A Double-Edge Challenge

WE'VE BEEN getting away with it for a long time.

We've been getting away with it for such a long time that we have come to the point of completely forgetting that it's against the law.

Making a left turn out of Courtland Street into North Main Street, we're talking about.

And making a left turn out of Seibald Street into East Main Street, we're talking about.

There's a city ordinance which makes it illegal to turn left at these two corners.

There's signs on the street which read "No Left Turn."

But we pay no attention to them.

We've been left to our own devices by the police and so we make left turns at these two places because it suits our convenience.

But the word goes out this week that all that is coming to an end.

No more left turns at Courtland into North Main Street and Seibald into East Main Street.

The City Council has instructed the members of the police department to enforce these no left turns, in addition to the ordinances which require stopping at stop signs, and the ordinances which sets the speed limit in the city.

Speaking for the members of the police force, Chief Anderson said that they intend to carry out the instructions of the city council and enforce these traffic regulations.

Speaking for the motorcycle police, Officer C. E. "Tuck" Tucker stated that "we're going to re-enforce these laws."

It is admitted that the police have let Statesboro drivers get away with ignoring the no left turns, the stop signs, and the speeding laws.

But with the appearance of this week's Herald the police have the word to "re-enforce" the law and begin making cases against all citizens who ignore the no left turns at these corners, the stop signs, and the speeding ordinances.

We commend the city council and the city police on their intentions to enforce our traffic laws.

If there's any doubt in the minds of you about the sincerity of their intentions, go ahead and ignore the laws.

This amounts to a double-edge challenge. To the police to make good their intentions. To the drivers, if there's any doubt about the police intentions, to try them.

Up Goes Our Hat

THIS WEEK we toss up our hat for two women close to our college and our community — Dr. Malvinia Trussell and Dr. Eurie Belle Bolton.

On Wednesday of next week these two ladies will be presented as honorary members of Phoenix, national honor society, which is the highest recognition Georgia State College for Women can pay its alumnae. The honor will recognize them for their outstanding work in the field of education. The ceremonies will take place at the annual College Day exercises to be held on the campus of G.S.C.W.

Known through the southeast as a brilliant naturalist and a pioneer in the teaching of nature study, Dr. Trussell, who was formerly a member of the biology staff at our college here in Statesboro, is the newsletter editor for the American Nature Study Society and is an active member of the American Ornithological Union, the American Association for the Advancement of Science, the National Association of Biology Teachers, and the Georgia Ornithological Society. As professor of biology at Florida State University she directs the study of graduate students and trains science teachers to fill positions in the elementary and secondary schools. She received her Ph. D. degree at Cornell University.

Dr. Bolton, who is professor of psychology at G.S.C.W., is known to us here in this section as the sister of Miss Ruth Bolton who is a member of the G.T.C. home economics staff. She is an active member of Delta Kappa Gamma, Pi Gamma Mu, and the American Association for the Advancement of Science. She is also a fellow in the Psychological Association of America, and her name is listed in the American Men of Science, Leaders in Education, and Who's Who Among American Women. She is recognized as a thorough scholar and as the author of more than a score of professional publications.

And so, for these two fine women who bring credit and distinction to our community, we toss our hat high into the air and shout.

Congratulations!

Discouraging, Isn't It?

SORT OF discouraging, isn't it?

You knock yourself out keeping your yard and lawn clean. You mow the grass and pull up the weeds.

And then you lift your weary head and there next door, somebody's vacant lot looks like the northwest corner of the lost world.

And then you realize of the futility of all your work comes welling up in your mind. You see the weed seeds being blown onto your yard and then next spring you knock yourself out again trying to keep down the weeds that grow up in your yard and garden.

And it's a shame to have a nice clean neighborhood with home owners doing their best to keep the community looking neat and attractive — and right in the middle is a piece of property someone bought for speculation, or on which to build a new home "someday," which lies neglected and grown up and unattractive.

It's discouraging, isn't it?

