North Georgia Is Victim Twice To GTC Profs

By LARRY HYDE

The Georgia Teachers College baseball team took two grand slams to win North Georgia College.

Jack Maxwell and Ace Little both picked up their fourth straight pitching wins of the season as they held North Georgia to a total of 11 hits in the two game series.

Jack Maxwell scattered six hits in the game Friday. GTC's leading hitter, Kelly Powell, had three hits and four runs batted in, to lead the two-hit attack.

Freston Sizemore hit a grand slam home to highlight the fifth inning in which GTC scored all its runs.

Ac Little, with excellent support from his teammates, gave up five hits, struck out six, and walked three to gain his fourth straight win.

Warren added two singles and a RBI-ty to the GTC attack. It was the 14th straight game in which Warren has hit safely.

Both shortstop Don Wallen and second baseman Skeeter Griffin handled the chances in the field without an error.

These two wins left GTC at the top of the Georgia Intercollegiate Conference standings with a record of eight wins and no losses.

Hard Hitting Revealed In Professor's Statistics

Two wins over North Georgia College last weekend raised the season record of the GTC baseball professors to 12 and two with the last nine wins coming in succession.

Bo Warren, sophomore centerfielder from Ludovick, has two streaks going that are already new school records. Warren has hit safely in his last 17 games, including the last three games in 1954. Since coming to GTC, he has played 32 consecutive games without an error, another record.

Jack Maxwell and Clyde Little lead the hurlers with four wins apiece, and Maxwell's near perfect 0.31 earned run average sets the pace in pitching effectiveness.

Catcher Jimmy Ford leads with 14 stolen bases and also in doubles with nine.

Third baseman Kelly Powell leads in three departments. He is the team's leading hitter, with a .431 average, 32 RBIs, and five homers. Powell is also tied with "Bo" Warren with triples at 3.

Hi-Owl sends 25 to GSPA meeting

The Statesboro Hi-Owl, school newspaper, has been entered in the annual contest.

Robert Adams will represent the staff at the round tables, and Mrs. D. L. Deal will participate in a special round table for faculty advisors.

Problems of high school journalism and their solutions will be the major theme of this year's conference, along with "Career Opportunities in Journalism."

Trophies and certificates will be presented to winning newspapers and individuals. The winning program is being arranged by Dean John E. Drewry of the Grady School of Journalism of the GSPA.

Outstanding journalists and educators will be heard. Last year approximately 100 high school journalists and their faculty advisors attended the conference.

Delegates who plan to attend the meeting are: Robert Adams, Peggy Allen, Robert Adams, Anne Akins, Jean Banks, Patricia Brannen, Charlotte Campbell, James Cassey, Dennis DeLoach, Sidney Dodd, Mary Wilson, Hendrix, Judy Johnson, Laura Lanier, Chris Lanier, A. McDougald, Lynn Murphy, Maude P. Morris, B. McDougald, Annie F. Simmons and W. W. Woodcock.

Smith-Tilman Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Ellis, life-long member of the Statesboro Presbyterian Church, was active for many years in the Christian activities of the community.

Survivors include two sons, Henry Ellis and Lewis Ellis, both of Statesboro; five grand-children, one great-grandchild and several nieces and nephews.

The board of trustees of the Brooklet School announced the election of the following elementary teachers for 1955-56 for grades one through seven.

Mrs. A. C. Watts, Mrs. G. C. C. E. D. Lanier, Mrs. B. E. Howell, Miss Frances E. Mrs. John P. Spence, Miss Mrs. Lanier and Mrs. E. J. Shelton Mikell was named principal of the Brooklet Elementary School.

Webb will be formally presented with an award certificate and a diamond-studded watch by Dr. Zach S. Henderson, president of Georgia Teachers College, at the annual all-school banquet on May 17.

Webb will be placed in the Sports Hall of Fame building at the Helms Athletic Foundation in Los Angeles.

Webb was coached at Elberton High School by Roger Parsons, a former state coach of GTC, now coaching at Laboratory High in Statesboro.

