Girl Scouts to be honored
This week the members of Troop No. 1 and Troop No. 2 of the Statesboro Girl Scouts are celebrating their National Girl Scout Week.

As a special celebration the two troops will have the Court of Awards during the week at the Recreation Center. Mrs. L. M. Durden, president of the Statesboro Woman's Club, will make the presentations. 32 girls will receive second class scout badges. This is the largest number ever to reach this rank since the organization of Girl Scouts in Statesboro.

The girls in Troop 1 receiving second class badges are: Sara Adams, Priscilla Atkins, Gloria Blain, Linda Canon, Janice Clark, Joyce Clark, Lynn Collins, Janelle Evans, Jessica Lane, Kay Minkovits, Eudaiselle Patten, Patricia Sack, Margaret Wilson, Marie Ginn, Ann Oliver, Nancy Hamilton, Sandra Williams and Judy Smith. Mrs. Preston is Troop 1's leader.

Lovett's open new food store here Wednesday, March 17
Statesboro's newest supermarket will officially open for business Wednesday morning, March 17, at 8:30 o'clock.

Housed in a streamlined modern building the new store is located on Poplar street, between North Walnut and North College streets.

The store will be operated by Winn and Lovett Grocery Company, a native-born Southern super market chain.

With store area covering some 9,300 square feet the modern food market, when open for business, will observe the regular opening and closing hours adopted by the local stores: 8:30 a. m. to 6 p. m. on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday; 8:30 to 12:30 on Wednesday afternoon; 8:30 to 7 p. m. on Fridays; and 8:30 a. m. to 8 p. m. on Saturdays.

On opening day the new store will remain open all day until 6 p. m.

The fixtures and counters in the new store are designed for speedy shopping. The new building is an example of what a modern super market should be. Ideas incorporated in the store are the result of hundreds of visits to other super markets in various cities throughout the nation. All the personnel in the new store are specially trained for their positions.

Free parking space is provided for over 100 automobiles.

Winn and Lovett Stores are famous for budget values. Officials of the company said they plan to bring Statesboro the biggest food values ever when the store opens next Wednesday.

D. O. Foshee Company of Jacksonville built the new store.

Rites held for Miss Mixon
Funeral services for Miss Martha Carolyn Mixon, who died in an automobile accident near Metter last Sunday morning, were held Monday afternoon at 8:30 at Bethlehem Baptist Church by Elder Pat Bird. Burial was in the church cemetery.

Miss Mixon is survived by her mother, Mrs. C. H. Mixon of Statesboro; and two sisters, Mrs. Johnny Roberts of Statesboro, and Mrs. Arthur Sparks of Portal.

Pallbearers were Dean Baxter, Ed Bass, Gene Craig, Charles Brannen, Jack Brannen and Cecil Hagan.

Honorary pallbearers were H. H. Macon, Bob Thompson, F. I. Williams, Emmet Deal, Willie Waters, L. C. Gandy, Betty Newton, Hudson Allen, Everett Stewart, and Stothard Deal.

Fishermen asked to help learn why shad population is declining
The fishermen in this section—both sports and commercial—are returning the tags they find on shad to the Fish and Wildlife Service, now living in Statesboro, Uncle Sam's biologists are making a survey to determine why shad population had declined since 1900.

According to Arnold Golding, U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, the shad population has been declining since the turn of the century.

"There's a half-dollar reward for each tag returned," he said.

Mr. Golding said that the survey being made in cooperation with the Georgia Fish and Game Commission and extends from Maine to Florida. It is sponsored by the Atlantic States Fisheries Commission.

The program consists of tagging shad near Richmond Hill throughout the season (commercial season on shad closes April 15).

500 shad will be labeled with a Peterson disc tag. This device consists of two red discs fastened together with a stainless steel pin which is inserted through the flesh of the fish's back, slightly under the dorsal fin. Construction on big electronics plant to begin here in about two months

An electronics firm which expressed interest in a Statesboro site last September will begin construction in Bulloch county soon.

Construction of the electronics plant is expected to begin in about two months, T. J. Morris, president of The Bulloch County Development Corporation said last Friday.

The plant will be located on U. S. Highway 301 near Statesboro and will employ about 800 workers, Mr. Morris said.

