J. H. Wyatt Urges farmers to turn in surplus cotton allotments

By Mrs. John A. Robertson

The February meeting of the Farm Bureau was held last Wednesday night in the community room, with the president, J. H. Wyatt, presiding. The inspirational was given by Paul Groover.

A steak supper was served to the group by the hospitality committee.

Mr. Wyatt urged the farmers to turn in their cotton acreage or else turn it in to Miles Frank Deal, so that Bulloch county farmers would not lose any allotment.

John F. Spence of the program committee introduced the guest speaker, C. T. Knott of South Carolina, who is with the United States Department of Agriculture in the tobacco grading division. He gave an instructive and informative discussion pertaining to grading and marketing tobacco.

The Associated Women held their meeting in the home of Mrs. J. H. Wyatt. The social committee, Mrs. A. C. Watts, chairman, Mrs. Fred Fordham, Mrs. S. C. Dismore, and Mrs. J. H. Wyatt, Mrs. John A. Robertson, served a ham supper for the 48 ladies present.

The devotional was given by Mrs. R. C. Hall.

The business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Bob Mikell.

Mrs. A. C. Watts presented to the group the suggestion that the Associated Women's organization assist with a child in the health program, and the members voted to do this.

Out-of-town guests at the meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Williams of Statesboro, and Mrs. C. T. Knott of South Carolina.

Miss Henrietta Hall, chairman of the February program committee, presented the guest speaker, the Rev. Leslie Williams, pastor of the Statesboro Baptist Church, who gave an address on "Cultivating Our Social Habits."

The next meeting will be held Wednesday night, March 2, with Mrs. Olan Lanier, chairman of the supper committee, and Mrs. John A. Robertson, chairman of the program committee.

This And That Thru The P's Of Virginia

By VIRGINIA RUSSELL

For weeks I have asked many persons, "In your opinion what has caused the increase in juvenile delinquency?"

The answers were as different as the people or different who were questioned. I suppose when all is said and done the reasons for delinquency are also as different. It has been my intention to present those opinions to the Bulloch Herald's readers but along came Max Lockwood's good articles on the subject. They took care of the subject very well. Everything that is, except the cure, shall we say?

Then last week I heard Miss Bertha Freeman of the Georgia Teachers College faculty talk on "Using What We Know About Children." This talk struck a note—it gave me the answer to our problems.

Well, we all know the answers, you see, we just haven't used the knowledge we've had. He urges all cotton farmers to turn back to the committee the acreage they don't intend to plant so that it may be re-allotted to farmers who want to plant more cotton.

We know that good homes produce good children. The thing that has gone wrong is that many, many people have forgotten what good homes are. They have begun to think that good homes were made of brick, ranch style, with the up-to-date picture window. The inside must require the services of Mr. Interior Decorator who has elegant taste. So the fathers and mothers of today, in order to provide these good homes have worked themselves into a state of exhaustion, thereby failing their children completely.

For all of us know that a good home has little to do with the bricks and walls and television sets. A good home, to begin with, is a place where God comes first.

When God comes first, love follows. Mothers and fathers love each other and this love is transmitted to the children. There where there is love, there is consideration, thoughtfulness, patience, long suffering, forgiveness, and kindness. It means a lot to Statesboro—these concert attractions.

Parents who love children punish them when they do wrong, just as God punishes us when we are in error. What type of punishment parents use depends on the parents. Some take away privileges, some spank.

I believe that spanking is the best form of punishment for younger children of the parent is mature and doesn't hold a grudge against the child afterwards. A good, hard spanking clears the atmosphere and a little love feast can follow soon after when the child is told again that mother loves him, she just hates what he has done. Taking privileges away from young children, in my opinion, gives them too much time to sulk and feel sorry for themselves, thereby defeating the purpose of punishment. Older children must be punished in other ways, of course. Any sort of punishment is humiliating to the older children and parents have to be careful to preserve their pride and dignity as far as is possible.

