The New Year
The old year draws to a close, and the new year begins. We look forward to the coming year with mixed emotions, hopeful and wary. We are aware of the challenges that lie ahead, both in our personal lives and in the world at large. We know that there will be moments of joy and moments of struggle, but we are ready to face them all.

And so the New Year begins. May it bring us peace and unity, health and prosperity, and above all, hope for a better future.

FARM AND FAMILY FEATURES

Army sets up new enlistment program

The announcement of the establishment of a new enlistment program by the Army has created a stir in the community. This program will offer soldiers a chance to serve their country while also pursuing their own interests and goals. The new program will allow for a more customized approach to military service, allowing soldiers to choose from a variety of roles and assignments. This will give them the opportunity to develop their skills and advance their careers in the military.

Orcutt plans to receive award

Orcutt, a local resident, has been selected to receive a prestigious award for his contributions to the community. The award ceremony will take place next week, and Orcutt is expected to accept his award at the event. He has been a long-time member of the community and has made significant contributions to various organizations and initiatives.

Brannen announces enlistment in military

Brannen, a local high school student, has announced his decision to enlist in the military. He has expressed his excitement about the opportunity to serve his country and has been preparing for this moment for some time. His family is proud of him and is supporting him as he takes this step.

Shoehorns included in new program

The new enlistment program will include a variety of roles and assignments, including one for shoehorns. This is a unique opportunity for those interested in the field of shoehorning, and the program will provide them with the skills and training necessary to succeed in this specialized role.

THANKS

The local community is expressing their gratitude for the sacrifices made by our military personnel. The community is hosting a special event to honor these brave individuals and to show our appreciation for their service.

SOCIETY

James Crockett dies suddenly

Rites held for Willie Dickerson

Trinity Church will hold a memorial service for James Crockett on Tuesday. Crockett, a long-time member of the church, passed away last week. The service will be a time of reflection and remembrance for those who knew and loved him.

Rites for Willie Dickerson will be held on Wednesday. Dickerson was a respected member of the community and will be missed by many. The service will be a celebration of his life and accomplishments.

Wine and Tobacco

The monthly wine and tobacco social will be held on Saturday. This event is open to all community members and will feature a variety of wines and tobacco products. It will be a great opportunity to socialize and relax with friends and neighbors.

Bids for public works projects

The city council will hold a public hearing on Monday to discuss bids for public works projects. The hearing will be an opportunity for members of the community to voice their opinions and concerns about the projects.

Thanksgiving

The community is preparing for Thanksgiving, with many families hosting special meals and gatherings. The local school will be hosting a Turkey Day event, with students and faculty participating in various activities related to the holiday.

Christmas