His coach at GTC, J. B. Scazzare Jr., calls Webb's selection, "One of the biggest thrills in my 18-year coaching career."

We're looking forward to Chester having another great season next year, in physical education at Georgia Teachers, and wants to play either professional or industrial basketball.

Parents are requested to note the day for their child to attend his or her school and are requested to bring their child's birth certificate for registration.

The pre-school orientation day is to acquaint parents and first year children with what school means in today's world, and what they can do during the summer months to build a "readiness for the new experience of living and learning in a larger group than the family," Mr. Womack said.

Dr. Lundquist is named president of Ga. PHS

Dr. W. D. Lundquist, Bulloch district health commissioner, was elected president of the Georgia Public Health Association Wednesday at the 25th annual convention in Savannah. He succeeds Dr. J. O. Williams of Atlanta.

Dr. Lundquist has been in the health department for nearly 15 years. As health commissioner of Bulloch district he served in the counties of Bulloch, Effingham and Evans counties. A native of

And a girl showed the Grand Champ

And a girl showed the Grand Champion.

And that is no discredit to the boys, but only goes to prove that when the ladyfolk set out to be tops, sex don't mean a thing.

Miss Sybil Cowart, Portal 4-H Club girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Cowart of Portal, showed the Grand Champion steer in the annual Bulloch County Fat Cattle Show held at the Producers Cooperative Livestock Exchange last Friday morning.

Sybil's calf, a 1040 pound Angus steer, won the middle weight class and then went on into the finals to be declared the Grand Champion of the show. Her entry sold to a local firm, the Franklin Drive-In Restaurant, and brought her $624.00 at 60 cents per pound. The Bulloch County Livestock Committee added another $150 for showing the grand champion.

Two other 4-H Club girls showed fine steers to win prizes. Sue Cason, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Doris Cason of the West Side Community, won fourth place prize money in the medium light ring; and Joyce Mallard, 4-H Club girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. O. Mallard of Denmark won second place in the heavy weight ring.

Billy Clifton, 4-H Club son of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Clifton of Brooklet, showed the Reserve Champion, a Hereford steer, which sold to Franklin's Drive-In Restaurant for 35 cents per pound. The livestock committee added $75 to the sale price for his steer.

Smets Blitch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Blitch, of the West Side community, showed the number three calf.

This is a fine thing the Bulloch County Livestock Committee is doing, supported by the business people of Statesboro and Bulloch county. It furnishes additional incentive for our young people to take advantage of the opportunities in our growing livestock industry.

The show last Friday is the first of three that the livestock committee will promote during the year. There will be a fat barrow show and a purebred gilt show in the fall which will attract additional youngsters of our county.

It was a good show—and our hats go high into the air for all the young people who made it the success it was.

A fine man helps make a fine Champ

A young man from Elberton brings unusual distinction to our Georgia Teachers College, Statesboro, his home town, and the state of Georgia.

Chester Webb, a junior in the college here, has been named as a first team selection on the 1955 Helms Foundation All-American basketball team.

The Special Awards Committee of the National Association of Interscholastic Athletics selected Webb in a meeting in Kansas City last month following the national NAIA tournament.

He is the first All-American in the history of Georgia Teachers College athletics, and the first in Georgia since Zippy Morocco of the University of Georgia made some listings three years ago.

The All-American was selected from more than 450 institutions and from more than four thousand athletes.

This superb basketball player has broken every basketball scoring record in our college's history. During 1954-55 season he ran up a total of 792 points. He scored 47 points against Piedmont College on January 6 of this year. He holds a total of 1,657 points over his three seasons here. He has 281 field goals to his credit for the 1954-55 season, and has an average of 28.3 points per game for the season.

To symbolize his All-American rating he will be presented with an award certificate and a diamond-studded gold gasketball at the annual all-sport banquet at the college on May 17. His picture will be placed in the Sports Hall of Fame building in Los Angeles.

For this young man we toss our hat high in the air and shout "hurray" three times, long and loud.