Announcement that Statesboro was being considered as a site for the plant was first made in September of last year when the development group and the Statesboro and Bulloch county Chamber of Commerce held a labor survey in cooperation with the State Department of Labor.

Employment at the Statesboro plant will probably be increased by two or three hundred after the project is launched, Mr. Morris said.

The plant which will be located two miles north of Statesboro, is expected to cover an area of 100,000 square feet. Bergen and Bergen of Savannah are architects. Construction will begin following completion of the drawing and engineering bids for the building of the plant.

An insurance loan for the project was secured last week. The name of the firm planning the project has not been announced.

The Bulloch County Development Corporation which assisted in securing the plant is composed of citizens cooperating with the Chamber of Commerce in seeking to locate new industries. A large amount of the money to finance the building is being furnished by citizens of the county and business firms who purchased stock in the development corporation.

"CONGRATULATIONS" say the losers in the race to elect Youth Mayor of Statesboro in the civic youth elections held at the Statesboro High School on March 2. Shown here, candidates Jimmy Jones, Guy Freeman, "His Honor," Youth Mayor Gene Newton, and Doris Rocker. The Youth Mayor will serve as mayor-for-a-day during Civic Youth Day on March 16. The project is sponsored by the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y Clubs of the Statesboro school.

Presbyterians begin special services Sunday
The Statesboro Presbyterian church will observe a week of spiritual enrichment next week. All people of the community are invited to attend. Services will be held at the usual worship hours on Sunday. Meetings at seven a. m. and seven-thirty p. m. will be conducted through Friday.

Dr. Daniel Iverson of Miami, Florida, will be the featured teacher and preacher. Dr. Iverson, who was reared in Savannah, has had a most interesting career as a minister. He has served churches in Georgia, North Carolina, and Florida. His last pastorate was in the Shenandoah Presbyterian Church of Miami, where he served for over twenty years as a Bible teacher and preacher in the church. For the past three he has been in great demand as a Bible teacher and preacher in almost every state of the southeast.

Rev. John Prigden, pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Brooklet, will be the featured preacher at the church. For the past three he has been in great demand as a Bible teacher and preacher in almost every state of the southeast.

Sale of Pilots season tickets is lagging
With the season ticket sale for the Pilots' lagging, committee went of again Wednesday of this week to sell the 85 tickets needed to assure fans of baseball. Tuesday 115 tickets had been sold. It had previously been announced that it would be necessary to sell 200 season tickets in advance if Statesboro enters a team in the Georgia State League.

C. B. McAllister, president of the Statesboro club this week, said the members who had not purchased season tickets to be ready when the members of the committee called.

The tickets will be made available until Friday to make the final announcement as to whether the Pilots will be in the league. Earl Mann, president of the Atlanta Crackers, who is working with the Pilots, spent last Saturday in Statesboro making arrangements for the forthcoming season but local officials could give Mr. Mann no definite answer pending the sale of season tickets.

The Crackers had signed another outstanding youngster to Statesboro. Ben Glau, age 19, who has two years of semi-pro ball as a pitcher and first baseman has been assigned to the Pilots. Glau, who is 6 feet 1 1/2 inches weighs 175 pounds and stands six feet tall pitcher with excellent control. Last year Glau hit over 300. Before entering semi-pro ball, Glau was a letterman in baseball, football and track for four years in New Orleans.

M. E. Ginn Company, Inc., of Raleigh, N. C., has named the dealer for Case tractors by the J. I. Case Co. in Statesboro.

A great deal of interest is being shown in the new type tobacco harvester. A strange looking machine, it is said to be a "wonderful job at gathering a tobacco crop." Mr. Ginn says that following a hitch in the U.S. Navy, M. E. Ginn

S. H. S. Band rates 25 'Superiors' at Festival
The Statesboro High School Band ran its five-year music festival achievement record up to 95 "superior" ratings by accumulating 25 at the Region Five of the Georgia Music Festival held at Georgia Teachers College last week.

