Negro child is killed here by auto driver

An accident on West Jones Avenue in Statesboro last Sunday afternoon took the life of Jimmie Lee Canady, 4, who lived with his mother, Leona Canady in the DeLoach quarters. The Negro child was struck down and run over by an automobile allegedly being driven by Walter Odum of Statesboro, who is being held for investigation by local authorities following the accident.

Leona is the mother of nine children, the oldest of which is fourteen. The accident was reported to local police by a Negro man about 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The local police stated that upon checking the tag number given to them of the car allegedly involved it was found that the registered owner of the automobile was not in Statesboro, nor had he been for the past two days.

Later investigation by the police turned up three eye witnesses to the accident and one of the witnesses identified the driver of the car without knowing his last name. The car was located about an hour and a half later and two hours later the alleged driver was located and taken into custody.

Baseball fans to meet here Jan. 3 to plan for re-entering Ga. State League

Baseball fans of this section are invited to a special meeting to be held at the courthouse at 7 o'clock Thursday night, January 3, to determine if Statesboro should re-enter the Class D Georgia State Baseball League.

At a meeting held here December 19, C. McAllister, former president of the Statesboro Pilots, revealed that Douglas has given up the baseball ghost and has withdrawn from the league, and that league officials had contacted him to offer the vacancy to Statesboro.

Present at the meeting were Bates Lovett, A. B. McDougald, Tommy Rushing, Jake Hines, Marion Robbins, Pat Brannen, Jim Donaldson, H. V. Marsh, Edith Atkins, Will Woodcock, Leodel Coleman, James Lane, Hudson Allen and Mr. McAllister.

Mr. McAllister stated to the group that if Statesboro could secure a complete working agreement with the Cincinnati Reds then Statesboro might be interested in re-entering the Georgia State League.

The group agreed to sample the opinion of baseball fans here. The meeting to be held next Thursday night is for that purpose.

Those present at the meeting December 19 expressed their belief that they could sell 100 season tickets at $50 each to raise $5,000, another $1,000 could be raised by the sale of 100 seats, and that they could raise an additional $4,000 to put up a total of $10,000 in talking "working agreement" with Cincinnati officials.

They made it plain that there would be no additional solicitation; that if they put in the money they would expect the Cincinnati Reds to furnish the team, manager, pay training expenses, and other considerations.

Fans are urged to attend the meeting next Thursday, "For on the interest shown at this meeting hangs the decision regarding re-entering the league," Mr. McAllister said.

At the ninety-ninth annual communication of Ogechee Lodge 213, Free and Accepted Masons, held in the Masonic Hall recently, support was given to the large number of members and visitors.

The Entered Apprentice Degree was conferred on a class of candidates. Officers were elected and installed.

William H. Long Jr. was elected Worshipful Master and served with him were Harry Vause, Senior Warden; Willie R. Kelley, Junior Warden; Maurice F. Henry, Junior Deacon; Bernie C. Waters, Senior Steward; and Rodney J. Harville, Junior Steward. Frank Smith, Treasurer; Josh T. Nessmith, Secretary; Harry B. Clark, Tyler; and Rev. George D. Wynn, chaplain, were re-elected.

The installation ceremony was conducted by B. B. Morris, assisted by R. L. Cone Jr., both are Past Masters of the lodge. The first and third Tuesday nights in each month are the regular communication dates.

A. M. Seligman heads Shriners

A. M. Seligman, a 32nd degree Scottish Rites Mason has been named president of the Statesboro Shrine Club. He was announced here recently.

Seligman, a member of the club since 1946, is past master of the Ogechee Lodge No. 213, F. & A. M. He was installed as the club's annual officers' night held at the Forest Heights Country Club.

Seligman, a graduate of Georgia Tech, is a World War II veteran. He is a member of the Augusta Achim Synagogue of Savannah.

Ga. Power makes tax payment to city, county

Payments in the amount of $15,695.58 were made last week to Bulloch County and municipalities in the county, according to an announcement made by W. Tom Martin, district manager of Georgia Power Company. This figure is the company's 1956 property taxes.

Mr. Martin stated that of this amount, $1,672.06 covers municipal payments and $14,023.52 to the county.

The company's total property tax payments in Georgia for this year amount to $4,229,026, Mr. Martin said.

Of this amount, Mr. Martin declared, $2,129,630 goes into general county funds, $1,410,767 to school districts, $664,511 to cities and towns, and $241,118 to the State of Georgia. This figure is the company's 1955 property taxes totaling $4,145,455.

