Answer The Red Cross Call

THE BULLOCH COUNTY Chapter of the American Red Cross is making its plea for funds this month.

The work the Red Cross does is spotlighted by the tornadoes which struck Oklahoma and Texas last week.

Some people were killed. Many were injured. And many are homeless.

The winds were still blowing when aid came to these people. The Red Cross, moving swiftly, came to the area, comforting, helping, nursing the injured, sheltering the homeless. The Red Cross was ready.

Remember when Bulloch County was hit by a tornado? Remember the part the Red Cross played?

Remember when Gainesville was hit? Remember when Albany was hit?

Then stop and think—it could happen here again!

And if it does, the Red Cross will move swiftly and surely into Bulloch County to help us.

The Red Cross is now asking us to help that it might help us—when it is needed. If you have not already contributed—do so generously.

Battle of Our Highways

DESPITE THE steady campaign for traffic safety few Americans realize the extent of the slaughter continuing on the highways of the 48 states. Some indications of the carnage can be seen if one compares the deaths which have occurred among Americans in the Korean War with deaths which have occurred on the highways of the United States in the same period.

The latest Defense Department summary listed 21,471 American deaths in the Korean fighting since its beginning. This covers a period of over two years.

For the years 1950 and 1951, there were 72,000 deaths caused by highway mishaps in the United States. Likewise, while we have suffered over 91,000 wounded in the Korean war, the injured in automobile accidents in the years 1950 and 1951, total about 1,300,000.

One can see that, in a two-year period of highway accidents, deaths were more than three times the total battle casualties sustained in over two years of Korean fighting. Highway injuries for the shorter period of time were over 10 times as great as the total American wounded in the same period.

The discouraging part about these figures is that little can be done to reduce the highway deaths. At least, it is accurate to say that little is being done—since the total is increasing year by year. The emphasis is currently being switched to safer highways, better graded roads and better signs and lighting. However, stricter driving permit laws are also urgently needed in most states.

The safety campaigns, which we have relied on in recent years, do not seem to provide the answer, as effectively as they undoubtedly are and other action must be taken by state governments and the highway departments in the various states if highway accidents are to be reduced in the future. —Newman Times-Herald.

We're Still Proud

EVEN IF OUR BOYS from Stilson did not win the Georgia "C" Championship basketball title, we're still proud of them and their coach, S. A. Driggers.

The boys from Stilson got off to a fast start by defeating Cave Springs 89 to 61, on Thursday night of last week. They went on to defeat Pine Grove 72 to 62 on Friday night to move into the finals.

Then on Saturday night Winterville defeated our "Champs," 54 to 49.

It makes no difference in the hearts of the basketball fans of Stilson and Bulloch County.

The boys are still Champions in our book.

Up She Goes, Extra High

OUR HAT goes up extra high this week for a group of Statesboro's young businessmen.

It goes up high for the finest display of sportsmanship, cooperation, and personal willingness we've seen in Statesboro in many a day.

These four young men wanted no part of it—we know that.

The very nature of the assignment was one that any young man would have backed away from, bowed up, bared his teeth, and shouted—"Not me."

However, a contributing factor must be considered. Their wives may have had a lot to do with it. We do not know the arguments, the cajolery, the luring, the sweet-talking that went on before these young men finally agreed to the proposition.

But having been committed to it, the wonderful way in which they performed attests to their fine spirit.

So for Ed Olliff, H. P. Jones Jr., Billy Olliff, and G. C. Coleman we throw our hat up extra high.

For you see they were models in the Junior Woman's Club Fashion Show held here recently.

These young men braved the mockery, the drillery, the cute remarks thrown at them by the less courteous souls as they paraded on the model runway before more than 300 citizens of Statesboro wearing the latest fashions of Feb. 1951.

It was a wonderful display of community spirit.

They Mean Business

OUR LOCAL forest protection unit means business.

According to J. W. Roberts, Bulloch County Forest Ranger, one person has been fined in Bulloch County for violation of the state forest fire laws.

A guilty plea was entered recently in the City Court with Judge Cohen Anderson presiding.

According to Mr. Roberts the state forest fire laws says a person may burn his own property, if he takes the proper precautions. He must notify all adjoining landowners twenty-four hours before burning.

The landowner must also prepare the necessary fire-breaks to keep fire from crossing to the lands of all adjoining property owners.

It makes no difference whether a person intends for his fire to get out of control or not, if it gets on property other than his own, the person starting the fire is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Landowners trying to protect their forestlands need protection from irresponsible people who insist upon burning their own lands.

We commend those who have the courage to prosecute those who would ruin our forestlands.

Observing A Birthday

THE BROWNIES and Girl Scouts of Statesboro and Bulloch county gathered at the Recreation Center on Thursday evening of last week to observe their 41st Anniversary.