With pardonable pride Guyton McLendon, band director, announced the band members who received superior ratings:

Linda Bean and Shirley Johnson, clarinet; Lant Wall, bassoon; Wilmoth Fowler, tenor saxophone; Roger McLendon, alto saxophone; Tommy Slaughter, trumpet; Bill Adams, trombone; Carey Donaldson, baritone; Guy McLendon and Guy Freeman, tuba; Sara Groover, W. L. Casson and Mary W. Hendricks, snare drum; Mary W. Hendricks, cymbals; Marjio Joe Hodges, bass drum; Linda Bean, baton twirler.

In the group performances the following were given superior ratings: Woodwind ensemble—iris, quintet, clarinet choir, and flute quartet. Brass ensemble—brass choir, cornet dist. and brass quartet.

The concert band received a superior rating, and was given superior in eight ratings.

EXCELLENT RATINGS
Members of the band receiving "excellent" ratings were Felicia McLendon and Thelma McAllister, flute; Nicki Brown, trumpet; Eddie Lane snare drum; Evelyn Jones and Amelia Brown, twirling. Groups winning "excellent" ratings were the clarinet trio No. 1, clarinet trio No. 2, the clarinet quartet, the horn dist. and the saxophone trio.

Mrs. Nona Quinn, director of public school music, announced that the Statesboro Senior High School Mixed Chorus was awarded a superior rating, and the Junior High Choir was awarded a superior rating. These two groups include 105 school children.

Mrs. Gilbert Cone announced that Simeta Blitch was awarded a superior in the piano. The following voice students of Mrs. Cone's won excellent ratings: Jan Whelchel, Teresa Foy, Patricia Lanier, and Doris Rocker.

Jack Brobeck announced that Linda Bean was awarded a superior rating in piano. Mrs. Paul E. Lewis announced that her pupil, June Tier, was awarded an excellent rating in piano.

Georgia Collegeboro the Laboratory High girls ensemble won an excellent rating, and Sue Whaley was awarded a superior rating for her voice solo during the season.

Miss Beaver is now a freshman at Agnes Scott. She graduated last spring from Statesboro High School, where she was president of Beta Club and vice president of her class, and rated.

Join the Red Cross to serve your fellowman

The Bulloch County Chapter of the American Red Cross is now in the first week of its annual drive for funds.

A plea is being made to join the Red Cross to serve your fellowman.

Everyday we hear of the distress, need, or adversity of one of our fellow citizens. Sometimes the need is close at home, sometimes it is a far distant point. No matter where, each of us has an impulse to help—an impulse as old as the human heart.

But as individuals we frequently can do little. No one of us can afford to make a sizable contribution to every person whose trouble or plight appeals to us. All of us banded together, however, each giving what he can afford, will save lives, restore health, or bring comfort and happiness to many in distress.

Through the American Red Cross each of us may make his contribution easily and efficiently.

By joining the Red Cross we are there to restore the shattered home of a disaster victim; to give emergency help to the family of a serviceman; to provide lifesaving and health restoring blood for the ill and injured; to brighten the weary hours of a hospital patient; to help save and revive a drowning child.

Chartered by Congress and charged with important and specific responsibilities, the Red Cross has been meeting the needs of thousands of stricken or troubled men, and women and children each day for more than 70 years.

Only the participation of all of us makes that neighborly service possible. Answer the call of your Red Cross—join and serve your fellowman.

In an attempt to secure greater participation in the Red Cross drive this year, those charged with the responsibility of raising funds are asking owners and managers of businesses and small industries to contact each employee in their business and their industry for the employee's Red Cross membership. Several businesses and several industries have already reported 100 per cent memberships.

We commend these on their cooperation which helps those performing the important business of making our Red Cross drive 100 per cent.

A 'BB' gun can spell 'Casualty'

It's not just a Statesboro problem. Other communities are bothered with it too. The following editorial was taken from the Claxton Enterprise, which quotes from the Atlanta Constitution which quotes from the Pelham Journal. All of which proves that sooner or later something must be done about the BB problem.

It seems that there is a problem in Claxton that parents COULD do something about if they were so inclined.

Little boys with BB guns are becoming wantonly destructive. They go all over town shooting birds for the fun of it and a few weeks ago deliberately shot the bulbs in all the lights at the City Playground (it will cost even one hundred dollars to replace them) and one little boy's eye was permanently damaged when a B-B shot grazed it while he and some other boys were playing war with these "more dangerous than we think" weapons.

