Bulloch schools rate high in music festival

Statesboro schools collected 14 "superior" and nine "excellent" ratings in the third annual Regional Music Festival held at Georgia Teachers College here Thursday and Friday of last week. Approximately 4,000 students from southeast Georgia elementary and high schools participated in the festival.

They performed their various music feats before a panel of judges for ratings and criticism. High school individuals and groups were rated from "superior," the highest, to "poor," the lowest. Elementary students received comment and criticism only.

Following is the complete list of ratings earned by Statesboro students:

Eddie Lane, drum, superior; brass quartet, superior, drum trio, superior; Bill Adams, trombone, superior; cornet trio, good; Nicki Brown, trumpet, superior; horns trio, superior; Sara Groover, drum, excellent; Mary W. Hendricks, drum, superior; Statesboro mixed chorus, excellent; Anna Bird, piano solo, superior; Thelma Mallard, twirling, excellent; Shirley Lanier, Mattie Lively Elementary school, twirling, excellent; Sara Groover, twirling, excellent; Margie Boyd, twirling, superior; Vivian Alford, twirling, superior; Betty Fowler, twirling, good; Diane Anderson, vocal solo, fair; Melba Chapman, vocal solo, excellent; Harriet Cone, solo, excellent; Sue Mallard, solo, good; Jan Futch, solo, excellent; Pat Lamb, solo, superior; Joan Col-

GTCP Professors win first game in NAIA tournament in K.C.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 12—The Georgia Teachers College Professors pulled one out of the fire here this afternoon defeating Southeastern Oklahoma, 81 to 78, in the first round of the National Intercollegiate (NAIA) basketball tournament.

The deliberate Oklahomans held a six point lead six minutes remaining when Coach J. B. Seacore ordered his boys into a full-court press. Led by sticky-fingered Jim Harley and Hump Campbell the Profs stole pass after pass and took over the lead on a driving layup and free throw by Do Warren.

Chester Webb scored 27 points to lead GTCP, with 22 of them coming in the second half. He picked up three personal fouls in the first eight minutes of the game and had to be replaced by Don Avery. Oklahoma led at the half 34 to 30.

This story was written for the Savannah Morning News by Joe Axelson, a student at Georgia Teachers College, who made the trip to Kansas City with the Professors to cover the game.

The Oklahoman Jim Spivey, like Webb of a Helms All-American selection last year, took the game honors with 43 points. But the Elberton senior outscored his redheaded adversary 22 to 18 in the last half. Webb hit a jump shot, and a book to see the result. The Oklahoman Savages didn't score in the last 3:14.

The Profs entered the second round with 15 other teams, and will play the Elon-Pittsburg (Kan.) winner at 10 p. m. (EST) Wednesday night. The winner of the GTCP job in a row, and their 21st in 27 outings. Webb's 27 gives him 2,816 points for his four year career. This win is the first marked up by a Georgia college in the 16-year history of the NAIA national tournament.

Funeral services for Maj. Shilton Brannen, 34, who was killed February 24 on a flight returning from France to his home base in Madrid, Spain, when his plane crashed into the base of a mountain, were held last Friday at 3:30 p. m. at the Fellowship Primitive Baptist Church near Stillson.

Services were conducted by Lt. Marion Mathis, Hunter Air Force Base Chaplain, and Elder A. R. Crumpton Sr. Burial was in the church cemetery.

Maj. Brannen was graduated from Stillson High School in 1938 and received his degree from the University of Georgia in 1942. He entered the Air Force in 1943 and received his wings at Napier Field, Dothan, Ala. He served from 1943 until the end of the war, and was shot down over Germany in December, 1944. Editorials

People with vision make our community grow

Tonight is a great night for one of Bulloch county's leading citizens. A man with many facets to his character. Coming from one of the county's pioneer families he has been and is an integral part of the progress of our community.

Tonight Lannie F. Simmons sees a dream become a reality. Last year Mr. Simmons conceived the idea of building a beautiful center, which, at that time was an unattractive area in which was located his service shop to his Dodge-Plymouth dealership, a used car lot, a storage lot for run-down and cast-away tractors and a machine shop. He visualized what has come to be known as a shopping center where several businesses locate around and adjacent to wide, plentiful and convenient parking areas for the free use of shoppers who circulate in the center.

To bring the dream into fruition Mr. Simmons tore down his shops, the machine shop, the used car lot, the tractor dumping lot, and on the resulting wide expanse of property he built a group of beautifully designed store buildings. In time he found businessmen and women who have confidence in the future of Statesboro and Bulloch county to occupy them.

Tonight the Simmons Shopping Center will be open to the public for inspection and business.

Mr. Simmons was born in Stilson on May 28, 1899, the son of Hill F. Simmons and Martha Leila Williams Simmons. Finishing ten grades at the Brooklet school he came to Statesboro and secured work with the express company here. He worked with the W. H. Ellis Company, then with the old Olliff and Smith Company. He then went into business for himself as a grocer where the Ben Franklin Store is now located. Later he branched out and opened the Variety Store in the building where W. C. Atkins and

'Our Own Moter' writes the New York Times

While Miss Autherine J. Lucy, shaken but courageous, was gathering strength to go back to Alabama, Adlai E. Stevenson was making his own appeal for interracial tolerance in the North. Miss Lucy stands a poor chance of re-entering the University of Alabama, from which she was "expelled" after attending one day's classes and after a controversy arising out of the threat of mob violence. We in the North, in communities where legal segregation does not exist, may count ourselves more advanced in our political democracy than Alabama, or any other state where some American citizens are legally denied the rights lawfully and constitutionally extended to other American citizens.

Nevertheless, it is for us to show our faith in democracy by more than words and by more than criticisms of our neighbors in the South. The two races in the South have a historic handicap which we have not. Northern communities, as Mr. Stevenson said, often confine Negro citizens "to segregated neighborhoods, deny them full employment opportunities — and often confront them with the naked face of prejudice they knew in the region from which they migrated."

