Zack plans to go into the hotel business when he finishes at Georgia Tech.

Tobacco Growers Will Be Penalized 19 Cents Per Pound

Mr. T. R. Breedlove, State Director of the Production and Marketing Association, today announced that the rate of penalty for flue-cured tobacco in connection with the 1947 tobacco marketing quota program will be 19 cents per pound instead of 10 cents per pound as has been the case in previous years. This rate of penalty is determined by law to be 40 per cent of the average price received for flue-cured tobacco on all markets during the 1946 marketing season. "This means," said Mr. Breedlove, "that tobacco producers who plant in excess of the 1947 acreage allotment must pay a penalty of 19 cents per pound for all of the flue-cured tobacco grown on this excess acreage."

Vets' Families Should Contact Social Security

Many veterans of World War II have unfortunately met their deaths after discharge from service. According to information recently released by Martin J. Johnson at the Social Security Office, the families of these veterans apparently do not know that they have social security benefits coming to them. Mr. Johnson, District Manager of the Social Security Administration in Savannah, urges all families of veterans of World War II to get in touch with his office if the veteran dies within three years of date of his discharge. Even though the veteran never worked at any time in employment covered by Social Security, there is a special social security benefit due the family.

Under this ruling, widows with young children are entitled to monthly benefits as long as there is a child under the age of eighteen. The children of such veterans are entitled to these benefits until they reach the age of eighteen. Dependent parents over the age of sixty-five are due monthly benefits. Young widows without children are entitled to a lump sum benefit when the veteran dies.

If you know of any veteran of World War II who has died during the past several months, be sure to remind his family to get in touch with the Social Security Office on the second floor of the American Building, Savannah. Mr. Johnson and his staff will be glad to take care of the claims, and answer any questions about the social security benefits.

Driver's License Must Be Renewed By June 30 Without Penalty

June 30 is an important date, Mr. and Mrs. Georgia Motorist. It's the last day for purchasing your driver's license without penalty.

While at it, you know, you can buy the license for a five-year period. That means you don't have to worry about that old deadline every twelve months. It will be sixty months before you have to get it another thought. The long term drivers' licenses are on sale for the first time this year. They will serve the dual purpose of being convenient to the driver and raising funds to establish a Veterinary School in the University System of Georgia and a textile building for Georgia Tech.

Cost of the five-year license is $5. Family licenses may be obtained at an additional cost of $2.50 for the wife, and $1.25 for the minors for the five years. More than 4,500 of the five-year licenses already have been sold, it is reported.

John P. Lee is now at his home after spending some time in the hospital here. Mr. Lee fell down the steps of his home Wednesday of last week and broke his good leg. He is resting fairly well today.

Church Leaders Present Liquor Election Petition

A new petition calling for an election to determine whether the sale of whiskey will continue to be sold legally in Statesboro and Bulloch County was presented to Mr. Frank Williams, the County Ordinary, last Friday by the Rev. T. Earl Serson, who remarked when he presented the petition, "They thought they had preached the funeral of the dry cause in this county. But the corpse was too lively for the obsequies. A lot of legal technicalities can't keep the people of this county from having their will."

MAJORITY OF COUNTY'S FARMERS LIKE THE NEW PARKING METERS

Last Saturday the farmers of Bulloch county had the opportunity to use the newly installed parking meters in the city for the first time. The majority of them, according to reports, like the new system of parking. They were able to park near the stores where they do their shopping.

Here in Statesboro, the majority of the people seem to have gotten used to the meters and are using them more and more. There are still a few "chronic gripes" who are "cussing" the meters, but they are in the minority. The "take" from the meters was not disclosed this week by city officials.

Dr. Paty Speaks to Rotary Club; Urges Full City Cooperation

Chancellor Raymond H. Paty, of the University System of Georgia, informally addressed the Rotary Club Monday at their regular meeting. Dr. Paty stressed the need for the citizens of Statesboro and the Georgia Teachers College officials to work together and not against each other. He stated that the college was an asset to Statesboro and that it was lucky to be located in Statesboro. "We must pull together so that we both can progress," he stated. Dr. Paty stated that the Georgia Teachers College was set up for a vast expansion program in the near future.

Council Has Not Let Contract For Swimming Pool

No contract has been let by the City of Statesboro for the construction of a swimming pool. On May 13 the city council voted unanimously to let a contract for construction of a $20,000 pool, but no action has yet been taken.

Recently, the Junior Chamber of Commerce and Lannie F. Simmons told the city council they would turn over $11,500 they held for the construction of a pool if the city would go ahead and let the contract.

Tentative original plans called for construction of the pool on the city's property on the Fair Ground Road, but now there is much talk going the rounds that the pool might be built, when the contract is let, at the airport.

Complete plans and specifications for the pool are in the hands of the city engineer and it is expected that city officials will hold a meeting some time this week to let the contract and select the site for the pool.

