NEW "GYMNATORIUM" BEGUN AT PORTAL

Patrons of the Portal school are being their new combination auditorium and gymnasium will be a reality by the opening of the fall term.

So friends of the school donated lumber and those not having lumber gave trees to be saved. Some money has been donated, along with promises of labor when construction begins.

The building will seat nearly 2,000 persons when completed. It will be one story and brick-walld, trussed with steel girders. There will be no pillars inside to obstruct the view. A large stage will be part of the structure, with dressing rooms on each side. An electric water heater will provide hot showers and a manually operated electric scoreboard will keep everybody informed about what is going on.

Youth Camp Of Baptist Church Set For July 14-19

The young people of the First Baptist Church will find their Youth Camp a little cooler this year, according to an announcement made by the Rev. T. Earl Serson.

The Youth Encampment, which has formerly been held at Laura Walker Park near Waycross, will be held this year at "Alexandria," Stephens Park near Crawfordville.

The date has been set for July 14, 1947.

Some 75 boys and girls of the Junior and Intermediate ages have expressed a desire to attend the camp, the announcement said. Others wishing to attend should register no later than July 6 at the church office. All boys and girls of Bulloch county of the Sunday school and training unions are urged to attend, Rev. Serson announced.

The Rev. Serson, who will serve as dean of the camp, has announced the following faculty: Miss Virginia Cobb, Miss Ruth Lee, Miss Ruth Dowling, Mrs. T. Earl Serson, Mrs. John Burch, Miss Sallie Serson, Mrs. P. E. Martin, Mr. Fred Beasley, Jr., Rev. Grover Tyner, Jr., Rev. Carswell Milligan, Rev. John Burch, and Rev. T. Earl Serson. Periods of study will be under the direction of Miss Virginia Cobb, Miss Ruth Dowling, Rev. Grover Tyner, and Rev. John Burch. Preaching will be done by Rev. Carswell Milligan, pastor in the association and Judge of the Juvenile Court in Savannah. Recreation and swimming will be under the direction of Mr. Fred Beasley, Jr. Mrs. John Burch will be in charge of the music.

Free transportation is being furnished by the church this year. The camp will begin July 14 when two large busses leave the church taken for a sightseeing trip to Atlanta, Stone Mountain, and the Baptist Children's Home in Hapeville. Another day will find the boys and girls mountain climbing in North Georgia. Every day will feature worship, Bible training, organized recreation and Christian counseling. Careful supervision is assured for each camper and the whole spirit of the leaders is one of concern for each one entrusted to them, Rev. Serson said.

FRANCIS TRAPPNELL INITIATED INTO LEGAL FRATERNITY

Francis Trappnell, of Statesboro, has been initiated into the recently reconstituted Biakely Senate of Delta Theta Phi, national legal fraternity, according to an announcement this week from the University of Georgia.

Baptist Bus Will Operate Sundays

Baptist churches in Statesboro need no longer worry about how they are going to church each Sunday. For the benefit of those who have to walk long distances a bus will begin making scheduled trips each Sunday morning and evening.

Leaving from the church each Sunday morning at 9:15, the bus will pick up passengers from the sections east of North and South Main streets. The bus will then return to the church and make another run which will include the sections west of North and South Main street, including College.

This same route will be scheduled for evening services.

Each person should find the nearest bus stop to his house and wherever he sees "Baptist Bus Stop" he will find the accurate time of its stops listed below. This is being done for the convenience of people during the hot weeks that lie ahead.

An advertisement of more than usual interest to veterans appears this week in the Herald. The full page display gives information concerning National Service Life Insurance and tells what to do if your insurance has lapsed. The advertisement is sponsored as a public service by Smith-Tillman Mortuary, H. Minkovitz and Sons, City Drug Co., and the Bulloch County Bank.

Veterans are urged to renew their National Service Life Insurance policies at once if they have allowed them to lapse.

By WORTH McDUGALD

Saturday was a big day for five-year-old Jean Kirkland. Not only because it was her birthday, but Saturday was extra-special for another reason, too. Let's go back about four months and see the reason why.

Last March 3 the pretty little blond girl was playing at the home near Claxton and was seriously burned by exploding gasoline. She was rushed to Bulloch County Hospital where doctors gave her little, if any, chance to live.

A strong will to live plus finer nursing care than money can buy pulled little Jean through those first few terrible and painful weeks. She gained strength and her burns began to heal.

Eventually, she became able to sit up in a wheelchair and could "go visiting" about the hospital. With her friendly smile she captured the hearts of everyone there—nurses and patients alike. And since March 3 Jean has been at the hospital every day.

Now Saturday was Jean's birthday and her doctor asked her what she would like to have more than anything else. She quickly told him: "A birthday party—at home."

And Jean's dream became the doctor's promise, and the promise became a reality Saturday as Jean went to Claxton for one of the finest birthday parties a little girl could wish for.

During the afternoon the people of the town gathered at the community house to see Jean, to talk to her, and to bring her dolls, clothes, toys, and money. There was ice cream and peppermint candy. There were little boys and girls, and even the older men turned out to help this little girl with so much courage celebrate her birthday.

Saturday afternoon after the party Jean had to come back to the hospital for a while longer. Her right arm and both legs are still completely bandaged but her face is unscathed.

As we talked with her she told us of the party and what a good time she had. She told us about the gifts and we asked her if she had sort of a special "boy friend" whom she saw Saturday. She had a quick reply for that one as she said: "I love my daddy."

