A problem in focus

RESIDENTially, the resident of the Fairhaven Church, 25th Street, has become a subject of the department's attention; it is a letter written by a person residing in the area.

The problem that has been brought to the attention of the area is the disturbance caused by the noise of the church bells. The residents of the area have complained about the noise and have asked for the bells to be silenced.

The church has responded to the complaints and has agreed to install a soundproofing system in the church bell tower. This will help to reduce the noise and should alleviate the problem.

We believe that the church has taken an appropriate step and that the residents of the area have been heard.

Yours truly,

The Editor.

Rules for parents

Andrew Whalen, minister of the Griffin United Church, quoted the Bible for his text in a sermon regarding the rules of the church.

The rules are:

1. Parents should not allow their children to go to church without their permission.
2. Parents should not allow their children to leave the church without their permission.
3. Parents should not allow their children to stay in the church without their permission.

Parents who do not follow these rules will be asked to leave the church.

Yours truly,

The Editor.

Meditation for This Week

In the Bible, the word "meditation" is used to describe the act of thinking deeply about a subject. It is a process of reflection and introspection that helps to clarify our thoughts and feelings.

Meditation is an important part of our spiritual journey. It helps us to connect with our inner selves and to gain a deeper understanding of our own nature.

This week, we will be focusing on the subject of love. Love is a powerful force that can transform our lives. It can bring us joy and happiness, but it can also bring us pain and suffering.

As we meditate on the subject of love, let us reflect on the love that we have for ourselves and for others.

Yours truly,

The Editor.