Parents who love their children live what they preach to their children, or else the preaching is no good. Parents are honest, are law-abiding citizens, are faithful husbands and wives, are temperate, are kind, are tolerant and are good of they expect their children to be likewise.

Parents stand together in their policies about the children. This, to me, is a most important factor. Mamma backs Daddy up, and Daddy backs Mamma up. If Daddy says, "No" then John knows there's no need to speak to Mamma because Mamma and Daddy always agree.

Little things in the home may seem unimportant but that's where attitudes are formed. Sally doesn't borrow things from John's room unless she first asks John's permission. Daddy stands when ladies enter the room, he stands aside and lets the ladies pass, he removes his hat when he comes in the house, he doesn't complain about the meal's being late, yes, he observes these little courtesies, because he knows someone is watching him. He also knows that examples are better than lectures.

There's no doubt about it, we need to re-appraise our values and recall what good homes are, if we're going to prevent our delinquency, and we pray it isn't too late to help cure it.

There are those who love to talk about "way back when..." They like to read news of long ago. They talk about the "good old days" and how people "really lived then." Recently Dedrick Waters let us have his copy of "The Banner Herald" published at Thomsville, and edited by Elder J. Walter Hendricks and Elder John D. Durden. It is the official church paper for the Primitive Baptist Church in this section. He wanted us to read a piece by E. Patton of Knoxville, Tennessee, entitled "I want to Go Back." He thought that others might enjoy it so we use it here this week for those who like to "Go Back."

But for the record we are not the "good old days" who would like to go back... we remember too well many of the things Mr. Patton wishes to go back to... not us. We're happy with what we have...

I WANT TO GO BACK
 "I have lived in the heat and dirt and smoke of this man-made town until I am ready to scream. I have heard the braying of horns and jackass politicians until I want to get back on the farm and hear the bray of a real, simon-pure jackass. The change would be sweet music to my ears. Here the land is all kivered with bricks and concrete and the hearts of many of the people are as hard and flinty as the sidewalks."

"Yes, I want to go back to the country where the air is soft and pure, where the night-bour will come in (set up) with the sick and help dig a grave and shovel the dirt on the departed friends, dropping a genuine tear of regret at their passing; where they go to meet in with the fervor and spirit of the faithful. OUR YOUTH... Kemp Mabry

Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, America's "Minister to Millions" has revised one of his best-sellers, bringing out "The Power of Positive Thinking for Young People."

In this new version of one of the most inspiring books of our time, Dr. Peale gets right to the heart of the most common problems teenagers face in their daily lives and he offers a series of practical methods for solving them.

He spells out these methods clearly, with careful guidance every step of the way in chapters like these: You Make Your Own Happiness, Stop Fuming and Fretting, Why Worry?, Ten Ways to Solve Problems, What to Do in a Slump, and Easy Does It.

Best of all, it is written for today's young people in their own terms and in the best of a fruitful life in the years to come.

Everything Dr. Peale teaches is grounded in the scriptures although the terms he employs are those of modern day speech which we can understand. We commend this book to you. Dr. Peale knows what he is talking about. Over the past 25 years, he has personally helped thousands of teenagers with their problems and is himself the father of three teenagers.

IT SEEMS TO ME... Max Lockwood

There are some things which none of us like to think about. There are some facts which are certainly hard to face. With the international situation as it is today it might be well for us to pause along the way and think in terms of Civil Defense. Just the past week, in an announcement made by one of our leading scientists and one who helped to develop the first atom bomb, it was pointed out that twenty hydrogen bombs could destroy most of our industrial capacity and destroy over 50 million of our population.

In America today in every state, there is an organization which is doing a magnificent job in terms of preparedness for civil defense. Our National Guard has gone about in a quiet and forceful way to build up its strength to capacity and here in Georgia those responsible for the administration of our National Guard program have done an outstanding job.