The neighborhood could get together and petition the property owner to, "won't you please clean up your vacant lot?" Or the neighborhood could get together and hire a person with a tractor and sickle mower to come in and mow it even and send the property owner a bill — of course that would be a little drastic and maybe make bad feelings — but it would get the lot cleaned up.

Or the neighborhood could get together and have the vacant property cleaned up and pay for it themselves — which is rather unfair for them.

But the ideal situation would be for the property owner to become community conscious and send in someone to clean up the mess and become a part of the community with a pride and a pleasure in ownership.

And it will make the property look better if a prospect comes along looking for a place on which to build and make a home to fit the community.

Take a look at your vacant lot this weekend.

And clean it up — if it looks like the northwest corner of the lost world.

Play Ball!

Words to thrill millions of baseball fans all over the nation.

And to the fans of the Statesboro Pilots of the Georgia State League the words hold just as great a thrill.

Come Monday, April 20, when the first Pilot stands up to the plate with bat poised over his shoulder and the umpire yells "PLAY BALL!" and the pitcher rears back to throw his first ball, Statesboro fans will rise to their feet and shout "KNOCK HIM OUT," and the 1953 season will be on.

From then on out the Pilots will play the best baseball they know.

They will lose some games — that's inevitable.

And they will win many games.

But win, or lose, there'll be baseball for all.

Monday of next week will be a great day for us here in Statesboro and Bulloch County. The management of the Pilots have gone to a lot of trouble to provide a big opening day. The Blue Devil Band will parade in the afternoon and play at the game that night.

The response to the sale of season tickets have been good, which indicates a fine season.

Begin the season with wholehearted support of our team. Keep it up all season, and the Pilots will respond by showing you some fine baseball.

Meet us at the ball game.

ALL'S FAIR . . . . by Jane

Every one's talking 'bout the baby show and the dimpled beauties there. The girls all dressed in lovely clothes, trim with lace rare. . . . But when the trophy was handed out it went to Archer Bell. . . . And even the little girls were pleased that a boy had done so well. . . . The judges had a hard time in making their decision. . . . They knew they wouldn't be harmed or regarded with derision. . . . Yet with boys and girls so truly fine. . . . It's hard to draw the line.

THE BETA SIGMA PHIS were delighted with the crowd that filled the Recreation Hall. They appreciate the manner in which the Statesboro people cooperated in every way to make the Baby Show a success.

Winners of Blue ribbons were Edith Parker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Parker Jr., Kristen Tillman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Grant Tillman Jr., Danny Toole, Jr., Zack Smith III, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bell, Janie Rushing, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. B. Rushing, Jr., Zack Smith III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Zack Smith; and Susan Waters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil W. Waters.

Grady Johnston presented the handsome silver trophy.

The setting was the most attractive carrying out the Easter motif in the decorations and entertainment. A charming picket fence enclosed the garden, which had a backdrop of roses and smilax entwined with colorful tulips.

And to add a bit of interest, last year's winner for the girl's little Karen Morris, now stationed with her parents, Capt. and Mrs. Robert Morris in Baumholder, Germany, has a baby brother. On Sunday morning early the Third County Hospital, Dr. Williams had a cablegram announcing the arrival of young Robert Franklin Jr., at 6 a. m. Eloise and Thad received the cable. Robert Jr. weighed 8 pounds and six ounces. His mother is the former Miss Helen Proctor of Twin City.

JANE BEAVER, who is quite popular at High School and is Miss S.H.S. had one last fling with her mother, Ruth (Mrs. Roy) Beaver as they visited Ruth's niece, Mrs. Jack Samples in Fort Pierce, Fla. Jane made up her mind quite a while ago that she wanted to attend Stephens College in Columbia, Mo. She will study merchandising and retailing. Who knows? . . . she may be reading about a Statesboro girl commuting to Paris as a buyer for some large department store.

