Statesboro sells 15,545,430 lbs. tobacco for $7,164,812

According to a news release from Valdosta dated August 30, the following statement was made: "Statesboro, the only other market remaining open out of 28, wound up business today (Tuesday) with gross season sales of some 15½ million pounds, the belt's largest volume by more than a million pounds."

Temperature and rain for Bulloch county

The thermometer readings for the week of Monday, August 22, through Sunday, August 28, were as follows:

	High	Low
Monday, Aug. 22	97	64
Tuesday, Aug. 23	93	66
Wednesday, Aug. 24	87	71
Thursday, Aug. 25	80	72
Friday, Aug. 26	84	71
Saturday, Aug. 27	86	68
Sunday, Aug. 28	90	65

Rainfall for the same period was 0.90 inches.

The Statesboro Tobacco Market closed Tuesday after 29 selling days in which over 15,000,000 pounds of tobacco was sold for more than $7,000,000.

Total sales through Tuesday were 15,545,430 pounds for $7,164,812.82, for an average of $46.09 per hundred. Last year the market here sold 17,054,098 for $6,723,739.64. Despite the fact that 1,500,000 pounds less was sold this year than 1954, the money this season amounted to $441,073.18 over last year.

The loss was due to the cut in selling time. For nine days the Statesboro market sold only three and one-half hours, against five and one-half regularly, losing more than 200,000 pounds a day.

The Statesboro market averaged $6.66 a hundred above 1954.

The big year on the Statesboro market was 1953 when 20,181,000 pounds sold for $9,380,362.

The final sales price on better grades on the market here held firm through some of the nondescript grades did not fare so well. When the official Department of Agriculture figures are released the Statesboro market will again lead all markets on the Georgia-Florida belt in both pounds and money.

THE FIRST ANNUAL HARVEST Golf Tournament held recently in Statesboro Georgia was dominated by the younger golfers. Approximately eighty players representing fifteen clubs throughout southeast Georgia competed.

'Big Sing' to help save Pilots Field for community events

C. B. McAllister, president of the Statesboro Athletic Association, owners of the Pilots baseball club, announced this week that the stockholders decided Monday night to try to save the equipment and utilize the facilities of the ball club at the airport for community purposes.

He stated that Mayor Bill Bowen and County Commissioner Allen R. Lanier were present at the stockholders meeting and expressed the opinion that funds should be raised to pay off the outstanding obligations of the association so that the people of the county may have available the lighted field to be used for community events as a municipal and county stadium.

He stated that on Saturday night, September 10, the association will sponsor a big singing event featuring some of the section's finest singers to begin the process of fund-raising to clear the field of all debts.

"The Travelers" of Macon with Dean Winski at the piano, will be one of the featured singing groups at the big sing. This group is one of the outstanding quartets of Georgia. Another big feature will be "The Florida Chorantes," an all-girl quartet from Tampa, Fla. Mr. McAllister says that these girls have appeared on TV and in moving pictures and will appeal to the lady-folk of this section. "These two quartets are the finest in the South," he said. "We hope that every person in the county who is interested in the Pilots Field as a community project will turn out to enjoy this wonderful evening of singing." The time is Saturday night, September 10, at 8:15 o'clock.

H. L. (Pat) Brannen was the heaviest buyer in the county. Pat expressed the desire to replace his grades with purebreds as long as he could trade two for one. That is about the way he bought cattle.

Other local buyers were Charlie Nesmith, Henry S. Blitch, F. C. Parker, Frank Blitch III, Arthur Sparks, Mooney Strouse, S. W. Brack, and Cap Mallard.

Little Frank Parker bought a good cow with a bull calf at her side. This can be a warning to other 4-H Club boys for 1957 fat stock show time. He has an excellent calf for 1956, running with its mother now and is just planning far ahead.

Don't be one of the twelve to twenty-nine!

LABOR DAY — another long weekend. And many of you are now planning on a trip.

