Negro 4-H Club council meet at Dublin Aug. 1-6

During the week August 1-6 the Negro State 4-H Club Council held its annual meeting at the State 4-H Club Center in Dublin, Georgia. The theme of the meeting was "Training Ourselves the 4-H Way." Each day the program was centered around one of the four H's, which are the development of the head, heart, hands, and health. These are recognized as being the four factors that when developed in the right channel, will make us useful men and women. In view of this, the leaders in 4-H Club work have chosen as its pledge: "I pledge my head to clearer thinking; my heart to greater loyalty; my hands to larger service; and my health to better living for my club, my community and my country." In this pledge the head is accepted as the best "4-H" because it is here that all communication, imagination, thinking and reasoning take place.

The meeting opened Monday on the first "H" because it has the program centered around thinking and planning. The topic for discussion was "Planning a Way to Earn a Living." This topic was led by County Agent M. M. Martin from Bulloch county, and followed by an address by Prof. L. T. Baco, principal of the Dublin High School.

Tuesday was "Heart" day, and the topic was "Loyalty to Ourselves, Our Families, Our State and Country." This discussion was led by County Agent F. R. Spence and M. C. Little, and was followed by an address by Mr. E. J. Richardson, State 4-H Club leader from the University of Georgia.

Wednesday was "Hands" day, and the topic was "Rendering Service With Our Hands." This discussion was led by County Agent J. W. Horne and the address was by Mr. H. H. Dudley, businessman and civic leader of Dublin, Georgia.

Thursday was "Health" day, and the discussion was "Helping to Build a Healthier America." This discussion was led by County Agents E. S. Spikes and E. R. Gay, and the address following was by Dr. W. A. Watkins, M. D., Dublin, Georgia.

Friday was "4-H Motto" day. The discussion was "Making the Best Better," which was led by Mrs. Thelma P. Wright, County Agent R. T. Church and M. C. Little. This was followed by an address by Mr. W. A. Sutton, associate director, Agricultural Extension Service, University of Georgia. In his address Mr. Sutton said that Georgia is now celebrating her 50th anniversary in extension work, and pointed to the progress that has been made through 4-H Club work where the number has grown from 50 clubsters in the beginning to more than 100,000 in this 50th

SAFER DRIVING REWARDS LOWER INSURANCE COSTS

Substantial reductions in automobile insurance costs is the reward for 60,000 Georgia Mutual Insurance Company members who have accepted the new "Safe Driver" plan. These reductions August 3rd, according to Herman Nessmith, local agent for the company.

Mr. Nessmith, stated that the additional reductions in automobile insurance costs were made possible through greatly improved accident experience. He added that "the new Safe Driver" plan, which was introduced by the Mutual policyholders had decreased more than 25 per cent during the past two years.

Speaking of the part played by the policyholders, Mr. Nessmith stated that the reductions were a result of their collective contribution toward greater highway safety. The new Safe Driver plan, which is being extended to other parts of the country, he said, is a birthday, saying that these thousands are all working to "Make the Best Better." And he challenged young people as well as adults to honestly use this motto, in making this a more progressive Georgia and a better world.

Each day of the week, the State 4-H Club Council had charge of all the various meetings as well as other activities. The way in which this council conducted the meetings is praiseworthy because they demonstrated culture, refinement, leadership and citizenship. The highlights of leadership and citizenship were the political election exercises the election of State Council officers for the year 1955-56. This was done in the same manner as we elect our governor and our state and national officials. The candidates for the various offices were nominated and had to make acceptance speeches, and then had two days to stump for the office. Each candidate had his or her campaign manager. It was here that politics, in its cleanest order flared among these young people. Each tried to win but none wanted to be guilty of dirty politics.

We older agents said that certainly this is "A Way of Life" that should be copied. Yes, Bulloch county was represented in this political campaign. Gary M. Douglas was our candidate who ran for the office of State Council reporter. He was elected by a landslide of 136 to 26. The 4 H'ers here in Bulloch county are very proud of their county reporter, Gary. They are planning to honor him in some way in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Douglas, who are instructors here in the Bulloch school system and who are energetic advisors in some of our community clubs are the parents of our newly elected reporter, Gary. They drove to Dublin, bringing the entire family, Donald, Melvin, Larry and Juliet to see Gary installed into the State Council office.