Son is now located. He soon sold his variety store and devoted the major portion of his time to the grocery business. Becoming restless behind his grocery counters, he began selling automobiles on the side and day after day his interest became concentrated on that business. In 1925 he secured the agency for Studebaker and opened a show room in the building next to the Oliver home on East Main street. In 1921 he married Miss Wilma Brunson. In 1922 a daughter, Martha Wilma, was born. In 1925 Mrs. Simmons died. Later he married his present wife, the former Miss Ouida Brunson.

In 1937 he built a new show room on North Main street and began selling Dodge and Plymouth automobiles in the building now occupied by Franklin Rexall Drug Store, which is a part of the present Shopping Center.

Mr. Simmons is a Rotarian, a member of the board of trustees of the Methodist Church, a former member of the City Council, and past president of the Chamber of Commerce. He took an active part in raising public funds with which to help build the swimming pool at the Recreation Center. He was active in all movements to secure new industries here.

In all his thinking and activities he has the progress of the community in which he lives at heart.

And so today we commend him for the part he has played in giving Statesboro one of its most attractive projects, The Simmons Shopping Center.

We commend those who have the vision and confidence in Statesboro and Bulloch county to move into and do business in the center.

We commend all who have cooperated with Mr. Simmons in his efforts to help make Statesboro the most beautiful and most desirable city in which to live and rear our future generations.

neighborhoods, deny them full employment opportunities — and often confront them with the naked face of prejudice they knew in the region from which they migrated."

The Editor's Uneasy Chair

LAST WEEK we received an unsigned letter from a young high school student here written as a representative of the JTY Club, the KCC Club and the TET Club, for it had the initials of these three clubs written across the bottom of the letter. It was addressed to the editor, and despite our policy of not using anonymous letters in our paper, we do use this one. It is as follows:

"Dear Editor: As a prodig of your so-called social club, I feel that I am better qualified to tell you what the clubs really are than anybody outside of these clubs. 'These clubs consist of some of the most well respected, and well rounded young people of this community. I, as well as others in this club, was very upset at your harsh description of our organizations. 'We hope that you will look further into the background of these clubs before taking such a position again. 'I feel that my parents, and the majority of parents would be honored to have their daughter or son belong to any of these clubs.' 'The letter was signed 'JTY KCC TET.'"

The writer representing these three social clubs in his or her letter did not defend their initiation which is a prerequisite to membership and which is the only phase of the club's activities which we attacked in our editorial of March 1. Any club using any form of initiation which subjects the candidates to membership to bodily harm or subjects their parents to mental concern is not worthy of our most well respected, and well rounded young people of this community."

"We stand on this, even at the risk of losing the good will of the writer representing these three social clubs in his or her letter did not defend their initiation which is a prerequisite to membership and which is the only phase of the club's activities which we attacked in our editorial of March 1. Any club using any form of initiation which subjects the candidates to membership to bodily harm or subjects their parents to mental concern is not worthy of our most well respected, and well rounded young people of this community."

"It's a man's world all right! But it isn't always all right just because it's a man's world. It might result in a good idea to consult the little women sometimes. Take, for instance, the new Winn-Dixie Store. Any woman would have explained to the dear men that the bananas, grapes, bell peppers, etc., should be picked up last as they all come out from under canned goods in pretty bad shape. The frozen goods, too, should be one of the last counters as one finishes up her shopping. The homes today are being planned a little better than formerly because women in a few cases have been consulted. Still many women are living with great inconveniences simply because of a man's planning. The new schools that are being built today are, often times, being built without even consulting a teacher (male or female)."

Now, along comes a man who says, "We Have Teachers Enough Right Now!" Dr. Alvin C. Eurick, who is the director of the Fund for the Advancement of Education established by the Ford Foundation. Dr. Eurick is recommending in the FARM JOURNAL and COUNTRY GENTLEMAN that more children be put in classrooms and that assistants be employed (people who do not necessarily

American youth poses a major problem says George-Anne writer

What does American youth lack? This is a question that we here in the United States would like to be able to answer. Educators, juvenile authorities, and, more recently, service psychiatrists have made an extensive study of the problem. Their findings have been rather disturbing. They find that our youth of today are weakest in character and moral principles.

Major William E. Mayer, one of the army's foremost psychiatrists, reports that a third of the Americans captured during the Korean conflict, including those who were brainwashed, collaborated one way or another with the enemy. He also states that in a large number of instances they failed to take care of their sick. If a man started to get sick, his fellows usually abandoned him for all practical purposes.

Returned prisoners report that there was at least one informer in every squad among the Americans. If these things are true, then what can be done to correct them? Major Mayer believes the average American boy is taught too little about the history of his country, about how his system of government operates and how its principles are superior to such philosophies as communism. We believe the Major has a good point. Organized recreation, such as Staterose has, is an excellent way to build character and train youth in the principles of fair play. The home, the church, and the school might need to take a look at the way in which they are handling the modern American youth to see if their program is adequate. This Week's Meditation to bring comfort, peace. By The Rev. J. W. Grooms. WEEDS AND HABITS—Among the innumerable responsibilities that may be traced between the phenomena of the natural and the moral world, there are few more perfect or more instructive than that of the weeds of the field and the weeds of the heart. 1. THEY BOTH COMMENCE on a small scale. The Scotchman's little paper of thistle weeds was sufficient to overrun an island as large as England with the noxious weeds. So the little mischievous seed which a man sows in his heart will bear a crop of weeds out of all proportion to the original germ. 2. BOTH WEEDS and bad habits multiply and mature without cultivation. Whatever is valuable must be reared with more or less care and labor; but these natural and moral pest ask only to be let alone. Neglect is the only care they require. You do nothing and you do all that they ask.

