NANCY ELLIS OBSERVES SEVENTH BIRTHDAY

On Saturday afternoon, Mrs. Henry Ellis honored her daughter, Nancy, on her seventh birthday with a lovely party. Outdoor games were played. The table in the yard was centered with the beautifully emossed birthday cake with candles, and the guests were served ice cream, cake and punch. The favors were bags of candy. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Lewis Ellis and Mrs. W. H. Ellis. Thirty of Nancy's friends enjoyed the occasion with her.

VISITOR CELEBRATES EIGHTH BIRTHDAY

Birthdays aren't so bad when you're visiting your grandmother and she pitches a party for you, and, furthermore, two great-grandmothers are among the guests. This all happened to little Shirley Ann Davis, of Perry, Fla., who was visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Pearl Davis, who entertained for her Saturday with a party celebrating her eighth birthday. Her great-grandmothers present were Mrs. Dan Davis and Mrs. Bartow Parrish. Shirley Ann's guests were Jerry Register, Jane Brannen, Joy Brannen, Myra Alice Prosser, Beverly Brannen, Patricia Brannen and Noel Benson. After eating birthday cake and ice cream they enjoyed a movie, "THE DECKERS". Mrs. J. G. Altman and Mrs. T. L. Hagan were co-hostesses Wednesday afternoon as they entertained the Deckers at Mrs. Altman's home. Zinnias and petunias were combined in effective arrangements in the pretty home. The guests were served coleslaw, tuna fish salad, rice crackers, potato chips and open-faced sandwiches. For high score Mrs. Billy Tillman received a kitchen scrap book, Miss Green West, with low, was given note paper, and memo pads were to Mrs. Tom Smith for cut. Other players were: Mrs. Harold Hagns, Mrs. Eli Macon, Jr., Mrs. Bob Blanchette and Miss Dot Flanders, Virginia Akint, Dorothy Ann Kennedy and Inez Stephens.

THREE YEARS OLD FRIDAY

Little Allison Mikell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mikell, celebrated her third birthday on Friday afternoon with a "play party" at her home on Zetterow Avenue. Movies were made of these very young people as they played at their games and heartily disposed of ice cream, cake, and baskets of candy. Air planes were given as favors. Allison's guests were: Mary Emnie and Cynthia Johnston, Tessie Bryan, Rusty Hodges, James Crouse, Dotty Donaldson, Marjorie Parker, Frank Parker III, Marshall Cannon, Jane Ann Everett, Carley Bushing, William DeLoach, Lindsey Johnston and Linda Coleman.

Civic Clubs To Mark Highway For Tourists

The Statesboro Chamber of Commerce has ordered a series of signs designed to direct tourists through Statesboro on U. S. Highway 25. This announcement was made this week by officials of the organization. The announcement went on to point out that the Junior Chamber of Commerce has prepared a program designed to divert tourist travel from competing highways to U. S. 25. This highway enters the state from the north at Augusta, continues through Waynesboro, Millen, through Statesboro to Claxton, Glennville, Jesup, Folkston, and into Florida. The series of signs are now being prepared and will be placed at points north and in Augusta. Regulation highway signs will be used between Augusta and Statesboro. The Millen Chamber of Commerce and the Waynesboro Rotary Club are cooperating with the local organization in financing the advertising campaign. The local organization is also undertaking to mark the route clearly through Statesboro in order that tourist will not get lost in passing through town. The four famous trails through the city will be so marked that visitors will know them. These trails include the Thomas E. Watson highway, the Okefenokee trail, the Charles H. Herty Memorial highway and the Tobacco Belt route.

Jaycees Host To Group From Savannah

Some twenty-five members of the Savannah Junior Chamber of Commerce were guests yesterday of the Statesboro Jaycee organization. The group traveled to Statesboro in a motorcade, arriving about 3 o'clock. They went to Sheppard's warehouse to observe the tobacco market activities before they arrived tobacco selling for the day was almost completed. Arrangements were made with the tobacco officials to continue selling for a few minutes to give the Savannah group a chance to see just what the auction was like. Last night the Statesboro Jaycees were hosts at a supper for the visiting group. They expect to make a return visit to Savannah in about two weeks.

Country Club Golf Course Open To Public

Thad Morris, president of the Forest Heights Country Club, announces that the golf course will be open to the public during the month of August. There will be a 50 cents green fee, the same as regular members pay. Mr. Morris further states that the purpose of this is to get more people acquainted and interested in the golf course. An intensive membership drive will be made at some date in the near future to make possible the construction of a $50,000 club house. "Red" Roberts, local golf professional, has volunteered to furnish clubs and brief lessons to beginners during the month of August. The public is cordially invited to take advantage of this generous offer. The greens at the course have been re-worked and are now in excellent condition.