MARY JOHNSON is another high school senior who knows exactly what she wants to do. She and her mother, Mrs. Grady Johnston were guests of Miss Marjorie Webster, whose school is located at Rock Creek Park Estates, Washington, D. C. at a lovely luncheon given at "Harts" in Atlanta. The Marjorie Webster Junior College offers liberal arts, secretarial, radio, T.V. and merchandising.

OFF TO NASSAU went the Grady Attaways and the Bernard McDougalds Saturday morning at 8:00 o'clock. They plan to visit in Miami for a few days. Grady and Louise lived there before coming to Statesboro, and they have friends who are looking forward to their visit. Once in Nassau—Well, according to Bernard, it may be ten days, two weeks, even a month. They shall probably go by boat, because Grady is a bit allergic to the automobile. A man who drives a bull dozer or a road machine could be excused when his preferences keeps him grounded.

THE DAYS are hurrying toward the Flinders-Prosser nuptials, Sunday, April 19. The father of the groom, Russle Lee Prosser is making a terrific effort to recover completely from surgery at the Bulloch County Hospital. Dr. Williams, Carrie Edna (Mrs. William Sharouse), has already arrived from Sarasota, Fla., with daughter, Sally, who will serve as flower girl in the wedding. This time the bride's dress will depart from the classic style, without giving an inch in elegance, for the real beauty will be furnished by white Brussels lace over white satin.

AND OUR proud salute goes to Agnes Scott College, student body, who is completing the year at Agnes Scott College has been invited to read for Honors in English in her senior year. This is an honor awarded only to the students who have made most outstanding records in their general college work. It involves concentrated study in the student's major field and the writing of a paper on a chosen subject. Genevieve is the daughter of Mrs. J. E. Grady, a member of the T. C. faculty.

TALKED TO Mrs. Karl Watson Register while she was in at a lovely luncheon given at back from Dawson there she spent six months with her daughter, Karlyn, now Mrs. Mike Fyvesah and little Karlyn Jr., who is now six months old. Frankie admits she is pretty, sweet and chubby.

She also gave news from Jane who worked so long at "Olivers" and "Henry's." Jane and her husband, Ed Baker and their two year old son, of Chicago are moving May 18 to San Francisco, and Frankie is already wondering if she can thumb a ride come next fall. . . . Her only single boy, Frank Register Watson is in Korea, attached to the Korean Army as Medical adviser.

A MOST completely Relaxing recently was ours to the old Riggs Mill Place, now rejuvenated, owned and operated by Frank Rushing. The moss draped cypress trees, the water falling over the spillway, the meandering stream, that meanders were told for several miles amid beautiful scenery. MAN AND HIS DOG
The ordinance is simple and to the point.

"Be it ordained by the Mayor and City Council of Statesboro, that it is hereby ordained by the power of the same that, from and after May 1, 1953, it shall be unlawful for dogs to run at large in the City of Statesboro, and all owners of dogs are hereby required to keep dogs retained in a safe enclosure to prevent their running at large.

"Any person or persons violating the terms of this ordinance shall, upon conviction in the Mayor's Court of the Recorder's Court of said city, be fined not more than $50 or be imprisoned in the city stockade not exceeding 30 days, either or both, at the discretion of the said court.

"All ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed."

See what we mean? No, it's not that simple. There's more to it.

There's a city ordinance, in addition to a state law, which requires that all dogs be inoculated for rabies and carry a city tag that to effect. Local veterinarians can inoculate your dog and issue a tag to certify to it.

We commend the city council upon their action.

The problem of dogs on the loose is a serious one in some sections

Here's what we mean. Dogs on the loose hang about our school playgrounds. They get into a fight. The kids gather 'round and shout at the fighting dogs.

Now—it could be that a fighting dog might turn on your child with serious results.

Much has been written about the boy and his dog.

Every Generation Said To Be Going To The Dogs

BY VIRGINIA RUSSELL
It is said that every generation thinks that the coming generation is going to the dogs. We won't admit to being one of our generation who believes that but we confess that there are some things about the coming generation that alarm us.

