Blue Devils whip Blackshear; play Jesup here Friday night

The Statesboro Blue Devils used an effective ground game to win over the Blackshear Tigers here Friday night, 45-13.

Joe Hines, who accounted for three Statesboro scores, led the first team of the Blackshear 18 after he, George Hagins, Oley Cassidy and James Cassidy had worked the ball from their own 47.

Hagins racked up the next two markers for the Devils. On a wide sweep break-away, Hagins scored the Blackshear 27 into the end zone. His next touchdown run was from the Blackshear 45 after Oley Cassidy had intercepted a pass on his own 45 and returned 10 yards.

Hines' second score in the final period, smashing over the goal line. He was aided on only one play, a pass from Oley Cassidy to Sidney Dodd which accounted for 15 yards of the gains.

Hines scored his third marker in the fourth quarter when he passed from Oley Cassidy in midfield and ran the distance. James Cassidy added his second score in the third period, rushing the Blackshear line for successive gains from his own 10 to the goal line. He was aided on only one play, a pass from Oley Cassidy to Sidney Dodd which accounted for 15 yards of the gains.

He thinks first of the people of Georgia

There may be more, but we know one man in our state government who thinks more of his service to the people of Georgia than the job he holds.

When Roy Chalker of Waynesboro, director of the State Parks Department, fired 62 of the department's employees recently, without decreasing the service to the people of the state, he manifested a courage deserving commendation from the people of Georgia.

Director Chalker who originated the move himself, estimates that the department would save as much as $100,000 a year by the slash in personnel. In his move to save the state money he states that the savings will be used to improve cottages for visitors to the parks. He pointed out that a number of the dismissed employees were seasonal workers hired in the summer months. However, he said that more than half of the workers were let out for the sake of economy and efficiency.

Mr. Chalker was appointed director of the State Parks Department by Governor Griffin. It's a political appointment. It's a job in which a man might build up a political power and prestige.

And we're sure that Mr. Chalker's action made a lot of people mad—spongers not doing a day's work for a day's pay.

And we're just as sure that his action will be applauded by Georgia citizens who admire a man in public office who thinks first of serving the state and the people in it before the business of keeping his job.

We commend Mr. Chalker. Would that there were more like him in our state government.

Let there be light on the area

Of all the places to be used by couples as a "lovers' lane" it seems unlikely they should choose an elementary school ground.

But 'tis so.

Evidence is a plenty that couples are parking on the grounds of the Mattie Lively Elementary School at night.

We suggest that the county erect floodlights on the area or that the chief of police instruct the night patrolmen to make irregular trips through the area to break it up.

It's a situation which reflects with discredit on our community.

Our hat goes up for these two

This week we throw our hat high into the air for two of Bulloch county's young people.

Frank Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Everett Williams, and Etta Ann Akins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse N. Akins, have been named in the 1956 edition of "Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges."

Young Williams is a senior at Georgia Tech and Miss Akins is a senior at Georgia Teachers College.

The selections were made on the basis of their excellence and sincerity in scholarship, leadership and participation in extra-curricular and academic activities, their citizenship and service to the school, and their promise of future usefulness to business and society.

And knowing these two young people we know them to be qualified for the honor paid them.

And so we congratulate them while tossing our hat high into the air.

And our hat's off for the older ones

While tossing our hat into the air for our young people we must throw it into the air again for others—maybe not so young.

One of Bulloch county farmers has won the southeast district championship in the 1955 state five-acre cotton contest. Another, with two of his sons, won second place and still another won third.

So our hats are off for Darrell Hunnicutt for winning the Southeast district championship. He got a yield of 2,850 pounds of seed cotton per acre on the five acres.

For W. H. Smith and sons, Hu## bert and Lamar, for winning second place with 2,722 pounds per acre yield.

And for John Hunnicutt for winning third place with 2,538 pounds per acre yield.

It's people like these who make Bulloch county the banner county of Georgia.

Education programs help prevent accidents

Every year more cars go on the road. Every year, this means the danger of traffic accidents increases.

Many things are being done to prevent automobile accidents. Roads, although the program is a long one, are being improved. Cars are being made better and safer.