T. C. Laboratory High School Has Two Levels

Laboratory High School at Georgia Teachers College, will function as two groups this summer—an upper and a lower level. These pupils who have been in first three grades during the present school year will be taught by Miss Bertha Freeman and those in the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh grades will be under the direction of Miss Marie Wood. The school is not designed as a make-up session in any sense, rather it is an enriched experience for normal elementary school children.

In filling the enrollment preference will be given to students of Laboratory School, and places which they do not take will be assigned to the children of Statesboro. A bus will run from the rural districts through the city to the college. The school will open Monday, June 16, at 9:00 A. M. The session will last until noon. Part of the morning will be given to swimming. Milk and crackers will be sold each morning, and parents should provide pupils with a nickel with which to purchase this lunch. There is an enrollment fee of $1.00 for each student.

Parents in Statesboro may communicate with Dr. Ralph M. Lyon, telephone 56-J, or Miss Bertha Freeman, telephone 514-L, around 6 o'clock each evening relative to reservations. Enrollment will be held Saturday morning, June 14, at the Elementary Laboratory School.

the calling of an election. The injunction was withdrawn, however, when the dry forces withdrew the petition.

The dries then next undertook to re-possess the original petition in order that they might add the few names necessary and thus re-present it. The lawyers ruled, however, that the list of cards comprising the first petition could not be returned as it was the property of the court.

Mr. Frank Williams, the County Ordinary, stated today he would immediately call an election in the county as soon as the county registrars give him a certified list stating that 35 per cent of the registered voters in Bulloch had signed the petition. It is understood that the county registrars plan to meet today to start checking the list the dry forces have turned in. The Bulloch County Legal Control Association, it is understood, has not formulated any plans to counter the petition turned in last Friday.

Statesboro Pilots Drop to Fourth In League Standing

The Statesboro Pilots slipped into fourth place this week when they only won two games out of four played with Sylvania and Metter. Vidalia is still leading the Ogeechee Baseball League, Millen is second, and Sylvania third.

On Thursday of last week, at Metter, Dale Livingston won his first game in his three starts against the Pilots this season 9 to 1 by allowing only three hits. Friday the locals downed the Metter Bombers 7 to 6 by coming from behind twice, first aided by John Perry's two-run four-baser, and climaxed by a two-run rally in the ninth when Raulerson singled. Carn followed by scoring him with a double to tie it up and Laurain in his last appearance here put Carn over with his high fly to centerfield. In their first Sunday game, on the local diamond Statesboro won 6-3 over the strong Riverside team from Moultrie. The visitors jumped on Carter in the first as the first three batters singled to score two runs, but the Pilots evaded the count with two runs for their half. The game remained deadlocked until the locals moved out in front with two runs in the sixth, and in the eighth added two more markers to finish off the day. Hembree topped the batsmen with his three hits for four times to the plate.

Millen produced a home run, three triples and a double to highlight their nine hits off Hall in Millen Tuesday night for fourteen runs, while Statesboro managed seven for the same number of hits, four of them coming in a belated ninth inning rally. The fifth was Millen's big frame, when they tallied five runs with Boyd's homer with two on, it being the only hit of the inning. Harris, Millen's catcher, had a big night, accounting for a double and two triples. Thomas led the visitors by getting three for five.

A Verse For This Week

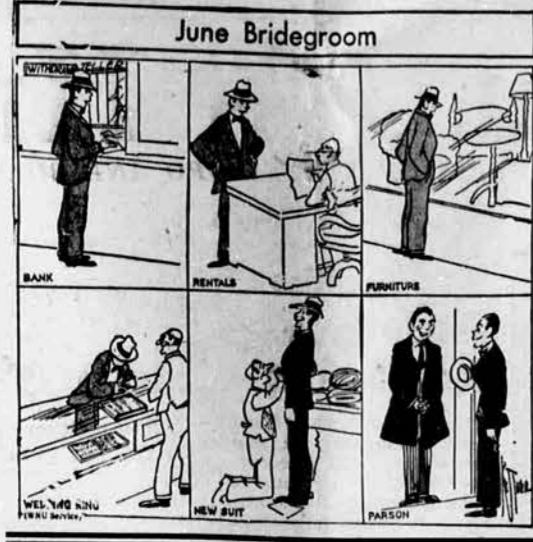

No man is nobler than another, unless he is born with better abilities and a more amiable disposition. They who make such a parade with their family pictures and pedigrees, are, properly speaking, rather to be called noted or notorious than noble persons. I thought it right to say this much, in order to repress the insolence of men who depend entirely upon chance and accidental circumstances for distinction, and not at all on public services and personal merit.—Seneca.