If the parents don't do something about this situation, it seems to us that a city ordinance prohibiting the use of any firearms in the city limits would be in order—to protect these little people from themselves.

Leo Aikman had a column in Monday's Constitution that should be "must" reading; and we reprint it in part here:

"Some small boys put God to a lot of trouble!"

The sentence was an eye-catcher. It was the introductory paragraph to Editor Jim Chism's column in the Pelham Journal and it led me to read farther: "A few days ago," said Jim, "a house wren with a thrilling voice chirped loudly and flitted about the shrubbery around our house. It did not sing sweetly, but it did all that nature had fitted it to do; it chirped merrily and reminded one of a forerunner of spring. It ventured across the driveway to a little higher limb—then...

"Three small boys, but large enough to know better, felled it with their B-B gun. The thrilling little chirps were heard no more and will never again be heard from the frisky little wren killed by little boys whose parents had not taught them not to kill song birds.

"Here is what is found in Matthew 10:2, 'And are not two sparrows sold for a farthing? And one of them shall not fall on the ground without your Father.'—Yes, three little boys forced the Lord to make a note of the sparrow they felled for no reason whatsoever."

Sparta, Ga., by the way, has banned the shooting of air rifles.

We throw our hat high up into the air

Up goes our hat for the Statesboro High School Band and its members who rated "Superior" in the Regional Music Festival held at the Teachers College last week.

This year the band added 25 "Superior" ratings to its honors, bringing their five-year accomplishments up to 95 "Superiors." This is a record without equal in the state.

We commend Guyton McLendon and every member of the band upon their fine achievement.

And while we have our hat off we throw it up again for Miss Nona Quinn of the Public School Music Department for the "Superior" rating given to the Senior High School Mixed Chorus, and the Junior High Chorus, these two groups including 105 school children.

And for Smets Blitch our hat goes back high into the air for his "Superior" rating in piano and a commendation to his teacher, Mrs. Gilbert Cone.

We like these musical festivals. The one last week brought over 3,300 young people into Statesboro. They got a look at our city and our college.

We like the idea that "there shall be music for all."

We hope that the festival will be held here next year.

We commend the Statesboro and Bulloch County Chamber of Commerce for the part they played as hosts to the eleven judges at a special dinner at the country club on Thursday night of last week. It's that sort of thing which keeps people conscious of the graciousness of Statesboro.

Businessmen carry a very heavy burden

Another school yearbook will make its appearance in Bulloch county this spring.

And the merchants and businessmen of Statesboro and Bulloch county are picking up the printer's check.

The generosity of these people is being imposed upon. They are carrying a heavy burden. Hardly a week passes that some organization calls upon these people to finance some "worthy project." Many are recognized as "worthy of participation" and these are contributed to with a generous heart.

But there are so many "worthy projects" that are not worthy at all. Investigation would reveal that the business "sold" to organizations which takes money away from our community leaving a product of doubtful worth. The merchant and businessman asked to finance these things have no idea of what the project is to cost, what per cent the sponsoring organization is to get, if the cost is in line with legitimate production costs, how many is to be furnished.

An attempt has been made to control these "worthy projects" and protect the business community from the projects which would sponsor them.

We believe a "worthy project" might be considered by the Merchants Council of Statesboro and the Bulloch County Chamber of Commerce... a project to require thorough investigation of every "worthy project" before its sponsors are allowed to contact those expected to finance it.

If the project is a worthy one, then the would-be sponsors should have no objection to submitting it for approval of the Merchants Council of a committee set up by it.

Such approval would assure its success.

WE HAD VISITORS Friday afternoon of last week. Members of Den 3 of the Cub Scouts were our guests. They were in our place and gave it a going over. The press was running and they were full of questions, some to which we had no answers and we've been fiddling around printing machinery since 1887. They saw the automatic typesetting machine, the press, the stereo-type machine, the saws, the cutters, the platters, the punchers, the perforators, all they saw, and their curiosity was without bottom. But we enjoyed the hangovers of spring, their curiosity, their thanks, and goodbyes. Mrs. E. B. Stubbs, Den Mother, kept the Cubs in the soot of line as

They pledge reads: "On my honor, I will try to do my duty to God and my Country, to help other people at all times, to obey the Girl Scout laws."