REDCROSS MAKES SPECIAL FUND APPEAL
 The Bulloch County Chapter of the American Red Cross this week is making a special appeal for funds for emergency relief and rehabilitation assistance to the stricken families in the six-state area struck by the recent floods.

OFFICIALS OF THE LOCAL RED CROSS CHAPTER feel that citizens of this county want to help the more than 12,000 homeless people. The Red Cross has established 107 shelters to house and feed these distressed citizens in New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, New York, Connecticut and Massachusetts.

THOUSANDS of people are not only homeless, but without means of livelihood. The ruin in these states is calamitous in scope. In many places there were long lines of shocked, bewildered people, waiting for food or a place to spend the night.

Jaycees set up H. H. Macon Sr. Scholarship

A full tuition scholarship for a beginning freshman from Bulloch county at Georgia Teachers College has just been made available by the Statesboro Junior Chamber of Commerce. Dean Paul F. Carroll announced this week.

To be known as "The H. H. Macon Sr. Scholarship," it will be available for the next year and declining for applications September 5, according to the announcement.

The student receiving the grant must be a resident of Bulloch county, must have attained a "C" average or better, and may be eligible for the scholarship for four consecutive years as long as the "C" average is maintained and as long as the qualifications set up by the selection committee are maintained.

Dean Carroll said selection will be based on scholastic rank, character, qualities of leadership, physical, mental, physical health, and promise of future distinction. The fund grant is for $165 which covers the tuition and fees at GTC for one full year. The grant does not include room and board.

The Jaycee scholarship is being given as a memorial to H. H. Macon, well-known Statesboro businessman.

APPLICATIONS for the scholarship must be submitted by September 5. Proper application forms may be secured from Dean Paul F. Carroll, GTC, Collegeboro.

PRESTON TALKS TO LOCAL LEGION
 "Americans must not relax their vigilance because of their apparent change of attitude by Communist Russia," Congressman Preston said, in an address to the Dexter Allen Post of the American Legion.

DR. BIRD DANIEL, chairman of the canvass, presided at the "Loyalty Dinner."
 Chas. E. Come told of the history of the church and the challenge to it by Bulloch county's growth and progress.

SEAMAN WILLIAMS in a statement said that "while the present condition of the church needs a new and more adequate plant, the emphasis of the canvass is upon the point of phrase 'the need of the giver to give is greater than the need of the church to receive.'"

MISS WOODWARD, MISS BOYD AND MRS MCLEOD HONORED AT PARTY
On Friday evening Miss Betty Womack of Statesboro and Miss Ann Akins of Brooklet complimented Miss Betty Jo Woodward, bride-elect of August 28, Miss Kathleen Boyd, bride-elect of September 4, and Mrs. George McLeod, a recent bride, who is leaving soon to join her husband, George McLeod, in Texas, with a lovely party at the home of Miss Betty Womack on South College street.

Summer flowers in pastel shades were used in the decorations. Assorted sandwiches, cheese straws, angel food cake, with center filled with ice cream topped with whipped cream and punch and assorted nuts, Miss Boyd and Miss Woodward were presented bouquets in their dinner wear. Their gift to Mrs. McLeod was a covered casserole dish.

The guests had great fun designing and making bride's dresses and bouquets from a sizeable stack of newspapers.

The guests, other than the honorees, were Mrs. D. K. Boyd, Mrs. Percy Rimes, Mrs. Otis Waters, Mrs. E. L. Anderson, Misses Allene Stockdale, Deborah Prather, Fay Akins, June Kennedy, Margie Boyd, Etta Ann Akins, Billie Zean, Blazemore, Jewell Hart, Payrene Sturges, Joann Griffin, and Mrs. Thomas Simmons.

Mrs. Floyd Akins and Mrs. H. P. Womack assisted their daughters in serving.