Meet The Challenge

A great and challenging opportunity to put into practice the teachings of our religions and the principles of our Democratic way of life faces the civic clubs and church members of Statesboro. Crime is increasing every month. Census reports show Georgia has nearly twice as many men in prison as the national average, based on population. Ten per cent of prison population is composed of boys and girls 12 to 18 years of age. Our training schools for delinquents are filled and have long waiting lists. Thirteen youth-serving agencies operating in Georgia report a total membership last year of 24,618 and it was conceded there were many duplications in instances where a boy or girl is a member of two or more agencies. There are more than 708,000 boys and girls between seven and seventeen in Georgia. Two thirds of them were not members of any of these character building agencies last year. The privately supported agencies, including Boy and Girl Scouts, Y.M. and Y. W. C. A., Camp Fire Girls and Boys' Clubs, reported to the Junior Citizenship Section of the Citizens Council a total membership of 106,000 or 15 per cent of the seven to seventeen population. The agencies supported by tax funds, including 4-H Clubs, together...

Let There Be Light

Afraid of the dark? You should be for your own safety. Paradoxically, during the hours when there are fewer automobiles on the street more people are killed in traffic accidents. Traffic during the hours of darkness is less than half as heavy as by daylight, traffic and safety experts say, yet 60 per cent of the persons who lose their lives in traffic accidents are killed at night. Several factors contribute to this paradox. First, there is the fact that drivers and pedestrians generally are more fatigued at the end of the day and as darkness approaches. Too—and an important point—there is more drinking at night and consequently more drivers under the influence of alcohol and more pedestrians who are less alert when crossing the street. Then comes a long list of contributing factors brought on by darkness, itself—poor vision, glaring headlights, misdirected street lighting, and on and on. Many of the latter hazardous elements can be eliminated by the proper traffic engineering and improved lighting of streets and directional signs. Every community safety on our streets and highways, we have every reason to be in the country should do all within its power to see that its streets...

THE ALMANAC SAYS THE WEATHER THIS WEEK ON...
TODAY, June 5, will be rainy with scattered showers.
FRIDAY, June 6, will be fair and pleasant.
SATURDAY, June 7, will be fair and hot.
SUNDAY, June 8, will be cloudy and sultry.
MONDAY, June 9, will be clear and warm.
TUESDAY, June 10, will be fair.
WEDNESDAY, June 11, will be fair and warm.

But Don't Blame Us If the Almanac Is Wrong!

Here are the "Ten Tenets" to aid fathers in building the future of their children:
1. He makes himself responsible for his child's behavior.
2. He shares in his child's activities.
3. He makes his child feel secure.
4. He has his child's complete confidence.
5. He is never blinded by love to his child's faults—he knows he serves his child's interest best by recognizing and correcting weaknesses.
6. He is always available to help solve youthful problems.
7. He doesn't demand blind devotion—he wins it.
8. He recognizes and accepts as largely his the responsibility for his child's mental and spiritual development.
9. He contributes to making the home his children have.
10. He strives to be the man his child thinks he is.
Not every father who reads these pertinent pointers here will see them elsewhere. But many will find that they are being widely circulated to further "Father's Day."

School is out and our boys and girls have no swimming pool. Wonder what happened to the pool the city was supposed to let a contract on? They have about $11,000 on hand. What's holding them up? You "gotta" start a project sometimes to ever complete it. If and when the contract is let for the pool there is a possibility that it might be built at the airport instead of here in the city limits. If the city decided to build it there the county could, and would, help defray the building expenses. There is located on the...

My Town

"My town is the place where my home is founded; where my business is situated and where my vote is cast; where my children are educated; where my neighbors dwell, and where my life is chiefly lived. It is my home spot for me. My town has the right to my civic loyalty. It supports me and I support it. My town wants my citizenship, not my partisanship; my friendliness, not my dissension; my sympathy, not my criticism; my intelligence, not my indifference. My town supplies me with protection, trade, friends, education, schools, churches and the right to free moral citizenship. It has done things that are better than others, the best things I should seek to make better the worst things I should help to suppress. Take it all-in-all, it is my town, and it is entitled to the best that is in me."

Fun at Home

In the best books great men talk to us, give us their most precious thoughts, and pour their souls into ours—Channing.
By Mrs. F. F. Baker

All of you young folks have been looking forward to the end of school and summer vacation. For the first few days you have many things to do. But then you find that all day is a mighty long time to play. Haven't you already asked, "What can I do now?" This column in the paper will help you answer that question. This summer we shall see what fun you can have right here in Bulloch county. We will tell about places to go swimming and picnicking. There will be stories of excitement the kids in your neighborhood stir up. When you go to Savannah like you visit old places, a factory, or the river front. Did you know that there are almost as many things to visit right here in Statesboro and the county?