Franklin Drug Installs Air Conditioning

Franklin Drug Company, located on East Main Street, Statesboro, has the distinction this week of being the first business house in Statesboro and Bulloch county to be completely air conditioned. The only other air conditioned building in the county are the studios of radio station WVVNS. The 5-ton unit was installed this week by Rooker Appliance Co., who are exclusive representatives in this area for the "Typhon Prop-R-Temp" air conditioning unit manufacturing company. The unit installed at Franklin's not only cleans the air, but moves it throughout the store, and controls temperature and humidity. Franklin's has been in business at the same location for 41 years, it having been founded in 1906 by Dr. Paul G. Franklin. At the present time this drug store claims the distinction of being the only drug store in the county that has a registered pharmacist on duty at all times when the doors are open. Dr. Franklin himself is a pharmacist, as well as his son, P. G. Franklin, Jr., who is associated in business with him. Also with the firm is Dr. Robert West, a registered pharmacist of local experience. The staff at Franklin's invites you to come in and "cool off."

Red Cross Elects New Officers Here

R. H. Ramsey was re-elected to head the Bulloch county chapter of the American Red Cross at the annual meeting held here recently. Mr. Ramsey took over the presidency of the Bulloch chapter during the year to succeed E. L. Barnes, who resigned. Other officers elected were Allen R. Lanier, treasurer; Miss Isabel Sorrier, secretary; Robert F. Donaldson, publicity director. Directors named include S. H. Sherman, F. W. Hodges, W. E. McElveen, Gilbert Cone, D. B. Turner, Dr. John Mooney, Mrs. J. D. Fletcher, and home service worker. Committee chairman named for the new term were: Community services, Mrs. Eva Simmons; disaster, Dr. Hugh F. Arundel; fund raising, Howard Christian; home service, Mrs. Grady Bond; first aid, J. E. Smith; Junior Red Cross, Miss Aline Whiteside; water safety, Miss Irma Spears; volunteer special services, Mrs. Alfred Dorman; home nursing, accident prevention, to be supplied.

Gay Bros. Open Freezer Locker In Sylvania

Two Bulloch county young men have established themselves in business in Sylvania and opened the Gay Brothers Freezer Locker. They are Hubert Gay and B. P. Gay, and have installed 600 lockers and 600 meat curing bins in their establishment. The installation of the Erick cooling unit in the plant was done by Rooker Appliance Company of Statesboro.

L. A. WATERS FURNITURE STORE HOLDS BIG SALE

Readers will note with interest a full page advertisement in today's Herald announcing the sale at reduced prices of furniture at the L. A. Waters Furniture Co. on West Main. Mr. Waters invites your attention to this ad and invites you to come and let him take care of your furniture needs.

Man Held Here on Murder Charge

Walter Keel, about 20, is being held in Bulloch county jail today on a charge of murder in connection with the death Saturday night of Lloyd Simmons. The charges grew out of an incident which occurred Saturday afternoon involving the arrest of both Keel and Simmons on a charge of being drunk on the streets of Statesboro. Mayor Gilbert Cone gave the following account of the affair as it was reported to him by city police officers: Keel was arrested Saturday afternoon on a charge of being drunk and was placed in the city jail. Later, Simmons, an older man than Keel, was arrested on the same charge and taken to the jail. Police said they noticed Simmons appeared to be sick, that his stomach was swollen, and that he was obviously in need of medical attention. Acting on orders previously given by Mayor Cone, which required that the city physician be summoned when any elderly or sick person was arrested, the arresting officers immediately called the physician, who came and ordered the man taken to Bulloch County Hospital. This immediately done and Simmons died at the hospital Saturday night. Keel was tried on the drunkenness charge in Mayor's court Monday morning, was fined and released. He was immediately re-arrested pending an investigation into the death of Simmons. Yesterday, W. Meldrim Simmons, of Savannah, a relative of the deceased, swore out a warrant charging Keel with the murder of Lloyd Simmons. Keel was then booked on this charge and moved to the Bulloch county jail. The report of the medical examiner, dealing with the cause of death of Simmons, was not available for publication as the Herald went to press.

Wounded Vets Visit City To See Tobacco Market

Twenty-three battle scarred veterans, now hospitalized at the General Hospital, Augusta, were guests in Statesboro Tuesday. One of them reported, as he left, that "I had the best time I've had since I was in the army." The group came to Statesboro as guests of the local chapter of the American Red Cross. An idea originating with the recreation division of the hospital suggested that patients at the hospital who had never seen tobacco auctions be taken on a trip to some market in the vicinity to observe how tobacco is sold. The idea was transmitted to the Augusta chapter of the Red Cross, which approved it and got in touch with Mrs. J. D. Fletcher, executive secretary of the local Red Cross. Mrs. Fletcher immediately made arrangements to entertain the visitors while here, and Tuesday, thanks to Mrs. Fletcher's careful planning, things went off without a hitch. The twenty-three men, traveled in a special bus, which was met at the city limits by Mayor Gilbert Cone and Fred Hodges, chairman of the Board of County Commissioners. A police escort, with sirens screaming led the way to the home of Miss Aline Whiteside, who entertained with a waltz-ternoon cutting. Miss Whiteside was formerly associated with Red Cross recreational activity for wounded veterans and knew just what would "fit the spot." After the last ice-cold melon had been cleared away the group moved to the tobacco warehouses where ten members of the Junior Red Cross, especially chosen for the occasion, were on hand to show the group through the market, explaining every step in the selling process. After observing the market in operation, the veterans were taken to the Statesboro Woman's Club room where the local chapter entertained with a barbecue dinner, prepared and served under supervision of several Statesboro ladies, themselves members of the Red Cross. Mrs. Eva Simmons, director of community service, was active in directing the dinner and was ably assisted by Miss Penny Allen and others. The dinner completed activities of the group in Statesboro since they had to return to Augusta in time for the evening meal. But the group reported such a good time that Mrs. Fletcher is sure she will arrange for the Red Cross chapter here to entertain similar groups as often as possible.