In every section of our state these men in khaki uniform are training in short periods of intensive instruction to prepare themselves for the protection of their country. When you visit these units you will fall to find the "hurry up and wait" we all like to joke about when we remember the military service.

While military discipline is maintained and while the appearance of the men is orderly and well kept, one notices the lack of unnecessary military procedures that we often find in military installations. Here there appears to be a sense of common purpose, there seems to be a feeling of respect and consideration for one another as these men prepare themselves for whatever task may lie ahead. They stand together in the National Guard as they join with neighbor and friend across the communities of the nation and there is a purpose in their planning.

In the National Guard today we find great numbers of young men who are giving their time and their effort to prepare themselves for the tomorrow which lie ahead. As they train to protect their country they have a wonderful opportunity to prepare themselves for the future. There are many advantages offered in the National Guard for the young man who is serious in his thinking about the time which is yet to come.

We have the responsibility as citizens to help make our National Guard a part of our community. It is our duty as Americans to support its activities. It is our privilege as a person to offer our services when that service is requested. While we think almost always in terms of war when we consider civil defense, let us not forget the great role that the National Guard plays in America today. Civil defense has as its purpose the protection of the citizen, in time of peace as in time of war.

We all remember a few short months ago when the Governor of a neighbor state called upon the National Guard to enforce the law in a community that had refused to comply with the law and had abridged the rights of all its citizens. The Guard did an excellent job and won the support of those who watched it in action.

As the tragic loud screams across our southernland and wreck our homes and our communities, the National Guard stands ready to protect our property, to help to feed and clothe us in time of need in peace as in war.

As the vast floods sweep down upon our fertile farmland, ruin and destroy our crops and cities, the National Guard is called to restore order where confusion reigns, in peace as in war.

We all know why the National Guard can do such an outstanding job. We all know why we accept this military action in our communities without the cry of "police state" or "dictatorship." The Guardsman is our neighbor, living in our community and doing the job that somehow we cannot find the time to do.

Here in Georgia in 1955, we as a state have shown the nation what we think of our National Guard. We have shown them with facts and figures as we are second in the nation in the number of armories that are constructed or are being constructed or are already in the planning stage. Already we have spent well over a million dollars for the 11 armories already completed with the state and local governments supporting one-quarter of the total cost.

We in Georgia have picked up the cry, "Keep Your Guard Up" and let us go about the task before us and as the Guardsman gives his time to country, let's all thank him with a grateful heart.

Your Family and God... Rev. Cliff Davis

There are many beautiful relationships mentioned in the Bible. There is that of the Father and the Son, of Christ and His Church, and of a husband and wife. Right along with these, no less tender and intimate, is the relationship of the pastor and his people.

A true pastor is more than a preacher. He is a shepherd, His chief concern is not for the sermons in his pulpit, but for the souls of his people. He is not mainly an orator or administrator, whose chief purpose is to build a church organization. But rather he is a spiritual leader, whose chief purpose is to point his people to Christ, to feed them on His Word, to lead them in His service, and to prepare them for His coming.

The relationship of pastor and people is preeminently a relationship of love. As the shepherd loves his sheep, so the pastor loves his people. The shepherd's heart is the pastor's heart. He regards his people not as many economic units, names on the church roll, sermon hearers, or pew fillers. But rather they are souls for whom Christ died. They are instruments whom he wants to use. Among his people there is everyone who has lost a loved one, is broken in heart, and needs comfort. There is a young person who is losing his footing in life, and needs a firm foundation on which to stand. There is one who is lukewarm, and needs to be challenged with a vision of service for Christ. There is another who is living in sin, who needs to be rebuked and offered the cleansing power of the shed blood. There are those who are lost and need to be pointed to the man of God's Christ. And so the pastor, like the shepherd, is "ever diligent to know the state of his flock." And what he needs, when he deals with them, he does it in love. When he comforts, he comforts in love. When he challenges, he challenges in love. When he

Don't jeopardize Bulloch's cotton allotment

King Cotton is still on its throne in Georgia, but if farmers keep underplanting their cotton acreage allotments by 163,000 acres—as they did in 1954—the throne could become shaky in future years.