We will describe some of those exploring trips for you. Our fun for this week is a special kind of trip to the Regional Library. If there is one of you who has not been there, visit it this week. Just climb those long steps over the Sea Island Bank on the South Main Street side. You will see a big room to the left of the second floor with all sorts of interesting things to look at and extra nice ladies to help you. The special thing to do in the library is this. Go to the end where the children's books are kept. In the tall shelves on the East Main Street side, look at the shelves. Some of the Japanese were brutal to other people and not see people beaten. "The possession of a door, a key with which to lock it. A place to weep, alone."

Harry and Agnes were placed in separate camps and only allowed to see each other once a week. Later, this privilege was revoked, and the women were punished for even looking through the fence when their husbands passed on their way to work. Some of the Japanese were brutal to other people and not see people beaten. "The possession of a door, a key with which to lock it. A place to weep, alone."

Another shelf does not have a label, but ought to be called the "Make It" shelf. There are books about "Fun With Boxes" and "What to Do Now." There are outdoor make-it in "Handicraft for Boys" and "Handicraft for Girls." Before you leave the library, tell Mrs. Jones that you want to join the Vacation Reading Club. Your name will be put on a big chart, so that everyone can see who belongs. Every time you read a book, a star will be put beside your name. One answer to "What can I do now?" is this: Write a letter to me fun that your crowd has. I will use your letter in the paper.

Good Books Are True Friends

In the best books great men talk to us, give us their most precious thoughts, and pour their souls into ours—Channing.
By Mrs. F. F. Baker

THREE CAME HOME—by Agnes Newton Keith. I will never forget how I felt when the newspapers announced that Mrs. Keith had "disappeared" when the Japs went into Berne. I suppose all of us who read "Land Below the Wind" felt as though we had lost someone whom we knew very well. In "Three Came Home," Mrs. Keith tells of her life in a prison camp, not as an internecine, but as an actual prisoner of war, because the British civilians in Sandakan were so rash as to destroy the supplies of gasoline at hand, and the Japs resented it.

In the period between the two books, Agnes and Harry had a meal. Suga was very good to little George, and the rest of the children in camp. Even his friendship could not be depended upon, because, when Agnes complained of being attacked by a guard, Suga absented himself from the camp and left her to the tender mercies of Lieut. Nekata, who had her beaten and kicked when she refused to retract her statement.

When Borneo was retaken by the Americans and Australians, Suga cut his throat. At the risk of making this review too long, I must quote Agnes' own words: "I will never be free of those prison years. I would kill myself sooner than live them again." And, "I know now the value of freedom. In all my life, I had been a free woman and did not realize it. The right to live with and love my husband and my children. The right to look about me and not see people beaten."

"The possession of a door, a key with which to lock it. A place to weep, alone." "I believe that while we have not more than we need on this continent and others die for want of it, there can be no lasting peace. When we work as hard in peace-time to make this world decent, as in wartime we work to kill, the world will be decent, and the causes for which men fight will be gone."

"THE QUEEN'S AWARD, 1946"—edited by Ellery Queen. A collection of prize-winning stories from "Ellery Queen's Magazine." The preface remarks are almost as good as the stories themselves.

Mystery of the Week: "THE LAST OF PHILIP BANTER"—by J. F. Bardin, author of "Deadly Perfection." The murder doesn't occur until nearly the end, and then the question is, "Did he fall, or was he pushed?" A story of a man who is being slowly driven insane, and with an aura of madness and horror well sustained all through the book.

D.D.T. Protects Garden From All But 4 Insects

These are the common insects for which some other insecticide than D.D.T. should be used by the amateur: 1. Mexican bean beetle; 2. tomato horn worm; 3. common aspid; 4. cucumber beetle.

There is small excuse for any home gardener to complain about insect injury to his vegetable garden, since D.D.T. became available. By dusting every week or two with D.D.T. of at least 5% strength, insect injury can be prevented except in the following cases: Mexican bean beetles, tomato horn worm, and most aphids are immune to D.D.T.

Cucumbers, melons and squash may be injured by D.D.T. if it is applied to use other means to kill the cucumber beetles, which attack all these, and squash bugs and borers, which concentrate on squash plants. To take care of these exceptions, rotenone will serve. It destroys the Mexican bean beetle, and is deadly to aphids, while even less toxic than D.D.T. to animals.

Some gardeners prefer to use nicotine sulphate against aphids and some form of arsenic to kill cucumber beetles, which is a particularly difficult pest. While highly poisonous, these older insecticides have been used safely for many years, by many millions of gardeners; and with the usual precautions may still be used. But the gardener equipped with D.D.T. and rotenone, with suitable equipment for either dusting or spraying his crops when they are...

PORTAL NEWS

(Miss Lillie Finch)

Barney Wilson, owner of a 76-acre farm near Westside and Register, and W. B. Adams, owner of a 100-acre farm near Register, Ga., have obtained good stands of sericea lepedeza recently seeded on land subject to severe washing.