Earlier in the year, municipal partnership tax payments totaling $1,582,365 were paid by the company to the 345 cities, towns and communities in which the firm's three per cent franchise agreement is in effect. Under this agreement, the company pays each municipality in which it operates three per cent of its gross revenue from the sale of electricity for residential and commercial use.

These municipal partnership tax payments were based on 1955 electric revenue and were in addition to property tax payments in 1955.

The Georgia Power Company official pointed out that nearly 20.5 per cent of the company's total revenue goes to pay property taxes, including federal and state income taxes, property taxes and municipal partnership taxes and others.

Mrs. Ruth-Rebecca Morehouse is remembered in will of stage star

According to a story released by the International News Service in New York on December 13, Mrs. Ward Morehouse, the former Miss Ruth Rebecca Franklin, daughter of Mrs. H. V. Franklin and the late Mr. Franklin, and wife of the famous New York critic, Ward Morehouse, has been left $25,000 in cash and the jewels of the late stage star, Marie Doro.

Mrs. Morehouse said that Ruth Rebecca and Marie Doro met six years ago and became "inseparable" friends, despite the fact that Miss Doro was "a good bit older" than Mrs. Morehouse.

The Doro will is still in probate and there is no indication when the legacy will be formally received by Mrs. Morehouse.

According to Mr. Morehouse the jewel collection of the stage star consists of necklaces, brooches and rings including valuable emeralds, rubies and diamonds. The total value of the collection is unknown.

Mrs. Morehouse before she married Mr. Morehouse was a star reporter and feature writer for the Atlanta Journal.

Dr. R. J. Kennedy dies December 26

Dr. R. J. Kennedy, 85, former member of the State Board of Education and a Bulloch County business and civic leader for many years, died early Wednesday morning, December 26, at his home here.

Dr. Kennedy was a retired president of the Bulloch County Bank and was chairman of the board at the time of his death. A former county commissioner, he served for many years as chairman of that group. He had practiced dentistry in Bulloch County and was a past president of the Citizens' Road League of Georgia.

He survived by his wife, Mrs. Melrose Franklin Kennedy of Statesboro, one son, R. J. Kennedy Jr. of Statesboro, four daughters: Jim Kennedy of Atlanta, Fred Kennedy of Statesboro, Eli Kennedy of Register, Ga., and Dr. Herbert Kennedy of Omaha, Neb.; one sister, Mrs. Roy Lanier of Statesboro, and one grandson, Mike Kennedy of Statesboro.

Services for Dr. Kennedy will be conducted this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Statesboro Presbyterian Church with the Rev. Miles Wood conducting the burial which will be at the East Side Cemetery. The Rev. Pridden assisted.

Dr. Kennedy, member of a pioneer Bulloch County family, had been prominently identified with the growth and progress of Statesboro and Bulloch County for the past sixty-five years.

Palbearers will be nephews, Honorary Palbearers will be members of the Statesboro Presbyterian Church: Louis Ellis, P. G. M. McCroan, A. B. McDougald, John Strickland, Dr. Fielding Russell and Bob Robinson.

The funeral will be at the Smith-Tillman Funeral Home chapel until time for funeral services, December 28, at 10 o'clock.

WILLETTE WOODCOCK IS MEMBER OF U. OF GA. BEAUTY COURT

Miss Willette Woodcock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Woodcock of Statesboro, is a member of the Beauty Court of the University of Georgia's new "Miss Fandora." Miss Sandra Lee Thompson of Atlanta, Miss Woodcock's photograph, together with the other members of the court appeared on the cover of the December 16 issue of the Atlanta Journal-Constitution magazine section.

Clate Denmark dies at age 73

W. C. (Clate) Denmark, 73, of Nevils, died at the Bulloch County Hospital Monday after a long illness. He was a lifelong resident of Nevils and was a prominent farmer until retirement several years ago.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Annie Waters Denmark of Nevils; one daughter, Mrs. Walter Lanier of Nevils; one son, J. E. Denmark of Savannah; five grandchildren and three sisters, Mrs. Tom Nevils of Nevils, Mrs. G. Flahe of Brooklet and Mrs. Henry Smith of New Zion, S. C.; one brother, Fred L. Denmark of Statesboro, and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at 3 p. m. at DeLoach's Primitive Baptist Church by Elder Harris Cribbs and the Rev. Ernest Veal. Burial was in the church cemetery.

Nephews were pallbearers: Tecil NeSmith, Tolton NeSmith, Leon Burnsed, Gene Denmark, P. F. Hagan and Jesse Flahe. Honorary pallbearers were C. J. Martin, O. E. NeSmith, O. H. Hodges, Walton NeSmith, Birnie Futch, Russell DeLoach, H. C. Burnsed Jr., Robert Cox, Robert F. Young, Leland Haygood, Donald Martin, M. E. Ginn and Jim Rowe.