Life has been unkind at times to little Jean Kirkland. But through it all she has been smiling. This week her smiles were even broader than usual for she knows that friendship is warm and true—and everlasting.

Officers Of P.C.A. Attend Directors Conference

W. H. Smith, Sr., president of the Statesboro Production Credit Association, and Henry H. Durand and John H. Moore, members of the board of directors of the farmers cooperative credit association, returned this week from a state-wide conference of directors held at Savannah Beach.

According to Mr. Smith, the conference was devoted to a discussion of farm finance considerations, our economic situation as it affects Georgia agriculture, ways and means of improving credit service, and providing constructive services to farm members during the post-war period.

Josh T. NeSmith, secretary-treasurer, also attended the conference and said the group gave much thought to strengthening membership relations and plans for further progress in achieving complete ownership of the association.

The Statesboro P. C. A. serves farmers of Bulloch and Evans counties. Other directors are J. Harry Lee and W. D. Sands.

SHS Faculty List Told This Week

Three new faculty members will join the teaching staff at Statesboro High when school opens in September, according to an announcement made this week by Superintendent S. H. Sherman.

The new members are Miss Letta Gay, who will be in charge of the home economics department; Miss Joy Wilhite, office assistant; and Harold Pierman, who will be instructor in industrial arts.

The complete faculty list, as released by Mr. Sherman, is as follows:

First grade, Miss Bertha Hagin and Mrs. M. B. Lester; Second grade, Miss Rita Lindsey and Miss Janie Durence; Third grade, Miss Bessie Martin and Miss Ora Franklin; Fourth grade, Miss Helen Bowen and Miss Earle Lee; Fifth grade, Mrs. Julia M. Trappnell and Mrs. Foy Wilson; Sixth grade, Miss Sallie Steinhilber, who will also serve as principal of the elementary school and as Miss Sallie Prime; Seventh grade, Mrs. Nettie Allen and Miss Carole Deal.

In high school, Alvin L. McLendon will continue to serve as principal and instructor in science. Other high school faculty members are: Miss Mary Lou Carmichael, social science; Mrs. D. L. Deal, English; Miss Jeanette DeLoach, eighth grade English and social science; Miss Dorothy Brannen, English; Mrs. Sam J. Franklin, eighth grade mathematics and science; and Mrs. Leodea Coleman, languages.

Miss Elizabeth Sorrier, will serve as librarian; Ernest Teel, health and physical education; Miss Miriam Morris, commercial; Mrs. Bernard Morris, speech; Mrs. Verdie Hilliard, piano; George M. Shearouse, instrumental music; and Miss Wilhite, Miss Gay, and Harold Pierman.

J. B. Searce, Jr. Named New GTC Athletic Director

James B. Searce, Jr., former Norman Junior College coach, has accepted a position of director of physical education and athletics at Georgia Teachers College, according to an announcement made this week by Dr. Marvin S. Pittman, president emeritus of GTC.

Searce will assume his new duties on July 1, following completion of summer study for the master of arts degree at Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College.

In making the announcement, Dr. Pittman disclosed he and Searce had agreed on a program of physical education and intramural athletics designed to equal or exceed anything in the South. Searce will also coach basketball and baseball in revised intercollegiate plans, which may be expanded to include additional sports, Dr. Pittman said.

Firms Sponsor 'Miss Statesboro'

With the date of the contest rapidly drawing nearer, the "Miss Statesboro" committee of the Junior Chamber of Commerce announced this week that sponsor firms of Statesboro will sponsor individuals in the contest.

The committee said firms had made requests to sponsor entrants and that in answer to these requests this would be done. They said also that several persons had already entered the contest which will be judged July 15 at 8:30 p. m. at the Georgia Theatre.

Entry blanks may be obtained from Frank Aldred at the Walter Aldred Co., on West Main Street, with their two sons.

The clock requires winding once each week and this is done by the janitor, the custodian reported. He says it requires about 45 minutes for the winding to be completed since the clock's running mechanism must be wound, as well as the striking mechanism. At one time, he said, the clock was lighted, but the system was found to be unsatisfactory and discontinued. Since that time no move has been made to have the lighting reinstalled.

"If you've missed the 'old lady,'" Mr. Mitchell says, "that proves she's valuable."

Streamliner Due Here On July 9

July 9 is the date set by the Central of Georgia Railroad for the display of their modern streamliner, "Nancy Hanks II," in Statesboro.

The train will be viewed by the public from 9:30 to 10:30 a. m. at the Central of Georgia depot. Beginning sometime during the middle of the month, the train will begin a regular daylight schedule between Atlanta and Savannah. It will make stops at Dover at approximately 9:00 a. m. going to Atlanta and at 10:00 p. m. going to Savannah.

Two Local Students Will Take Military Training This Summer

Frank M. Blachurn and James W. Brannen are among the advanced ROTC cadets from the University of Georgia Military department who will don army khaki for a six-week military training period this summer.

Blachurn will report to Fort Meade, Md., for training while Brannen will train at Fort Benning, Ga.

J. B. Searce, Jr. Named New GTC Athletic Director

James B. Searce, Jr., former Norman Junior College coach, has accepted a position of director of physical education and athletics at Georgia Teachers College, according to an announcement made this week by Dr. Marvin S. Pittman, president emeritus of GTC.

Searce will assume his new duties on July 1, following completion of summer study for the master of arts degree at Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College.

In making the announcement, Dr. Pittman disclosed he and Searce had agreed on a program of physical education and intramural athletics designed to equal or exceed anything in the South. Searce will also coach basketball and baseball in revised intercollegiate plans, which may be expanded to include additional sports, Dr. Pittman said.