The allotted cotton acreage unplanted and unleased in 1954 in Bulloch totaled 1,172 acres of 5.9 per cent of the country allotment.

If you are a farmer and have a cotton allotment you do not intend to plant this year release it to the county committee for re-allotments before March 1 to prevent the permanent loss of the allotment. You may reclaim this acreage the following year if you should decide to plant cotton then.

It was something of a switch

It was something of a switch. People from Savannah coming to Statesboro to attend a concert.

Sunday afternoon of last week a capacity crowd filled the McCran Auditorium at the college to hear the Boston Pops Orchestra, conducted by Harry John Brown.

There were people from other towns in our section—Vidalia, Swainsboro, Claxton—here to enjoy one of the nation's top musical organizations.

Which proves that we in Statesboro are being provided with the finest cultural entertainment through the joint efforts of the Statesboro Community Concert Association and the Teachers College.

The people of this section appreciate it. "This is one of the best audiences we've ever played to," the young man who played trombone in the orchestra, told us at intermission. It was a compliment to us, and a compliment to the orchestra.

The audience was generous with its applause. It was considerable, late arrivals waiting for a proper time to find seats. The orchestra was generous with its wonderful music, playing many encores.

It means a lot to Statesboro—these concert attractions.

Emanuel taking an important step

Emanuel county is doing something about a problem that plagues every county in the state—equalization of property values for tax purposes.

At a recent rally in Swainsboro a large group of citizens of the county voted, without a dissenting voice, to authorize the board of county commissioner to secure the services of a tax equalization firm for the purpose of making a thorough survey to estimate the value of all real estate holdings in that large rural county and bring up to date the county's financial position.

The commissioners immediately advertised for bids from certified tax equalization engineering firms. And now they have secured the services of a firm from Dayton, Ohio, to make a revaluation of both City of Swainsboro and the County of Emanuel.

To us that is an important step in the progress of a community and commend it to our own city and county authorities.

Pity those people back in 1892

So we had a couple of cold days last week. The thermometer at our house registered 16 on Saturday morning and 16 again Sunday morning. Pretty cold that.

But it could have been colder. Remember back to Friday, November 28, 1950, the day after Thanksgiving, when the thermometer dropped to 13 degrees.

But it has been colder than that in Bulloch county.

There'll be whooping and hollering

There'll be whooping and hollering in several of the high schools in this section beginning Monday of next week when the First District B and C high school basketball teams start storming up and down various courts in the 1955 basketball tournaments.

Brooklet boys play Waynesboro and Stilton plays Springfield Monday night, February 21, at ECL. Portal plays Sardis. Lab High plays Midville at Metter that same night.

Stilton girls played Rincon at Rincon Monday night, Feb. 14. Nevins girls played Pembroke at Glenville. Portal girls played Lab High at Vidalia that same night.

Thousands of young men and women in rural Georgia, today, can hardly remember when they had to study by "coal oil" light. Their elders are rapidly forgetting the fight they made to electrify the farms and rural areas of Georgia.

Rural children take the comforts—and other benefits—of low-cost electric power for granted. They don't realize that only twenty years ago, less than 3 farms out of each hundred were electrified. That is— they won't, unless we tell them.

That's one reason why Georgia's Electric Cooperatives have produced an exciting and dramatic motion picture—"And There Was Light." It is in full color, runs 22 minutes, and is available for Civic Groups, PTA's, Churches, Schools and other interested in Georgia's progress.

Bulloch County Farm Bureau

Al Holden, Purina representative talks at Ogeechee on hog program

Hog growers can control their breeding program, management, nutrition and feeding, even if they can't control the price of hogs' feed, Al Holden, Purina representative for Ogeechee Farm Bureau said Tuesday night.