Barnes Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Rockwell Statesboro Corporation plays Santa Claus to employees

The Statesboro Rockwell Corporation played host to more than 800 at a special Christmas party held at the plant on U. S. 301, on Saturday, December 22.

The guests included the officials of the company, their families, the employees and members of their families and several special guests.

Santa Claus was a visitor and brought candy and presents to all the children of the officials and employees of the plant. It operates three per cent of its gross revenue from the sale of electricity for residential and commercial use.

These municipal partnership tax payments were based on 1955 electric revenue and were in addition to property tax payments in 1955.

The Georgia Power Company official pointed out that nearly 20.5 per cent of the company's total revenue goes to pay property taxes, including federal and state income taxes, property taxes and municipal partnership taxes and others.

It Seems to Me...

Once again as we come to the end of the year, we come to that time when we are reminded of the many things we had planned to do in the past twelve months and somehow we just never found the time to get around to them. There was that act of kindness toward a neighbor, there was that act of appreciation we intended to show a friend, there was that expression of sympathy to a friend in need and countless other "good intentions" that somehow we just never really found the time to accomplish.

AND SO here it is, the New Year. With this New Year comes again our opportunity to mean more to our families and our communities by simply finding time to let some of the goodness we have stored up in us find its way to its most fruitful action.

There are too many of us who spend all our effort and our time building for the future. We chart our course, always realizing that

SO MANY of us rush to build for ourselves and our families what we have come to call security, which in reality is no security at all. We take from our children the very thing which they need the most, ourselves. We crowd into our schedule meaningless efforts always in the climb to success or accomplishment only to find the end result to be only so much foolish talk.

So we do not take the time to teach our child the love for a flower, the real meaning of clean living, the secret of a planted seed, the importance of a right decision, the true meaning of what our life is for.

ON AND ON we rush through life, ever faster, ever troubled, never pausing to enjoy all the benefits so freely offered, only to find when that last tomorrow has made its appearance that those were really the only true values to be found in life.

With these few years which have been granted us let us somehow find the time to really live by understanding the true values which can only be found in our love for our fellowman.

THE VERY BASIS of our existence is our love for one another and simply accept him as a person with the same expressions of failure and success you yourself possess.

The New Year

The old year is dead, the new year is born. Humbly, fearfully, we sink on our knees, and slowly, in answer to our prayers, come back something of the old faith of our childhood, and we rejoice that we are granted one more New Year's day on which to "begin again"—not in our childish way, with utter disregard of the past, but trusting, patiently, knowing that we must ever carry with us our past, and rejoicing that, with God's help, we may make the future better because of the past.

And now he's free

And so on Tuesday, January 1, he will enter into a new phase of living. W. D. Anderson, known affectionally to all as "Dean," will retire from active participation in the banking field and find time to do the things you and we dream of doing, but can't because of the pressures of the business of day-to-day living.

They played the game

They played their hearts out, they did. And they played the famed Trojans to a 6 to 6 deadlock. And they played on a field of mud and they were 240 miles from home and they were a one touch-underdog.

Last Thursday night, the officers, directors, and bank personnel and their wives and husbands gathered at Mrs. Bryant's Kitchen to pay tribute to "Dean" Anderson and his long years of fine service in the business of banking here in this community.

And we commend their coaches—Ernest Teel and Ray Williams and John Groover, though John Groover's work was with the "B" team from which will come future Blue Devils. They taught these young boys the fundamentals of the game, how to play the game.

Thanks to all

Soon after the first of the New Year the citizens of our community will have access to a new feature at the Recreation Center. The completion of the "Patio Shelter" near the swimming pool is scheduled soon.

The covered concrete area will add to the utilization of that section of Memorial Park a hundred per cent. It was made possible by the Junior Chamber of Commerce which paid for the concrete slab which has been used as a picnic area.

So on behalf of the Recreation Board, the Recreation Council, the kids and the adults of all the county, we say "Thanks" to all who had a part in making this new feature to our recreation program a reality.

HAPPY NEW YEAR
The Editor's Uneasy Chair
BY THE REV. TED PAGE

Before Christmas we received a long letter from Hans Kittel from Cologne, Germany. Hans is the young German student sent to Georgia Teachers College for a year by the Statesboro Rotary Club. Hans made many friends while here in Statesboro and Georgia. He was a hard working, sincere young man, interested in the real motive which prompted the Rotary Club to bring him to America and Statesboro and G.T.C.—to build good will for us when he returned to his home country.