And to his coach, J. E. "The Little Man" Seacare, we say—"We're proud of you and Chester Webb. We applaud you for the wonderful job you are doing at our college in coaching young men like Chester Webb and his teammates. We applaud you for the high standards which you have set in dealing with our youth who find a great satisfaction in playing the game of basketball."

Keep our city and county clean

You just don't think. You are riding along in your automobile on the open highway and the reaction is automatic.

You reach in your pocket and take the last cigarette from the pack—and just toss the empty package onto the shoulder of the highway.

You pull a cleansing tissue from the box, wipe your face, or blow your nose—and just toss the soiled tissue onto the shoulder of the highway.

Your kids finish a box of cookies—and just toss the empty box out on the shoulder of the highway.

You finish a can or bottle of beer—and just toss the empty can or bottle out on the highway.

You fish out an old newspaper under foot and wad it up—and just toss it out on the highway.

You and you and thousands of others riding the highways repeat this operation many times—and you have littered our highways, making them unsightly and even hazardous.

The Statesboro Woman's Club, the Garden Clubs, are trying to make motorists conscious of the beauties of our countryside. States are passing anti-litter legislation. Recently in New York City there was a crackdown on "litter bugs" and a Manhattan Court collected $700 in a single day from 170 offenders.

It's a small matter to you—or is it? Let's help keep Statesboro and Bulloch County clean—and beautiful.

LAST WEEK we wrote about reading the news story in Bob Major's newspaper published at Fort Gaines, Ga., about "Captain T. J. Morris..."

Monday night of this week a group of Statesboro's young businessmen went to Metter to install a new chapter of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

"Captain T. J. Morris was born in Henry county, Alabama, and lived there until he was ten years of age. In January of 1872 he moved to Fort Gaines, Georgia, and went to school there until 1878, when he entered Auburn, Alabama, and completed a business course in the summer of the same year.

"The week is not yet over. We all still have an opportunity to take an inventory and find what each of us lacks. Some of the things we can do are those which make community problems unafraid and with a fresh enthusiasm. They have done a wonderful work here and we're sure that they will do it again."

It Seems To Me

By Max Lockwood

His name wouldn't mean anything to you and his home address is far away from our peaceful town. He was just fifteen years of age. Fifteen years in which loving parents had nursed him in sickness. Fifteen years in which a loving mother had washed his face in the beginning and then had taught him to dress himself and to care for himself as he grew those fifteen years.

What a terrible day it was. This day when life had stopped for this youth. This day when Mother and Father stood there and looked down on that son. And there he lay. His life had been rudely snatched from him, and his pathway had been made his choice as he grew up through the years.

He was a good athlete and many honors had come his way. He had memberships in many clubs and many organizations and his pathway had been made his choice as he grew up through the years.

With Our Youth

By Kemp Mabry

Georgia is right proud of one accomplishment in the area of youth work: Rock Eagle Park—located about eight miles north of Eatonton on the Madison highway.

We spent an afternoon there last week. The camp is really fabulous—several hundred acres of lake, a beautiful rock chapel with an electric organ, a dining hall to feed 1,200 people when it is completed, a swimming pool approximately 200 feet square and another pool to be built.

There are miles and miles of paved roads running through the camp. We finally got to the camp. Rock Eagle will have a capacity of 1,200. The four-room cottages are out of this world, built finer than many a home. They can house 16 campers and two counselors each, in line with the American Camping Association recommendations.

Approximately 100 people will be housed in each unit of six cottages. There are 18 cottages in all, which will house about 300 people. There will be four villages (total of 1,200 people) when the camp is finally completed.

Each village has an assembly hall and demonstration building. The auditorium for the entire camp will seat 1,200 or more people.

Costing well over a million dollars (or maybe it's two million) this is a big job for youth camp. The state has had the major part in providing funds for building the camp but more than 60,000 people have helped with large and small contributions.

We were there to arrange our "State Y" club officers to hold their annual summer training conference at Rock Eagle, July 24-28.

While at Rock Eagle arranging the summer conference schedule with Cecil Johnson, met Warden Sims who has been assigned 80 or more prisoners to do much of the construction work of the camp. The prisoners are actually proud of their accomplishment although not so proud to be serving time.