Name Change Announced By Colonial Stores

Big Star, Little Star, Pender and Rogers self-service grocery stores, all operated by the same company and among the largest retail food systems in the nation, will be known as Colonial Stores from now on, officials of Colonial Stores, Incorporated, announced Tuesday. The new name and a new distinctive trademark, the CS rooster, will serve the identify the stores, as well as the company's private brand of merchandise. The unique trademark, created by an outstanding designer of labels and trademarks, shows a rooster with the body formed by the letters "CS". In a message to the company's more than 5,000 employees in Georgia, Virginia, North and South Carolina, Hunter C. Pheasant, president, pointed out that the new name and trademark are part of a normal development and expansion program. He said that the company was eager to identify all of its stores through one name and label, especially in view of the fact that packaging and distribution of private label merchandise are expanding. In making the announcement, Colonial Stores officials emphasized the fact that introduction of the new name and emblem entails no management changes or transfers. Eighty-nine newspapers are being used "CS" week to announce the identification changes for Colonial Stores. The first store of this organization was opened forty-five years ago and the company was among the pioneers of a low-price, cash-and-carry operation.

J. D. Boatright Has Paper Money 145 Years Old

J. D. Boatright, who is employed at the College Pharmacy, believes he has one of the oldest pieces of United States money in Bulloch county. The paper bill, in the amount of fifteen cents, which he says was printed in 1803. The bill measures approximately one and one-half inches by three inches and has a very worn appearance. It was printed by the National Bank Note Co., of New York, and bears the signature of one John Aldison, who was listed as the "Register" of the Treasury. The bill, labeled "fractional currency," has a picture of a woman with an eagle atop her head on one side, and the amount, enclosed by a fancy engraved design, on the other. It states upon the bill that it can be used to pay all legal debts not in excess of five dollars. Young Boatright collects foreign money as a hobby and received this piece when a friend gave him a wad of foreign paper bills. He is attempting to get it evaluated at the present time.

What Will You Do ?

The problem of "motor-bikes" miles per hour. and "motor-scooters" on Statesboro streets is rapidly becoming more acute and of greater magnitude. The problem grows great as the number of the vehicles increases.

A recent incident involving a twelve-year-old boy riding a "motor-bike" and running into the side of a rapidly-moving truck brings the situation to a peak that the Herald considers it necessary to comment upon editorially. We do this in the hope that mothers and fathers of the community will consider the problem and do their share towards solving it.

The solution lies not so much with our law-making bodies. The problem seems to be not so much in having the gasoline-powered vehicles on our streets many times as much as in having the "motor-bike" and "motor-scooter" riders who are not capable enough to handle them.

When my children's legs are tired and I still am not through, I let them go to the little park beyond the railroad and watch the children play on the grass.

Now! What will you do when your child owns such a vehicle? Think what you would say if you knowingly permitted your son or daughter to operate one of these vehicles—and he or she were not prepared to operate it safely—and an accident occurred, injuring your child for life.

For it's time then to DO something necessary to insure the safe handling of a vehicle at 30 or 40 miles per hour.

The Editor's Uneasy Chair

The Almanac Says the Weather This Week On . . .

TODAY, THURSDAY, August 7, will be rainy.
FRIDAY, August 8, will be cooler.
SATURDAY, August 9, will be fair.
SUNDAY, August 10, will continue fair and warmer.
MONDAY, August 11, will be windy and cooler.
TUESDAY, August 12, will be hot.
WEDNESDAY, August 13, will be unsettled.

... But Don't Blame Us If the Almanac Is Wrong!

One of the best things we think drivers in bad traffic signals or could be done in Statesboro and no signals at all. Roughly, less than 20 per cent of the drivers in movies of drivers on our city streets both to give signals and on our highways and when stopping, or turning, then show them back to the sub—and a large percentage of these jets of the movies and point out do not give the proper signal, some of the dangerous habits. Recently we saw a man drive down the street with his arm out the window, indicating a turn to the left. We followed him for about six blocks and he never did turn. For some reason he decided to see the most flagrant violation of good driving habits.

One of the greatest faults with no indication of his intention to

Fun at Home

By Margaret Charlton Lyon
Boys and Girls: Read this to yourselves! Try it for yourselves!

Let's suppose you have to go to town with your folks to buy something you want. You go right to the store and get your thing—ama-jig, but your family has a pile of shopping left. Do you sit in the car, or follow your mother around, getting tired and cross, or do you make an adventure of that extra time and see many sights?

Often when I go to town I take three or five children just for the fun of it. The children who get into trouble at stores are left at home. I take only the good-natured sightseers. Usually, they follow me on each errand, but sometimes their interest is caught on the way and I leave them, to pick them up later. Here are some of the things they like:

People at work making or fixing things are always fun to see. The coffee grinding machine at the Little Star spoils fine coffee into a bag; the clerk seems to like having children watch her. Mr. Morris has a new meat cutting machine in his grocery store that would saw off a finger—or a nose—as easily as it does a soup bone. Hodges Bakery keeps my crowd interested for a long time with a doughnut machine; the batter comes pouring down in doughnut shape, deep fat fries it, a turner flips it over and it pops out to wait for the man to take it.