"It has passed more than one year since I left Georgia and America to go back to Germany. How is time going by? But this year was filled up with a lot of important events which kept me very busy all the time. In November last year I married. In January this year we started together in Berlin, the free city behind the Iron Curtain. We live there for seven months just one-half mile off the Russian zone. Berlin is really an island of freedom. Every day, well, every day, about 5,000 refugees enter it to begin a new life in freedom.

"In August we had to move from Berlin to Cologne for professional reasons, and in December we have to move for the third time in this one year. We left earth receive her King: Let every heart prepare Him room, And heaven and nature sing. Joy to the earth, the Saviour reigns: Let men their songs employ, While fields and floods, rocks, hills, and plains Repeat the sounding joy.

There's mercy with the Lord, And He will surely give you rest. By trusting in His Word. 2. It would mean to act on the faith that the supreme power in the universe is not military force but is the love of God seeking good for all men everywhere. "But God commendeth His love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us." Rom. 5:8. 3. It would mean to practice love in daily life, at home and in every human relationship. There is no doubt that the shepherds did remember this vision of Christmas, as they returned glorifying and praising God. I think they might have used these words "Joy to the World": Joy to the world, the Lord is come.

Mrs. Mary O. Bruce writes letter form Korea to her friends here

EDITOR'S NOTE—For three years Mrs. Mary O. Bruce was in charge of the kindergarten school at the Laboratory School at Georgia Teachers College, and our first night's lodging here was in a rooming house. Pafford "she was a fine teacher." When she left the college she went to Peabody College in Nashville, Tenn. for a year's special study. On October 10, 1956, she left the United States as a member of a staff of specialists from Peabody College to go to Korea to do a special study on education. On October 22 she wrote a letter to Mrs. T. Earl Serson of Statesboro in which she sets down many of her impressions of the place she has been in. She wanted her friends here to read the letter and so we are printing it here in full. It was written from Korea.

Dear Friends: Only two weeks ago Saturday I boarded an Eastern Airlines plane in Nashville for Los Angeles, on my way to visit Bob. Today I look out over a long brick building, once part of a Korean normal school, that is not unlike the old high school I attended—except for its scalloped tile roof. The outlines of mountains in the distance could suggest home too but they are too high and irregular besides enclosing Seoul much more closely than the foothills do Nashville. You see mountains from almost any part of the city and evidence of their closeness is a number of steep streets and a great many thick stone walls everywhere supporting buildings and higher street levels.

In Japan

I arrived in Japan at 2 a. m. Saturday in a slithering rain and I will not soon forget discovering the Ruth calling and waving from the street above the terminal entrance on that dreary, isolated morning. It was a lucky and happy break for me to be able to see and visit her in Tokyo. And, by midday Sunday, scuttling madly through Tokyo streets in a Vi Callahan little French Citroen became more humorous than dangerous, with horns acquiring a more conservative and exciting tone. The color and abundance in flowers, shrubs and trees; the nearness of the ocean and beautiful beaches; and the outline of the Hollywood hills in the background—besides the weather. Bob and his friends assured me it was "tourist weather" though it wouldn't have been such visibility in weeks before. So did Betty Jessem Jackson and her husband whom I visited when Bob was at work. Betty and I spent one memorable morning seeing the Ed. G. Robinson collection of modern paintings. Truly my four days in L.A. were most satisfactory and happy ones. Naturally the best part being seeing Bob and being occupied and content, visiting his apartment, meeting several of his friends and getting acquainted with a couple of them contributed.

Over Honolulu

Since I boarded the Pan American Clipper at 11:00 p. m. (Wednesday, Oct. 10, flight to Honolulu was in sleep for the most part, man occupying the adjoining seat snored. Our approach to the air field there was over a volcanic crater, and above interesting and verdant countryside patterns made by small villages and bright fields.