Mr. Wilson and Mr. Adams not only expect sericea lepedeza to help control the erosion in these fields, but expect it furnish an abundance of green grazing from the first of April until frost. Complete soil conservation plans, including proper land use, terracing, crop rotation, pond building and woodland management, have recently been completed on the farms of T. B. Williams, W. L. Dean, William Dean, Powell Williams and Eastie Bowen. These men are war veterans obtaining agricultural training in cooperation with the Veterans Administration and are now cooperators with the Ogeechee River Soil Conservation District.

On Playing the Fiddle Badly

A favorite recreation in our town is getting together in one or another's home and making music. There's somebody at the piano; a guitar; a fiddle up at the harp!

What comes out isn't the best music in the world; but, in fact, a lot of it is downright bad. But nobody even thinks to question or to criticize.

From where I sit, it's a heap more important to be a poor fiddle player, than not to play at all. More important to be a part of the American scene—with its common, friendly glass of beer—than to hold out for professional perfection. (Besides, I like to play the fiddle—even badly!)

BRIDE ELECTS HOLD SOCIAL SPOTLIGHT

Two popular bride-elects are being feted this week and on up to their marriages. Parties began last week for Miss Bea Dot Smallwood, whose marriage to William Peck will take place June 10, at the Methodist Church. The Methodist Church will also be the scene of Miss Carmen Cowart's marriage to Bernard Morris on June 12.

BRIDGE PARTY COMPLIMENT TO MISS CARMEN COWART

Mrs. A. M. Braswell, Sr., and Mrs. Albert Braswell entertained for Miss Cowart on Thursday afternoon. Lending charm to the party scene were lavish arrangements of Easter lilies and ferns.

The guests were served a salad and sweet course.

At bridge, Mrs. Grant Tillman, Jr. was given potted plants in attractive containers. Mrs. W. P. Brown won "Little Informals," note paper for cut.

The honoree received two cream soups in the Desert Rose china pattern from her hostesses.

Others invited were: Mrs. W. R. Lovett, Mrs. G. C. Coleman, Jr., Mrs. Frank Hook, Mrs. Joe Robert Tillman, Mrs. Curtis Lane, Mrs. Gerald Groover, Mrs. Robert Morris, Mrs. Bernard Scott, Misses Julie Turner, Margaret Sherman, Mary Groover, Maxann Foy and Helen Rowse.

Miss Zula Gammage, Mrs. H. H. Cowart and Mrs. B. B. Morris called for refreshments.

BRIDGE PARTY

Miss Cowart was the central figure at a lovely bridge party on Saturday afternoon given by Mrs. C. H. Remington and her daughter, Mrs. Wayne Culbreath, of Augusta.

Easter lilies, magnolias and shasta-daisies were attractively arranged in the home.

Guests were served a delicious salad course.

The hostesses presented the bride elect with a knife and fork in the Grand Baroque pattern. For top score at bridge, Miss Julie Turner received note paper. Mrs. Hal Macon, Jr., was given a double deck of cards for low; Mrs. Grant Tillman, Jr., won soap for cut.

Other guests included: Mrs. W. R. Lovett, Mrs. G. C. Coleman, Jr., Mrs. W. P. Brown, Mrs. Billy Tillman, Mrs. Chatham Alderman, Misses Bea Dot Smallwood, Helen Rowse, Margaret Sherman, Mary Groover, Laura Margaret Brady, and Miss Zula Gammage. Mrs. H. H. Cowart and Mrs. B. B. Morris called for refreshments.

INFORMAL MORNING PARTY FOR MISS SMALLWOOD

Mrs. Charles E. Cone entertained for Miss Smallwood Tuesday morning at a lovely informal party.

Easter lilies and gladioli were the flowers used.

The guest of honor received lovely kitchen curtain pulls from her hostess. Miss Cowart received a similar gift.

Mrs. Cone served a variety of sandwiches, assorted crackers, olives, pickles, candies, and cakes.

Mrs. Byron Parrish had as her guest Sunday her sister, Mrs. Julia Routree of Dublin, and her nephew, Gordon Routree, of Madison.

SHARE HONORS AT A SEATED TEA

Misses Carmen Cowart and Bea Dot Smallwood shared honors at a seated tea given Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. J. O. Johnston at her home on Savannah Avenue.

The hostess created a cool, springlike mood for the lovely pre-nuptial party in the use of a blue and yellow color scheme in the decorations and refreshments. Yellow day lilies were placed in a blue vase dominated the decorations in the living room, while the artistic effect reached its peak in the exquisite charm of the table in the dining room, from which the guests were served. The table, overlaid with a blue lace cover, was centered with a blue bowl of yellow tulips. The punch bowl was on the table. The dessert course, pineapple delight, was itself lovely yellow mold on a silver

ALL'S FAIR

Sweet girl graduates and brides in June.
 Boy in tux and mellow moon.
 Smiles on their lips, hearts that are light,
 A clear road ahead—and future bright.
 That's Jane's sincere wish for every one of you.