Firms Sponsor 'Miss Statesboro'

With the date of the contest rapidly drawing nearer, the "Miss Statesboro" committee of the Junior Chamber of Commerce announced this week that sponsor firms of Statesboro will sponsor individuals in the contest.

The committee said firms had made requests to sponsor entrants and that in answer to these requests this would be done. They said also that several persons had already entered the contest which will be judged July 15 at 8:30 p. m. at the Georgia Theatre.

Entry blanks may be obtained from Frank Aldred at the Walter Aldred Co., on West Main Street, with their two sons.

The clock requires winding once each week and this is done by the janitor, the custodian reported. He says it requires about 45 minutes for the winding to be completed since the clock's running mechanism must be wound, as well as the striking mechanism. At one time, he said, the clock was lighted, but the system was found to be unsatisfactory and discontinued. Since that time no move has been made to have the lighting reinstalled.

A Verse For This Week

Hope is the only good which is common to all men; those who have nothing more possess hope still.—Thales.

You Ought To Be Ashamed

You ought to be ashamed—if disgrace is one of the thoughtless drivers who, by careless parking, has helped destroy the chain and concrete fence in front of our county hospital.

Yes, you ought to be ashamed if you are one of those persons who recklessly drives up to the parking spaces in front of the hospital and plunges into the fence rather than park carefully.

No one can say the destruction of this fence was necessary. Emergency cases are handled from the rear of the hospital.

No one parking in front needs to be in such a hurry that they have to run up on the hospital grounds and knock down the fence.

Just one incident might be charged up to an accident, but for over half the fence to be destroyed—some 100 feet—one cannot say such a thing was accidental.

Go out to the hospital and have a look for yourself. It is something to make every decent person ashamed. It is a downright

Those without arms or legs, those without eyes or with platinum plates in their heads.

Don't stop reading now because you don't like to read about arms torn off or legs mangled. Tomorrow is July 4th—and you may be injured.

There is a bright side to the picture, however. Tomorrow is July 4th—and you may be alive, if:

You drive carefully, keeping within the speed limit or slower, if road conditions demand it.

You don't pass on curves or hills when visibility is restricted.

You check before you start to make sure your lights are in good condition and your brakes work.

Don't stop reading for tomorrow is July 4th—and you may be alive, if:

You don't mix drinking with your driving.

You don't try to be a "show-off" and think you will impress your passengers by your recklessness.

You dim your lights when meeting another car at night.

Yes, you can be alive tomorrow—July 4th—if you drive safely and sanely. It's just as easy as driving carelessly and it pays off great dividends in money, health, and in lives.

You can be alive tomorrow—if you try it.

DON'T LOSE YOUR SOCIAL SECURITY!

Are you one of those people who are losing retirement or death benefits due you under the Social Security Act? Martin J. Johnson, manager of the Social Security Office in Savannah, calls attention to the fact that many people in this area are not filing claim for the retirement and death benefits due them.

Fun at Home

By Margaret Charters Lyon
Boys and Girls: Read this to yourselves! Try it for yourselves!

The air bass, three miles beyond town on the Dover Road, is yours. It belongs to the citizens of our county. Right now it is used only for baseball, with empty buildings set in the woods and paved roads leading to special place. But some day it can be the finest sort of place for camping, parties and meetings. Some folks dream of a big lake there, space for games, cottages, whatever we want and can afford to get!

This week end, you and your family could drive all around the air base in a "day dreaming trip." You have the right to plan what you would like to see there just as well as the next fellow.

Where do you think the lake could be dammed up? If your church had a week's camp out there, which would be the best buildings for cabins? Where would you put a place to shoot bows and arrows? A softball field? A playground for the little children? Could one building be fixed up for people to give plays in? If a crowd of you went out for a wicker roost, where should fireplaces and tables be set? Right now there is a table at the end of the road in the woods; you all could take your lunch to eat while you explore tomorrow.

The really exciting part about ideas are important. That park your day dreaming is that you will be fixed up to suit the people who use it. So, if you, your family and friends have good suggestions, talk about them out loud.

Anyone old enough to read this can cook without help. And boys can do quite as well as girls. An easy thing to start with is desserts that you can buy in boxes all ready to fix.

Some afternoon when you have an hour at home, why don't you make a gingerbread cake? Buy a box called "gingerbread mix." Before you start mixing, start your oven to heating. Empty the box of gingerbread mix in a bowl; stir in the amount of water that the directions call for, or can put in some raisins, too. Then pour it in a big baking dish that you have rubbed inside with grease. Set it in the oven to bake.

Test it five minutes before the directions say it should be done. It a toothpick stuck in the middle comes out clean, the cake is done; if a little bit sticks, let it cook longer.

The last part of any cooking is cleaning up. Try to leave the kitchen so straight that your mother will be glad to have you work in it again.

Thinking Out Loud

The newly-organized unit of the National Guard in Statesboro is to be congratulated.

This post-war reorganization will bring from $60,000 to $75,000 into this area each year through drill pay alone. To date only 50 have responded to the call for volunteers. With good pay for one night of drill each week we believe more of the men of our community will be interested.

The new commanding officer, Lt. Col. Henry Ellis, is no stranger to matters military or to Statesboro. During the war he made an enviable record for himself in the service of his country. We commend his appointment and we feel that with his talents and ambition the Guard will march forward with our changing times.