On to Seoul

After two postponements of our plane's departure, on Monday night, October 15, the Zimmerman's and I witnessed the bowing off of a Korean dignitary then boarded our plane at 8 o'clock for Seoul. Thank goodness a thoroughly uncomfortable beginning doesn't promise more of the same because the drizzly and windy weather, the odd formalities on leaving the plane at Seoul, and our first night's lodging here (of five hours) were a worful introduction. At 7:30, having all the coffee and breakfast we could consume, we were permanently billeted in attractive rooms in a completely comfortable though ramshackle building of brick and then introduced to the mess hall. PX library, dry cleaning place, etc. on the O.B.C. Compound. Later we were taken to O.E.C. (Overseas Economic Commission) offices at the 8th Army Camp where we saw offices of those of education division. Next day we met the Korean minister of education, a great and splendid man in all Korea, who turned into offices for the Peabody staff (just across the hall from the minister of education, since Dr. Goslin will work close by with Dr. Choi, the minister. On November 13 we moved there. We have the most splendid rugs in all Korea, we saw, wall to wall with a fascinating Korean floral design; three heavy and roomy desks; a glided miniature train and favors were smaller trains representing the trip to Williamsburg. Mrs. J. O. Johnston was in charge of the program. Twenty-two members were present.

HENRY'S ANNUAL CHRISTMAS BANQUET FOR EMPLOYEES DEC. 19 On Wednesday evening, Henry Moses was host to the employees at Henry's with a brilliant banquet at Mrs. Bryant's Kitchen. On each occasion the parties became more elaborate. This year the added elegance came from the newly decorated banquet room, with wall to wall carpet with the gorgeous pattern wrought in royal crimson and gold.

Representing the house of Henry's were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Moses, and Mrs. Paula Oppenheim, Mrs. Moses' mother, and his sister, Miss Martha Moses. They were genial and hospitable hosts. The banquet menu consisted of shrimp cocktail, rainbow salad, followed by turkey and dressing with giblet, gravy, English peas, potato souffle, hot rolls, muffins and coffee, relishes, pickles, and carrot soup. A celery stick in a new and Uncle Bob and his lovely wife, Helen, were pace-setters for the merry time that prevailed throughout the evening. The most apparent adjustment I've felt since my arrival in the Orient, it is much more than annoying, I assure you unless you've had the experience and had no assurance, to have your eating and sleeping habits entirely rearranged. I am just recovering. One thing about Los Angeles was contrary preparation for Tokyo. In L.A. pedestrians have right-of-way. I'd just gotten slightly accustomed to having drivers wave me across the street while they waited, when I was dropped in Tokyo which apparently has no traffic rules, except they tend to drive on the left side of the street—English fashion. It's astonishing, confusing and alarming to suddenly become a part of the horn blowing of a Tokyo street.

In Los Angeles So many new places, people, and experiences have crowded themselves between my beginning flight from Nashville and its ending in Seoul that it's hard to absorb and to put it into words in any order. But I recall a slight disappointment because of what I could not see, only imagine, about plains, deserts, mountains and westward between Kansas City and L.A., the astonishing expanse of Los Angeles by night was impressive and exciting. Then there was Bob of course, and he had as much fun introducing me to L.A. and surrounding California as I did in experiencing it. I liked especially the variety in attractive architecture in homes and business houses; the color and abundance in flowers, shrubs and trees; the nearness of the ocean and beautiful beaches; and the outline of the Hollywood hills in the background—besides the weather. Bob and his friends assured me it was "tourist weather" though it wouldn't have been such visibility in weeks before. So did Betty Jessem Jackson and her husband whom I visited when Bob was at work. Betty and I spent one memorable morning seeing the Ed. G. Robinson collection of modern paintings. Truly my four days in L.A. were most satisfactory and happy ones. Naturally the best part being seeing Bob and being occupied and content, visiting his apartment, meeting several of his friends and getting acquainted with a couple of them contributed.

CIVIC GARDEN CLUB SEES MOVIE ON HISTORIC WILLIAMSBURG Members of the Civic Garden Club were shown a movie, "Historic Williamsburg," at the Statesboro Regional Library at its regular meeting Thursday, December 13.

RADIO STAFF FEET BY THE BOB THOMPSONS The forerunner of the many Christmas parties for the employees in the various business establishments was a wonderful buffet party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Thompson Sr., honoring the personnel of both radio stations WWNS and WSYL, which included wives or dates as guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Mikell left Sunday, December 23, by car for Tatum, Texas, to visit Christine's mother, Mrs. J. B. Cherry, and Miss Jane Cherry, and other members of the family for the Christmas holidays. Mr. and Mrs. Bannan Cowart left for Atlanta last weekend to visit their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. James Cowart and sons, Randy and Glen.

They're giving me plenty to do at Bwha. Besides, there are outside calls such as special work with a young woman who plans to attend Peabody and major in early childhood education. A variety of interesting and promising work possibilities are developing, and I am enjoying it.