These young girls' organizations now include more than 80 members under the direction of Mrs. Carl Franklin and Mrs. W. T. Clark.

They celebrated their birthday with the beautiful Flag Ceremony. And gathered to celebrate with them were their fathers and mothers.

We congratulate them on the wonderful things they are doing and commend their leaders for their contribution to the well being of this community.

Like the man said—"Words are too puny to describe it."

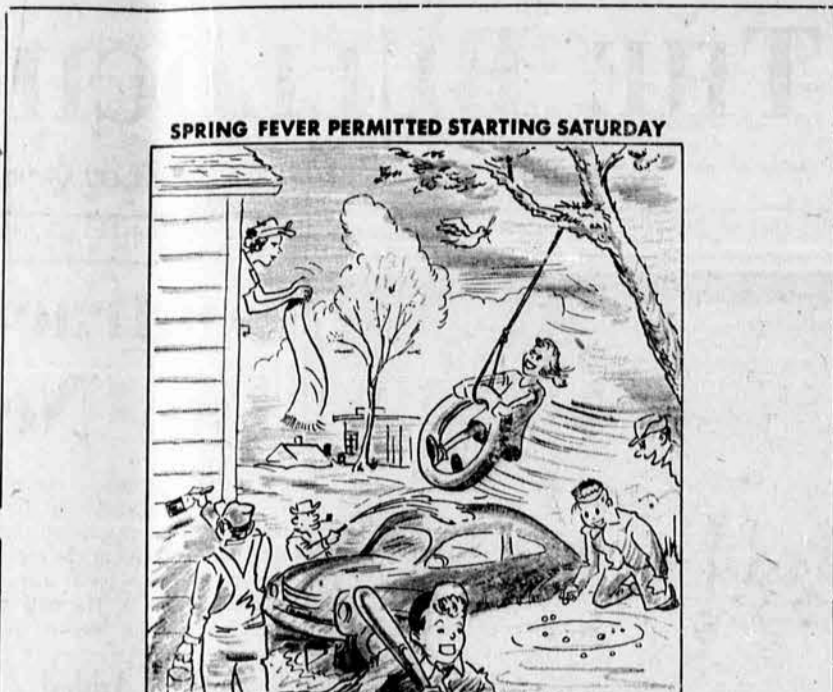

He was talking about the explosion of the "atomic device" which was set off on Yucca Flat, 85 miles northwest of Las Vegas, Nevada, on Tuesday morning at 8:30.

The man's voice was without expression—"15 seconds . . . 10 seconds . . . 5 seconds . . . 4-3-2-1-0" BOOM! and the atomic device went off.

There was the characteristic colorful blast, the explosion shock, and the majestic column of smoke with the mushroom umbrella top rising into the early morning sky.

We were sitting in on the explosion, together with 600 newsmen, photographers, radio, and television men.

But now, we were not exactly "AT" the explosion. You see some

The Rambling Pittmans

COSTA RICA'S SCHOOLS Ho Hum!

Since the "Ramblers" returned from his rambles over eight states of the United States and the District of Columbia, he has been SO VERY BUSY!

He has been digging out from "under" and has found little or no time to indulge himself by telling his Bulloch County friends where he has been or what was on his mind.

There was an overdue annual report to UNESCO with parts A, B, and C, X, Y, and Z. There were the happenings of FORTY DAYS in Costa Rica during my absence which had to be "recovered."

There were many "thank you" letters to educators along our American journey that had to be written. "Bread and Butter" notes to generous souls were on the agenda.

Mrs. "P" took care of all the folks at home—she's better at the sort of thing than your Rambler. After two weeks of arduous toil, the task has been buried. I am now ready to greet the rising sun and the past of the new day with renewed relief.

In the meantime, I have lost one "heart-throb" with the "Rambling Pittmans." Perhaps it is just as well, for even the "Rambling Pittmans" cannot, like Tenyson's brook, "go on forever." Our conscience will not permit us to impose on a good newspaper, even though its editor is our personal friend, by continuing to write after the original purpose of the writing has been satisfied.

The purpose of these letters was to tell about our rambles. Well, our rambling is about over—so far as the "man-rambler" can now see. We plan one more trip—up to Guatemala! When we return from that trip we shall thereafter have our nose to the proverbial grindstone here. There will be little that is new to us or interesting to our readers about which to write.

WE ARE TRYING TO BE HELPFUL. We are here, as you know, to try to be helpful to the Costa Rican Educational System. As all of you, who met our Costa Rican educators who visited the United States in January and February know, we have some excellent people in charge of education here. They are intelligent, ambitious, and dedicated to their calling. But they are "up against" a difficult task. Traditions, old, and long established, materials and practices are difficult to change. The Latins talk long and leisurely. They philosophize much. They hold many conferences. They pass many resolutions. And when they have done these things, there is a tendency for them to feel that the job is done. Those fine people who visited America came to know that the job is yet to be done.