We were impressed with the kindness which Warden Sims mingled with his instructions to the prisoners. They were under guard. There was the meekest dog (they said he was a Rottweiler retriever, whatever that is) we've ever seen. The dog was on a heavy chain behind a fence. It was no picnic for the prisoners, but we were gratified to see that the warden and the guards were very firm but fair. Since the Georgia has come a long way in improvement of its penal system in recent years.

Well, Rock Eagle has excellent facilities and we're glad to be working with the "kids" next July.

But facilities are only a part of the story. If your son or daughter is going to a youth conference—church or agency sponsored, government operated or privately owned, be sure of the leadership your son or daughter will have.

Your Family and God

By Rev. Clifford Davis

their most pleasant task is to whisper sweet nothings in the language of love to young hearts. Only the extreme Victorian would deny that there is "a time and season for every thing under heaven"—including flippant and vulgar words that make sinful that God intended should be sacred.

Many a young man believes that Holy Writ is right when it says, "Whoso findeth a wife, findeth a good thing." But so often he fails to read or learn that "a prudent wife is from the Lord." From the Lord? Do these 10th Century (BC) words sound strange in our 20th Century ears? But don't we believe that "every good and perfect gift cometh from above?" Then why not a wife? Solomon and Sampson were both great in might, but poor in marriage. Solomon gave good advice, but he didn't follow it. Sampson subdued kingdoms through faith, but he got married on sight. Both saw pretty faces and forms and decided, "She pleases me." It didn't matter if she pleased God. So they got married, and then wished they hadn't. Why is it that so many modern young heroes of faith consult God about everything—except their girl? Adam got his wife from the Lord—"He (God) brought her unto me." Why can't we get ours from the same place? Christian love is never love at first sight. It is only love after much prayer. Blessed are the young men who realize that his choice is the right choice only when it is God's choice.

Young folks, when you begin to go together you never begin to get together. But what the outcome will be. But what the outcome will be. But what the outcome will be. But what the outcome will be.

But what the outcome will be. But what the outcome will be. But what the outcome will be. But what the outcome will be.

MORNING AND AFTERNOON PARTIES HIGHLIGHT SOCIETY

Mrs. Jake Smith was hostess last week to her Afternoon Bridge Club in the morning. (This happens often—that an afternoon club is scheduled in the morning) and in the afternoon, she was hostess at a bridge party with other friends from other clubs present.

The parties were given at her home on Savannah avenue. Gladoli were used in the living room and mixed arrangements of summer flowers were in other rooms where the guests were entertained. The hostess served chicken salad sandwiches, potato riepits and nut butter fingers.

Mrs. Albert Branswell received high score prize. Mrs. John L. Jackson, low, and Mrs. C. P. Olliff Jr., cut.

Others playing were: Mrs. Julian Hodges, Mrs. Buford Knight, Mrs. William Smith, Mrs. Sidney Dodd, Mrs. Frank Hook, Mrs. John Daniel Deal, Mrs. Bird Daniel, Mrs. Joe Robert Tillman and Mrs. Tiny Hill.

In the afternoon Mrs. Smith's home offered the same colorful decorations and the refreshments were like those served at the morning party.

Those receiving prizes at the bridge were: Mrs. Jim Denmark, high; Mrs. Jake Hines, low; and Mrs. Thomas Renfrow, cut.

Others playing were: Mrs. E. Stubbs, Mrs. Jim Spiers, Mrs. F. C. Parker Jr., Mrs. Claud Howard, Mrs. Charlie Robbins, Mrs. Stohard Deal, Mrs. Tom Smith, Dr. Helen Deal, Mrs. Lawrence Mallard,

Mrs. Clark was accompanied by Mrs. Carl Anderson as she sang "I Love You Truly."

Several interesting games were played, among them were "scrambled words," consisting of the qualities that a fascinating woman should possess. The winner was Mrs. Roy Powell. Pinning the arrow in the right place on a heart was won by Miss Thelma Fordham, bride-elect.