Since this letter was started I've been to dinner in a Korean home where we sat on cushions on a very warm floor, before handsome black lacquer tables, inlaid with mother-of-pearl with a pair of silver chop sticks and one long-handled shallow-bowled spoon before each person. There were more than a dozen different foods—fried shrimp, thin slices of roast pork and beef noodle soup mixed boiled vegetables with seaweed, a chestnut and pine nut pudding, radish and cabbage kemping, are a few I can name. I tasted everything and enjoyed the shrimp, rice and soy bean sauce, and nut-riced stuffing.

Last week our staff attended our first Korean wedding with legal ceremony at a wedding hall, and large and lively dinner following at a Chinese restaurant. We were seated near a group of college boys who sang for the group and toasted us handsomely. Please write to me! —MARY O. BRUCE

J. A. Woods renamed president of Portal Farm Bureau chapter for '57

A. J. Woods was renamed president of the Portal Farm Bureau for next year at the annual meeting held last week. The former officers were also elected to serve with Mr. Woods another year. They are M. L. Taylor as vice president and Bill Brown secretary and treasurer.

Ella went for fun only at its Christmas party last Tuesday night, using films of an entertaining nature entirely and all the group participating in the "eating" contest of fruit, cake, coffee, nuts and candy.

Ogechee had only one item of business in their Christmas party on Wednesday night, naming the serving committees for next year and the program chairman for each month.

The program chairman are Fred Hodges for January, J. A. Hart in February, C. W. Zetterer for March, I. V. Simmons in April, Roy Kelly in May, Edgar Miller in June, Frank Proctor in August, George H. Miller in September, J. B. Brannen in October and J. T. Williams in November. December is set aside for the annual Christmas party and July usually calls for a community picnic.

Mrs. J. B. Brannen, Mrs. Frank Hodges and Mrs. Rex Hart presented a very appropriate Christmas program in an elaborately decorated auditorium. Robert Zetterer led the group in several Christmas songs. A film strip in color was presented on the Holy Child of Bethlehem.

Colonel Orant, who heads U. S. Army recruiting activities of the Third Army in Georgia, Florida, Alabama, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee and Mississippi, pointed out that the six-year reserve plan offers an excellent chance for youths to fulfill their military obligation with a minimum of Reserve service time after the two years active duty.

Other advantages were cited in the announcement of the new program. An applicant may be granted up to 120 days deferment upon enlistment before receiving orders to active duty. This would provide time to close out personal affairs prior to reporting for duty. Also, volunteers who have had junior or senior ROTC instruction prior to enlisting, may be accepted in a grade higher than Private.

Young men are advised to contact M. Sgt. John E. Barnes, representative of the U. S. Army Recruiting Service, courthouse, Statesboro, for details of the six-year Reserve enlistment.

which was accompanied with records of music and narration on the story. Mrs. W. A. Hodges accompanied the group singing at piano. Santa presented all the children present gifts of various nature, mostly the kind they could have fun with. Fred Hodges, the retiring president, then served everyone with fruit, candy and such eats. It was truly an evening of Christmas celebration in the real holiday spirit.

Ivanhoe went for right much the same kind of program as Ogechee did at their annual party on Saturday night except they did serve a bountiful supper as is the custom at all their regular first Friday night meetings. "Willie Wirehand" Says

It's Been a Good Year!

The year 1956 draws swiftly to a close and as we look back we can feel proud of the good job that has been done in Georgia by the 41 Rural Electric Cooperatives.

We hope that the year 1956 has been a good one for you, for we have enjoyed the privilege of serving the families of the rural areas with the wonders of electricity.

Willie Wirehand, the little symbol of rural electric service, has brought the advantages of electrical living to the farm lands where the private power companies refused to serve. By banding together and forming rural electric cooperatives, farmers of Georgia were able to get electric service for themselves.

We hope that you were lucky enough at Christmas to have been able to add some new electrical appliances to your household for continued enjoyment during 1957. Electrical gifts are lasting gifts, they show that your donors wish for you many happy moments during the coming days.

May we join them in saying we hope you had a Merry Christmas, and that we wish for you many happy returns during the New Year.

COMING UP: "POULTRY SPECTACULAR"

The "Poultry Spectacular," sponsored by the Southeastern Poultry and Egg Association, is scheduled for January 28-30 at the Municipal Auditorium in Atlanta. Arthur Cannon, Extension poultryman at the College of Agriculture, says this annual meeting has developed into the largest poultry meeting in the South. "No Georgia poultryman can afford to miss the event," he says.

Someone at our house said, "Only three hundred shopping days left for Christmas." I guess Sundays were subtracted and holidays.) Well, it made me feel that I ought to hurry right down town and start buying since I never did get ready for Christmas 1956.