NO DOUBT ABOUT IT, Cupid is really a busy little fellow these days.
 1. A popular young local girl, blushing and attractive, holding down a good job in a nearby town has just received one of those "oh so lovely" rings from a fine up-standing young man now employed in a downtown shop.
 2. And it's wedding bells soon for another T. C. girl and a young professional man about town.
 3. Another T. C. beauty has a ring from a town boy and plans for a fall wedding.
 4. I "kinder" believe the courtship is getting warmer in the case of one of our popular brunettes now at the C. and a T. C. boy from the town referred to in No. 1 in this roster of romance. Is this all confusing?

PHIL BEAN INVESTIGATES
 —Friday was Memorial Day and all the banks were open. Phil remarked, "I'm gonna see what's the matter. It's the first time I've heard of a banker working on a holiday."

SCENE ABOUT TOWN:
 Colorful blooms mark the crescent driveway at Sara Franklin's. Red gladi in the yard, red geraniums on the porch at Alva Wilson's. Billy Attaway's crow's nest in a lovely shade tree on the back lawn at his home is a marvelous place to read poetry—or maybe a comic book.
 I like those slate grey blinds on the W. M. Newton home... Hope Nanette Cone knits a wool jacket for that chihuahua pup before fall.

CENTRAL GEORGIA RAILWAY

AT JONES CROSSROADS!

—but it won't last long.

Cruising above the forests of Southeast Georgia, a specially trained airplane pilot keeps eyes peeled for woodland fires below.

Immediately upon spotting one, the pilot radio-telephones WEGK, the Union Bag & Paper Corporation radio station on its Sapelo Forest in McIntosh County. The station operator relays the message to radio-equipped fire fighting trucks, which speed to the scene of the blaze.

This briefly is the story of the inauguration by Union Bag & Paper Corporation of Georgia's first industry sponsored air-patrol, two-way radio communication system for detecting and fighting forest fires.

Experience during the recent forest fire season convinces us that this modern method of warning war on forest fires will, in the future, contribute substantially to the protection of Georgia's forests and to the welfare of Georgia citizens.

MR. AND MRS. LOY WATERS ENTERTAIN SENIORS

One of the loveliest parties of commencement week was given Friday evening following "Class Night" by Mr. and Mrs. Loy Waters, whose son, Hal, was among the graduates. The party was at their home on Woodrow Avenue and guests were members of the Senior Class and their teachers. The entire home was open to the young people and was attractively decorated throughout, but the beauty of the lighted lawn lured them outside where conveniently placed lawn furniture, large baskets of galloli, Easter lilies and mixed garden flowers made a lovely setting for the young graduates. A continuous musical program paralleled by a continuous procession of trays piled high with a variety of sandwiches, cakes and cookies, with plenty of coffee, made class night one of the superlatives for the seniors. Mrs. Waters was assisted in serving by Mrs. Dan Blitch, Mrs. Glenn Jennings, and Mrs. Fred Fletcher.

Jane Continues Her Assignments In Old Southern History Course

Agnes Blitch, of Statesboro, plays with a little lamb belonging to Mary Franklin, wife of Ben F. Franklin, Jr. descendant of Francis Jones, well-favored Welshman, who built the Jones mansion near Millen where Jack Averitt took his history class as part of the three-day festival held last week. (Cut Courtesy—Atlanta Journal)

Our course, the fabulous ball, which we had anticipated for weeks. Our excitement had mounted with each lovely place we visited and it was nearly unbearable to think that the event, the very thought of which held enchantment for us, might be cancelled. The girls already primped and laced into their basques, their hoopskirts billowing and their hearts going pitty-pat, listened for the approaching phaeton. I arrived early in my eagerness to see the stage all set. Carrie Mae Brannen, in whose lovely home the ball was being held, was regal in a rose crepe evening gown and proud of her lovely orchid corsage which her husband gave her for the occasion. I teased Irving, Jr., about his oil portrait that looked down on the scene in the dining room with just a hint of disdain. (He had not wanted his picture painted—and the artist faithfully reproduced what he saw.) There was a feeling of expectancy. About twilight Wednesday ominous clouds and heavy showers threatened to spoil the climax of the event.

9 Years Ahead of the Nation

- in the USE of electricity - in the PRICE you pay

1947	U. S. homes use an average of 1350 kilowatt hours
1938	GEORGIA homes used an average of 1399 kilowatt hours
1947	GEORGIA homes use an average of 2023 kilowatt hours

Georgia homes used as much electricity nine years ago as the average American home uses today. And the average price paid then by Georgia homes was less than the price paid now by the average American home. Today, Georgia homes use 50% more electricity than the national average, and pay a third less—two cents against three for each kilowatt hour used. This nine-year lead is a record that every Georgian can brag about . . . another reason of the best kind that Georgia is a better place to live.