The officers of the Blue Ray chapter marched in line and each stopped to give advice and a gift to the lovely honoree. There were approximately fifty members of Eastern Star present, bringing lovely and useful gifts.

Those present were: Ray Thompson, Frank Parker, Holmes Ramsey, Charles Black, Check Your Car—Check Accidents!

What's all this talk about "Price Class!"

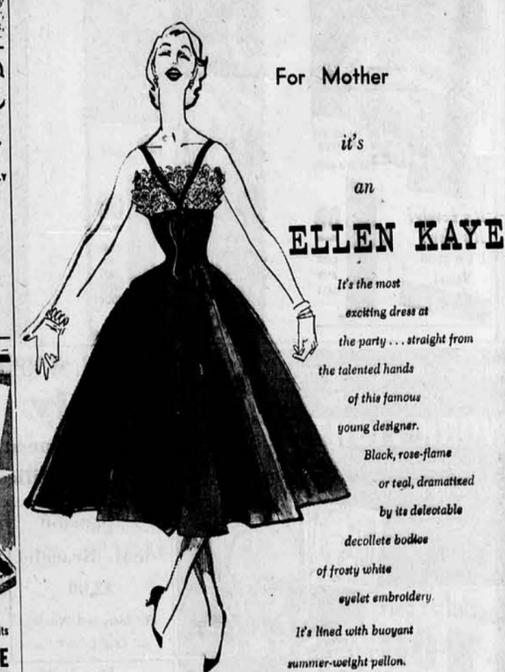

It gets to be a little confusing—this talk about what "price class" a car is in. This new Dodge is making a clean sweep in every price field!

Owners who are used to paying a thousand dollars more for a car find that money can't buy more luxury, more exciting features and beauty than in the dashing Custom Royal Lancer shown above. It's up to 9 inches longer than competitive models costing more!

And owners of so-called "low-priced cars" are finding that a new Dodge, with all its flashing length and flashing style, can be theirs for only a few dollars a month more than any of the small cars—up to 19 inches shorter and far less exciting!

SEVERAL FAVORABLE COMMENTS ON ETIQUETTE drives us on to let you have two barrels concerning same. It's a good stuff to know if you plan to continue on in the game of golf. Courtesy to others is a prime requisite while on the golf course.

A GOOD RULE TO REMEMBER is not to tee off until the players in front are well out of range. Besides being extremely dangerous it is extremely rude.

LETTING OTHERS through is conveniently (and safely) done on the tee; but often those ahead will signal from the fairway, then WALK OVER INTO THE ROUGH while the next match shoots through.

PLAYERS SEARCHING FOR A BALL should allow other players coming up to pass them; they should signal to the players following them to pass, and SHOULD NOT CONTINUE THEIR PLAY until those players have passed out of range.

FIVE MINUTES is all the rules allow to look for any ball. You will probably be forgiven if you look a little longer for one which you know to be in the rough, where you'd have a clear shot to the green, but if you spend even five minutes splashing around in a swamp you'll be rightly unpopular.

ANGRY BEATINGS ON THE GREEN are a common sight. Some definite plans were made for carrying out community mission work in our community, such as placing a tract rack in the church and distributing Bibles among those who do not have them.

Happy Birthday! To Us! Next Wednesday, May 11th, marks the 20th Anniversary of the day on which Franklin D. Roosevelt signed the Executive Order which made Rural Electrification possible.

On that day—in 1935—less than 3 Georgia farms out of each 100 were electrified. Profit-hungry utilities said the job of electrifying Rural Georgia and the nation couldn't be done—PROFITABLY! Perhaps they were right. But the job has been done COOPERATIVELY! Today—9 out of 10 enjoy the benefits of electric power. 41 Rural Electric Cooperatives now serve over 240,000 member-owners in Georgia with low cost, non-profit electric power.

This wasn't done with mirrors. It was done by farmers WORKING TOGETHER for a COMMON CAUSE. We salute the hardy pioneers who formed the Rural Electric Co-ops of Georgia—and all who have made this dream come true.