In fact, we're going to say some things that will never get us a vote in the event we decide to run for governor.

We don't feel exactly like the lady whom we recently heard say that the only thing that would save our children would be a depression. But we do feel that the children coming along now are being reared in a manner that their training is sadly lacking.

We feel very strongly that the program of free textbooks, as it stands at present, is not good for children or parents. We feel that parents and children would receive better training and the books far better care if parents were required to deposit a fee in September and get it back in June — if the books are returned in good condition.

Teachers cannot instill in children the care of books unless that care is first taught in the home. If a parent had some money deposited at the beginning of a term, we feel that every child would get a daily lesson at home on the care of books.

It is cause for alarm when a teacher sees books that are drawn all over, that are written all over, that are sometimes torn and cut, and that upon occasion, are left outside in the rain. It is cause for alarm, too, when a teacher sees a book on the floor and at the same minute sees a child step on it.

The teacher calls to the child: "Don't you see that book?" And the child replies: "It ain't mine."

Something must be done we feel. We parents seem to be "passing the buck" to the teachers, and we teachers are longing to have a little "better trained buck" passed to us. It is inevitable, true, that if parents' money is affected, then the child will be made conscious of the value of books and school property most of those whose parents can't afford to pay for such abuse.

We haven't figured out a solution to the enforced school attendance, but we will wish someone could. Somehow the children of today feel no thrill over school, who feel no privilege in attending school, but who rather feel abused because there is a law that says a boy or girl must attend school — these children are vastly different from their parents and grandparents who so longed for a little learning that they walked three, four, or five miles to school.

We have chided our own children at home when they complained of walking a scant mile to school. We have gone so far as to say that the grandchildren of our children would be born without legs if these children don't use their legs more. (The Head of the House swears that the homes of tomorrow will be built with a road through them so the children won't have to walk to get on the school bus.)

We don't want to be too hard on our children (we had, and still have, our faults, too), but are we being fair to them when we neglect their training? Is it right to make life too easy for them? Are we spoiling them with too much pampering? Are we robbing them of their initiative? We wonder we wonder.

The picturesque beauty of the old mill dam and the columned Southern home overlooking it from a bluff where already azaleas and camellias are growing. There are boats, there are tables. There are wonderful shade trees, all inviting for picnics or an afternoon away from the cares that might beset us. . . .

As ever,
JANE.

New Methodist Church At Brooklet Is Dedicated Sunday

BY MRS. JOHN A. ROBERTSON

More than five hundred people attended the Dedication Exercises of the Brooklet Methodist Church last Sunday.

Two lovely anthems, "The Heavens Declare the Glory" and "Jehova Is Our Lord and God," were rendered by the choir, directed by Mrs. Joe Ingram, with Mrs. T. R. Bryan, pianist. The invocation was given by the Rev. J. B. Hutchison of Alderaster Church, Savannah, and the morning prayer by the Rev. L. C. Wimberly of Tenille.

The Rev. George E. Clary, district superintendent, introduced the speaker, Bishop Arthur J. Moore, who delivered a masterful discourse based on the 14th chapter of Exodus. Bishop Moore praised the congregation for the newly erected church. He said, "Progress never easy. A building does not just happen but is the result of well-planned, generous, and whole-hearted cooperation. God's house should be beautiful, as you have built this one. Now, go forward! Get a good understanding of the will of God. We need a more vital relationship with Christ, we need a communion of power, and we need comradeship with God and with each other."

At the close of the sermon the official representatives of the church, Lester Bland, H. M. Robertson, and J. H. Wyatt, presented the church to Bishop Moore for dedication.

Following the dedicatory services a beautiful dinner was served to the congregation at the community house.

The Bulloch Herald • Statesboro, Ga. THURSDAY, APRIL 16, 1953

SAFETY FIRST: A SUMMONS TO "WE THE PEOPLE"
The mounting number of deaths caused by drunken or careless drivers on the highways and streets of the nation, is a tragic story that reflects, not lavy of the Law, but the senseless disregard of many of those who drive, for all the rules of safety, for themselves and for others.