SHOP WITH CONFIDENCE
WHERE PRICES ARE ALWAYS LOW

Colonial's long established pricing policy continues to assure greater savings to customers throughout the year.

The purchasing power which results from our expanding volume, together with efficient methods of distribution, permits Colonial to offer outstanding values on fine quality foods. And, when market declines on any commodity make a new, low retail price possible. Colonial immediately passes the savings on to customers.

The periodical special sales whereby we divide with you the benefits of advantageous purchases represent a relatively small part of our effort. We accept our full responsibility of supplying the lowest possible cost.

Details of the price support organization are being discussed at Farm Bureau meetings this month and many growers are joining the Bureau in order to obtain the benefits which can be gained by membership. The Bureau is anxious to assure the authorities that they desire the Cooperative established here and available for use if tobacco prices decline below the 90 per cent parity level.

Farm Bureau Seeks Loan Unit For Tobacco

Bulloch tobacco growers who are members of the county Farm Bureau have indicated a strong desire to have the Tobacco Cooperative Stabilization Corporation established and ready for use here when the Georgia market opens, according to Byron Dyer, county agent.

This organization enables growers to obtain loans up to 90 per cent of the parity value of the tobacco. Upon granting a loan the Cooperative processes the tobacco for holding until a market is found. The grower is paid the 90 per cent parity the day the tobacco goes on the block for sale. If the Cooperative can sell the tobacco for a higher price later, the grower is paid the additional amount. This gives the grower everything to gain and nothing to lose, Mr. Dyer said.

Details of the price support organization are being discussed at Farm Bureau meetings this month and many growers are joining the Bureau in order to obtain the benefits which can be gained by membership. The Bureau is anxious to assure the authorities that they desire the Cooperative established here and available for use if tobacco prices decline below the 90 per cent parity level.

Under the cooperative program the grower puts his crop on the market as usual. When the sale is made he has the same privilege as in the past of accepting or rejecting the bid. If the price bid is below 90 per cent of the government established parity price according to grade, the grower may request that the tobacco be put into the loan. Regardless of the price, he receives his check for the 90 per cent parity price, just as if some company had bought the tobacco.

McLemore Looks At The Baseball Situation Here

About 17 years have passed since a certain soft drink concern built this city's most pleasing edifice kerpunk in the middle of the municipal baseball diamond.

Since then, youngsters of the immediate region have used the bats left over from the days of Dicey Proctor and Mule Smith to hit rocks at each other and to beat upon the earth, encouraging red-wiggler fish bait to rise to the surface and suicide.

These happy pursuits did not create baseball players.

Now, with 33-cent cotton and the city's cheapest rent, the community has as fine a ball yard as you'll find in cities twice the size, a multitude of backers who sweat the new-born Ogeechee League is faster than the Georgia-Florida Class D loop.

This reversal of form took place a few weeks back, when C. B. McAllister, Joe Tillman, B. C. Lovett and others of the older set awakened to the possibilities presented by a government airfield, hangover from the late argument, rented to the city for $1 a year. The rest was simple. They drummed up a plan, sold shares at $100 each and now have an investment of $40,000, a semi-pro team with some remarkable features and a brilliantly-lighted field, perfectly aligned, with ev-

Atomic Scientist Speaks Monday

Dr. William H. Jones, a prominent Southern scientist and faculty member at Emory University, will address the Rotary Club Monday at 1:30 p.m. His address on the subject of "Atomic Energy" will be made in the Georgia Theatre and the public is invited.

Dr. Jones is associate professor of chemistry at Emory University and former president of the Georgia Section of the American Chemical Society.

He holds degrees from Emory and Princeton, and was active in atom bomb research work during the war. He was Laboratory Director for the Fercleve Corporation at Oak Ridge, Tenn., for more than a year.

The scientist was born in Waycross and entered Emory University in 1920, graduating with a Bachelor of Science degree in 1922. From Emory he went to Princeton where he was an instructor in chemical research while working on his Masters degree. He received this degree in 1925, and was awarded his Ph. D. in 1929. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, honorary scholastic fraternity.

Together with several other Emory scientists who were connected with atom bomb research, Dr. Jones has been active in urging world-wide control of atomic discoveries as a measure against an atom bomb armament race and another world war.

LOCAL CHAPTER OF LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS SEEKS CHARTER IN STATE GROUP

A petition to recognize the Statesboro chapter of the League of Women Voters will be presented to the State organization of that group next week by Mrs. W. Edge, acting chairman of the local chapter. According to Mrs. Edge the State organization will meet in Milledgeville June 19-29 and at this time the local group will ask that it be chartered as a member of the State organization.