COOPERATION DID IT! IT ALWAYS WILL! That's why we continue to tell you . . .

West Side and Portal name FB members and talent winners

Ann Cason was named for the West Side Farm Bureau talent show and Miss Peggy Hand, the Portal talent show.

Thelma Mullard and Mildred won the West Side talent show. The Portal talent show was won by a girl and a boy team of Gladys Brannen, Nicky Gage, Hecky Edmonde, Joan Gage and Janero Johnson.

STILSON Malathion is still one of the best things to kill flies with, Montrose Graham, Ft. Valley health engineer, advised the Stilson Farm Bureau Wednesday night. It is also one of the best insecticides available for roaches.

MERCER Shortstop Tommy Mixon's bad-hop home run with two out in the last half of the eighth snapped a 10-game Georgia Teachers' winning streak and gave Mercer a 2-1 win in Macon Tuesday.

Mr. Graham, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Graham, has been attending the health association conference in Savannah and stopped back by home enroute to Ft. Valley. Willie Williams, the Stilson president, used him as a part of the Farm Bureau program.

A motion picture on the need for using some of the so called minor elements in plant growth was also a part of the Stilson program.

STILSON still hopes to have a queen and talent entrant in the county show May 13.

GTC Raps Oglethorpe; Defeated By Mercer

Georgia Teachers College defeated Oglethorpe University last Thursday, 22 to 2, in a basketball game. The conference game. The game was called at the end of seven innings by agreement.

Yondall Hall pitched a neat three-hitter for his third victory of the year. He struck out eight and walked three. That gives Hall a record of three victories and one loss.

The Professors had 18 hits, including two doubles and five home runs. Preston Sizemore had four hits in four times at bat, including a home run. Dave Edmonde had four for five, including two home runs and eight runs batted in. Emory Clements had three hits in five times at bat. Kelly Powell hit his sixth homer of the year and Bo Warren also hit for the circuit for GTC.

MERCER Shortstop Tommy Mixon's bad-hop home run with two out in the last half of the eighth snapped a 10-game Georgia Teachers' winning streak and gave Mercer a 2-1 win in Macon Tuesday.

The Bears' Bud Culbreth and the Prof's Roy Alewine were locked up in a tight pitching duel when Mixon rapped a solid single to right that took a crazy bounce over rightfielder Dave Edmonde's shoulder and went for a homer on the fenceless field.

GTC scored in their half of the second when Kelly Powell walked, stole second, and came home when centerfielder Bo Warren stroked a single to left. The Bears' outbatter, Mercer, 9 to 6, and missed several golden scoring opportunities, the best finding Preston Sizemore opening the game with a triple and

 without leaving the ground

Just wait till you switch the pitch of Buick's new Dynaflow!

It's The Hardtop with Four Doors!
 Here's the new hit in hardtops that's taking the country by storm—Buick's pioneering and pace-setting 4-Door Dynaflow. The "convertible" look, with no center posts in the side-window areas—but with separate doors for rear-seat passengers. Shows here in the low-price SPECIAL model—also available in the high-powered CENTURY Series. Both come in volume production to insure prompt deliveries.

HOW would you like to take the wheel of a high-powered Buick and feel an experience you never felt before in any earth-bound vehicle?
 How would you like to do—just by pressing down the gas pedal—what a pilot does when he's ready for take-off?
 And how would you like to drive with the happy thought that you're getting plenty of miles per gallon in normal cruising—and the electrifying action of the world's first airplane-principled transmission when you need it for split-second getaway response?

Not only do you take command of record-high Buick V8 power—and the most envied ride in the industry—and the brown and red and luxury of a truly solid automobile.
 You also call the turn on twenty propeller-like blades deep inside a wondrous new Dynaflow that's patterned after the principle of the modern plane's variable pitch propeller.
 You hold these blades in their high-economy angle when you press the pedal in the normal way—and you get a lot more miles from a tankful of gas.