All of these factors play a major part in a hog program and determining the profits and losses on hogs. Since the grower can control four of the six factors, he alone can do at least two-thirds of the job.

Mr. Holden did say that as far as he was concerned each of the six factors are about the equal importance in a good swine enterprise.

With an estimated 58.5 million pigs being farrowed in the United States this spring, the hog farmer that makes money out of them this year will have to do a good job of planning on the four factors under his control. The fall pig crops will probably be larger than it was last year also, or a total increase this year of some 13 per cent.

Most hog growers in this area realize that it is essential to raise large litters, and two of them each year, that care is needed to raise hogs in an any other enterprise that sanitation around the pens and farrowing lots prevents diseases, and that ample feed that contains grains and protein supplement along with some good grazing, Mr. Holden pointed out.

With the hog price and feed price outlook situation, it is to the grower, it will be more important than ever for hog farmers to do the best job they know how if they are to make any money this year.

John Noland, extension corn and enrichment specialist, Athens, and Frank Smith, were speakers at the meeting.

Mrs. J. R. Kelly won the letter knife in the drawing.

Miss W. C. Hodges, Miss Irene Kingery and Ruby Lee Jones were visitors at Warnock Wednesday night.

J. P. Polkes announced that the group would meet on Thursday night to make plans for a tractor maintenance clinic. Future meetings and work projects would be arranged to suit the convenience of the group attending. He pointed out that this would be a service and not a repair clinic.

The group was advised that the chapter had sent flowers to Ivy Wynn what any other hospital. They also voted to donate $10 to the march of dimas program and $5 to the heart fund.

R. P. Mikell gave a report on the recent Farm Bureau meeting. He advised the group that the new officers, W. C. Hodges as president, J. H. Wynn as vice president, C. M. Cowart as secretary, and Miss Henrietta Hall as Associated Women chairman, formed a new officers that were very much interested in Farm Bureau work.

OUR HEALTH
By DR. K. R. HERRING

THE HEART
To assume that any organ in our body is unimportant is erroneous. All organs are important. The very fact that they exist in the body is evidence of their need. Some, however, are more important than others and a number are absolutely essential to life.

One of these is the heart, and abnormalities of the heart are a very common cause of suffering.

Why do these abnormal conditions develop in this important organ? They develop because the heart does not receive its proper supply of vital energy. If all the nerves to the arm are cut, that arm would be completely useless, wither and become poorly nourished. If a part of the nerve supply to the arm were cut off, its strength and use would decrease.

This being true of the arm it is also true of the heart. Realizing this, the Chiropractor releases the pressure on these nerves to the heart where they make their exit from the spine.

Professors Sign East Crisp Star
Wynon Banks, an East Crisp high school basketball player, this week signed an athletic scholarship to GTC.

Banks, a blond, 6-2 forward, has averaged 27 points a game to pace this class C school to a record to date of 27 wins and only two losses.

Georgia Teachers' head basketball coach, J. B. Seare, Jr., said yesterday, "Wynon Banks is a great rebounder, one of the best for his size I've seen. He's fine competitor and should play a lot of good basketball for us here at Georgia Teachers College."

Farmers in the Piedmont area of Georgia find it more profitable to use lakes and ponds as sources of water for irrigation rather than wells.

U. S. FOOD CONSUMPTION
Total food use of crops by customers has just kept pace with the increase in U. S. population over the past 15 years, but our use of livestock products for food in 1954 was half again as large as in 1939. Record or near record rates of consumption for beef, chicken, turkey, processed fruits and vegetables have occurred in the past three years.

Not a shift, but a switch of the pitch

And man! What that does for Dynaflow!

HOTTEST BUICK IN HISTORY
No wonder you see so many 1955 Buicks on the highways—they're rolling so bigger sales than ever before in history—topping the popularity that has already made Buick one of the "Big Three" in total sales.