Yes, another Christmas has come and gone and what is left of it? Only memories—after the tinsel has been put away and the gifts given a niche in the household? What of the memories—that is, what will be remembered?

Will we remember the meetings that took up so many hours in December 1956? Will we evaluate these another year, if we are fortunate enough to be here, and decide against them just after the month of December, 1957?

And what, pray, of the children's escapades will you remember? For instance, my beautiful surprise ball hung on the Christmas tree by the ten-year-old after her loving hands had made it by wrapping an orange with strips of paper toweling, finally, after thoroughly drying she had cut it away and hidden three treasures inside and had stripped it again, then painted and put bright spangles on the wet paint. I loathed cutting into such a pretty, but she insisted that I uncover the real surprises—yes, a square of art gum, an handkerchief, and greatest of all, a nineteen cent bottle of perfume.

Perhaps, this Christmas will be the height of your children's blissful faith in Santa Claus. At our house there was such sadness because of the sophisticated announcement by the ten-year-old. It really took the starch out of all the older members of the family. Then there were the complaints of headaches and the search for the thermometer because this young lady is not a "sicky"—she seldom lies around the house. Finally, it came to me that she was suffering dreadfully from the disease "head-sick." (I remembered my Christ-

B.S.U. Students To Attend Meet In Tennessee

Thursday, December 27, 11 G. T. C. students left Atlanta to attend the Southern Baptist Students World Missions Congress in Nashville, Tennessee. The students went in chartered buses and were among the 2,500 delegates from all colleges to have a B.S.U. organization on campus. The Georgia delegation had its headquarters in the Hermitage Hotel. The congress has a four-fold purpose. First, it will launch a year of world missions emphasis for Baptist students. Second, it will bring those attending face to face with national and international issues. Third, to help students discover their personal and cooperative responsibilities. Last, to prepare students to return to share their visions and commitments with their individual campuses and churches. Among the featured speakers were Billy Graham, world-known evangelist; Frank Clements, Governor of Tennessee; Howard Butt Jr., grocery executive from Corpus Christi, Texas; and Dr. Baker Cautchen, executive secretary of the Southern Baptist Foreign Missions Board. The students, Barbara Kotal, Betty Lynn Cadie, Sue Whaley, Sally Roark, Joyce Clark, Martha Cason, Jane Jackson, Bob Mitchell, James Beall, Richard Cates and Duward Wehchel were accompanied by Miss Sue Kirby, student director of the First Baptist Church in Statesboro.

Industrial Arts Club Turns Out Toys for Needy Children

The Industrial Arts Club wound up final details last weekend on their Empty Stomach Fund to provide toys for needy families at Christmas. Working in cooperation with the Statesboro Jaycee organization, the club collected, repaired, and made toys to be turned over to the Statesboro Welfare Department for distribution during the Yuletide season. The project was first initiated about a week before the Thanksgiving holidays with the club planning to put major emphasis on collection of used toys by students all over campus. The toys were then to be painted, or otherwise repaired as needed. According to Edgar C. Godfrey, instructor in the industrial arts department however, student response to this idea was very poor. As a result of the lack of response to their first venture, the club revised its plans and decided to donate both the time and materials to make some new toys. This second project materialized in the form of around forty wooden stick horses. Produced on an assembly line production basis, the horses have shaped heads, wheels, and hand painted features. This is the first time

College 'Kids' Misbehave...

A great number of people attend movies these days. Quite a few of these are adults. When the carrying on begins, they wonder who those "kids" are. Those of you who have never attended a movie uptown possibly do not know what we are talking about, "when the carrying on begins." Those of you who have seen a couple of shows do. The ways of "carrying on" may be any or all of these—throwing popcorn, popping gum, running up and down the aisles, spilling drinks, climbing over people, and loud talking to the neighbors. Added to these standard diversions are many other distractions that active and immature minds may think of. The point of all this is that the "kids" sometimes and too often include members of our student body. This is quite surprising to people when they notice who is making the noise. After all, we think, when people are old enough to go to college, they are old enough to behave. These people don't realize, of course, that too often the college has kids as students—much as we hate to admit it. "Kids" that never learn that there is a proper time to tell the latest gossip, to yell a greeting to someone, to chew gum, or to run up an aisle. Seems impossible that such as this should be true of college people. We will admit that it is only a few, a very few students who do this. These few, however, make a reputation for all. By future actions at the show, be it crowded or not, let's show by the actions of G.T.C. students that we are not "kids"—in any definition of the term.