The theme of Girl Scout Week is "Know your neighbors—Know your nation."

We commend Mrs. Prince Preston and Mrs. Virgil Donaldson on their fine work, the sacrifice they make, and the time they give to our Girl Scouts. It's part of what makes our town the wonderful community it is.

It was in Savannah in 1912 that Juliette Gordon Low founded the organization which has grown from a small troop there to a membership of 2,000,000 young women.

Mrs. Low founded Girl Scouts for the expressed purpose of helping the girls to realize the ideals of womanhood as a preparation for their responsibilities in the home and as active citizens in the community and in the world. The idea was to form the young women in small groups of similar ages for guidance in various types of work and play.

It is non-sectarian and non-political and it is open to girls of all races and creeds, ranging in ages of seven to 17. Their pledge reads: "On my honor, I will try to do my duty to God and my Country, to help other people at all times, to obey the Girl Scout laws."

The motto is "Be Prepared" and the slogan is "Do a good turn every day."

STATESBORO AUTO DRIVERS still use the green "left turn" arrow on our new traffic control light in the center of town to make straight across crossings. When a driver does this it fouls up the other traffic. The new control is working wonders with our traffic problem, but if some are going to foul it up, it can't work with the efficiency for which it was designed.

WE'VE BEEN SEEING blue birds in our yard recently. They too are a little confused about winter and spring. Supposedly they are here way ahead of the season, weatherwise.

KNOW ANYBODY named Jasper A. Fore and his wife, Caroline A. Fore? William Russell, son of Dr. and Mrs. Fielding Russell of Statesboro, now a student in college in Washington, D. C., sent us the following clipping from the Washington D. C. Sunday Star.

"A Georgia couple was arrested yesterday afternoon after selling 30 gallons of corn whiskey to undercover men in an alley behind the Occidental Restaurant police reported.

THE TRANSACTION took place in broad daylight just off the busy 1400 block of Pennsylvania, avenue N. W., Capt. Thomas Rasmussen, of No. 1 Precinct said. Five other policemen were spotted around the scene, but they were not half filled.

Someone remarked that had the attraction been a "silly" movie or a ball game the place would have been filled. Could we really be guilty of such an indictment?

Is there some reason why we can't get parents interested enough to come to P.T.A. meetings? If anyone can throw some light on this subject please be interested enough to write us a letter. What is wrong? Who is wrong?

We recently had the joy of privilege to go through one of the new school buildings in Statesboro. Little electric thrills ran up and down our spine as we went from room to room and drank in each new feature of this fine new building.

The school is core of life on Pacific isle

BY VIRGINIA RUSSELL. In the February issue of the N.E.A. Journal there is an article entitled, "The School Without People." The writer tells of a new, modern, up-to-date school building that has been dedicated on the northern tip of Okinawa.

That one would find such a first-class building in so remote a spot was interesting to Mrs. Diffeenderfer, who is the author of the article, but she and her husband took to get to the school. They left the highway and followed a 30 mile ride on a mountain road that proved to be a trail. But seven miles before they reached their destination, they discovered a bridge had been washed out. From there they could either go by native boat or be footed. They chose to go by foot.

As unusual as that part of the story was the highlight was in another feature. There was not a human being within miles of this lovely structure. The reason? The Okinawa Summerlin Jr., Bobby Beasley, Chip Stubbs, Dan Chief, Bob Scruggs, Denver and Kenan Kern, Sharon Stubbs, Chip's sister, came along for the ride. Raymond Summerlin Jr. was named Scrib to write up the "Den Dope" for the Herald. This week's news will be found in another section of the paper.

The article ends with these words, "To those in the United States who take educational opportunity so for granted, the remote Pacific island makes education the core about which all life revolves should prove interesting, and I hope, inspirational."

To us this was an inspiring article and we wished we knew what would job Americans of their seeming indifference about the educating of our youth.