This is for sure . . . There's never been anything in your car-driving experience like the feel of Buick's new Variable Pitch Dynaflow*—because there's never been anything like it in a car before.

In a modern plane, yes. For this is the principle of variable pitch propellers used on airplanes. Their propeller blades change "pitch" for quick take-off—then change to another "pitch" for better gas mileage in cruising aloft.

Now you can do the same thing on the ground—in a 1955 Buick. Twenty propeller blades have been ingeniously engineered into the Dynaflow unit. They pivot—one way for a big boost in gas mileage while cruising—another way for brilliant new performance.

You switch the pitch for instantaneous acceleration just by pressing the pedal way down. Then it happens . . . A build-up of momentum as smooth as oil—and as quick as a split second. Dazzling new response on get-away—or a spectacular burst of instant safety-surge power when you need it out on a highway.

It's pure thrill—and a happy surprise in its far better gas mileage in cruising. Yet Variable Pitch Dynaflow costs not a penny more than earlier versions of this wonder drive.

How about you trying it? That way you can also look into the sizzling new horsepower, the fresh new styling, the envied ever-level ride, the eye-opening low prices—all of which are making the 1955 Buick the hottest seller in all history. Come in this week, won't you?

The February meeting of the Garden Club will be next Tuesday afternoon, the 22nd, at the home of Mrs. Fred Bradford. The program will be arranged by Mrs. Rupert Clarke.

The February meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association was held today (Thursday) in the school auditorium. The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Dan Hagan. The program chairman, Mrs. Hoke Brannen, presented the following program: devotional, Mrs. Neal Clark; prayer, Mrs. C. E. Williams; poem, Miss Jessie Lee; Scott; PTA quiz, Miss Ollie Mae Lanier; "Our PTA Founders," Mrs. F. W. Hughes; song, "Faith of Our Founders," audience.

Last Friday at the chapel service Miss Frances Lee presided over a group of fifth grade pupils in an interesting and well-rendered program.

The announcer was Patsy Posa. The devotional was given by Geraldine Lockhart. Part I of the program was a skit of "Valentine Thoughts" by a group of girls, and part II was a playlet with Randy Shering and Kay Ann Hendricks taking the leading parts.

At the regular faculty meeting at the school last week plans were completed for the study and discussion of the culm Framework for Georgia Schools. The work has been divided into four parts and discussions will be given at four different meetings. A new tape recorder has been purchased to be used in connection with the regular school work.

The president, Mrs. Bob Mitchell, conducted the business meeting. The program was arranged by Mrs. W. B. Parrish. The devotional was given by Mrs. J. N. Rushing Sr. At the close of the meeting the hostesses were assisted by Mrs. Raymond Posa in serving a salad course.

Mrs. F. C. Rozier entertained the members of the Canasta Club at her home last Wednesday night.

The Rev. W. H. Anley, pastor of the Brooklet-New Hope-Nevels Methodist Churches has announced that the third quarterly conference will be held at New Hope Church Sunday, February 20, at 11 o'clock. The Rev. Anthony Hearn of Savannah, district superintendent, will conduct the conference.

"Family Night" for February was held in the social hall of the Methodist Church Wednesday night. Mrs. J. M. Williams and Mrs. John A. Robertson were hostesses. The Rev. W. H. Anley conducted the devotional.

At a recent meeting of the School Beta Club the following officers were elected: President, Tom Anley; vice president, Janelle Beasley; secretary, Mary Moore; treasurer, Kay McCormick; recreation, Sylvia Parrish; reporters, Betty Snyder and Arthur Sparks.  "FOR WHEN THE GREAT SCORER COMES..."

Golf is a game for Ladies and Gentlemen. And we here in Statesboro appreciate the fact that we have the finest folks in these parts participating in the Game of a Lifetime. It keeps young folks young and old folks happy and healthy. It is a maker of men, as is any good sport. Every few towns have the privilege of a fine golf course such as ours here in Bulloch County. Doctors agree that walking is the finest exercise anyone can take and golf is the finest game anyone can play.