IN JANUARY of 1956, the readers of this column will remember, the remark was made that 1956 would be a year of big decisions. One such decision was made this week when our southern congressmen went on record to oppose any and all forces dedicated to the destruction of our southern way of life. Senator Walter George has again distinguished himself in the eyes of the nation. This he is a great and able man will be denied by none. NINETEEN HUNDRED FIFTY-SIX is the year when the Democrats of the South should stand together and present to the country today which can point to as many national leaders as the South now has in the Congress of the United States. Such men as Russell, George, Vinson, Sparkman, Johnson, Rayburn, Barkley and a host of others. These men have no equal in our modern times. If we cannot nominate men of this stature in a party which proposes to represent us, then the time is certainly nigh when we should look to the formulation of a governmental group or party which will nominate such men and which will represent our views to the

Tonight is a great night for one of Bulloch county's leading citizens. A man with many facets to his character. Coming from one of the county's pioneer families he has been and is an integral part of the progress of our community.

Tonight Lannie F. Simmons sees a dream become a reality. Last year Mr. Simmons conceived the idea of building a beautiful center, which, at that time was an unattractive area in which was located his service shop to his Dodge-Plymouth dealership, a used car lot, a storage lot for run-down and cast-away tractors and a machine shop. He visualized what has come to be known as a shopping center where several businesses locate around and adjacent to wide, plentiful and convenient parking areas for the free use of shoppers who circulate in the center.

To bring the dream into fruition Mr. Simmons tore down his shops, the machine shop, the used car lot, the tractor dumping lot, and on the resulting wide expanse of property he built a group of beautifully designed store buildings. In time he found business-men and women who have confidence in the future of Statesboro and Bulloch county to occupy them.

Tonight the Simmons Shopping Center will be open to the public for inspection and business.

Mr. Simmons was born in Stilson on May 28, 1899, the son of Hill F. Simmons and Martha Leila Williams Simmons. Finishing ten grades at the Brooklet school he came to Statesboro and secured work with the express company here. He worked with the W. H. Ellis Company, then with the old Oliff and Smith Company. He then went into business for himself as a grocer where the Ben Franklin Store is now located. Later he branched out and opened the Variety Store in the building where W. C. Akins and

'Our Own Mote' writes the New York Times

While Miss Autherine J. Lucy, shaken but courageous, was gathering strength to go back to Alabama, Adlai E. Stevenson was making his own appeal for interracial tolerance in the North. Miss Lucy stands a poor chance of re-entering the University of Alabama, from which she was "expelled" after attending one day's classes and after a controversy arising out of the threat of mob violence. We in the North, in communities where legal segregation does not exist, may court ourselves more advanced in our political democracy than Alabama, or any other state where some American citizens are legally denied the rights lawfully and constitutionally extended to other American citizens.

Nevertheless, it is for us to show our faith in democracy by more than words and by more than criticisms of our neighbors in the South. The two races in the South have a historic handicap which we have not. Northern communities, as Mr. Stevenson said, often confine Negro citizens "to segregated neighborhoods, deny them full employment opportunities — and often confront them with the naked face of prejudice they knew in the region from which they migrated."

LAST WEEK we received an unsigned letter from a young high school student here written as a representative of the JTY Club, the KCC Club and the JTY Club. It had the initials of these three clubs written across the bottom of the letter. It was addressed to the editor, and despite our policy of not using anonymous letters in our paper, we do use this one. It is as follows:

"Dear Editor: of your so-called social club, I feel that I am better qualified to tell you what the clubs really are than anybody outside of these clubs.

"These clubs consist of some of the most well respected, and well rounded young people of this community. I, as well as others in this club, was very upset at your harsh description of our organizations.

"We hope that you will look further into the background of these clubs before taking such steps again. I feel that my parents, and the majority of parents would be proud of their children if they were known to be the daughter or son belong to any of these clubs."

The letter was signed "JTY KCC TET."

The writer representing these three social clubs in his or her letter did not defend their initiation which is a prerequisite to membership and which is the only phase of the club's activities which we attacked in our editorial of March 1.

Any club using any form of initiation which subjects the candidates to membership to bodily harm or subjects their parents to mental concern is not worthy of our "most well respected, and well rounded young people of this community."

We stand on this, even at the risk of losing the good will of neighborhoods, deny them full employment opportunities — and often confront them with the naked face of prejudice they knew in the region from which they migrated."

Even here, where gifted members of the Negro race have risen to high position, we still have to learn that such recognition is not enough and that tolerance is not enough. We can do more to help our Southern fellow citizens of both races if we use the freedom of which we boast to do justice with one another and to be considerate of one another.

—New York Times, March 4, 1956.

It's a man's world all right! But it isn't always all right just because it's a man's world. It might really be a good idea to consult the little women sometimes. Take, for instance, the new Winn - Dixie Store. Any woman would have explained to the dear man that the bananas, grapes, bell peppers, etc., should be picked up last as they all come out from under canned goods in pretty bad shape. The frozen goods, too, should be one of the last counters as one finishes up her shopping.

THIS IS a wonderful time of the year. It is a time when all seem right with the world. It is a time when we realize the meaning of life. As the birds sing, as the trees put on new foliage and as the flowers burst forth in their magnificent beauty, it makes us happy that we are a part of it.

Demolays install new officers

The Ogeechee Chapter Order Demolay held installation ceremonies for the new officers of the ensuing term in the Masonic Hall on February 23, 1956. This installation was conducted in a closed installation.

The new officers were inducted for the ensuing term as follows: Master counselor, Dennis DeLoach; senior counselor, Pete Johnson; and junior counselor, George Hagin. Al DeLoach is the senior deacon. Junior deacon, Henry Bowen; senior steward, Henry Holland; junior steward, Charlton Mosley; scribe, Wilton DeLoach; treasurer, Al McDougall, chaplain, Roberts Adams; orator, Phillip Howard; marshal, Joe Waters; standard bearer, Bill Stubbs; organist, Kenneth Chandler; preceptors, first, Joe Olliff; second, Harry Johnson; third, Van Tillman; fourth, Lendell Roberts; fifth, Marvin Rimes; sixth, John Wheelchel; and seventh, Marjion Wells.