Betty Jo Woodward wore a beautiful aqua print with empire top and full skirt. Kathleen wore a solid aqua with long torso and sheath skirt. Both were lovely imported cottons.

The young bride will attend the fall quarter of Georgia Teachers College.

BIRTHDAY PARTY FOR J. BEN DEAL
Mrs. John D. Deal entertained for her son, J. Ben Deal, with a party at the Recreation Center honoring him on his fifth birthday.

The favors were bright colored horns and whistles. Mrs. Gerald Groover assisted Barbara in serving and entertaining fifty guests.

Two of J. Ben's first cousins from Vidalia were here for his birthday. His sister, Barbara, and the cousins, Deal and Henrietta McArthur, had a good time with the fifty boys and girls who played all sorts of games.

MRS. FORDHAM TAKES PLANE FOR SAN DIEGO, CALIF.
On Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock Mrs. Wiley Fordham boarded a plane at Travis Field bound for San Diego, Calif., where she will visit her daughter, Thelma (Mrs. C. W. James Jr.), Thelma's husband, L. C. W. James, had received orders to sail for the Southwest Pacific on a six month's cruise. Thelma and her mother will drive the car back to Statesboro.

Mr. Olliff attended Georgia Teachers College and was graduated from Emory University. He served with the U. S. Navy during World War II. He is now associated with Columbia Baking Company in Columbus.

No invitations are being issued, but friends of the couple are invited to attend the wedding.

JUNIOR WOMAN'S CLUB CONTINUES DRIVE
The Junior Woman's Club is extending their membership drive and invites all members who were unable to join during the summer to be sure and pay their dues to Mrs. Edward Connor or to Mrs. Zack Smith, membership chairman, during the first week of September.

HARVILLE CHURCH SOCIAL
Members of Harville Church and its organizations enjoyed a covered dish dinner and watermelon served Saturday evening at the Denmark school. After the dinner was served the pastor, the Rev. Cleon Mobley, and his wife, led the group in singing. Games and contests were enjoyed by everyone.

DENMARK SENIOR SEWING CLUB
The next meeting of the Denmark Senior Sewing Club will be held Wednesday afternoon, Aug. 21, at 3 o'clock at the home of J. C. Bate. All members are requested to bring their own thread, needles, scissors and all scraps enough to cut and sew one quilt square.

HARVILLE WMS
The WMS of Harville Church met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Cley DeLoach. Mrs. Tom Rucker arranged the program from Royal Service. After the business meeting, Mrs. Walter Royals assisted her daughter, Mrs. DeLoach in serving refreshments.

BLACK CREEK PBYP
The Black Creek Primitive Baptist PBYP has reorganized, the first meeting having been held on August 7 at the church.

During the business meeting, new officers were elected as follows:
President, Silas Williams; first vice president, Betty Jean Waters; second vice president, Rachel Cook; 3rd vice president, Calvin Wilson; secretary, Howard Williams; treasurer, Carolyn Cook; reporter, Hazel McDonald; pianist, Shirley Fordham; song leader, Edwin Akins; and sponsor, Mrs. Fred Lee.

MISS THOMPSON, MISS MYERS retire at TC
Two members of the Georgia Teachers Club staff go into retirement at the end of summer school this week.

Mrs. Florine Myers, house mother at Lewis Hall, the senior girls' dormitory, during two different periods since 1941, and Miss Annie Thompson, assistant dietitian for the past nine years, retire from work—Mrs. Myers to Albany and Miss Thompson to South Jacksonville, Fla.

Mrs. Myers first came here in the fall of 1941 to remain in the dormitory, during two different periods since 1941, and Miss Annie Thompson, assistant dietitian for the past nine years, retire from work—Mrs. Myers to Albany and Miss Thompson to South Jacksonville, Fla.

MISS WOODWARD GUEST AT SHOWER
Miss Billie Zeon Bazemore was hostess at a miscellaneous shower Wednesday afternoon at her home on Tillman street, honoring Miss Betty Jo Woodward, bride-elect of Sunday, August 28, at the First Baptist Church in Statesboro.