The children go into each place wondering: "What interesting thing can I see in here?" And they almost always find something. If I have time to wait, and if all of the youngsters with me know the rules for watching, many of the business men will let them go back to see how the work is done. A shoe repair shop and a bicycle repair shop, a dry cleaner, either newspaper office, a furniture making shop, all welcome responsible boys and girls.

I know a boy whom workers are glad to have around. Somehow he gets many of them to explain things to him; then they invite him to come again or to help them. I asked him to tell you a few rules for watching, and this is what he said:

1. Don't touch.
2. Don't bother the keeper if he is busy.
3. Asking questions is the main thing. Don't keep asking the same question; just ask it once. If the man answers as if his mind is on something else, don't talk any more. If he says, "Well" and goes on to explain it, then you can ask him some more.
4. When my children's legs are tired and I still am not through, I let them go to the little park beyond the railroad and watch the children play on the grass.

Now! What will you do when your child owns such a vehicle? Think what you would say if you knowingly permitted your son or daughter to operate one of these vehicles—and he or she were not prepared to operate it safely—and an accident occurred, injuring your child for life.

For it's time then to DO something necessary to insure the safe handling of a vehicle at 30 or 40 miles per hour.

Proper signals are not a matter of choice with the individual driver. They are required by law and enforcement officials here should just as readily make a case against a driver who fails to give the proper signal as one who parks overtime beside a parking meter.

A few traffic tickets handed out to those who continue to violate the law would do much to give us a safer community.

Another dangerous practice—but one which our able policemen have almost stopped—is the practice of double parking. A crowded street is no place to try to pass another vehicle that has double parked. Congratulations to the police of Statesboro for what they have done in this direction and may they continue their efforts.

These are not the only things many of our drivers do. They pass on curves and hills. They take too much room on the highway and sometimes force other motorists out onto the shoulders of the road. They violate the speed limits. Often automobiles are seen on the streets of Statesboro with

Congratulations Miss West

Congratulations and Good Wishes to Miss Gwen West, attractive young Statesboro lady, who, as representative of our city, took third runner-up place in the "Miss Georgia" contest Friday.

Not only did her winning bring honor to Miss West, but it brought recognition to Statesboro as well. We, as citizens, are all ways happy when those in our midst journey to distant places and there, by their activities, bring distinction to their home.

"straight exhausts" or "cut-outs" and, while these noise-making set-ups may seem pretty "sporty" to the driver of the offending vehicle, they are not so "sporty" to those who are sick or nervous. The law forbids such a vehicle to operate in Georgia. Let's keep them out of Statesboro, too.

We have come a long way in traffic law enforcement. Our police force is doing a good job with parking meter enforcement. Let's lighten down on those other items and really have a safe, quiet community.

TO MOTHERS: If you ever wonder what to do with your children—when shopping, when looking for recreation, or under almost any conditions—read "Fun at Home," which appears in the Herald each week. In "Fun at Home" parents can find many suggestions of interest regarding children.

Numerous Social Affairs Precede Marriage Of Popular Couple

Mrs. Thad Morris and Mrs. Robert Morris were hostesses Thursday morning at a co-cola party, a pretty compliment to Miss Mary Frances Groover, whose marriage to Jim Watson will take place Saturday.

Picardy gladioli and var-colored roses added a festive touch to the lovely home.

Cheese straws, pimiento-cheese sandwiches, olives, stuffed artichoke hearts, butterfingers, dipity and chocolate fudge were the dainty refreshments served with the morning coffee.

Miss Groover appeared most attractive and cool in a yellow batiste frock with eyelid top. She was the recipient of a pair of percale pillow cases.

In a word-building contest Mrs. Bernard Morris won Blue Grass toilet water.

Those invited were Mesdames Walker Hill, W. R. Lovett, W. P. Brown, Elloway Forbes, Bob Darby, Bernard Morris, G. C. Coleman, Jr., Joe Robert Tillman, Frank Olliff, Jr., Curtis Lane, Gerald Groover, Bud Tillman, Bob Niver, Misses Mary Frances Groover, Helen Rowe, Karlyn Watson, Betty Bird Foy, Julie Turner, Maxann Foy and Betty Jean Cone.

On Thursday afternoon Miss Groover, in a crisp white eyelid top, and a white flower hat, was the central figure at a lovely seated tea given by Mrs. Frank Olliff, Sr., Mrs. Frank Olliff, Jr., and Mrs. E. L. Atkins at the Olliff home on Grady Street.

Mixed summer flowers were used for the decorations and the hostesses, assisted by Mrs. B. B. Morris, served a dessert course.

In contests prizes were won by Mrs. G. C. Coleman, Jr., Mrs. Biddy Barnes and Miss Betty Jean Cone. The bride-elect's gift was towels.