By the Noble and the Court, Condemn us for our carelessness. In the judgment of the world? No longer may we trust in this, That Law at last will rectify— A greater force than Written Law Must intercede, or all will die! A Public, conscious of the Danger, Must take a firm, decisive stand In defense of its own interests To stop this evil in our land.

Behind the summons, "Safety First," The Law Embattled stands, Helpless in this Armageddon, Fighting back with bloody hands! We, the People, are the culprits, Breaking every sacred rule! For the protection of the masses, Even the wayward, stumbling fool!

The law at last is, "We The People," And when the people quail In firm and unified Approval, The Law itself will fail. This timely call for Safety First, Apart from boast of Canity, Is a Summons to the People, Not to Arms, But Sanity!

TYPE IRRIGATION
Several factors influence the selection of the type of irrigation system best suited to meet existing conditions. Engineers for the Agricultural Extension Service of the University of Georgia say that these include the topography of the land, type of soil, depth of topsoil, quantity of water available, type or crop, distance from water supply to land to be irrigated, labor available, and attitude of the grower.

Red Cross Drive Is Lagging In Bulloch

Mr. Francis Allen, Fund Chairman for the 1953 Campaign of the Bulloch County Chapter of the American Red Cross, announced today that our Red Cross needs $1,080 to meet the needs of our chapter.

Mr. Allen expressed concern over the shortage. The county divisions and the residential divisions are about completed. It seems that the business and industrial groups are lagging.

Mr. Allen stated that "if all businesses and industries that have not yet contributed would do so and those persons who have not contributed from other divisions would meet our goal. Bulloch county failed its fund goal last year and another failure this year would put our Red Cross programs in jeopardy."

Mr. Allen stated that Bulloch County receives through the blood program more benefits than any other county in the state.

He further stated that the Red Cross needs 7 million dollars to provide the very valuable Comstock to combat malaria from the polio—a need we in Bulloch County would have in the event of a polio outbreak.

Recent tornadoes, one not far from Statesboro, is further evidence of the need of the Red Cross. Millions are spent in communities each year for disaster relief. We need Red Cross "insurance".

Mr. Allen stated, "If we are to have our Red Cross programs we all need to take the support of this great organization upon ourselves."

Mr. Allen urges all workers to take a check and assure everyone in our county the opportunity of being a member of our Red Cross. If you have not been contacted please call the Red Cross at 240 to support the Red Cross that support it deserves."

Post 40 Explorer Scouts Hold Meet

BY FREDERICK DYER

Explorers of Post 40 have held their spring planning meeting. Advancement of the program of Scouting is the aim of these tri-monthly meetings.

These Scouts are under the leadership of Zack Smith and Emory Maddox and are sponsored by the Statesboro Chapter of the Elks Club.

At a joint meeting with representatives of the Elks Club and with Scout Executive Ed Tally the Scouts made up a list of many different service social and skills activities. The service activities are a new idea that is being set forth by the Scouts. The Scouting is now set up where it is necessary for a boy who wishes to participate in Scouting to do some act of service to the community.

With a full program—a camping trip at the coast, a river "Scouting" volunteer G.O.C. members, and emergency rescue squad service, aid to the Scout troops of the surrounding area, a trip to Savannah, a houseparty, a dance—these boys hope to show Statesboro that Scouting can really be a civic asset.

Rotary Club To Hear Bill Fielder

Bill Fielder, associate editor of the Savannah Morning News, will be the guest speaker at the meeting of the Rotary Club on Monday night next.

Mr. Fielder was one of the newspapermen who witnessed the explosion of the atomic "device" on March 17 on Yucca Flat, 65 miles northwest of Las Vegas, Nevada. He will tell the Rotarians of his experiences at the explosion.

At the same time, Mr. Gilson announced the creation of a new post, assistant division manager, which will be filled by W. S. Hollingsworth, now Macon division operating superintendent.