The first meeting of the Statesboro chapter was held Friday afternoon at the courthouse and approval of the chapter by-laws was made.

All women of voting age are urged to join, according to Mrs. Edge. Membership dues are $1 per year and are payable to Mrs. Jim Coleman, who has been elected treasurer.

Dealers File Injunction To Halt Liquor Election

A petition to enjoin the Bulloch county ordinary from calling a liquor election was filed in Superior Court this week and Judge Mel Price, replacing Judge J. L. Renfro, who disqualified himself, granted the petitioners a temporary injunction.

A hearing to decide whether a permanent injunction should be granted is scheduled for July 11 in Ludowick.

The action followed a petition from the Bulloch Citizens' Temperance League asking for an election to outlaw the sale of liquor in the county.

Following a report of the Board of Registrars that the petition contained the required number of signatures, Ordinary F. J. Williams began plans to advertise the election as is required by law. He was restrained, however, by Judge Price's order.

According to the Registrar's report filed with the Ordinary, the petition contains 3,498 valid signatures, which is 148 more than the 3,350 required. Thirty-five per cent of the signatures of the qualified voters in the county are required for such a petition. With 1,575 qualified voters in Bulloch the required number is 3,350 signatures.

The petition for injunction was filed by the dealers, acting jointly as the Bulloch County Association for Legal Control. It claimed that the petition of the Temperance League did not meet the requirements of the law. It stated that the League's action was nothing more than a random collection of individual post cards. The dealers also claimed that the individual signing of such cards does not constitute a legal petition.

Shooting of Movie "Our Home Town" Begun Wednesday

Shooting of a movie film to be titled "Our Home Town" began here last night as Sol Landsman, cameraman, and Arthur Doevin, his associate, began making films of the way the people in Statesboro live, work, and play.

The blooms come from a six-acre tract of cotton grown by John Fulton on the H. R. Williams Place.

Mr. Brown states that it is believed that John Fulton, a negro, age 29, produced the first bloom last year. According to Mr. Brown, this farmer has plenty to eat and some money saved in the form of government bonds.

5 In Family Enter County Hospital

This is a hard-luck story. If you think you have troubles take a look at the Stokes family living down in the Silson community. Five of the six members living together were admitted to the Bulloch County Hospital Tuesday suffering with the same ailment. The sixth member may be admitted in a few days. A seventh member of the family—a son in service—is home on furlough but is not ill.

The case came to light this week when the local Red Cross chapter received a request from the serviceman for an extension of his furlough. When asked the reason for the request he told the Red Cross representative there was sickness in his family. A routine investigation followed and the investigator discovered five of the family—father, the mother, a 20 year old son, and two daughters, 15 and 9—were suffering a form of paralysis. The sixth—a girl 19 years old—was also found to be in need of medical care.

Three of the five have lost control of their arms and legs and are unable to walk or feed themselves. The other two can hardly walk.

It was immediately apparent to the investigator that the family was in need of hospitalization and steps were taken to have them brought here at once.

The Red Cross representative learned the family had been receiving care through the kindness of neighbors and friends and through church and other charitable donations. Neighbors had taken over the farm and were cultivating the crop. The landlord had been giving aid to the best of his ability.

These friends did not realize the family could qualify for Red Cross aid due to their being dependents of a serviceman. With the request for an extension of furlough, however, the local chapter informed them that aid could be given.

An immediate grant was made. Funds will also be available through a dependency allotment from the son in service. With these two sources of income the family will be able to again establish themselves with the community.

But in the meantime won't you agree that having the whole family in the hospital is hard luck?

Methodist Church to Honor Singers at Sunday Night Service

The Bulloch County Singing Convention will be honored Sunday night in a special service at the Statesboro Methodist Church. The service, which begins at 8 P. M., is one in a series of Friendly Gesture services sponsored by the church.

Leaders of the convention have been asked to conduct the song service in the manner used at singing conventions, according to Rev. Charles A. Jackson, pastor of the church. Different persons will take turns "conducting the class" and several special numbers will be rendered. The Bulloch Quartet will render special numbers and Lewis Hursey will play for the service.

W. A. Hartley Enters 1927 Chevrolet Truck In Oldest Truck Contest

Mr. Bill Keith, of the Franklin Chevrolet Company, announced this week that the oldest Chevrolet truck to turn up in Bulloch County in the Chevrolet search for the oldest licensed Chevrolet truck in service in the county belongs to Mr. W. A. Hartley, of Route 2, Statesboro.

Mr. Hartley's Chevrolet truck is a 1927 model and "still runs like a sewing machine," he says. The search ends June 15. The winner in Bulloch county will receive $50 worth of repair service free at the Franklin Chevrolet Company. The national winner will receive a brand new Chevrolet truck.

But in the meantime won't you agree that having the whole family in the hospital is hard luck?