Guests included Mesdames W. R. Lovett, Walker Hill, Buddy Barnes, W. P. Brown, Bud Tillman, Cecil Waters, Jr., J. C. Hines, Bob Darby, Bob Niver, Elloway Forbes, Joe Robert Tillman, Bernard Morris, Gerald Groover, Albert Green, Emory Allen, Robert Morris, Curtis Lane, Karl Watson (of Register), Dew Groover, Jim Doolittle, A. B. Anderson, Misses Karlyn Watson, Helen Rowe, Betty Bird Foy, Julie Turner, Maxann Foy and Janice Arundel.

Mrs. Curtis Lane was hostess at a bridge party for Miss Groover on Friday afternoon at her home on North Main Street.

Summer flowers were used in decorating. Mary chose for this party a stunning brown crepe frock with brown feathered hat. Her gift from Mrs. Lane was a dinner plate.

Mrs. Bob Niver, in a lucky streak, won both high and cut prizes, a china ash tray and a decorative flower frog. Mrs. W. R. Lovett received lipstick tissue for her gift.

Peach shortcake and cakes were served the players.

Players were Mesdames Gerald Groover, Walker Hill, W. P. Brown, Elloway Forbes, Frank Olliff, Jr., G. C. Coleman, Jr., Joe Robert Tillman, W. R. Lovett, Bud Tillman, Bob Niver, Bernard Morris, Misses Betty Jean Cone, Janice Arundel, Helen Rowe, Mary Frances Groover and Mrs. Lane.

Miss Groover, charming in black linen worn with red accessories, was honor guest Saturday morning at a bridge party given by Mrs. J. C. Hines at her apartment on North College.

Mrs. Hines' gift to Miss Groover was a piece of her silver.

Mrs. Walker Hill, with top score, received a double deck of cards. Stationery went to Mrs. Joe Robert Tillman for low, and a nest of ash trays for cut was won by Mrs. Biddy Barnes.

Other players were Mesdames Bernard Morris, Bob Niver, Elloway Forbes, Curtis Lane, Bud Tillman, Gerald Groover, Misses Julie Turner and Helen Rowe.

The guests were served assort-

Bascot, Mr. Bascot and their little daughter, Becky, of Pascagoula, Miss.

Mrs. W. H. Ellis left Tuesday for Fayetteville, N. C., to visit her sister, Mrs. Baker.

Mrs. Alfred Dorman and Mrs. Paul Saue went up to Atlanta Friday on the Nancy Hanks III. Mrs. Saue attended a meeting of the Delta Zeta Sorority at the Atlanta Women's Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Bland spent several days last week at Clayton and visited their son, Billy, and Steve Sewell at Camp Dixie.

Miss Malvina Trussell left on Thursday for a vacation trip to Columbus.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Howard and son, Jerry, attended camp meeting at Mt. Mariah at Weens last Sunday.

Miss Louise Wilson, of Chattanooga, Tenn., was the guest of Misses Dorothy and Sue Kennedy during the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. John Daniel Deal and daughter, Barbara Gray, returned Monday from a visit to Augusta. Mrs. Deal and daughter stopped in Waynesboro to visit her parents.

James Hobson Donaldson returned last week from Washington, D. C., Baltimore and Alexandria, while away he visited Mrs. Tommy Strickland and Mrs. T. W. Lowe.

Mrs. Bob Darby, of Atlanta, is here for a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Bradley.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Rushing's guests this week are Mrs. Rushing's mother, Mrs. E. W. Parris, and her sister, Mrs. E. H. Parris.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Strauss and daughter, Jane, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Coleman and daughter, Linda, spent Sunday at Parris Island with Private Sam Strauss, Jr.

Mrs. Imman Foy returned home from Milledgeville, Ga., Friday to attend funeral rites for Dr. S. J. Crouch, Mrs. P. L. Sutter, of Columbia, S. C., joined her sister at that point and arrived with her to pay last respects to a lifelong friend and neighbor.

RELATIVES HERE FOR FUNERAL SERVICES

Among relatives called here because of the death of their uncle, Dr. S. J. Crouch, were: Sam Crouch of Quincy, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Crouch, of Augusta, and John Crouch, Miss Estelle Crouch and Mr. and Mrs. Mesdames, of North Carolina.

ed sandwiches, cookies and co-cola.

PARTY FOR VISITOR

Mrs. J. C. Hines entertained at her mother's (Mrs. Jim Moore's) Wednesday for her house guest, Mrs. George Lunak, of Hinesville, inviting guests for two tables of the bridge.

A variety of summer flowers were used in the living room.

The hostess presented Mrs. Lunak with a lovely fan. Mrs. Lunak also received a vase for high score.

Mrs. Hollis Cannon received salt and pepper shakers for low.

Mrs. Hines served party sandwiches, cookies and co-cola.

Other guests were Mrs. Henry Ellis, Mrs. Claud Howard, Mrs. Wendell Burke, Mrs. Cohen Anderson and Mrs. Joke Murray.

FOURTEENTH CLUB

On Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Jones were hosts to the Fourteenth Club and a few additional guests.

Artistic arrangements of summer flowers effectively decorated the lovely home.

A dessert course was served early in the evening and refreshing drinks were served after the games.

A collapsible sportsman's cushion was awarded Lester Brannson, Jr., for men's high; ladies' high, hostess books, went to Miss Julie Turner. Mrs. Bob Niver won a novelty darning ball for ladies' cut. Dr. J. L. Jackson won book markers for men's cut.