We also commend his selection of a staff. These include Major LaFice Collins, Executive Officer; Major Penton Rimes, Plans and Training Officer; Captain Shields Kenan, CO of "A" Battalion; Lt. Leland Riggs, Adjutant; Lt. Albert Powell, Supply Officer; and Lt. Gene L. Hodges, CO of the Hq. Battalion.

Our support of the Guard now will mean better support from them if they are ever again needed.

WE OFTEN WONDER how and the rapid travel possible from here to our capital city, we believe a lot more people are going traveling.

Maybe before long you'll be running up for an afternoon movie.

THE GEORGIA POWER COMPANY office here had as its guests last week the winners in the recent essay contest sponsored by that company. The party was traveling all over the state on a tour which was given as a prize for winning.

During their brief stop in Statesboro the local manager, Sam Strauss, showed them over the city and had refreshments waiting for them when they returned.

As we were getting the finishing touches put on last week's issue he called and asked us to join in the catering and to meet the guests.

We found about 20 visitors, who had traveled from the mountains of north Georgia down the state and were headed for a few days at the coast, then a swing southward, and finally across the low-land which will start making or part of the state and back to Atlanta. Most of them were high school age youngsters who seem-ingly to own a car. With the low fares that have been announce-

Good Books Are True Friends

In the best books great men talk to us, give us their most precious thoughts, and pour their souls into ours.—Channing

By Mrs. F. F. Baker

"ANDROMEDA" — by Jacarand Marmur.

I don't know when I have read a book that impressed me as deeply as this, both the narrative itself and Mr. Marmur's unusually beautiful prose. It is the story of a grand old ship and her crew.

Andromeda is the last ship to sail out of Singapore before the Japs arrive and, although she's a cargo vessel, is carrying two passengers, Alexander Bane and Nancy Paget. Bane is a self-centered opportunist, who is carrying a fortune with him and who is secretively friendly with the Japs. Nancy is young and beautiful, and before long becomes the object of every crewman's day dreams.

John Fleming, the chief mate, has known her in the Philippines, and is in love with her, as she is with him, although she doesn't realize it yet. As for the crew, each one is so important to the story we must give them at least a paragraph. Mr. Wainwright, the chief engineer, who is a sweet, philosophical person, and a long time friend of the Captain, Thomas Kenross, who has been sailing the seas for forty years; Alfred Austen, who hardly ever speaks, and plays the violin; George, quarters master, who wants a promotion; "Chips," the bitter, sardonic carpenter; Boats, the bosun, and last, but not least, poor Joe, the oiler, who was badly disfigured in the first war and has been a little simple-minded since.

Slowly, the Andromeda makes her way through the Java Sea, but when attempting to run through Sunda Strait she is attacked by Jap planes. George is killed, and is buried at sea. Although Captain Kenross orders her to get to San Francisco, she decides to reach the Australian coast as soon as possible, for safety's sake.

When nearing Leeuwien Cape, he becomes aware that they are being followed by a submarine.

Bane, meanwhile, proposes to Nancy. She refuses and he tells her that if he identifies himself by means of signals, the Japs will let Andromeda alone. Nancy rushes out on deck, and seeing Joe, tells him to stand guard over Bane, while she notifies the Captain. At this moment, torpedoes strike the ship. Wainwright, Nancy Fleming, Bane (minus his money), Austen and Joe escape in a life-boat, while the Captain, pinned to the deck by wreckage, and dying, manages to set off a rocket, to signal the anti-submarine patrol at Perth.

HERE'S HOW it happens!

Yes, here's how more than 5,500 people died and thousands more were injured last year—because someone took one or two drinks, and then drove.

If you think you can drink and then drive safely you're simply courting suicide—or, murder. You're drinking a toast to Death!

Statistics show that one out of every six drivers involved in fatal automobile accidents had been drinking. Drinking drivers are three or four times more likely to be involved in accidents. Tests have proved time and again that a couple of drinks are sufficient to lower a driver's reactions to the danger point. When quick action and alert judgment are demanded, the driver who has been drinking, fails.

If it were only the drinking driver himself who paid the penalty, that would be bad enough. But when he cuts short the lives of other innocent people—riders in his car, occupants of other cars, or pedestrians caught by his erratic driving—that's manslaughter!

Don't smile when you read this, Mr. and Mrs. Citizen. The law operates with a heavy hand on drinking drivers. It is going to be even tougher in the future. It's serious business!

When you drink, don't drive. When you drive, don't drink!

Veterans Corner

How long does the readjustment allowance program continue? May a divorced wife claim part of a veteran's pension? Does a veteran have to pay a fee to get a guaranteed loan?

Here are the answers to these and other questions which former servicemen regularly ask contact representatives of the Veterans Administration:

Q. I divorced my wife on the grounds of desertion and would like to know if I am eligible for a pension.

A. The divorce discontinues marital relationship and your wife could not successfully claim a portion of your pension unless she successfully contests the divorce.

Q. How long after discharge from the armed services is readjustment allowance available to a veteran?

A. Readjustment allowances are available to an eligible veteran at any time after his discharge or release until two years after the date of his discharge or release or until two years after the official termination of the war, whichever is later.

Q. Can I specify in my National Service Life Insurance policy that in event my wife remarries after my death, payment of the balance of insurance benefits should be made to my mother?

A. No.

Q. Who is entitled to the last compensation or pension due a veteran in event of his death?

A. The check received at the time of the veteran's death becomes a part of his estate. The person who bears the expense of the last sickness may apply for the burial award of $150.

Q. Does the veteran have to pay any charges or fees to get a guaranteed loan?

A. The veteran pays no commission, brokerage fees or other charges for obtaining a guarantee.

How to Outsmart a River

Maybe you read about the flood in Litchfield County. It never bothered our town—even though the river's only half a mile away.