The master counselor, senior counselor, and junior counselor are elected by the voting of the Demolay officers. The remaining officers are appointed by the newly elected officers.

The Ogeechee chapter cordially invited the members of the Masonic Lodge to attend their meetings on the first and second Thursdays of every month at 7:30 p. m.

In the past five years Americans have added an average of 25 pounds of beef to their annual meat diet. In 1955 the average American consumed 81 pounds of beef.

When vacuuming a rug, start in the corner of the room and work backward toward the door. This will eliminate wheel marks or foot prints.

The Rev. Mr. Erwin explained that while the film is being released only to Methodist Churches during the initial period, the public is invited to see the picture at the Methodist Church.

MUSIC CLUB TO MEET AT MRS. FLOYD'S ON TUESDAY NIGHT
The Statesboro Music Club will meet in the home of Mrs. Waldo Floyd on Tuesday evening, March 20, at 8 o'clock. All members are urged to be present.

DORIS ROCKER NAMED ON STUDENT COUNCIL
Miss Doris Rucker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Rucker of Statesboro, was named a member of the Student Council at Stetson University, DeLand, Fla. in recently held college elections.

The national theme for 4-H Club work in 1956 is "Improving Family and Community Living."

On Friday evening, March 9, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Averitt and their daughter, Miss Jane Averitt, entertained with a buffet supper at their home on Zetterover avenue, honoring her niece and cousin, Miss Gloria Averitt of Millen, and her fiancée, Ronald Glen of Morgan, Georgia, whose marriage will take place early in April.

Floral favors were used in profusion throughout the lovely home. Exceptionally beautiful were pink azaleas, pink hyacinths, pink snapdragons, and pink carnations, extending in an elongated arrangement from a silver bowl which centered the buffet table which was overlaid with an exquisite cut work cloth. On the mantel were lewyo daffodils and purple hyacinths with slender pane needles. Red camellias in a white compote on a pedestal table completed the artistic setting for the pre-nuptial party.

Following the ceremony, the bride's mother entertained her guests at their home on reception in the church dining hall.

Miss Marion Dwell kept the bride's book. The bride's table overlaid with white organza over green satin, was centered with the three-tiered wedding cake featuring a pastel nosegay. White tapers burned in silver candelabra, and silver services were used at each end of the table. Pastel camellias added to the beauty of the table.

Community is grieved over death of Mrs. O. C. Anderson on March 8

By Mrs. Jim Rowe

Mrs. Waters received many nice gifts and everyone had a most enjoyable day.

The Nevils community was deeply grieved with the passing of Mrs. O. C. Anderson who passed away last Thursday, March 8, after an extended illness. They extend their deepest sympathy to her husband Mr. O. C. Anderson and two sons, Drayton and Rollan Martin.

HONORED ON BIRTHDAY
The family of Mrs. J. C. Waters Sr. honored her Sunday with a birthday dinner at her home near Nevils. Among those that attended were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Waters and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Waters Jr. and family, Mr. and Mrs. Brooks Williams and daughter, Mrs. Helen McCorkle and daughter, and Mrs. Paul McCallar, all of Savannah, and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Tanner, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stafford and Bill Rowe and son and others. At the noon hour a bountiful dinner was spread.

PERSONALS

NIGHT OWL CLUB
With Mrs. MATHEWS
On Monday night, Mrs. C. B. Mathews entertained the Night Owls with four tables of bridge at her home on Zetterover avenue. Camellias and spring flowers combined in the decorations.

Blueberry torte, open cheese sandwiches, nuts and coffee were served.

Mrs. Grady Bland with high score for ladies received a glamorous accordion played upon. Thad Morris won men's high, a double deck of cards. For low, Mrs. E. L. Akins received a costume pin. Leroy Coward, scoring low, was given a tie. Men's cut, after shave lotion, went to J. B. Johnson. Mrs. Thad Morris, with cut for ladies, was given a kitchen set.

CAROLYN BLACKBURN HONORED BY SORORITY
Miss Carolyn Blackburn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Blackburn, member of Zeta Tau Alpha sorority at the University of Georgia, has been appointed scholarship chairman by the national Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority.

LYNN SMITH ELECTED SECRETARY OF VANDERBILT COMMITTEE
Miss Peggy Lynn Smith, daughter of Mr. Harry Warthen Smith, 102 South Main, has recently been elected secretary of the social standards committee of Vanderbilt University. This committee is composed of 15 coed representatives from various student groups and organizations.

Miss Smith is a sophomore at the University and graduated from Statesboro High School.

MRS. HODGES ENTERTAINS CONTRACT BRIDGE CLUB
On Tuesday afternoon, March 6, Mrs. Rex Hodges was hostess to the Contract Bridge Club at her home on Savannah avenue.

Grapefruit Alaska, toasted cheese and bacon sandwiches and coffee were served.

For high, Mrs. Ivy Spivey was given a make-up kit. Mrs. Charlie Howard, scoring second high, received four small bottles of perfume, each different in fragrant aroma. Mrs. John Wilson won bath oil for cut.

Others playing were Mrs. Harold Jones, Mrs. Ernest Cannon, Mrs. T. E. Rushing, Mrs. DeWitt Thackston, and Mrs. Jim Denmark.

CHEROKEE ROSE GARDEN CLUB
The Cherokee Garden Club met Friday afternoon, March 2, with Mrs. Edgar C. Godfrey on Vista Circle with Mrs. Jack LoPresti as co-hostess.

Arrangements of mixed spring flowers were brought to the club by Mrs. Ben Ray Turner and Mrs. Aubrey Brown.

