14, at the Swainsboro Methodist Church, the Rev. Vernard Robertson, pastor of the church, performing the impressive double-ring ceremony before an assemblage of twenty.

The church decorations presented a scene of classic beauty in unusual artistic design. The choir was habited with stately palms centered with a large arrangement of magnolia leaves tinted a delicate pink.

The bride wore a lovely gown of white tulle with a long train, and the groom wore a tuxedo with a white bow tie. The ceremony was officiated by the Rev. Vernard Robertson, pastor of the church. The wedding party included Miss Rita Booth Johnston, the bride; Lieut. Gerald Wilcox Pryor, the groom; Miss Mary Ann Johnston, the bridesmaid; and Mr. and Mrs. Gibson Johnston, the parents of the bride.

REHEARSAL PARTY FOR JOHNSTON-PRYOR WEDDING
Following the rehearsal of the Johnston-Pryor wedding at five o'clock Friday afternoon in Swainsboro, the bride party and out-of-town guests came to Statesboro Friday evening where they were entertained with a buffet supper at the Country Club. Hosts of the party were Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Oliver.

The bride's attendants were Miss Mary Ann Johnston, Miss Mary Ann Johnston, Miss Mary Ann Johnston, and Miss Mary Ann Johnston. The groom's attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Gibson Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. Gibson Johnston, and Mr. and Mrs. Gibson Johnston.

The bride's mother wore a gown of white tulle with a long train, and the groom's mother wore a gown of white tulle with a long train. The bride's father wore a tuxedo with a white bow tie, and the groom's father wore a tuxedo with a white bow tie.

The bride's bridesmaids wore gowns of white tulle with a long train, and the groom's bridesmaids wore gowns of white tulle with a long train. The bride's groomsmen wore tuxedos with white bow ties, and the groom's groomsmen wore tuxedos with white bow ties.

RECENT BRIDE HONOREE AT BRIDGE LUNCHEON
Mrs. J. E. Parrish entertained Saturday with a bridge luncheon in honor of Mrs. Charles Holm Jr. of Savannah, the former Lavinia Clark of Oliver.

The guests included Mrs. J. D. Clark and Mrs. Floyd Holm Sr., Miss Jane Suttive and Miss Alan Bond of Savannah; Mrs. T. L. Moore of Register, Mrs. Wendell Burke and Mrs. Raymond Sumner of Statesboro.

Mrs. Parrish's gift to the honoree was a plate in her breakfast set. For high score at bridge, Mrs. T. L. Moore received a china bird, an appropriate piece for flower arrangements.

ATTEND FUNERAL IN CLAXTON
Relatives from Statesboro who attended the funeral of Mr. Neil Thaggard of Greensboro, N. C. who died of a heart attack and was brought to his former home for burial, were: Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Neville, Mr. and Mrs. Felton Neville, and son, Bobby Neville; Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Neville, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Neville, and Mr. and Mrs. Lovett Monnet, of Sylvania.

The deceased is survived by his wife, Mrs. Ella Neville Thaggard and a son, Neil Jr., and daughters, Cynthia and Mary Emmye Johnston, the organist of the "Thou Sublime Sweet Evening Star." As the vases were exchanged the soft music of "To a Wild Rose" was played.

The funeral service was held at 10 o'clock Friday afternoon in Swainsboro, the bride party and out-of-town guests came to Statesboro Friday evening where they were entertained with a buffet supper at the Country Club. Hosts of the party were Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Oliver.

BOATWRIGHT-DELOACH
Mr. and Mrs. Fred Boatwright of Claxton announced the engagement of their daughter, Valera, to Norman E. DeLoach of Statesboro. Mr. DeLoach is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell DeLoach.

The wedding date will be announced later.

ELKS AIDMORE AUXILIARY ORGANIZED IN STATESBORO
Beginning with an organization meeting in January, at which time Mrs. Mary Jane Dotson, of Savannah met with a small group of women and a nominating committee was named, and the Elks Aidmore Auxiliary was well on its way to take its place with other worthwhile clubs in town.

Last Friday, Feb. 13, Mrs. Dotson returned to Statesboro to assist in the installation of officers. Mrs. Lawson Mitchell is the president, Mrs. Arnold Rose is vice-president; secretary, Mrs. James Thomas; and treasurer, Mrs. K. D. Wilder.

The new club plans to meet once a month on the 2nd Tuesday at the Elks Club in a dinner meeting.

The main purpose of the Auxiliary is to see ways that they can help the Aidmore program in meeting the needs of crippled children.