WHAT IS THE JOB TO BE DONE? Well, what is the job? Here are some facts to help you to see it. During 1952, there were 42,405 children registered in the first grades in the country. In the second grades there were 27,650 or 14,749 less than in the first grades. But hold on to your hat! By the time we get to the sixth grade, there were only 6,201 pupils! Six-sevenths of the children drop out of school before they get to the sixth grade.

The school system is divided into the Primary School—grades 1 to 6, and the Secondary School—grades 7 to 11. Of the 6,201 pupils who made it to the sixth grade, only 36 per cent of them go into the Secondary School.

Unhappily, three-fourths of those who enter the Secondary School drop out before they get to the eleventh year and less than one-fifth go on to graduate. This means that less than one out of each 75 children who enter the first grade ever graduate from the public Secondary School.

What a problem to solve! What a task to undertake! I visited one Negro high school in Macon, Ga., which graduated more students last year than did the Secondary Schools in Costa Rica!

Here is something for Georgia to pick up her hat, stick out her chest, and of which to be proud! SHORTAGE OF TEACHERS. Perhaps you can better understand the situation when we know that Costa Rica has few well prepared teachers. It has had a small Normal School at Heredia for about twenty years. But what can one small Normal School do toward preparing teachers for an entire country, even though the country is a small one?

And we were tremendously impressed. We saw the troops as they moved up into the blast area and as they crouched in the trenches, and as they waited for the "word."

We saw two homes that had been built in the blast area—one only 300 feet from the drop tower, the other 750 feet away. We saw the several automobiles with their dummy drivers at the wheels, parked in the blast area. Then the blast.

It was terrific in its magnitude. In ten seconds the column of smoke rose a mile into the air. In a few seconds the soldiers in the trenches were given the word to move out.

And we had to come to work. We'll read about the rest in the newspapers. It was quite an explosion.

It Was Almost Like Christmas At West Side School

BY VIRGINIA RUSSELL

In one of the rooms at the West Side School last week the atmosphere was almost as charged with excitement as it is during the approach of the Christmas season. The air was filled with expectancy. All week the Third and Fourth grades were making plans for a trip they were to take.

Then on Friday four mothers and the teacher piled the children into cars and drove them first to the campus of the College, where the Westside children were the guests of the Third and Fourth grades of the Lab School.

The host Fourth Graders entertained their visitors with an imaginary trip to Mars. Having received interplanetary tickets, space helmets and suits, which were quickly adjusted, the zipped up the travelers took off in a space ship. After whizzing through space for many years, they landed on Mars, and after a short stay, whizzed back to earth. The trip was quite a thrill, not only for the youngsters but also for the adults who went along.

After returning to the world, the group was entertained by a play written by the Lab Fourth Graders, a performance based upon their study of Egypt. Since the Westsiders had but recently completed a study of Africa, they were quite able to appreciate the full meaning of the play.

The visitors next proceeded to the Third Grade, the children telling them of a just completed study on clothes, a study which began with the animals and plants which furnish the raw materials, proceeded to the mills in which thread and clothes are made, and concluded in the factories which manufacture the finished clothes. The climax of this program came when the class put on a puppet show which depicted a visit to a clothes factory.

Having been invited to stop by the Second Grade room, the Westsiders discovered that the desks were arranged in streets and squares, and that the children were engaged in a study of the year 1933-34 was elected unanimously by the group. They came: vice president, Mrs. Robert Zetterover; secretary, Mrs. Frank Moll; treasurer, Mrs. C. C. Mosely.

Mrs. Billy Simmons, program chairman, introduced Mrs. William Moore, 10th grade homeroom and Home Economics teacher. Mrs. Moore took the unit of study of the year 1933-34 was elected unanimously by the group. They came: vice president, Mrs. Robert Zetterover; secretary, Mrs. Frank Moll; treasurer, Mrs. C. C. Red Cross Fund Campaign Poster for 1953

The "marching flags" poster of the late N. C. Wyeth, first used by the Red Cross in 1933 and repeated in 1947, will be used again in the poster of the 1953 Fund Campaign because of its great popularity. Repeated also is last year's slogan, "Answer the Call."

The Bulloch Herald • Statesboro, Ga. THURSDAY, MARCH 19, 1953

HELLO!

How are you this morning? Please let us take just a minute of your time to ask this question. If you had within your power the opportunity to give sight to some person, how much personal satisfaction would you gain from such an experience?

Unfortunately we do not have the power to perform such a miracle, but have you ever stopped to think that many of the things we take for granted each day, is in reality a miracle for someone else?

If you took a child who could only partially see and corrected his difficulty, with surgery or by simply fitting him with glasses so that he could adapt himself in his group and become a normal individual with all the pleasures and opportunities offered by our way of life, wouldn't you think that this would truly be a miracle for this child?