But the greatest factor in safe driving is still the person behind the wheel. To make him aware of the great responsibility he has, an education program is needed.

Newspapers can lead this program. As Basil L. Walters, executive editor of the Knight Newspapers, said in a speech at the Northwestern University traffic institute recently, traffic safety is the most neglected story in America today.

The clinic was sponsored by the Inland Daily Press association and the Medill School of Journalism of Northwestern to give newspapermen a working knowledge of traffic problems today, and to explain what can be done to improve the situation.

Similar traffic institutes would be a worthwhile project for every press association to sponsor. By keeping newspapermen informed on the traffic problem, they will be better able to educate the public.

The meanest man strikes again

The meanest man in Bulloch county strikes again.

He went into East Side Cemetery and stole a load of sand from one of the cemetery lots.

Maybe it was not the same person, but it was the same sort of low down trick as that of the person who stole the shrubbery and containers from one of the graves in the cemetery recently.

We know of no way such vandalism can be stopped. If a person's that mean only the law can handle him—if he could be caught.

But our opinion of him goes lower and lower each time we hear of such action.

The Editor's Uneasy Chair

THERE'S A CONSPIRACY abroad in the land. One which must be scotched here and now.

We first became aware of it Sunday afternoon as we were sitting leisurely in our chair reading the newspapers. It popped up in the form of a question in Dr. Albert Edwards Wiggan's column. Like this: "Can sitting too much be a hazard?"

Now we are a great sitter and it never occurred to us that just sitting still could be a hazard. Hark ye to the answer by Dr. Wiggan.

"Yes, sitting too long or too much can be dangerous due to formation of blood clots in leg veins. The clots can break loose and lodge in the lungs with serious results. Riding long hours in planes and automobiles often causes sudden lameness in the legs."

This didn't bother us too much at the time.

THEN LATER the conspiracy became more evident. A question in the November issue of Reader's Digest asked: "Why do women go in for concerts and culture so much more than men?" And the smartie, a Judith Churchill answered it like this: "There's a biological basis. Such things call for SITTING STILL, (the caps are ours) and it's hard for a man to sit still (remember—that's a woman answering the question) Woman's greatest avoirdupois is around her hips. This anchors her down in chairs and makes her more comfortable (sounds like the ladyfolk want to dislodge us men sitters). A man in top-heavy, with his maximum weight around his chest and shoulders. He's built for action."

A little incident that happened at our home is rather typical of the youngest generation. A cherished "Ginny" doll cannot be found, although she was a sleeping companion, a daytime companion, a visiting companion, and a church-going companion. Where she is, no body knows. The church has been searched for her, the neighbors' houses don't claim her. She just seems to be lost.

This loss gave me great uneasiness for I was certain that there would be a terrible flow to see "heartbreaks." But I got a shock. After the last search for this most beloved doll, the little girl announced, "Well, I'll just have to buy another."

It isn't that I would want my daughter to have my personality. But I feel that I and most of my generation are somewhat alike in that we had so little compared to the children of today. I personally had, as many playthings and toys, as any other child in our town, but none of us had so much, that we dared not lose it, knowing that we'd "just have to buy another."

At night, as a child, I remember trying to place my little possessions. A sudden rain in the night would wake me, and often filled me with a dreadful fear that some treasure had been left out in it.

Most of us in my generation had a "Sunday" dress that served as a "party" dress, too. It was usually a more delicate material than our school clothes and hung in the closets until Sunday or some other special

It Seems To Me

By Max Lockwood

The South needs him, the nation needs him, this Richard E. Russell of Georgia. We need his leadership in something bigger than the nation. Southern and the people of the great sovereign state of Georgia should use every resource at their disposal to nominate this man on the democratic ticket as the Vice President of the United States.

Richard Russell believes, as do most of us, that during these times of our state's vicissitudes it is virtually impossible to elect a Southerner to the presidency. We should therefore make every effort to present the nation with a Southerner who can guide us from our nation's second highest office.

I believe that this great man will offer himself to service if the people of our state will send out the call. We need him and even with the risk he will have to run I believe we should ask Richard Russell to make whatever sacrifice he would have to make.

If he is nominated, if he is elected and whatever other it is involved, it is important that we in the South stand and offer to the nation a man such as this to serve us from this high office.