The home was lovely with white double altars, sweetheart roses, and dainty coral vine, furnishing charms in the rooms where the guests assembled.

The refreshments in pink and white color scheme were white cakes, embossed in pink, and ice cream floated on gingerale, and salted nuts.

The beautifully wrapped gifts were concealed in a wishing well decorated in pink and white. The glorified bucket held notes filled with good wishes for Betty Jo.

Games furnished entertainment. Prizes were won by Misses Beverly Brannen, Deborah Prather and Betty Jo Woodward.

Others present were Miss Kathleen Boyd, whose marriage to Willis Brooks Waters will be an event of September 4, Mrs.

SURPRISED ON BIRTHDAY
Mrs. Elloway Forbes had searched for a thought to the fact that Monday, August 29, was her birthday. Her friends remembered. Mrs. Norris Dean, Helen Rowse called her up and suggested that they get together a table of bridge and told her she'd be sending Maxann Foy over for her. Elloway went to discover that Margaret Marsh was in on the party idea with Helen. When they walked in the T. W. Rowse residence on Grady street, two tables were ready for bridge. And when someone walked in with the decorated birthday cake, she was almost overcome. The birthday party was a success.

She declared she hadn't had a birthday party since she was a girl. Alva and Tommy Rowse had been a "churn" of the old fashioned way. Good old vanilla home-churned.

Those present were Mrs. Robert Tillman, Mrs. Ed Olliff, Mrs. Bo Hook, Mrs. Gus Sorrier, Maxann Foy, Margaret Marsh, Helen Dean and the honoree, Elloway Forbes.

Farm Bureau

Plans were made at the Esola Farm Bureau Tuesday night to check the corn yields in their contest the following Monday.

Indications are some of the best yields ever produced in the county will be involved in this contest.

The group voted to have a free supper next time, that is to be paid for out of the community treasury. Several offered to help prepare it. This will be for September 20.

W. E. Gear, principal of the new high school for the southern side of the county, urged the group to call this their school and to treat it as their own. He said that the school was now on. The school was built for the people in that area and would be operated for them, giving the kind of school that topped and all transported into the dam with a scoop.

Mr. Sam Franklin and Mr. Prince Preston have done a fine job of sodding their dam and entrance ways of water into their pond on their farm north of Statesboro on U. S. 301. They used common and coastal Bermuda to do the job, and a fine job they are doing. Even though there has not been enough rain to fill the pond, they have done the right thing in preparing for the rains which are sure to come.

Those ponds expecting ACP payment will necessarily have to be sodded before payment can be made.

Mr. Leon Newsome, out Ogeechee way, is doing the right thing about his pond management for fish production. He has turned the water off, fished it and killed all remaining fish with rotenone. He failed to kill the remaining fish before when he fished it and learned a lesson the hard way. Small catfish took over the pond in spite of efforts to stock with bream and trout. This time when his hatching fish come, they will have smooth sailing without interference from wild fish.

Mr. Newsome has learned what many others are learning in fish pond management. Mainly that it is better to stock your pond properly and with the right kind and amount of fish. I have heard of other people leaving a few large trout or bream in their ponds and then stocking with hatchery fish. They too will learn that it doesn't pay, especially with trout. One or two large trout can consume a full stocking of hatchery fish in a few pleasant meals. They aren't very selective either, they like small trout as well as small bream. Hatchery fish are not poured "down the hatchery" by placing them at the tender mercy of the fish. Help us to help you get better fishing from your pond by keeping out all other fish.

THANKS
From the depths of my heart I wish to thank the citizens of Statesboro and Bulloch county for the part they had in helping purchase my daughter, Patricia, the television set and stretcher. These things are bringing infinite happiness to her. For her I simply say, "Thank you from the bottom of my heart." And she says, "Tell them it has brought the greatest happiness I have ever known."

Nevils Home Demonstration Club meets at Mrs. Buie Williams' home
By MRS. JIM ROWE

The Nevils Home Demonstration Club met Friday, August 19, at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Buie Williams, with Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Dewey Smith as co-hostesses. The president, Mrs. Buie Williams, gave the devotional, after which a very interesting business meeting was held. After the meeting delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses.