A dessert course was served. Mrs. Jack Tillman opened the meeting with the club collection. Mrs. Jack Averitt, president, heard reports from the committees. The executive report was made by Mrs. Bill Adams and the report from the treasurer, Mrs. Carl Higgins was submitted.

Mrs. James Bland led a discussion on shrubbery.

Others present were Mrs. Heyward Brunson, Mrs. Billy Cone, Mrs. Albert Davis, Mrs. Charles Hollar, Mrs. Harold Jones, Mrs. Hal Mason Jr., Mrs. Bud Tillman and Mrs. Cecil W. Waters.

STATESBORO WOMEN GARDEN CLUB LECTURE
Mrs. Hugh L. Sutherland of Itta Bena, Miss, was sponsored by the associated Garden Clubs of southeast Georgia in Lyons Thursday, March 8.

Mrs. Sutherland has taught flower arranging in many schools throughout the South; Texas, Louisiana, Florida, Alabama, Tennessee, Kentucky, and Mississippi, but this was her first visit to Georgia.

Mrs. Sutherland's lecture was on "Design and Color Arrangements."

Attending the lecture from Statesboro were Mrs. Waldo Floyd, Mrs. J. P. Collins, Mrs. W. M. Newton and Mrs. Glenn Jennings from the Civic Garden Club; Mrs. Bonnie Morris and Mrs. J. E. Bowen Jr. from the Statesboro Garden Club; Mrs. F. W. Darby, Mrs. Devane Watson, Mrs. D. L. Davis, Mrs. C. E. McAllister, Mrs. Inman Foy, Mrs. E. N. Brown, Mrs. Arnold Anderson and Mrs. Leroy Cowart from the Pineclad Garden Club.

The Statesboro ladies enjoyed the meeting and were impressed by the ease and pleasant manner of Mrs. Sutherland as she worked and achieved a freshness in colorful flower arrangements. Mrs. Sutherland left Lyons to help judge the International Flower Show in New York.

DOUBLE FOUR BRIDGE CLUB
Mrs. Charles Hollar was hostess this week to the Double Four bridge club. Her rooms were decorated with pansies and house plants. A dessert course was served.

Mrs. Sidney Lanier received assorted greeting cards for six to seven hours a day. Let alone his keeping 30 patients seven hours a day.

Not can I imagine a teacher being paid $3 for each 10 minutes she has a child! (Of course, many patients pay $3 for a shot of penicillin that costs the doctor less than 25 cents and takes less than three minutes to give it!) But going on to the 10 minutes to a patient idea, a teacher would receive $120 a day per child for 30 children a day (and not heads of funds for $3,780, and for a month Ford Foundations) and solutions to the teacher problems the teacher would be paid $3 for each 10 minutes she has a child! Rites held for Mrs. H. D. Manly

Mrs. Durwood Manly died unexpectedly last Friday night, March 9, in the Bulloch County Hospital after a short illness. Survivors are her husband, H. Durwood Manly, Statesboro; her mother, Mrs. L. M. Waters of Claxton; six sisters, Mrs. Maude Purcell, Glennville, Mrs. W. T. Alton, one brother, Horland Waters, Claxton; two nieces and two nephews.

Boy Scouts off on Camporee

Troop 40, Boy Scouts of America, will hold a spring camporee March 15 through March 17.

The Camporee will be held at Camp Boyce, located behind the new forestry building to the left of the air post.

This is the first spring camporee trip. Around 50 boys have made plans to attend. Several members of Post 40 who also work with Troop 40 are going to provide the leadership for the camporee.

Troop 40 has recently bought over $200 in camping equipment. This money was earned by members of the troop by assisting in the operation of the concession stand and in ushering at the Teachers College basketball games. Some of the equipment was Headquarters tent, suitable for six boys, a number of smaller tents for two boys each, five patrol cooking sets suitable for eight boys each, knife and rock sets for the members of the troop, a large troop first aid kit, several lanterns and a number of smaller items.

A planned program will be carried out for the Camporee conducted by leaders of Troop 40 and Post 40. Some of the activities will include working on scout advancement, nature hikes, track and field meet, softball games and two big campfire programs.

On Friday night open houses will be held to which the entire community is invited. From 7 to 8 o'clock everyone is invited to make an inspection tour of the camping area. At 8:15 an open campfire will be held for all visitors. Members of the troop will put on a short program.

Woman's Clubs hold conference

Prominent clubwomen from 10 states, making up the southeastern corner of the state Federations of Women's Clubs, attended the conference at the Fort Sumter Hotel in Charleston, S. C. March 8 and 9.

The members of the Statesboro Women's Club at the conference were Mrs. E. L. Barnes, second vice president of the Georgia Federation; Mrs. Alfred Dorman, trustee of Tallahassee School; and Mrs. L. M. Durden, state chairman of "City Beautiful Division."

Mrs. Chester E. Martin of Atlanta, immediate past president of the Georgia Federation, presided over the conference. The South Carolina Federation was the hostess organization, with Mrs. Harry Lee Jones, president, who made the welcome address. William G. Morrison, mayor of Charleston, greeted the ladies of the conference to the city.

During the luncheon meeting last Friday, Mrs. Barnes of Statesboro, saluted the Georgia president, Mrs. H. W. Moore and Mrs. Chester E. Martin as part of the program saluting the 10 state presidents.

The theme of the conference was "A Regional Focus on Federation Future." Mrs. Joseph M. Parkins of Eastland, Texas, chairman the education of the General Federation of Women's Club spoke on the theme.

CARD OF THANKS The family of Mrs. Durwood Manly wishes to express with deepest sympathy for remembering them with their thoughtfulness and kindness shown them in their hours of sadness and grief.