We in the South have twiddled our thumbs as both of the major political parties have sold us down the river. In the national conventions they humiliate our delegates, they challenge our rights to speak and openly declare that they can win without the South and without our politics and our beliefs.

The Democratic Party as we know it in the South has ceased to exist and its leadership is made up of so called liberals who don't believe in anything but the right to do as they please and to change their ideas and their ideals as often as is necessary to perpetuate themselves and their followers in office.

Someone has sold us a false bill of goods. They have told us that the people of America will not accept the leadership from the South. This is untrue and has no basis or foundation of fact. Have not the representatives of all these states accepted the leadership of such men as Russell, George and the many many others.

We have let the political leaders of the two parties sell us this bill of goods, not the people. Is it not true that we in the South and in the mid-west can combine our efforts and our strength and defeat any nomination which is placed before the national convention of either political party? We have not let us join together, we Southerners, under Southern leadership and say listen to us, listen or we will defeat you as surely as an election is held.

come November in any election year.

We in the South are no longer to be ignored, we cannot afford to be. We are growing ever so as industry comes to us and it is but a short measure of time before there will be a great change in the political history of this nation for as surely as night follows day the time is short when the South shall have gained the leadership of the nation.

There is only one possible way that this can come about. Let us say to the leaders of the two political parties, "You had best sit down and talk with us. You have ignored us long enough and we no longer intend to let you say you do not need us and you are not concerned with our beliefs and our leadership."

How I hope and pray that the leadership of the democratic party in Georgia will say to Richard Russell, "We want you to consider this nomination for the vice presidency. We want you to speak up and let us tell the nation that we have a man here in our great state who will rise and speak. A man who can combine our efforts and our strength and defeat any nomination which is placed before the national convention of either political party? We have not let us join together, we Southerners, under Southern leadership and say listen to us, listen or we will defeat you as surely as an election is held."

CHAS. E. CONE, prominent Statesboro realtor, was elected president of the Statesboro Chamber of Commerce at the annual election held on Tuesday of this week. Other officers selected to serve with Mr. Cone were D. Percy Averitt, first vice president; H. W. Smith, second vice president, and G. Armstrong West, third vice president. J. H. Brett was re-elected secretary and treasurer.

THE STATESBORO livestock market again established a tall record here this week when 1,825 hogs and 422 cattle were sold at the two auctions. Choice top hogs brought $8.35 per hundred pounds. W. E. Cannady of Ellabell sold one lot of hogs for $750.00.

WILLIAM B. PARRISH, special agent for the Department of Commerce, Bureau of Census, reports that there were 22,105 bales of cotton ginned in Bulloch county from the crop of 1937 prior to October 18, as compared with 21, 858 bales ginned to October 18, of the 1936 crop.

BEFORE A CROWD of 2,200 people at the South Georgia Teachers defeated South Georgia State here Friday night by the score of 25 to 6. The football game was the first to be played under the new lights at the municipal playground.

SHOWING the poorest exhibition of offensive football this season, the Statesboro Blue Devils were defeated by the Millen High School Red Raiders last Friday afternoon on the Millen gridiron by the score of 8 to 0.

THE ANNUAL PTA CARNIVAL held at the Army Tuesday night was very successful both from a monetary standpoint and from the entertainment standpoint. The most exciting event was the Queen's contest. Miss Lenora Whitehead was crowned queen of carnival. Gene L. Hodges was selected as king. Taking part in the coronation were Frank Williams, coronator; Grace Walker and Carol Jean Carter, flower girls. Attendants were Dot Remington, Catherine Alice Smallwood and Martha Wilma Simmons. Buglers were Carmen Coward and Julianne Turner. Forming the aiala for the queen were Barbara Gloria Macon, Sue Brannen and Fay Anderson. Mrs. W. L. Waller, finance and budget chairman, was in charge of the arrangements.

This Week's Meditation

By Rev. J. W. Grooms

SERENITY

O God, we are so grateful that we can call Thee Father. We pray that as Thy children we may have a constantly growing experience of both the tenderness and the strength of the love with which Thou dost bind us to Thyself. Thus may inner turbulence give place to peace, frustration to contentment, and rebellion to a glad acceptance of Thy will.