Seven years ago, the farmers around here got together—and put in a set of flood controls, to regulate high water, and protect our fields. It took a pack of labor and co-operation, but it worked.

We were talking about it in Andy's Garden Tavern, over a friendly glass of beer; and Andy was saying how it was like the brewing industry's Self-Regulation.

As he called it, The brewers work with beer retailers to help them maintain decent, clean taverns. Brewers don't want beer sold in the other kind. This system of moral suasion and self-control works mighty well, too, Andy says.

From where I sit, co-operative regulation is the best way of getting sure results—whether it's keeping our wheat fields healthy, or keeping our taverns neat and clean and law-abiding.

THE COURT HOUSE CLOCK has had its face washed and a dab of paint has improved its appearance.

THERE ARE gappings holes in foundation of the Postoffice that can't possibly be blamed on termites. The Internal Revenue Office is really in for a doing over. Better lighting, an entrance from the street on the south side, and other changes that will give Statesboro one of the prettiest in the state.

CARDS FROM Ethel Rushing et al. on the wanderings of Tommie, Eddie, Jackie, Billy and Ethel on a wonderful western tour. Posted over my range in the kitchen, they give me the opportunity to drink in the scenery and hit the high spots along their trail. While I'm waiting for the berry juice to boil I gaze at the gorgeous sunset from the Palisades of Santa Monica until a definite sizzle warns me that the stuff is boiling over. I visit the Hollywood Turf Club while the tea is steeping. I do love a horse race. That card says, "This is where we went to the races, beautiful place." I look at beautiful homes in Santa Monica overlooking a rolling eminence covered with purple and yellow flowers, red house tops, green shrubbery and a white-topped water lapping the shore while I roll out pie crust. And I'm saving the gay night spot until I've finished the butterbeans in the cooker. Ethel writes on that one, "This is where we went to dinner—and the floor show was out of this world." The show was at Earl Carroll's place. Horse races, boat races, carefree, a tour of Will Rogers' ranch and beautiful home, an opportunity to hear Freddie Martin and his orchestra, and a trip to Catalina, all while I prepare lunch. I'll bet everyone they saw something unusual, pretty, one, or all of them said, "Don't you wish Virginia was with us?" A family traveling together is wonderful, but if the whole family can't go how nice it is for—

Miller, packed up and drove off for a 2,000-mile trip in eight days. They may have had definite plans and a carefully considered route before they left home, but somewhere along the way they were discarded. Montgomery and New Orleans were on the schedule. Natchez was not. After passing it up they doubled back on an impulse and never for one minute regretted it. They visited eight of the most outstanding homes. Josephine was definitely seen on Rosalie as the prettiest. Scenes were reproduced from it for "Songs to Remember." They drove out to St. Francisville to the plantation home, Greenwood, where the "Foxes of Harrow" is being filmed. Though March is the month for the pilgrimages, the lady guide who has been showing tourists around for twelve years said she averaged $45 to $85 a week throughout the year. To add interest out of season are lovely dolls dressed in gowns, exact replicas of those worn by lovely girls and hostesses at each of the 32 homes open to visitors. They visited the home of Dorothy Dix. She and a group of women were playing bridge on a balcony. Now if they had dealt a hand to Jean, Dotty Dix might have learned a trick or two from Jean's system.

At Belingrath Gardens it was the season for crepe myrtle, blue hydrangeas, almandas, a lovely yellow flower, and deep purple water lilies were reflected in still lake waters, but a new plant took the eye of the prettiest thing I ever saw." It was loaded with clusters of rich red berries which are on it the year around. Ardisia is the name of it. Let's try some out here—this as a testimonial.

Mrs. Poindexter was telling Patty (Sara and Gordon's little girl) how beautifully her little cousins in Panama City could return thanks at the table. Patty said, "I could do that if you'd tell me the words." So Patty was told, but in closing, she added: "Dear God, I thank you for my sweet Pa."

NOW THIS may not sound elegant, but you may agree heartily with the plain-spoken young fellow, Bill Simmons, son of Irene and Billy, who had an operation this week. On entering the operating room, from which a patient had just been rolled out, he remarked, "This is the stinkiest place I ever smelt!"

"LADIES' NIGHT" for the J. C.'s at the Morris Hotel was a lovely affair. Ora Norris, who is to me a marvel of energy and a whiz of a business woman, had decorated the tables herself. There were tables to the right of the entrance to the left, and each had received the same artistic treatment. Trailing greenery dotted with white bell-shaped wall flowers, interspersed with white lilies with green and white tapers. I saw Susan

RIGGS-COLLINS

Of cordial interest to friends and large family connections in this section were the marriages of Miss Thelma Lee Wallace to Buell Olliff Dekle and of Miss Lucy Joyce Riggs to Mitchell-Loyd Collins in a beautiful double wedding ceremony at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Riggs near Statesboro on Wednesday afternoon, June 25, with Elder R. H. Kennedy, of Collins, officiating.

A program of wedding music was rendered by Miss Margaret Sherman, who sang "Because," and Bill and Bob Holland, who sang "I Love Thee."

Miss Wallace came as her maid of honor her sister, Mrs. Deweyetta Wallace, and Mr. Dekle had as his best man Neal Bowen, of Register.

Miss Dolores Riggs was maid of honor for her sister and Frank Ray, Jr., of Millen, served as Mr. Collins' best man.

The bridal party stood before a lovely altar of ferns, white oleander and magnolias occupying one end of the living room.