Top Ten Chosen by Coaches

The District 25 NAIA all-tournament team picked by the coaches of the participating teams: GTC placed four regulars on the top ten, with Stetson placing three, Mercer two and Tampa one. Chester Webb, our big GTC center was nominated as "most valuable player."

Rites held for Miss Rustin

Miss Gussie Rustin died in a Milldeville hospital after a long illness. She was the daughter of the late J. W. and Harber Ann Rustin of Bulloch county.

She is survived by four sisters, Mrs. Anna Williams of Brunswick, Mrs. C. B. Griner of Alamo, Mrs. Stella Copeland and Mrs. F. W. Ellabee, both of Decatur; three brothers, M. C. Rustin of Hagan, R. W. Rustin of Oak Grove, La., J. Marvin Rustin of Savannah; a number of nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon, March 1, at the chapel of Barnes Funeral Home by the Rev. Ernest Veil and the Rev. J. D. Corbett. Burial was in the Brooklet Cemetery.

church and community leaders. Their home is neat and modern with a well equipped kitchen, deep freeze, complete plumbing and water facilities. They have two children.

The Early county winner has more than 700 acres of land, four tractors and two well kept barns. He specializes in livestock, having between 200 and 220 sows and 170 cattle.

Rev. Pridden is 'Y' speaker

A joint meeting of the "Y" clubs of Statesboro High School was held February 21, at the high school.

The meeting was opened with group singing led by Linda Pound and accompanied by Anna Bird Daniel.

Judy Williams, president of the senior Tri-Hi-Y, called the meeting to order. Business taken up was the church Loyalty campaign. Posters are to be made to emphasize to the students the importance of this project. Cards are to be sent to the young people in the churches and a graph attendance is to be placed in home rooms at school.

A devotional was conducted by Joanna Pailer. Her topic was "No Other Gods."

Teaching Positions To Be Choice This Fall

GTC's 1956 graduates is a dangerous trend for prospective teachers to be drawn away from Georgia.

Dr. James Duward Park, director of placement here, stated in an exclusive interview that requests for teachers ordinarily begin coming in his office around March.

Georgia Teachers College expects to graduate 105 new teachers in June, and about 120 later in August.

The vacant positions are in six of the states, ranging from Florida to Wisconsin.

Corresponding salaries offered in neighboring states for beginning teachers are as follows:

Tennessee and Kentucky, $2,800 to $2,900; Florida, $3,000 to $3,200; Mississippi, $2,100; Louisiana, $3,500; and North Carolina, $2,800 to $2,900.

Art Students To Exhibit Posters

Art students in GTC's lettering and poster-making class have just completed work on a set of posters to be used in a statewide teacher recruitment program.

Sponsored by the Arts Festival of Atlanta, Inc., the art division of GSA, and the Georgia State Chamber of Commerce, the project is now carried on by students all over Georgia, with ages ranging from the sixth grade on up through college level.

The posters are to be displayed locally around town; then, on April 4-7, they will be shown at the Southeastern Arts Conference in Atlanta at the Dinkler Plaza Hotel.

At present, the posters form part of an exhibit in the hall between GTC's art rooms. Students and faculty members are invited to come down and see the display, which also includes the final projects the various art classes have made this quarter.

Eddie Wilson is winner in Ga. farm contest

Eddie Wilson of Bulloch county and John W. Hunter of Early county, both Negro former sharecroppers who now own nearly 1,200 acres of rich Georgia farmland between them, last Saturday were named to receive the 1956 Merit Farmer award sponsored by the Macon Telegraph and Macon News of Macon, Georgia.

The honor will be bestowed on these two outstanding Negro farmers at special ceremonies tomorrow. The honor is made in conjunction with Fort Valley State College to stimulate improved agricultural practices among Negro farmers.

A dual award was made this year because judges from extension, conservation, education and federal farm financing services found it impossible to decide between the outstanding records of the two.

"Willie Wirehand" Says

Ready for New Year

As Georgia farmers begin to break ground and to lay plans for a new year and a new harvest we look ahead to more service from electricity on the Georgia farm.

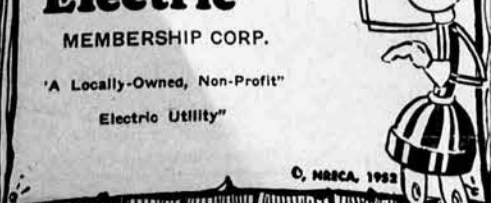

In the field of farm electrification, we are just beginning to "scratch the surface." For our people have not fully realized the great job electricity can do for them in their farm chores.

An electrical worker is the cheapest helper a farmer today can hire. And he can do almost any job on the farm, too. Willie Wirehand electricity is available at a moment's notice. He always does a good job.

The trend toward mechanization is spreading throughout the farming sections of our country. Better management will enable our farmers to meet the new competition and to work for a better standard of living.

The 41 Rural Electric Cooperatives of Georgia are proud of the role they are playing in extending the services of electricity. And they are proud of the work to which electricity has been called upon to do in assisting our farmers.