And twelve to twenty-nine people in Georgia will be killed in automobile accidents between Friday and midnight Monday.

But unless you exercise the utmost caution every split second of the time you are at the wheel of your automobile you or members of your family may be one of those twelve to twenty-nine people.

It is even possible that you may be one of them through no fault of your own, but because someone else neglected to use caution on our highways.

You can help make the Labor Day holiday a safer one this year. You can obey all traffic rules and regulations. Leave on your holiday trip with plenty of time to spare. Start home early and above all, do not drink and drive. Do not speed. Do not pass without sufficient clearance on rises and curves. Do not follow other vehicles too closely. Stay off the highways if you possibly can if you are walking. Stay on the left side facing traffic and carry a light with you at night if you must walk along the highway.

Don't let yourself and your loved ones down by disregarding and violating traffic laws designed to save life, not to destroy it.

Help these people today, won't you?

Thousands of flood victims in Connecticut, Massachusetts, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, and Rhode Island, need immediate help. Federal funds for disaster-stricken communities will be spent on the reconstruction of public works, not on assistance to individuals.

Thousands of families are faced with mounting expenses.

These unfortunate victims of one of the country's worst floods look to their neighbors for help. They look to you. Your contribution to the American Red Cross will help them back on their feet. Send it to one of the banks in Statesboro, Brooklet or Portal today, won't you?

Orchids for Bulloch

Up Statesboro way, don't talk about juvenile delinquency. That's a problem they've licked. While the rest of the country in general has just been talking about it, the Bulloch counties have pitched in and really done something about it.

So far as we know there's no organized program, per se. They just encourage youngsters to keep busy at community projects and to turn their youthful energies into creative instead of destructive directions. And it works.

For example, the senior class of Statesboro High recently raised something like $4,000 to finance a class trip to Washington. Every time a civic organization starts a campaign that involves a lot of detailed work the first people they call on are the young folk. And, to date, they have always responded—and produced!

The contributions of these young folk to the civic welfare isn't always by request. Sometimes it's voluntary, and the results are something to make anyone revive fresh hope for the future of the American people.

A classic example is the recent disaster in New England and the Northeast. Before the Red Cross had launched its appeal, in fact before the full extent of the havoc had yet become general knowledge the Statesboro youngsters decided to do something about it—on their own. It started with the Methodist Youth Fellowship, but almost all the youth organizations pitched in.

With the cooperation of the local radio station, WWNS, a

"Flood Relief Marathon" was staged. Through the rain the boys and girls trooped to the station to stage a live talent show and to offer to perform odd jobs like car washing or scrubbing front walks in return for donations to a relief fund. Something over $200 was raised after a show which lasted for double the original allotted time. At last reports only two of the chores were still unperformed—both of which were specifically to be done over the weekend.

That, say we, is an example of community spirit that is tough to beat. It's also an answer to the delinquency problem that's well worth the study. If we adults would devote half the time to actually doing something toward keeping youngsters busy in constructive directions as we do talking about the delinquency problem we might get somewhere.

Something should be done about this

Dr. J. E. McCroan, son of the late Judge J. E. McCroan and Mrs. McCroan, told Statesboro Rotarians Monday of the rich heritage that is ours—we who call Statesboro and Bulloch county our home.

But what he had to say points up a great need of our community—the need to know more about the history of Statesboro and Bulloch county.

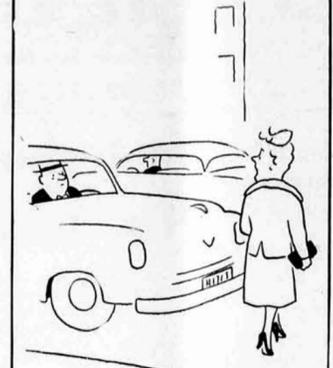

Briefly he told of the founding of Statesboro and the events leading up to its beginning. In the short time he had he could only introduce the Rotarians to the subject.