Miss Wallace chose for her wedding a smart crepe tropical suit with brown accessories. Her corsage was of orchids.

Miss Riggs' suit was a gray gabardine with pink silk blouse worn with white accessories. Her corsage was pink gladioli with stephanotis.

Mrs. Arthur Riggs, mother and aunt of the brides, wore a light blue summer crepe. Mr. Dekle's mother wore shell pink shantung embroidered in white. Mr. Collins' mother wore a beige crepe frock. All wore pink carnations.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Riggs entertained with a reception. The bride's table was overlaid with a handsome lace cloth and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake topped by a miniature bride and groom. Ivy and oleander outlined the table and cluster formations of white flowers cascaded with satin ribbon marked the corners of the table. White tapers in crystal holders were flanked the central decorations.

The guests were served individual embossed cakes, ice cream, and punch.

The guests were greeted by Mrs. Herschel Franklin and introduced to the receiving line, composed of the brides and grooms and their parents.

Serving in the dining room were Mesdames F. W. Olliff, R. P. Jones, Bannah Cowart, Lester Riggs, Gordon Riggs, C. O. Bohler, Ellie Rimes, Jimmy Atwood, W. W. Phillips and Arthur Brannen.

At the punch bowl on the porch were Mesdames Dot Royals, Elizabeth Lanier, Joan Phillips, Marilyn Jones, Mildred Dornay, Imogene Bohler, Mrs. Sidney Sanders and Mrs. D. J. Dornay.

Preceding at the bride's book were Mesdames Shirley Searouse, of

Savannah, and Miss Mary Evelyn Cartee.

In the gift rooms were Mrs. Johnnie McCorkle and Miss Dorothy Carolyn Riggs.

During the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Dekle left for a wedding trip to Fayetteville, N. C., while Mr. and Mrs. Collins left for Savannah Beach.

Among out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Olliff, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Phillips, Miss Joan Phillips, Mrs. Rita Bell, Mrs. O. E. Shearouse and daughter, Shirley, Mr. and Mrs. David Leon, Mrs. Dock White, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Tilton and son, Bobby, all of Savannah; Mrs. J. O. Phillips, Sr., Mrs. J. O. Phillips, Jr., Mrs. Bill Lawrence and daughter, Beverly Ann, of Adel; Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Phillips and sons, Sparky and Currell, of Rocky Mount, N. C.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ray, Sr., G. Altman received telegrams for low, and cut, hair lacquer, went to Miss Betty Rowe.

On Thursday evening the Deckers and their husbands and dates enjoyed a delightful steak supper at Will Woodcock's cabin.

Members, husbands, and dates present were: Mr. and Mrs. Billy Tiltman, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Altman, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Blanchette, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hagins, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Smith, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Hagan, Miss Betty Rowe and Edward Shepherd, of Millen; Miss Tracy Stephens and Connell Roughton, Miss Gwen West and Harold Waters.

WOOD-BARNES

Announcement was made last week of the engagement of Miss Reba Wood to Emmett W. Barnes. Plans have been made for an informal wedding at the Statesboro Baptist Church Saturday morning at eleven o'clock with Rev. T. Earl Serson officiating. Miss Wood will be given in marriage by her father, Mr. Ralph Leonard Wood.

Her maid of honor and only attendant will be Miss Ruth Gaskin, of East Point, Ga.

Mr. Barnes will have as his best man his cousin, Bradley Downs, Jr., of Cordele.

Music for the occasion will be furnished by Jack Averitt, organist, and Billy and Bobby Holland, who will sing.

Ushers will be Parrish Blitch, Dekle Banks, Fred Darley, Inman Poy, John Ford Mays, Worth McDougald.

BRIDGE AT SEWELL HOUSE

Highlighting the social affairs of last week were morning and afternoon bridge parties at Sewell House Thursday with Mrs. Everett Williams, Mrs. George Johnston, Mrs. Gilbert Cone and Mrs. W. A. Bowen as hostesses.

Guests were invited for seven tables in the afternoon. Mr. Gladoli and zinnias were the flowers used. On both occasions the hostesses served fancy sandwiches, succulents and cookies.

In the morning Mrs. Bowen presented gifts to her house guests, Mrs. McRae, receiving a hand-painted ash tray and Miss Lawson receiving stationery. For high score Mrs. E. L. Atkins was given a minna-kit. Mrs. Lawrence Malard won cut, a set of modernist glasses. With low score, Mrs. D. L. Davis was given a flower frog.

In the afternoon, Mrs. George Johnston complimented Mrs. Elliot Rountree, who has recently come here to make her home with a gift. Mrs. Jake Murray, winning top score, was awarded modernist glasses. Mrs. Bill Adams won a minna-kit for cut; for low, Mrs. Herbert Weaver was given a flower frog.

OUTDOOR SUPPER

Mr. and Mrs. Parker McRae, of Athens, and Miss Edna Lawson, of Sandsville, guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bowen, were the honorees at an informal outdoor supper Saturday evening.

A delicious supper of barbecued chicken, salad, lettuce and tomatoes, a dessert, and cocoa-cola, was served to ten couples.

District Meet Of 4-H Club Here July 24-26

Statesboro will be host July 24-26 to one of six district project achievement meetings being sponsored by the Georgia 4-H Club. The project meetings being held to select district representatives to the state 4-H Club Congress which will be held in Atlanta this fall, according to W. A. Sutton, state club leader.