In spite of the nippy weather there were quite a few on the links Sunday afternoon. The "fair weather" golfers were not around.

SUNDAY AFTERNOON
 A large blitz is scheduled for 1 p. m. sharp. All golfers are urged to be on hand early. The golfer closest to the flag on No. 18 (3 strokes) will get "something."

Please mark your calendar for SUNDAY, FEB. 27, the date of the Savannah Golf Club matches. We need at least 20 men and 10 women and possibly more. Regulations. On more class three land which is now in oak trees with few pines he plans to clear and plant Penicola bahia grass. On rolling cropland he is going to terrace, contour, and build up with crop rotations including summer and winter legumes. He has a site for a pond which he hopes to build in the future.

J. H. Hines of Ellabelle is also making plans for his pasture program as well as excellent timber conservation. He plans to establish Penicola bahia grass with speudoza and white dutch clover on low land with bahia and lupin on his sandy soil. His timber is something worth looking at. He has an excellent stand and is cutting and worked out turpentine trees to give room for round pines. Said he "I don't plan to turpentine any more unless I have to. It sure hurts the pines."

Mr. Lehman Akins, below Brooklet is building a pond on his farm, with a large water-shed. He should have plenty of water at all times.

Mr. Miles Moody has completed his fine pond on his fine farm in the Sinkhole settlement.

Mr. Brannen Hodges, north of Statesboro in the Middle-ground community is planning a nice pond-watering place on one of his farms. He plans to build a small dam in connection with a flowing spring and a concrete trough below it. To regulate water in trough he will use float and valve similar to that in commode tank which will be protected by wooden frame to prevent stock from getting it out of adjustment. This is an idea others might well duplicate.

Soil Conservation
 BY E. T. MULLIS

It is very encouraging to see so much interest in terrace construction and maintenance all over the county. Requests for assistance from the Ogeechee River Soil Conservation District on running terraces are coming fast and furious. But what is even more heartening is the way farmers are going back building up or maintaining old terraces. It has been in the past that many would build terraces and forget about maintenance, which is just as important to their success as first construction.

Mr. Charles Taylor at the Co-op has called my attention to an all-too-prevalent mistake he and many other farmers are making. On his dad's farm, Mr. A. L. Taylor, west of Portia, he planted rousee, a crimson clover on coastal bermuda which was on light sandy soil. He made the same mistake a year or two ago. He decided to plant a more adapted plant next fall—sweet yellow lupine or vetch.

Mr. W. D. Deal is building terraces on his farm east of Statesboro in the Brooklet community.

Mrs. E. C. Hendrix was contacted in a drainage ditch on his farm northwest of Statesboro in the Middle-ground section.

Mr. John Akins is doing a good thing on his farm. The Soil Conservation Service assigned to the district is giving him technical assistance in solving his problems on soil and water conservation.

Mr. Boddifer is planting coastal bermuda on class three land that is unimproved for cultivation.

Music Festival Set for March

The annual Region Five Music Festival, expected to attract 3,500 students, has been scheduled at GTC March 3-5, according to Mr. Jack W. Broucek, general festival chairman.

Mr. Broucek, who is associate professor of music at the college, explained that the festival program this year will be similar to previous ones in which students, in groups and solo, have competed for music honors.

Competing during the three-day event will be representatives from the elementary and high schools of Region Five which includes schools of the first and sixth congressional districts.

A general program chairman is yet to be named, Mr. Broucek pointed out. Dr. Ronald J. Neil, chairman of the division of music, and Dana M. King and Daniel Hooley of the music faculty, are assisting in the arrangements.

The festival, sponsored by the Georgia Music Education Association, annually attracts thousands of school children in Georgia. The festivals are held in five regions, covering the entire state.