The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Lester Brannson, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Braswell, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Keith, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Maltz, W. C. Hodges, Dr. L. L. Jackson, Misses Maxann Foy, Julie Turner, Betty Jean Cone and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Niver.

All's Fair

The temperature soars, my spirit droops.

The weather is simply too hot for snops.

The boss yells for copy, some stories and such—

But how can I work when this heat is too much?

My face gets red, my hands perspire.

And with the least exertion I quickly tire.

You know what I need is a good vacation.

But with finances low, I must visit a relation.

And when you do that you must help the cook.

And my only desire is to read a nice book . . .

OH WELL, what's the use, when you go one place you wish you had gone somewhere else. Home and familiar things and good old lazy ways are best. Now take our beauty queens, Gwen West and Anne Fussell. They leave Statesboro with Horace McDougald and Frank Aldred and a pleasant trip soon assumes all the aspects of a daily grind. We don't mean to discredit the fine young men accompanied them—read on and you'll see what I mean. They register at 1 o'clock. They rehearse—a deadly serious procedure. They attend a banquet and dance Thursday evening at Cherokee Lodge, at which they compete in talent tests. Gwen simply vowed them with her rendition of "Mrs. Wilburn Wimple at the Beauty Contest. Ann gave a musical reading, "Mighty Lak a Rose." On Friday they breakfasted with the J. C. wives. Another rehearsal. Lunch with the Exchange Club. This was followed by Atlanta Journal photographers snapping them from every angle. Were they afflicted with round shoulders, lordosis curves, etc?

Then, shades of Emily Post and Boston culture! They had dinner with the judges. I don't know what they served, but it was something you didn't know whether to pick up and eat with your little finger stuck out, or to spear it with your fork. And for conversation, girls, did you discuss George Bernard Shaw, political affairs in Georgia, or the merits of Skinnay Emnis and his orchestra? Then the beauty contest reached a climax Friday evening as the girls appeared on a stage—a background of an old Southern scene. Gwen crossed gracefully in a charming pink taffeta frock fashioned with off-the-shoulder effect and with hoopskirt. Her swim suit was a one-piece white lastex. Anne's frock was of black lace posed over white taffeta in dramatic effect. Her bathing suit was a tomato red Janztem model. Gwen as third runner-up in the State received a swank Nat Lewis original handbag, dark brown leather stitched in white and a DuBarry makeup kit.

Mary Frances Groover and Jim Watson are not faced with a housing problem when they become Mr. and Mrs. They will occupy an apartment at her parents' home. A wonderful electric refrigerator and electric stove, a gift from Dew and Lucille, Gwen West and Anne Fussell. They leave Statesboro with Horace McDougald and Frank Aldred and a pleasant trip soon assumes all the aspects of a daily grind. ## BRIDGE PARTY GIVEN FOR BRIDE ELECTS

Another in a series of lovely parties being given for Miss Groover was a bridge party Tuesday afternoon with Miss Janice Arundel and Mrs. E. L. Barnes as hostesses, at the home of the latter. Summer flowers were used in decorating.

The guest of honor received two pieces of crystal. For high score Miss Helen Rowse won cards. Coasters went to Mrs. G. C. Coleman, Jr., with low, and Mrs. Walker Hill won a china ash tray for cut.

The guests were served a variety of sandwiches, cake and coca-cola.

Others present were Mesdames W. R. Lovett, Elloway Forbes, Curtis Lane, Bernard Morris, Buddy Barnes, Joe Robert Tillman, Gerald Groover, Robert Morris and Miss Julie Turner.

RETURNS FROM HOSPITAL

Friends of Mrs. Henry Blitch will be pleased to learn that she is improving following an operation at Telfair Hospital in Savannah, and is expected to return to her home today.

ATTEND PRESS MEET

Among those from Statesboro leaving Friday to join members of the Georgia Press Association by special invitation on a trip to Cuba are: Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Morris and daughter, Jane, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Barnes, Mrs. George Mulling, Mrs. C. B. Matthews, Logan Hagan and daughter, Patsy, Misses Julie Turner, Laura Brady, Remer Brady, Thomas Denmark, of Marianna, Fla., and Hal Waters.

HOSTESSES AT BRIDGE

Morning and afternoon bridge parties contributed social interest Tuesday as Mrs. Loy Waters and Mrs. Glenn Jennings were joint hostesses to ten tables of their bridge-playing friends at the home of Mrs. Jennings.

Their morning guests were served ham sandwiches and coca-cola, ice cream and cake.

In the afternoon ice cream topped with cherry preserves, individual cakes and lime punch were served.

The prizes were the same as at both parties, high scores receiving Libby's hostess glasses, low Chen-Yu lipstick and nail polish; cut, a three-pot flower stand, and tomato crisp pickle for floating prize.

In the morning Mrs. Devane Watson was high point player, Mrs. Ernest Cannon finishing low; cut went to Miss Leon Newton and Mrs. Jack Carlton won the floating prize. In the afternoon high scorer was Mrs. W. A. Bowen, Mrs. J. C. Hines, low, Mrs. B. B. Morris cut, and Mrs. Sam Franklin, floating.