The achievement meetings, Mr. Sutton said, will assemble county champions in various 4-H club projects. These county winners will give demonstrations at the district meetings and the best demonstrators will be selected to represent their district. State winners will, in some projects, receive free trips to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago.

"While some of the projects carry cash awards, bonds, free trips and college scholarships, the real objective of the 4-H project achievement meetings is to build the character of the members," Mr. Sutton declared. "A member taking part in one of these meetings learns to stand before a crowd and learn to think while standing. We believe such activities help to promote character development and citizenship."

Projects open to senior girls include interior paint, public speaking, rural electrification, bread, health, home improvement, egg marketing, dress revue, dairy foods, rifle and forestry. Senior boys may take part in projects in livestock, exterior paint, public speaking, rural electrification, health, egg marketing, sweet potatoes, dairy production, rifle, forestry and farm fence.

Demonstrations open to junior members are dress revue, public speaking, muffins and home improvement.

10 Seek Title Of 'Miss Statesboro'

Ten contestants have entered the contest sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce to select "Miss Statesboro," Horace McDougald, president of the organization, announced this week.

Listed by him as having entered the contest were: Miss June Attaway, sponsored by Henry's; Miss Gwen West, sponsored by Darby Lumber Co.; Miss Inez Stephens, sponsored by the Georgia Power Co.; Miss Liza Brantner, sponsored by H. Minkovitz and Sons; Miss Carolyn Bowen, sponsored by Hobson DuBois's Men's Furnishings; Miss Barbara Aldred Co.; Miss Imogene Bohler, sponsored by Donaldson-Smith Clothing Co.; Miss Margaret Ward Shop; and Miss Pat Preterorius, sponsored by the College Pharmacy.

At least ten other business firms have expressed a desire to enter a contestant in the contest but had made no official selection Wednesday afternoon. These firms include Franklin Chevrolet Co., the Model Laundry, the Fair Store, the Favorite Shoe Store, Bowen Furniture Co., Bulloch Tractor Co., Rucker Appliance Co., Lannie F. Simmons, Co., Alfred Dorman Co., Walker Tire and Battery Co.

The contest is scheduled to be judged Tuesday night, July 15, at 8 o'clock, in the Georgia Theatre. Jack Averitt has been named chairman of the committee to plan the program for ceremonies Tuesday night. He has announced that a small admission fee will be charged to cover expenses of the contest but pointed out that the contest will provide much entertainment.

The winner and runner-up will each be awarded an evening dress and a bathing suit and a tour to Columbus, where they will participate in the contest to name "Miss Georgia." The winner in Columbus will go to Atlantic City, N. J., to take part in the "Miss America" contest.

Contestants must be between the ages of 18 and 28 on September 1, 1947, must be citizens of the city or state in which the contest is held, unless attending college in the state where they enter the contest.

Veterans Told Of Overpay On GI Bill

Several thousand Georgia veterans who have been overpaid subsistence allowances and who may not re-enter school or training under the G. I. Bill until they make satisfactory arrangements for retraining, were today given three choices for repayment, according to Jack L. Biles, officer-in-charge of the Statesboro Contact Office.

First plan offered is for restitution in full, within ten days. The second plan, for veterans who plan to re-enter training within three months, authorizes the VA to withhold all future subsistence payments due until the overpayment is liquidated. The third plan, which deals with cases of undue hardship, authorizes deduction from subsistence checks or monthly payments of a specified amount, but not more than 10 percent of the amount due the government.

All veterans who have received overpayments may now obtain a return which they can make known their own choice of plans, from any Georgia Regional Office or sub-regional or contact office. If the proposed arrangement proves satisfactory to the VA, the veteran will then be eligible to re-enter school or training.

Army Air Forces Announces New Recruiting Plan

A new recruiting program for the Regular Army Air Forces was announced this week by Captain Jack McGeehan of the Statesboro recruiting station. Under the new program high school graduates may now apply and be selected for training in certain specialized Army Air Force courses of their choice prior to enlistment and without obligation.

Applicants should visit directly to the Commanding General, ATTC Barksdale Field, La., giving full name, address, age, race, summary of previous military training (if any), a transcript of their high school record, and three letters of recommendation. They should list three training courses in order of preference from the list of available courses below.

The Air Training Command will review all applications and notify each individual of selection or rejection. Accepted applicants will receive letters which authorize entrance to the course they choose, provided they are found qualified for enlistment.

The following courses are available to 3-year enlistees who select the Army Air Forces: Fabric and dope mechanics; airplane woodworker; aircraft welder; airplane engine mechanic; control tower operator; parachute rigger and repair man; bomb sight mechanic; small arms weapons repair; airplane armorer; combined courses, remote control turret repairman and mechanic; radio general course; radar fundamentals; telephone and telegraph cable splicer; telephone and telegraph equipment repairman; telephone mechanic repairman and installer; repairman, weather observer; photolithographer (PT); photographer; draftsman and equipment mechanic; topographic, powerman, electrician, plumber, surveyor, refrigeration mechanic, water supply technician, construction equipment operator, construction equipment mechanic, diesel mechanic, operating engineer, machinist, sheet metal worker, combination welder and blacksmith, tabulating machine operator, clerk-typist, cryptographer, technician and AAF military police.

For further information see the recruiting sergeant at the post office in Statesboro each Friday from 8:30 to 3:30 p. m.

'Nancy Hanks II' Comes To Town In Fine Style

The Central of Georgia Railroad's million-dollar streamliner, Nancy Hanks II, took to the rails in Savannah Wednesday, kicked up a little dust behind her heels, and rolled into Statesboro for a brief inspection.