Would you be willing to perform such a miracle? Beginning the week of March 23rd, the Statesboro Lions Club is going to give every house and business in Statesboro the opportunity to perform this miracle. We simply ask that you hold any purchase of brooms that you might be planning to make in the near future if you can conveniently do so and make your purchase from the Lions in their annual broom sale.

These brooms are of first quality, the price is reasonable, they are made by blind people and proceeds from the sale will be used to perform the miracle of giving better sight to many boys and girls, not in far off lands, but here in Statesboro, here in Bulloch.

We are selling these brooms, we are not asking for contributions. If you can use one or some of them you will be helping us perform a MIRACLE.

ALL'S FAIR

By JANE

Statesboro folks are vacationing in lovely places and coming home to give us new ideas, the various attractions that are designed primarily to attract tourists.

This weekend, Mrs. O. L. Branen and Mrs. Pearl Davis went to Tampa to visit Ruby's daughter, Lynn, who returned with her grandmother for a visit here.

Pearl says, "We had the best time—visited Cypress Gardens, the Book Tower, saw the 'Great Master Piece' a masonic of the 'Lord's Supper.' At St. Petersburg they watched the beginning of the yacht race as they lined up at the municipal pier—destination Cuba. Pearl says she was astonished at the stores at the end of the pier where one could buy any sort of merchandise you could possibly need.

RIGHT HERE in my office nook I see several tourists each day stop across the street to take pictures of the lovely garden next door. The lovely flowers were planted by the late Mrs. Alex Futch and are now carefully tended by Mr. Futch and Miss Alice Wilcox. Many of the tourists are amazed at the wisteria on the pines. A tourist remarked to one of the Hodges boys at the filling station that he had never seen a tree with blooms like that.

Another of the many beauty spots in Statesboro is the front lawn at the Harry Smith's on South Main. There, red and white daisy blossoms nestle close to the lovely home with apparent affection. So many blooms in such vivid contrast is something to store in your memory. There are, of course, other red and white flowers on the lawn, and we remember the beauty of older plants in lush beauty as you look through the picture windows of the dining room.

VISITING Mrs. E. N. Brown this week was a friend from Merchantville, N. J. Mrs. Wilbur Euvall. Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Euvall became close friends as each of them accompanied their husbands to Duke Clinic. Since those days they have each lost their companions and thus have mutual ties. On Saturday, the two of them left for a tour of Florida and upon their return, Mrs. Brown will accompany Mrs. Euvall to New Jersey for a visit.

MRS. TOM PETERS has returned to Dublin after visiting her daughter, Mrs. Bob West, and Dr. Bob. She was bubbling over with her grandson's rapid advancement in the business world. Margaret would intervene occasionally and say, "Now, Mama, George might not like this." But I can understand the pride of grandparents. So despite Margaret's protest, I am taking the liberty of publishing promotions etc.

GEORGE POWERS has recently been made president of the Atlas Elevator Company in Atlanta and is also representative of the Southeastern Rotary Lift Company serving seven states. George is a handsome young man and still a bachelor!

AND FOR Hall of Fame I nominate Guyton McLendon, Director of Band, at Statesboro High School. "Mr. Mack" as he is affectionally called by his students, is not slowing down.

The Instrumental Music Festival last Monday in Statesboro, saw our Statesboro Band earn 35 SUPERIOR ratings. This was more than last year. And for the high estimation his ability rates in the State we have only to note the many occasions he is called to judge in other towns. On February 7, "Mr. Mack" conducted the District Clinic for the schools in the Gainesville area. This was one of the series of instrumental music clinics held by the University of Georgia extension department in cooperation with the Georgia Music Educators Association. He also judged in the Washington District on Feb. 27, where bands came from Washington, Athens, Thompson, and Augusta. On March 3, he was one of the judges at Thomaston with bands from LeGrange, Carrollton,

There's a girl across the river who has a diamond on her hand... Put there by a fellow who leads his own band... He has a soda shop in neighboring town and is very popular there... The girl is blond and pretty with complexion fair... Yes "Rock" still loves his music, still loves to beat a drum... But he's likely taking time off sweet nothings to him... He has a wonderful set-up... She lives just half way from Sylvania and his folks back home... No need to wander... No need to roam... Congratulations!

As ever, JANE.

Farm Bureau Farm Bureau Program Should Include Many Members—Give Them Laughs

Farm Bureau programs should give lots of members participating in them and provide a few laughs, Mrs. J. A. Akins, president at Warnock, thinks.

Following up this line of reasoning, Mr. Akins and his group met on one of the most hilarious programs Wednesday night at their regular meeting. The comedy chapters have yet tried, they called it the spring style review.

Ben H. Smith as Billy Burke was master of ceremonies and Frank Rushing as Ethel Smith was pianist.