ATTEND FUNERAL OF ### MRS. J. W. ROUNTREE

Here for the funeral of Mrs. J. W. Rountree, an esteemed pioneer citizen of Statesboro, who passed away Monday at the home of her daughter at Savannah Beach following a stroke, were her daughter, Mrs. George Ferguson, of Savannah Beach; grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Moore and son, Dover, of Greenville, N. C.; Guy Trappani, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Trappani, of Savannah; Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Wiehers and son, Charlie, Jr., of Tampa, Fla.; Mrs. Blitch Parrish, of Metter; Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Newman, Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Moore and Mrs. Sikes, of Savannah.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC

The college Sunday School class of the Methodist Church was entertained with a picnic at Magnolia Springs Friday. They made the trip to Magnolia on the new bus recently purchased.

Ball playing, swimming, horse-hoe pitching and other activities were enjoyed by the thirty students attending.

The picnic lunch included hot dogs, potato chips, pickles, cupcakes with soft drinks, and boiled salted peanuts.

Rev. Charles A. Jackson, Jr., and Mr. Henry J. McCormack, class teacher, accompanied the group.

ister, Dew Groover, Talmadge Ramsey, Curtis Lane, G. C. Coleman, Jr., J. R. Gay, Bernard Morris; Misses Betty Jean Cone, Helen Rowse, Maxann Foy and Julie Turner.

MISSSES GROOVER AND FOY SHARE HONORS

Miss Betty Bird Foy, whose marriage to Carl Sanders, of Augusta, takes place in September, shared honors with Miss Groover Tuesday morning at a lovely party given at the home of Mrs. Waldo Floyd with Mrs. Floyd and Miss Betty Jean Cone as co-hostesses.

Roses, dahlias and other beautiful summer flowers combined to form the background of the delightfully informal party.

The bride-elects received lovely gifts from both Mrs. Floyd and Miss Cone.

Assorted sandwiches, olives and frozen tea were served.

About twenty guests were present.

STATESBORO

Personals

Miss Virginia Lee Floyd and Sue Simmons are guests this week of Miss Ann Evans at Seaside Beach.

Mrs. Virgil Lee Hilliard is spending two weeks at Highlands, N. C.

Mrs. Waldo Floyd, Mrs. Loy Waters, Mr. and Mrs. Gene L. Hodges and Mrs. Jesse Fletcher spent Monday in Savannah.

Dr. and Mrs. David King and son, David III, of Lumberton, N. C., arrived Saturday to visit her parent, Dr. and Mrs. P. G. Franklin. They were accompanied by Miss Barbara Franklin, who spent several days with them after visits to friends in Charleston and Ocean View, S. C. Dr. King returned Sunday but Mrs. King and baby will visit for two weeks longer.

Mrs. Sidney Lanier and daughter, Laurel, and Mrs. Homer Simmons, Jr., and daughter, Julie, spent Tuesday in Atlanta, making the trip on the Nancy Hanks II.

GEORGIA, Bulloch County. Whereas, on the 28th day of December, 1935, Aaron Manoney did make and execute to R. Lee Moore a certain deed to secure debt conveying the following property, to-wit:

That certain tract or parcel of land, lying and being in the 46th District, Bulloch County, Georgia, containing one hundred sixteen (116) acres, more or less, bound Northeast, Northwest, and West by lands formerly owned by John F. Nixon, and Southeast by lands of Mrs. Mattie Nixon (road being the line) and lands of D. C. Nixon, reference being made to a plat of said land recorded in Book 14, page 385, in the office of the Clerk of Bulloch Superior Court.

Which deed to secure debt was duly recorded in Book 101, page 506 in the office of the Clerk of the Superior Court, Bulloch County, Georgia.

Whereas, R. Lee Moore, died, intestate, leaving his widow, Mrs. R. Lee Moore, as his sole heir. Whereas, Mrs. R. Lee Moore died, testate, naming Miss May Kennedy principal beneficiary and executrix of her last will and testament.

Whereas, default has been made by said Aaron Manoney in payment of the indebtedness secured by deed to secure debt as aforesaid, the same being past due and the amount of said indebtedness, principal and interest, calculated to September 1st, 1947, is $2088.72.

Now, therefore, by virtue of the power of sale contained in said security deed and the laws in such cases made and provided the undersigned will put up and expose for sale to the highest bidder for cash the above described property after advertisement as in said deed to secure debt provided, on the 1st Tuesday in September, 1947, within the legal hours of sale at public outcry before the courthouse door in Statesboro, Bulloch County, Georgia, for the purpose of paying said indebtedness and cost of sale, as in said deed to secure debt stipulated.

In witness whereof, Miss May Kennedy, executrix of the will of Mrs. R. Lee Moore, has hereunto set her hand and affixed her seal this 1st day of August, 1947.

MISS MAY KENNEDY,
Executrix of the Will of

Veterans Corner

The questions most frequently asked by World War II veterans about GI business loans were answered today by the Veterans Administration. The questions and answers follow:

Q. How does a veteran go about getting a loan for business purposes?

A. As in the case of home loans the first must find a bank or other private lender willing to advance him the money.

Q. How much of a business loan made by a lender will VA guarantee?

A. VA will guarantee 50 per cent of the loan up to a maximum of $4,000 if the loan is for the purchase of business real estate, and up to $2,000 for non-real estate business loans, such as working capital.