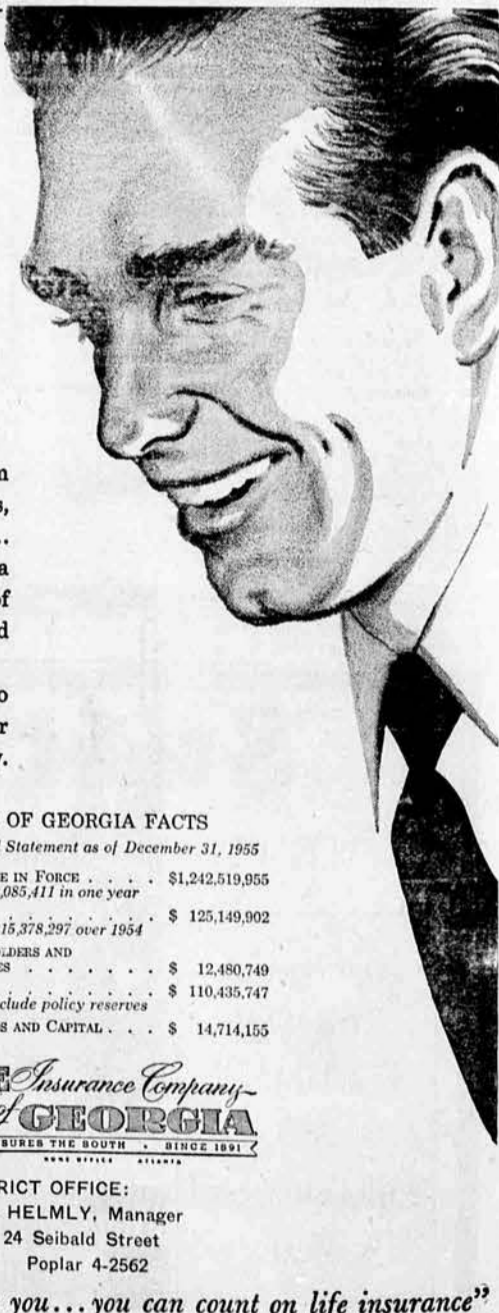

Wise is the farmer who puts economical electricity to work.

GTC expects tough baseball schedule

"The toughest baseball schedule in school history," that's what Georgia Teachers College baseball coach, J. I. Clements, calls the 1956 GTC 36-game slate.

Several new opponents are on the schedule. These include the University of Kentucky, University of Indiana, Catawba (North Carolina), and American International College from Springfield, Mass.

The Profs are sending Georgia Interscholastic Conference champions and are expected to be among the top three again this year.

The 1956 team captain, Kelly Powell, and power slugger, Bo Warren, head the list of returning lettermen from last year's team which won 15 and lost seven.

Other returning lettermen are Dave Esmonde, outfielder; Roy Alewine, pitcher; Norman Griffin, second baseman; Vondall Hall, pitcher; Don Wallen, shortstop; Jimmy Ford, catcher.

Newcomers to the squad are Whit Reeves, Ralph Berryhill, Bruce Tyler, Bill Lowe, Jimmy White, John Sawyer, Franklin Coleman, and George Morrell.

A real pitching problem faces Coach Clements. Only two proven pitchers, Alewine and Hall, will return. If Bill Lowe, a transfer from Brewton-Parker, comes through, he expects to have a well-rounded pitching staff.

Vets Bow Out To Brooklet In Tourney Finals

The Bulloch County Basketball League is closing the week with its tournament. Defending champions the GTC Vets Club were League leaders, but bowed to Brooklet in the second round of the tournament Wednesday night. The final standing for League play were as follows: GTC Vets, Portia, Brooklet, National Guard, Robbins Packers, and West Side.

Tuesday night the first two tournament games were played with Brooklet defeating Robbins Packers and the National Guard defeating West Side. The National Guard - West Side game was a close one throughout the first half, but the speed and shooting accuracy displayed by the Guard drove the West Sides to a disappointing 75-51 defeat. Brooklet led the Packers by a substantial lead throughout the game exhibiting excellent shooting and ball playing.

Wednesday night's play found the second seeded Portia team sailing easily by the National Guard five in a fast contest, 68-56. Rocher and Knight shared scoring honors for the Portia quiet with 16 points each while Sonny Godfrey led the losing Guard with 23 points.

Wednesday's final game found a highly spirited Brooklet crew defeating the defending champs, GTC Vets Club in a tough down-to-the-wire affair. Brooklet was paced by Knight with 23 points while our losing Vets were led by Center Gene Collins with 17 points.

COACH J. I. CLEMENTS Georgia Teachers
KELLY POWELL Georgia Teachers

Baseball Coach James I. Clements Jr. will be starting his seventh year as a GTC coach today when his "Professors" take the field against the Parris Island Marines at Parris Island.

Coach Clements, who last year led his GTC squad to the first Georgia Interscholastic Baseball Conference title, expects this year's squad to be as good if not better than last year's team.

Coach Clements, a graduate of Eastern Kentucky College, is a veteran of World War II in which he served with the paratroopers. While in college he played shortstop and catcher on the baseball squad even though he had not played baseball in high school. Basketball was his game and he lettered four years in a row.

Upon returning from duty in the army, he was assistant coach at Norman Junior College. He came to Georgia Teachers College in 1946 as assistant basketball coach and head baseball coach. His last season records stands at 15 wins and seven losses.

200 farmers and older 4-H boys from 32 counties, accompanied by county agents from these counties. It is this group's responsibility to take this information back to farmers of their respective counties, and help them do a better job in tractor and farm machinery care and management. County Agent M. M. Martin and Delmas Florence from our county attended this school. Plans are being formulated to disseminate this instruction.

ROY ALEWINE Georgia Teachers

Roy Jerry Alewine, known to his friends as "Spud," is a sophomore pitcher from Augusta's Richmond Academy where he was an outstanding baseball player, collecting four letters in baseball and three in the hardwood sport. In 1952 he was an all-state player and won the 1952 Light House game. As a team, the boys from Richmond were both region and state champions for four straight years as well as collecting the southeastern title three consecutive seasons. In high school, his overall won-loss record was posted as 27-3. As a starter last season, he collected two wins while going down in defeat three. He compiled an outstanding earned run average at 2.43 and was second in his department.

DUNCAN NAMED

Dean of Women Helen Duncan, of Georgia Teachers College, has been named to a commission to study student personnel problems in southern colleges.

CHURCH ACTIVITIES

Helpful advice about organizing church programs and other activities is given in Jane Kirk's "Group Activities for Church Women," which has been added to the Statesboro Regional Library. The book offers a wide variety of ideas for purposeful activities, ranging from how to organize a junior choir to how to observe special occasions.