Help us to remember that as a far-seeing Father Thou hast made plans for our lives, and as a powerful Father Thou canst overrule circumstances and accomplish Thy holy purpose. Let us see that every needed blessing is guaranteed by the measure of Thy love—so tremendous and unselfish that there was not even the spark of Thy only begotten Son. And may our spirits find tranquility in the assurance that Thy love is eternal, "that neither death, nor life, nor powers, nor principalities, nor angels, nor things to come, nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature, shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ, Jesus our Lord."

In the confidence, heavenly Father, may we walk with courage, then sleep in peace. Through our Saviour and Lord, Jesus the Christ, Amen.

NEW MEMBERS OF CHIP FAMILY

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has announced the development of several new snack foods, prepared from vegetables in much the same way that potato chips are made. These include vegetable chips from sliced carrots, beets, and parsnips, and "nuggets" from whole peas and lima beans, all prepared by deep-fat frying.

Strawberries can be grown successfully on a wide range of soils, but the best types are those ranging from a sandy loam to a very light clay loam.

There isn't space to save them and why in heaven's name save them? Who'd use them? There's plenty more where these came from. Or is there?

The food that is left over in the kitchen surely ought to be fattening a pig but it goes into the garbage bucket.

This great rich country so full of plenty! But is there so much that we ought not to be more careful of using everything up in this, our lifetime? Or is it necessary to practice, "thrift a little more? Far be it from me to be a joy killer but should my generation teach thrift or frugality to the young? If the latter, can you, if you please, all such items cause us real concern. These can't be saved because

THE BULLOCH HERALD

OUR SOUL'S OUR STRENGTH

The U. S. Fish Hatchery at Millon delivered 105,000 blue gill brood to cooperators of the Ogeechee River Soil Conservation District in Bulloch last Wednesday for stocking their ponds. Forty-six ponds were stocked on 40 cooperators' farms.

Those receiving fish had applications in last year or the first of this year which made them eligible for the first delivery. We hope to get another shipment at a later date. Names of cooperators who got broam were: C. W. Anderson, Theron Anderson, D. D. Anderson, W. Rocco Anderson, Henry Bilch, Fred Bilch, W. A. Bover, Banks Dairy Farm, A. R. Clark, Brooks Deal, R. D. ### Farm Bureau Wingate predicts Congress would make effort to aid farmers

H. L. Wingate, president of the Georgia Farm Bureau, predicted at West Side Tuesday night that the next session of Congress should make a sincere effort to help relieve the price squeeze situation farmers now find themselves in.

He stated that the Senate Agricultural Committee would hold a hearing in Macon, at the Dempsey hotel, November 12, at 9 a. m. and that he would like to see a lot of farmers at the hearing.

Following the Korean War, some $4 billion worth of surplus materials manufactured to prosecute the war with were junked for some 7 billion. During this same period farmers were building up a surplus of all kinds of produce to help prosecute the war, at the request of the government. The only thing they ever hear about is the efforts to get some relief for farmers for this surplus situation. Labor and industry got their relief and it was paid for at the time of $35 billion. Yet the surpluses of farm goods have cost very little as compared with the material surplus. Farmers only want to be treated fairly in this deal, Mr. Wingate pointed out.

If farm people had an organization such as labor and industry, there would not be any complaints for the demand for relief from these burdensome surpluses. So far the only thing that the farmer has gotten is "sorry," and this does not pay debts, he declared. Farm people only want to be treated as the other groups have been

STILSON

Judge Leroy Cowart will be the Stilson speaker in November, Willis S. Williams, their president, announced Wednesday night at their meeting. He asked C. M. Graham, Floyd Grooms and Mickey Proctor to serve as their nominating committee and to also report in November. Willis Groover, their secretary, reported 114 members renewed this year compared with 122 last year.

James Davis, Stilson vice president, has recently won a free trip vacation, for him and his family to Miami in a television contest, it was announced.