You switch the pitch of these blades to take-off position when you press the pedal way down—and you get spectacular action instantly.
 Don't take our word alone that this is thrilling beyond all previous experience. Talk to anyone who's tried it. Or, better yet, come try it yourself. That way you can learn firsthand why Buick sales are soaring to all-time best-seller highs. Drop in this week, won't you?
 *Dynaflow Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional on extra cost on other Series.

Civil Defense meeting here Tuesday, May 17

The third of a series of one-day workshops for women leaders in civil defense will be here Tuesday, May 17, sponsored by the Women's Advisory Committee for Civil Defense. The morning session will begin at 9:30 in the courthouse here.

The morning program will include Mrs. Gertrude Harris, chairman, State Women's Advisory Committee for Civil Defense; W. A. Bowen, mayor of Statesboro; Lieutenant Colonel LeRoy Cowart, director Statesboro and Bulloch County Civil Defense; Hoyle B. Yandell, director, southeastern area of State Civil Defense; Jackson L. Grantham, communications officer State Civil Defense; and representatives from the state welfare and state health departments.

During the afternoon beginning at 2 o'clock Major General George J. Hearn, director of the State Civil Defense, will address the meeting, followed by Mrs. Mary Grubbs, consultant audio-visual education, state department of education.

The meeting will adjourn at 4 p. m.

All women interested in the most recent information concerning self-protection, home protection, and community protection in the atomic and hydrogen age are invited and urged to attend the meeting.

Dr. Russell is Augusta speaker

Dr. Fielding Russell of Statesboro, Ga., has been officially certified by Dr. E. C. Scott, stated clerk of the Presbyterian Church, United States, as a commissioner to the General Assembly of denomination.

The assembly, which Dr. Russell will attend as the official visiting representative of Savannah Presbytery, will be held in Richmond, Va., June 2-7. It is the highest court of the Presbyterian Church, and meets annually. Some 600 commissioners from seventeen states among the review of the work of the church for the past year, and set in motion the program for the coming year.

Dr. Russell, who is an elder in his church in Statesboro, was graduated from Oberlin College in Ohio in 1920 he won a Rhodes Scholarship to Oxford and took a degree there in literature and history.

Back in Alabama he worked on the Birmingham News as a reporter and later, as editorial writer and news editor. At the same time he taught literature at Birmingham-Southern College.

During World War II he served as executive officer, intelligence division, Hq. Eighth Air Force, England. He saw active duty in Africa and returned to the U. S. to become head of the Air Intelligence School at Harrisburg, Pa. In 1944, a full colonel, he flew around the world with the Army Air Corps and reported on intelligence procedures.

After the war he bought a farm near Chapel Hill, N. C. and lived there for five years, writing two novels and many stories and articles for magazines and newspapers.

He joined the staff of the Atlanta Journal in the fall of 1951 as associate editor and became editor January 1, 1954. He has written more than 19 books.

Bulloch Negroes hear Social Security facts

The 1934 amendments to the Social Security law which include farm workers, and the 1945 amendments which include farm operators is problematic to many Negro farmers. To clear this up and to aid farmers in complying with the law, a county-wide meeting was held Tuesday night, May 10, 1935 at the Bulloch County Courthouse in Statesboro. At this meeting, Mr. B. M. Minna, from the district Social Security office of Savannah explained these laws and gave assistance to some 300 farmers who signed up for it. County Agent M. M. Martin assisted with the meeting because too few farmers had given much thought to the new law.

Also at this meeting, the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Act (ASCA) was explained by B. F. Deal, county supervisor ASCA program. Mr. Deal measured the system, and the importance of farmers' yield and measurement system, and he also explained the penalties that would be inflicted on those who do not comply with regulations.

Speaker of House Rayburn arrives here today for visit in first district

Speaker Sam Rayburn, who has served longer as Speaker of the House of Representatives than any other man in history is the guest of Congressman Prince Preston on a short visit to the First Congressional District following the REA anniversary celebration in Atlanta yesterday, at which time the famous Texan delivered the main address.