SUE WHALEY, a junior and elementary major from Statesboro was chosen "Girl of the Week" recently by The George-Anne, a student newspaper at Georgia Teachers College. Miss Whaley is a vivacious brunette who will represent Kappa Delta Pi in the Beauty Revue. She is a member of K.D.P., third vice president of B.S.U., member of the A.C.E. and is a former staff member of The George-Anne.

Long, Short Summer Sessions Inaugurated for '57 Schedule

Georgia Teachers College will begin operating summer school under a new system in which a student can take only three subjects in June, 1957. A tentative schedule of subjects and the instructors that will teach them is posted on the bulletin board in the ad building; however, according to Dean Paul F. Carroll, any subject may be added with the request of 20 or more students. Summer school students will also be given an opportunity during the first session to request additional courses for the second session. Students planning now to attend summer sessions should check the posted schedule to make sure courses they need are included. If they are not, requests for other subjects should be made as soon as possible.

Ga. REMC gives $12,500 to F.F.A. and F.H.A. camp

Members of the Georgia Rural Electric Membership Corporation last week gave a big boost to statewide efforts to obtain $200,000 for improvement and expansion of the State F.F.A. Camp by voting $12,500 for this project. The action came during the annual R.E.M.C. meeting in Atlanta. W. R. Bowdoin, vice president of the Trust Company of Georgia and chairman of the Future Farmers and Future Homemakers of America camp development committee, appeared at the meeting to outline plans for improving the camp. He called the action by the R.E.M.C. "an investment in the future," and said he felt it very appropriate that these corporations which serve rural families should take the lead in providing adequate facilities for F.F.A. and F.H.A. members. J. H. Wyatt, Bulloch County chairman of the camp development committee, says that friends of F.F.A. and F.H.A. all over the state are being given an opportunity to participate in the camp improvement program. He says the effort in this county will continue until January 1 to give everyone who wishes the opportunity to participate. The camp, located on Lake Jackson near Covington, originally was constructed for boys only. It was completed about 1941. It is now being used by approximately 5,000 boys and girls each summer for a joint recreational and leadership training program. Feeding holes which insects make in sweet potatoes furnish an ideal entrance for disease organisms and no doubt increase the rotting of potatoes both in the field and in storage, says Extension Entomologist C. R. Jordan.

Blitch Street Rec. Center gets funds
Louetta Moore, supervisor of the Blitch Street Community Center announced this week a total of $29 had been contributed to the Blitch Street Center for use in making the center more attractive for those organizations meeting there. Many of the clubs and organizations for all phases of community life meet at the center, the supervisor pointed out. The funds will be used to place sliding doors in one of the rooms making the room more private for the different activities. The supervisor was high in praise of the support given the Negro recreation program by all citizens of the city. The Royal Savings Club contributed $14 to the project while the Carter's Club contributed $5 and the Jolly Twelve presented the center with a check for $10. A basketball team for boys fifteen years of age has been organized and games with out-of-town teams have been scheduled.

SHS Hi-Y names new officers

The Statesboro Senior Hi-Y held their regular meeting Thursday night, Nov. 29, at Statesboro High School. There was a good attendance and drinks and cookies were served after the meeting. Jim Pollak, the chaplain, gave an inspirational devotional. Movies provided entertainment for the group. A motion was passed to join with the other "Y" Clubs for a party in January. Smets Blitch was elected to be in charge of the Hi-Y assembly program. This year's officers are: Henry Holland, president; Smets Blitch, vice president; Johnnie G. Dekie, secretary; Henry Bowen, treasurer; Larry Chester, projects chairman; Benton Bowen, program chairman; Jim Pollak, chaplain; Al DeLoach, publicity.

CONTROL CORN EARWORM
Several years of research in Alabama and Georgia have shown that corn earworms in sweet corn can be profitably controlled. Dr. C. R. Jordan, Extension entomologist at the College of Agriculture, said D.D.T. proved to be the most effective of 15 insecticides tested. He added that sprays were much more effective than dusts. See county agents for recommendations.

ROBERTS ADAMS, freshman business major from Statesboro, who won the G.T.C. cross-country recently. He was a distance runner in track for the Statesboro High Blue Devils.

Extension Horticulturist Gerald E. Smith says nursery-grown dogwood trees are preferred over native ones. He pointed out that nursery trees have been root pruned and grown in full sunlight.

report includes a history of the business, a description of what it does, a financial section and a record of how the concern pays its bills.

On the basis of the information in the report, a rating is assigned and the businessman is listed in the Dunn & Bradstreet Reference Book. Coker said the Reference Book is indispensable in conducting credit inquiry, pointing out that 95 per cent of all commercial transactions in the country are made on credit terms.