Sport Sedan Makes Bow with 1956 Chevrolets

Reminiscent of the sport coupe which Chevrolet introduced with such sensational success in 1955, a sport sedan makes its debut along with the company's other new models. Elimination of the center pillar in the window area adds sharpness as well as unexcelled visibility. The hardtop sedan will be available in the Bel Air (above) and "Two-Ten," two of three price-graded series of cars offered by Chevrolet for '56. Engine choices include two more powerful V-8 and one 6. The "Super Turbo-Fire V8" develops 265 hp.

Basketball Tickets on Sale; December 8 Set as Dedication

J. I. Clements Jr., athletic business director announced this week that season basketball tickets have now gone on sale. You may purchase these tickets at either the College Pharmacy or from the athletic department.

The price for the adult season ticket is $12 for the fifteen home games. For students (not college students) the price is $8 for the season. Regular admission at the door will be $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

The students of GTC will be issued a book of tickets at a date to be announced later. These tickets will be non-transferable, and the athletic department reserves the right to take these tickets from anyone misusing them. Rules governing the use of these tickets are printed on the back of the book of tickets.

Here on campus we have many married couples where either the husband or wife is not a student, but lives here on campus. In such a situation the person who lives on campus is the one who should purchase the tickets.

OUR HEALTH
By K. R. HERRING
RHEUMATISM
Much intense pain and suffering has been caused by rheumatism. Rheumatism is a general term applied to pain regardless of its location in the body, and is often named according to its location. It is called lumbago if it affects the lower part of the spine, sciatica if affecting the nerve in the leg, neuralgia if it affects the nerve of the skin and so forth.

Nerve irritation accompanied by focal infection is the cause of rheumatism. Focal infections such as abscessed teeth help to form them; however, toxin in the body merely aggravates an already irritated nerve and causes more pain.

The primary cause of nerve irritation is usually found in the spine and can be removed to get permanent relief.

OUR HEALTH
By K. R. HERRING
RHEUMATISM
Much intense pain and suffering has been caused by rheumatism. Rheumatism is a general term applied to pain regardless of its location in the body, and is often named according to its location. It is called lumbago if it affects the lower part of the spine, sciatica if affecting the nerve in the leg, neuralgia if it affects the nerve of the skin and so forth.

Nerve irritation accompanied by focal infection is the cause of rheumatism. Focal infections such as abscessed teeth help to form them; however, toxin in the body merely aggravates an already irritated nerve and causes more pain.

The primary cause of nerve irritation is usually found in the spine and can be removed to get permanent relief.

GTC 55-56 basketball schedule is announced

Athletic director and basketball coach J. B. Seacore Jr. this week released the Georgia Teachers College basketball schedule for 1955-56.

The Professors are set to play the NCAA limit of 26 games, 15 of them in their recently completed gymnasium.

New opponents on the schedule are Morningside College of Sioux City, Iowa; High Point College (N. C.); Kentucky Wesleyan, Owensboro; University of Mexico, Mexico City; Newberry College in the schedule after a year's absence.

Seven Lettermen

The Professors will return seven lettermen, including the entire starting five, from last year's team which won 20 and lost four. The starters from last year are team captain Chester Webb, Elberton; Doug Curry, Union Point; Howard (Bo) Warren, Ladonia; and Jack Campbell, Windfall, Ind.; and Jim Harley will return to the squad at the end of the fall quarter (December 15). Harley entered the army at the end of his junior year, and last year was a first team selection on the all-third Army tournament squad.

Practice November 1

Practice for both varsity and freshmen teams will officially begin November 1, in accordance with NCAA rules, which prohibit earlier sessions due to the fact that some colleges play football until late in the season.

The new gymnasium will also

Farmers in Stilson community planting oats and other grains

PEANUT PICKING ABOUT FINISHED

Peanut picking is about finished in this section of the county and the farmers who have not already got their winter grain in are sowing and breaking in oats and other grains for winter pastures. All the ones who have put off digging sweet potatoes are digging them to keep ahead of "Jack Frost." There has been some frost reported on the cool spell last week in real low places.

Stilson Presby. Church is planning on starting "Bible Study" on Friday night of the week at 7:30 at the "Stilson Church. Everyone who is interested is urged to attend. Mr. John Strickland and Mrs. Miss Leona Newman, Miss Lulu Nan Richardson and Miss Udine Shuman spent the weekend visiting their parents here.