Speaker Rayburn and Representative Preston will arrive in Statesboro today following the REA celebration last night. A group of local Democrats will greet the speaker upon his arrival here after which the speaker is expected to try his luck at fishing in some of the district's ponds and streams.

"It's a real honor to have Speaker Rayburn visit our district," Congressman Preston said in discussing the visit. "We are in the midst of a grueling session of Congress with no let-up in sight, and I hope some fishing will provide the speaker with some needed rest and recreation."

"I think the speaker will also enjoy a first-hand view of the University System of Georgia, a member of the Board of the Democratic leader, introduced him to a nationwide audience at the REA anniversary celebration in Atlanta.

Mr. Rayburn will be the special guest at a luncheon at the Recreation Center today attended by city and county officials and members of the First District Democratic Executive Committee. He arrived at the Statesboro airport at noon.

Dr. Judson Ward, dean of arts and sciences at Emory University and also former GTC president, will deliver the dedicatory address in a program at 3:30 p. m. in the lab school auditorium. Lab school principal J. A. Pafford has issued a general invitation to the public. The school will observe open house following the service. President Zach S. Henderson, Mr. Pafford, the Rev. Frederick Wilson, F. Everett Williams, member of the Board of Regents, and GTC education division Chairman Dr. J. D. Park will also be on the program. Regent Williams will read from the minutes of the Board of Regents the section in which is entered the formal and official dedication recommendation. Mrs. Marvin S. Pittman, widow of the educator being honored, will attend and will be presented. Mrs. Pittman is currently in Statesboro on a visit from New Iberia, La., where she now lives. Dr. Pittman, a native of Emory, Miss., and internationally known as an authority on rural education, was president of Georgia Teachers College from 1911 when he left to become director of instruction at Louisiana State Normal College, and again from 1943 to 1947. At that time he retired to president emeritus status but he continued an active association with the college until his death Feb. 27, 1953. Dr. Ward, the principal speaker, also has a long association with Georgia Teachers College. He first came to a member of the social science faculty, after teaching for while in the Fitzgerald school system. After a year here, he left for a year's teaching at Birmingham Southern College, a tour of military service, and a teaching assignment at the U. S. Military Academy. He returned to Georgia Teachers College as president in 1947. The next year, however, he became assistant chancellor of the University System of Georgia. He is now dean of arts and sciences at Emory. The laboratory school, now generally recognized as one of the outstanding systems of its kind in the country, dates back to the beginning of teacher training at GTC. When the college became a normal school in 1924, the training school was moved to its present location near the college campus. The next year the school was moved to the campus being housed in a small building. During the next ten years it changed locations twice more before finally settling down in a small building at the present site. At one time the training school occupied the basement of the old gymnasium, what is now the music-business education building. In the late thirties the school, now officially called the laboratory school, was moved to its present location, and in the fall of 1952, the $325,000 annex to the original small building was completed to provide the present facilities. Dr. Pittman came to GTC from Michigan State College where he had been director of the laboratory school. He was recognized by the U. S. Government and governments of other countries as a rural lecturer at the University of Minnesota, Canada, and he served in the same capacity with the National Southern College in Chicago ten years ago.

Woman's Club meets May 19

The Statesboro Woman's Club will hold their last meeting of the 1934-35 year Thursday afternoon, May 19, at 3:30 o'clock in the Recreation Center.

This is the annual meeting at which reports of officers and committee chairmen will be read. The highlight of the meeting will be the president's annual message. A report on the Georgia Federation convention will be read by Mrs. E. S. Barnes and Mrs. R. S. Bonduant. The executive board will have charge of the program.

All members are urged to attend and bring their 1935-36 dues.

"Our members are urged to attend the Civil Defense meeting here May 17," Mrs. Bonduant, Woman's Club president said.

Last year more than 27,000 Georgia youngsters cared for more than 9,000 acres of vegetables in 4-H Club projects.

Homecoming at Macedonia

Members of the Macedonia Baptist Church will hold their annual Homecoming service Sunday, May 15, with the morning service scheduled for 11 o'clock. There will be dinner on the ground at noon and the afternoon session will be given over to singing.