Recently Statesboro was privileged to have the president of the National Education Association speak from the Statesboro High School auditorium. To those few of us who attended the National Education Association speaker from the Statesboro High School auditorium. We recently had the joy of privilege to go through one of the new school buildings in Statesboro. Little electric thrills ran up and down our spine as we went from room to room and drank in each new feature of this fine new building.

But the picture would not be complete until these new buildings are filled with energetic, happy, enthusiastic boys and girls, and eager teachers. But the picture is far from complete with just students and teachers.

Parents are needed. Parents with open minds and kind hearts are needed to complete the picture.

The county school superintendent and the county board have worked hard on our new school program. They had many headaches, because such a program involves work and worry. The teachers anticipate getting into these buildings.

Let's all pitch in and make our schools the core of our community. It will take interest, adult education and down-to-earth love but we have what it takes. Let's make Bulloch county schools the best in the state. You know we can do anything. We know we do!

Selective Service Test Deadline Is Released

Major General Lewis B. Hershey, director of Selective Service today reminded college students that the deadline for submitting applications for the April 22 Selective Service College Qualification Test is midnight Monday, March 8, and that applications postmarked after that time cannot be considered.

Application blanks and information bulletins, with sample questions, may be obtained by students from the nearest local board. They do not have to write to their own local board to secure an application. Students are to mail their completed applications to Educational Testing Service of Princeton, New Jersey.

To be eligible to apply for the college qualification test a student must (1) intend to request deferment as a student; (2) be satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course of instruction; and (3) must not have previously taken the Selective Service Qualification Test.

The April 22, 1954 test is the last one scheduled for this school year. Students whose academic year will end in June are urged to take the April 22 test so they will have a test score in their cover sheets before the end of their academic year, at which time the boards reopen and reconsider their cases to determine whether they should be again deferred as students.

The present criteria for deferment of an undergraduate student are either a satisfactory score (70) on the Selective Service Qualification Test or a specified rank in class (upper half of the males in the freshman class, upper two thirds of the males in the sophomore class, upper three fourths of the males in the junior class).

Students accepted for admission or attending a graduate school prior to July 1, 1951, satisfy the criteria if their work continues to be satisfactory. Graduate students admitted or attending after July 1, 1951, must have been in the upper half of their classes during their senior year or make a score of 75 or better on the test. It is not mandatory for local boards to defer students who meet the criteria.

General Hershey has emphasized many times that the criteria are a flexible yard stick used to guide the local boards and that the standards may be raised any time necessary for manpower demands.

Two Statesboro professional men, Dr. Roger Holland Jr., and Dr. Edward H. Smart Jr., have been appointed to key positions in the First District Optometric Society. They have been named to head the departments of advancement and organization, respectively, for 1954. A unit of the Georgia Optometric Association, the group carries on an educational program for maximum professional competence and ethics. It is also participating in an intensive statewide campaign for better lighting in homes, schools, and industry to enhance people's visual well-being.

Rites held for Lucius Kendrick

Funeral services for Lucius B. Kendrick, 86, who died in Homestead, Fla., after a long illness were held Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Portal Methodist Church by Rev. L. A. Lemmons. Burial was in the Portal Cemetery.

Kendrick had lived in Bulloch county and the Portal community all of his life except the past few years. He had been living with his son in Homestead, Fla.

Survivors include three sons, Emory Kendrick of Orlando, Fla., H. T. and A. A. Womack, stepsons of Augusta; two stepdaughters, Mrs. Clifford C. Miller of Portal and Mrs. Irvin Wilson of Augusta.

Funeral arrangements were in charge of Smith-Tillman Mortuary.

Graduate of T.C. Gets Commission In Naval Reserve

Spencer Overstreet of Wadley, a 1952 graduate of T.C. has recently received a commission in the U. S. Naval Reserve.

Spencer graduated from O.C.S. at Newport, Rhode Island on January 29. He spent the next few days on leave and then went to his ship which is based at Key West, Florida.

Spencer, an industrial arts major, was very active in extracurricular activities while at T.C. He was president of the Student Council, president of the Senior Class, selected for Who's Who, and honored for leadership on Honors Day in his senior year.

The ranger declared, "I will do all in their power to detect forest fires and to put them out as quickly as possible. Unless we have the public on our side, however, unless special care is taken to prevent forest fires, we will be fighting a losing battle."