Only eight per cent of the American consumer's dollar is spent now for clothes, shoes, and accessories, compared to 14 per cent in the late war years.

shop. And did you ever see your daddy head the old shod on a better cold day and hold it in front of the old Seth Thomas clock to thaw out the frozen oil so the old time piece could tick off the hours? There was no such thing as daylight saving time then; they got up at three o'clock in the morning, and went to bed at seven unless it was apple-butter-making time; then they stayed up until around eight.

"But the parlor" was the sacred place; there as where all the sparkins was done; there was the bed preacher slept in; and what a bed! Two straw ticks, one feather bed, with fat pillows and pillows. When the bed was not in use—and that was seldom—the pillows were covered with what was known as 'shams' which had mottoes worked on them. I remember this one: 'I slept and dreamed that life was beauty; I woke and found that life was duty.' That was calculated to hold you for some time.

"On the 'center' table was the old family album with plush backs. It held the pictures of the family dating back to the Civil War and in some instances, the likeness of a great uncle who fought with Scott in Mexico. Those in civilian clothes always had one hand on their knee and the other folded placidly over the stomach. I want to go back where all the shoe boxes were saved to make spitts for the women's bonnets; remember 'em? You're to young for that.

"I want to go back and carry a few lapiniks in my pockets just in case the boss busts a said minor for their maintenance and support. Said application will be heard before the court of said county at the courthouse in said county at 9 o'clock a. m., on the 28th day of February, 1955, at which time and place, objections, if any, to the granting of said application will be heard.

This the 12th day of February, 1955.

4-H Club boys run field tests

Forty Bulloch county 4-H Club boys will run field tests on the use of Hybrid Rice of all kinds of crops in every community this year.

Very little research work has been done with this potash rock. Some field demonstrations looked good in the county last year. O. W. Simmons, local dealer for the material, is giving these forty boys 200 pounds of potash rock and 100 pounds of phosphate rock to apply to a 70 by 70 foot area somewhere on their farm.

This material was distributed to these 4-H Club boys Saturday morning.

Another 28 boys will test an additional 2000 lbs. of potash provided by the Louisiana Steel Company. These 28 acres will be planted to a number of the popular varieties, recommended for this area. This corn was given to the boys involved last week at their regular 4-H Club meetings.

The Union Bag and Paper Corporation gave clubsters some 15,000 slash pine seedlings to put out about a month ago. They were distributed in December and transplanted by about 50 boys during the Christmas holidays.

No gasoline-no, not a single one-has higher octane than New 1955 GULF NO-NOX but octane alone is not enough...

That's why new Super-Refined Gulf No-Nox is specially made to burn clean—to protect your engine—to give you thousands of extra miles of full engine power.

Fill up with new NO-NOX and feel the difference in lasting power. You'll get:

- More complete protection than so-called "miracle-additive" gasolines.
- Extra gas mileage in the short-trip stop-and-go driving motorists do most.
- Stall-proof smoothness... instant starts... fast, fuel-saving warm-up.
- No knock, no pre-ignition—even in today's high-compression engines.

This lamp is burning the "DIRTY-BURNING" TAIL-END of gasoline which GULF refines out.

This lamp is burning NEW SUPER-REFINED GULF NO-NOX, the clean-burning super-fuel.

This lamp test shows what a difference Gulf super-refining makes. Gulf refines out the "dirty-burning tail-end" of gasoline—at the refinery—to bring you new NO-NOX.

This is GULF'S PLEDGE to the motoring public

- We at Gulf make this promise to America's motorists—we will not permit a single competitor—no, not a single one—to offer a gasoline superior to our own superb NO-NOX.
- It is our sincere belief that NO-NOX is the finest gasoline on the market today, and no matter what others do or say we will keep it the finest—in power, in performance, in engine protection.
- This is not a boast, not a claim. It is a pledge to you, the motoring public—a pledge backed by the resources—and the integrity—of the Gulf Oil Corporation.

New 1955 GULF NO-NOX

It's super-refined... to burn clean! The '55 gasoline for all high-compression engines.