State tractor school here

AT NEGRO 4-H CENTER
By GUY M. DOUGLAS JR.

ROY ALEWINE Georgia Teachers

During the past week the State Tractor School was held at the State 4-H Club Center, in Dublin. This Tractor School is an annual event, and is under the direction of the State Extension Services. The purpose of this school is to assist farmers and 4-H Club boys with problems relating to their tractors and other farm machinery, helping them to keep these tractors operating efficiently at a minimum cost.

The training received at the school this year was centered around safety, care, and operation. One of the instructors pointed out that "safety" is our first and most important job; saying that "there are far too many accidents that are caused by tractor operators failing to regard safety. These accidents result in the loss of hand, arm, leg and sometimes life." It was also pointed out that care of the tractor—that is, properly lubricating and changing oil in a form of safety. Attending this tractor school and receiving this instruction were some

Emergency loans for some farms

R. L. Vansant, state director, Farmers Home Administration, has announced that acting Secretary of Agriculture, True D. Morse, has authorized the making of special emergency loans to eligible farmers in all counties in Georgia.

The loan funds may be used to meet normal operating expenses but not for the replacement of existing debts. The interest rate is 3 per cent. No loan can exceed $15,000.

Applications for the special emergency loans for Bulloch county may be made at the Farmers Home Administration county office at 7 North College street, Statesboro.

Farm Bureau Denmark FB members study value of chlordan

Denmark had its first covered dish supper at the Farm Bureau meeting Tuesday night and the large number present seemed to like the idea. However, the group plans to alternate with the free supper idea every other month.

The value of chlordan in the tobacco transplanting water to control worms was discussed at Denmark. It was pointed out that under tobacco probably more good could be secured for such insects as wire worms with the insecticide than by using it mixed in the fertilizer.

A motion picture on the activities of the county agent was shown to the Denmark program.

Normally, rainfall starts developing by some moisture collecting around small dust particles up where the temperature is around minus 40 degrees. Just under this extreme cold area is generally an area in the clouds that runs from minus 27 degrees on to around freezing. It is in this area that the silver iodide is floated.

Gair offers two forestry awards

Gair Woodlands Corporation of Savannah, Georgia, announces that it will provide again this year two forestry scholarships totaling $2,000 each.

Each scholarship is for $500 per year for four years of study in forestry. The two outstanding high school students who receive the awards will be allowed to indicate their preference to attend the forestry school of the University of Georgia, Athens.

Application forms and additional information about the scholarship may be obtained by applicants from local high school principals or vocational agriculture teachers. The completed forms must be submitted to local high school principals not later than April 15, 1956.

Applicants from each school will be screened in May, and the two scholarship winners will be selected from the list by the Awards Committee in June, 1956.

The committee for Georgia and South Carolina is headed by Dean D. J. Weddell, School Forestry, University of Georgia, chairman; Guyton DeLoach, director, Georgia Forestry Commission; J. M. G. Mather, forester and general manager, Southern Pulpwood Conservation Association and an executive officer of Gair Woodlands Corporation.

GTC Professors lose second round in NAIA tourney in KC

After surviving the first round of the NAIA basketball tournament in Kansas City by defeating Southeastern Oklahoma, 81 to 78 on Monday last week, GTC ran into one of the best basketball teams in the country on Wednesday night and lost to Pittsburgh State, a teachers college from Southeast Kansas, by a score of 99 to 72, which eliminated them from the NAIA's 1956 tournament.

Even in defeat, Coach J. B. Seaware was not greatly upset. In two games here, his club had defeated a tough Southeastern Oklahoma five and lost to a team that had been unbeaten only once in 23 starts. The experience gained by the Prof's against those tough Louisiana foes was regarded by Seaware as invaluable.

Seaware feels that Pittsburgh State is a fine team and that the caliber of opposition the Kansas team has encountered this season has added immeasurably to their sharpness and court savvy.

This is his critique on that Wednesday night contest: "They (Pittsburgh) defend you differently. They work a lot harder at it and stick you all the time. They were awfully hot. It's not so much that they were getting good shots but that they were hitting from outside on whatever they shot. "We were out of sync against a good ball club that is having a good night, brother, you're in for a tough time. And that was the case with Pittsburgh State."

The complete slate of officers included: J. P. Redding, vice president; Hamp Smith, secretary; A. M. Seligman, treasurer; Bob Mikell and J. A. Addison, directors. Four meetings are held yearly and the schedule for this fiscal year will be the second Monday nights in May, August, November and February. Serving out of the Alee Temple in Savannah, the Statesboro Shrine Club is an active participant in the support of the Shrine's hospital for Crippled Children in Greenville, South Carolina. Outgoing officers are: Mr. Bland Seaware, president; Mr. Hugh F. Arundel, vice president; and Bob Thompson, treasurer.

Highway Assn. holds meeting

The Bulloch County Highway Association had its monthly meeting last week. Those present were Dub Brannen, Lehm Franklin, Earl Penoyer, H. F. Mink, Buford Knight, Charles Bryant, Olin Stubbs, Lawson Mitchell, Joe Franklin, Ralph White and Hal Thomas.

The general theme of the group is to protect the million dollar tourist business that Bulloch county has developed. The group has gone on record as opposing toll roads and has an active program in helping to defeat toll road measures introduced in the Georgia Legislature.

Hal Thomas, representative of the American Automobile Association, was a guest at the meeting and praised the group for its fine work. He gave a report on highway comparison from written reports of AAA inspectors, complimenting U. S. 201, stating that 301 is the preferred north-south highway to build. He also stated that U. S. 17 will be in a position to reclaim some of its lost traffic when construction is completed between Savannah and Jacksonville.

The AAA, according to Mr. Thomas, has done some extensive work in opposing toll roads as they appear today. He also commented on the federal highway program and gave out copies of a brochure that AAA has prepared relative to federal highway construction and highway financing.