The WSCS of the Nevils Methodist Church will meet Thursday, September 8, at 3:30 o'clock with Mrs. R. G. Hodges in her home. Everyone is urged to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Layton Sikes and children of Statesboro were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. Sikes' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Coy Sikes.

Mr. and Mrs. Coben Lanier and daughter, Jimmie Lou,

Raymond G. Hodges and C. J. Martin reviewed the progress on weather modification in the county and advised the group that they were still some short of the pledge for this service in the county. Those that would help out were invited to give their checks to Mr. Martin on Thursday, September 8, at 3:30 o'clock with Mrs. R. G. Hodges in her home. Everyone is urged to attend.

NEVILLS FARM BUREAU
C. J. Rowe, member of the county ACP committee, continued to the Nevils group on Wednesday night how the new soil conserving crop program would work and how they should apply for these services, as well as for the feed crops practice.

He thought the present plans would be more adaptable to local conditions than practices approved earlier and invited the group to come by the office and change if they had not already taken advantage of the earlier practice given out last spring.

Mr. Rowe also advised the group that they would still consider applications for storage facilities for grains and peanuts. The ACP committee can procure through CCC 80 per cent of the cost of construction on these buildings. They will also approve loans on the farm in rural buildings if they meet specifications.

W. C. Hodges, county Farm Bureau president, reviewed the plans for membership renewals on August 30 and gave the renewal cards to the Esola group. J. H. Futch, their president, made plans immediately to what many others are learning in fish pond management. Mainly that it is better to stock your pond properly and with the right kind and amount of fish. what many others are learning in fish pond management. Mainly that it is better to stock your pond properly and with the right kind and amount of fish. I have heard of other people leaving a few large trout or bream in their ponds and then stocking with hatchery fish. They too will learn that it doesn't pay, especially with trout. One or two large trout can consume a full stocking of hatchery fish in a few pleasant meals. They aren't very selective either, they like small trout as well as small bream. Hatchery fish are not poured "down the hatchery" by placing them at the tender mercy of the fish. Help us to help you get better fishing from your pond by keeping out all other fish.

THANKS
From the depths of my heart I wish to thank the citizens of Statesboro and Bulloch county for the part they had in helping purchase my daughter, Patricia, the television set and stretcher. These things are bringing infinite happiness to her. For her I simply say, "Thank you from the bottom of my heart." And she says, "Tell them it has brought the greatest happiness I have ever known."

Nevils Home Demonstration Club meets at Mrs. Buie Williams' home
By MRS. JIM ROWE

The Nevils Home Demonstration Club met Friday, August 19, at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Buie Williams, with Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Dewey Smith as co-hostesses. The president, Mrs. Buie Williams, gave the devotional, after which a very interesting business meeting was held. After the meeting delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses.

The WSCS of the Nevils Methodist Church will meet Thursday, September 8, at 3:30 o'clock with Mrs. R. G. Hodges in her home. Everyone is urged to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Layton Sikes and children of Statesboro were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. Sikes' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Coy Sikes.

Mr. and Mrs. Coben Lanier and daughter, Jimmie Lou,

Raymond G. Hodges and C. J. Martin reviewed the progress on weather modification in the county and advised the group that they were still some short of the pledge for this service in the county. Those that would help out were invited to give their checks to Mr. Martin on Thursday, September 8, at 3:30 o'clock with Mrs. R. G. Hodges in her home. Everyone is urged to attend.

NEVILLS FARM BUREAU
C. J. Rowe, member of the county ACP committee, continued to the Nevils group on Wednesday night how the new soil conserving crop program would work and how they should apply for these services, as well as for the feed crops practice.

He thought the present plans would be more adaptable to local conditions than practices approved earlier and invited the group to come by the office and change if they had not already taken advantage of the earlier practice given out last spring.

Mr. Rowe also advised the group that they would still consider applications for storage facilities for grains and peanuts. The ACP committee can procure through CCC 80 per cent of the cost of construction on these buildings. They will also approve loans on the farm in rural buildings if they meet specifications.