There has been an attempt at gathering of material, compiling documents and culling out the most important events which make up the history of our community, but nothing ever came of it.

It should be done, before something should happen to the documents which are now being well kept and preserved in our courthouses.

It should be put in form so that the youth of today can know something of this great county of theirs and their parents and their grandparents and great grandparents.

It Seems To Me

By Max Lockwood

YOU HAVE TO BE the youth of today are stronger, physically, mentally, morally and spiritually than their parents or were their parents' parents. This is a strong statement. It is one which is not lightly made. It is one which comes only after serious thought and much study.

There is a place in this America of ours for a Christian youth. Not one who is a namby-pamby Christian but one who is not afraid to carry his share of the load. One who can have convictions, and having a conviction, living by his belief from day to day.

I cannot agree with those who have taught you that the Christian way is the rocky road, the straight and narrow, the hard and severe path along which you must travel. Rather, I would say to you that the easy way, the confident way and in the long run, the popular way.

Yes, there is a place in your world. With this power has come responsibility and with this responsibility has come the need for decision. Yours will be the array of shaving mugs that at one time adorned the shelves of the local barbershops.

When I was a boy, I remember the local barbershops. A man with pride had a special mug which carried a symbol of his occupation. The blacksmith, a horseshoe; the shoemaker, a shoe; the preacher, a cross; the farmer, a plough; and so on.

This is the thing that conquers more difficulties than MOST ANYTHING ELSE. Often we have been tempted to say, "Oh, this thing I am asked to do is far too difficult. I can never do it." But we cannot afford to yield to that temptation. Remember that nothing worth doing can ever be really easy, and that a great many men and women whom we call "great" would never have been heard of if they had not persevered.

PERSEVERANCE — TEXT: "Be not weary in well-doing, for in due season ye shall reap if ye do not give up." Last week I wrote about "Repentance and Faith." This week I write about "Perseverance." It is very needful also.

Farm Bureau Weather modification and FB membership renewals feature meets

The activities of the weather modification program were discussed at all the Farm Bureau meetings last week, West Side, Silston and Portal.

A. R. Clark Jr., vice president of the local organization, and John N. Rushing Jr., secretary and treasurer, gave the three groups a review of the work done here and the cost. They pointed out that more than $2,200 were needed now to pay for the program the rest of this year.

The community officers were named to accept donations, or payments of two cents per acre, on the program.

WEST SIDE WORKS ON MEMBERSHIP Membership renewals were also a part of each of the three groups last week. Henry S. Blitch, president at West Side, asked the serving committee chairman to meet with him after the regular meeting and help divide up the membership cards for contacting Tuesday.

The Editor's Uneasy Chair

CONGRESSMAN Prince H. Preston, Mrs. Preston and their two children, Ann and Kay, with other congressmen and their families, were guests at the Georgia Hotel Association's annual summer outing at Radium Springs, Albany, recently.

On Sunday night, August 21, during the affair, our Congressman ran into Michael Coleman, 15-year-old Albany serpent enthusiast and a life-guard at the resort. Michael had caught a snake, a coach-whip, in the vicinity of the Radium Springs casino.

The youth's catch immediately caught the fancy of Congressman Preston. While spectators watched in awe, Prince picked up the snake played with it for two minutes, then let it wrap itself about his arm. But when it started crawling toward his neck, he handed the serpent back to Michael. Mrs. Preston said she was "fascinated." Prince chuckled, "No, I'm not afraid of snakes. Congressmen have to be prepared to handle all kinds of snakes in Washington, you know."

IN OUR YOUTH we once saw a man down at Arcola pick up a coachwhip by the tail and swing the long snake around his head. He popped the snake's head off in the fashion of a driver popping a bull whip. We'll never forget that. That's a good way to dispose of snakes, Prince.

THERE'S AN OLD SPANISH proverb which goes: "A beard Thru the P's of Virginia russell"

It may be that you pass and hear a peevish drill and suddenly you remember that the time for your dental appointment is near at hand.