Sadie Hawkins Week set for Nov. 8 at GTC

"We are declaring 'Sadie Hawkins Week' say the boys and girls of the T Club and the Recreation Association at Teachers College.

The Sadie Hawkins Day activities were originated by cartoonist Alfred Gerald Clegg. (A) Capp to comic strip fame. He is now being honored on the GTC campus from November 8 through 11.

The day was an invention of Capp for his comic strip, "The Day After Tomorrow." He introduced the day in 1938 as an occasion upon which the women of the town of Dogpatch lawfully chase all unmarried males of the community in a free-for-all race. The girls were obliged to "marry" the females who caught them.

Mr. Capp was probably unaware that he was filling a gap in the American cultural pattern. For several years past, the day has been observed in many parts of the United States.

Mr. J. Gordon Rowell of Stilson, who has been particularly popular in the past, was the Dogpatch mascot when the Dogpatch mascot was honored as an annual occurrence on November 9.

The festivities at GTC will get underway Monday, November 7, when the student body will be initiated to the idea of

An Editorial

October 30 to November 5 is Future Homemaker Week in Georgia. Governor Marvin Griffin has proclaimed it. Twenty-two thousand Future Homemakers 408 Georgia Chapters will prove it, with a week-long program of home, school, and community service. The local Future Homemaker Chapter has big plans, too. They start by going to church in a group. They end it with a celebration for their families and friends that may take in the whole community.

The Future Homemaker group is a unique organization. They are interested in one thing: good homes. That in itself is enough to make them unique in a world where so many competitive outside interests draw young people away from their homes night and day. The PHA's are students of vocational homemaking education, a part of the Georgia high school curriculum now considered as essential as the three R's. The public should do all it can to encourage young people in such fine constructive service. They may be crowded off the front pages, perhaps by news of the million and a quarter juvenile delinquents who tangle with the law each year. But the really big news is in such groups as the Future Homemakers, quietly going about honoring their own families, learning good human relationships, studying about food and nutrition, clothing and consumer problems, child guidance and care of the aged community beautification, and character development. These are the really important things. By these things well learned, America will have a good tomorrow.

We salute the Future Homemakers. Their creed says, "We are the Future Homemakers of America. We face the future with warm courage and high hope." And because of young people like them, so do the rest of us.

GRAZING SMALL GRAIN
 Small grain for grain can be grazed in winter, according to J. R. Johnson, agronomist for the College of Agriculture Extension Service. He advises taking cattle off not later than February 15 in South Georgia or March 1 in North Georgia. If grazing is practiced an additional application of 32 pounds of nitrogen should be applied in the fall.

By the authority vested in me by the Georgia Code, we do hereby designate the Bulloch Times, a newspaper published in Statesboro, Georgia, Bulloch county, as the official gazette for said county, beginning January 1, 1956.

In 1950 an estimated 51 per cent of the cows in this country were machine-milked. Figures by states range from a high of 90 per cent machine-milked cows in California to a low of about 20 per cent in the southeastern states. An average one-fifth less time per cow is used when machine-milked than when milked by hand, according to USDA statistics.

Local board reminds young men to register

The Bulloch County Local Board states that many young men who were serving in the armed forces at the time they were due to register have since been discharged from the service, but have failed to register. Although these young men are not subject to being drafted, under present regulations, they are still obligated to be registered or to re-register within 30 days after discharge from the service.

Local board reminds young men to register

Some young men have the mistaken idea that if they are a member of the National Guard or other reserve organization it eliminates the necessity of registering. These young men are required to register within five days after becoming eighteen years of age.

AGE OF TREES	D.B.H.	STUMPAGE VALUE PER TREE @ $20.00 PER M
30	8"	$4.40
30	10"	$8.80
30	12"	$13.20
30	14"	$17.60

Junior Woman's Club takes on worthy project

Members of the Junior Woman's Club of Statesboro are already at work on a worthy project. The excitement they feel is of triple-triangular caliber. First, they are inaugurating a project which they feel certain will be a real community benefit. Second, they have chosen a novel way to raise the necessary funds for this project. And third, they feel certain the cooperation their idea has already met, that they're headed for great accomplishments.
