THE BULLOCH HERALD

DEDICATED TO THE PROGRESS OF STATESBORO AND BULLOCH COUNTY

VOLUME VI

Statesboro, Georgia, Thursday, January 31, 1946

NUMBER 12

The Herald Returns to Peace

The Herald returns to peace.

Today we fulfill our promise made on May 28, 1942, the day we stopped publishing here in Statesboro, in the midst of World War II.

Today we give you the "new" Bulletin Herald.

Bulloch Goes To Polls March 6

"It is reported that the general public will go to polls on March 6 in a vote to determine whether the Board of Education of the county shall be renewed, will continue, or will be dissolved.

This report was published in the Bulletin Herald on February 20, 1946.

The Board of Education, which is composed of the county commissioners, will be dissolved if the vote goes against the continuation of the Board.

The "new" Bulletin Herald will also carry on in the publishing of the Bulletin Herald's advertisements, the publication of the Bulletin Herald's columns, and the publication of the Bulletin Herald's reviews.

The Bulloch Herald
Back to Statesboro and Bulloch County

On May 28, 1942, the publishers of the Herald closed their doors and entered on the service of Uncle Sam’s Army and Marine Corps. Today we issue the first issue of the Herald since that date. We went to congratulate them on resuming publication of their newspaper.

We wish them good luck. May they serve Statesboro and Bulloch County as well as they served Uncle Sam.