Of course, it may not be such a sudden shock. It may be that the appointment card falls out of your pocketbook. Or it may be that your head has had a dull, throbbing sensation for days and you try to decide what is worrying you.

THEN, IT COMES TO YOU... the dental appointment you've had for six months is at hand. But whatever the symptoms, they never seem to be accompanied by anything except dread.

You try your best to consider the dentist. Recently, an article told how many dentists have stomach ulcers due to worrying over hurting the patients. You'd think to believe this, but could it be possible? Of course, the dentist is a nice man if you can think of him as a man instead of a radist who loves to drill as near your brain as he dares, (well of course, your brain grows down into your teeth—what else could hurt so?)

NOT MUCH TIME is wasted but this man starts right in on your mouth and at the same time he begins asking questions they're always questions you're crazy to answer but he has both hands in your mouth. You wonder if this is part of his sadism. Or maybe he thinks he's doing that husbands of the wives who come to him every day would like to do—not let the women talk at all. So he feels he's helping his fellowman.

This Week's Meditation

By Rev. J. W. Grooms

PERSEVERANCE — TEXT: "Be not weary in well-doing, for in due season ye shall reap if ye do not give up." Last week I wrote about "Repentance and Faith." This week I write about "Perseverance." It is very needful also.

It is the thing that conquers more difficulties than MOST ANYTHING ELSE. Often we have been tempted to say, "Oh, this thing I am asked to do is far too difficult. I can never do it." But we cannot afford to yield to that temptation. Remember that nothing worth doing can ever be really easy, and that a great many men and women whom we call "great" would never have been heard of if they had not persevered.

Everett Williams makes final report

Everett Williams met Tuesday night with the Bulloch County Board of Education for his last meeting following his resignation which he submitted to the board at their July term held Monday, July 25.
At the meeting of the board Tuesday night, Mr. Williams made a report of his four year service as chairman of the board, which included some recommendations for the future of the county school system.
Present at the meeting were County School Superintendent H. P. Womack, board members J. H. Wyatt of Brooklet, C. M. Cowart of New River, B. Morris of Statesboro, and Raymond Hodges of Nevila.
Mr. Williams' report and recommendations in full are as follows:
On March 12, 1951, a reviewing committee composed of some of the South's most outstanding educators, met in Statesboro for the purpose of reviewing the findings of the Bulloch County and Statesboro School Study Committee, after which they were requested to present their recommendations to a local study group. Their report in full recommendations, based on the following information made available to them by the local study committee were as follows:
1. The merger of the Statesboro city school system with the Bulloch county school system.
2. Consolidation of the Lee-rick school with Brooklet.
3. Erection of a new high school at a new site to accommodate the Brooklet, Stillson, and Nevila High Schools.
4. Erection of one new Negro high school in Statesboro to serve the Negro high school students of the county.
5. Erection of four new Negro elementary schools in strategic locations throughout the county.
I am happy to report to you that through the cooperation of the people of our county all of these recommendations have been carried out to completion and will be within the next 60 to 90 days.
Four years ago when the two school systems merged the white schools of the county had a total enrollment of 3,775 students, the Negro schools an enrollment of 2,660. At the close of the past year the total enrollment was 2,765 white and 2,768 Negro. Due to our shifting population I would like to point out the comparison of the total enrollment in Statesboro which is as follows:
Four years ago 1,083 - past year 1,383.
Four years ago the Bulloch County Board of Education employed 160 white teachers and 77 Negro teachers. The past year the system has 140 white and 107 Negro teachers. The total number of all persons employed by the Board for the present school year is 239, who will be paid a total of $807,000.00 in salaries. The operating budget for 1955-56 school year is $959,410.00. The total value of all school facilities in Bulloch county is approximately $3,250,000.00. Beginning with this school year your Board of Education has employed a Director of Transportation and it is his result in a much safer and more efficient manner.