A crowd estimated at some 150 persons met the sleek "Sunliner" at Dover Wednesday morning, according to Jack L. Biles, officer-in-charge of the Statesboro Contact Office.

First plan offered is for restitution in full, within ten days. The second plan, for veterans who plan to re-enter training within three months, authorizes the VA to withhold all future subsistence payments due until the overpayment is liquidated. The third plan, which deals with cases of undue hardship, authorizes deduction from subsistence checks or monthly payments of a specified amount, but not more than 10 percent of the amount due the government.

The doors of the car were opened and the gathered crowd and as soon as they were boarded two sharp blasts from the engine's powerful horn cut the air and announced the departure from Dover. The time was 8:42.

The big train moved slowly across the Ogeechee river trestle and continued to Dover. It moved slowly and majestically, with fields of tall South Georgia corn waving slowly in the morning air on each side. At houses along the Central's short-line route people gathered to gaze at the mighty monarch of the rails.

At Clito, once the site of much railroad activity and agricultural development, C. L. Smith, an engineer on the Central for thirty years, gave a long blast of his horn that sounded strangely unfamiliar to those aboard who had known only the steam whistle that used to blast through the hum of activity in that community.

Mill Creek trestle was passed with kids glaring at the windows to glimpse that famous swimming hole that has brought pleasure to so many. At 9:10 the streamliner pulled into Statesboro to be met by the High School band and a crowd of more than 2,000, who had come from Porterdale, from Milledgeville, from Metter, and from all the surrounding countryside to see this miracle of the rails.

Doors were opened and the long lines began to form as young and old filed through to view this modern means of transportation. Literature was given out by railroad officials that pointed out that "Statesboro is the home of Georgia Teachers College and is situated in one of the State's most productive counties. The annual value of its farm products is more than six million dollars" and that "it is an important livestock and tobacco center."

The train, at present, consists of four cars. The first is a deluxe coach-baggage car for colored patrons, seating 56. Commenting on this car, M. P. Callaway, trustee of the railroad, said this was the finest passenger car for colored passengers on any railroad in the South. Accommodations are almost identical with those of the cars for white passengers.

The second car is a deluxe coach seating 68 passengers. This car is divided into two sections in order to provide better accommodations. The third car is the grill-lounge coach with accommodations for 16 in the dining section, 6 at the snack bar, and 24 in the lounge. The fourth car is a deluxe coach seating 56 passengers. The most modern rest rooms and lounge facilities for men and women are included in each car. The train is completely air-conditioned for summer traveling and is heated in winter. It is soundproofed to the greatest extent possible.

Men File 35% Of Claims For Unemployment

Only thirty-five per cent of the 14,000 state unemployment compensation claims filed in Georgia during May were made by men, Commissioner of Labor Ben T. Hulet pointed out this week in Atlanta upon releasing an analysis of the May operations of the Employment Security Agency.

The number of white claimants was seven times the Negro total. Approximately half the claimants were semi-skilled workers. Mr. Hulet said. Percentage of total claims as filed by other general occupational groups were as follows: Unskilled, 21.9; skilled, 11.6; clerical, 6.1; service, 3.9; sales, 3.1; managerial, 0.7; professional, 0.6; agricultural, 0.5.

Officials of her trips on the "Nancy II" and told about a trip from Savannah to Guyton which took five and a half hours, due to changing the tracks from wide to narrow gauge. When she arrived Mrs. Arden had with her a bouquet of red sweet peas, picked from her flower garden, and she presented them to the engineer, to be placed in the cab of the diesel.

She told listeners of the time her husband engineered a private member, was a handsome thoroughbred, painted a royal blue and trimmed with gold leaf. It carried motor cars and maintained a schedule between Savannah and Atlanta that was phenomenal for its era, and is not often surpassed even in today's railroading. Eighty miles per hour was frequently registered on the first Nancy Hanks speedometer tape. The train was regarded with affection and pride by the citizens of Georgia, and an old Negro ballad of the day read:

"Some folks say that Nancy can't run;
But stop, let me tell you what the Nancy done;
She left Atlanta at half past one,
And got to Savannah at the settin' of the sun."

Today, 44 years later, the Nancy Hanks II makes the Savannah-Atlanta run in some five and one-half hours. There will be one trip each way per day, leaving Dover at 9:00 a. m. and arriving in Atlanta at 1:40 p. m. On the return trip the train leaves Atlanta at 6:00 p. m. and arrives at Dover at 10:22 p. m.

On "Nancy's" return trip to Dover from Statesboro yesterday, her oldest passenger was 84-year-old Mrs. D. D. Arden, of Statesboro, whose husband was, before his death, an engineer for the Central of Georgia. A cousin of the late Mr. Arden, Frank Arden, was an engineer for the original "Nancy" back in the 1890's. Mrs. Arden told the railroad

H. C. Osburn, formerly agent for the railroad in Statesboro and now assistant general claim agent, was also on the trip.

Chances are 3 to 1 those victims were in a hurry—they took the short way across the middle of the block, instead of the safe way at the crosswalk. They stepped out suddenly from behind a parked car, instead of looking both ways—see if the road was clear, or waiting until the traffic light had turned green.

Wait A Minute—
Did you have eggs for breakfast? Lots of people do. Eggs taste good, they're good for you, and besides, they're quickly prepared when you're late for work and time is precious.

Lives are precious, too. In the three minutes or so while your breakfast eggs were boiling, at least two pedestrians were killed or injured somewhere on the nation's highways—maybe in your community. While you were eating, another ten or more met with disaster.