Q. Can the veteran get a guaranteed loan for any type of business?

A. If the lender is willing, the loan may be made for any legitimate business purpose.

Q. Is there any limit to the duration of a business loan?

A. Non-real estate business loans are repayable in 10 years or less; real estate loans may run up to 25 years.

Q. Can a veteran enter into business with non-veterans and obtain a guarantee loan?

A. Yes, provided the interest of the veteran is properly protected, but the guarantee must be limited to the veteran's portion of the business.

Q. What interest rates are lenders permitted to charge on business loans?

In most cases, 4 per cent is the maximum. However, the interest rate may be slightly higher for certain types of insured business loans.

Q. Must the veteran be experienced in the line of business he proposes to enter?

A. Experience is an important element in the success of the average business. The veteran should be able to show a reasonable expectation of success in his venture.

THE DAWN OF A

New Way

Proudly we present the CS ROOSTER—new and distinctive emblem of Colonial Stores.

To the five thousand men and women of our organization, and to millions of homemakers, the introduction of this new symbol heralds THE DAWN OF A NEW WAY—a new way of identifying the familiar Big Star and Little Star Stores.

We have long felt the need of a more significant insignia for Colonial Stores—one to be at all times A MARK OF QUALITY FOODS.

Now, with the letters CS for Colonial Stores, and the proud rooster symbolizing up-at-dawn alertness in serving you, we believe our new emblem most appropriate.

The CS ROOSTER, to us, is more than a new way of saying Big Star and Little Star. It is our pledge to provide unfailingly Colonial's traditional high standards of quality and service.

The CS ROOSTER is a bird you will really want to know. Let him guide you to Courteous Service, Complete Satisfaction and Consistent Savings.

JANE PAYS A VISIT TO YVES ANTIQUE SHOP. At the sign of the old wagon wheel make a wish! Lift the latch of the white iron gate and like Alice, you've stepped through the looking-glass into another world—a world of quiet elegance, embellishing a Victorian world of unblushing color and elaboration of realities with glorified spittings and read this Godey Lady Book by the light of a bulbous China lamp anchored to a sturdy mahogany table by its own heavy brass trim.

Shades of antiquity settle upon you gently and induce an air of decorum. You wonder if your seams are straight, and if your slip is showing. Really, only the tips of well-polished slippers should be seen and then surely by accident, not intent.

Here and there your glances dart—a lovely vase, a French Haviland platter, an ornate cake plate—only by the skillful direction of the finger (titan-haired, blue-eyed, and charming) do you abandon the hop, skip and jump method of examination and proceed to details.

A large painting, once the pride of the old Melburn home, looks down on the collection of antiques—the central figure a young woman, apparently a domestic, pauses for a brief respite from her tasks or a bit of day-dreaming. Your eyes rest again and again to this misty pasted and the haunting appeal of the young woman. It would not steal the show in your modern living room. It is not obtrusive, but it would definitely become a part of your home, adding serenity and indefinable charm.

Beneath this painting is a masterpiece of the mahogany dresser simply shouldn't spent another night in the shop; it belongs in a room with braided rugs, ruffled curtains, a four-poster bed with pillow shams and Godey prints on the wall.

Reluctantly, I pass by decorative plates that would group wonderfully to relieve drab walls or lend that certain something that is individual. I hurry home, wishing all the time I had bought that lovely spitting so gay with flowers. Wonder if it would do for a casserole?

Well, one thing is certain: I'm going back and I'm dropping loose change in my piggy bank. Advertising your YVES.

Lift the latch of the white iron gate and like Alice, you've stepped through the looking-glass into another world—a world of quiet elegance, embellishing a Victorian world of unblushing color and elaboration of realities with glorified spittings and read this Godey Lady Book by the light of a bulbous China lamp anchored to a sturdy mahogany table by its own heavy brass trim.

Shades of antiquity settle upon you gently and induce an air of decorum. You wonder if your seams are straight, and if your slip is showing. Really, only the tips of well-polished slippers should be seen and then surely by accident, not intent.

Here and there your glances dart—a lovely vase, a French Haviland platter, an ornate cake plate—only by the skillful direction of the finger (titan-haired, blue-eyed, and charming) do you abandon the hop, skip and jump method of examination and proceed to details.

A large painting, once the pride of the old Melburn home, looks down on the collection of antiques—the central figure a young woman, apparently a domestic, pauses for a brief respite from her tasks or a bit of day-dreaming. Your eyes rest again and again to this misty pasted and the haunting appeal of the young woman. It would not steal the show in your modern living room. It is not obtrusive, but it would definitely become a part of your home, adding serenity and indefinable charm.

Beneath this painting is a masterpiece of the mahogany dresser simply shouldn't spent another night in the shop; it belongs in a room with braided rugs, ruffled curtains, a four-poster bed with pillow shams and Godey prints on the wall.

Reluctantly, I pass by decorative plates that would group wonderfully to relieve drab walls or lend that certain something that is individual. I hurry home, wishing all the time I had bought that lovely spitting so gay with flowers. Wonder if it would do for a casserole?

Well, one thing is certain: I'm going back and I'm dropping loose change in my piggy bank. Advertising your YVES.