The ranger pointed out that one of the greatest forest fire causes during the month of March often consists of careless brush and trash burning.

"Much forest damage could be prevented," he said, "if farmers and landowners in this area would first check with their county forestry unit before doing any burning. The law also requires the farmer or landowner to notify his adjoining landowner 24 hours in advance of burning. When the fire comes to him, he has plenty of extra help and fire fighting tools handy in case the fire gets out of hand. Plow a fire-break around the area to be burned. Wait until after 4 p. m. to burn."

Formerly a section chief with Battery A of the corps, 78th Field Artillery Battalion, he entered the Army in April 1951 and arrived in Korea during February 1953. He was a diesel oiler in civilian life for the Aremold Corporation.

ARTHROSIS?
I have been wonderfully blessed in being restored to active life after being crippled in nearly every joint in my body and with muscular soreness from head to foot. I had rheumatoid arthritis and other forms of rheumatism, hands deformed and my ankles were set. Limited space prohibits telling you more here but if you will write me I will reply at once and tell you how I received this wonderful relief.

Max Lockwood to attend Rec. meet

The Georgia Recreation Society announced this week that Max Lockwood, society president from Statesboro, has been invited to participate in the program at the South Eastern Recreation Executives convention being held in Columbus the middle of March.

Mr. Lockwood will appear on the program with the Mayor of Columbus and will accept an invitation and welcome to the city from him. Mr. Lockwood will reply to the address of welcome as representing all the recreation executives in the southeastern states.

A special dinner will be held on the evening of the 19th for all the Georgia members attending the convention.

Conflict. Flying their Douglas "Skyriders" pilots of the squadron set an all-time Marine record for single-engine aircraft by dropping 154 tons of bombs in one day.

Results of Georgia Corn performance tests in recent years indicate that Georgia 101 is the best variety to grow in the mountains and piedmont areas of the state.

The "Wolfraiders" attack-bomber squadron contributed substantially to the record amount of bombs dropped on enemy targets by the "heavy haulers" of Marine Aircraft Group 12 during the Korean

Barter Theatre Presents Comedy

Two Gentlemen from Verona' Here

A group of professional actors, the Barter Theatre of Virginia, presents Shakespeare's comedy "Two Gentlemen from Verona" in the college auditorium Thursday night, March 11, at 8:00 p. m. This nationally known professional touring company is being brought to T.C. by the Masquers.

The Evans Construction Co. of Warrenton has completed excavation and has begun laying foundations for the new $250,000 Teachers College gymnasium. The contractor has stated that he hopes the building will be in use for the majority of the 1954-55 basketball season. The building will consist of classrooms seen in this area, a physical education department and dressing rooms for students and faculty in addition to the actual gymnasium.

The second grade was awarded the dish garden for having the largest group of parents at P.T.A., and the second and tenth grades provided refreshments following the business session.

Farm Bureau Three Farm Bureau meetings last week plan talent shows in April

The three Farm Bureau meetings last week planned for a queen and talent show program in April.

These community programs are always first rate and attract the largest attendance of any of the Farm Bureau programs.

M. E. Ginn led the devotional program at Denmark on Tuesday night. Most of the program was devoted to the place of the meat type hog in the present farm program and growing feed for hogs.

Plans for cooking purposes is not selling as it used to. The housewives seem to prefer the vegetable shortings. This is making the meat type hog sell slightly higher than the neat, plump lard type at the present and when the supply of hogs is increased, this spread in price probably will be even more.

F. C. Rozier, gave the Brooklet group a report on the tobacco Stabilization Cooperative's meeting in Claxton. Mr. Rozier pointed out that most tobacco farmers still thought that it was the government holding up the price of tobacco at the support level, when as a matter of fact it was just the tobacco farmers themselves working together in the cooperative. The money to buy the tobacco which is borrowed by the farmers from the government, but that the interest at the rate of $11,000 per day is being paid for it.

False packing of tobacco is a serious problem, he pointed out. It looked odd to him that tobacco growers would send other foreign material in a sheet of tobacco in the first place. But when they put it in to cheat themselves, it was still more weird. However, Mr. Rozier pointed out that since the origin of the various piles of tobacco is known all the way through until put in the aging process the farmers that do such stunts can be located. Mr. Rozier pointed out further that most of this false packing was found on the loose leaf market but so far Georgia growers were not too much involved.