John Thomas, are off on their vacation. They will visit relatives in Knoxville, Tenn., and will visit interesting parts of South Carolina, North Carolina and Tennessee. Those visiting the Whites Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Pete O'Milian and two attractive daughters, Marcia Ann and Carla of Savannah. Pete's two sisters and their husbands, Mr. and Mrs. Pasowski of Ohio and Mr. and Mrs. Quigley of Penn.

A solidly paved walk absorbs as well as reflects heat, according to landscape specialist T. G. Williams of the Extension Service. Such a walk causes glare he added.

Agonomists at the Agricultural Extension Service, College of Agriculture, say winter grain crops should not be planted until the plants have been well established and have made three and a half or more inches of growth.

tribute much in the way of shopping satisfaction. All departments in the store will be equipped with the newest and most modern Self-Service fixtures, all of which are designed to add to the ease and convenience of shopping. Counters will be completely stocked with wide assortments of merchandise, and all articles will be within easy reach and clearly price-marked. When Mrs. Shopper finds what she wants, she places it in one of the handy, lightweight "over-arm" shopping baskets, and takes her selections to be wrapped at the check-out counter. A friendly sales staff will be on hand to give information and assistance if needed.

For the past few weeks, Mr. Windham from Butler Brothers in Baltimore, Md., has been assisting Mr. Jones in readying the store for the grand opening event. In addition to the complete program of merchandising and operating assistance rendered by Butler Brothers, Mr. Jones will have the continuous advice of Butler's trained variety store counselors. This will enable the Ben Franklin Store to keep abreast of the latest trends in variety store operation.

Mr. Jones wants everybody to feel "at home" in his store. He cordially invites shoppers to come in and look around to their heart's content, meet their friends, and stay as long as they like.

As no shopping trip is considered complete without a trip to the variety store, your new Ben Franklin Self-Service Store will fill a long-felt need in this community, and the residents of Statesboro and outlying communities extend Mr. Jones a welcome, and best wishes for success.

 would be under construction within the next year.

G. C. Coleman Jr. reminded those present that the general solicitation of the members and friends of the church would begin with the conclusion of the program Tuesday night. He emphasized the fact that all solicitation would be made "fact-to-face and in the homes of the members of the congregation."

Seventy-three men have volunteered to complete the canvass within the next ten days.

Dr. John Mooney made suggestions how the individual should proceed with making his or her decision about his or her pledge to the church and building fund.

Dr. Daniel expressed thanks to the college for the use of the dining hall and to the members of the hostess and arrangement committees.

4-Hers to work our program

The overall plans for Bulloch county's 4-H Club program will worked out by the council officers Saturday, August 27, at 10 a. m. in the county agents' office, Bill Nessmith, county president, announces.

The camping and leadership training season is over, the six new council officers have taken

LET'S REMOVE ROADBLOCKS WHICH PREVENT INCREASED FARM INCOME

Why have farmers been unable to prosper in the last few years while other segments of our economy have steadily increased their net income?

For farmers to be able to solve this problem, they must first know what the real roadblocks are.

It does not take a genius to figure out that the nation is riding for a fall when farm income continuously drops while income from other groups continuously increases.

If farmers are to increase their income, farmers must remove the following roadblocks:

- (1) Continuous high cost of production.
- (2) Surplus agricultural commodities.
- (3) Falling farm commodity exports.
- (4) Decreased domestic consumption of some agricultural commodities.
- (5) Trade laws such as Cargo Preference Act. This act prevents the sale abroad of American farm products.
- (6) Lack of adequate long-range credit for certain type farmers.
- (7) Inadequate agricultural research to develop new uses for farm products, etc.
- (8) Inadequate distribution system between the farmer and consumer... resulting in too-large-spread between what the farmer receives and the consumer pays. (Farmers receiving $2.00 for a bushel of tomatoes, and 100 miles away the consumer paying $17.00 per bushel.)

The Above Roadblocks Can be Removed by Joining Your Farm Bureau. Apparently, Only Farmers Are Going to Solve These Problems.