John Chudnicki was introduced by president Herbert Deal as a new farmer in the community. He is Mr. Deal's son-in-law.

Vandone discussed the possibility of group orders for the state prison at Reidsville, reviewed the work at the prison carried on there made it a real institution where those unfortunate men and women are being rehabilitated in many instances.

The work in the laundry, paint shop, sewing room, bakery, and many other activities carried on by these men and women for a useful occupation when they are released. Most of these people are finding gainful work.

Activities on the farm were also enumerated by Mr. Rozier. He stated that the farm was helping to support several other state institutions with food and feed. C. J. Martin, member of the Nevils Farm Bureau was a visitor at Brooklet.

John C. Cromley, chairman of the county A.S.C. committee, was a visitor at the Middle-ground meeting Thursday night.

Brooklet News

March Meet of Associated Women
The March meeting of the Associated Women of the Farm Brooklet was held last Wednesday night in the home of Mrs. J. H. Huggins, assisted by Mrs. John G. McClinton, Mrs. J. P. Spence, and Miss P. C. Rozier.

A report on the tobacco stabilization program was made by P. C. Rozier. The program chairman, John F. Spence, explained the change in the livestock show that was planned for April. He announced the show would not be held until next fall probably the last of November.

County Agent Byron Dyer, discussed soil fumigants and corn varieties. The guest speaker was the Rev. W. L. Huggins, chaplain at the state prison farm at Reidsville. His message was different phases of Prison Life.

Members of the Brooklet 4-H Club presented an interesting program at the Methodist Church last Sunday night. The program included a welcome by J. D. Alderman; response, Gail McCormick; vocal selection, Kay McCormick and Bonnie Fay Ward; 4-H Club Creed, Ted Tucker; offering and announcements, Rev. Riner of Savannah; country girls' song, Virginia Bragg; country boy's creed, Jimmy DeLoach.

The advisers of the club are Mr. and Mrs. Jim McCormick and Elder J. S. Mikell and Mrs. Mikell.

After the 4-H Club program the message of the evening was delivered by Elder Riner.

Mrs. J. H. Wynn entertained the members of the Matrons Class of the Baptist Sunday School at her home last Monday.

S. L. Lee, formerly of Brooklet, who has been making his home in Jacksonville, Fla., for several months, is very ill in the Bulloch County Hospital.

Mrs. Wanda Moore entertained the members of the Book Club at her home last Monday night.

Last Saturday afternoon, Mrs. Wilson Mallard entertained a group of little boys and girls at her home to celebrate the 8th birthday of her son, Donnie. Games were played and party refreshments served.

Mrs. John Waters entertained the members of the Book Club at her home last Monday night.

The members of the boys and girls basketball teams of the Brooklet Community and their coach J. H. Griffith, were entertained at the community house by Mrs. S. L. Lee Sr. and Mrs. S. L. Lee Jr. The occasion was also a surprise birthday party for Reggie Lee, one of the hall players. Games were played and refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Monday afternoon the general meeting of the W.M.S. of the Baptist Church was held at the church.

The Business Woman's Club of the W.M.S. of the Baptist Church held the March meeting at the home of Mrs. F. C. Rozier Monday night.

Dr. and Mrs. Aubrey Waters and two children of Augusta were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Roberts and children have returned from Alma, strategically located on famed U.S. Route 1 to Florida, is named for past and present Georgia capitols—Augusta, Louisville, Milledgeville and Atlanta. Noted for progressiveness, the city even relocated and rebuilt its main street several years ago, takes pride in a 30-bed hospital, a new $80,000 REA building, and a future plans for health, public housing, city hall and school projects.

In Bacon County and throughout Georgia, the United States Brewers Foundation is working to assure the sale of beer and ale under pleasant, orderly conditions. Believing that strict law enforcement serves the best interests of the people of Georgia, the Foundation stresses close cooperation with the Armed Forces, law enforcement and governing officials in its continuing "self-regulation" program of education among beer drinkers.
